Subject to valid existing rights, the public lands in the following-described areas are hereby withdrawn from all forms of appropriation under the public-land laws, including the mining and mineral-leasing laws, and reserved for the use of the War Department for military purposes:

PRINCIPAL MERIDIAN

T. 25 N., R. 4 E.,
Secs. 11 to 14, inclusive.
T. 27 N., R. 8 E.,
Secs. 4, 5, 8, 9, 16, 17, 20, and 21.
T. 28 N., R. 8 E.,
Secs. 28, 29, 32, and 33.

The areas described, including both public and non-public lands, aggregate 10,241.20 acres.

This order shall take precedence over, but shall not rescind or revoke, the withdrawal for classification and other purposes made by Executive Order No. 6910 of November 26, 1934, as amended, so far as such order affects the above-described lands.

It is intended that the public lands herein described shall be returned to the administration of the Department of the Interior, when they are no longer needed for the purpose for which they are reserved.

ABE FORTAS,
Acting Secretary of the Interior.

[Order No. 1799]

COMMISSIONER OR ASSISTANT COMMISSIONER OF GENERAL LAND OFFICE

AUTHORIZATION TO ACT IN CERTAIN MATTERS

Pursuant to sections 161, 453 and 2478 Rev. Stat. (5 U.S.C. sec. 22 and 43 U.S.C. secs. 2, and 1201 respectively), It is hereby ordered, As follows:

I. The Commissioner or Assistant Commissioner of the General Land Office may hereafter act in relation to the following classes of matters without obtaining Secretarial approval, unless the Secretary in any particular matter determines otherwise, subject in any event to an appeal to the Secretary according to the rules of practice and subject to the provisions of Part II of this order:

(a) Applications to lease public lands for public airports under the act of May 24, 1928 (45 Stat. 728; 49 U.S.C. secs. 211–214), and the issuance, assignment, modification or cancelation of such leases.

(b) Applications to lease public lands for a home, cabin, camp, health, convalescent, recreational, or business site under the act of June 1, 1938 (52 Stat. 609; 43 U.S.C. sec. 682a), and the issuance, assignment, modification or cancelation of such leases.

(c) Applications to lease public lands in Alaska for fur farms under the Act of July 3, 1926 (44 Stat. 821; 48 U.S.C. secs. 360, 361), and the issuance, assignment, modification or cancelation of such leases.

(d) Applications to lease public lands in Alaska for grazing purposes under the act of March 4, 1927 (44 Stat. 1452; 48 U.S.C. secs. 471, 471a–471o), and the issuance, assignment, modification or cancelation of such leases.

(e) Applications by States, counties or municipalities to lease public lands for recreational use under the act of June 14, 1926 (44 Stat. 741; 43 U.S.C. sec. 869), or the act of April 13, 1928 (45 Stat. 429; 43 U.S.C. sec. 869a), and the issuance, modification or cancelation of such leases.

(f) Applications to use public lands under right-of-way permits for tramroads under the act of January 21, 1895 (28 Stat. 635; 43 U.S.C. sec. 956), and the issuance, assignment, modification or cancelation of such permits.

(g) Applications to use public lands under permits for rights-of-way under the act of February 15, 1901 (31 Stat. 790; 43 U.S.C. sec. 959 and 16 U.S.C. sec. 79), and the issuance, assignments, modification or cancelation of such permits: Provided, however, That cancelation shall be only in the circumstances specifically prescribed in regulations of the Secretary. The authority herein prescribed shall not relate to applications or permits involving lands within national parks, Indian or other reservations of the United States.

(h) Applications to use public lands under right-of-way easements under the act of March 4, 1911 (36 Stat. 1235, 1253–54; 43 U.S.C. sec. 961), and the issuance and assignment of such easements. The authority herein prescribed shall not relate to applications or permits involving lands within national parks, Indian or other reservations of the United States, nor to the modification or revocation of any easements granted under the act of March 4, 1911.

(i) Approvals of clear lists of State selections under the act of February 28, 1891 (26 Stat. 796; 43 U. S. C. sec. 851), and section 2449, Rev. Stat. (43 U. S. C. sec. 859).

(j) Orders authorizing the issuance of patents for school sections under the act of June 21, 1934 (48 Stat. 1185; 43 U. S. C. 871a).

(k) Orders authorizing the survey of islands or omitted lands under the general authorization of the Interior Department Appropriation Acts (e. g., act of July 2, 1942, Public Law 645, 77th Cong., 2d sess., ch. 473, p. 6, slip copy; act of June 28, 1941, 55 Stat. 303, 309); the resurveys of public lands under the above-mentioned acts and the act of March 3, 1909 (35 Stat. 845), as amended by the Joint Resolution of June 25, 1910 (36 Stat. 884; 43 U. S. C. 772); and the resurvey of public and private lands under the act of September 21, 1918 (40 Stat. 965; 43 U. S. C. sec. 773).

(l) Decisions denying applications for stock driveway withdrawals or for the revocation of such withdrawals under section 10 of the act of December 29, 1916 (39 Stat. 862; 865; 43 U. S. C. sec. 300).

(m) Notation and declaration that any lands of the United States reserved for power purposes under section 24 of the Federal Power Act of June 10, 1920 (41 Stat. 1075; 16 U. S. C. sec. 818), which the Federal Power Commission shall determine will not be injured in value for power development purposes by disposition under the public land laws, are, subject to the restrictions specified by the Commission and section 24, no longer reserved under section 24.

II. This order does not relate to or authorize the classification of public lands pursuant to section 7 of the Taylor Grazing Act of June 28, 1934 (48 Stat. 1269, 1272), as amended by the act of June 26, 1936 (49 Stat. 1976; 43 U. S. C. sec. 315f), or pursuant to any other act requiring classification of public lands prior to the exercise of the functions herein prescribed, nor does it affect the responsibility of the Solicitor for the review of legal questions. All general rules, regulations, circulars and instructions must be approved by the Secretary.

III. To the extent of any inconsistency with the foregoing provisions hereof, Order 242 of August 29, 1927, Secretary Work's memorandum of August 29, 1927, to the Commissioner of the General Land Office, and all existing regulations relating to the performance of the matters herein listed, are hereby modified. Such regulations should be formally revised to incorporate the changes effected by this order.

IV. This order is effective immediately, but matters now pending before the Department will be cleared as heretofore.

HAROLD L. ICKES,
Secretary of the Interior.

OFFICE OF DEFENSE TRANSPORTATION.

TRANSPORTATION OF AGRICULTURAL COMMODITIES AND PRODUCTS

RECOMMENDATION FOR INDUSTRY TRANSPORTATION PLANS

Recommendation for Industry transportation plans for transportation of agricultural commodities and products, as amended.

In order to conserve and providently utilize vital transportation equipment, materials and supplies; and to provide for the prompt and continuous movement of necessary traffic, the attainment of which purposes is essential to the successful prosecution of the war, the following plan concerning the transportation of agricultural commodities and products thereof by motor vehicle is promulgated and recommended to the Chairman of the War Production Board for approval under section 12, Public Law 603, 77th Congress (56 Stat. L. 351).

1. Industry Transportation Committee. The producers, motor carriers, processors and dealers in agricultural commodities and products thereof within any designated area shall select a committee to be known as an Industry Transportation Committee. This committee shall be selected in a manner so as to be equally representative of such producers, motor carriers, processors and dealers. Upon the selection of such committee the members thereof shall elect a chairman. The chairman of such committee, prior to any action thereby, shall file with the Office of Defense Transportation information concerning the type of industry, membership of the committee, method of selection thereof and a description of the area within which such committee will act, together with such other information as may be required by the Office of Defense Transportation. The Office of Defense Transportation will review this information and approve or disapprove the committee as constituted, and, if approved, will reserve the right to remove at any time any person selected as a member thereof. When approved, the committee will be recognized by the Office of Defense Transportation as authorized to act within such area in the formulation of an Industry Transportation Plan.

2. Industry Transportation Plan. The Industry Transportation Committee shall formulate an Industry Transportation Plan, which plan shall be in conformity with the terms and provisions herein prescribed.

3. Contents; parts. The Industry Transportation Plan may consist of one or two parts as follows:

One part of the plan shall consist of a relocation of routes within the designated area arranged with the advice and assistance of such Committee. The routes of the motor carriers shall be revised so as to eliminate nonessential travel and to obtain maximum utilization of the motor trucks used upon the revised routes. The routes shall be so adjusted that the products of each producer will be transported to his chosen market. The price received by the producer shall not be changed by the plan.

The plan may have a second part which shall consist of a further relocation of routes within the same area, by which the products of the producer shall generally be transported to the processor or dealer who is nearest to the farm of the producer in the point of highway miles. This arrangement shall be known as zoning of market areas. Such zoning of market areas shall be arranged so that no producer will receive a price for his products which is less than the price he received under his prior arrangement unless such producer consents to receive a lesser price. The plan shall provide that the processor or dealer will receive approximately the same quantity of such products as under his prior arrangement. Likewise, the plan shall provide that the producer may deliver approximately the same quantity of his products as under his prior arrangement.

4. Industry Transportation Plan shall be reduced to writing. The Industry Transportation Committee shall reduce to writing the details of such Industry Transportation Plan, which writing shall be signed by all members of the Committee. The writing shall consist of one or two parts as follows:

One part shall describe the area, the number and location of the processors and dealers, the number of producers, the number of motor carriers and location of their present routes, the proposed relocation of routes, the truck mileage savings which will be accomplished by the arrangement, the nature and extent to which the proposed operation will be affected by any regulatory law or regulation, and the name and address of any motor carrier who will suspend operations.

If the plan has two parts, the writing shall contain a second part which shall contain the same information as required in respect of the first part of such plan, and, in addition, shall contain detailed information concerning the proposed zoning of market areas, a statement to the effect that the price received by the producer will not be changed by the arrangement, or, if the price received by any producer will be changed by the arrangement, that such producer has consented to receive a lesser price, and the name, address and objection of any producer, motor carrier, processor or dealer who declines to participate in the arrangement.

5. General restrictions. No provision shall be contained in any Industry Transportation Plan which will deny to the producer, processor or dealer the right to deliver or procure agricultural commodities and products thereof by the use of transportation facilities other than those of the motor carriers participating in the plan; and no provision shall be contained in any such plan which will require the motor carriers participating therein to perform any transportation service which is not authorized or sanctioned by law, or to render any service beyond its transportation capacity.

6. Publication of plan. The Industry Transportation Plan shall be publicized by the Industry Transportation Committee in such manner as will give all persons affected thereby an opportunity to examine the provisions of such plan. A true copy of this Recommendation and Certificate No. 28, as amended,[1] issued to the Attorney General in respect of such Recommendation by the Chairman of the War Production Board shall be included in such publication. The publication shall provide that any producer, motor carrier, processor or dealer in agricultural commodities and products thereof within such designated area may complain or comment in respect of the proposed relocation of routes or zoning of market areas as described in the plan. The manner and form of such publication shall be described in an appropriate certificate executed by the Chairman of the Industry Transportation Committee and such certificate shall be attached to the plan.

7. Adjustment of complaints. In the event complaints are received, the Industry Transportation Committee shall consider and adjust such complaints, if possible. The Committee shall, if necessary, revise the plan to accord with any adjustment made by reason of such complaints. Any complaints received by the Committee which have not been adjusted shall be attached to the plan, together with a brief statement setting forth the position of the Committee in respect of such complaint.

8. Filing. The Industry Transportation Plan, as revised, together with the attachments herein prescribed, shall be filed with the Office of Defense Transportation. The General Counsel of the Office of Defense Transportation will review the plan, together with the attachment, and prepare an analysis thereof. If, in his opinion, the adoption thereof will accomplish substantial conservation and efficient utilization of motor trucks and vital materials without undue injustice or inequity to those affected and the plan conforms to the provisions, conditions and limitations of this Recommendation and Certificate No. 28 as amended, issued by the Chairman of the War Production Board in respect of such recommendation, he will approve the plan and direct those who have agreed, or shall hereafter agree, to participate in the plan, to put it into effect and will so certify in writing to the Chairman of the War Production Board and to the Attorney General and will transmit to each of such persons a copy of the specific plan and his analysis thereof.

9. Administrator; Industry Advisory Committee. The Office of Defense Transportation will designate one of its employees to act as administrator of the Industry Transportation Plan. Such administrator will act in such capacity with the advice and assistance of an Industry Advisory Committee. Such Committee shall be selected by the participating producers, motor carriers, processors and dealers located within the designated area and subject to the same conditions and limitations as prescribed for the selection for the Industry Transportation Committee.

10. Complaints. After the effectuation of such Industry Transportation Plan, any participating producer, motor carrier, processor or dealer may file a complaint in writing with the administrator in respect of such Industry Transportation Plan. The administrator, with the advice and assistance of the Industry Advisory Committee, will attempt to adjust such complaints. In the event no satisfactory adjustment can be made, no compulsion shall be used upon such producer, processor or dealer. Any complaint received from a participating motor carrier will be considered and decided by the administrator with the advice and assistance of the Industry Advisory Committee. If the carrier is not satisfied with the decision, he may appeal to the District Manager of the Office of Defense Transportation. If his decision is adverse, the carrier may appeal to the Director, Division of Motor Transport, Office of Defense Transportation, Washington, D. C., whose decision shall be final.

11. Records; inspection. The administrator shall keep a record of his acts pertaining to the operation of the plan, which record shall be available at all reasonable times for inspection by participants in the plan and by accredited representatives of the Office of Defense Transportation.

12. Termination. This recommendation shall remain in full force and effect until six months after the termination of the present war shall have been duly proclaimed, or until such earlier time as the Office of Defense Transportation may designate, or until any certificate issued in respect of this recommendation shall have been withdrawn by the Chairman of the War Production Board in the manner provided by section 12, Public Law 603, 77th Congress, (56 Stat. L. 351).

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 22d day of March 1943.

Director, Office of Defense Transportation.

[Administrative Exception Order 2 Under Ration Order 13]

PROCESSED FOODS

CIVILIAN PROGRAMS BRANCH OF FOOD DISTRIBUTION ADMINISTRATION OF DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

The Civilian Programs Branch of the Food Distribution Administration of the Department of Agriculture has requested that it be permitted to dispose of the processed foods which it now owns, by collecting the fixed amount of eight points per pound, except with respect to those items for which the price fixed by the Office of Price Administration is less than eight points per pound. Food thus disposed will be used solely for child feeding programs.

The Civilian Programs Branch obtained food for distribution through welfare agencies to eligible child feeding programs and persons receiving public assistance. Many of the foods were purchased in the public market at a time when they were in abundance and causing a depressing effect on the market. Others were acquired from the Lend-Lease Administration, because of the lack of shipping facilities, or the changing needs of our Allies. A large amount of these foods have been in storage for some time and it is necessary to release them while they are still in usable condition.

Recently, the Civilian Programs Branch has introduced a new Community School Lunch Program which enables sponsors to buy from local vendors on a reimbursable basis up to a certain maximum amount. Consequently, State Welfare Departments are anxious to terminate their agreements under the presently operating Direct Distribution Program and the Civilian Programs Branch is faced with the problem of liquidating current inventories of processed foods as soon as possible so that those foods which cannot be put back into commercial channels will be fully utilized.

Many of the schools and State Welfare Departments are unwilling to cooperate in the surrender and collection of the ration points involved in the distribution of these processed foods under the present point values because some of these commodities have a high point value and the surrender of points for them would limit the amount of food the agencies may obtain from their allotment. In addition, the task of charging the exact point prices established by the Office of Price Administration has been rendered especially difficult because of the termination of the Works Project Administration, which supplied much of the clerical help used in these projects.

Many of the commodities are labeled "not to be sold" in order to prevent their return to commercial channels. It would be too expensive and too difficult to collect and relabel them for resale, as they are widely scattered in various parts of the United States in small quantities. Furthermore, the exteriors of some of the containers have also been affected by a long storage period and could not be placed on retailers' shelves for sale.

The processed foods held by the Civilian Programs Branch will be limited to child feeding programs and the adoption of an eight point maximum value per pound would create an incentive for the child feeding programs to receive a proportion of the commodities available in each area, and would provide a non-commercial market for these processed foods that might otherwise not be utilized. The granting of the request in this instance would not in any way defeat or impair the effectiveness of the policy of the Ration Order.

It is hereby ordered, That the Civilian Programs Branch of the Food Distribution Administration of the Department of Agriculture may dispose of the processed foods which it now owns, for use in child feeding programs, by collecting the fixed amount of eight points per pound, except with respect to those items for which the price fixed by the Office of Price Administration is less than eight points per pound.

This order shall become effective March 24, 1943.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION.

[File Nos. 37-25, 37-26, 37-36, and 37-57]

FEDERAL ADVISERS, INC., ET AL.

ORDER FOR CONSOLIDATION AND NOTICE OF AND ORDER FOR HEARING AND TO SHOW CAUSE

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on the 24th day of March, A. D. 1943.

In the matter of Federal Advisers, Inc., File No. 37-26; Electric Advisers, Inc., File No. 37-25; Gas Advisers, Inc., File No. 37-36; Cities Service Company, Cities Service Power & Light Company, Federal Light & Traction Company, Arkansas Natural Gas Corporation, Central Arkansas Public Service Corporation, Petroleum Advisers, Inc., Federal Advisers, Inc., Electric Advisers, Inc., Gas Advisers, Inc., File No. 37-57.

I

The Commission having heretofore on December 27, 1938 and on January 5, 1939 issued its separate findings, opinions and orders, pursuant to section 13 of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 and rules and regulations of the Commission thereunder, with respect to approval of the organization and conduct of operations of Federal Advisers, Inc. (Federal), Electric Advisers, Inc. (Electric) and Gas Advisers, Inc. (Gas), each a subsidiary or mutual service company in the holding company system of Cities Service Company, a registered holding company, subject to certain conditions and in particular that Federal, Electric and Gas may be required to effect any changes in organization and operation which should become necessary in order to conform with the act and present or future rules, regulations or orders thereunder; and

The Commission having subsequently on January 31, 1942 entered its separate orders extending without limit as to time its orders of January 5, 1939, with respect to the approval of Electric and Gas, reserving jursdiction therein to terminate the approval granted by said orders of January 5, 1939 at any time by written notice given at least thirty days prior to the effective date of such termination if it should deem such action necessary or appropriate to the public interest or the interest of investors or consumers; and

II

1. The Commission having authorized an investigation on November 25, 1941 under sections 13 and 18 (a) and (b) of the act which investigation establishes or tends to establish that the organization and conduct of operations of service companies in the Cities Service Company system do not meet the standards and objectives of section 13 of the act and rules, regulations and orders thereunder, in that

(a) The operating companies in the Cities Service Company system are being charged or having allocated to them, directly or through the medium of a service company, a portion of the salaries and expenses of persons who are holding company officers or employees, or whose functions relate primarily to the functions of supervision of the holding company system and review of the activities of the operating companies and their officials and staffs;

(b) Various persons whose functions relate primarily to the holding company functions of supervision of the holding company system and review of the activities of the operating companies and officials and staffs, are receiving compensation or reimbursement of expenses from operating companies through such service companies or by other arrangements;

(c) Such service companies have not confined themselves to functions which the operating companies cannot perform as efficiently and economically themselves in that the services being rendered are not limited to those of an operating nature as distinguished from managerial or policy forming functions;

(d) Federal, Electric, Gas and Petroleum Advisers, Inc. (Petroleum), a subsidiary of Cities Service Company, have engaged in substantial cross-servicing and cross-billing in the course of their operations, which, together with the commingling of holding company and service company functions (referred to in paragraphs (a), (b) and (c) hereof) seriously impairs effective regulation by the Commission to insure economical and efficient performance of service contracts for the benefit of the operating companies at cost, fairly and equitably allocated, as required by section 13 of the act;

(e) Petroleum has performed services at a charge for utility companies in the Cities Service Company system with respect to which services Petroleum has not complied with the requirements of section 13 (b) of the act and Rule U-87 thereunder;

(f) Certain operating companies in the Cities Service system have borne, either directly or through the medium of service companies or other arrangements, certain expenses in connection with pending proceedings pursuant to section 11 of the act with respect to the Cities Service system, and

2. It further appearing that Petroleum, which performs services for associate companies in the Cities Service Company system, is with respect to certain of such services exempt from the provisions of section 13 and rules and regulations thereunder by reason of Rules U-3d-15 and U-37 (b) (1), and that a continuance of such exemption may be detrimental to the public interest or the interest of investors or consumers, and that withdrawal of such exemption may be appropriate in the public interest or the interest of investors or consumers to the end that Petroleum will be subject to such limitations and prohibitions as the Commission, by rules, regulations and orders, shall prescribe as necessary or appropriate in the public interest or the interest of investors or consumers and that Petroleum should be a party herein, and

3. It further appearing that a fair and equitable allocation of costs and expenses pursuant to section 13 of the act may require a retroactive allocation to the respective holding companies in the Cities Service Company system of certain costs and expenses including compensation previously paid to various persons whose functions relate primarily to the supervision of the holding company system and review of the activities of operating companies, and

4. It further appearing that the matters concerned herein are related and should be consolidated for hearing and for consideration and disposition by the Commission and that Cities Service Company, Cities Service Power & Light Company, Federal Light & Traction Company, Arkansas Natural Gas Corporation and Central Arkansas Public Service Corporation should be parties herein, and

III

It appearing to the Commission in the light of the foregoing that it is appropriate in the public interest and the interest of investors and consumers to institute proceedings against Federal, Electric, Gas, Cities Service Company, Cities Service Power & Light Company, Federal Light & Traction Company, Arkansas Natural Gas Corporation, Central Arkansas Public Service Corporation, and Petroleum pursuant to section 13 of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, in order to determine whether certain orders should be entered pursuant to the provisions of said act;

It is ordered, That a proceeding be and the same is hereby instituted pursuant to section 13 of the act and that a hearing be held at the offices of the Securities and Exchange Commission, 18th and Locust Streets, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania on the 3rd day of May, 1943, at 10 A. M., E. W. T. to determine:

A. Whether the allegations in paragraph 1 are true and accurate;

B. Whether the services rendered by Federal, Electric, Gas and Petroleum are performed economically and efficiently for the benefit of associate companies in the Cities Service Company system at cost and whether charges therefor are fairly and equitably allocated among such companies;

C. What changes are required to be effected with respect to system servicing operations within the Cities Service Company system in order to effect compliance with the objectives and standards of section 13 of the act and rules, regulations and orders thereunder and in order to obtain the advantages of effective regulation;

D. The extent to which unfair and inequitable allocations of costs have been made in the past and the extent to which such allocations should be made fair and equitable by a retroactive order;

It is further ordered, That at said hearing (1) Federal, Electric and Gas shall show cause why the orders of December 27, 1938 and January 5, 1939 approving their organizations and the conduct of their operations should not be revoked (without limitation of Commission's right to terminate approval of Electric and Gas upon 30 days written notice); (2) Petroleum shall show cause why any exemption heretofore applicable to it should not be suspended, so that its services for associate companies should be subject to such limitations and prohibitions as the Commission by rules, regulations and orders shall prescribe;

It is further ordered, That this proceeding be consolidated for hearing with the proceedings previously held regarding Federal, Electric and Gas pursuant to Section 13, jurisdiction being reserved, however, to separate for disposition in whole or in part, any of the issues or questions hereinbefore set forth or which may arise in these proceedings, and to take such other action as may appear conducive to an orderly, prompt and economical disposition of the matters involved;

It is further ordered, That Richard Townsend or any other officer or officers of the Commission designated by it for that purpose shall preside at the hearing in such matter. The officer or officers designated to preside at the hearing are hereby authorized, without limitation, to exercise all powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of said act and to a trial examiner under the Commission's Rules of Practice and to conduct hearings at such times and places as may be necessary and desirable to effect a complete disposition of the matters involved herein;

It is further ordered, That notice of said hearing be and hereby is given to Cities Service Company, Cities Service Power & Light Company, Federal Light & Traction Company, Arkansas Natural Gas Corporation, Central Arkansas Public Service Corporation, Petroleum Advisers, Inc., Federal Advisers, Inc., Electric Advisers, Inc. and Gas Advisers, Inc., to their respective security holders and consumers, to all states, municipalities and public sub-divisions of states within which are located any of the physical assets of said companies or under the laws of which any of said companies are incorporated, all State Commissions, State Security Commissions and all agencies, authorities or instrumentalities of one or more states, municipalities or other political sub-divisions that have jurisdiction over any of such companies or over any of the business affairs or operations of any of them or their subsidiaries; that the Secretary of the Commission shall serve notice of said hearing by mailing a copy of this order by registered mail to Cities Service Company, Cities Service Power & Light Company, Federal Light & Traction Company, Arkansas Natural Gas Corporation, Central Arkansas Public Service Corporation, Petroleum Advisers, Inc., Federal Advisers, Inc., Electric Advisers, Inc. and Gas Advisers, Inc.; and that notice is hereby given to any other person whose participation in these proceedings may be in the public interest or for the protection of investors or consumers, such notice to be given by publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER. It is requested that any person desiring to be heard or to be admitted as a party to such proceeding shall file a notice to that effect with the Commission on or before April 26, 1943.

By the Commission.

PROCLAMATION 2580

CHILD HEALTH DAY—1943

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

A PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS the Congress by joint resolution of May 18, 1928 (45 Stat. 617), has authorized and requested the President of the United States to issue annually a proclamation setting apart May 1 as Child Health Day:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT, President of the United States of America, in recognition of the vital importance of the health of children to the strength of the Nation, do hereby designate the first day of May of this year as Child Health Day.

And I call upon the people in each of our communities to renew their efforts to promote the health of children in wartime and to take special measures in behalf of those boys and girls of high school age who are combining school with part-time jobs, working during vacation, or entering full-time employment, in order that their safety, health, and normal growth may be fully assured.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States of America to be affixed.

DONE at the City of Washington this 25th day of March in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and forty-three and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and sixty-seventh.

[SEAL]

FRANKLIN D ROOSEVELT

By the President:

CORDELL HULL,
Secretary of State.

Chapter X—Food Production Administration

PART 1206—FERTILIZER

CHEMICAL FERTILIZER

Section 1206.1 is hereby amended as set forth below:

Paragraph (a) (1) is revised to read as follows:

(1) "Chemical fertilizer" means any material used as a plant food containing one or more of the following: Nitrogen, phosphorus, or potassium, excluding, however, animal manures and animal, fish, and plant residues, unless mixed with a chemical fertilizer.

The following new subparagraphs are added to paragraph (a):

(14) "Multiple-strength grades of chemical fertilizer" means those grades of chemical fertilizer classified as such in Schedule II attached hereto, and all mixed chemical fertilizer containing 25 or more units of plant food.

(15) "Specialty fertilizer" means fertilizer which is prepared for sale primarily for use in non-farm areas on lawns, shrubbery, flowers and gardens, and is retailed at a price considerably higher than farm fertilizers.

Paragraph (b) (2) (ii) is revised to read as follows:

(ii) No fertilizer manufacturer, dealer, or agent shall deliver any chemical fertilizer containing chemical nitrogen in packages of less than eighty (80) pounds.

Paragraph (c) (1) to the end of paragraph (c) (1) (i) is revised to read as follows:

(c) Exemptions. (1) The restrictions provided for in paragraphs (b) (1) and (f) (3) hereof, shall not apply to:

(i) Deliveries by dealers or agents of stocks of unapproved grades of chemical fertilizer in their hands on September 12, 1942, or to the use by any person of any chemical fertilizer delivered pursuant to this paragraph (c) (1) (i) or to the use by any person of any chemical fertilizer on hand on September 12, 1942.

The following new subdivision is added to paragraph (c) (1):

(v) Deliveries by fertilizer manufacturers, dealers, or agents of chemical fertilizer containing chemical nitrogen for the preparation of starter solutions to be used in the transplanting of vegetable crop plants, or to the use by any person of any chemical fertilizer delivered pursuant to this paragraph (c) (1) (v) for such purpose.

That part of paragraph (c) (2) which precedes subparagraph (c) (2) (i) is revised to read as follows:

(2) The restrictions provided for in paragraphs (b) (1), (b) (2), (f) (3), and (j) hereof, shall not apply to:

Paragraph (c) (2) is hereby revoked. Paragraph (c) (1) is redesignated as paragraph (c) and is revised so that paragraph (c) shall read as follows:

[1] 8 F.R. 947.

(c) Substitution of grades. Set forth in Schedule II attached hereto is a list of the grades (stated on a nitrogen content basis or on a crop basis) of chemical fertilizer used in each of the States designated on such schedule during the 1940–1941 season (July 1, 1940–June 30, 1941) and a list of the approved grades for each of such States for the 1942–1943 season (July 1, 1942–June 30, 1943). The 1940–1941 grades and the 1942–1943 grades are listed in groups—each group being identified by a group number. The grades listed in a particular 1942–1943 group are the grades approved for substitution during 1942–1943 for the grades of the 1940–1941 group bearing the corresponding group number. Where a grade in one of the 1940–1941 groups was used on a particular crop during the 1940–1941 season, no grade other than a grade appearing in the corresponding 1942–1943 group shall be used on such crop during the 1942–1943 season, except as otherwise provided in this paragraph (c). For example, where a person used a grade carrying 2% nitrogen on a particular crop in Connecticut during the 1940–1941 season, he shall not use any grade other than a 0–14–14, 0–20–20, or 0–9–27 grade on such crop during the 1942–1943 season. Notwithstanding any other provision of this paragraph (c), grades containing four or less per cent nitrogen manufactured, delivered and used in 1940–1941 on crops described as vegetable crops in Schedule III may be replaced by approved grades containing the same percentage of nitrogen as the grade replaced. This paragraph (c) shall not prevent the delivery and use in the 1942–1943 season, at the election of the user, of a grade having a nitrogen content lower than that authorized for use in such 1942–1943 season. Nor shall this paragraph (c) prevent the delivery and use in the 1942–1943 season of a multiple-strength grade of chemical fertilizer instead of an ordinary analysis grade of chemical fertilizer, provided that the nitrogen content of the multiple-strength grade shall not exceed the nitrogen content of the ordinary analysis grade on a per acre application basis. In the event that information covering use in the 1940–1941 season is not available, use in the 1942–1943 season may be based on grades used in 1941–1942.

Paragraph (f) (3) is revised to read as follows:

(3) No fertilizer manufacturer, dealer, or agent shall deliver any chemical fertilizer containing chemical nitrogen in the States listed in Schedule I attached hereto for use on victory gardens other than the grade of 3–8–7, or approved grades of specialty fertilizer on hand on September 12, 1942. Such 3–8–7 grade shall be labeled "Victory Garden Fertilizer—For Food Production Only", and no person, including fertilizer manufacturers, dealers and agents, shall use any chemical fertilizer containing chemical nitrogen other than a grade so labeled or such specialty fertilizer for such purpose. Notwithstanding any provision in this order to the contrary, fertilizer authorized by this paragraph (f) (3) to be delivered for use on victory gardens may be packaged in packages of 5, 10, 25, 50, and 100 pounds net weight and may be used on victory gardens regardless of the crops raised thereon. The term "victory garden" for the purposes of this paragraph (f) (3) means any garden planted primarily for the non-commercial production of vegetables and small fruits. Nothing in this paragraph shall prohibit any person who purchases chemical fertilizer pursuant to this order for use other than on his victory garden from obtaining and using on his victory garden chemical fertilizer of the grade or grades so purchased.

The following new subparagraphs are added to paragraph (f):

(4) No fertilizer manufacturer, dealer, or agent, shall deliver any chemical fertilizer containing chemical nitrogen for use on field-grown cut-flower crops, and no person, including fertilizer manufacturers, dealers and agents, shall use any chemical fertilizer containing chemical nitrogen for such purpose.

(5) Notwithstanding any provision in this order to the contrary, any person having on hand on September 12, 1942, any chemical fertilizer containing chemical nitrogen for use and not for sale may use such fertilizer for any purpose.

Paragraph (j) (4) is revised to read as follows:

(4) Each manufacturer, dealer, or agent who, on or after January 18, 1943, delivers any chemical fertilizer to any person other than a manufacturer, dealer, or agent (or uses any chemical fertilizer on his own crops) shall keep a record of each such delivery, showing the person to whom delivery is made, the date of delivery, and the quantity of fertilizer materials or grade of mixed fertilizer (and a similar record of use on his own crops), and each such manufacturer, dealer, or agent shall retain for not less than two years records of such delivery (or own use) and all statements received by him pursuant to paragraph (j) (1) hereof. The provisions of this paragraph (j) (4) shall not apply to individual deliveries in lots of less than 250 pounds of fertilizer authorized to be delivered by paragraphs (f) (3) and (g).

Schedule I attached to Food Production Order No. 5 (8 F.R. 947) is hereby amended as follows:

To the grades of chemical fertilizer listed for Connecticut, 8–4–8 is added.

In the grades of chemical fertilizer listed for Delaware, "6–10–5;" is changed to "5–10–5;".

To the grades of chemical fertilizer listed for Idaho, grade 12–12–0 is added.

To the grades of chemical fertilizer listed for Illinois, grade 0–10–20 is added.

To the grades of chemical fertilizer listed for Iowa, grade 0–10–20 is added.

To the grades of chemical fertilizer listed for Massachusetts, grade 8–4–8 is added.

To the grades of chemical fertilizer listed for New Hampshire, grade 8–4–8 is added.

In the grades of chemical fertilizer listed for New York, "0–16–3;" is changed to "0–16–8;".

In the grades of chemical fertilizer listed for North Carolina, "3–8–6;" is changed to "3–9–6;".

To the grades of chemical fertilizer listed for Oregon, grades 12–12–0, 6–9–6, and 6–10–4 are added.

To the grades of chemical fertilizer listed for Pennsylvania, grade 5–10–20 is added.

To the grades of chemical fertilizer listed for Texas, grades 6–30–0 and 3–10–0 are added.

To the grades of chemical fertilizer listed for Vermont, grade 8–4–8 is added.

To the grades of chemical fertilizer listed for Washington, grade 12–12–0 is added.

Wherever it appears in Schedule I, the footnote "[1] For side or top-dressing vegetables only" is amended to read "[1] For side or top-dressing vegetables and fruits only."

To the list of Grades Applicable to All States at the end of Schedule I, the following are added:

Potash lime	0–0–6
Ammonium nitrate	34 (or higher)–0–0
Ammonium nitrate limestone	20 (or higher)–0–0
Potassium nitrate	14–0–44 (or higher)
Uramon limestone	20 (or higher)–0–0

Schedule II attached to Food Production Order No. 5 (8 F.R. 947) is hereby amended as follows:

The language "All grades used on small grains and those with less than 2% N used on other crops to be replaced by," wherever it appears under any of the States in the column headed "1940–41 grades," is amended to read "All grades with less than 2% N to be replaced by."

The language "For grades used on crops other than small grains:", wherever it appears under any of the States in the column headed "1940–41 grades," is hereby deleted.

To group (1) of the 1942–43 approved grades for Illinois, grade 0–10–20 is added.

To group (1) of the 1942–43 approved grades for Iowa, grade 0–10–20 is added

In group (1) of the 1942–43 approved grades for Maryland and District of Columbia, "0–16–18" is changed to "0–16–8".

Under Maryland and District of Columbia in the column headed "1940–41 Grades," the language "Those with 6% or more to be replaced by" is amended to read "Those with 6% or more N to be replaced by."

To group (4) of the 1942–43 approved grades for Massachusetts, grade 8–4–8 is added.

To group (4) of the 1942–43 approved grades for New Hampshire, grade 8–4–8 is added.

In group (1) of the 1942–43 approved grades for North Carolina, "10–10–10" is changed to "0–10–10".

To group (5) of the 1942–43 approved grades for Pennsylvania, grade 5–10–20 is added.

To group (2) of the 1942–43 approved grades for Texas, grade 3–10–0 is added.

To group (3) of the 1942–43 approved grades for Texas, grade 6–30–0 is added.

To group (4) of the 1942–43 approved grades for Vermont, grade 8–4–8 is added.

This amending order shall become effective 12:01 a. m.; e. w. t., March 27, 1943.

Done at Washington, D. C. this 25th day of March 1943.

Witness my hand and the seal of the Department of Agriculture.

Chapter VIII—Procurement and Disposal of Equipment and Supplies

PART 81—PROCUREMENT OF MILITARY SUPPLIES AND ANIMALS

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

The following amendments and additions to the regulations contained in Part 81 are hereby prescribed. These regulations are also contained in War Department procurement regulations dated September 5, 1942 (7 F.R. 8082), as amended by Changes No. 13, March 15, 1943.[1] In section numbers the figures to the right of the decimal point correspond with the respective paragraph numbers in the procurement regulations.

Section 81.111 (c) is amended as follows:

§ 81.111 Conflicts between outside interests of officers or civilian employees and their official duties. • • •

(c) Regulations supplementary to basic statute. The following regulations supplementary to the statute set forth in paragraph (a) of this section are prescribed:

(1) No officer or employee of the War Department may act as an agent of the United States in advising, recommending, making or approving the purchase of supplies or other property, or in contracting therefor, if he would be admitted to share or receive directly or indirectly any pecuniary profit or benefit from such purchase or contract.

(2) No officer or civilian employee of the War Department shall be in direct charge of the negotiation of, or exercise authority for the final approval of, any contract with any corporation, joint-stock company, association or firm, if at any time during the period subsequent to December 7, 1936 such officer or civilian employee was employed by or engaged in a course of substantial non-Governmental business dealings with such corporation, joint-stock company, association or firm the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Services of Supply is authorized to make exceptions to the regulations contained in either or both of the foregoing subparagraphs. In cases where the chief of a supply service feels that the application of the regulations contained in such subparagraphs is impracticable, he should forward to the Director, Purchases Division, a request for an exemption. Such request should be accompanied by a full statement of the circumstances which are believed to make such exemption necessary.

PROPOSALS FOR LEGISLATIVE ACTION AND FOR EXECUTIVE ORDERS AFFECTING PROCUREMENT

Sections 81.114 to 81.119, inclusive, are amended as follows:

§ 81.114 Legislation includes Executive Orders. The terms "legislation" and "legislative", as hereinafter used in §§ 81.115 to 81.119, inclusive, refer to action taken or to be taken by Congress, other than the enactment of strictly appropriation items, and to all Executive Orders.

§ 81.115 Legislative Division, Office of the Under Secretary of War. With the approval and by the authority of the Under Secretary of War, the Legislative Division, Office of the Under Secretary of War, is designated as the agency charged with the coordination within that Office, the Services of Supply and the Materiel Command, Army Air Forces, of all legislative matters affecting procurement or related functions.

§ 81.116 Proposals for legislative action affecting procurement. (a) Except as specifically otherwise provided in paragraph (b) of this section, all proposals for legislative action affecting procurement or related functions, originating from any source whatsoever, will be referred to the Legislative Division, Office of the Under Secretary of War, for coordination.

(b) All such proposals, other than proposals for Executive Orders, originating from sources outside the Office of the Under Secretary of War, the Services of Supply or the Materiel Command, Army Air Forces, will be referred to the Legal Branch, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Services of Supply. The Legislative Section of that branch will promptly review such proposals to determine which are of sufficient importance to the Office of the Under Secretary of War, the Services of Supply, the Materiel Command, Army Air Forces, or any of them to warrant further consideration. Such of the proposals as warrant such consideration will be referred directly to the Legislative Division, Office of the Under Secretary of War, for coordination.

§ 81.117 Action of Legislative Division. The Legislative Division, Office of the Under Secretary of War, will, with respect to such proposals originating within the Office of the Under Secretary of War, the Services of Supply, or the Materiel Command, Army Air Forces:

(a) Take all necessary action to secure the views of those individuals and elements within the Office of the Under Secretary of War, the Services of Supply and the Materiel Command, Army Air Forces, whose responsibilities would be affected by such legislative action.

(b) Refer any questions regarding the form of the proposed legislative action to the Legal Branch, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Services of Supply, for consideration and report.

(c) Make all necessary arrangements for proper coordination with other Government departments and agencies whose functions would be affected.

(d) If it is determined by proper authority to initiate such legislative action, coordinate the matter with the Legislative and Liaison Division, War Department.

(e) Take any other necessary or appropriate action in connection therewith.

With respect to such proposals originating from sources outside the Office of the Under Secretary of War, the Services of Supply, or the Materiel Command, Army Air Forces, Legislative Division, Office of the Under Secretary of War will, upon receipt of such proposals, take the action described in paragraphs (a), (c) and (e) of this section.

§ 81.118 Congressional hearings. Arrangements for appropriate representation from the Office of the Under Secretary of War, the Services of Supply and the Materiel Command, Army Air Forces, at Congressional hearings on legislative proposals affecting procurement or related functions will be made through the Legislative Division, Office of the Under Secretary of War.

§ 81.119 Reports on legislative proposals. All requests from official sources, within or without the War Department, for reports on legislative proposals affecting procurement or related functions will, upon receipt by the Office of the Under Secretary of War, the Services of Supply or the Materiel Command, Army Air Forces, be referred to the Legislative Division, Office of the Under Secretary of War, which will secure reports from the appropriate sources within the aforesaid elements of the War Department and will forward such reports, after approval thereof by proper authority, through established channels to the sources of the requests.

DAVIS-BACON LAW

Section 81.913 (a) is amended as follows:

§ 81.913 Requests for predetermination of wage rates—(a) Separate request for each contract. Prior to entering into negotiations for awarding a contract to which the basic law is applicable, the contracting officer will request the Secretary of Labor, through the chief of the supply service concerned, to predetermine the wage rates to be contained in the contract. This request will be made on Department of Labor Form DB-11, and the instructions on that form will be followed. Since the Department of Labor has stated that the basic law does not apply to the following positions, no predetermination of wages is necessary in their cases:

Accountants.	Executives of any kind.
Architects.	Firefighters.
Auditors.	Foremen.
Aidemen.	Guards.
Bookkeepers.	Janitors.
Camp assistants.	Levelmen.
Chainmen.	Material checkers.

OVERTIME WAGE COMPENSATION

Section 81.964 is rescinded and the following substituted therefor:

§ 81.964 Interpretations; former and present. Prior to February 17, 1943, the Secretary of Labor issued various interpretations of Executive Order 9240 which were formerly incorporated in these procurement regulations. On February 17, 1943, the Secretary of Labor issued "Interpretative Bulletin No. 1 of Executive Order 9240." This bulletin contains the official interpretations of the order, effective March 1, 1943. It supersedes the former interpretations. The bulletin interpretations are set forth in the succeeding paragraphs of this section. As additional interpretations are issued, the procurement regulations will be amended to include such interpretations. All of the earlier interpretations have been deleted, although payments made prior to March 1, 1943 pursuant to these earlier interpretations should be considered to have been in compliance with the order.

(a) Basic purposes of the order as stated by the Secretary of Labor.

health, observance of the principle that workers should have at least one day of rest in each week. • • •

(b) Coverage; work to which order is applicable.

II Coverage

1. The order went into effect October 1, 1942. By its terms it applies to "all work relating to the prosecution of the war." This is interpreted to mean all work performed by prime contractors on Government war contracts, by their subcontractors, and those who make the materials and supplies necessary for the performance of such contracts and subcontracts. The order was intended to extend to enterprises which are engaged in producing, processing, mining, or manufacturing products used by the Government in the prosecution of the war or products used by a Government contractor or subcontractor in the manufacture of war products. Enterprises which provide public transportation or communication facilities, storage, distribution, or warehousing facilities, are not covered by the order. Accordingly, employees of railroads, air lines, bus lines, trucking lines or other common or contract carriers, seagoing personnel, longshoremen, dock workers, and similar waterfront workers, are not within the scope of the order. Employees of telephone and telegraph companies and radio stations, engaged in the normal communication operations of such companies, as well as employees of newspapers, magazines, and other periodicals which disseminate general information to the public at large are also excluded. Employees of power and light, water, gas and other public utility companies which merely furnish power and other facilities to the general public are not covered even though some of their output is supplied to war contractors. On the other hand, a power plant operated, for example, by a war manufacturer furnishing power or light, or other services to the factory would properly be regarded as a plant facility and would be subject to the order. Also firms engaged exclusively in distribution which do not process any war products would not be covered. Accordingly, employees of wholesalers, retailers, storage warehouses and brokers would be exempt if their employers are not engaged in any processing activity. Agricultural workers and employees of Federal or State Governments, and political subdivisions thereof, are not subject to the order.

(c) Coverage: classes of employees to which order is applicable.

2. The order should be applied on the basis of operations carried on in an individual plant. Therefore, if a particular plant is engaged in war work which is within the scope of coverage, the entire plant would be subject to the order, including production, clerical, and maintenance employees. In cases where an employer in a particular plant is engaged both in the production of war goods and in noncovered work the order would apply to the entire plant in the absence of segregation. If an employee works an entire workweek exclusively in noncovered production, and his duties do not contribute or relate to work which is subject to the order, such an employee would not be covered by the order for that week. On the other hand, if that employee works a portion of a week in the performance of any function contributing to the production of war goods, he would be subject to the order for the entire workweek. The burden of establishing segregation is upon the employer.

3. The order would apply to any employee engaged in covered work if his compensation is customarily or by requirements of applicable statutes or agreements related to the number of hours worked in a day or the number of days worked in a week.

III Saturday and Sunday Work

4. Paragraph I A of the order prohibits premium wages or extra compensation for work performed on Saturday or Sunday as such, that is, for work performed on either of those days without reference to the number of hours or days previously worked in the workweek. Any attempt to clothe any other day in the workweek with the status of a premium day, as such, would be contrary to the order.

(e) Double time for seventh day.

IV Double Time for Seventh Day

5. Paragraph I A (1) of the order requires the payment of double time for work on the seventh consecutive day worked in any regularly scheduled workweek. Under this requirement double time may be paid only if all 7 days fall within the same workweek. Double time for work performed on the seventh day should be computed at twice the straight-time rate paid for work on that day or twice the average straight-time hourly rate for the workweek, whichever is the customary method of computing overtime compensation. The employer's records should indicate which method is adopted.

V The Workweek

6. A workweek consists of 7 successive days (see paragraph 8 below) starting on the same calendar day each week. This is the definition of a workweek under the Fair Labor Standards Act and is generally accepted by industry. The workweek may be established for the whole plant, for particular employees, or for any subdivision of the plant. The beginning of the workweek may be changed if not intended to evade the requirements of the order.

7. The order does not call for or require any particular work or shift schedule nor does it prescribe the days or hours on which work is to be performed. It is of course highly desirable that work schedules be posted in advance, thus enabling employees to know upon what days work will be required of them.

VI The Workday

8. The order is to be applied on a 24-hour day basis. A 24-hour period may be established as the workday for the plant or for particular employees or departments, provided such an arrangement is not designed to evade the purposes of the order. In the event no particular 24-hour period is established as the workday, the calendar day (i. e., from midnight to midnight) shall be considered as the workday. Thus, work on an established workday regardless of the number of hours worked would for the purpose of the order, be considered as 1 day of work.

(h) Same; exceptions.

9. Certain exceptions to this rule must be recognized. At times a shift may cut across 2 workdays. Only 1 of the 2 days is to be counted as a day worked, and that is the day on which the shift starts. Where an employee on particular occasions works beyond his normal shift and thereby works into the next workday, such excess hours should not be regarded as an additional day. However, if the employee continues to work into his day of rest to the extent of one-half his normal shift or is called back to work on his day of rest, the day must be counted as a day of work.

(i) Effect of the order on applicable statutes and employment contracts.

VII Effect of the Order on Applicable Statutes and Employment Contracts

10. Such provisions of employment contracts as are in conflict with the order are to that extent modified thereby. Employment contracts or agreements as those terms are used herein include practices established by custom or usage.

11. Paragraph I A (2) contemplates that applicable statutes such as the Fair Labor Standards Act and the Walsh-Healey Act, or employment agreements which provide for overtime at time and one-half on a daily or weekly basis or for the sixth day of work in a regularly scheduled workweek, shall not be disturbed by the provisions of the order. Therefore, in situations where applicable laws or employment agreements require time and one-half for overtime worked in excess of 8 hours per day or 40 hours per week, the order permits the payment of time and one-half for such overtime. Likewise, where an employment contract requires time and one-half compensation for the sixth day worked in a regularly scheduled work-week, the order permits such permium pay. If overtime compensation for hours in excess of 8 per day or 40 per week, or for the sixth day worked is not required by applicable statutes or employment agreements, nothing in the order requires the payment of such premium rates.

(j) Same; exceptions unrelated to premium pay for work on particular days as such.

12. It is not the purpose of the order to disturb employment contracts which contain provisions for extra compensation for onerous work, night work, or emergency work (i. e., work resulting from a sudden condition calling for immediate action); which extra compensation is in no way related to premium pay for work on Saturday, Sunday, or particular days as such. Accordingly, the order would not invalidate contracts, practices, or customs calling for more than time and one-half for hours in excess of 12 on a shift since such work is ordinarily regarded as particularly onerous.

13. Likewise, the order would not invalidate contracts calling for premium pay for "call-in work" where the employee is summoned to duty outside his regular work schedule, and such premium rates are unrelated to work on Saturday, Sunday, or any other day as such.

14. Furthermore, the order does not prevent the payment of shift wage differentials or bonuses, or attendance bonuses, where such payments are not in fact related to work performed on Saturday, Sunday, or particular days, as such.

(k) Holidays; choice of sixth holiday.

VIII. Holidays

15. Paragraph I B of the order has two requirements: (1) It requires time and one-half for work on the 6 holidays enumerated in the order, and (2) it forbids payment of any premium wage or extra compensation for work on any other holidays as such. A choice is afforded between Memorial Day and any other holiday of greater local importance. Failure to select a substitute holiday leaves Memorial Day as the sixth holiday under the order. The holiday chosen as a substitute for Memorial Day need not be the same holiday each year but only 6 holidays may be paid for at premium rates in the 12-month period beginning October first.

16. The order requires that time and one-half compensation be paid for work on designated holidays but forbids payment in excess of time and one-half. Thus, if the wages of an employee include compensation for a holiday although not worked, the additional amount which must be paid under the order for work performed on that holiday is limited to such amount as brings the total compensation for the day to time and one-half.

17. Compensation for work performed on a holiday should be computed at one and one-half times the straight-time rate paid for work on that day or one and one-half times the average straight-time hourly rate for the workweek, whichever is the customary method of computing overtime compensation. The employer's records should indicate which method is adopted.

(m) Holidays; inclusion of holidays in computing sixth and seventh days.

18. For purposes of computing the seventh day of work in a workweek under the order, the designated holidays must be included in the count whether or not work is performed on such days. An idle holiday should be included in computing the sixth day worked in the workweek unless the employment contract specifies otherwise.

(n) Holidays; determination of what constitutes work on.

19. Insofar as the order requires payment of time and one-half for work on the designated holidays, it means payment of time and one-half for the hours worked on the calendar holiday, namely, hours worked between midnight at the beginning of the holiday and midnight at the close of the holiday.

20. However, in order to give all employees equal benefit of the holiday, it is permissible to compensate employees at time and one-half for all hours worked on a shift, some part of which cuts across the calendar holiday. It is not permissible to pay the time and one-half holiday rate for more than one shift in a situation in which the employee works two shifts, both of which cut across the calendar holiday. However, employees must be paid time and one-half for at least all the hours worked on the calendar holiday.

21. If one of the designated holidays falls on Sunday, either Sunday or Monday may be observed as the holiday, but not both.

(o) Holidays; not worked.

22. There is no provision in the order relating to compensation on holidays not worked.

(p) Offsets crediting and pyramiding; holiday pay against other premium pay.

IX Offsets, Crediting, and Pyramiding

23. The time and one-half premium pay required for work on the 6 holidays designated in the order may not be offset or credited against overtime or premium pay required for any other day or portion of the workweek by virtue of this order or applicable statute, such as the Fair Labor Standards Act, the Walsh-Healey Act, or the Federal Eight-Hour Law. For example, an employee works 6 days of 8 hours each or a total of 48 hours in a workweek. The second day is one of the designated holidays and the 8 hours worked on that day must be paid for at time and one-half. This premium pay may not be credited or offset against the time and one-half required by statute for hours over 40 during that week. Both must be paid.

(q) Same; seventh day pay against other premium pay.

24. Similarly, the double time required for the seventh consecutive day worked in the workweek may not be offset or credited against overtime or premium pay required for any other day or portion of the workweek by the order or existing law. Thus, if in the example in paragraph 23, above, the employee works an additional or seventh consecutive day in the same workweek, he must receive double time for that day. This double time may not be offset or credited against the holiday premium pay in this example, nor against the time and one-half due for the hours worked in excess of 40 prior to the seventh day.

25. On the other hand, it is contrary to the purposes of the order to allow the pyramiding of overtime or premium rates on a particular day. Thus double time and no more may be paid for work on the seventh consecutive day worked in the workweek even though, by virtue of the employment contract or applicable statute, the hours worked on that day may exceed 8 or are in excess of 40 for the workweek or otherwise call for overtime rates of pay. For example, an employee works all 7 days of the workweek, 8 hours each day. The hours worked on the seventh day call for time and one-half under the Fair Labor Standards Act and double time under the order. The two premium rates may not be pyramided—only double time may be paid for work on that day. The same is true even though the employee works over 8 hours on the seventh day, which excess hours may also call for time and one-half.

26. Also, since the order limits premium pay for the designated holidays to time and one-half, it would be contrary to the order to pyramid the holiday rate and the weekly overtime rate required, for example, by the Fair Labor Standards Act, in cases where the holiday itself consists of hours in excess of 40 for the week. For example, the employee works 6 days of 8 hours each. The hours worked on the last day call for time and one-half under the Fair Labor Standards Act. The last day is also a holiday designated in the order. The order limits pay on that day to time and one-half.

27. For the same reason, where the holiday coincides with the sixth day worked in the workweek, which day by contract may also call for time and one-half, the order prevents the pyramiding of the two overtime rates.

28. Likewise, not more than time and one-half may be paid for work on the sixth day worked in the workweek even though the hours worked on that day may be in excess of 8 for the day or 40 for the week.

29. Even though the hours worked on the holiday in excess of 8 require time and one-half under the Walsh-Healey Act, the order limits the amount of compensation to time and one-half and prevents the pyramiding of overtime rates or the hours worked in excess of 8.

(s) Absences; full days of absence.

X Absences

30. Full days of absence.

(1) If an employee is absent for all of one or more days, such days are not to be included in computing the seventh day. The only two exceptions to this rule are a designated holiday on which no work is performed and the case where an employee reports with the reasonable expectation of work and is sent home because of a lack of work or other reason beyond his control. Such days should be counted in computing the seventh consecutive day.

(2) With respect to the inclusion of full days of absence for the purpose of determining whether a sixth day has been worked, the answer is to be found in the prevailing custom, practice, or agreement, in the plant. However, the counting of days of absence merely for the purpose of evading the prohibition in the order against premium pay for Saturday and Sunday work as such would be in contravention of the terms of the order.

(t) Absences for parts of work days.

31. Absences for parts of work days.

(1) The order does not require that any particular number of hours be worked in a day for that day to be regarded as a day worked under the order.

(2) Where an employee is absent for part of a workday for a justifiable reason, the day must be counted as a day worked for the purpose of computing the seventh day of work in the workweek. Since one of the basic purposes of the order is to discourage absenteeism, days on which an employee does not work his full schedule but absents himself for a portion of the day without justifiable cause should not be counted in computing the seventh day. It is permissible, however, for the employer to allow the employee to make up the time lost by such voluntary absence during the subsequent days of the workweek, and be compensated at the rate of double time on the seventh day of the workweek for hours worked on that day. However, double time may be paid on the seventh day only for those hours worked after the time lost has been made up by the employee.

(3) In computing the sixth day worked in the workweek, the question as to inclusion of days on which the employee has been absent for a portion of the day may be determined by the prevailing custom, practice, or agreement in the plant, provided days are not counted merely for the purpose of evading the prohibitions against premium pay for Saturday and Sunday, as such.

(u) Relationship of Executive Order 9240 to 9250. Payments required or forbidden by the terms of Executive Order 9240 do not, in the opinion of the Secretary of Labor, as stated in Interpretative Bulletin No. 1, require approval of the WLB as wage increases or decreases under the terms of Executive Order 9250. In situations where changes in the wage structure or premium rates are permitted but not required by Executive Order 9240, the procedures for the approval of wage increases as stated in §§ 81.975–81.983c of this part should be followed before such changes are initiated by the employer.

In § 81.965 paragraph (a) is amended and paragraph (d) is rescinded as follows:

§ 81.965 Exceptions—(a) Shipbuilding Stabilization Agreement. All work subject to the Zone Standards Agreement for the shipbuilding and ship repair industry has been excepted from the provisions of the order.

Section 81.966 is amended as follows:

§ 81.966 Future interpretations. (a) Paragraph V of Executive Order No. 9240, as amended, requires that all questions of its interpretations and application will be referred to the Secretary of Labor. Such questions requiring action by the Secretary of Labor insofar as they are posed by representatives of the War Department, will be directed to the Director of the Industrial Personnel Division, Services of Supply, who will take any necessary steps to obtain such interpretations in appropriate cases. The Director of Industrial Personnel will clear with the Director, Purchases Division, all such questions relating to contracting or procurement procedure. Interpretations of Executive Order 9240, made by the Secretary of Labor from time to time will be promptly forwarded to the chiefs of supply services, and to the Commanding General, Matériel Command, Army Air Forces, and will be summarized for inclusion in these regulations or in Services of Supply Circulars. Auditors, Finance officers, and other persons reviewing War Department vouchers and payments will present to the Director, Fiscal Division, all requests for instructions as to the application of the Executive Order to fiscal matters.

FORTY-EIGHT HOUR WORKWEEK

Paragraphs (a), (b), and (c) are added to § 81.985 as follows:

§ 81.985 Forty-eight hour workweek.

(a) The following is the text of the regulations issued by the War Manpower Commission to implement the 48-hour workweek.

By virtue of authority vested in me as Chairman of the War Manpower Commission by Executive Order No. 9301 establishing a minimum wartime workweek of 48 hours, and by Executive Orders Nos. 9139 and 9279, I hereby prescribe the following regulations:

§ 903.1 General policy for interpretation and application of Executive Order. Executive Order No. 9301 shall be so construed and applied as best to effectuate its fundamental purpose, which is to aid in meeting the manpower requirements of our armed forces and our expanding war production program by a fuller utilization of our available manpower. Effectuation of this purpose requires that in situations of labor shortage employers do not hire new workers when their manpower needs can effectively be met by a fuller utilization of their current labor force, and that workers who can be released by an extension of the workweek are released under circumstances which will permit and facilitate their effective utilization elsewhere in the war effort.

§ 903.2 Application to areas and activities. The Chairman of the War Manpower Commission will from time to time by order designate areas and activities as subject to the provisions of Executive Order No. 9301. Regional manpower directors may designate additional areas and activities within their respective regions as subject to the provisions of Executive Order No. 9301, if they find and by appropriate public notice so declare, that such action will aid in alleviating labor shortages which are impeding the war effort. Unless and until an area or activity has been so designated, employers therein will not be required to extend their workweek.

§ 903.3 Delegation of authority. Regional and area manpower directors are authorized and directed to determine all questions arising within their respective regions and areas with respect to the interpretation and application of these regulations, in conformity with such procedures and instructions as the Executive Director of the War Manpower Commission may issue in implementation thereof.

§ 903.4 Minimum wartime workweek. "Minimum wartime workweek" as used in these regulations means a workweek of 48 hours, except in cases where a workweek of 48 hours (a) would be impracticable in view of the nature of the operations, (b) would not contribute to the reduction of labor requirements, or (c) would conflict with any Federal, State or local law or regulation limiting hours of work. In such cases "Minimum wartime workweek" means the greatest number of hours (less than 48) feasible in the light of the nature of the operations, the reduction of labor requirements or the applicable Federal, State and local law or regulation, as the case may be.

§ 903.5 Extension of workweek in designated areas and activities. If the workweek applicable to any worker employed in any plant, factory or other place of employment in an area or an activity designated as subject to the provisions of Executive Order No. 9301, is less than the minimum wartime workweek, such workweek shall be extended to the minimum wartime workweek as follows:

(a) Whenever extension of such workweek to the minimum wartime workweek would not involve the release of any workers, the affected employer shall proceed promptly to extend the workweek to the minimum wartime workweek.

(b) Whenever the Regional or Area Manpower Director or a designated representative of either determines that extension of such workweek to the minimum wartime workweek would involve the release only of workers who can be promptly placed in suitable employment with other employers, the affected employer will be notified of such determination and thereupon shall proceed promptly to extend the workweek to the minimum wartime workweek.

(c) If extension of such workweek to the minimum wartime workweek would involve the release of some workers and the Regional or Area Manpower Director or designated representative has not determined and notified the employer that such workers can promptly be placed in suitable employment with other employers, the workweek shall not be extended except as authorized below. On or before April 1, 1943, the affected employer shall submit to the Regional or Area Manpower Director or the designated representative of either director a statement as to the number of workers whose release would be involved and their occupational classification, together with a proposed schedule for the timing of such releases. The Regional or Area Manpower Director or designated representative will authorize a schedule for the extension of the workweek to the minimum wartime workweek and for the release of workers in terms of labor market needs and the employer shall thereupon proceed to extend the workweek in accordance with such schedule.

§ 903.6 Restriction upon hiring of workers. No employer shall hire any worker in an area or activity designated as subject to the provisions of Executive Order No. 9301, if the employer has failed in any manner to comply with the provisions of § 903.5 of these regulations in the plant, factory or other place of employment in which the worker would be employed.

§ 903.7 Exclusions. No provision of these regulations shall be construed or applied so as to require the extension of a workweek:

(a) In any establishment or other place of employment in which less than eight workers are regularly employed;

(b) In any establishment or place of employment principally engaged in agriculture;

(c) Of persons in the employ of any State or any political subdivision thereof, or any instrumentality of any one or more of the foregoing;

(d) Of youth under the age of sixteen years; or

(e) Of individuals who on account of other employment, household responsibilities, or physical limitations, are not available for full time work.

§ 903.8 Definitions. As used in these regulations:

(a) "Workweek" means the number of hours within a period of seven successive days, beginning with the same calendar day each week, during which workers are normally required to be on duty.

(b) "Agriculture" means those farm activities carried on by farm owners or tenants on farms in connection with the cultivation of the soil, the harvesting of crops, or the raising, feeding, or management of livestock, bees, and poultry, and shall not include any packing, canning, processing, transportation or marketing of articles produced on farms unless performed or carried on as an incident to ordinary farming operations as distinguished from manufacturing or commercial operations.

(b) The following is the text of General Order No. 5 issued by the War Manpower Commission designating certain areas as subject to the provisions of Executive Order No. 9301.

TITLE 29—LABOR

Chapter V—Wage and Hour Division

PART 632—MINIMUM WAGE RATE IN THE COOKING AND HEATING APPLIANCES MANUFACTURING INDUSTRY

WAGE ORDER

In the matter of the recommendation of Industry Committee No. 51 for a minimum wage rate in the Cooking and Heating Appliances Manufacturing Industry.

Whereas on October 27, 1942, pursuant to section 5 (b) of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, herein referred to as the Act, the Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division of the United States Department of Labor, by Administrative Order No. 165, (7 F. R. 8811) appointed Industry Committee No. 51 for the Cooking and Heating Appliances Manufacturing Industry, herein called the Committee, and directed the Committee to recommend minimum wage rates for the Cooking and Heating Appliances Manufacturing Industry in accordance with section 8 of the Act; and

Whereas the Committee included six disinterested persons representing the public, a like number of persons representing employers in the Cooking and Heating Appliances Manufacturing Industry, and a like number of persons representing employees in the industry, and each group was appointed with due regard to the geographical regions in which the Cooking and Heating Appliance Manufacturing Industry is carried on; and

Whereas on November 20, 1942, the Committee, after investigating economic and competitive conditions in the Industry, filed with the Administrator a report containing its recommendation for a 40-cent minimum hourly wage rate in the Cooking and Heating Appliances Manufacturing Industry; and

Whereas after notice duly published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on December 1, 1942 (7 F.R. 9987), Major Robert N. Campbell, the Presiding Officer designated by the Administrator, held a public hearing upon the Committee's recommendation at Washington, D. C., on December 16, 1942, at which all interested persons were given an opportunity to be heard; and

Whereas the complete record of the proceeding before the Presiding Officer has been transmitted to the Administrator; and

Whereas by notice published in the FEDERAL REGISTER December 22, 1942 (7 F.R. 10726) opportunity to submit written briefs was afforded all parties; and

Whereas the Administrator, upon reviewing all the evidence adduced in this proceeding and giving consideration to the provisions of the Act, with special reference to sections 5 and 8 has concluded that the Industry Committee's recommendation for the Cooking and Heating Appliances Manufacturing Industry, as defined by Administrative Order No. 165, is made in accordance with law, is supported by the evidence adduced at the hearing, and, taking into consideration the same factors as are required to be considered by the Committee, will carry out the purposes of the Act; and

Whereas the Administrator has set forth his decision in an opinion entitled "Findings and Opinion of the Administrator in the matter of the Recommendation of Industry Committee No. 51 for a Minimum Wage Rate in the Cooking and Heating Appliances Manufacturing Industry," dated this day, a copy of which may be had upon request addressed to the Wage and Hour Division, United States Department of Labor, 165 West 46th Street, New York, New York.

Now, therefore, it is ordered, That:

Sec.
632.1 Approval of recommendation of Industry Committee No. 51.
632.2 Wage rate.
632.3 Posting of notices.
632.4 Definition of the Cooking and Heating Appliances Manufacturing Industry.
632.5 Scope of the definition.
632.6 Effective date.

AUTHORITY: §§ 632.1 to 632.6, inclusive, issued under sec. 8, 52 Stat. 1064; 29 U.S.C., Supp. IV, 208.

§ 632.1 Approval of recommendation of Industry Committee No. 51. The Committee's recommendation is hereby approved, and in accordance with such recommendation,

§ 632.2 Wage rate. Wages at a rate of not less than 40 cents per hour shall be paid under section 6 of the Act by every employer to each of his employees who is engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce in the Cooking and Heating Appliances Manufacturing Industry; and

§ 632.3 Posting of notices. Every employer employing any employees so engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce in the Cooking and Heating Appliances Manufacturing Industry shall post and keep posted in a conspicuous place in each department of his establishment where such employees are working such notices of this order as shall be prescribed from time to time by the Wage and Hour Division of the United States Department of Labor; and

§ 632.4 Definition of the Cooking and Heating Appliances Manufacturing Industry. For the purposes of this order the term "Cooking and Heating Appliances Manufacturing Industry" means:

(a) The manufacture of cooking and heating equipment and appliances, and parts and accessories thereof;

(b) The term "manufacture" as used herein covers all operations involved in the production of any article covered by this definition, including foundry operations required to produce iron castings, the fabrication and surface treatment (including enameling) of sheet metal and castings parts, and the mounting and assembling of the parts;

(c) Provided, however, That the manufacture of the following shall not be included: steam fittings and specialties such as thermostats and other temperature control devices, gauges, regulators, traps, and reducing valves; steam heating boilers using pressure in excess of 15 pounds per square inch; cooking utensils, electrical equipment and appliances; stove pipes; tanks for water heaters; or any product covered by a wage order for the Gray Iron Jobbing Foundry Industry or Enameled Utensil Industry.

§ 632.5 Scope of the definition. The definition of the Cooking and Heating Appliances Manufacturing Industry covers all occupations in the Industry which are necessary to the production of the articles specified in the definition, including clerical, maintenance, shipping, and selling occupations, Provided, however, That such clerical, maintenance, shipping and selling occupations when carried on in a wholesaling or selling department physically segregated from other departments of a manufacturing establishment, the greater part of the sales of which wholesaling or selling department are sales of articles which have been purchased for resale, shall not be deemed to be covered by this definition, and Provided, further, That where an employee covered by this definition is employed during the same workweek at two or more different minimum rates of pay, he shall be paid the highest of such rates for such workweek unless records concerning his employment are kept by his employer in accordance with applicable regulations of the Wage and Hour Division.

(Sec. 8, 52 Stat. 1064; 29 U.S.C., Supp. IV, 208)

Signed at Washington, D. C., this 23d day of March 1943.

L. METCALFE WALLING,
Administrator.

TITLE 30—MINERAL RESOURCES

Chapter III—Bituminous Coal Division

[Docket No. A-1883]

PART 331—MINIMUM PRICE SCHEDULE, DISTRICT NO. 11

ORDER GRANTING RELIEF

Order granting temporary relief and conditionally providing for final relief in the matter of the petition of District Board No. 11 for the establishment of price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of the Julian No. 2 Mine.

An original petition, pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, having been duly filed with this Division by the above-named party, requesting the establishment, both temporary and permanent, of price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of the Julian No. 2 Mine, Mine Index No. 1386 of Standard Coal Company, in Price Group 10 in District No. 11; and

It appearing that a reasonable showing of necessity has been made for the granting of temporary relief in the manner hereinafter set forth; and

No petitions of intervention having been filed with the Division in the above-entitled matter; and

The following action being deemed necessary in order to effectuate the purposes of the Act:

It is ordered, That, pending final disposition of the above-entitled matter, temporary relief is granted as follows: Commencing forthwith, § 331.5 (Alphabetical list of code members) is amended by adding thereto Supplement R, and § 331.24 (General prices in cents per net ton for shipment into all market areas) is amended by adding thereto Supplement T, which supplements are hereinafter set forth and hereby made a part hereof.

It is further ordered, That pleadings in opposition to the original petition in the above-entitled matter and applications to stay, terminate or modify the temporary relief herein granted may be filed with the Division within forty-five (45) days from the date of this order, pursuant to the rules and regulations governing practice and procedure before the Bituminous Coal Division in proceedings instituted pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937.

It is further ordered, That the relief herein granted shall become final sixty (60) days from the date of this order, unless it shall otherwise be ordered.

Dated: March 12, 1943.

PART 322—MINIMUM PRICE SCHEDULE, DISTRICT NO. 2

ORDER GRANTING RELIEF, ETC.

Order of consolidation and order granting temporary relief and conditionally providing for final relief in the matter of the petitions of District Board No. 2 for the establishment of price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of certain mines in District No. 2.

Original petitions having been duly filed with this Division by the above-named party, pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, requesting the establishment, both temporary and permanent, of price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of certain mines in District No. 2; and

It appearing that the above-entitled petitions raise similar and related issues and that a reasonable showing of necessity has been made for the granting of temporary relief in the manner hereinafter set forth; and

No petitions of intervention having been filed with the Division in the above-entitled matter; and

The following action being deemed necessary in order to effectuate the purposes of the Act;

It is ordered, That the above-entitled petitions be, and the same hereby are, consolidated.

It is further ordered, That, pending final disposition of the above-entitled matter, temporary relief be, and the same hereby is, granted as follows: Commencing forthwith, § 322.7 (Alphabetical list of code members) is amended by adding thereto Supplement R, and § 322.23 (General prices) is amended by adding thereto Supplement T, which supplements are hereinafter set forth and hereby made a part hereof.

It is further ordered, That pleadings in opposition to the original petitions in the above-entitled matter, and applications to stay, terminate, or modify the temporary relief herein granted may be filed with the Division within forty-five (45) days from the date of this order, pursuant to rules and regulations governing practice and procedure before the Bituminous Coal Division in proceedings instituted pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937.

It is further ordered, That the relief herein granted shall become final sixty (60) days from the date of this order, unless otherwise ordered.

Dated: March 17, 1943.

PART 328—MINIMUM PRICE SCHEDULE, DISTRICT NO. 8

ORDER GRANTING RELIEF, ETC.

Order granting temporary relief and conditionally providing for final relief in the matter of the petition of District Board No. 8 for the establishment of price classifications and minimum prices and for other relief for the coals of certain mines.

An original petition, pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, having been duly filed with this Division by the above-named party, requesting the establishment, both temporary and permanent, of price classifications and minimum prices; changes in shipping points, and changes in seam designations, for the coals of certain mines located in District No. 8; and also requesting the deletion of Mine Index No. 2496, from the Schedules of Effective Minimum Prices for District No. 8 for All Shipments Except Truck and for Truck Shipments, for the reason that this mine will be combined with Mine Index No. 716, and both mines will be operated as a unit by Miller Coal Company (Willie Miller) as Mine Index No. 716; and

It appearing that a reasonable showing of necessity has been made for the granting of temporary relief in the manner hereinafter set forth; and that no petitions of intervention have been filed with the Division in the above-entitled matter, and that the following action is deemed necessary in order to effectuate the purposes of the Act;

It is ordered, That, pending final disposition of the above-entitled matter, temporary relief is granted as follows: Commencing forthwith, § 328.11 (Alphabetical list of code members) is amended by adding thereto Supplement R–I, § 328.21 (Alphabetical list of code members) is amended by adding thereto Supplement R–II, and § 328.34 (General prices for high volatile coals in cents per net ton for shipment into all market areas) is amended by adding thereto Supplement T, which supplements are hereinafter set forth and hereby made a part hereof.

It is further ordered, That pleadings in opposition to the original petition in the above-entitled matter and applications to stay, terminate or modify the temporary relief herein granted may be filed with the Division within forty-five (45) days from the date of this order, pursuant to the rules and regulations governing practice and procedure before the Bituminous Coal Division in Proceedings instituted pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937.

It is further ordered, That the relief herein granted shall become final sixty (60) days from the date of this order, unless it shall otherwise be ordered.

Dated: March 12, 1943.

PART 308—REPORTS AND RECORDS

MONTHLY TONNAGE REPORTS, DISTRICT 10

An order relieving code members within District No. 10 from filing monthly tonnage reports required by the Rules and Regulations prescribed by order in General Docket No. 24.

The Bituminous Coal Producers Board for District No. 10 having requested that the code members within said district be relieved from filing the monthly tonnage reports required to be filed pursuant to the rules and regulations requiring tonnage reports from code members, established by order in General Docket No. 24, dated April 7, 1942, and having shown good cause why such request should be granted;

It is ordered, That § 308.26 (Rules and regulations requiring tonnage reports from code members to facilitate the levying and collection of code assessments by district boards) be amended to provide that the code members within District No. 10 be, and they are hereby relieved, until further order of the Division, from filing with the Statistical Bureau for District No. 10 monthly tonnage data on Form B. C. D. No. 718, with respect to coal produced on and after January 1, 1943. (Sec. 10 (a) 50 Stat. 88, 15 U.S.C. Supp. 840 (a); sec. 2 (a) 50 Stat. 72; 15 U.S.C. 829 (a))

Dated: March 25, 1943.

PART 339—MINIMUM PRICE SCHEDULE, DISTRICT NO. 19

ORDER REVISING CLASSIFICATION

Order of the Director in the matter of the petition of District Board 19 for the establishment of certain minimum prices for the coals in Size Group 3 produced and shipped by rail from mines in Subdistrict 7 in District 19 and for Revision of the description of Size Group 3 to include double-screened coals with a top size over 8" and a bottom size 3" and smaller.

Upon the findings of fact and conclusions of law set forth in the opinion of the Director, filed simultaneously herewith, wherein it appears that Size Group 3 for all subdistricts in District 19 should be revised to include double screened coals with a maximum top size of 12" and a maximum bottom size of 3" as an alternate size with 5" lump coals and the minimum prices for Size Group 3, as herein amended, for rail shipments from Subdistrict 7 should be established at the effective minimum prices for Size Group 2 in Subdistrict 7, and pursuant to section 4 II (d) and other provisions of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937,

It is hereby ordered, That effective as of the date hereof, § 339.1 (Price instructions and exceptions) is amended by adding thereto as follows:

1. The classification of coals in Size Group 3 for all subdistricts is revised to include double screened coals with a maximum top size of 12" and a maximum bottom size of 3", as an alternate size with 5" lump coals.

2. The minimum prices for Size Group 3, as herein amended, for rail shipments from Subdistrict 7 are established at the effective minimum prices for Size Group 2 in said subdistrict.

Dated: March 25, 1943.

TITLE 32—NATIONAL DEFENSE

Chapter IX—War Production Board

Subchapter B—Executive Vice Chairman

AUTHORITY: Regulations in this subchapter issued under P.D. Reg. 1, as amended, 6 F.R. 6660; W.P.B. Reg. 1, 7 F.R. 561; E.O. 9024, 7 F.R. 329; E.O. 9040, 7 F.R. 527, E.O. 9125, 7 F.R. 2719; sec. 2 (a), Pub. Law 671, 76th Cong., as amended by Pub. Laws 89 and 507, 77th Cong.

PART 976—MOTOR TRUCKS, TRUCK TRAILERS AND PASSENGER CARRIERS

[Limitation Order L-1-j]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States having created a shortage in the supply of fluid-food tank trucks, tank trailers and tank tractors for defense, for private account and for export, the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 976.21 Limitation Order L–1–j—(a) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(b) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, or any organized group of persons, whether incorporated or not.

(2) "Fluid-food tank truck or trailer" means a motor truck or trailer on which is mounted a tank body lined with glass, or made of stainless steel or aluminum, and used or suitable for use in the transportation of milk or other fluids for use in human foods, including all such trucks and trailers used in such transportation at any time since January 1, 1933.

(3) "Fluid-food tank tractor" means a truck tractor which on or after March 26, 1943 was used, or held for standby service or in reserve, for hauling fluid-food tank trailers.

(c) Restrictions on sale and transfer of fluid-food tank trucks and tank trailers and fluid-food tank tractors. On or after March 26, 1943 no person owning, operating, leasing or otherwise possessing a fluid-food tank truck or trailer or a fluid-food tank tractor shall sell, lease, trade, lend, deliver, ship or transfer any such vehicle, or shall convert any such vehicle for or divert it to any usage other than that in which it is being currently operated, except with the specific authorization of the War Production Board.

(d) Application on Form PD–556. Any person owning a fluid-food tank truck, tank trailer or a fluid-food tank tractor, seeking the authorization of the War Production Board to sell or otherwise transfer or convert the same, shall apply to the Automotive Division, War Production Board, Washington, D. C., on Form PD–556 using a separate form for each vehicle. Form PD–556 may be obtained from the nearest Regional or District Office of the War Production Board and shall be submitted in quadruplicate, according to the following instructions:

Answer all applicable questions on the form, except questions 2, 3, 4, 7, and 8 in III.

(1) Under I, state name, address and business of person to whom applicant will transfer vehicle.

(2) Under II (a), for tank truck or for tank trailer state: make, model, year produced, type of tank and any structural peculiarities; number and condition of tires; number of live and dead axles.

(3) Under II (b) for tank truck or for tractor state: type of engine and piston displacement.

(4) Under II (c) state mileage run by vehicle to date.

(5) Under II (d) for tank truck or for tank trailer state gallon capacity of tank; for tractor, state gross vehicle weight. Do not fill in under II (e) as the form is used only for one vehicle.

(6) Under II (f) state original cost of vehicle and present value.

(7) Under III, 1, state fully the use to which vehicle will be put if transferred to person named in 1; territory served and routes over which vehicle, if transferred, will operate.

(8) Under III, 5, state fully present use of vehicle in milk or fluid-food transport; territory served, routes operated and average weekly mileage.

(9) Under III, 6 (a) state type and year of production of all other tank vehicles and tractors now operated by applicant in this business.

(10) Under III, 6 (b) state gallon capacity of tank trucks and tank trailers, and gross vehicle weight of tractors, described under III, 6 (a).

(11) Under III, 6 (c) state separately the number of tank trucks, tank trailers and tractors operated by applicant.

(12) Do not enter any information under III, 6 (d) and (e).

(e) Exceptions to applicability of this order. The terms and restrictions of this order shall not apply to any fluid-food tank truck or tank trailer, or fluid-food tank tractor (1) sold to or produced under contracts or orders for delivery to or for the account of the Army or Navy of the United States, or (2) leased or operated under a specific order, instruction, or directive, other than a Certificate of War Necessity, of the Office of Defense Transportation.

(f) Records. All persons affected by this order shall keep and preserve for not less than two years accurate and complete records concerning sales, leases or other transfers or conversions of vehicles made under this order.

(g) Reports. All persons affected by this order, shall execute and file with the War Production Board such reports and questionnaires as the Board shall from time to time request.

(h) Audit and inspection. All records required to be kept by this order shall, upon request, be submitted to audit and inspection by duly authorized representatives of the War Production Board.

(i) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact, or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, materials under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(j) Communications. All communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Automotive Division, Washington, D. C., Ref: L–1–j.

Issued this 26th day of March, 1943.

PART 1052—KITCHEN, HOUSEHOLD AND OTHER MISCELLANEOUS ARTICLES

[Supplementary Limitation Order L-30-d as Amended March 26, 1943]

MISCELLANEOUS COOKING UTENSILS AND OTHER ARTICLES

§ 1052.5 Supplementary Limitation Order L–30–d—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Preferred order" means a purchase order, contract or subcontract for delivery to or for the account of the Army or Navy of the United States, the United States Maritime Commission or the War Shipping Administration.

(2) "Miscellaneous cooking utensil" means any utensil containing more than 7½%, by weight, of metal, which is designed primarily for use in the preparation or cooking of food, whether for household, institutional, commercial, governmental or any other purpose, including but not limited to, glass and ceramic flameware, but excluding any utensil the production of which is governed by Supplementary Limitation Orders L–30–b or L–30–c, or expressly exempted from the provisions of those orders when produced pursuant to preferred orders.

(3) "Kitchen tools" means articles containing more than 5%, by weight, of metal, commonly known as kitchen tools, including, but not limited to, can openers, jar openers, bottle openers, strainers, flour sifters, food whips, food mills, dippers, scoops, choppers, slicers, corers, mashers, shapers, beaters, graters, grinders, cutters, sieves, cake turners, basting spoons, cork screws and skewers, but excluding cutlery (which is governed by Limitation Order L–140), electrical appliances (which are governed by Limitation Order L–65), gas appliances and power-driven equipment.

(4) "Household storage articles" means articles containing more than 5%, by weight, of metal, designed for the storage of food or household supplies, including but not limited to, vegetable bins, canisters, spice sets, cake covers or safes, holders for salt, soap or cleanser cartons, step-on cans, lunch boxes, vacuum jugs and bottles, and window boxes for the storage of food, but excluding:

(i) Pails, buckets and tubs;

(ii) Containers designed for the packing, shipment or delivery of materials or products of any kind, including but not limited to, cans as defined in Conservation Orders M–81 or M–136, glass containers or closures as defined in Limitation Order L–103, and drums as defined in Limitation Order L–197; and

(iii) Articles the production of which is governed by Supplementary Limitation Orders L–30–a, L–30–b or L–30–c, or expressly exempted from the provisions of those orders when produced pursuant to preferred orders.

(5) "Manufacturer" means any person engaged in the business of producing or assembling any miscellaneous cooking utensils, kitchen tools, household storage articles or any other products covered by this order, or any parts (including repair parts) for such utensils, kitchen tools, storage articles or products.

(6) "Put into process" means the first change by a manufacturer in the form of material from that form in which it is received by him.

(7) "Base period" means the twelve months ending June 30, 1941.

(8) "Black steel" means uncoated, polished or lacquered carbon steel. It does not include any steel which has a metal or vitreous-enameled coating.

(9) "Joining hardware" means nuts, screws, nails, bolts, clasps, rivets and other similar items of small hardware used for joining or other similar purposes.

(10) "Repair part" means any part for an article or product which is not produced for or used in a new article or product.

(b) Prohibition on production of miscellaneous articles. (1) No manufacturer shall process, fabricate, work on or assemble any iron, steel or other metal for use in the kitchen, household and other miscellaneous articles listed on Schedule A attached to this Order (whether manufactured for household or for any other purpose), or parts for such articles (including repair parts), except for the minimum amount of iron and steel (not to exceed 5% of the weight of the article) contained in necessary joining hardware.

(2) No manufacturer shall process, fabricate, work on or assemble any iron, steel or other metal for use in the production of clothes wringers except (i) wringers which are integral parts of power-driven laundry equipment as covered by Limitation Orders L–6 and L–91 and (ii) hand clothes wringers which weigh 18 pounds or less and contain 50% or less of metal, by weight.

(3) During the period of three months beginning January 1, 1943, and during each succeeding period of three months, no manufacturer shall put into process more iron and steel, by weight, in the production of (i) hand clothes wringers permitted under paragraph (b)(2) than three times 30% of the average monthly amount of iron and steel, by weight, put into process by him during the base period in the production of all hand clothes wringers and parts therefor (including repair parts); or (ii) repair parts for all hand clothes wringers than three times 5% of the average monthly amount of iron and steel, by weight, put into process by him during the base period in the production of all hand clothes wringers and parts therefor (including repair parts).

[NOTE: Paragraphs (c)(1), (d)(1), (e)(1) and (f)(1) were amended March 26, 1943 by deleting the term "on and after November 23, 1942,".]

(c) Restrictions on miscellaneous cooking utensils. (1) Except as provided in paragraph (g), no manufacturer shall process, fabricate, work on or assemble any iron, steel or other metal for use in the production of any miscellaneous cooking utensils containing 20% or more of metal, by weight, or parts for such utensils, except

(i) Black steel frying pans having a bottom diameter of from 8 to 12 inches, inclusive;

(ii) Black steel heavy-duty roast pans without covers, having a capacity of from 675 cubic inches to 2600 cubic inches, inclusive, and having two or three reinforcing straps and wired edges; and

(iii) Black steel or tinned utensils, including liquid and dry measures (other than black steel frying pans or heavy-duty roast pans) in fulfillment of preferred orders; and

(iv) Baking pans of a type designed for use in commercial bakeries and institutions.

(2) During the period of three months beginning January 1, 1943, and during each succeeding period of three months, no manufacturer shall put into process more iron and steel, by weight, in the production of

(i) Black steel frying pans than three times 50% of the average monthly amount of iron and steel, by weight, put into process by him during the base period in the production of black steel frying pans;

(ii) Black steel heavy-duty roast pans than three times 35% of the average monthly amount of iron and steel, by weight, put into process by him during the base period in the production of black steel heavy-duty roast pans;

(iii) Miscellaneous cooking utensils containing more than 7½%, but less than 20%, of metal, by weight, and parts for such utensils (other than repair parts) than three times 100% of the average monthly amount of iron and steel, by weight, put into process by him during the base period in the production of such cooking utensils and parts (including repair parts); or

(iv) Repair parts for miscellaneous cooking utensils containing more than 7½%, but less than 20%, of metal, by weight, than three times 5% of the monthly average amount of iron and steel, by weight, put into process by him during the base period in the production of such cooking utensils and parts for such utensils (including repair parts).

(d) Restrictions on kitchen tools. (1) Except as provided in paragraph (g) no manufacturer shall process, fabricate, work on or assemble any iron, steel or other metal for use in the production of any kitchen tools, except

(i) The following kitchen tools:

[NOTE: Paragraphs (i) and (ii) were amended March 26, 1943]

Basting spoons, 14 to 21 inches, inclusive, in overall length.
Cake turners, 13 to 21 inches, inclusive, in overall length.

Can openers, (provided that no can opener produced on or after June 1, 1943, shall contain more than 12 ounces of metal, except in fulfillment of preferred orders).

Egg beaters, rotary type, 10 inches or longer, including handle.
Food choppers and grinders.
Food mills.
Wire strainers.
Wire whips, commercial type, 12 inches or longer.

Scoops, commercial type, 6½ to 10 inches, inclusive, in overall length, provided that no manufacturer shall put into process for such scoops any iron or steel other than that which he has identified as falling within one or more of the following classes:

(a) Iron and steel in his inventory on March 26, 1943;

(b) Iron and steel obtained by him pursuant to a special sale, as defined in Priorities Regulation No. 13, and in accordance with the terms of that Regulation;

(c) Top cuts of steel (that portion of steel ingot rejected because of sufficiently high quality for use on the order for which the ingot was melted but which is normally used for some other purpose);

(d) Bessemer processed steel;

(e) Sheet mill seconds, rejects and wasters, 28-gauge and heavier;

(f) Tin mill black plate rejects, 29 and 30-gauge;

(g) Iron and steel obtained by him from a warehouse (as defined in Conservation Order M–21–b).

(ii) The following kitchen tools in fulfillment of preferred orders only:

Butter cutters.
Dippers.
French fry cutters.

[Note: "Nutmeg graters" was deleted March 26, 1943.]

Skimmers.
Sugar and flour scoops.
Vegetable graters.

(iii) Any other kitchen tool in fulfillment of preferred orders for use on board ship only.

(2) Except in fulfillment of preferred orders for use on board ship, during the period of three months beginning January 1, 1943, and during each succeeding period of three months, no manufacturer shall put into process more iron and steel, by weight, in the production of:

(i) Any kitchen tool (other than can openers) listed in paragraph (d) (1) (i) than three times 35% of the average monthly amount of iron and steel, by weight, put into process by him during the base period in the production of such kitchen tool and parts for such tool (including repair parts);

(e) Restrictions on household storage articles. (1) Except as provided in paragraph (g), no manufacturer shall process, fabricate, work on or assemble any iron, steel or other metal for use in the production of any household storage articles, except vacuum bottles with a capacity of one quart or less and, pursuant to preferred orders, vacuum bottles and jugs with a capacity of more than one quart.

(2) During the period of three months beginning January 1, 1943, and during each succeeding period of three months, no manufacturer shall put into process more iron and steel, by weight, in the production of vacuum bottles with a capacity of one quart or less than three times 50% of the average monthly amount of iron and steel, by weight, put into process by him during the base period in the production of such vacuum bottles.

(f) Restrictions on pails, buckets and tubs. (1) Except as provided in paragraph (g), no manufacturer shall process, fabricate, work on or assemble any iron or steel for use in the production of any pails, buckets or tubs, except

(i) Pails or tubs designed expressly for use as packing or shipping containers;

(ii) Pails or tubs which contain iron or steel only in hoops, bails, ears, handles and joining hardware, provided that the total weight of such iron and steel does not exceed 15% of the total weight of the pail or tub, and further provided that any such pail, or any such tub with a capacity of less than 15 gallons, does not have more than two hoops containing iron or steel;

(iii) Dairy pails;

(iv) Pails, buckets or tubs when made of black steel and produced pursuant to preferred orders; and

(v) Pails, buckets or tubs the production of which is governed by Supplementary Limitation Orders L–30–a or L–30–b, or expressly exempted from the provisions of those orders when produced pursuant to preferred orders.

(g) Exceptions. Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraphs (b) (2), (c) (1), (d) (1), (e) (1) and (f) (1), a manufacturer may complete the fabrication and assembly of any article included in such paragraphs from iron or steel which, on November 17, 1942, had been cut, blanked or otherwise formed to size for such article by him or by any other person, provided that such article is completed on or before December 31, 1942, except for the application of a coating or finish or the attaching of handles, bails or ears, which may be done thereafter.

(h) Applicability of other orders. The provisions of this order shall supersede the provisions of Limitation Order L–30 in respect to all articles the production of which is governed by this order. In so far as any other order restricts the use of any material in the production of any articles to a greater extent than the limits imposed by this order, the restrictions of such other order shall govern unless otherwise specified therein.

(i) Applicability of priorities regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the Priorities Regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(j) Appeal. Any appeal from the provisions of this order should be made on Form PD–500, directed to the War Production Board, Consumers' Durable Goods Division, Washington, D. C., Ref: L–30–d.

(k) Avoidance of excessive inventories. No manufacturer shall accumulate for use in the manufacture of articles the production of which is governed by this order, inventories of raw materials, semi-processed materials, or finished parts in quantities in excess of the minimum amount necessary to maintain production permitted by this order.

(l) Records. All persons affected by this order shall keep and preserve, for not less than two years, accurate and complete records concerning inventories, production and sales.

(m) Audit and inspection. All records required to be kept by this order shall, upon request, be submitted to audit and inspection by duly authorized representatives of the War Production Board.

(n) Reports. All persons affected by this order shall execute and file with the War Production Board such reports and questionnaires as said Board shall from time to time require.

(o) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(p) Communications. All reports required to be filed hereunder, and all communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to the War Production Board Consumers' Durable Goods Division, Washington, D. C. Ref: L–30–d.

Issued this 26th day of March 1943.

PART 1233—THERMOPLASTICS

[General Preference Order M–154, as Amended March 26, 1943]

Section 1233.1 is hereby amended in its entirety to read as follows:

§ 1233.1 General Preference Order No. M–154—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this order "thermoplastics" means the synthetic resins and cellulose derivatives listed below, whether plasticized or unplasticized (except in the case of ethyl cellulose and cellulose nitrate), in their various primary unfabricated forms such as sheets, rods, tubes, shapes, slabs, pellets, powder, solutions, emulsions, and flake, and whether virgin or scrap, but not including yarn or textiles, coated or substrated photographic film or film scrap, or cellulose film up to .003" in gauge:

(1) Cellulose acetate butyrate.
(2) Cellulose acetate.
(3) Plasticized cellulose nitrate, except that used in explosives and protective coatings.
(4) Plasticized ethyl cellulose.
(5) Polymers and copolymers of styrene, except styrene copolymerized with butadiene.

(b) Restriction on use. (1) No person shall use thermoplastics in the manufacture of articles set forth in Exhibit A annexed, regardless of preference ratings.

(2) No person shall use in the manufacture of any article not set forth in Exhibit A annexed more thermoplastics than are necessary to accomplish the functional purpose of the article, and no person shall use any quantity of thermoplastics in the manufacture of decorative attachments for any article.

(c) War use exemption. Nothing contained in paragraph (b) (1) above shall apply to use of thermoplastics by the United States Army, Navy, Coast Guard, Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration, or by any person pursuant to the terms of any contract or order for thermoplastics or articles made therefrom, where such thermoplastics or articles are to be delivered to, or incorporated into products to be delivered to, the aforesaid agencies, provided that such use is expressly made subject to war use exemption in Exhibit A annexed.

(d) Existing stocks exemption. Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (b) (1) above, any person may use, in the manufacture of any article set forth in Exhibit A annexed, thermoplastics which:

(1) Were in his possession prior to the effective date of restriction on such article, or

(2) Were in the possession of his thermoplastics supplier and on his purchase order had been so processed prior to the effective date of restriction on such article as to render impracticable their use in a manner not subject to restriction by this order.

(e) Scrap exemption. The provisions of paragraph (b) (1) above shall not apply to the use of scrap resulting from the processing or fabrication of thermoplastics: Provided, however, That no person shall use or deliver thermoplastics scrap resulting from his own operations unless:

(1) Such scrap is not of a quality to permit its reuse in the operation or product from which it was obtained, and

(2) The quantity of such scrap does not exceed 15 percent of the quantity of thermoplastics from which it was obtained.

(f) Notification of customers. Producers of thermoplastics shall as soon as practicable notify each of their regular customers of the requirements of this order and of all amendments hereto, but failure to receive such notice shall not excuse any such person from complying with the terms hereof.

(g) Miscellaneous provisions—(1) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected hereby are subject to all applicable provisions of War Production Board regulations, as amended from time to time.

(2) Effect of other orders. Nothing in this order contained shall be construed to permit the manufacture of any item or of units of any item if the manufacture of said item has been prohibited or curtailed by the terms of any other War Production Board order, heretofore or hereafter issued.

(3) Reports. Each person affected by this order shall file such reports as may from time to time be required by the War Production Board.

(4) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making, or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(5) Appeals. Appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(6) Communications to War Production Board. All reports required to be filed hereunder, and all communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Chemicals Division, Washington, D. C., Ref: M–154.

Issued this 26th day of March 1943.

PART 1252—GAGES AND PRECISION MEASURING HAND TOOLS

[General Preference Order E-5-a]

Part 1252—Gages, Precision Measuring Tools, Testing Instruments, and Chucks is amended to read as above.

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of gages and precision measuring hand tools, for defense, for private account, and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 1252.2 General Preference Order E-5-a—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this order:

(1) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, governmental corporation or agency, or any organized group of persons, whether incorporated or not.

(2) "Producer" means any person who is engaged in the manufacture of gages or precision measuring hand tools.

(3) "Approved user" means any of the following:

(i) The Army or Navy of the United States, the United States Maritime Commission, the War Shipping Administration, the Panama Canal, the Coast and Geodetic Survey, the Coast Guard, the Selective Service System, the Civil Aeronautics Administration, the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, the Office of Scientific Research and Development, Defense Supplies Corporation, Metals Reserve Company.

(ii) Any person producing any product or conducting any business listed on Schedule I or II of CMP Regulation No. 5, as amended from time to time.

(iii) Any person conducting any activity or rendering any service listed on Schedule I or II of CMP Regulation No. 5A, as amended from time to time.

(iv) The government of any country designated, under the Act of March 11, 1941, entitled "An Act to Promote the Defense of the United States" (Lend-Lease Act), as eligible to receive lend-lease aid.

(v) Any person to whom the Board of Economic Warfare has approved the granting of an export license for gages or for precision measuring hand tools.

(vi) Any other persons specifically designated by the War Production Board.

(4) "Approved employee" means any person who is employed or is about to be employed by any approved user. A student of any vocational or other training school is not an approved employee as such, and sales to such students, whether by producers, distributors, or the vocational or training school itself are not permitted under the provisions of this order.

(5) "Distributor" means any person other than an approved user who purchases or accepts delivery of any gages or precision measuring hand tools exclusively for resale and not for use.

(6) "Gages and precision measuring hand tools" means those tools which are used to determine whether a product meets required dimensional specifications, excluding those gages specified on Exhibit A attached hereto and excluding devices made of wood.

(7) "Continental United States" means the territory comprising the several States and the District of Columbia.

(b) Restrictions on sales by producers and distributors. On and after May 1, 1943, no producer or distributor shall sell or deliver any gages or precision measuring hand tools except in fulfillment of the following purchase orders:

(1) Purchase orders placed by approved users, and by distributors, bearing a preference rating of A-9 or higher, accompanied by a statement substantially as follows which shall be in addition to any other certification required in applying or extending such preference rating:

Purchased pursuant to General Preference Order E-5-a. Delivery of this order will not increase the undersigned's inventory beyond a supply required by the undersigned's current practices for use or for resale during a thirty-day period, except as permitted by paragraph (e) of General Preference Order E-5-a.

(2) (i) Purchase orders placed by approved employees bearing a preference rating of AA-2X or higher, accompanied by a certification by the approved employee and an authorized official of his employer (which employer must be an approved user) signed either manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation No. 7, substantially as follows:

Preference Rating _____ (specify rating) EHT. The following gage or precision measuring hand tool _____ is required by the undersigned approved employee as a condition to retaining or obtaining employment with the undersigned approved user as defined in General Preference Order E-5-a. The undersigned approved employee further certifies that he does not own or possess any similar gage or tool capable of use in his employment.

Name of Approved Employee Position: _____

Name and Address of Approved User

Authorized Signature.

(ii) Effective March 26, 1943, deliveries to an approved employee of gages and precision measuring hand tools which are required by him as a condition to retaining or obtaining employment with an approved user are hereby assigned the same preference rating as is assigned to such approved user's purchase of maintenance, repair and operating supplies by CMP Regulation No. 5 or CMP Regulation No. 5A. (For example: Deliveries to an approved employee of gages and precision measuring hand tools required in his employment in a plant manufacturing ammunition are assigned a preference rating of AA-1, this being the same rating assigned to his employer (an approved user) by Schedule I of CMP Regulation No. 5.)

(iii) A preference rating assigned under paragraph (b) (2) (ii) of this order shall be applied by placing the rating at the commencement of the joint certification required from the approved employee and his employer by paragraph (b) (2) (i) of this order.

(iv) A person who receives a purchase order rated and endorsed in accordance with paragraph (b) (2) of this order may extend the rating to the extent permitted by Priorities Regulation No. 3 (using the endorsement therein specified) and accompanying such endorsement with the symbol EHT and a statement substantially in the same form as set forth in paragraph (b) (1) of this order.

(v) The symbol EHT shall constitute an "allotment symbol" for the purposes of CMP Regulation No. 3, and a purchase order bearing the symbol EHT shall have the status of a delivery order bearing a preference rating with an allotment symbol as provided in CMP Regulation No. 3.

(c) Restrictions on sales by approved users. On and after May 1, 1943, no approved user shall sell or deliver any gages or precision measuring hand tools except to persons employed or about to be employed by such approved user, or except pursuant to § 944.11 of Priorities Regulation No. 1.

(d) Effect of certification. Any certification made pursuant to this order shall constitute a representation to the seller and to the War Production Board of the truth of the facts therein set forth, upon which the seller shall be entitled to rely unless he knows or has reason to believe the same to be false.

(e) Restrictions on inventory. On and after May 1, 1943, no distributor or approved user shall buy or accept delivery of any gage or precision measuring hand tool the delivery of which will at the time effect an increase in his inventory beyond a supply required by his current practices for use or for resale during a thirty-day period: Provided, however, That the deliveries of gages or precision measuring hand tools pursuant to the following designated types of purchase orders shall be permitted to effect such an increase:

(1) Purchase orders placed by any procurement agency of the United States pursuant to the Act of March 11, 1941, entitled "An Act to Promote the Defense of the United States" (Lend-Lease Act).

(2) Purchase orders placed by the Army, Navy, Maritime Commission, or War Shipping Administration for gages or precision measuring hand tools required for bases or supply depots outside the continental United States, or for bases or supply depots within the continental United States which are maintained for emergency purposes or to supply such bases or supply depots outside the continental United States.

(f) Changes in schedules. Notwithstanding any other provision of this order, the War Production Board may direct or change any schedule of production or delivery of gages or precision measuring hand tools, allocate any order for gages or precision measuring hand tools to any other producer, divert or otherwise direct the delivery of any gage or precision measuring hand tool to any other person.

(g) Records. Each producer and distributor shall keep and preserve for not less than two years complete records of his inventories and sales of gages and precision measuring hand tools.

(h) Audit and inspection. All records required to be kept by this order shall, upon request, be submitted to audit and inspection by duly authorized representatives of the War Production Board.

(i) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of or from processing or using material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(j) Reports. All persons affected by this order shall execute and file with the War Production Board such reports and questionnaires as said Board shall, from time to time, request.

(k) General Preference Order E–5 superseded. This order supersedes as of May 1, 1943, General Preference Order E–5, issued on June 15, 1942.

(l) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(m) Communications. All reports required to be filed hereunder and all communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Tools Division, Washington, D. C., Ref.: E–5–a.

(n) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected hereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

Issued this 26th day of March 1943.

PART 1260—RUBBER PROCESSING MACHINERY AND EQUIPMENT

[General Limitation Order L–143–a]

The fulfillment of requirements of the national defense has created a shortage in the supply of certain critical materials used in the manufacture of rubber processing machinery and equipment for the national defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 1260.2 General Limitation Order L–143–a—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this order:

(1) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, governmental corporation or agency, or any organized group of persons, whether incorporated or not.

(2) "Rubber processing machinery or equipment" means new, used or reconditioned or rebuilt machinery or equipment, of the kinds listed in Groups I, II, III, IV, and V of List A, for use in the manufacture of rubber products. The term shall not include "retreading, recapping and repair equipment" which is subject to the provisions of General Limitation Order L–61.

(3) "New rubber processing machinery or equipment" means rubber processing machinery or equipment which has not been delivered to any person acquiring it for use.

(4) "Used rubber processing machinery or equipment" means rubber processing machinery or equipment which at any time has been delivered to any person acquiring it for use, but does not include reconditioned or rebuilt machinery or equipment.

(5) "Reconditioned or rebuilt rubber processing machinery or equipment" means rubber processing machinery or equipment which has been changed in any way in size or form or otherwise conditioned for resale or reuse.

(6) "Manufacturer" means any person producing, rebuilding or reconditioning rubber processing machinery or equipment, whether for his own use or for sale.

(7) "Dealer" means any person regularly engaged in the business of buying or otherwise acquiring new, used or reconditioned or rebuilt rubber processing machinery or equipment for resale.

(8) "Delivery" means any physical delivery of any item of rubber processing machinery or equipment or parts therefor to other persons, including but not limited to, any such disposition made at auction sale, sheriff's sale, tax sales, in liquidation of all or part of a business or in similar transactions; but does not mean or include transfers of rubber processing machinery or equipment or parts therefor within a plant or within a single corporate enterprise (including subsidiaries).

(b) General restrictions on production, rebuilding and reconditioning, delivery and acquisition—(1) Production. On and after April 9, 1943, no person shall, in any manner, produce or cause to be produced any new rubber processing machinery or equipment or parts therefor or accept delivery of any semi-fabricated or fabricated parts to be incorporated in new rubber processing machinery or equipment or parts therefor; except to fill orders pursuant to authorizations of the War Production Board in accordance with paragraph (d) of this order.

(2) Reconditioning and rebuilding. On and after April 9, 1943, no person shall, in any way, recondition or rebuild any rubber processing machinery or equipment either for his own use or for the use of another person, except pursuant to an authorization of the War Production Board in accordance with paragraph (d) of this order.

(3) Delivery and acquisition. No person shall deliver or accept delivery of any rubber processing machinery or equipment or parts therefor, except pursuant to an authorization of the War Production Board in accordance with paragraph (d) of this order: Provided, however, That the provisions of this subparagraph (3) shall not apply to rubber processing machinery or equipment or parts therefor physically in transit on March 26, 1943: And provided further, That the provisions of this subparagraph (3) shall not apply to rubber processing machinery or equipment or any part therefor to be scrapped for its material content.

(c) Revocation of General Limitation Order L–143. Effective April 9, 1943, General Limitation Order L–143 is hereby revoked in its entirety, but until said date, the production, rebuilding, reconditioning, delivery or acquisition of any tire machinery and equipment as defined in General Limitation Order L–143 (or parts therefor), shall be governed by the applicable provisions of General Limitation Order L–143, notwithstanding any inconsistent provision of this order.

(d) Procedure for securing authorization. (1) Any person seeking to acquire rubber processing machinery or equipment or parts therefor may make application on Form PD–552 (Revised) addressed to the War Production Board, Office of Rubber Director, and marked Ref. L–143–a, for an authorization on Form PD–552 (Revised) by the War Production Board permitting such acquisition. Preference ratings thereby assigned to deliveries of rubber processing machinery or equipment or parts therefor shall be applied in accordance with the provisions of Priorities Regulation No. 3, as amended from time to time. In addition to furnishing the certification required by said regulation, a person authorized to acquire rubber processing machinery or equipment or parts therefor, shall certify to the person from whom such machinery, equipment or parts are to be acquired, that an authorization on Form PD–552 (Revised) was originally issued to him for the acquisition of the particular rubber processing machinery or equipment or parts therefor specified in any purchase order or contract. Such certification shall be made in substantially the following form signed manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation No. 7:

> The undersigned hereby certifies that an authorization on Form PD–552 (Revised) was originally issued to him for the acquisition of the rubber processing machinery or equipment or parts therefor specified in the accompanying purchase order or contract.

(2) Manufacturers or dealers may apply for authorization to deliver orders on their books on March 26, 1943, by filing Form PD–553 (Revised) in accordance with paragraph (f) (6) (iii) of this order.

(3) Any person seeking to recondition or rebuild for his own use or to cause to be reconditioned or rebuilt by any other person any rubber processing machinery or equipment shall make application on Form PD–552 (Revised) addressed to the War Production Board, Office of Rubber Director, and marked Ref. L–143–a, for an authorization on Form PD–552 (Revised) by the War Production Board permitting the reconditioning or rebuilding to be done by or for the applicant.

(e) Repair and maintenance parts. Notwithstanding the prohibitions contained in paragraph (b) hereof, repair and maintenance parts for rubber processing machinery or equipment may be produced, delivered or acquired without an authorization as provided in paragraph (d) of this order, subject to the following limitations:

(1) No person shall produce for his own use or accept delivery of repair or maintenance parts except as follows:

(i) To repair an actual breakdown where the required repair or maintenance parts are not otherwise available;

(ii) To acquire repair or maintenance parts of any kind provided that such person does not acquire repair and maintenance parts of any kind costing more than $1,000 within any four weeks' period, for use in the repair or maintenance of any single existing item of rubber processing machinery or equipment or a single item of such machinery or equipment delivered under the terms of this order.

(2) Any manufacturer may produce repair or maintenance parts for sale in quantities not in excess of amounts required by him to maintain a minimum practicable working inventory of such maintenance and repair parts.

(f) Miscellaneous provisions—(1) Existing contracts. Fulfillment of contracts in violation of this order is prohibited regardless of whether such contracts are entered into before or after the effective date of this order. No person shall be held liable for damages or penalties for default, under any contract or order which shall result directly or indirectly from his compliance with the terms of this order.

(2) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable Regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time, except to the extent that any provision hereof may be inconsistent therewith, in which case the provisions of this order shall govern.

(3) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(4) Communications to War Production Board. All reports required to be filed hereunder, and all communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Office of Rubber Director, Washington, D. C., Ref.: L–143–a.

(5) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(6) Records and reports. (i) All manufacturers and dealers affected by this order shall keep and preserve, for not less than two years, accurate and complete records concerning production, deliveries, and orders for rubber processing machinery and equipment, including applications and authorizations on Form PD–552 (Revised).

(ii) All persons affected by this order shall execute and file with the Office of Rubber Director, War Production Board, such reports and questionnaires as said Office shall from time to time request.

(iii) On or before April 9, 1943, each manufacturer of, and dealer in, rubber processing machinery or equipment shall file on Form PD–553 (Revised) a record of his unfilled orders as of March 26, 1943.

Issued this 26th day of March 1943.

PART 3002—PLASTICS MOLDING MACHINERY

[Allocation Order L-159 as Amended March 25, 1943]

Section 3002.1 is hereby amended in its entirety to read as follows:

§ 3002.1 Allocation Order L-159—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this order:

(1) "Plastics molding machinery" means new or used machinery of the following kinds:

Plastic injection molding presses or machines
Ceramic injection molding presses or machines capable of being used for plastics
Plastic compression molding presses or machines, hydraulic, automatic, mechanical Plastic extrusion molding presses or machines
Plastic preforming presses or machines
Plastic laminating presses or machines
Plastic tube and rod molding presses or machines
Plastic tablet preforming molding presses or machines

(2) "Fixtures" means the following new or used parts or groups of parts for plastics molding machinery:

Cylinders
Feed screws Straight heads
Cross heads
Jet attachments
Temperature control units
Molds

(b) Restrictions on production and delivery. (1) No person shall deliver or accept delivery of plastics molding machinery or fixtures except as specifically authorized by the War Production Board upon application pursuant to paragraph (c) hereof.

(2) No person shall manufacture or assemble plastics molding machinery or fixtures except in fulfillment of orders previously authorized for delivery by the War Production Board upon application pursuant to paragraph (c) hereof.

(3) No person shall accept delivery of parts or attachments made to his order on his special specifications for plastics molding machinery or fixtures, except as specifically authorized by the War Production Board upon application pursuant to paragraph (c); and no person shall manufacture, assemble or deliver such special parts or attachments, except in fulfillment of orders previously authorized for delivery.

(c) Applications. Each person seeking authorization to accept delivery of plastics molding machinery or fixtures shall file application on Form PD-741 with the War Production Board, Chemicals Division, Washington, D. C., Ref.: L-159.

(d) Repair and maintenance parts. Except as specifically authorized by the War Production Board upon application on Form PD-741:

(1) No person shall accept delivery of repair and maintenance parts for plastics molding machinery or fixtures except as follows:

(i) To repair an actual breakdown, where the required repair or maintenance parts are not available in inventory, or

(ii) To acquire repair or maintenance parts for maintenance of a minimum practicable working inventory of such parts.

(2) No person shall deliver repair or maintenance parts if he knows or has reason to believe that the acceptance of such delivery would be in violation of paragraph (d) (1) above.

(3) No person shall manufacture repair and maintenance parts for plastics molding machinery or fixtures except in minimum quantities sufficient to make deliveries permitted by the terms of this paragraph (d).

(4) No person shall use parts for plastics molding machinery or fixtures except for maintenance and repair of previously existing and completed plastics molding machinery or fixtures, or except as provided in paragraph (b) (2) above.

(e) Special directions to producers. The War Production Board at its discretion, may from time to time issue special directions to producers of plastics molding machinery or fixtures with respect to the machines or fixtures which they may or must manufacture or deliver, and with respect to manufacture and delivery of repair and maintenance parts for plastics molding machinery or fixtures.

(f) Miscellaneous provisions—(1) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable War Production Board regulations, as amended from time to time.

(2) Intra-company deliveries. The prohibitions and restrictions of this order with respect to deliveries of plastics molding machinery or fixtures shall apply not only to deliveries to other persons, including affiliates and subsidiaries, but also to deliveries from one branch, division or section of a single enterprise to another branch, division or section of the same or any other enterprise under common ownership or control.

(3) Violations. Any person who willfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, willfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(4) Communications. All reports required to be filed hereunder, and all communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Chemicals Division, Washington, D. C., Ref: L-159.

PART 3118—CONSUMERS' GOODS INVENTORIES

[Consumers' Goods Inventory Limitation Order L-219 as Amended March 26, 1943]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of consumers' goods for defense, for private account, and for export; and the following order, limiting consumers' goods receipts and providing for inventory reports, is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3118.1 Consumers' Goods Inventory Limitation Order L-219—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Consumers' goods" means goods suitable in form and type for sale to individual ultimate consumers for personal or household use, including but not limited to goods on List B, attached to Order L-219. Consumers' goods do not include producers' goods such as farm implements, goods used in rendering personal services such as shoe repairing, or goods sold for consumption on the vendor's premises such as fountain and restaurant fare. Consumers' goods shall not include any food or beverage for human or animal consumption, or any fuel oil, gasoline, motor oil, grease, or allied petroleum products.

(2) "Mercantile inventory" means the stock of consumers' goods held for sale by a person engaged in marketing such goods, including goods he has purchased for resale, goods he has manufactured for sale, stock consigned to him for sale, and stocks held by him on memorandum for sale.

(i) Mercantile inventory shall not include factory inventory. "Factory inventory" is an inventory of consumers' goods which are stored by the manufacturer of such goods at, or in the immediate vicinity of the place where their manufacture was completed, and which are not being offered for sale to individual ultimate consumers, or to independent dealers who sell to individual ultimate consumers, and who in most instances carry in stock less than $200 worth of consumers' goods of all kinds, at cost value. Nothing contained in this subparagraph shall be construed as indicating that such independent dealers are controlled merchants.

(ii) Stocks on consignment or on memorandum for sale are to be included in the inventory of the person actually holding them for sale, and in such case are to be excluded from the inventory of the owner. Stocks on consignment or on memorandum to a person not holding them for sale are to be included in the inventory of the owner.

(iii) Goods in transit may be either included in or excluded from inventory: Provided, That in all computations, records, reports, and other matters pursuant to this order, they are consistently treated by the merchant in accordance with his prior accounting or income tax return practice. Goods shall cease to be considered in transit not later than one business day after they are delivered to a merchant on his premises, to his warehouse, or to a commercial warehouse for his account; except that dutiable imported consumers' goods may be considered in transit until the import duty is paid.

(iv) Goods are held for sale and are considered as part of "inventory" even though they are not currently offered for sale, but are stored in a warehouse or elsewhere, with a view to sale at some future time, e. g., seasonal goods during the off season and goods held for speculative purposes. Goods held on the "layaway" plan pending payment of the purchase price may be included in or excluded from inventory: Provided, That in all computations, records, reports and other matters pursuant to this order, they are consistently treated by the merchant in accordance with his prior accounting or income tax practice.

(3) "Merchant" means any person engaged in retailing, wholesaling, jobbing or otherwise marketing consumers' goods, either of his own or another's manufacture, who maintains a mercantile inventory.

(4) "Controlled merchant" means any merchant, not in any of the exempt categories established by paragraph (b), who:

(i) On or after November 30, 1942, had a mercantile inventory of consumers' goods having a cost value of $50,000 or more at the end of any quarter of any of his federal income tax years, and also

(ii) During the twelve months preceding the end of the same quarter of his federal income tax year had net sales of consumers' goods of $200,000 or more.

Any merchant who is or becomes a "controlled merchant" within the foregoing definition shall cease to be a "controlled merchant" if at the end of each of any four consecutive quarters thereafter either his mercantile inventory has a cost value of less than $50,000 or he has failed during the preceding twelve months to make net sales of consumers' goods of $200,000 or more.

(5) "Net sales" means the amount of a merchant's gross sales of goods in dollars, including sales of goods shipped direct from a vendor to the merchant's customer, less all returns, allowances, rebates, discounts and other proper deductions. In the case of a merchant who is also engaged in manufacturing, his net sales shall not include any sales made, as a manufacturer, out of his factory inventory.

(6) "Cost value" or "cost" of goods received, sold or in inventory means the value in dollars of such goods computed by any single method of valuation which the merchant uses consistently and which meets the requirements of generally accepted accounting practice for determining the asset value of goods, e. g., income tax practice. Goods held for sale on consignment and on memorandum are to be valued at not less than the amount which the person holding them for sale would be obligated to remit to the owner if all of them were sold. Incoming transportation costs and workroom charges shall also be included in the value of goods on consignment or on memorandum if they are included in the cost value of comparable purchased goods in the inventory of the person holding them for sale. Retail merchants who consistently employ what is known as the "retail method" of pricing inventories may reduce their inventories to cost by the method prescribed for federal income tax purposes.

(7) "Inventory year" of a merchant means the recurrent twelve calendar month period beginning either December 1, January 1, or February 1, of each year, whichever corresponds with the beginning date of a quarter of his federal income tax year. An inventory year is designated by the number of the calendar year in which most of its months fall. For example, whichever of the inventory years commencing December 1, 1942, January 1, 1943, and February 1, 1943, is selected by a merchant, is his 1943 inventory year within the meaning of this order. Each inventory year shall consist of four "quarterly periods" of three calendar months each, except for the following options: Any merchant who keeps his books of account on the basis of an annual fiscal period divided into four periods of thirteen weeks each may adopt an inventory year of four thirteen-week "quarterly periods", each divided into a four-week "month", a five-week "month" and a four-week "month", in that order. Any merchant who keeps his books of account on the basis of an annual fiscal period divided into thirteen periods of four weeks each may adopt an inventory year of four "quarterly periods", in which the first "quarterly period" shall consist of sixteen weeks, divided into a five-week "month", a six-week "month" and a five-week "month", in that order, and the second, third and fourth "quarterly periods" shall each consist of twelve weeks, divided into three four-week "months". Any merchant who keeps his accounts on the basis of either of these types of fiscal year may use a date other than December 1, January 1, or February 1 as the first day of his inventory year: Provided, That the date selected is as near as possible to that beginning date of a quarter of his federal income tax year which falls nearest one of those three dates.

(8) "Base period" means a period of three inventory years, commencing with the beginning date of the merchant's 1939 inventory year. Ordinarily, this date will be December 1, 1938, January 1, 1939, or February 1, 1939. Any consolidated merchant who looks records for goods shipped direct from a vendor to his mercantile inventories, his receipts though the principal business of that

(k) Inter-relation with Suppliers' In- percentage of tolerance with respect to

trolled merchant who lacks records for part or all of the base period so computed shall use as his special base period all the complete consecutive quarterly periods between December 1, 1938, and February 1, 1942, for which he has records. If the number of such quarterly periods is less than four, additional periods shall be taken from his 1942 inventory year sufficient to complete a single year. This treatment of inventory and sales data for such special base period shall conform as strictly as possible to the treatment of inventory and sales data for the base period prescribed in Appendix A attached to Order L–219. If a going business has changed owners since the commencement of the period which, but for such change, would have been its base period, and if the current owner possesses or can obtain the necessary data concerning his predecessor's operations, he shall compute the normal inventory of such business as if he had been its owner throughout. A controlled merchant who is unable to establish a base period, including 1942, of at least four consecutive quarterly periods, shall apply to the War Production Board for instructions, stating his monthly sales and inventories.

(9) "Normal inventory" means a mercantile inventory at the beginning of a quarterly period with a cost value no larger in relation to a merchant's projected sales during that quarterly period than he would carry at the beginning of that quarterly period when following his normal base period merchandising practices. In no event shall the normal inventory figure used by a merchant in determining his inventory limit exceed a figure correctly computed from his past inventory and sales experience by the method described and illustrated in Appendix A attached to Order L–219, and employed on Forms PD–689 and PD–690.

(10) "Allowable receipts" during a quarterly period means the cost value of the consumers' goods which a merchant will need during any quarterly period to complete his anticipated sales during that quarterly period and to begin the next succeeding quarterly period with his normal inventory, less the cost value of the mercantile inventory which he has at the beginning of the quarterly period. Except for merchants who elect under paragraph (l) to use the "retail method," the allowable receipts calculated by a merchant shall not exceed the larger of the following:

(i) A figure correctly computed from the merchant's previous experience with respect to sales and cost of goods sold by the method described and illustrated in Appendices A and C attached to Order L–219, and employed on Form PD–690, or

(ii) A figure equal to one-third of the cost of goods sold during the preceding quarterly period.

(11) "Cost of goods sold" means the cost value of goods removed from mercantile inventory by sale, spoilage, shrinkage reserve, consignment to another person or other proper deduction in accordance with generally accepted accounting practice consistently used by the merchant, plus the cost value of goods shipped direct from a vendor to the merchant's customers.

(12) "Receipts of consumers' goods" means the cost value of consumers' goods acquired by a merchant by purchase, consignment, memorandum, or otherwise, in such a way and to such an extent that they became part of the merchant's mercantile inventory, plus the cost value of consumers' goods shipped direct from a vendor to the merchant's customers. For the purposes of this order consumers' goods manufactured by a merchant are to be considered receipts by him when they first become part of his mercantile inventory. Examples are:

(i) Consumers' goods become mercantile inventory when they are transferred from factory inventory to a stock-carrying branch warehouse inventory.

(ii) Consumers' goods which are held at or in the immediate vicinity of the place where their manufacture was completed become mercantile inventory when the manufacturer first offers them for sale to individual ultimate consumers or to independent dealers as provided in paragraph (a) (2) (i) of this order.

(13) "Frozen goods" means those consumers' goods in the mercantile inventory of a controlled merchant which he is selling at a substantially less rapid rate than normal, due to governmental regulations which specifically restrict the sale of those consumers' goods, such as typewriters and automobile tires, to preferred classes of persons based upon special need.

(b) Exemption of certain types of business. The provisions of paragraph (d) and paragraph (e) of this order shall not apply to any merchant in any of the following exempt categories.

(1) Any merchant more than fifty per cent of whose aggregate net sales of all kinds of goods during his most recently completed inventory year were sales of goods listed on List A.

(2) Any merchant engaged in retailing, wholesaling, jobbing or otherwise marketing consumers' goods entirely outside the limits of the United States.

(3) Any governmental corporation or agency, including any United States Army or Marine Corps Post Exchange and any United States Navy Ship's Service Department.

(c) Calculation of inventory limit. (1) As used in paragraph (d) and paragraph (e), the "inventory limit" of a controlled merchant at the beginning of any quarterly period of his inventory year shall mean his normal inventory as of the beginning of that quarterly period plus the percentage of such normal inventory to which he is entitled as tolerance, computed by the method described and illustrated in Appendix B attached to Order L–219, and employed on Form PD–690. The percentage of tolerance with respect to mercantile inventories in the Eastern and Central Time Zones shall be 10% at the beginning of the second quarterly period of the 1943 inventory year, and 5% at the beginning of each quarterly period thereafter. The percentage of tolerance with respect to mercantile inventories in the Mountain and Pacific Time Zones shall be 15% at the beginning of the second quarterly period of the 1943 inventory year, and 10% at the beginning of each quarterly period thereafter.

(2) The War Production Board may issue specific instructions increasing or decreasing the percentage of tolerance of particular controlled merchants. A request for an increased percentage of tolerance may be made by filing Form PD–689 and Form PD–690, accompanied by a letter in triplicate stating the reasons for which such an increase is warranted.

(d) Restrictions on receipts of consumers' goods. (1) No controlled merchant whose mercantile inventory is greater than his inventory limit at the beginning of any quarterly period, other than the first quarterly period of the 1943 inventory year, shall have receipts of consumers' goods during the quarterly period in excess of his allowable receipts for such quarterly period.

(2) No controlled merchant whose mercantile inventory is greater than his inventory limit at the beginning of any quarterly period, other than the first quarterly period of the 1943 inventory year, shall receive more than one-third of his allowable receipts for such quarterly period during the first month, or more than two-thirds during the first two months, of such quarterly period.

(3) The War Production Board may issue specific instructions increasing or decreasing the allowable receipts of particular controlled merchants. A request for increased allowable receipts may be made by filing Form PD–689 and Form PD–690, accompanied by a letter in triplicate stating the reasons for which such an increase is warranted.

(e) Special reports. Any controlled merchant having a mercantile inventory which is greater than his inventory limit at the beginning of any quarterly period, except the first quarterly period of his 1943 inventory year, shall fill out in duplicate, and mail to the War Production Board one copy of each of the following reports, retaining the other copy of each in his possession.

(1) Form PD–690, on or before the twenty-fifth day of the first month of such quarterly period, together with Form PD–689. (Form PD–689 is to be submitted once only, at the time of the first filing of Form PD–690.)

(2) Form PD–713, on or before the twenty-fifth day of the second month of such quarterly period.

(3) Form PD–713, on or before the twenty-fifth day of the third month of such quarterly period.

(4) Form PD–690, on or before the twenty-fifth day of the first month of the following quarterly period.

(f) Corporate combinations and similar enterprises—(1) Consolidated inventories and reports. Except as otherwise provided in paragraphs (g) and (h), every person affected by this order shall, when computing the quantity of his sales, his mercantile inventories, his receipts, and other matters pursuant to this order, include the sales, mercantile inventories, receipts and other matters of all stores, branches, divisions and sections of his enterprise and of any other enterprise under common ownership or control with his enterprise. Moreover, the reports relating to such sales, inventories and other matters shall be consolidated and shall include the sales, inventories and other matters of all branches, divisions, or sections of all enterprises under common ownership or control without regard to corporate or other distinctions between such enterprises. Concessions and leased departments shall be treated as enterprises separate from the business of the merchant whose premises they occupy, unless under common ownership or control with such business.

(2) Intra-company and inter-company sales. In all computations and reports pursuant to this order, transactions within the enterprise of a single person or between stores, branches, divisions or sections of enterprises subject to common ownership or control, shall not be counted as sales or as receipts of goods, even though designated on the books of such enterprise or enterprises as sales or receipts, with the following exceptions:

(i) If one or more establishments, belonging to a group of establishments under common ownership or control, engage in manufacturing and their records are consolidated under this order, the consumers' goods manufactured by such establishments are to be considered receipts (as defined in paragraph (a) (12)) by that group of establishments when such goods first become part of its mercantile inventory.

(ii) If, pursuant to paragraph (g) or paragraph (h), establishments under common ownership or control are treated as separate entities for the purpose of this order, transfers of consumers' goods from one such establishment to another are to be deducted from the mercantile inventory of the transferor, and counted as receipts by the transferee, but the transferor shall not include in his net sales the amount of money, credit or property received in exchange for such goods.

(g) Separate accounting for company stores. (1) If any person, as an incident of his principal business, carries on a business enterprise consisting of one or more company stores, commissaries, industrial stores, or other similar type of business enterprise marketing consumer goods chiefly to the employees of such person and their families, then that person shall determine whether such incidental enterprise is a controlled merchant as defined in paragraph (a) (4) of this order and not exempt under paragraph (b) when separately considered.

(2) If such incidental enterprise is, in itself, a controlled merchant, then, even though the principal business of that person may consist of sales of goods on List A, such person shall keep the records, report the inventories, and restrict the receipts of goods of such incidental enterprise as a separate entity. Such person shall exclude the sales, inventories, and receipts of goods of such incidental enterprise from computations and other matters respecting his principal business.

(h) Separate accounting for ownership groups. If a controlled merchant consists of a number of establishments, each of which would be a controlled merchant if considered separately, which are substantially independent with respect to merchandising, buying, warehousing, selling, advertising, management, and accounting, and in the operation of which the controlled merchant does not practice centralized buying for, centralized storage for, or interchange of stocks among the constituent establishments, such controlled merchant may elect by written notice to the War Production Board, mailed before February 1, 1943, to keep the records report the inventories, and restrict the receipts of goods of each such constituent establishment as a separate entity.

(i) Segregation of consumers' goods from other goods. Any merchant who is engaged in marketing both consumers' goods and other goods may include such other goods with consumers goods in calculating inventories, sales, receipts of goods, and all other matters under this order if such other goods are consistently included and if their exclusion would be impracticable. The exclusion of such goods from consumers' goods may be considered impracticable only when such exclusion would require the compilation of data respecting the base period which that merchant does not already have available and which could be compiled, if at all, only by re-examining his original records of sales, purchases and inventories during the base period.

(j) Consistency in accounting. In the valuation of inventories, in the computation of net sales and costs of goods sold, and in all other matters of accounting under this order, unless otherwise specifically authorized by the War Production Board, a merchant must use those accounting methods and figures which are in accordance with his books of account or his income tax returns, which meet the requirements of generally accepted accounting practice for the particular purpose, and which he has consistently employed since the beginning of his base period. If, since that date, there has been a material change or inconsistency in his accounting practice affecting valuation of inventories, computation of his net sales, cost of goods sold, or other matters of accounting under this order, or if his customary accounting methods do not meet the requirements of accepted accounting practice, he shall apply by letter to the War Production Board for specific instructions concering the adjustments, if any, to be made, stating in such letter the nature of the change or inconsistency, or the variance from accepted practice.

(k) Inter-relation with Suppliers' Inventory Limitation Order L–63. Nothing in this order shall be construed to relieve any person of the duty of complying with § 1046.1, Suppliers' Inventory Limitation Order L–63. Any controlled merchants who market supplies, as defined in Order L–63, and who are not exempt from this order by virtue of paragraph (b) (1), shall not only comply with any restrictions of Order L–63 applicable to their operations but shall also comply with the provisions of this order without distinction between those consumers' goods which are supplies and other consumers' goods.

(l) Optional use of the "retail method." Any retail merchant who employed during his base period what is known as the "retail method" of pricing inventories may elect to value his mercantile inventory and to compute his allowable receipts at retail, rather than at retail reduced to "cost" or "cost value," on the following conditions:

(1) He shall employ a percentage of tolerance two per cent lower than he would otherwise be entitled to use under the provisions of paragraph (c) (1).

(2) He shall consistently value his goods at retail wherever the provisions of this order specify the use of "cost value" or "cost," except for the purpose of determining whether he is a controlled merchant under paragraph (a) (4).

(3) His allowable receipts at retail shall not exceed the larger of the following:

(i) A figure correctly computed from the merchant's previous experience with respect to sales and markdowns by the method described and illustrated in Appendix D attached to Order L–219, and employed on Form PD–690, or

(ii) A figure equal to one-third of the sum of his net sales and markdowns during the preceding quarterly period.

(m) Special deductions—(1) "Frozen goods." Except for the purpose of determining whether he is a controlled merchant, a controlled merchant may deduct from the cost value of his mercantile inventory on hand at the beginning of any current quarterly period an amount in dollars equal to either of the following:

(i) The cost value on that date of his mercantile inventory of any kind of "frozen goods" which he has had in his mercantile inventory more than four months, minus the cost value of the "frozen goods" of that kind sold by him during the immediately preceding quarterly period, or

(ii) The appropriate percentage, selected from the list below, of the total cost value of the "frozen goods" in his mercantile inventory at the beginning of the second quarterly period of the 1943 inventory year. Such total cost value shall be determined by a physical count taken at, or as near as possible to the beginning of the second quarterly period of his 1943 inventory year.

Time of deduction:	Percentage to be Deducted
Beginning 2nd quarterly period 1943	85
Beginning 3rd quarterly period 1943	70
Beginning 4th quarterly period 1943	55
Beginning 1st quarterly period 1944	40
Beginning 2nd quarterly period 1944	25
Beginning 3rd quarterly period 1944	10
Beginning any quarterly period thereafter	No deduction

(2) Notice of "frozen goods" deductions. Any controlled merchant who makes a deduction under either of the foregoing plans shall notify the War Production Board in writing, within twenty-five days after the beginning of the quarterly period, of the plan which he has adopted. A controlled merchant may use either of the two plans, but not both, and having once selected one of the two plans, may not change to the other plan in a subsequent quarterly period.

(3) Military and naval apparel. Except for the purpose of determining whether he is a controlled merchant, a controlled merchant licensed by the United States Army Exchange Service or by the United States Navy may exclude from his current computations, provided he does so consistently, his current receipts, sales and inventory of those articles of apparel, and only those, bearing the labels "as authorized by the United States Army", or "made and sold under the authority of the United States Navy".

(n) Transactions between controlled merchants. (1) Any controlled merchant, whose inventory at the beginning of any quarterly period was greater than his inventory limit, but whose receipts during the quarterly period have not exceeded his allowable receipts, may exchange consumers' goods with others during that quarterly period without including the consumers' goods so acquired when computing his receipts of consumers' goods during that quarterly period: Provided, That:

(i) If, during the quarterly period in which the exchange occurs, his monthly or quarterly receipts up to the date of the exchange have been less than his allowable receipts for the period, he shall include in his receipts of consumers' goods for that quarterly period the amount, expressed in dollars, of any monetary consideration and property other than consumers' goods, which he pays or contracts to pay to the other person with whom he makes the exchange to compensate such other person for the difference in dollar value between the consumers' goods exchanged, and

(ii) If, during the quarterly period in which the exchange occurs, his monthly or quarterly receipts up to the date of the exchange equal his allowable receipts for the period, he may not deliver consumers' goods less valuable than those he receives in exchange, if the difference between the values of the goods exchanged, expressed in terms of dollars, exceeds five percent (5%) of the dollar value of the goods delivered.

(2) A controlled merchant shall not include in his net sales, to be used in calculating his projected sales during succeeding quarterly periods, the amount of consumers' goods transferred, by barter or otherwise, to other persons in special transactions effected outside his ordinary method of doing business.

(3) Nothing in this paragraph shall be construed to prohibit any controlled merchant, whose inventory was not greater than his inventory limit at the beginning of any quarterly period, from making exchanges of consumers' goods.

(o) Miscellaneous reports. Merchants shall execute and file with the War Production Board such reports and answers to questionnaires as the War Production Board may from time to time request, including reports concerning the sales and inventories of subsidiaries, branches or sales units, or of separate retailing or wholesaling divisions, or of particular departments or lines of merchandise.

(p) Records. (1) Every merchant shall preserve those records concerning his operations necessary to determine whether he is a controlled merchant.

(2) Every controlled merchant shall preserve his records concerning sales and inventories during the base period until further notice. Complete and accurate records kept on Form PD–689 will satisfy this requirement.

(3) Every controlled merchant shall prepare and preserve for a period of at least two years accurate and complete records concerning his sales, inventories, cost of goods sold, and receipts of goods in such form that the extent of his compliance with this order can readily be ascertained. Complete and accurate records kept on Forms PD–689, PD–690 and such other forms as are issued from time to time will satisfy this requirement.

(q) Miscellaneous provisions—(1) Audit and inspection. All records required to be kept by this order shall, upon request, be submitted to audit and inspection by duly authorized representatives of the War Production Board.

(2) Applicability of priorities regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the priorities regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(3) Appeals. Any person subject to any requirement of this Order, who feels that compliance therewith would work an exceptional or unreasonable hardship upon him, may appeal by filing Forms PD–689 and PD–690, accompanied by a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provisions appealed from, and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(4) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control or allocation and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(5) Communications to the War Production Board. All reports, when ordered to be filed, and all communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be sent to the War Production Board, Wholesale and Retail Trade Division, 41 East 42nd Street, New York, N. Y. Ref.: L–219.

Issued this 26th day of March 1943.

APPENDIX A

COMPUTATION OF A NORMAL INVENTORY

I. Computation of the normal quarterly inventory-sales ratio, using the second quarterly period ratio as an example.

A. Add the mercantile inventories for the quarterly periods of the base period years corresponding to the quarterly period for which the normal inventory is being computed.

Example

1939 Beginning 2nd quarterly period inventory	$----
1940 Beginning 2nd quarterly period inventory	----
1941 Beginning 2nd quarterly period inventory	----
Total A	$----

B. Add the net sales for the quarterly periods of the base period years corresponding to the quarterly period for which the normal inventory is being computed.

Example

1939 sales 2nd quarterly period	$----
1940 sales 2nd quarterly period	----
1941 sales 2nd quarterly period	----
Total B	$----

C. Divide Total A by Total B, computing to three decimal places.

$\frac{\text{Total A}}{\text{Total B}}$ = normal inventory-sales ratio for all second quarterly periods.

II. Computation of projected sales, using the second quarterly period of 1943 as an example.

A. In computing the projected sales for a quarterly period, divide the net sales during the second preceding quarterly period by the net sales during the quarterly period of the previous year corresponding to the second preceding quarterly period, computing to three decimal places.

Sales 4th quarterly period 1942 / Sales 4th quarterly period 1941 = Sales ratio for 2nd quarterly period 1943.

B. Then multiply the sales ratio for the quarterly period by the net sales during the corresponding quarterly period of the preceding year.

Example

Sales ratio 2nd. qt. '43 × sales 2nd qt. '42 = Projected sales 2nd qt. '43.

III. Computation of the normal inventory, using the second quarterly period of 1943 as an example.

Multiply the projected sales during the quarterly period by the normal inventory-sales ratio for that quarterly period.

Example: Projected sales 2nd qt. '43 × normal inventory-sales ratio for all 2nd qts. = normal inventory beginning 2nd qt. '43.

APPENDIX B

COMPUTATION OF INVENTORY LIMIT

I. Computation of the inventory limit using as an example the second quarterly period of 1943 of a merchant in the Eastern Time Zone operating on the cost method.

A. Compute the tolerance by multiplying the normal inventory for the beginning of the quarterly period by the appropriate percentage of tolerance.

Example

Normal inventory beginning 2nd qt. '43 x .10 = Tolerance beginning 2nd qt. '43.

B. Add the tolerance thus secured to the normal inventory.

Example

Tolerance beginning 2nd quarterly period '43	$----
Normal Inventory beginning 2nd quarterly period '43	----
Inventory Limit	$----

APPENDIX C

COMPUTATION OF ALLOWABLE RECEIPTS AT COST VALUE ON THE BASIS OF PROJECTED SALES

I. Computation of the cost of projected sales for a quarterly period, using the second quarterly period of 1943 as an example.

A. Divide the cost of goods sold during the corresponding quarterly period of the preceding year by the net sales during the corresponding quarterly period of the preceding year.

Example

Cost of goods sold 2nd qt. '42 ÷ Net sales 2nd qt. '42 = Cost ratio for 2nd qt. '43.

B. If such data are not available, use the cost of goods sold and net sales on the most recent federal income tax return.

Example

Cost of goods sold during taxable year 1942 ÷ Net sales during taxable year 1942 = Cost ratio for any qt. of '43.

C. Multiply the projected sales for the quarterly period computed in accordance with Appendix A, by the cost ratio for the quarterly period.

Example

Cost ratio × projected sales 2nd qt. '43 = Cost of projected sales for 2nd qt. '43

II. Computation of allowable receipts for a quarterly period, using the second quarterly period of 1943 as an example.

A. Add the cost of projected sales for the quarterly period to the cost value of a normal inventory at the beginning of the next quarterly period.

Example

Cost of Projected sales 2nd qt. '43	$----
Normal inventory beginning 3rd qt. '43	----
Total A	----

B. Subtract from the sum thus secured the mercantile inventory on hand at the beginning of the current quarter.

Total A	$----
(Minus) Mercantile inventory beginning 2nd qt. '43	----
Allowable Receipts during 2nd qt. '43	$----

COMPUTATION OF ALLOWABLE RECEIPTS AT RETAIL VALUE USING PROJECTED SALES

I. Computation of allowable receipts for a quarterly period, using the second quarterly period of 1943 as an example.

A. Add the projected sales and the projected markdowns for the quarterly period to a normal inventory at retail value at the beginning of the next quarterly period.

Example

Projected Sales 2nd qt. '43	$----
Projected Markdowns at Retail 2nd qt. '43	----
Normal Inventory at Retail beginning 3rd qt. '43	----
Total A	$----

B. Subtract from the sum thus secured the mercantile inventory, at retail, on hand at the beginning of the quarterly period.

Example

Total A	$----
(Minus) Mercantile inventory at retail value beginning 2nd qt. '43	----
Allowable Receipts at retail during 2nd qt. '43	$----

PART 3133—PRINTING AND PUBLISHING

[Limitation Order L–244 as amended March 26, 1943]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage of the supply of print paper for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3133.15 Limitation Order L–244—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, governmental corporation or agency or any organized group of persons, whether incorporated or not.

(2) "Magazine" means any periodical recognized as a magazine in the magazine industry, regardless of frequency of issue.

(3) "Printing" means the act or process of printing, impressing or otherwise transferring onto print paper any ink, color, pigment, mark, character or delineation.

(4) "Publisher" shall include, but not by way of limitation, any person issuing one or more magazines.

(5) "Print paper" means any grade or quality of paper used in the printing of a magazine, or used in the printing of material physically incorporated into a magazine.

(6) "Base period" means the year 1942.

(7) [Revoked March 26, 1943]

(b) General restrictions. On and after January 1, 1943:

(1) No publisher shall use, or cause to be used for his account, print paper for the printing of his magazine or magazines, during any calendar quarter in excess of 22½% of the amount of print paper used by him or for his account, for such purpose, during the base period: Provided, That a publisher may, in any calendar quarter, use up to 15% more than his quarterly quota for such purpose, the excess to be deducted from the quota of the succeeding calendar quarter: And provided further, That a publisher may, in any calendar quarter, use additional print paper for such purpose, equivalent to the less-than-quota usage of any preceding calendar quarters.

(c) Exceptions. The restrictions of paragraph (b) hereof shall not apply to any publisher who shall use, after March 31, 1943, 25 tons or less of print paper in any calendar quarter for the printing of his magazine or magazines, provided that no such publisher shall use, in any calendar quarter, more print paper than the larger of the following amounts (which in no event shall exceed 25 tons):

(1) The amount he used in the corresponding calendar quarter of 1942, or

(2) Twenty-five per cent of the amount he used during the year 1942.

Any such publisher may (within the limitation of 25 tons or less of print paper in any calendar quarter), use in any calendar quarter additional print paper for the printing of his magazine or magazines equivalent to the less-than-quota use of any preceding calendar quarters.

(d) Miscellaneous provisions—(1) Applicability of priorities regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the priorities regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(2) Reports. All persons affected by this order shall execute and file with the War Production Board such reports and questionnaires as the War Production Board shall from time to time require.

(3) Records. All persons affected by this order shall keep and preserve for not less than two years accurate and complete records concerning their inventory, use and sales of print paper, subject to the inspection of the duly authorized representative of the War Production Board.

(4) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from, stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(5) Communications to the War Production Board. All reports required to be filed hereunder and all communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Printing & Publishing Division, Washington, D. C. Ref: L–244.

(e) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

PART 1302—ALUMINUM

[RPS 2, as amended,[1] Amendment 6]

ALUMINUM SCRAP AND SECONDARY ALUMINUM INGOT

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Revised Price Schedule No. 2, as amended, is amended in the following respects:

1. Note 5 in § 1302.14 (a) is amended to read as follows:

NOTE 5: Upon the sale of segregated solid aluminum plant scrap of any of the wrought aluminum or S-type alloys, except 2S and 3S, to the Aluminum Company of America, the Olin Corporation, or the Reynolds Metals Company, the following premiums may be charged, demanded, paid or offered:

	Premium (cent per pound)
If such scrap is baled or packaged, suitable for briquetting	½
If such scrap is briquetted, or in large pieces too heavy to briquette	1

The above premiums may also be charged, demanded, paid or offered upon the sale of segregated solid 17S, 24S or 52S plant scrap to any other person if, but only if, the sale is made pursuant to a specific authorization or directive from the War Production Board removing the sale from the restrictive provisions of Supplementary Order No. M–1 d

Except as provided herein, the maximum prices established for aluminum scrap by this Revised Price Schedule No. 2, as amended, shall not be increased by any charge or payment for special preparation.

2. Section 1302.15 (a) is amended by adding a new subparagraph (4) to read as follows:

(4) Special premiums. If 17S, 24S or 52S ingot is produced principally from 17S, 24S or 52S scrap for which the special preparation premiums provided by § 1302.14 (a), Note 5, have been paid, a charge of ½ cent per pound may be added to the maximum price for such ingot.

*Copies may be obtained from the Office of Price Administration.

PART 1306—IRON AND STEEL

[MPR 350]

PACKERS' TIN CANS

In the judgment of the Price Administrator it is necessary and proper to establish maximum prices for sales of packers' tin cans by a separate maximum price regulation. Heretofore, maximum prices for packers' tin cans have been established by the General Maximum Price Regulation.[1] The Price Administrator has ascertained and given due consideration to the prices of packers' tin cans prevailing between October 1 and October 15, 1941, and has made adjustments for such relevant factors as he has determined and deemed to be of general applicability. So far as practicable, the Price Administrator has advised and consulted with representative members of the industry which will be affected by this maximum price regulation.

In the judgment of the Price Administrator the maximum prices established by this regulation are and will be generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942. A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this regulation has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Therefore, under the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9250, and in accordance with Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1,[2] issued by the Office of Price Administration, Maximum Price Regulation No. 350 is hereby issued.

Appendix A: Maximum prices for packers' tin cans.

AUTHORITY: §§ 1306.501 to 1306.510 inclusive, issued under Pub. Laws 421 and 729, 77th Cong.; E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871.

§ 1306.501 Definitions. (a) When used in this regulation, the term:

"Electrolytic tin plate" means standard electrolytic tin plate, with approximately .50 tin coating.

"Hot dip tin plate" means standard hot dip tin plate, whether with approximately 1.50 or 1.25 tin coating.

"Packers' tin can" means any new open-top container, made of hot dip or electrolytic tin plate, or chemically treated black plate, or both, or charcoal plate, of the types known to the trade as packers' or sanitary cans.

"Person" includes an individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons, or legal successor or representative of any of the foregoing, and includes the United States or any agency thereof, or any other government, or any of its political subdivisions, or any agency of any of the foregoing.

"Producer" means any person who manufactures packers' tin cans.

(b) Unless the context otherwise requires, the definitions set forth in section 302 of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 shall apply to other terms used herein.

§ 1306.502 Maximum prices. On and after March 31, 1943, regardless of any contract, agreement, lease or other obligation, no producer shall sell or deliver packers' tin cans, and no person shall buy or accept delivery of packers' tin cans from a producer in the course of trade or business, at prices higher than the maximum prices set forth in Appendix A hereof, and no person shall agree, offer, solicit or attempt to do any of the foregoing: Provided, That this section shall not apply to sales and deliveries of packers' tin cans when sold to be packed in the Territories of Hawaii or Alaska until on and after May 15, 1943: Provided, further, That this section shall not apply to sales and deliveries of packers' tin cans when sold to be packed in a place other than the Territories of Hawaii or Alaska if prior to March 31, 1943, such packers' tin cans had been received for shipment by a carrier other than a carrier owned or controlled by the seller, and shall not apply to sales and deliveries of packers' tin cans when sold to be packed in the Territories of Hawaii or Alaska if prior to May 15, 1943, such packers' tin cans had been received for shipment by a carrier other than a carrier owned or controlled by the seller.

§ 1306.503 Adjustable pricing. Any person may offer or agree to adjust or fix prices to or at prices not in excess of the maximum prices in effect at the time of delivery and, where a petition for amendment has been filed pursuant to § 1306.510 of this regulation, may offer or agree to adjust prices upon deliveries made during the pendency of the petition in accordance with the disposition of the petition.

§ 1306.504 Taxes. As to any tax upon, or incidental to, sales or deliveries of packers' tin cans imposed by any statute of the United States or statute or ordinance of any state or subdivision thereof, if the statute or ordinance imposing such tax does not prohibit the seller from stating and collecting the tax separately from the purchase price, and the seller does so separately state it, the seller under this regulation may collect, in addition to the maximum price, the amount of the tax actually paid by him or an amount equal to the amount of tax paid by any prior vendor and separately stated and collected from the seller by the vendor from whom he purchased.

§ 1306.505 Less than maximum prices. Lower prices than those established by this regulation may be charged, demanded, paid or offered.

§ 1306.506 Geographical application. This regulation shall apply only to sales of packers' tin cans when sold to be packed in any one of the forty-eight states of the United States, the District of Columbia or the Territories of Hawaii or Alaska.

§ 1306.507 Evasion. The price limitations set forth in this regulation shall not be evaded by direct or indirect methods.

§ 1306.508 Records and reports.[1] (a) Every person making a sale of packers' tin cans after the effective date of this regulation shall render to the purchaser an invoice on which shall be separately stated: (1) The date of the sale; (2) the name and address of the seller; (3) the name and address of the purchaser; (4) the quantity and description of the cans sold; (5) the selling price per thousand cans; (6) the additional charges, if any, for packages or packing services; (7) the additional charges, if any, for extra enamelling; and (8) the charge, if any, for delivery.

(b) Each invoice shall be retained by the purchaser and a copy thereof shall be retained by the seller for inspection by the Office of Price Administration, for a period of not less than two years, or as long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 shall be in effect, whichever period is shorter.

(c) Persons affected by this regulation shall submit such reports to the Office of Price Administration as it may from time to time require.

§ 1306.509 Enforcement. Persons violating any provision of this regulation shall be subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, license suspension proceedings, and suits for

[1] All the records and reports provisions set forth in this Regulation have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

2. For sanitary or "C" enamels for sizes of cans not listed in subparagraph 1 of this paragraph: If the diameter is listed in subparagraph 1 of this paragraph, the differential for the ends shall be the differential listed for ends only opposite such diameter, and the differential for the bodies shall be an amount bearing the same proportion to the differential listed for bodies only opposite such diameter as the height of the can to be enamelled bears to the height of the listed can.[4]

3. For special enamels: The charge which the same producer charged or had in effect between October 1 and October 15, 1941, for enamel used in packing the same product.

(g) Maximum charges for delivery: The lowest freight charge for the shipment of an identical quantity of cans from the factory producing cans of the same size located nearest to the buyer's plant, whether such producer's factory is owned by another or by the seller: Provided, That in the case of shipments in less than carload lots freight need not be equalized in excess of the carload freight rates: And provided further, That this paragraph shall not apply to key-opening, lithographed, or other styles of can on which freight equalization was not customarily made between October 1 and October 15, 1941.

(h) Allowances, quantity discounts, and credit terms: There shall be deducted from the maximum prices established herein the quantity discounts and special allowances such as for delivery by runway (but not including the over-riding discount granted by some producers in 1941) which the same producer granted, or made available, to purchasers between October 1 and October 15, 1941. Credit terms shall not be more onerous than those which were customary between October 1 and October 15, 1941.

Effective Date

This regulation shall become effective March 31, 1943, except that in so far as it establishes prices for the Territories of Hawaii and Alaska, it shall become effective May 15, 1943.

Issued this 25th day of March 1943.

[4] For example, the maximum charge for ends size 211 x 300, if such size were made, would be 40¢, as 211 ends are listed. The maximum charge for the body would be ¾ of 60¢, or 45¢.

PART 1305—ADMINISTRATION

[Gen. RO 8]

GENERAL PROHIBITIONS AND PENALTIES

§ 1305.53 General prohibitions and Penalties. Under the authority vested in the Administrator by Executive Order No. 9125, Directive No. 1 of the War Production Board and Food Directive No. 3 issued by the Secretary of Agriculture, General Ration Order No. 8 (General Prohibitions and Penalties) which is annexed hereto and made a part hereof, is hereby issued.

GENERAL RATION ORDER NO. 8 GENERAL—PROHIBITIONS AND PENALTIES

ARTICLE I.—SCOPE AND DEFINITIONS

SECTION 1.1 Scope of order. This order sets forth certain uniform prohibitions and penalties which shall apply to all ration orders.

SEC. 1.2 Definitions. When used in this order:

"Acquire" has the same meaning as it has in the ration order involved.

"Person" has the same meaning as it has in the ration order involved.

"Ration document" means an authorization, stamp, stamp card, ration book, coupon, coupon sheet, ration check, certificate, clearance statement, receipt and acknowledgment; any application, record, report or other document made or kept pursuant to or required by a ration order; or any part of such ration document.

"Ration order" means any order or regulation of the Office of Price Administration issued pursuant to War Production Board Directive No. 1, as supplemented, or Food Directive No. 3 of the Secretary of Agriculture, as supplemented, or pursuant to any other delegation of authority heretofore or hereafter conferred upon the Office of Price Administration, under section 2 (a) of the Act of June 28, 1940 (54 Stat. 676) as amended by the Act of May 31, 1941 (55 Stat. 236) and by Title III of the Second War Powers Act (56 Stat. 176), 50 U.S.C.A. (App.) sec. 633. It also includes an order issued pursuant to a ration order.

"Rationed commodity" means any commodity the acquisition, transfer or use of which is regulated or prohibited by a ration order.

"Transfer" has the same meaning as it has in the ration order involved.

ARTICLE II—PROHIBITIONS

SEC. 2.1 False or misleading statements. No person shall in any ration document make an untrue statement, or omit to state any fact required to be stated therein or necessary to make any statement therein not misleading; and no person shall furnish false information to the Office of Price Administration or omit to state any fact necessary to make a statement made to that office not misleading.

SEC. 2.2 Alteration, defacement, mutilation or destruction of ration document. No person shall alter, deface, mutilate or destroy a ration document except in accordance with the provisions of a ration order or unless authorized to do so by the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 2.3 Acquisition, use, transfer or possession of altered, defaced or mutilated ration document. No person shall acquire, use, permit the use of, transfer, possess or control any ration document which has been altered, defaced or mutilated in violation of any ration order.

SEC. 2.4 Counterfeiting or forging ration document. No person shall counterfeit or forge a ration document.

SEC. 2.5 Acquisition, use, transfer or possession of counterfeited or forged ration document. No person shall acquire, use, permit the use of, transfer, possess or control any counterfeited or forged ration document.

SEC. 2.6 Acquisition, use, transfer or possession of ration document. No person shall acquire, use, permit the use of, transfer, possess or control a ration document except the person or the agent of the person to whom such ration document was issued or by whom it was acquired in accordance with a ration order or except as otherwise provided by a ration order.

SEC. 2.7 Wrongful withholding of ration document. No person shall upon demand of the person entitled to the possession of a ration document withhold it from him.

SEC. 2.8 Wrongful acquisition, possession, use or transfer of rationed commodity. No person shall acquire, possess, use, permit the use of, sell or otherwise transfer a rationed commodity except in accordance with the provisions of a ration order. No person shall possess, use, permit the use of, sell or otherwise transfer any rationed commodity acquired in violation of a ration order.

SEC. 2.9 Transfer in exchange for invalid or improperly acquired ration document. No person shall transfer or receive any rationed commodity in exchange for a ration document if he knows or has reason to believe that the ration document was not validly issued or that it was not acquired in accordance with a ration order by the person tendering it.

SEC. 2.10 Transfer at illegal price. No person shall sell or otherwise transfer, and no person shall, in the course of trade or business, buy or receive, any rationed commodity at a price in excess of the applicable maximum price established for that commodity by the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 2.11 Hindering or interfering with rationing officials. No person shall, by force, violence, intimidation or in any other way, hinder or interfere with any person administering or enforcing or assisting in administering or enforcing a ration order.

SEC. 2.12 Bribing rationing officials. (a) No person shall give or offer any money, property, or thing of value or any promise therefor, or any other bribe, to any person administering or enforcing, or assisting in administering or enforcing any ration order, with intent to influence, or because of, his official decision or action.

(b) No person administering or enforcing, or assisting in administering or enforcing, any ration order shall accept or solicit any money, property, or thing of value, or any promise therefor, or any other bribe, given or offered with intent to influence, or because of, his official decision or action.

SEC. 2.13 Persons included under sections 2.11 and 2.12. As used in sections 2.11 and 2.12 of this order, the following shall be deemed to be included, but without limitation, as persons administering or enforcing a ration order:

(a) Officers, agents and employees of banks participating in ration banking;

(b) Persons authorized by the Office of Price Administration to inspect and certify as to the condition of a rationed commodity;

(c) Officers, agents or employees of state, local or federal government agencies cooperating with or assisting the Office of Price Administration in administering or enforcing a ration order.

SEC. 2.14 Exemption of public officials. The provisions of sections 2.2, 2.3, 2.5, 2.6, 2.7 and 2.8 of this order shall not be applicable to public officials acting in the performance of their official duties.

SEC. 2.15 Offer or attempt to violate a ration order. No person shall, or shall permit or cause another person to, offer, solicit, attempt or agree to do or omit to do, either directly or indirectly, any act in violation of any ration order.

SEC. 2.16 Effect of a ration order on other orders. No ration order shall be construed to permit any act or omission which would violate any other ration order.

ARTICLE III—PENALTIES

SEC. 3.1 Criminal prosecution. Any person who wilfully performs any act prohibited, or wilfully fails to perform any act required, by any ration order, shall be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisoned for not more than one year, or both, and shall be subject to such other penalties as may be prescribed by law.

ARTICLE IV—SUSPENSION ORDERS

SEC. 4.1 Suspension orders. Any person who violates a ration order may, by administrative suspension order, be prohibited from receiving any transfer or delivery of, or from selling, using or otherwise disposing of, any rationed commodity. Proceedings for suspension orders shall be in accordance with the provisions of Procedural Regulation No. 4[1] of the Office of Price Administration.

ARTICLE V—SAVING CLAUSE

SEC. 5.1 Saving clause. The amendment, revocation or repeal of a ration order, or any part thereof, shall not have the effect to release or extinguish any penalty or liability incurred under such ration order, unless the amending, revoking or repealing order shall so expressly provide, and the ration order or part thereof which was amended, revoked or repealed shall be treated as still remaining in force for the purpose of allowing or sustaining any proper action or prosecution with respect to such penalty or liability.

Effective Date

This General Ration Order No. 8 shall become effective on April 15, 1943.

Issued this 25th day of March 1943.

PART 1390—MACHINERY AND TRANSPORTATION EQUIPMENT

[MPR 351]

FERROUS FORGINGS

In the judgment of the Price Administrator, it is necessary and proper to establish maximum prices for ferrous forgings when sold by the manufacturer performing the forging operation which differ in some respects from the maximum prices established by Maximum Price Regulation No. 136, as amended—Machines and Parts and Machinery Services.

The Price Administrator has ascertained and given due consideration to the prices of ferrous forgings prevailing between October 1 and October 15, 1941, and has made adjustments for such relevant factors as he has determined to be of general applicability. So far as practicable the Price Administrator has advised and consulted with representative members of the industry which will be affected by this regulation.

In the judgment of the Price Administrator the maximum prices established by this maximum price regulation are and will be generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended. A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this regulation has been issued simultaneously herewith, and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Therefore, under the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9250 and in accordance with Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1 issued by the Office of Price Administration, this regulation is hereby issued.

§ 1390.201 Coverage—(a) "Ferrous forgings". This regulation establishes maximum prices for "ferrous forgings" when sold by the manufacturer performing the forging operation. The term "ferrous forgings" means all products of iron and or steel commonly known as "forgings" formed by the use of power-actuated hammers, pressers, or forging machines, and includes "forgings" upon which supplementary operations, such as trimming, coining, testing, inspecting, heat-treating, welding, machining, plating, or other surface coating, have been performed. The following are not included: Products commonly known as "stampings", chains, hand tools, expendable (perishable) tools, marine hardware, "iron and steel products" as defined in Revised Price Schedule No. 6—Iron and Steel Products—or automotive parts of the type covered by Maximum Price Regulation No. 136, as amended, Machines and Parts, and Machinery Services.

(b) Die charges. When in connection with the sale of "ferrous forgings" a charge is made for dies or special tools used in producing the forgings, this charge shall be deemed to be part of the price for the forgings, and shall be subject to this regulation. When such dies and special tools are sold separately, however, they are covered by Maximum Price Regulation No. 136, as amended—machines and parts, and machinery services.

(c) Exclusions. This regulation does not apply to the following:

(1) Any sale or delivery of a forging by the manufacturer of a machine or other mechanical device, including items specially designed for military purposes, as a component or repair part or attachment for the machine or device. In such case, the regulation, if any, covering such component or repair part or attachment establishes the applicable maximum price.

(2) Any sale or delivery of a forging pursuant to a "developmental" contract or subcontract as provided in § 1390.213.

(3) Any sale or delivery of a forging pursuant to a "secret" contract or subcontract as provided in § 1390.214.

§ 1390.202 Prohibition against sales at higher than maximum prices. (a) On and after March 31, 1943, regardless of any contract, lease, or other obligation,

(1) No manufacturer shall sell or deliver any ferrous forging at a price higher than the maximum price established by this regulation;

(2) No person shall buy or receive from the manufacturer in the course of trade or business any ferrous forging at a price higher than such maximum price;

(3) No person shall agree, offer, solicit, or attempt to do any of the acts prohibited in subparagraphs (1) and (2);

(4) Notwithstanding the provisions of subparagraph (2), if upon the purchase of any ferrous forging the purchaser shall receive from the manufacturer a written affirmation that to the best of his knowledge, information and belief the price charged does not exceed the maximum price established by this regulation, and if in such case the purchaser shall have no knowledge of the maximum price and no cause to doubt the accuracy of the affirmation, the purchaser shall be deemed to have complied with this section.

(b) The provisions of paragraph (a) (2) of this section shall not be applicable to any war procurement agency or any contracting officer thereof, and any such contracting officer or any paying finance officer shall be relieved of any and every liability, civil or criminal, imposed by this regulation or by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

§ 1390.203 Less than maximum prices. Lower prices than those set forth in this regulation may be charged, demanded, paid or offered.

§ 1390.204 Maximum prices; forgings with list prices—(a) Definition. For the purposes of this section, a "list price" is a price which may be derived from a price list or price sheet issued to the trade, or a price which may be quoted, under a system of quoting prices without further cost estimates, by the manufacturer or any of his agents from information which he has available describing types of forgings and the method of calculation of prices.

(b) Maximum prices. For any ferrous forging for which the manufacturer had a list price in effect on October 1, 1941, the maximum price to any purchaser shall be such list price adjusted for all extra charges, discounts, or allowances in use by the manufacturer on October 1, 1941 for a purchaser of the same class.

§ 1390.205 Maximum prices; forgings without list prices—(a) General rule. For any ferrous forging for which the manufacturer had no list price in effect on October 1, 1941, but which he agreed to sell between January 1 and October 1, 1941, the maximum price shall be the net price at which the manufacturer last agreed to sell the forging during that period. Certain modifications of this rule are set forth in the following paragraphs.

(b) Purchasers of different classes. If the net price at which the manufacturer last sold or agreed to sell the forging between January 1 and October 1, 1941 was applicable to purchasers of a particular class only, maximum prices to purchasers of other classes shall be determined by the use of the differentals in the price between different classes of purchasers which the manufacturer had in effect on October 1, 1941.

(c) Quantity differentials. If such last price was applicable only to an order of particular quantity, the maximum price applicable to an order of a smaller quantity may be adjusted, and for a larger quantity shall be adjusted, to reflect the difference in unit cost of producing the smaller or larger quantity: Provided, That the manufacturer customarily applied equivalent quantity differentials of the same nature, that is based on differences in unit cost, on October 1, 1941. The difference in unit cost of producing the smaller or larger quantity shall be calculated on the basis of the price determining method and cost-estimating methods which the manufacturer used on October 1, 1941, in accordance with the applicable provisions of § 1390.207.

(d) Comparable forgings. For any ferrous forging for which the manufacturer had no list price in effect on October 1, 1941, and which he did not agree to sell between January 1 and October 1, 1941, but which is closely comparable to a forging the manufacturer agreed to sell during that period, the maximum price shall be the last price at which the manufacturer agreed to sell the most comparable forging during that period, plus or minus the difference in total unit cost resulting from the change in specifications: However, this pricing method may be used only if it was the practice of the manufacturer on July 22, 1942, to calculate prices of forgings on the basis of prices previously charged for comparable forgings. For the purposes of this paragraph, total unit costs shall be calculated on the basis of the price-determining method and cost estimating methods which the manufacturer used on October 1, 1941, in accordance with the applicable provisions of § 1390.207. Changes in materials used, in tolerances, and in tests required may all be regarded as specification changes.

§ 1390.206 Maximum prices; forgings without list prices and not comparable to forgings agreed to be sold between January 1 and October 1, 1941. (a) For any ferrous forging which cannot be priced under § 1390.204 or § 1390.205, the maximum price shall be calculated on the basis of the price-determining method and cost-estimating methods which the manufacturer used on October 1, 1941, determined in accordance with the applicable provisions of § 1390.207.

(b) After the manufacturer has acquired actual experience in the production of such a forging he shall, before accepting further repeat orders for such forgings, recompute the maximum price in accordance with this section and § 1390.207, making use of his production experience. The completion of one order for such a forging shall be deemed to provide actual production experience unless the manufacturer shall request and receive approval in writing from the Office of Price Administration for a further period for recomputation on the ground that his production experience on the initial order was inadequate to determine a maximum price. Recomputation as provided in this paragraph (b), shall not be required, however, for any ferrous forging delivered after the effective date of this regulation under a contract entered into prior to July 22, 1942, and priced in accordance with an informal agreement with the Price Administrator or informal request issued by him.

(c) If the recomputation required in paragraph (b) above results in a lower maximum price, this lower price shall then become the new maximum price for all subsequent orders, and no report shall be required. If the recomputation results in a higher maximum price, however, and if the manufacturer elects to charge this higher price, on any subsequent order, the manufacturer shall file a report with the Machinery Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., within ten days after quoting or entering into a contract at such price, containing the following information: (1) a description of the forging; (2) the price on the last sale prior to the price increase, the date of such sale and the name and description of the purchaser; (3) the new price and the date of quoting or entering into a contract for the new price; (4) and an explanation of the reason for the increase, including a comparison of the original cost estimate with the production experience on which the new price is based.

§ 1390.207 Pricing formula. (a) In calculating maximum prices of ferrous forgings to any purchaser in accordance with § 1390.206 and wherever cost calculations are required in § 1390.205, the manufacturer shall use the following:

(1) The price-determining method and cost-estimating methods which the manufacturer used on October 1, 1941. If the manufacturer had no price-determining method for ferrous forgings in use on that date, a method shall be filed with the Office of Price Administration in accordance with § 1390.208.

(2) To the extent that the price-determining method included or was based on them, the manufacturer shall use labor rates, materials prices, machine hour rates and overhead rates in use on October 1, 1941. In estimating clock hours of labor and quantities of materials required for any order, the manufacturer shall use all previous production experience. The amount of overtime (estimated and/or averaged, if necessary) required to be used in excess of that provided for in the overhead or machine hour rate in use on October 1, 1941 may be added to the cost of labor, but in no event shall any markup, overhead or profit be applied to that part of the labor cost which is in excess of the straight-time cost:

(3) To the extent that the price-determining method includes or is based on prices paid for subcontracted services or for dies or special tools purchased, the manufacturer shall use actual prices paid or to be paid, if the manufacturer has no reason to believe that the prices charged or estimated by his supplier exceed applicable maximum prices:

(4) To the extent that the price-determining method includes or is based on freight rates paid, the manufacturer shall use freight rates in effect on March 31, 1942, for the mode of transportation actually used and from the actual point of origin or to the actual destination:

(5) All applicable extra charges, discounts, or other allowances in use by the manufacturer on October 1, 1941, for a purchaser of the same class.

§ 1390.208 New or converted plants. If because he is operating in a new or converted plant or for any other reason a manufacturer had no price-determining method for ferrous forgings in use on October 1, 1941:

(a) Price-determining method. The manufacturer shall establish a price determining method and rates for use therein (labor rates, machine hour rates, overhead rates and profit rates, etc.) for the determination of maximum prices for ferrous forgings conforming as far as possible to the provisions of § 1390.207. The overhead rate so established shall be a reasonable rate in the light of the operations to be performed. In the case of a newly constructed plant for the manufacture of forgings, however, a manufacturer may use as a base date for all purposes the date upon which price quotations were first made or upon which production was started in the plant, whichever is earlier.

(b) Reports. The manufacturer shall file a report with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., containing (1) the proposed price-determining method and rates calculated in accordance with paragraph (a), (2) a sample, satisfactory to the Office of Price Administration, of prices for forgings determined in accordance with the proposed pricing method, (3) an explanation of the circumstances necessitating pricing under this section, and (4) any other data which the Office of Price Administration may in writing require.

(c) Maximum prices. (1) Prices determined in accordance with the proposed method reported under paragraph (b) may be quoted or charged for thirty days prior to filing such report and may be quoted or charged thereafter until the Office of Price Administration disapproves such price in writing or requires a new filing under paragraph (b). If the Office of Price Administration approves the proposed pricing method and the prices which result from its use, or fails to disapprove them within thirty days after receiving such report, the maximum prices for such ferrous forgings shall be determined in accordance with the proposed pricing method until a new pricing method is proposed and reported either upon the initiative of the manufacturer or as required by the Office of Price Administration. The prices previously filed shall not be regarded as fixed maximum prices, but may be modified pursuant to the proposed pricing method.

(2) The Office of Price Administration may disapprove the proposed pricing method and the prices resulting from its use in writing within the thirty-day period and upon such disapproval the manufacturer shall file a revised pricing method in accordance with the suggestions and directions contained in such disapproval and the provisions of this section shall apply in all respects to such revised method. In disapproving any proposed method of price determination within the thirty-day period, the Office of Price Administration may require that refunds be made as to all deliveries made at prices determined pursuant to such method. Such disapproval and requirements of refunds shall, upon request of the manufacturer, be embodied in an order.

(d) Not later than six months after last filing a price-determining method which was not disapproved by the Office of Price Administration, the manufacturer shall file a report with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., containing (1) a comparison of his actual direct and indirect costs for the period under review with the estimates on which the pricing method being used was based and (2) so far as available, for each of the representative items for which prices were previously filed, the current price being charged and a comparison of the actual direct and indirect costs with the estimate on which the price previously filed was based.

(e) Any manufacturer may at any time file and the Office of Price Administration may at any time require the filing of a new or revised pricing method in accordance with the provisions of this section, together with a sample, satisfactory to the Office of Price Administration, of prices determined in accordance with such method.

§ 1390.209 Extra charges for emergency production. Notwithstanding any other provision of this regulation, any manufacturer may add to the maximum price herein provided the amount of the extra out-of-pocket expense incurred where, at the request of the customer, more than the amount of overtime estimated to be required is worked and/or materials are purchased from a source more expensive than the current usual source. However, such extra charges must be billed separately on the invoice and a copy of the invoice must be immediately forwarded to "Ferrous Forgings, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C."

§ 1390.210 Federal and State taxes. Any tax levied by any statute of the United States or statute or ordinance of any State or subdivision thereof upon the sale or delivery of any ferrous forging may be added to the maximum price if such tax is stated separately on the invoice. That tax may not be added if that tax was in effect before October 1, 1941 and was not taken into account in calculating prices on October 1, 1941. A tax on the transportation of all ferrous forgings imposed by section 620 of the Revenue Act of 1942 shall, for purposes of determining the applicable maximum price, be treated as though it were an increase of 3% in the amount charged by every person engaged in the business of transporting property for hire. It shall not be treated as a tax for which a charge may be made in addition to the maximum price.

§ 1390.211 Export sales. The maximum price at which a person may export any ferrous forging shall be determined in accordance with the method provided in Revised Maximum Export Regulation [1] issued by the Office of Price Administration.

§ 1390.212 Erasion. (a) It shall be a violation of this regulation to effect a price increase above the applicable maximum price in connection with any sale or delivery of any ferrous forging, by changing discounts or customary price differentials among classes of purchasers; by making minor changes in ferrous forgings having published or confidential list prices; by requiring a customer to furnish material for processing not in accordance with previous practice; by entering into a joint venture with any other person subject hereto for cross-selling, cross-purchasing; by reducing the period of any guaranty or warranty of performance; by undervaluing commodities received in trade; or by any other change in terms or conditions of sale or contract.

(b) The Office of Price Administration may, upon request, grant written permission to any person subject to this regulation to change credit terms or guaranties in effect on October 1, 1941, where such change is necessitated by orders issued by the War Production Board, the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System or any other agency of the United States or becomes desirable as a matter of public policy.

§ 1390.213 Developmental contracts or subcontracts. (a) This regulation shall not apply to any sale or delivery of a ferrous forging pursuant to a contract or subcontract certified in writing to the Office of Price Administration by the United States or any agency thereof as being developmental: Provided, That a report is filed pursuant to paragraph (b). For the purposes of this section, a contract is deemed to be "developmental" during the period required for the selection of a product by the purchaser or for the accumulation of sufficient production experience by the manufacturer to permit a fair estimate of the manufacturing costs, or both. When the Office of Price Administration shall have determined after consultation with the appropriate government agency that the period necessary for development has expired, and has in writing so notified such agency and the manufacturer, this regulation shall apply to all subsequent sales and deliveries of such ferrous forging thereafter.

(b) Within ten days after entering into any such developmental contract or subcontract the manufacturer shall file a report with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., containing a description of the product or products to be manufactured, a summary of the terms of the contract or subcontract including all pricing provisions, a short statement of the production plan of which this contract is a part, and an estimate of the expected duration of such developmental work.

§ 1390.214 Secret contracts. This regulation shall not apply to any sale or delivery of a ferrous forging pursuant to a contract or subcontract which is deemed to be a "secret" contract and is so certified to the Office of Price Administration by the United States or any agency thereof. Such certification shall set forth the date of the "secret" contract and its number or other designation. After the Office of Price Administration shall have received notice from the United States or the certifying agency that such contract is no longer deemed to be "secret" this regulation shall apply to all subsequent sales and deliveries of such ferrous forging completed thereafter.

§ 1390.215 Privileges accorded to certain foreign governments. The privileges accorded to the United States or any agency thereof by § 1390.213 (developmental contracts and subcontracts) and § 1390.214 (secret contracts) shall apply to the government of any country whose defense the President deems vital to the defense of the United States, under the terms of the Act of March 11, 1941, entitled "An Act to Promote the Defense of the United States" or to any agency of any such government.

§ 1390.216 Transfer of business or stock in trade. If the business assets or stock in trade of any business are sold or otherwise transferred after October 1, 1941, and the transferee carries on the business, or continues to deal in the same type of ferrous forging, in the same competitive area and in an establishment separate from any establishment which he may previously have owned or operated, the transferee shall be subject to the same maximum prices as those to which his transferor would have been subject under this regulation, if no such transfer had taken place, and his obligation to keep records sufficient to verify such prices shall be the same. The transferor in such cases shall either preserve and make available, or turn over, to the transferee all records of transactions prior to the transfer which are necessary to enable the transferee to comply with the provisions of this regulation.

1390.217 Enforcement. (a) Persons violating any provisions of this regulation are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, and suits for treble damages or suspension of licenses provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

(b) Persons who have evidence of any violation of this regulation or any price schedule, regulation, or order issued by the Office of Price Administration or of any acts or practices which constitute such a violation are urged to communicate with the nearest district, state or regional office of the Office of Price Administration or its principal office in Washington, D. C.

§ 1390.218 Petitions for amendment—(a) Government contracts or subcontracts. Any person who has entered into or proposes to enter into a contract with the United States or with any government referred to in § 1390.215 or any agency thereof, or a subcontract under such contract, who believes that the maximum price established by this regulation impedes or threatens to impede production of a ferrous forging, which is essential to the war program and which is or will be the subject of such contract or subcontract, may file an application for adjustment of such maximum price in accordance with Procedural Regulation No. 6 [2] issued by the Office of Price Administration. Upon the filing of an application for adjustment and pending the issuance of an order granting or denying such application, contracts or subcontracts may be entered into, or offered to be entered into, and deliveries may be made, at the price requested in such application. If, however, the order issued denies the application in whole or in part, the contract price shall be revised downward to the maximum price previously in effect or to the maximum price ordered, and if any payment has been made at the requested prices, the applicant may be required to refund the excess.

(b) Amendments. Any person seeking an amendment of any provision of this regulation, may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1 issued by the Office of Price Administration.

§ 1390.219 Records and additional or substituted reports—(a) Records. Every manufacturer subject to this regulation shall keep available for inspection by representatives of the Office of Price Administration, so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 remains in effect, records of the following: (1) each sale or delivery of a ferrous forging showing the name of the purchaser, the date of the sales, and identification of the forging providing a reference to a price list or to production records and the net price; (2) price-determining methods, labor rates, material prices, and overhead rates in effect on October 1, 1941, and (3) detailed cost-estimate sheets and other data showing the calculations of prices and transactions covered by this regulation for which there was no list price in effect on October 1, 1941.

(b) Additional or substituted records. Every manufacturer subject to this regulation shall keep such other records and submit such other reports as the Office of Price Administration may from time to time require in writing, either in addition to or in substitution for records and reports herein required.[4]

§ 1390.220 Definitions. (a) When used in this regulation, the term:

(1) "Person" includes an individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons, or legal successor or representative of any of the foregoing, and includes the United States or any agency thereof, or any other government, or any of its political subdivisions, or any agency of any of the foregoing.

(2) "Manufacturer" means any person engaged in performing the completed forging operations.

(3) "Price" means any consideration in connection with a sale, exchange or other transfer of a ferrous forging and includes prices, rates and charges.

(4) "War procurement agency" includes the War Department, the Department of the Navy, the United States Maritime Commission, and the Lend-Lease Section in the procurement Division of the Treasury Department or any agency of any of the foregoing.

(b) Unless the context otherwise requires, the definitions set forth in section 302 of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, shall apply to other terms used in this regulation.

This regulation shall become effective March 31, 1943.

Issued this 25th day of March 1943.[4]

[SR 14,[1] Amendment 142]

TEAR GAS EQUIPMENT

Amendment No. 142 to Supplementary Regulation No. 14—Modifications of Maximum Prices for Certain Commodities, Services and Transactions.

A statement of considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

A new subparagraph (86) is added to § 1499.73 (a), as set forth below:

§ 1499.73 Modification of maximum prices established by § 1499.2 of General Maximum Price Regulation for certain commodities, services and transactions. (a) The maximum prices established by § 1499.2 of the General Maximum Price Regulation for the commodities, services and transactions listed below are modified as hereinafter provided:

* * * * *

(86) Tear gas equipment. The maximum price for any item of tear gas equipment, including guns, shells, candles, and grenades, is the seller's maximum price as determined under § 1499.2 of the General Maximum Price Regulation or the price specified in the seller's price list in effect on April 15, 1942, whichever is higher.

This amendment shall become effective March 31, 1943.

PART 1499—COMMODITIES AND SERVICES

[Rev. Order 227 Under § 1499.3 (b) of GMPR]

WYANDOTTE CHEMICALS CORP.

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith, It is ordered:

§ 1499.1463 Approval of maximum prices for sales of specialized cleaning compounds and comparable products manufactured by the J. B. Ford Division of the Wyandotte Chemicals Corporation. (a) The maximum price for sales by the J. B. Ford Division of the Wyandotte Chemicals Corporation, Wyandotte, Michigan, of a specialized cleaning compound or other comparable product manufactured by the J. B. Ford Division for which a maximum price cannot be established under § 1499.2 of the General Maximum Price Regulation, shall be determined as follows:

The J. B. Ford Division shall determine the cost of the product being priced by the same method and using the same unit cost figures (i. e. the same charges for materials, labor, factory overhead, depreciation, shipping and general office expenses) which the J. B. Ford Company would have used on March 31, 1942. Using the cost so determined as its "replacement cost", the J. B. Ford Division shall then determine the maximum price for the product being priced in accordance with the provisions of § 1499.3 (a) of the General Maximum Price Regulation.

(b) Reports of prices determined under this order shall be made as required by § 1499.3 (a), except that such reports shall be sent to the Office of Price Administration in Washington, D. C. Prices so reported shall be subject to adjustment at any time by the Office of Price Administration.

(c) This Revised Order No. 227 may be revoked or amended by the Price Administrator at any time.

(d) This Revised Order No. 227 shall become effective March 26, 1943.

PART 1499—COMMODITIES AND SERVICES

[Rev. Order 256 Under § 1499.3 (b) of GMPR]

CAP SALES CORPORATION

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith, Order No. 256, under § 1499.3 (b) of the General Maximum Price Regulation (§ 1499.1492) is amended to read as follows:

§ 1499.1492 Authorization of a maximum price for sales of quick frozen corned beef hash by the Cap Sales Corporation. (a) On and after February 2, 1943, the maximum selling price for quick frozen corned beef hash consisting of corned beef derived from canned corned beef, and of potatoes in a mixture containing 35% corned beef and 65% potatoes suitably seasoned, prepared by the Cap Sales Corporation, New York City, New York, shall be 28 cents per pound, on sales to wholesalers, and 35 cents per pound on sales to retailers.

(b) The Cap Sales Corporation shall furnish to all wholesalers who purchase quick frozen corned beef hash from it for resale before or at the time of the initial sale of such product, a written notice to read as follows:

The Office of Price Administration has authorized us by order to sell our quick frozen corned beef hash at the maximum price of 28 cents per pound. As a wholesaler, you are authorized to sell this product at 35 cents per pound to retailers. You are required to supply all retailers with the following notice:

The Office of Price Administration authorizes retailers to determine their maximum selling price per pound for quick frozen corned beef hash in accordance with section 3 (a) of the General Maximum Price Regulation. You are required to keep this notice for examination.

You are required to keep this notice for examination.

(c) The Cap Sales Corporation shall furnish to all retailers who purchase quick frozen corned beef hash from it before or at the time of the initial sale of such product the same written notice as wholesalers are required to furnish as set out in the preceding paragraph.

(d) On or before April 15, 1943, the Cap Sales Corporation shall furnish the Office of Price Administration in Washington, D. C. with a statement reporting in detail its costs of producing and selling quick frozen canned beef hash for each month for the period from January 30, 1943, to March 30, 1943, inclusive.

(e) Every seller selling quick frozen corned beef hash to retailers shall keep for inspection by the Office of Price Administration for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, is in effect a complete and accurate record of each sale or delivery showing the date of sale, the name and address of the buyer, the quantities sold and the prices charged therefor.

(f) The maximum selling prices set forth in paragraph (a) shall be subject to adjustment at any time by the Office of Price Administration.

(g) This Revised Order No. 256 may be revoked or amended by the Office of Price Administration at any time.

(h) This Revised Order No. 256 (§ 1499.1492) shall become effective March 25, 1943.

(Pub. Laws 421 and 729, 77th Cong.; E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871)

NOTE.—All reporting and record-keeping requirements of this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Issued this 25th day of March 1943.

PART 1399—CONSTRUCTION, OIL FIELD, MINING AND RELATED MACHINERY

[MPR 134,[1] Amendment 7]

CONSTRUCTION AND ROAD MAINTENANCE EQUIPMENT RENTAL PRICES AND OPERATING OR MAINTENANCE SERVICE CHARGES

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Section 1399.11 (b) is amended by adding thereto a new subparagraph (4) as follows:

(4) Construction equipment used in Alaska. Except as provided in § 1399.11 (b) (3), and notwithstanding any contrary provision of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 134, or of Maximum Price Regulation No. 194, the maximum monthly rental rate for any construction or road maintenance machinery used in the Territory of Alaska shall be the applicable monthly rate set forth in § 1399.15, Appendix A of Maximum Price Regulation No. 134, plus 25% of such rate.

This amendment shall become effective as of March 31, 1943.

(Pub. Laws 421 and 729, 77th Cong.; E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871)

Issued this 25th day of March 1943.

PRENTISS M. BROWN,
Administrator.

PART 1425—LUMBER DISTRIBUTION

[MPR 215,[2] as Amended March 25, 1943]

DISTRIBUTION YARD SALES OF SOFTWOOD

The first paragraph of § 1425.14 (c) (2), and §§ 1425.16 (b) (1) and (2) are amended by Amendment 4 so that Maximum Price Regulation No. 215 shall read as follows:

In the judgment of the Price Administrator it is necessary and proper to establish maximum prices for distribution yard sales of softwood lumber which differ in some respects from the maximum prices established by the General Maximum Price Regulation.[3] The Price Administrator has ascertained and given due consideration to the prices at which such sales were made between October 1–15, 1941. So far as practicable the Price Administrator has advised and consulted with representative members of the industry which will be affected by this regulation.

In the judgment of the Price Administrator the maximum prices established by this regulation are and will be generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942. A statement of the considerations[3] involved in the issuance of this regulation has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Therefore, under the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 and in accordance with Procedural Regulation No. 1,* issued by the Office of Price Administration, Maximum Price Regulation No. 215 is hereby issued.

Sec.

AUTHORITY: §§ 1425.1 to 1425.16, inclusive, issued under the authority contained in Pub. Laws 421 and 729, 77th Cong; E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871.

§ 1425.1 Definition of distribution yard sale. (a) "Distribution yard sale" for purposes of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 215 means a sale out of distribution yard stock of 5,000 feet or more of softwood lumber to the following persons: (Exception: This 5,000 feet limitation shall not apply in the case of sales to other distribution yards mentioned in subparagraph (6) below, and to sales by "CPA contract yards" defined in § 1425.12 (a) (5) below. Such sales shall be regarded as distribution yard sales regardless of quantity.)

[Paragraph (a) as amended by Amendment 3, 8 F.R. 978]

(1) To the United States or any agency thereof or to contractors and subcontractors who will use such lumber to fulfill a contract with the United States or any agency thereof;

(2) To State Governments, including the District of Columbia, or any of their political subdivisions, or any agency of any of the foregoing, but not to contractors and subcontractors who will use such lumber to fulfill a contract with the foregoing;

(3) To an industrial user for use in the fabrication, packaging, or shipping of its products;

(4) To a railroad, but not to contractors and subcontractors who will use such lumber to fulfill a contract with a railroad;

(5) To a shipbuilder, dock builder, dam builder, or a bridge builder, or to contractors and subcontractors who will use such lumber to fulfill a contract with the foregoing;

(6) To other distribution yards, wholesale or retail.

(b) The term "distribution yard sale" of any particular kind of softwood lumber shall be construed to include any sale of the type described in paragraph (a) of this section which does not "originate at a mill, rather than at a distribution yard", as that phrase, and the terms therein included, are defined in the specific maximum price regulations dealing with direct mill sales of that kind of lumber.

(c) For the purpose of paragraph (a) of this section, the size of the sale shall be determined by the size of the order, and the size of the order shall be determined by the over-all quantity involved in a single transaction. In determining the size of a sale subject to this Maximum Price Regulation No. 215, shingles shall be converted in the ratio of 10,000 shingles to 1,000 feet of lumber, and lath shall be converted in the ratio of 6,000 laths to 1,000 feet of lumber.

§ 1425.2 Maximum prices for distribution yard sales of softwood lumber. (a) On and after September 10, 1942, regardless of any contract or other obligation, no person shall make a distribution yard sale of softwood lumber for domestic or export use, and no person shall buy or receive in the course of trade or business softwood lumber out of a distribution yard at prices higher than the maximum prices set forth in Appendix A, § 1425.14, where the sale satisfies all of the tests of a distribution yard sale.

(b) No person shall offer, agree, solicit, or attempt to do any of the foregoing.

(c) The provisions of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 215 shall not be applicable to distribution yard sales or deliveries of softwood lumber to a purchaser if prior to September 10, 1942, such lumber had been received by a carrier other than a carrier owned or controlled by the seller for shipment to such purchaser.

[NOTE: Supplementary Order No. 31 (7 F.R. 9894) provides that: "Notwithstanding the provisions of any price regulation, the tax on transportation of all property (excepting coal) imposed by section 620 of the Revenue Act of 1942 shall, for the purposes of determining the applicable maximum price of any commodity or service, be treated as though it were an increase of 3% in the amount charged by every person engaged in the business of transporting property for hire. It shall not be treated, under any provision of any price regulation or any interpretation thereof, as a tax for which a charge may be made in addition to the maximum price."]

§ 1425.3 Less than maximum prices. Lower prices than those set forth in Appendix A, § 1425.14, may be charged, demanded, paid, or offered.

§ 1425.4 Applicability of General Maximum Price Regulation. The provisions of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 215 supersede the provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation with respect to sales and deliveries for which maximum prices are established by this regulation, except as provided in § 1425.14 (d).

§ 1425.5 Conditional agreements. No seller subject to this Maximum Price Regulation No. 215 shall enter into an agreement permitting the adjustment of the price of a distribution yard sale to prices which may be higher than the maximum prices in effect upon the date of the agreement: Provided, That if a petition for amendment has been duly filed and such petition requires extensive consideration, the Administrator may grant an exception from the provisions of this section permitting the making of contracts adjustable upon the granting of the petition for amendment. Requests for such an exception may be included in the aforesaid petition for amendment.

§ 1425.6 Evasion. (a) The price limitations set forth in this Maximum Price Regulation No. 215 shall not be evaded, whether by direct or indirect methods, in connection with an offer, solicitation, agreement, sale, delivery, purchase, or receipt of or relating to a distribution yard sale, alone or in conjunction with any other commodity or by way of commission, service, transportation, or other charge, or discount, premium or other privilege, or by tying-agreement or other trade understanding or otherwise.

(b) Specifically, but not exclusively, the following practices are prohibited:

(1) Making charges for delivery which exceed the actual cost to the seller of such delivery except as otherwise provided in Appendix A, § 1425.14;

(2) Falsely or wrongly grading or invoicing lumber;

(3) Grading as a special grade lumber which can be graded as a standard grade;

(4) Selling as specified lengths a shipment of lumber which is substantially equivalent to standard or random lengths;

(5) Breaking up an order which would normally be a single order into a series of smaller orders or combining a number of single orders into one large order in order to evade the maximum price limitations set forth in this Maximum Price Regulation No. 215.

(6) Refusing to sell except on a delivered basis;

(7) Quoting delivered prices on the basis of estimated weights higher than those permitted by Appendix A, § 1425.14.

(c) It is unlawful for any person to charge, receive or pay a commission for the service of procuring, buying, selling or locating lumber, or for any related service (such as "expediting") which does not involve actual physical handling of lumber, if the commission plus the purchase price results in a total payment by the buyer of lumber which is higher than the maximum price of the lumber. For purposes of this regulation, a commission is any service charge or payment which is figured either directly or indirectly on the basis of the quantity, price or value of the lumber in connection with which the service is performed.

[Paragraph (c) added by Supplementary Order 37, 8 F.R. 2192]

§ 1425.8 Records and reports. (a) On and after September 10, 1942, every person who, during any calendar month, offers or agrees to sell, sells, or delivers, or offers or agrees to buy, buys or receives a total of 34,000 pounds or more of softwood lumber out of a distribution yard subject to this Maximum Price Regulation No. 215, in the course of trade or business, shall keep for inspection by the Office of Price Administration for a period of not less than 2 years a complete and accurate record of every such offer, agreement, purchase, sale, or delivery, showing the date thereof, the name and address of the buyer and the seller, the price paid and received, and the quantity, size, grade, specifications, and condition of seasoning of such lumber in each such sale or purchase.

(b) Every person making sales subject to this Maximum Price Regulation No. 215, who buys or receives a total of 100,000 feet or more of softwood lumber during the 60 day period following the effective date of this regulation shall, on or before December 1, 1942, file with the Lumber Branch of the Office of Price Administration a statement under oath of the following facts for all receipts of each species of softwood lumber purchased:

(1) Date of purchase;

(2) Kind purchased (grade, size, whether rough or dressed and how dressed, whether green or dry and how dried);

(3) Quantity of each purchase;

(4) From whom purchased;

(5) Shipping point;

(6) Destination;

(7) Transportation charges paid (give applicable weight and rate and state whether such charges were prepaid or collect);

(8) Prices paid (whether f. o. b. mill or delivered); and

(9) Discounts received (cash and trade discounts and amounts thereof).

(c) Such persons shall keep such other records in addition to or in place of the records required in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section and shall submit such reports to the Office of Price Administration as that Office may from time to time require or permit.

[Paragraph (b) as amended by Amendment 2, 7 F.R. 8942]

[NOTE: Supplementary Order No. 23 (7 F.R. 8478) provides that on and after October 24, 1942, no report filed with the Office of Price Administration pursuant to any price regulation issued prior to that date need be notarized.]

§ 1425.9 Enforcement. (a) Persons violating any provision of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 215 are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, suits for treble damages, and procedure for revocation of license provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942.

(b) Persons who have evidence of any violation of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 215 or any price schedule, regulation, or order issued by the Office of Price Administration or of any acts or practices which constitute such a violation are urged to communicate with the nearest Field, State, or Regional office of the Office of Price Administration or its principal office in Washington, D. C.

(c) No War Procurement Agency, or any contracting or paying finance officer thereof, shall be subject to any liability, civil or criminal, imposed by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 215 or the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942.

§ 1425.9a Licensing. The provisions of Supplementary Order No. 18[1] (§ 1305.22) licensing all persons, except mills, manufacturers or producers, selling lumber, lumber products or building materials, are applicable to every person selling softwood lumber for which maximum prices are established by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 215.

§ 1425.10 Petitions for amendment or adjustment—(a) Government contracts or subcontracts. Any person who has entered into or proposes to enter into a contract with the United States or any agency thereof, or with the Government of any country whose defense the President deems vital to the defense of the United States under the terms of the Act of March 11, 1941, entitled "An Act to promote the defense of the United States", or any agency of any such Government, or a subcontract under any such contract, who believes that the maximum price impedes or threatens to impede production of softwood lumber which is essential to the war program and which is or will be the subject of such contract or subcontract, may file an application for adjustment of the maximum price established by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 215 in accordance with Procedural Regulation No. 6,[2] issued by the Office of Price Administration.

(b) Any person seeking an amendment of any provision of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 215 may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1 issued by the Office of Price Administration.

[NOTE: Supplementary Order No. 28 (7 F.R. 9619) provides for the filing of applications for adjustment or petitions for amendment based on a pending wage or salary increase requiring the approval of the National War Labor Board.]

§ 1425.11 Export sales. The maximum price at which a person may export softwood lumber sold out of a distribution yard subject to this Maximum Price Regulation No. 215, shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation,[3] issued by the Office of Price Administration.

§ 1425.12 Definitions. (a) This Maximum Price Regulation No. 215 and the terms appearing therein, unless the context otherwise requires, shall be construed as follows:

(1) "Person" includes an individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons or legal successor or representative of any of the foregoing, and includes the United States or any other Government, or any of its political subdivisions, or any agency of any of the foregoing.

(2) "Softwood lumber" means any lumber or shingles subject to Maximum Price Regulations 19, 26, 94, 164, 219, 222, 253, and 290, or any revisions of these regulations that may be issued.

[Paragraph (2) as amended by Amendment 3, 8 F.R. 978]

(3) "Applicable basing points" means the points of origin to be used, based on rates set forth in the tariffs of railroad carriers, in determining incoming transportation charges.

(4) "War procurement agency" includes the War Department, the Department of the Navy, the United States Maritime Commission, and the Lend-Lease Section in the Procurement Division of the Treasury Department, or any agency of the foregoing.

(5) "CPA contract yards" are distribution yards operating under "letter of intent" or other form of agreement with the Corps of Engineers, War Department, or any agency thereof (such as the so-called Central Procuring Agency) whereby the yard maintains a stockpile of lumber at the instruction of such Corps or agency for distribution and sale pursuant to its direction or consent.

Prices and rules for sales by these yards differ in some respects from those for sales by other yards. They are fully set out in § 1425.16, Appendix C, on "Special prices and rules for sales by 'CPA contract yards' ".

[Paragraph (5) added by Amendment 3, 8 F.R. 978]

(b) Unless the context otherwise requires the definitions set forth in section 302 of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 shall apply to other terms used herein.

§ 1425.13 Effective date. Maximum Price Regulation No. 215 (§§ 1425.1 to 1425.14, inclusive) shall become effective September 10, 1942.

[Issued September 5, 1942]

§ 1425.14 Appendix A: Maximum prices for distribution yard sales of softwood lumber. (a) The maximum price at which a distribution yard sale subject to this Maximum Price Regulation No. 215 of each species, grade, and size of softwood lumber may be made shall be a price not higher than the sum of the following where the shipment originates at such yard:

(1) F. o. b. mill maximum price of such lumber as established by any applicable price regulation of the Office of Price Administration except the General Maximum Price Regulation.

(2) Inbound transportation charges to the distribution yard to be calculated on the basis set forth in paragraph (i) of this § 1425.14.

(3) (i) $5.00 per thousand feet for lumber.

(ii) $0.30 per square for shingles.

(iii) $0.60 per thousand pieces for lath.

(4) 10 percent of the total of the applicable items set forth in (1), (2), and (3) above, except that in the case of sales to other distribution yards not more than 5 percent can be used, and in the case of sales by "CPA contract yards" the mark-ups provided in § 1425.16, Appendix C, shall apply.

The maximum prices set forth above shall include loading by and at the expense of the seller on railroad car, truck, or other means of transportation, but do not include transportation to the buyer.

[Paragraph (4) as amended by Amendment 3, 8 F.R. 978]

(b) If a distribution yard sale subject to this Maximum Price Regulation No. 215 is made on a delivered basis at the request of the buyer, a delivered price in excess of the maximum price at the distribution yard as set forth in paragraph (a) hereof may be charged consisting of such maximum prices plus actual transportation costs to the extent that such costs are paid by the seller, if a carrier other than the seller's own transportation facilities are used, or actual cost of delivery if the seller's own transportation facilities are used: Provided, That all transportation charges to the purchaser for such delivery are separately set forth on the invoice, bill of sale, or other billing. In computing such actual transportation costs, the parties may adopt the practice of charging a sum equivalent to the one-quarter of a dollar per thousand feet nearest such actual transportation costs. In addition, the parties may adopt estimated average weights where provided for by any applicable price regulation.

(c) An addition to the maximum prices established by paragraphs (a) and (b) of this § 1425.14 may be charged for workings as follows, when the working is performed by the distribution yard itself:

	4/4, 5/4, 6/4	2"	3" and 4"	5 x 5 to 8 x 8	6 x 10 and larger
S1S, S2S, S3S, S4S...	$3.00	$2.50	$2.50	$3.00	$4.00

Drop Siding & Ceiling.....	3.50	3.00	.....	.....	.....
Outsawed & Special patterns.....	7.50	7.50	7.50	7.50	7.50
Cross-cutting.....	1.00	1.00	1.00	2.00	2.00
Ripping	1.50	1.50	1.50	.....	.....
Resawing.....	2.00	2.00	2.00	2.00	3.00

The above additions are for 1,000 feet BM. The cross-cutting, ripping and resawing charges are per cut per 1,000 feet BM.

The ripping and resawing charges may be added and the price of the original size ripped or resawn may be used in figuring the f. o. b. mill maximum price only where:

(1) A standard size is remanufactured into a non-standard size, or

(2) The final size to which the original size is reduced by ripping or resawing is larger than the size of boards (this covers all items under 2" in nominal thickness) or dimension (this covers all items 2" in nominal thickness in (i) the width of 12" or less and (ii) 24' or less in length).

The total charge for ripping and resawing may not include an addition for more than a total of three rips or resaws or any combination of the two per piece.

For working quantities less than 2,000 feet BM the charges for working 2,000 feet BM may be used.

[Paragraph (c) as amended by Amendment 2, 8 F.R. 978, and Amendment 4]

(d) Additions for workings, specifications, services, or other extras not expressly provided for herein shall be subject to the General Maximum Price Regulation.

(e) The maximum prices herein established shall not be increased by any charges for the extension of credit, and shall be decreased for prompt payment to the same extent that the sale price would have been decreased by the seller on August 1, 1941. The cash and credit periods recognized by the seller on August 1, 1941, shall not be reduced.

(f) No person shall pay, and no person shall charge or receive a commission for purchasing softwood lumber out of a distribution yard, if such a purchase and sale is subject to this Maximum Price Regulation No. 215, if the amount of the commission plus the purchase price is higher than the maximum price permitted by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 215.

(g) The maximum price for sales on combination grades shall be the maximum price established in this § 1425.14 for the lowest grade named in the combination.

(h) A gross price above the maximum price established in this § 1425.14 shall not be quoted, even if accompanied by a discount, the effect of which is to bring the net price below such maximum price.

(i) In adding inbound transportation charges as provided in paragraph (a) (2) of this § 1425.14, each seller shall calculate incoming transportation charges from the basing point shown below to points of delivery in each state on the basis of carload rates applicable to each species of softwood lumber. For example, if a distribution yard located in Chicago, Illinois, buys short leaf yellow pine from a mill in Goldsboro, N. C., it applies the rate from the basing point to be used for the State of Illinois, in this instance, Hattiesburg, Miss., to the point of delivery, in this instance, Chicago. As indicated, this applies regardless of the actual point of origin of the shipment.

(1) Douglas fir and other West Coast lumber—MPR 26:

Portland, Oregon (except that in the State of Washington, use Seattle, Washington).

(2) Idaho white pine—MPR 94:

Spokane, Washington.

(3) Ponderosa pine, sugar pine, and secondary species—MPR 94:

Klamath Falls, Oregon (except: in Texas, use Susanville, California; in Washington, for Ponderosa pine only, use Spokane, Washington).

(4) Red cedar shingles—MPR 164:

Seattle, Washington.

(5) Northeastern softwoods—MPR 219:

Rochester, New Hampshire.

(6) Northern softwoods—MPR 222:

Wausau, Wisconsin (except: for imported Western white spruce lumber, use Baudette, Minnesota, for lumber shipped from mills in Saskatchewan and Manitoba, and Spokane, Washington, for lumber shipped from mills in British Columbia and Alberta).

(7) Redwood—MPR 253:

Western Area: Eureka, California.

Eastern Area: Direct-mill maximum prices are not f. o. b. mill but are delivered on a 57¢ rate. Therefore, for inbound transportation add only the excess of the actual rate from Eureka, California to the seller's yard over the 57¢ rate. If the rate is less than 57¢, deduct the resulting difference in transportation charges from the Eastern area prices in MPR 253.

(8) Shortleaf southern pine—MPR 19:

Montgomery, Ala.: Alabama.

Alexandria, La.: Arizona, Arkansas, California, Colorado, Idaho, Iowa, Kansas, Louisiana, Minnesota, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, New Mexico, North Dakota, Oklahoma, Oregon, South Dakota, Texas, Utah, Washington, Wyoming.

Macon, Ga.: Connecticut, Georgia, Maine, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Tennessee, Vermont.

Goldsboro, N. C.: Delaware, District of Columbia, Maryland, North Carolina, Virginia, West Virginia.

Orlando, Fla.: Florida.

Hattiesburg, Miss.: Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Michigan, Mississippi, Wisconsin.

Sumter, S. C.: South Carolina.

(9) Longleaf Southern pine—MPR 19:

Alexandria, La.: Alabama, Arizona, Arkansas, California, Colorado, Idaho, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, New Mexico, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, Oregon, South Dakota, Tennessee, Texas, Utah, Washington, Wisconsin, Wyoming.

Fort Myers, Fla.: Connecticut, Delaware, District of Columbia, Florida, Georgia, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, North Carolina, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Carolina, Vermont, Virginia, West Virginia.

(10) Sitka spruce—MPR 290:

Portland, Oregon (except that in the State of Washington, use Seattle, Washington)

If the distribution yard is located at the basing point, or within a radius of 10 miles from it, a rate of 10¢ per CWT may be used to figure inbound transportation charges.

[Paragraph (i) as amended by Amendment 3, 8 F.R. 978]

(j) In the use of inbound transportation charges as provided in paragraph (i) of this § 1425.14, the parties may adopt the practice of charging a sum equivalent to the one-quarter of a dollar per thousand feet nearest such transportation charges.

In addition, the parties may adopt estimated average weights where provided for by any applicable price regulation.

§ 1425.15 Appendix B: Optional coverage for other sales. In the case of sales of softwood lumber in grades of No. 1 Common and lower, and also in the case of sales of shingles, where the sale is under 5,000 feet BM or to a buyer not in one of the classes listed in § 1425.1 (a), the seller may, at his option, elect to use as his maximum prices for all such sales a price determined under § 1425.14 (Appendix A) of this regulation, rather than under the General Maximum Price Regulation. Before sales may be made under this optional provision the seller must first notify the Lumber Branch of the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., of his intention to make use of the option provided in this section, either with respect to sales of softwood lumber in grades of No. 1 Common and lower, or with respect to sales of shingles, or both. The notice may be sent by mail or telegraph and may be worded as follows:

LUMBER BRANCH
Office of Price Administration
Washington, D. C.

GENTLEMEN:

The undersigned elects to price distribution yard sales of softwood lumber in grades of No. 1 Common and lower, (or shingles, or both, as the case may be), under the provisions of Maximum Price Regulation 215 rather than under the General Maximum Price Regulation, in all cases where the undersigned's maximum prices established under the General Maximum Price Regulation would otherwise apply to such sales.

(Signature)

Once an election has been made by filing the notice provided above, the seller must price all sales of softwood lumber in grades of No. 1 Common and lower, or shingles, or both, as the case may be, at ceiling prices computed under this regulation, and may not use his former ceiling prices established under the General Maximum Price Regulation for any such sales.

§ 1425.16 Appendix C: Special prices and rules for sales by "CPA contract yards"—(a) General. The special prices listed below apply to all sales of lumber covered by this regulation made by "CPA contract yards".

(b) Special price. (1) On Southern pine and Douglas fir boards (this covers all items under 2" in nominal thickness) and dimension this covers all items 2" in nominal thickness in (i) the width of 12" or less and (ii) 24' or less in length) in the grades of No. 1 Common and lower, the percentage mark-up (item 4 in § 1425.14, Appendix A (a) (4)), shall be five percent. This rule applies whether or not the boards or dimension are produced by ripping or resawing and applies to boards and dimension with special specifications in the Common grades, such as dense or medium grain or stress grades.

(2) On all other items, the percentage mark-up shall be ten percent, except that on sales to other distribution yards, the percentage mark-up shall be limited to five percent.

(c) Special rule on ripping and resawing charges in emergencies. (1) If an emergency arises whereby the Corps of Engineers (or any agency hereof such as the Central Procuring Agency), is unable to obtain needed board and dimensions for a particular job except through ripping and resawing of timber by a "CPA contract yard" such yard will be permitted to compute its maximum prices in accordance with the following special rules:

(i) The f. o. b. mill maximum price may be determined on the basis of the original size ripped or resawn.

(ii) The percentage mark-up provided in § 1425.16 (b) above may be based upon the original size ripped or resawn, i. e. 5 percent on board or dimension in grades of No. 1 Common and lower on Southern pine or Douglas fir, and 10 percent on timber and all other lumber. For example, if 2 x 12 is resawn to 1 x 12, the percentage mark-up may not exceed 5 percent. If 4 x 12 is resawn to 2 x 12, the percentage mark-up may not exceed 10 percent.

(iii) The additions for ripping and resawing provided in the table in § 1425.14 (c) may be added even though the final size is a standard size of board or dimension. These, however, shall be limited to a total charge for not more than three cuts, either rippings or resawings or any combination of the two. Note: This addition is made after the percentage mark-up has been added.

(2) A proper showing shall be made by the yard in such case which shall consist of certified proofs establishing that the board and dimension sold was actually derived by remanufacturing heavier lumber at the yard, a listing of the original sizes from which the board and dimension has been derived, and copies of invoices covering the transaction. These proofs must be submitted to the Lumber Branch of the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., within 30 days after the transaction has been completed.

(d) Special rule on lumber in transit. A sale by a "CPA contract yard" may be considered a sale out of distribution yard stock even if the sale was made while the lumber was in transit to the yard. Of course, if the lumber is not actually put through the yard, as, for example, where lumber sold in transit is merely rerouted to the purchaser, or reloaded and delivered, the direct-mill regulation applies.

PART 1429—POULTRY AND EGGS

[Rev. MPR 269,* Amendment 7]

POULTRY

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Section 1429.20 (c) is added to read as follows:

(c) Third, the following exception is provided to paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section: When any person sells any turkey item to a purchaser who cans boned turkey meat for sale to the United States Government or any agency thereof, he may sell at his maximum base price f. o. b. his shipping point without subtracting his "freight rate" from the place where shipment begins to the place where shipment ends: Provided, That:

(1) The turkey items sold must be destined exclusively for processing into canned boned turkey meat, all of which must be sold and delivered to the United States Government or any agency thereof, and

(2) At the time of purchase, the purchaser of such turkey items must file with the seller and with the seller's regional or State OPA office an affidavit certifying that such purchaser has completely exhausted his own stocks of roaster, fowl, and turkey items suitable for processing into canned boned poultry meat.

This amendment shall become effective March 31, 1943.

PART 1441—CHEMICAL TRAINING MATERIALS

[MPR 352]

CHESTNUT EXTRACT

In the judgment of the Price Administrator, it is necessary and proper to establish maximum prices for sales of chestnut extract by a specific maximum price regulation.

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this regulation has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.* In the judgment of the Price Administrator, the maximum prices established by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 352 are and will be generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended. So far as practicable, the Price Administrator has advised and consulted with members of the industry which will be affected by this regulation.

AUTHORITY: § 1441.1 issued under Pub. Laws 421 and 729, 77th Cong.; E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871.

SECTION 1 Prohibition against sales of chestnut extract above maximum prices. (a) On and after April 1, 1943, regardless of any contract or other obligation:

(1) No person shall sell or deliver chestnut extract at higher prices than the maximum prices set forth in this regulation.

(2) No person shall buy or receive chestnut extract in the course of trade or business at higher prices than the maximum prices set forth in this regulation.

(3) No person shall agree, offer, solicit, or attempt to do any of the foregoing.

(b) Nothing in this regulation or in the General Maximum Price Regulation[1] shall apply to sales or deliveries of chestnut extract by The Rosman Tanning Extract Company of Rosman, North Caroline, to the Toxaway Tanning Company and the Transylvania Tanning Company, both of 26 Ferry Street, New York, N. Y.

SEC. 2 Maximum prices for chestnut extract—(a) Liquid chestnut extract. (1) The following maximum prices are established for sales of liquid chestnut extract containing 25 per cent of tannin content:

(i) Sales by manufacturers, f. o. b. plant.

	Standard	Special
	Per 100 pounds	Per 100 pounds
Sales in tank cars or tank trucks	$2.25	$2.90
Sales in barrels in carloads	2.85	3.10
Sales in barrels in less than carloads	3.10	3.35

(ii) Exceptions for certain manufacturers. Notwithstanding the provisions of subdivision (i) above, the following maximum prices, f. o. b. plant, are established for sales by Charles A. Schieren Company, New York, New York:

	Standard
Sales in tank cars or tank trucks	$2.50 per 100 lbs.
Sales in barrels in carloads	3.10 per 100 lbs.
Sales in barrels in less than carloads	3.35 per 100 lbs.

(iii) Sales by jobbers, f. o. b. jobber's warehouse.

Standard	$4.10 per 100 lbs.
Special	4.35 per 100 lbs.

(2) The following maximum prices are established for sales of liquid chestnut extract containing more or less than 25 per cent tannin content:

For every 1 per cent of tannin content less than 25 per cent, there shall be deducted from the applicable basic price set forth in (1) above not less than 1/25 of such price. For every 1 per cent of tannin content more than 25 per cent, there may be added not more than 1/25 of such price.

(3) The maximum prices set forth in subparagraphs (1) and (2) above include barrels when sales are made in barrels and no additional charges may be made for such barrels.

(b) Powdered chestnut extract. (1) The following maximum prices are established for sales of powdered chestnut extract containing 65 per cent of tannin content:

(i) Sales by manufacturers, f. o. b. plant.

	Standard	Special
	Per 100 pounds	Per 100 pounds
Sales in bags in carloads	$6.50	$7.50
Sales in bags in less than carloads	7.25	8.00

(ii) Sales by jobbers, f. o. b. jobber's warehouse.

Standard	$8.00 per 100 lbs.
Special	8.75 per 100 lbs.

(2) The following maximum prices are established for sales of powdered chestnut extract containing more or less than 65 per cent tannin content:

For every 1 per cent of tannin content less than 65 per cent, there shall be deducted from the applicable basic price set forth in (1) above not less than 1/65 of such price. For every 1 per cent of tannin content more than 65 per cent, there may be added not more than 1/65 of such price.

(3) The maximum prices set forth in subparagraphs (1) and (2) above do not include bags and the seller may make an additional charge for bags. Such additional charge shall not exceed the maximum price for the bag actually used as established by the applicable maximum price regulation of the Office of Price Administration, or the actual delivered cost of the bag to the seller of the chestnut extract, whichever is lower. Where an extra charge is made for a bag, such charge shall be separately stated from the charge for the chestnut extract. Where the seller retains title to bags and requires their return, he may charge a reasonable deposit to insure the return of such bags. The deposit must be refunded to the buyer upon his return of the bags in good condition within a reasonable time. Transportation costs with respect to the return of such bags shall be borne by the seller.

(c) Credit charges. The maximum prices established by this regulation shall not be increased by any charges for the extension of credit.

SEC. 3 Less than maximum prices. Lower prices than those established by this regulation may be charged, demanded, paid or offered.

SEC. 4 Export sales. The maximum prices at which a person may export chestnut extract shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation[2] issued by the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 5 Adjustable pricing. It is permissible under this regulation to provide in a contract that the price shall be adjustable to a price not higher than the maximum price in effect at the time of delivery. In appropriate situations where a petition for amendment or for adjustment or exception requires extended consideration, the Price Administrator may, upon application, grant permission to agree to adjust prices upon deliveries made during the pendency of the petition in accordance with the disposition of the petition.

SEC. 6 Licensing. The provisions of Supplementary Order No. 11 (§ 1305.15) licensing distributors of chemicals and drugs, shall be applicable to every distributor of chestnut extract for which maximum prices are established by this regulation. The term "distributor" shall have the meaning given it by such Supplementary Order No. 11.

SEC. 7 Petitions for amendment. Any person seeking an amendment of any provision of this regulation may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1.[3]

SEC. 8 Evasion. The price limitations set forth in this regulation shall not be evaded whether by direct or indirect methods, in connection with an offer, solicitation, agreement, sale or delivery of, or relating to the sale of chestnut extract alone or in connection with any other commodity, or by way of commission, service, transportation, or other charge, or discount, premium or other privilege, or by tying-agreement or other trade understanding or otherwise.

SEC. 9 Enforcement. Persons violating any provision of this regulation are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, suits for treble damages and proceedings for suspension of licenses provided by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

SEC. 10 Records and reports. (a) Every person making a sale of chestnut extract after March 31, 1943, for which maximum prices are established by this regulation shall keep for inspection by the Office of Price Administration for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 remains in effect complete and accurate records of each such sale showing: The date thereof, the name and address of the buyer, a description of the chestnut extract sold, the quantity sold and the price charged.

(b) Persons affected by this regulation shall submit such reports to the Office of Price Administration as it may from time to time require.

SEC. 11 Applicability of the General Maximum Price Regulation. The provisions of this regulation supersede the provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation with respect to sales and deliveries for which maximum prices are established by this regulation.

SEC. 12 Geographical applicability. The provisions of this regulation shall be applicable to the forty-eight states of the United States and the District of Columbia.

[3] 7 F.R. 8961.

SEC. 13 Definitions. (a) When used in this regulation, the term:

"Standard chestnut extract" means a mixture of water-dispersible substances derived from domestic chestnut wood and bark, resulting from the aqueous extraction and subsequent concentration in an evaporator.

"Liquid chestnut extract" means a fluid chestnut extract.

"Powdered chestnut extract" means a powdered material resulting from the evaporation of liquid chestnut extract.

"Special chestnut extract" means standard chestnut extract which has been processed additionally with blood albumen and other chemicals in order to obtain a product that is lighter in color and clearer than standard grade chestnut extract.

"Tannin content" shall be determined as prescribed by the official method of the American Leather Chemists' Association for "Analysis of Extract."

"Person" includes an individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons or legal successor or representative of any of the foregoing, and includes the United States or any agency thereof, or any other government, or any of its political subdivisions, or any agency of any of the foregoing.

(b) Unless the context otherwise requires, the definitions set forth in section 302 of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, shall apply to other terms used herein.

This regulation shall become effective April 1, 1943.

Issued this 25th day of March 1943.

Adjustment of maximum prices for gray iron castings sold by M. A. Bridge, Jr., as receiver of The Miller Foundry Company. (a) On and after December 5, 1942, M. A. Bridge, Jr., as receiver of The Miller Foundry Company, Columbus, Ohio, is hereby authorized to sell, offer to sell and deliver, and any person is authorized to buy, offer to buy and receive from said Receiver, gray iron castings at maximum prices determined in accordance with § 1421.166 of Maximum Price Regulation 244: Provided, That in determining maximum prices under paragraph (b) of § 1421.166, said receiver (1) may compute direct labor costs under subparagraph (2) of said paragraph (b) on the basis of the labor rates for the various classifications of direct labor, which rates prevailed in the foundry of The Miller Foundry Company in March of 1942 pursuant to the retroactive wage agreement made by said Company in April of 1942, and (2) may compute overtime labor costs under subparagraph (2) of said paragraph (b) on the basis of the labor rates specified in the foregoing clause (1).

(b) The permission herein granted to M. A. Bridge, Jr., as receiver of the Miller Foundry Company, is subject to the following condition: Said receiver shall submit to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., on or before the last day of each month following the close of each quarter year beginning with the quarter ending March 31, 1942, the following documents covering the operations of The Miller Foundry Company, signed under oath or affirmation and prepared in accordance with recognized accounting principles: (1) profit and loss statements for the preceding quarter, (2) balance sheets as of the close of the preceding quarter, (3) the profit and loss statements filed pursuant to (1) of this paragraph (b) must show (i) net sales, (ii) cost of commodities and services sold, stating separately total labor costs, total material costs, and total other manufacturing costs, (iii) general and administrative expenses, segregating compensation to officers and directors, and (iv) net profits before income and excess profit taxes: Provided, That said receiver need not file any of the foregoing financial data if he has filed such data or in the future does file such data on or before the time limits specified in this paragraph (b), on Form A—Annual Financial Report or Form B—Interim Financial Report, issued by the Office of Price Administration.

(c) All prayers of the petition not granted herein are denied.

(d) This Order No. 9 may be revoked or amended by the Price Administrator at any time.

This Order No. 9 shall become effective March 26, 1943.

(Pub. Laws 421 and 729, 77th Cong.; E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871)

Issued this 25th day of March, 1943.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION.

[File Nos. 54-72 and 59-66]

STANDARD GAS AND ELECTRIC COMPANY

NOTICE OF FILING AND ORDER FOR HEARING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pa., on the 24th day of March, A. D. 1943.

In the matter of Standard Gas and Electric Company, File No. 54-72, and Standard Gas and Electric Company, respondent, File No. 59-66.

Notice is hereby given that Standard Gas and Electric Company, a registered holding company, has filed a plan pursuant to section 11 (e) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 for the purpose of enabling such company to comply with the provisions of section 11 (b) of said act. All interested persons are referred to said plan which is on file at the office of this Commission for a statement of the transactions proposed therein which may be summarized as follows:

Standard Gas and Electric Company (hereinafter sometimes referred to as Standard) proposes:

1. To reclassify all of its outstanding stock into 1,361,650.6 shares of new no par value Common Stock Series A and 3,493,152.06 shares of new no par value Common Stock Series B and to distribute such new stock among the holders of its notes and debentures and prior preference and preferred stock in the manner hereinafter set forth. The presently outstanding common stock of Standard is granted no participation under the plan and will be eliminated if the plan becomes effective. The new Common Stock Series A and Common Stock Series B will be identical in all respects except that as long as any part of the indebtedness represented by the 3-year collateral loan, referred to in 3 (b) hereunder, remains unpaid no dividends will be paid on the Common Stock Series B, whereas during that period the Common Stock Series A will be entitled to a cumulative preference in dividends in each year to the extent of the net income of Standard for that year, but not to exceed 85¢ per share annually. In the event of whole or partial liquidation, any unpaid accumulated dividends on the Common Stock Series A will rank ahead of any other distributions to stockholders. The amount of capital represented by each share of Common Stock Series A and Common Stock Series B, exclusive of capital surplus, will be $12.50; such amount, inclusive of capital surplus, will be $17.45.

2. To retire its outstanding notes and debentures in the aggregate principal amount of $59,202,200 by:

(a) The payment of $29,601,100, or one-half the aggregate principal amount of said notes and debentures, in cash;

(b) The distribution to the holders of said notes and debentures of 296.011 shares of the common stock of The California Oregon Power Company and 118,404.4 shares of the common stock of Mountain States Power Company, such distribution to be made at the rate of 5 shares of the common stock of The California Oregon Power Company and 2 shares of the common stock of Mountain States Power Company for each $1,000 principal amount of notes or debentures. (The holders of notes and or debentures of lesser principal amounts will participate ratably according to their holdings.

(c) The distribution to the holders of said notes and debentures of 1,361,650.6 shares of Common Stock Series A of Standard represented by an aggregate capital (exclusive of capital surplus) of $17,020,632, such distribution to be made at the rate of 23 shares of such stock for each $1,000 principal amount of notes or debentures. (The holders of notes and or debentures of lesser principal amounts will participate ratably according to their holdings.)

3. To obtain the funds necessary for the cash payment described in 2 (a) above by:

(a) The sale of all of its holdings of the common stock, namely, 200,420 shares, of Pacific Gas and Electric Company;

(b) The making of a 3-year collateral loan in the principal amount of $21,000,000 secured by a pledge of substantially all securities now owned by Standard except those to be distributed and sold as hereinbefore set forth and a part of the common stock of the Philadelphia Company; and

(c) The use of about $3,590,600 of treasury cash.

4. To retire its outstanding prior preference and preferred stock by the distribution to the holders thereof of 3,493,152.06 shares of Common Stock Series B, represented by an aggregate capital (exclusive of capital surplus) of $43,664,401, as follows:

(a) 7.3 shares of Common Stock Series B for each share of Prior Preference Stock, $7.00 Cumulative, and all accumulated and unpaid dividends thereon, or a total of 2,688,940.4 shares representing 76.98% of the Common Stock Series B to the holders of the Prior Preference Stock, $7.00 Cumulative;

(b) 6.3 shares of Common Stock Series B for each share of Prior Preference Stock, $6.00 Cumulative and all accumulated and unpaid dividends thereon, or a total of 630,000 shares, representing 18.03% of the Common Stock Series B, to the holders of the Prior Preference Stock, $6.00 Cumulative;

(c) .23 shares of Common Stock Series B for each share of $4.00 Cumulative Preferred Stock and all accumulated and unpaid dividends thereon, or a total of 174,211.66 shares, representing 4.99% of the new Common Stock Series B, to the holders of the $4.00 Cumulative Preferred Stock;

5. To liquidate the 3-year collateral loan in the principal amount of $21,000,000 at or prior to the maturity thereof by annual payments out of net income and by the sale of securities owned by Standard and pledged as security for the loan.

If this Commission should approve the proposed plan of recapitalization, Standard may request the Commission to apply to a United States District Court pursuant to sections 11 (e) and 18 (f) of the act to enforce and carry out the terms and provisions of the plan. Submission of the plan to the security holders of Standard for their approval or rejection is not contemplated.

II

The Commission, pursuant to sections 11 (a), 18 (a), and 18 (b) of the act, having examined the corporate structure of Standard Gas and Electric Company and its subsidiary companies, the relationship among the companies in its holding company system, the character of the interests thereof, and the properties owned or controlled thereby, to determine the extent to which the corporate structure of such holding company system and of the companies therein may be simplified, unnecessary complexities therein eliminated, and voting power fairly and equitably distributed among the holders of securities thereof; and said examination having disclosed data establishing or tending to establish the following:

1. Standard Gas and Electric Company, a registered holding company, is a corporation organized in 1910 under the laws of the State of Delaware with its principal office at 231 South LaSalle Street in the City of Chicago, Illinois. Standard presently owns and controls eighty direct and indirect subsidiaries. Fifteen of its subsidiaries are public-utility companies within the meaning of section 2 (a) (5) of the Act; two, Philadelphia Company and Louisville Gas and Electric Company (Delaware), are primarily holding companies, while others are engaged in the production and transmission of natural gas, in the operation of railroad and other transportation facilities, in the production and sale of steam, to a minor extent in the production and sale of oil, or in other non-utility businesses. The operations of the public-utility subsidiaries are conducted in 15 States of the United States, namely, Pennsylvania, Kentucky, Oklahoma, California, Oregon, Idaho, Washington, Montana, Wyoming, Colorado, Arkansas, Wisconsin, Indiana, Michigan, and West Virginia, and in Mexico.

2. The names of the subsidiary companies presently embraced in the holding company system of Standard, the corporate relationship of the system companies to each other, and the State of incorporation of each subsidiary are shown in the following table:

5. The funded debt of Standard re-owns 1,160,000 shares of the common income before dividends, the prior pref-

Company through operating agreements, leases or stock ownership. Most of such companies are subsidiaries of Pittsburgh Railways Company or direct subsidiaries of Philadelphia Company (that is, all subsidiaries whose name is followed by [3] in the list contained in paragraph numbered "2" above), while others are non-affiliates of the Philadelphia Company. On June 18, 1938 the United States District Court for the Western District of Pennsylvania acting pursuant to section 77B of the Bankruptcy Act appointed trustees for Pittsburgh Railways Company and Pittsburgh Motor Coach Company and since such appointment the trustees have had possession of and have been operating the properties comprising the Pittsburgh Railways System including those of Pittsburgh Motor Coach Company. Because of this situation, certain information concerning these transportation subsidiaries of the Philadelphia Company is omitted herein.

As of December 31, 1942 the Philadelphia Company and its consolidated subsidiaries carried their investment in the securities of the Pittsburgh Railways System at $52,459,916, had non-current indebtedness owing to them in the amount of $16,412,218 which was offset by deferred credits in the amount of $11,298,251 and a reserve of $2,396,131, and in addition had a reserve for revaluation of assets in the amount of $23,541,417.

[3] Subsidiaries of Pittsburgh Railways Company or direct subsidiaries of Philadelphia Company.

3. Prior to June 1938 Pittsburgh Railways Company operated a unified street railway and inclined plane railway system known as the Pittsburgh Railways System. Its subsidiary, Pittsburgh Motor Coach Company, operated a bus system as an adjunct to the railways system. The latter system was composed of the properties and franchises belonging to a large number of street railway and several inclined plane railway companies which were held by Pittsburgh Railways

5. The funded debt of Standard referred to in the foregoing balance sheet is represented by:

	Principal Amount
Twenty-year 6% gold notes, due 5/1/48	$12,021,000
6% convertible gold notes, due 5 1/48	8,095,500
6% gold debentures, Series A, due 2/1 51	12,735,300
6% gold debentures, Series B, due 12/1/66	7,964,500
6% debentures, due 2/1/57	3,582,700
Standard Power and Light Corporation 6% gold debentures, due 2 1/57 (assumed)	15,167,700
Total	[1] $59,566,700

Each of the above-listed issues of notes or debentures ranks on a parity with the other as to participation in assets in the event of the voluntary or involuntary liquidation of Standard.

6. The capital stock of Standard is represented by:

Prior preference stock, $7.00 cumulative, 368,348 shares without par value.

Prior preference stock, $6.00 cumulative, 100,000 shares without par value.

$4.00 cumulative preferred stock, 757,442 shares without par value.

Common stock, 2,162,607 shares of no par value.

The total preferred stock liability is shown on the balance sheet as $87,350,943 with no segregation as between the prior preference and cumulative preferred stock.

There is no difference between the two series of prior preference stock, other than dividend rates and redemption premiums; both have a preference as to dividends over the $4.00 cumulative preferred stock and common stock and in the event of liquidation, either voluntary or involuntary, have a preference as to distribution of assets over the $4.00 cumulative preferred stock and common stock to the extent of $100 per share and accumulated and unpaid dividends. The $4.00 cumulative preferred stock has a preference as to dividends over the common stock and in the event of liquidation, either voluntary or involuntary, has a preference over the common stock to the extent of $50 per share and accumulated and unpaid dividends.

7. Each share of prior preference, preferred and common stock has one vote per share on general corporate matters. However, in the election of directors the holders of the notes and debentures are entitled to elect one director, the holders of the prior preference stock two directors, the holders of the $4.00 cumulative preferred stock two directors, and the holders of the common stock four directors.

8. Standard Power and Light Corporation, a registered holding company which we have ordered to liquidate,[2] owns 1,160,000 shares of the common stock of Standard.[3]

1941	5,055,080	1,072,502	6,208,204	(5,135,699)
1942	4,960,183	1,130,218	6,208,204	(5,078,986)

( ) Denotes deficiency.

10. As of December 31, 1942 the dividend arrearages on the prior preference and preferred stock of Standard were as follows:

	Per share	Total
Prior preference $7.00 cumulative	$62.65	$23,077,092
Prior preference $6.00 cumulative	53.70	5,370,000
$4.00 cumulative preferred	30.33	20,792,719

11. The corporate income of Standard for the past three years was derived from the following sources:

	1940	1941	1942
From subsidiary companies:
Dividends on preferred stocks	$267,286.00	$169,917.91	$113,597.00

It tentatively appearing to the Commission, on the basis of the allegations

IV

It being the duty of the Commission pursuant to section 11 (b) (2) of the act, to require by order, after notice and opportunity for hearing, that each registered holding company and each subsidiary company thereof take such steps as the Commission shall find necessary to ensure that the corporate structure or continued existence of any company in a holding-company system does not unduly or unnecessarily complicate the structure, or unfairly or inequitably distribute voting power among security holders of such holding company system, and to require each registered holding company (and any company in the same holding-company system with such holding company) to take such action as the Commission shall find necessary in order that such holding company shall cease to be a holding company with respect to each of its subsidiary companies which itself has a subsidiary company which is a holding company; and

It being appropriate in the public interest and in the interests of investors and consumers to institute proceedings against Standard under sections 15 (f) and 20 (a) of the act directed toward a determination of whether appropriate orders should be entered pursuant to said sections; and

The Commission being required by the provisions of section 11 (e) of the act to find, after notice and opportunity for hearing and before approving any plan filed thereunder, that such plan, as submitted or as modified, is necessary to effectuate the provisions of section 11 (b), and is fair and equitable to the persons affected thereby; and

It being appropriate that notice be given and a hearing held for the purpose of determining what action should be ordered under sections 11 (b) (2), 15 (f) and 20 (a) and for the purpose of ascertaining what action be taken on the proposed plan; and the common issues of fact and law arising in connection with the proposed plan and in connection with proceedings pursuant to sections 11 (b) (2), 15 (f) and 20 (a) making it appropriate that the hearing on said matters be consolidated; It is hereby ordered:

(a) That a hearing be held on the plan filed by Standard Gas and Electric Company pursuant to section 11 (e) of the act;

(b) That proceedings be instituted against Standard Gas and Electric Company pursuant to sections 11 (b) (2), 15 (f) and 20 (a) of the act and that a hearing be held on the proceedings so instituted;

(c) That if Standard Gas and Electric Company disputes any of the allegations contained in paragraphs numbered 1 to 17, inclusive, of section II herein, it shall file an answer to such allegations in the form prescribed by Rule U-25 of the Rules and Regulations under the Act with the Secretary of the Commission on or before May 4, 1943;

(d) That the hearing on said plan and on the proceedings instituted pursuant to sections 11 (b) (2), 15 (f) and 20 (a) of the act be consolidated, subject

INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION RATE CONFERENCE REGULATIONS

THE ATTORNEY GENERAL: Pursuant to the provisions of section 12 of Public Law No. 603, 77th Congress (56 Stat. 357), I hereby approve joint action by common carriers or freight forwarders, or their respective representatives, through rate bureaus, rate conferences, or other similar carrier or forwarder organizations, in the initiation and establishment of common carrier and freight forwarder rates, fares, and charges, and carrier and forwarder regulations and practices pertaining thereto: Provided, That such action is taken subject to and in compliance with certain regulations for rate conferences formulated by the Interstate Commerce Commission a copy of which is hereunto annexed and made a part hereof; and after consultation with you, I hereby find and so certify to you that the doing of any act or thing, or the omission to do any act or thing, by any person in compliance with my approval herein expressed, is requisite to the prosecution of the war.

DONALD M. NELSON, Chairman.

REGULATIONS FOR RATE CONFERENCES

RULE 1. Definitions as used in these rules. (a) The term "rate conference" means any two or more common carriers or any two or more freight forwarders who consult together, either directly or by employees or representatives, for the purpose of considering or agreeing upon rates to be charged by them, or of providing for the publication of tariffs containing such rates.

(b) The term "publishing agent" means a person or corporation controlled directly or indirectly by a rate conference which publishes and files freight or passenger tariffs.

(c) The term "rates" includes fares, charges, and classifications, and all rules, regulations, and practices affecting the charges made for the transportation of freight or passengers and services incidental to such transportation.

(d) The term "carrier" means a common carrier or a freight forwarder.

RULE 2. Any carrier performing service of the type and within the territorial and organizational scope of a rate conference's rate activities shall be eligible for membership in such rate conference upon application and upon payment of charges applicable to other members of the same class. When a rate conference consists of two or more rate conferences or their representatives, eligibility for membership in any of the rate conferences shall be considered compliance with this rule.

RULE 3. On or before April 15, 1943 each rate conference shall register with the Interstate Commerce Commission and shall file with the Commission a copy of its by-laws, the names and addresses of its officers and of the members of rate and other committees (except special or sub-committees created for temporary functioning), the rules of procedure followed by it, a copy of any agreement or other document which in any way provides for, governs, or affects such procedure, and schedules of its charges to members or, where expenses are divided among the members, statements showing how the expenses are divided; and, if a corporation, a copy of its articles of incorporation. A copy of each change in any of the above shall be filed within 30 days of the effective date of the change.

RULE 4. A publishing agent, upon request of any member of the rate conference for which the publishing agent publishes rates and upon payment of the charges, if any, applicable to carriers of that class, shall include the member as a participating carrier in its agency tariffs and publish rates therein for the individual or joint account of such member, except that this shall not require the publishing agent to publish joint rates for the account of carriers who indicate their nonconcurrence therein.

RULE 5. Each member of a rate conference may propose to such conference the initiation of or change in rates to be published in the tariffs of the publishing agent for application over the proponent's line or over the lines of other members of the conference performing the service for which the rates are proposed.

RULE 6. No rule or practice of a rate conference shall prohibit any member from publishing or having published for his account any rate or rule after ninety days from the date the rate was proposed by him, except that, in the case of a joint rate, the publishing agent shall not publish the rate for application over the line of any carrier who does not join in the request for its publication.

RULE 7. Membership in a rate conference shall not preclude a carrier, after rejection of the proposal or after 90 days from the date of the proposal, from filing individual tariffs or from participating in tariffs published by other carriers or other rate conferences. Upon the filing of such individual tariffs or upon participation in tariffs published by other carriers or other rate conferences, the rate conference or conferences in whose tariffs the earlier rates were published shall immediately provide for the removal of any conflicting or duplicating rates in its or their tariffs.

RULE 8. No boycott or other means of coercion or intimidation shall be employed by a rate conference, directly or indirectly, to restrain a carrier, either a member or a nonmember, from taking independent action, consistent with these rules, to establish rates other than those approved by a rate conference.

RULE 9. Each rate conference shall maintain accounts, records, and memoranda showing its assets, liabilities, income, and expenses; and shall maintain a file for each rate proposal which shall contain the rate proposal, all protests and memoranda submitted respecting the proposed rates, and minutes of any oral hearing which may be held. The accounts, records, memoranda, files, and all correspondence of a rate conference shall be open to inspection by duly authorized representatives of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

RULE 10. These rules are subject to modification, change, and addition as the need therefor may be shown.

The President

PROCLAMATION 2581

ARMY DAY, 1943

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

A PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS Senate Concurrent Resolution 5, 75th Congress, 1st Session, which was agreed to by the House of Representatives on March 16, 1937 (50 Stat. 1108), provides:

"That April 6 of each year be recognized by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America as Army Day, and that the President of the United States be requested, as Commander in Chief, to order military units throughout the United States to assist civic bodies in appropriate celebration to such extent as he may deem advisable; to issue a proclamation each year declaring April 6 as Army Day, and in such proclamations to invite the Governors of the various States to issue Army Day proclamations: Provided, That in the event April 6 falls on Sunday, the following Monday shall be recognized as Army Day";

WHEREAS the men of the United States Army have carried the flag of the United States and the ideals which it represents to every part of the earth and with their brothers-in-arms from the nations united with us are offering their lives for the future of America and of the world;

WHEREAS our soldiers on the firing lines and in posts of danger depend for their very lives on the constant flow of ammunition, weapons and supplies from their brothers at home; and on the fidelity of their countrymen to maintain the ideals which they bravely defend:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT, President of the United States of America, do hereby proclaim Tuesday, April 6, 1943, as Army Day; and I invite the Governors of the States to issue proclamations appropriate to that day; and I request that on Army Day, while intensifying the war effort in factories, fields, mines, transportation lines and ports, the American people reflect upon the soldiers whose very lives they hold in trust and upon ways and means of increasing the flow of supplies to them and of maintaining in this nation a country worthy of their sacrifice and fit for their return.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States of America to be affixed.

DONE at the City of Washington this 26th day of March in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and [SEAL] forty-three and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and sixty-seventh.

FRANKLIN D ROOSEVELT

By virtue of the authority vested in me by the Constitution and the statutes of the United States, particularly by the First War Powers Act, 1941, as President of the United States and Commander in Chief of the Army and Navy, and in order to assure an adequate supply and efficient distribution of food to meet war and essential civilian needs, it is hereby ordered as follows:

1. The Food Production Administration (except the Farm Credit Administration), the Food Distribution Administration, the Commodity Credit Corporation, and the Extension Service are hereby consolidated within the Department of Agriculture into an Administration of Food Production and Distribution to be under the direction and supervision of an Administrator. The Administrator shall be appointed by the President and shall be directly responsible to him.

2. All of the powers, functions, and duties conferred upon the Secretary of

TITLE 6—AGRICULTURAL CREDIT

Chapter I—Farm Credit Administration

PART 23—THE FEDERAL LAND BANK OF COLUMBIA

RELEASE OF SECURITY AND PERSONAL LIABILITY FEES

Sections 23.4 and 23.5 of Title 6, Code of Federal Regulations, are amended to read as follows:

§ 23.4 Partial release of security fees. The following fees shall be charged in connection with applications for partial release of security:

Land Bank Commissioner loan	$10.00
Direct Federal Land Bank loan	10.00
Land Bank loan through national farm loan association	10.00

The $10 fee applies also to applications for the release of timber. However, if the regular appraisal in connection with an application for release of timber indicates that a special cruise of the timber is necessary, an additional fee, equal to the cost of such cruise, will be charged.

If an application for partial release is submitted simultaneously with an application for a new loan on the same security, or on the same security plus some additional security, the regular new loan appraisal fee is charged in connection with the new loan application and a fee of $5 is charged in connection with the partial release application.

§ 23.5 Release of personal liability fees. The following fees shall be charged in connection with applications for release of personal liability:

Land Bank Commissioner loan	$10.00
Direct Federal Land Bank loan	10.00
Land Bank loan through national farm loan association	10.00

MARKETING QUOTA REGULATIONS, 1943-44 MARKETING YEAR

Pursuant to the authority vested in the Secretary of Agriculture, by Title III of the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended, public notice is hereby given of amendment to Tobacco 703 (Burley) Marketing Quota Regulations, Burley Tobacco, 1943-44 Marketing Year, Part I, Procedure for the Determination of Acreage Allotments and Normal Yields for 1943, as amended, which regulations shall be in force and effect until rescinded, suspended, amended, or superseded by regulations hereafter made by the Secretary of Agriculture under said Act.

Section 724.517 of Tobacco 703 (Burley) Part I, Marketing Quota Regulations, Burley Tobacco, 1943-44 Marketing Year, issued December 31, 1942, is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 724.517 Allotments by county committees.—An amount not in excess of two percent of the 1940 acreage allotment for each State will be available for allotment by the respective county committees. A farm shall be eligible upon application for allotment as provided hereunder (1) if the committee finds that the 1942 allotment for the farm is relatively smaller in relation to the land, labor and equipment available for the production of tobacco on the farm than the average of the allotments in relation to such factors on other farms in the county, or (2) if tobacco was harvested on the farm in 1942 and no acreage allotment was established for the farm. In making the adjustment in the farm acreage allotment the county committee shall consider the past acreage of tobacco (harvested and diverted), the land, labor and equipment available for the production of tobacco, and crop rotation practices. Particular consideration should be given to the land, labor and equipment available for the production of war crops as well as the proposed adjustment in tobacco acreage. In the case of any farm on which tobacco was harvested in 1942 for which no acreage allotment was established, the committee may establish an allotment not exceeding ten percent of the acreage of tobacco harvested on the farm in 1942. Without prior approval of the State committee, the acreage allotted under this section shall not exceed one percent of the county acreage allotment for 1940.

All adjustments as provided above shall be subject to the approval of the State committee.

Coal, coke made from coal, and coal or coke briquets imported from the following country and entered for consumption or withdrawn from warehouse for consumption during the period from January 1 to December 31, 1943, inclusive, will not be subject to the tax of 10 cents per hundred pounds prescribed in the Internal Revenue Code, section 3423: Canada.

Coal, coke made from coal, and coal or coke briquets produced in the following countries, imported into the United States directly or indirectly therefrom and entered for consumption or withdrawn from warehouse for consumption during the calendar year 1943 will be exempt from the tax by virtue of the Internal Revenue Code, section 3420: United Kingdom and Union of Soviet Socialist Republics.

Coal, coke made from coal, and coal or coke briquets produced in the following country, imported into the United States directly or indirectly therefrom and entered for consumption or withdrawn from warehouse for consumption during the period from January 30 to December 31, 1943, inclusive, will be exempt from the tax pursuant to the Internal Revenue Code, section 3420: Mexico.

The above list does not include countries from which there have been no importations of coal or allied fuels since January 1, 1941. Further information concerning the taxable status of such fuels imported during the calendar year 1943 will be furnished upon application therefor to the Bureau. (441.)

TITLE 29—LABOR

Chapter V—Wage and Hour Division

DEHYDRATION OF CITRUS PULP AND WASTE IN FLORIDA AND TEXAS

DETERMINATION AS INDUSTRY OF SEASONAL NATURE

In the matter of the determination that dehydrating of citrus pulp and waste in the States of Florida and Texas is of a seasonal nature, pursuant to section 7 (b) (3) of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 and Part 526, as amended, of the regulations issued thereunder.[1]

Whereas the Kuder Citrus Pulp Company of Florida and various other parties filed an application for the exemption of the behydrating of citrus pulp and waste from the maximum hours provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, as an industry of a seasonal nature, pursuant to section 7 (b) (3) of the Act and Part 526, as amended, of the regulations issued thereunder; and

Whereas in accordance with § 526.5 of the regulations, the Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division determined that a prima facie case for the granting of the exemption had been shown, and notice of this preliminary determination was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (6 F.R. 1697) on March 29, 1941; and

Whereas within 15 days following that preliminary determination, the Administrator received objection and request for a hearing from the Citrus By-Products Workers Union No. 20831, of Los Angeles, California; and

Whereas pursuant to notice a public hearing was held on June 5, 1941 at Los Angeles, California before Presiding Officer Harold Stein, a duly authorized representative of the Administrator, who upon the basis of the record made at the hearing found that the dehydrating of citrus pulp and waste, and the manufacture of cattle feed therefrom, is not an industry of a seasonal nature within the meaning of section 7 (b) (3) of the Act and Part 526 of the regulations, and determined that the application should be denied, and notice of this finding was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (6 F.R. 5647) on November 6, 1941; and

Whereas petitions were filed by the applicants pursuant to § 526.7 of the regulations for review of the said denial; and

Whereas the Administrator thereupon set the matter for further hearing pursuant to §§ 526.5 and 526.6 of the regulations before an authorized representative of the Administrator, for the purpose of taking additional evidence on the questions raised by the said petitions in lieu of reviewing the determination under the provisions of section 526.7 of the regulations; and

Whereas the Administrator then gave notice of public hearings to be held at Tampa, Florida on January 12, 1942, at San Antonio, Texas on January 20, 1942, and at Los Angeles, California on January 26, 1942, before James G. Johnson, authorized as representative of the Administrator to take testimony, to hear argument, and to determine:

Whether the dehydrating of citrus pulp and waste is an industry of a seasonal nature within the meaning of section 7 (b) (3) of the Act and Part 526, as amended, of the regulations issued thereunder, and if so, the appropriate limits of said industry; and

Whereas the hearing scheduled for Los Angeles was indefinitely postponed at the instance of the interested parties, and the hearings scheduled for Tampa and San Antonio were, pursuant to notice, consolidated into a public hearing held on January 16, 1942 at Washington, D. C., before James G. Johnson, as Presiding Officer, who made the following findings of fact and determination:

1. The dehydration establishments receive the citrus pulp and waste from citrus canneries as soon as it becomes available.

2. The pulp must be processed within a few hours after the juice or sections have been removed from the fruit. The dehydration plants operate during the period or periods in which citrus canning and juicing plants operate and are dependent entirely upon these plants for their principal raw materials.

3. Citrus waste is available to the dehydration industry in Texas during a period of not over six months out of each year. Citrus waste is technically available in Florida for a period of approximately eight months. However, due to various factors it is usually available as a raw material to the citrus dehydration industry for a period of time averaging six to seven months out of each year.

4. The dehydration of citrus pulp and waste and the manufacture of cattle feed therefrom, insofar as the dehydration of citrus pulp and waste in the states of Florida and Texas are concerned, is an industry of a seasonal nature within the meaning of section 7 (b) (3) of the Act and part 526 of the Regulations issued thereunder.

The application for seasonal exemption under section 7 (b) (3) is granted to the branch or branches of the citrus pulp and waste dehydration industry, located in the states of Florida and Texas.

Whereas it appears from the findings and determination of Presiding Officer Johnson that he concluded that the operations of dehydrating citrus pulp and waste in the states of Florida and Texas constitute a branch or branches of the dehydration of citrus pulp and waste industry and are of a seasonal nature within the meaning of the Act and the regulations; and

Whereas it appears from the statement of Presiding Officer Johnson, submitted in support of his findings and determination, that the Florida citrus pulp and waste dehydration plants shut down for about six months each year, except for an insubstantial amount of production that may be produced during a trial or experimental period shortly before the main production season; and

Whereas the findings and determination of James G. Johnson as Presiding Officer, including the statement in support thereof, were duly filed with the Administrator on January 8, 1943, and are now on file in Room 1619, National Office of the Wage and Hour Division, 165 West 46th Street, New York, New York, and are available for examination by all interested parties; and

Whereas on February 26, 1943, the Administrator caused to be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (8 F.R. 2448) a notice which stated that, pursuant to the provisions of § 526.7 of the aforesaid regulations, any person aggrieved by the said determination might within 15 days after February 26, 1943 file a petition with the Administrator requesting that he review the action of the said representative upon the record of hearing before the said representative; and

Whereas no petition for review has been filed within the 15-day period,

Now, therefore, pursuant to the provisions of § 526.7 of the regulations, the exemption provided by section 7 (b) (3) of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 will become effective on the date this notice appears in the FEDERAL REGISTER. This exemption is applicable only as specified by the aforesaid findings and determination of James G. Johnson as Presiding Officer.

Signed at New York, New York, this 25th day of March 1943.

L. METCALFE WALLING,
Administrator.

Subchapter B—Executive Vice Chairman

AUTHORITY: Regulations in this subchapter issued under P.D. Reg. 1, as amended, 6 F.R. 6680; W.P.B. Reg. 1, 7 F.R. 561; E.O. 9024, 7 F.R. 329, E.O. 9040, 7 F.R. 527; E.O. 9125, 7 F.R. 2719; sec. 2 (a), Pub. Law 671, 76th Cong., as amended by Pub. Laws 89 and 507, 77th Cong.

PART 1010—SUSPENSION ORDERS

[Suspension Order S-255]

J. B. RUSSELL, INC.

J. B. Russell, Inc., Lexington, Missouri, is a corporation engaged in the retail distribution of lumber and builders' supplies. From October 8 to November 14, 1942, the Company made deliveries to Oscar Pangborn, Lexington, Missouri, of $512.62 worth of lumber, cement, nails, and other construction material to be incorporated in a residence for the said Oscar Pangborn the estimated cost of which was in excess of the permitted cost of construction as defined by Conservation Order L-41. Application for specific authorization for the construction of said residence was made by Oscar Pangborn to the United States Department of Agriculture County War Board and was denied on August 4, 1942. The Company was familiar with the provisions of Conservation Order L-41, assisted Oscar Pangborn in preparing his application for authorization, knew that authorization of the War Production Board was required and that such authorization had been denied. Consequently, the making of the deliveries of construction lumber and building supplies as aforesaid constituted a wilful violation of Conservation Order L-41.

This wilful violation of Conservation Order L-41 has impeded and hampered the war effort of the United States. In view of the foregoing facts, It is hereby ordered, That:

§ 1010.255 Suspension Order No. S-255. (a) Deliveries of material to J. B. Russell, Inc., its successors and assigns, shall not be accorded priority directly or indirectly over deliveries under any other contract or order, and no preference rating shall be assigned, applied or extended to such deliveries by means of preference rating certificates, preference rating orders, general preference orders, or any other orders or regulations of the War Production Board, except as specifically authorized by the War Production Board.

(b) No allocation shall be made to J. B. Russell, Inc., its successors or assigns, of any material, the supply or distribution of which is governed by any order of the War Production Board, except as specifically authorized by the War Production Board.

(c) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve J. B. Russell, Inc., its successors and assigns, from any restriction, prohibition, or provision contained in any order or regulation of the War Production Board, whether now in force or hereafter issued, except in so far as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(d) This order shall take effect on March 28, 1943 and shall expire on June 28, 1943, at which time the restrictions contained in this order are to be of no further effect.

Issued this 26th day of March 1943.

PART 989—DOMESTIC MECHANICAL REFRIGERATORS

[Supplementary Limitation Order L-5-d as Amended March 27, 1943]

§ 989.5 Supplementary General Limitation Order L-5-d—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, governmental corporation or agency, or any organized group of persons whether incorporated or not.

(2) "Domestic mechanical refrigerator" means any refrigerator for household use which operates either by compression or absorption and which has a net capacity (N. E. M. A. rating) of 16 cubic feet or less. A low temperature mechanical refrigerator designed for the storage of frozen foods or for the quick-freezing of food where the low temperature compartment customarily operates at a temperature of not higher than 15 degrees above zero (Fahrenheit) and contains 75% or more of the total refrigerating space in the refrigerator, shall not be considered a domestic mechanical refrigerator.

(3) "New domestic mechanical refrigerator" means any domestic mechanical refrigerator which has never been used by an ultimate consumer, including any such refrigerator which has been used merely for demonstration purposes.

(4) "Manufacturer" means any person who manufactures or assembles new domestic mechanical refrigerators.

(5) "Dealer" means any person (other than a manufacturer or distributor) engaged in the business of making sales at retail of new domestic mechanical refrigerators to the public.

(6) "Distributor" means any person engaged in the business of selling new domestic mechanical refrigerators to dealers for resale.

(7) "Transfer" means to sell, lease, trade, deliver, ship or otherwise transfer a new domestic mechanical refrigerator. "Transfer" does not include a transfer of title merely for security purposes or to a person financing a conditional sale, or a similar transaction made simultaneously with the transfer of the refrigerator itself to the purchaser; nor does it include the sale, lease or delivery of any new domestic mechanical refrigerator as part of the sale, lease or delivery of the dwelling unit or other premises in which such refrigerator is installed for use.

(8) "Affiliated distributor" means any distributor which is owned or controlled by a manufacturer or under common ownership or control with a manufacturer. A person shall be deemed to be owned or controlled by another person when more than 50% of its voting capital stock is directly or indirectly owned by such other person.

(9) "Independent distributor" means any distributor other than an affiliated distributor.

(b) Restrictions on transfers of new domestic mechanical refrigerators. No person shall transfer or accept transfer of any new domestic mechanical refrigerator except as permitted under the provisions of this paragraph (b). Whenever any manufacturer or distributor is authorized to transfer new domestic mechanical refrigerators under subparagraph (3) of this paragraph (b) or under paragraph (c) (2) (iii), such transfer shall be made as far as is practicable through his normal distributive outlets on a basis proportionate to his distribution of new domestic mechanical refrigerators to them, respectively, during the year 1941, regardless of any previous commitments or contracts.

(1) Any new domestic mechanical refrigerator may be transferred pursuant to a certificate of transfer under the provisions of paragraph (c) or pursuant to other specific authorization of the War Production Board.

(2) Any new domestic mechanical refrigerator may be transferred in fulfillment of any contract or purchase order for delivery of any such refrigerator to or for the account of the Army or Navy of the United States, the United States Maritime Commission or the War Shipping Administration.

(3) Any new electric or gas (but not kerosene) domestic mechanical refrigerator, which at 10 A. M. Eastern War Time, February 14, 1942, was in the inventory of a dealer, independent distributor or any other person not a manufacturer or affiliated distributor, may be transferred by any person to any other person without limit as to the number of transfers which may be made of any such refrigerator: Provided, That any transfer of a new domestic mechanical refrigerator to an ultimate consumer under the provisions of this subparagraph (3) may be made only if such transferee executes a purchaser's certification, on Form PD-833, which is countersigned by the transferor.

Any new electric or gas domestic mechanical refrigerator which at 10 A. M. Eastern War Time, February 14, 1942, had been bought and fully paid for and was in the hands of the seller at that time, shall be deemed to have been in the inventory of the purchaser at 10 A. M. Eastern War Time, February 14, 1942.

(4) Any new kerosene domestic mechanical refrigerator which at 10 A. M. Eastern War Time, February 14, 1942, had been bought and fully paid for by an ultimate consumer, and was in the hands of the seller at that time may be delivered to the purchaser.

(5) Any person may distrain or levy by execution, attachment or similar form of judicial process, on any new domestic mechanical refrigerators, or repossess them on default, but may not transfer them thereafter except pursuant to the provisions of subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph (b) unless the refrigerators come within the provisions of subparagraph (3) of this paragraph (b).

(6) Any manufacturer may sell any new domestic mechanical refrigerator to Defense Supplies Corporation and Defense Supplies Corporation may resell any such refrigerators to the manufacturer from whom they were purchased.

(c) Transfer of new domestic mechanical refrigerators by a certificate of transfer. The War Production Board may in its discretion issue a certificate of transfer in either of the following forms:

(1) A certificate of transfer on Form PD-428 may be issued pursuant to a written application filed on Form PD-427 in accordance with the instructions contained thereon by a person desiring to purchase one or more new domestic mechanical refrigerators. Each such certificate of transfer, when signed by an authorized official of the War Production Board, authorizes the transfer to the person named of the refrigerators mentioned therein, in accordance with the terms stated. If the certificate is presented to a dealer or distributor who is unable to fill the order from his stock of refrigerators, such dealer or distributor may obtain the refrigerators necessary to fill the order by placing a written purchase order for such refrigerators with a manufacturer, distributor or other person endorsing thereon a statement in the following form:

I (We) have received Certificate of Transfer No. —, signed by an authorized official of the War Production Board, covering these refrigerators, and do not have them in stock.

Name of Company
By Title

Any person with whom a purchase order bearing such an endorsement is placed may, if he does not have enough refrigerators in stock to fill the order, extend it by placing his own purchase order with a Manufacturer or other person holding such refrigerators and endorsing thereon a statement in the following form:

I (We) do not have these refrigerators in stock and they are required to fill an order placed with me by ——————, who certifies that he has received Certificate of Transfer, No. —, covering these refrigerators.

Name of Company
By Title

Any person with whom a purchase order for new domestic mechanical refrigerators is placed having an endorsement in either of the above forms, unless he knows or has reason to believe it to be false, shall be entitled to rely on such endorsement and may transfer the refrigerators specified in such order in accordance with its terms.

(2) A certificate of transfer on Form PD-430 may be issued in order to permit the transfer of new domestic mechanical refrigerators:

(i) From one warehouse or place of storage to another warehouse or other place of storage, whether or not it involves any change in the ownership or title of such refrigerators;

(ii) From any person to any other person when the transfer does not come within the provisions of subparagraph (1) of this paragraph (c); or

(iii) From any manufacturer, affiliated distributor or independent distributor without limit as to the number of transfers which may be made of any such refrigerators to any person other than a person acquiring refrigerators for export to and consumption or use in any foreign country: Provided, That

(a) The words "unlimited transfer" appear on such certificate; and

(b) Any transfer to an ultimate consumer made under the provisions of this subdivision (iii) of this paragraph (c) (2) may be made only if such ultimate consumer executes a purchaser's certification on Form PD-833, which is countersigned by the transferor.

Whenever such certificates for "unlimited transfer" are issued by the War Production Board it shall take into consideration the number, price range, size and type of new domestic mechanical refrigerators in the stocks of manufacturers, affiliated distributors, and independent distributors on February 14, 1942 and thereafter;

(iv) From any manufacturer, affiliated distributor or independent distributor without limit as to the number of transfers which may be made of any such refrigerators to any person acquiring refrigerators for export to and consumption or use in any foreign country: Provided, That the words "export transfer" appear on such certificate.

(d) Instructions and forms. The War Production Board may issue from time to time such instructions and forms as may be required to carry out the provisions of this order.

(e) Records. All persons affected by this order shall keep and preserve, for not less than two years, accurate and complete records concerning inventories, production and sales.

(f) Audit and inspection. All records required to be kept by this order shall, upon request, be submitted to audit and inspection by duly authorized representatives of the War Production Board.

(g) Reports. (1) Each manufacturer shall file with the War Production Board, on or before the next business day after any shipment to or from his stock of refrigerators a report of all such shipments on Form PD-431.

(2) Each affiliated distributor or independent distributor shall file with the War Production Board on or before the next business day after any shipment to or from his stock of refrigerators, a report of all such shipments on Form PD-431. Any refrigerators received pursuant to Form PD-430 marked "unlimited transfer" which are set aside by an affiliated distributor or independent distributor for direct shipment by such affiliated distributor or independent distributor to ultimate consumers shall be reported on Form PD-431 as a group when set aside and not as individual transfers to ultimate consumers.

(3) All persons affected by this order shall file with the War Production Board such other reports and questionnaires as the War Production Board shall, from time to time prescribe.

(h) Communications. All reports to be filed and other communications concerning this order should be addressed to the War Production Board, Washington, D. C. Ref.: L-5-d.

(i) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of or from processing or using materials under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(j) Order L-5-b superseded. On and after June 15, 1942 the provisions of this order shall supersede all the provisions of Supplementary Limitation Order L-5-b.

Issued this 27th day of March 1943.

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD,
By J. JOSEPH WHELAN,
Recording Secretary.

INTERPRETATION 1

Supplementary General Limitation Order L-5-d, restricting the transfer of new domestic mechanical refrigerators, exempts from some of its restrictions a refrigerator which was in the hands of the seller at 10 a. m. Eastern War Time, February 14, 1942, and which "had been bought and fully paid for" prior to that time. The test to be employed in determining whether or not a refrigerator "had been bought and fully paid for" is whether the seller had received full payment at the specified time. If the full price of the refrigerator had been paid to the seller in cash, or by any other means, the refrigerator should be considered as "bought and fully paid for" regardless of the source of payment. It is not necessary that the full price be paid by the purchaser provided the seller had been fully paid. Thus if the purchaser had made a down payment of part of the purchase price and a finance company or bank had paid or credited the account of the seller with the balance of the price pursuant to a financing agreement with the purchaser, the refrigerators should be considered to have been "bought and fully paid for." In addition, in the absence of exceptional circumstances the receipt by the seller of a check prior to 10 a. m. Eastern War Time, February 14, 1942, for the full purchase price should be considered as payment in full before that time even though the check had not been cashed, deposited or otherwise collected. (Issued June 29, 1942.)

PART 1071—INDUSTRIAL AND COMMERCIAL REFRIGERATING AND AIR CONDITIONING MACHINERY AND EQUIPMENT

Section 1071.1 General Limitation Order L-38 as amended is hereby amended to read as follows:

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of steel, copper, and other materials for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 1071.1 General Limitation Order L-38—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this order:

(1) "System" means any refrigerating or air conditioning system, consisting of an assembly or combination of machinery, equipment, or other apparatus designed primarily to lower the temperature of, or remove water vapor from gaseous, liquid, or solid matter, directly or indirectly, by mechanical, chemical, or physical means. The term shall not include a domestic mechanical refrigerator as defined in paragraph (a) (10), a domestic ice refrigerator as defined in paragraph (a) (11), or a farm milk cooler as defined in paragraph (a) (12) of this order.

(2) "Parts" means any parts, materials, insulated enclosures, implements, or devices, designed for incorporation in a system or for use therewith in causing it to perform its functions.

(3) "New", when applied to any system or part, means a system or part that has never been sold and delivered to any person acquiring it for use. "Used", when so applied, means any system or part which has been so sold and delivered, regardless of whether or not it has subsequently been reconditioned or redesigned.

(4) "Authorized order" means any order for the delivery of a system or parts, which the War Production Board has authorized on Form PD-830 or PD-831 pursuant to paragraph (c) of this order.

(5) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, governmental corporation or agency, or any organized group of persons, whether incorporated or not.

(6) "Producer" means any person to the extent that he is engaged in the manufacture, fabrication, or assembly of systems or parts. The term shall not include any sales or distribution outlet of a producer.

(7) "Dealer" means any person, other than a producer, engaged in the business of selling or distributing new, used, or reconditioned systems or parts, whether at wholesale, retail, or otherwise. The term includes any sales or distribution outlet of a producer.

(8) "Emergency repair service" means the repair of any installed system when, subsequent to its installation and operation, a breakdown occurs therein, or is immediately threatened. The term shall not include replacement of the high (pressure) side or condensing unit (with or without motor or condenser) except in sealed unit types, the low (pressure) side, or the insulated enclosure, or any change of the type of refrigerant, design, or capacity of the system; but shall include necessary replacement of any component part of the high side, low side, or insulated enclosure, if such part cannot be repaired and if the part installed is not of greater capacity than the part replaced, and shall also include the shop repair of the replaced component part.

(9) "Deliver" means to transfer physical possession, title, or ownership to another person, to install, or to place in the hands of any carrier or otherwise in transit for transfer of possession to another person, regardless of whether such transfer, installation, or shipment is for the purpose of sale, trade, loan, lease, or some other type of transaction.

(10) "Domestic mechanical refrigerator" means any refrigerator for household use which operates either by compression or absorption and which has a net capacity of 16 cubic feet or less (National Electric Manufacturing Association rating), but does not include any low temperature mechanical refrigerator designed for the storage of frozen foods or for the quick freezing of food where the low temperature compartment customarily operates at a temperature of not higher than 15 degrees above zero Fahrenheit and contains 75% or more of the total refrigerating space in the refrigerator.

(11) "Domestic ice refrigerator" means any non-mechanical ice chest or ice box for home use.

(12) "Farm milk cooler" means any immersion (drop-in) type or surface (tubular) type milk cooler for use on a farm, and includes any system or parts which have been installed in any such cooler, or acquired pursuant to an "authorized order" (as defined in paragraph (a)(4)) by a manufacturer of farm milk coolers for installation in such coolers. The term shall not include any (refrigerating) system or parts (except the cabinets and insulated enclosures of farm milk coolers) prior to actual acquisition thereof by such a manufacturer.

(13) "Industrial type extended surface heating equipment" means any apparatus employing a heat transfer element and designed primarily to increase the temperature of gaseous matter, in connection with the operation of any refrigerating or air conditioning system.

(14) "Industrial type humidifying equipment" means any apparatus designed primarily to add water vapor to gaseous matter, in connection with the operation of any industrial or commercial refrigerating or air conditioning system, or for any purpose other than the health or comfort of persons.

(15) "Comfort cooling system" means any system described as such on List F (made a part of this order) as amended from time to time.

(16) "Owned," when applied to any materials means such materials as were in the possession or control of the designated person, or in transit to him, on the date indicated.

(17) "Any person acquiring the same for use" shall include any person who purchases or otherwise acquires any systems, parts, or other equipment, except a dealer or producer acquiring systems, parts, or other equipment for resale, and reselling the same.

(b) Restrictions on deliveries—(1) Parts for repair service. (i) No dealer or producer shall deliver any new or used parts to the owner, lessee, or user of any used system, and no person shall accept delivery of any such parts, unless such parts are delivered either (a) for use in "emergency repair service" and to fill a purchase order bearing a preference rating of AA-4 or higher, or (b) to fill an "authorized order," or (c) for direct use by the Army, Navy, Maritime Commission, or War Shipping Administration, including orders for any Army or Marine Corps Post Exchange or any Navy Ships Service Department; and the parts replaced shall be disposed of in accordance with paragraph (e) of this order, if made of metal; and

(ii) No dealer or producer shall deliver any new or used parts to the owner, lessee, or user of a "comfort cooling system" for the repair of such system, except pursuant to an "authorized order," or pursuant to a purchase order bearing a preference rating of AA-4 or higher where all the parts necessary for the "emergency repair service" for such system do not have an aggregate sales value in excess of the following: (a) $25 where the aggregate installed capacity is not over 20 h. p. or tons of refrigeration (ASRE specifications), (b) $50 where such capacity is over 20 h. p. or tons but not over 100 h. p. or tons, or (c) $100 where such capacity is over 100 h. p. or tons. (If the parts required are to be obtained under several purchase orders placed either with the same supplier, or with different suppliers, so that the value of the parts furnished under each or any of such orders is less than the amounts specified above, such division shall not avoid the restriction of this subdivision (ii).) No such order for parts (having a value in excess of the applicable amount specified above) will be authorized unless it is demonstrated to the satisfaction of the War Production Board that the continued operation of such "comfort cooling system" is essential to avoid air conditions which would be intolerable or dangerous to health, and that such conditions cannot be avoided by the use of that portion of the system designed for the circulation of air, electric fans, or other power driven equipment possessed by the owner, lessee, or user of the system and/or by opening of windows or doors. No person shall accept delivery of any parts for the repair of a "comfort cooling system," except in accordance with the provisions of this subparagraph (1).

(2) Other equipment—(i) List A items. Any dealer, producer, or other person may deliver (unrestricted by this order) and any person may accept delivery of, any new or used item of equipment of any kind or type included on List A (made a part of this order as amended from time to time), or any new or used parts acquired by such dealer, producer, or other person prior to May 15, 1942 for use in any such equipment owned by him on May 15, 1942, except a new refrigeration condensing unit rated at more than ½ h. p. and designed for remote installation.

(ii) List B, Part I, items. No dealer or producer shall deliver any new item of equipment of any kinds included on List B, Part I, (made a part of this order as amended from time to time) to any person acquiring the same for use, except pursuant to an "authorized order" to any agency or other person designated on said list; and no person shall accept delivery of any such item of equipment, except such an agency or other person receiving delivery pursuant to an "authorized order."

(iii) List B, Part II, items. No dealer or producer shall deliver any new item of equipment of any kinds included on List B, Part II (made a part of this order as amended from time to time) to any person acquiring the same for use, except to an agency designated on said list; and no person shall accept delivery of any such item of equipment except such an agency.

(iv) Items for farm milk coolers. No dealer or producer shall deliver any new (refrigerating) systems for use in farm milk coolers or parts for such systems other than the cabinets or insulated enclosures, to a manufacturer of such coolers or any other person, except pursuant to an "authorized order." The subsequent delivery of any such systems or parts acquired pursuant to an "authorized order" by such a manufacturer, or owned by him on April 6, 1943, or of any farm milk coolers in which any such systems or parts have been installed, shall not be restricted by the terms of this order.

(v) Items exclusive of List A and List B items and farm milk coolers. No dealer or producer shall deliver any new system of any kind or type, not referred to under the preceding subdivisions (i), (ii), (iii), or (iv), to any person acquiring the same for use, except pursuant to an "authorized order," or for direct use by the Army, Navy, Maritime Commission, or War Shipping Administration.

(vi) Parts not for emergency repair service. No dealer or producer shall deliver any new parts of any kind or size, or any used high side, compressor, turbo blower, condenser, low side, or evaporator, designed for use with a system rated at three horse power or more or having a rated capacity of three tons or more (American Society of Refrigerating Engineers' Specifications) to any person acquiring the same for use other than for emergency repair service, except pursuant to an "authorized order," or for direct use by the Army, Navy, Maritime Commission, or War Shipping Administration.

(vii) Heating or humidifying equipment. No dealer or producer shall deliver any new "industrial type extended surface heating equipment" or any "industrial type humidifying equipment" to any person acquiring the same for use, except pursuant to an "authorized order" or for direct use by the Army, Navy, Maritime Commission, or War Shipping Administration.

(viii) List C. No purchase order for any equipment referred to under subdivisions (v), (vi), or (vii) above will be authorized if such equipment is not to be used for a purpose described on List C (made a part of this order) as amended from time to time.

(ix) Report of orders placed under (iii), (v), (vi), and (vii) for Army, etc. On or before the 10th day of April, 1943, and the 10th day of each succeeding calendar month, each producer shall file with the War Production Board a letter, in triplicate, showing all orders accepted by him during the preceding calendar month for any new system referred to under subdivision (iii) above, or any new equipment referred to under subdivision (v) above, or any new major part (high side, compressor, turbo blower, condenser, insulated enclosure, low side, or evaporator, of any size) referred to under subdivision (vi) above, or any new equipment referred to under subdivision (vii) above, and delivered, or to be delivered, to or for the account of (and for direct use by) the Army, Navy, Maritime Commission, or War Shipping Administration. Such letter shall also state the name of the purchasing agency, the name and address of the purchasing officer, the date of acceptance of such order, the required delivery date, and a brief description of the quantity, type, and size of the equipment ordered and the purchaser's order number. Copies of such purchase orders may be filed with such letter to furnish such detailed information, in lieu of incorporating the same therein. (This reporting requirement approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with Federal Reports Act of 1942).

(x) As used in this paragraph (b) (2), the words "Army" and "Navy", shall not include any Army or Marine Corps Post Exchange or any Navy Ships Service Department.

(c) Method of securing authorization for an "authorized order." (1) (i) Application for the authorization required to make any purchase order an "authorized order" shall be made to the War Production Board by the person seeking to place such order, on Form PD-830 if the system or parts to be purchased are required for use in any cold storage warehouse, industrial or commercial ice plant, frozen food locker plant, food processing plant (except a dairy or ice cream plant requiring equipment having a capacity of five (5) horsepower or five (5) tons (ASRE specifications) or less), industrial processing of products other than food, refrigerated railroad car, truck, or ship, or any air conditioning installation of any size; and on Form PD-831, if for any other purpose.

(ii) The filing of such application shall relieve the applicant from the necessity of filing the application form required to obtain authorization for the placing or acceptance of a purchase order for any component part subject to Orders L-100, L-163, or L-172, to be included in the system covered by said application, and the inclusion of such component part in the production or delivery schedule of the manufacturer thereof.

(iii) If the system, parts, or other equipment required are for use in construction work subject to the terms of Conservation Order L-41, as amended from time to time, the application on Form PD-830 or PD-831 shall include only such materials as are necessary for installation of the system, parts, or other equipment covered thereby.

(2) The War Production Board may authorize any such order on Form PD-830 or PD-831 upon such conditions, if any, as it shall specify (except as to dates of production and delivery), and may assign a preference rating thereto or rerate any such order. Such authorization will be issued to the applicant upon one of said forms, and will be accompanied by separate authorizations for each of the component parts included therein if required under Orders L-100,

L–163, and L–172 of the War Production Board for the purposes specified, which shall be transmitted by the purchaser to his supplier, and by the latter to his suppliers of component parts when necessary for delivery of such component parts.

Nothing in this order, however, shall relieve any manufacturer from filing any periodical reports of production or delivery schedules or other operations, or from complying with any requirement or direction which may be issued by the War Production Board, as to scheduling or rescheduling of production or deliveries of any such component parts, as required by any other order of the War Production Board including Orders L–109, L–163, and L–172, or any specific directions from the War Production Board.

(3) Deliveries of any component parts covered by any such accompanying authorizations shall be made in accordance with the terms of such authorizations and the War Production Board orders pursuant to which they are respectively issued.

(d) Restrictions on production—(1) Types and uses prohibited altogether—(i) List D items. No producer shall manufacture any new system or equipment of any kind named or described on List D (made a part of this order) as amended from time to time, for delivery to any person or for any purpose.

(ii) List E items. No producer shall manufacture any new system or equipment of any kind named or described on List E (made a part of this order) as amended from time to time, except for direct use by an agency or person designated on said List and for a purpose (if any) designated thereon.

(iii) Reach-in refrigerators and walk-in coolers. No producer of reach-in refrigerators or prefabricated sectional walk-in coolers shall manufacture any such refrigerators or coolers for any purpose other than for direct use by the Army, Navy, Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration, unless manufactured entirely from parts or materials owned by such producer on April 6, 1943; except, however, that any such producer may acquire from another such producer any such parts or materials owned by the latter on such date, and may use such acquired parts or materials in such manufacture. As used in this subdivision (iii), the words "Army" and "Navy" shall not include any Army or Marine Corps Post Exchange or any Navy Ships Service Departments.

(2) Production for permitted types or uses. (i) No producer shall commence the manufacture of any compressor or turbo blower for use in any high (compression) side rated at fifty (50) horse power or fifty (50) tons (ASRE specifications) or over, unless and until such producer shall have received an "authorized order" for which compressor, turbo blower or high side or for a system in which the same is to be used or an order for such a compressor, turbo blower, or high side to be used directly by the Army, Navy, Maritime Commission, or War Shipping Administration, which has been reported by such manufacturer in accordance with paragraph (b) (2) (ix) above; and

(ii) No producer shall manufacture a greater quantity of any type of system or parts for assembly into new systems (exclusive of compressors and blowers of the sizes described under (d) (2) (i) above, and exclusive also of replacement parts described under (3) below), production of which is permitted under the terms of this order, than the following:

During the calendar quarter beginning April 1, 1943, or during any succeeding calenda quarter, no producer shall manufacture a quantity of any system or part in excess of the greater of the two quantities of such system or part determined as indicated in (a) and (b) below:

(a) The number of such new item for which the producer has on hand unfilled orders bearing a rating of AA–4 or higher; or

(b) The number of such new item delivered on order bearing a rating of A–1–J or higher during the next preceding calendar quarter.

(3) Replacement parts; protection of production schedules. (i) No producer shall manufacture replacement parts (for the repair or maintenance of systems) in such quantities that his production thereof will result in his acquiring an inventory of such parts in excess of his average monthly inventory of similar parts during the months of January, February, and March, 1941.

(ii) Producers of replacement parts under the terms of this order may, notwithstanding the provisions of the Priorities Regulation No. 1 (Part 944), schedule their production of replacement parts as if the orders therefor bore a rating of AA–1, but subject to any specific directions which may be issued by the War Production Board as to the scheduling of production or deliveries of any such parts as required by any other order of the War Production Board, or by any specific direction from the War Production Board.

(4) Restrictions on deliveries to producers. No person engaged in the production or sale of component parts or sub-assemblies designed for incorporation in any larger assembly or system shall knowingly deliver any such parts or sub-assemblies to any producer for further fabrication or assembly into larger assemblies or systems if such fabrication or assembly by such producer is prohibited by the terms of this order; and no producer shall accept delivery of any such parts ordered for a use which has been prohibited by the terms of this order unless such parts or sub-assemblies are to be used for a purpose which is not prohibited.

(e) Required utilization of replaced parts. (1) In replacing any parts permitted under paragraph (b) (1) of this order, no dealer or producer shall deliver any part made of metal to the owner of the system to be repaired, unless such owner agrees that he will deliver the old part to the dealer or producer if directed to do so by the latter, and if not so directed, that he will dispose of the old part to a scrap dealer, within 30 days after installation of the newly installed part. Any person making such an agreement with a dealer or producer shall deliver or dispose of the old part accordingly; and all such old parts obtained by a dealer or producer during any calendar quarter shall either be repaired or replaced in his inventory, or returned to his supplier of new parts, or disposed of to a scrap dealer, during or within 30 days after the end of such quarter. Provided, however, That no block tin pipe shall be replaced unless an equal quantity thereof is returned to the fabricator; but

(2) The provisions of the preceding subparagraph (1) shall not apply:

(i) Where parts are delivered for installation in any system located outside of the United States at the time of such delivery; or

(ii) Where the system requiring repair is being used directly by the Army, Navy, Maritime Commission, or War Shipping Administration; or

(iii) Where the system requiring repair is owned by any Federal, State or local governmental agency, bureau, department, or political subdivision which is prohibited by law from disposing of such replaced parts in the manner presented under the preceding subparagraph (1).

(f) Filing of report of inventories. (1) On or before the 15th day of April, 1943, every producer shall file a report on Form PD–829 showing such producer's inventories and such other information as shall be required on said form.

(g) Exemptions—(1) Certain specific transactions. (i) The following shall be exempted from the terms of paragraph (b) (1) (i):

The repair, by (a) a bottler of carbonated beverages, or (b) a manufacturer of ice cream for resale, or (c) a person engaged in the business of leasing mechanical or non-mechanical drinking water coolers, or (d) any other person owning (refrigerating) systems of any type included on List A or List B and used by such owner or his lessees for dispensing food or beverages at retail, of any such systems owned by such person, using new parts owned by him on May 15, 1942, or used parts obtained from the dismantling of any such used system owned by such person; but no parts shall be delivered by any dealer or producer to any such person for the repair of any such system except for "emergency repair service" thereto;

(ii) The following shall be exempted from the terms of paragraph (b) (2):

(a) The temporary delivery of a used system or parts to a dealer or producer for repair and redelivery to the same owner, the redelivery of a repaired system or part to the same owner, or the loan of a new or used system or parts for a period not to exceed 30 days pending the performance of "emergency repair service" to a used system or parts; or

(b) The delivery of a used system or parts for junking or scrapping; or

(c) The delivery of new or used mechanical or non-mechanical drinking water coolers owned on May 15, 1942, by any person engaged primarily in the business of leasing such water coolers, to any other person (and acceptance thereof).

(iii) The following shall be exempted from the terms of paragraphs (b) (2) and (d) (1) (i):

(a) The assembly, by any producer of single duty or double duty display cases, of any such cases, within 60 days after April 6, 1943, solely from parts which, on said date, had been fabricated or processed to the extent that use in any other type of equipment would be impracticable, if such parts were owned by such producer on said date, or were received within said period from any other such producer; and the delivery of such parts by any producer to any other producer; or

(b) The assembly by any producer of mechanical or non-mechanical drinking water coolers, of any such coolers not designed for use aboard ship, solely from parts or materials which, on April 6, 1943, had been fabricated or processed to the extent that use in any other type of equipment would be impracticable, if such parts or materials were owned by such producer on said date; or are received from any other such producer; and the delivery of any such parts or materials by any producer to any other producer.

(2) Other transactions. The following shall be exempted from paragraph (b) (2):

(i) Creation, assignment and enforcement of liens—(a) The creation, or assignment of any chattel mortgage, deed of trust, conditional sales contract or other lien on any new or used system or parts;

(b) The transfer of title to, and/or delivery of, any new or used system or parts, through voluntary act or by operation of law, in bankruptcy, receivership, or assignment, to a trustee or receiver for the benefit of creditors;

(c) The attachment or seizure of any new or used system or parts by levy or other judicial process on behalf of creditors or tax authorities, or the seizure of any such system or parts by any person upon default under the terms of a conditional sales contract, chattel mortgage or other lien (but subsequent deliveries thereof shall not be exempted).

(ii) Disposition of assets. The delivery of any new or used system or parts, whether incorporated in real estate or as separate personal property, as part of a larger transaction, such as a merger, consolidation, sale and purchase of entire assets, sale and purchase of entire stock and/or lease of plant, or similar transaction involving the transfer of all or substantially all of the assets of an enterprise, where no liquidation or dismemberment of assets is contemplated.

(iii) Transfers by will or intestacy. The delivery or transfer of any new or used system or parts by will, descent or distribution, to devisees, legatees, or distributees.

(h) Miscellaneous provisions—(1) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time, except to the extent that any provisions of this order may be inconsistent therewith, in which case such provision of this order shall govern.

(2) Records. All persons affected by this order shall keep and preserve for not less than two years accurate and complete records concerning inventories, purchases, production, and sales of systems and parts.

All records required to be kept by this order shall, upon request, be submitted to audit and inspection by duly authorized representatives of the War Production Board.

(3) Reports. All persons affected by this order shall execute and file with the War Production Board such reports and questionnaires as said Board shall from time to time request.

(4) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provisions of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, materials under priority control, and may be deprived of prioritles assistance.

(5) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order (or of Conservation Orders M-9-c or M-126 applicable to any systems, parts, or other equipment subject to the terms of this order) shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provisions appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(6) Communications. All reports to be filed and other communications concerning this order should be addressed to: War Production Board, General Industrial Equipment Division, Washington, D. C., Ref: L–38.

(i) Effective date. This order, as amended, shall become and be effective on and after April 6, 1943. It shall not affect, in any way, any liabilities or penalties accrued or incurred under General Limitation Order L–38 prior to this amendment.

Issued this 27th day of March 1943.

Part I:
1. Drinking water coolers, mechanical, not designed for use aboard ship.	Army or Navy.
2. Drinking water coolers, non-mechanical, all sizes.	Army or Navy, or under "Authorized Order" to any person.
3. Evaporative coolers, over 2,000 c. f. m.	Army or Navy.
4. Ice cream freezers, 20 quart capacity or less.	Army or Navy, for use aboard ship or in advance bases (outside the 48 States and D. C.)
5. Mortuary refrigerators	Army or Navy.
6. Portable bulk ice makers	Army or Navy.
7. Self-contained unit air conditioners, 2 h. p. or less.	Army or Navy, or under "Authorized Order" to any person.
8. Wall type display refrigerators	Army or Navy, or under "Authorized Order" to any person.

Type of equipment	Deliveries permitted for direct use by:
Part II:
a. Drinking water coolers, mechanical, designed for use aboard ship.	Army, Navy, Maritime Commission, or War Shipping Administration, for use aboard ship
b. Frozen food cabinets, low temperature, designed for use aboard ship or for use in mobile hospital units.	Army, Navy, Maritime Commission, or War Shipping Administration, for use aboard ship or for use in mobile hospital units, including but not limited to hospital cars.
c Ice cream cabinets, designed for use aboard ship	Army, Navy, Maritime Commission, or War Shipping Administration, for use aboard ship
d Soda fountains, designed for use aboard ship.	Army, Navy, Maritime Commission, or War Shipping Administration, for use aboard ship.

LIST C—ESSENTIAL USES

PURPOSES FOR WHICH REFRIGERATING OR AIR CONDITIONING SYSTEMS OR MAJOR PARTS THEREOF (OTHER THAN EQUIPMENT INCLUDED ON LISTS A, B, D, E) MAY BE PRODUCED SUBJECT TO THE TERMS OF ORDER L-38, AS AMENDED

(All purchase orders are subject to approval under Order L-38, as amended, regardless of any preference ratings assigned and will be approved only:

1. For direct military use, or
2. For any other use if new or enlarged refrigerating or air conditioning capacity are proven essential, or replacement is shown essential to the war effort. New systems in which any part of the capacity is included for air conditioning for the comfort, or to increase the efficiency of personnel, will not be approved).

Part I—Applications to materials, processes or facilities

Mining, industrial, scientific, and technical processes and operations where lowering of temperature of, or removing water vapor from air, gases, materials, or products, or where freedom from dust and other impurities are proved necessary for production, storage, transportation, operation, or repair of materials or products, or precision functioning thereof, when, and to the extent proven essential for any of the following purposes:

1. Abrasives—production.
2. Aerial topography rooms aboard ship.
3. Airplanes and parts—production and repair.
4. Airport control towers.
5. Altitude and low temperature test chambers and laboratories.
6. Ammunitions and explosives—production, storage, and transportation.
7. Blood plasma—processing, storage, and transportation.
8. Blast furnaces (dry blast)—operation.
9. Ceramics electric and dielectric—production.
10. Chemicals, including acids, gases, pigments and plastics, where new, additional or continuous productive capacity is essential—production.
11. Dairy products—processing, storage, dispensing and transportation, where essential.
12. Duplicating processes, such as, photographic, photostatic and lithographic, processing and storage.
13. Communications products—production, or operation of relay stations and exchanges.
14. Films, photographic, for military purposes—production and storage.
15. Fire control calculation rooms, underground fortifications, plotting—switch-board rooms, mine casemates, command posts and seacoast battery service magazines.
16. Foods—processing, storage, dispensing and transportation, where essential.
17. Fur cloth for military purposes—storage.
18. Glass, non-shatterable—production.
19. Ice—production and storage, where essential.
20. Laboratories—research, analytical, and testing.
21. Navigation instruments — production, storage, and repair.
22. Optical goods; such as, bomb and gun sights, range finders, telescopes and microscopes—production, storage and repair.
23. Ordnance, precision parts—production.
24. Parachute and balloon production.
25. Pharmaceuticals, drugs and biological products, necessary for life or health—production, storage and transportation.
26. Petroleum products—production, storage and transportation.
27. Plants and factories (including blackout) above ground or under ground; where it is shown that otherwise unavoidable heat, contamination of air, or variations in temperature or humidity, would seriously impair the effective use or production of precision instruments, tools, or products essential in the war effort.
28. Precision instruments, tools or products—production, storage, operation and repair.
29. Synthetic critical products—production.

Part II—Applications affecting human life or physical capacity.

a. Anesthesia units, refrigerating.
b. Above ground plants and factories (including blackout)—producing essential materials; where it is shown that otherwise unavoidable heat or contamination of air would be dangerous to health or result in intolerable working conditions; and then only to the minimum extent required.
c. Celestial navigation trainers.
d. Engine test cells.
e. Hospital rooms, stationary or portable, military or civilian, for surgical operations or critical convalescent treatment (excluding normal hospitalization), X-ray rooms and Flight Surgeons Clinics.
f. Link trainer rooms.
g. Naval vessels of all types.
h. Tanks, combat.
i. Underground mines, communication rooms, air raid shelters and plants and factories, producing essential materials, where it is shown that otherwise unavoidable heat or contamination of air would be dangerous to health or result in intolerable working conditions; and then only to the minimum extent required.
j. Waller gunnery trainers.
k. "Jam Handy" and instrument trainer buildings, for military use.

LIST D

ITEMS WHICH MAY NOT BE PRODUCED FOR ANY PURPOSE

1. Beer pre-coolers.
2. Beverage dispensers.
3. Bottled beverage coolers, mechanical.
4. Bottled beverage coolers, non-mechanical.
5. Counter and back bar refrigerators.
6. Display cases, single duty.
7. Display cases, double duty.
8. Display cases, florist.
9. Display cases, frosted food.
10. Display cases, full vision.
11. Display cases, vegetable.
12. Display cases, all other types.
13. Dough retarding refrigerators.
14. Draft beer equipment.
15. Evaporative coolers, 2,000 c. f. m. or less.
16. Florist boxes.
17. Frozen food cabinets, low temperature, not designed for use aboard ship or in mobile hospital units, including but not limited to hospital cars.
18. Ice cream cabinets, not designed for use aboard ship.
19. Ice cube makers, self-contained cabinet type.
20. Salad coolers (Bain Marie), mechanical.
21. Drinking water coolers, mechanical, not designed for use aboard ship.
22. Drinking water coolers, non-mechanical, all sizes.
23. Fountainettes.
24. Soda fountains, not designed for use aboard ship.
25. Self-contained unit air conditioners 2 h. p. or less.
26. Wall type display refrigerators.
27. Farm freezers (for the freezing and storing of food on a farm).

LIST E

ITEMS WHICH MAY BE PRODUCED ONLY FOR SPECIFIC PURCHASERS AND OR PURPOSES

Type of Equipment:	Production Permitted for Direct Use By:
1. Drinking water coolers, mechanical, designed for use aboard ship	Army, Navy, Maritime Commission, or War Shipping Administration.
2. Frozen food cabinets, low temperature, designed for use aboard ship or for use in mobile hospital units.	Army, Navy, Maritime Commission, or War Shipping Administration, for use aboard ship or for use in mobile hospital units including but not limited to hospital cars.
3. Ice cream cabinets, designed for use aboard ship.	Army, Navy, Maritime Commission, or War Shipping Administration for use aboard ship.
4. Ice cream freezers, 20 quart capacity or less.	Army or Navy, for use aboard ship or advanced bases.
5. Evaporative coolers, over 2,000 c. f. m.	Army or Navy.
6. Mortuary refrigerators	Army or Navy.
7. Portable bulk ice makers	Army or Navy.
8. Soda fountains, designed for use aboard ship.	Army, Navy, Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration for use aboard ship.

LIST F

"Comfort cooling system" means any system of any size, operated or installed for the purpose of lowering the temperature and/or humidity of air in any building, room or other enclosure used as, or located in any of the following:

Amusement parks.
Animal hospitals.
Auditoriums.
Ballrooms, dancing studios, and dance halls.
Banks and loan associations.
Bars, cocktail lounges, and beer parlors.
Bowling alleys.
Concert halls.
Funeral parlors.
Golf clubs, country clubs, and athletic clubs.
Hotels and apartment houses.
Moving picture houses.
Night clubs.
Office buildings and offices, public or private.
Railway, streetcar and bus stations and terminals.
Residental buildings and dwellings of all kinds.
Restaurants, cafeterias, and other places selling meals, food or beverages.
Schools.
Service establishments, such as laundries, cleaners and dyers, tailor shops, barber shops, "beauty" parlors, automobile sales and service shops, and repair shops of all kinds.
Skating rinks.
Stores, selling any kind of products, material or merchandise, at retail or wholesale (excluding manufacturing establishments).
Theaters.

The term "comfort cooling system" shall not include (i) any such system used to air condition a building, room or other enclosure used chiefly for purposes not listed above, or (ii) any system designed, necessary and used, in substantial part for the refrigeration and storage or processing of food, ice (except in skating rinks), or other materials or products requiring refrigeration, temperature control, or freedom from dust or other impurities, or (iii) such part of a system as may be necessary and used for the circulation of air, or necessary and used for raising the temperature of air during cold weather to a degree which is comfortable or tolerable for persons (comfort heating).

PART 1071—INDUSTRIAL AND COMMERCIAL REFRIGERATION AND AIR-CONDITIONING MACHINERY AND EQUIPMENT

[Limitation Order L-126 as Amended March 27, 1943]

ISSUANCE OF REQUIRED SPECIFICATIONS SCHEDULES

Section 1071.2 Limitation Order L-126 is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of iron, steel, copper, brass, bronze and other critical materials for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense;

§ 1071.2 Limitation Order L-126—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this order and all schedules issued pursuant thereto:

(1) "System" means any refrigerating or air conditioning system consisting of an assembly or combination of machinery, equipment, or other apparatus designed primarily to lower the temperature of, or remove water vapor from gaseous, liquid or solid matter, directly or indirectly, by mechanical, chemical, or physical means. The term shall not include a domestic mechanical refrigerator as defined in paragraph (a) (2) or a domestic ice refrigerator as defined in paragraph (a) (3) of this order.

(2) "Domestic mechanical refrigerator" means any refrigerator for household use which operates either by compression or absorption and which has a net capacity of 16 cubic feet or less (National Electric Manufacturing Association rating) but does not include any low temperature mechanical refrigerator designed for the storage of frozen foods or for the quick freezing of food where the low temperature compartment customarily operates at a temperature of not higher than 15 degrees above zero Fahrenheit and contains 75% or more of the total refrigerating space in the refrigerator.

(3) "Domestic ice refrigerator" means any non-mechanical ice chest or ice box for home use.

(5) "Required specifications" means specifications fixed for systems or parts to eliminate, reduce, or conserve the use of critical materials in such systems or parts, by standardizing the systems or parts, or specifying the operating conditions under which such systems or parts may be used, or by restricting the number of sizes, types, models or forms produced or kinds or quantities of materials used by a producer, or requiring substitution of less critical materials for more critical materials, or establishing other requirements for the manufacture, sale, delivery, installation, or use of such systems or parts.

(6) "Copper" means unalloyed copper metal. It shall include unalloyed copper metal produced from scrap.

(8) "Advanced base" means any place outside of the 48 states of the United States and the District of Columbia.

(b) Issuance of schedules of required specifications. The War Production Board may from time to time issue schedules establishing required specifications. Upon and after the issuance of any such schedule, no person shall manufacture, assemble, sell, deliver, or install any new system or new parts except in accordance with the terms of such schedule, and no person shall purchase, receive, install, or use any new system or new parts which he knows or has reason to believe were not manufactured, assembled, sold, delivered, or installed in accordance with the terms of such schedule.

(c) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order, and from the provisions of Conservation Orders M-9-c or M-126 that may be applicable to any system, parts, or other equipment subject to the terms of this order, shall be made by filing one letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(d) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time, except to the extent that any provision of this order may be inconsistent therewith, in which case such provision of this order shall govern.

(e) Communications. All reports to be filed and other communications concerning this order should be addressed to: War Production Board, General Industrial Equipment Division, Washington, D. C., Ref: L-126.

(f) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

Issued this 27th day of March 1943.

PART 1071—INDUSTRIAL AND COMMERCIAL REFRIGERATION AND AIR CONDITIONING MACHINERY AND EQUIPMENT

[Schedule I to Limitation Order L-126, as Amended March 27, 1943]

REQUIRED SPECIFICATIONS FOR SELF-CONTAINED DRINKING WATER COOLERS

Section 1071.3 Schedule I to Limitation Order L-126 is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

§ 1071.3 Schedule I to Limitation Order L-126—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this schedule:

(1) "Producer" means any person who produces, manufactures, processes, fabricates or assembles self-contained drinking water coolers for supplying drinking water for human consumption.

(2) "Self-contained" means a single cabinet or housing for a drinking water cooler containing or manufactured to contain two or more of the following assemblies:

(i) Water cooling low side or evaporator with or without controls.

(ii) Bubbler valve fountain assembly or assemblies, or glass- or pitcher-filler assembly or assemblies.

(iii) Electric refrigeration condensing unit with or without controls.

(3) "Bubbler type" means any type of self-contained drinking water cooler which is designed primarily for supplying drinking water through or by means of a sanitary bubbler or drinking fountain.

(4) "Design of cabinet enclosure" means a particular combination of cabinet enclosure or housing, low side or evaporator, drain receptor or receptors, bubbler valve assemblies, and glass or pitcher filler assemblies. Any change in the size or location of any of these items constitutes a change in design.

(b) Required specifications. Pursuant to Limitation Order L-126 the following required specifications are hereby established for self-contained drinking water coolers:

(1) Types, sizes, and capacities. The following types, sizes, and capacities of self-contained drinking water coolers are hereby established:

TYPE A—ELECTRIC BUBBLER STORAGE TYPE (FOR MARINE AND NAVY USE ABOARD SHIP—AIR-COOLED)

Size	Capacity, minimum	Peak load capacity in 15 minute period, minimum	Maximum fixture equipment authorized
5	5 g. p. h.	1.87 gals.	1 bubbler assembly and 1 glass filler
10	10 g. p. h.	3.75 gals.	2 bubbler assemblies and 1 glass-filler.
20	20 g. p. h.	7.50 gals.	2 bubbler assemblies and 1 glass-filler.

NOTE. Type A cooler capacities are based on the use of a waste water pre-cooler using 60° spill. The above specified capacities are based on an ambient temperature of 100° F. while reducing water from 100° F. inlet to 50° F outlet drinking water.

(2) Restrictions of materials. (i) In the manufacture of self-contained drinking water coolers, no producer shall use:

(a) Aluminum;

(b) Block tin tubing, or tin coatings;

(c) Alloy steel, stainless steel, monel, or other nickel alloy metals, except in refrigerant and electric controls, and then only provided that such use is limited to the minimum amount practicable;

(ii) In the manufacture of self-contained drinking water coolers (exclusive of condensing units, motors, controls, and wiring) no producer shall use copper or copper base alloy except in the following parts:

(a) Low sides,
(b) Pre-coolers,
(c) Bubblers,
(d) Water valves,
(e) Water lines,
(f) Liquid and suction lines,
(g) Refrigerant or temperature controls,
(h) Glass- or pitcher-fillers; and the aggregate weight of copper or copper base alloy used in all of such parts contained in any such water coolers shall not exceed the respective maximum quantity set forth below:

TYPE A—ELECTRIC

Size—	Lbs.
10	15

(c) General restrictions. (1) On and after July 3, 1942, no producer may produce more than one design of cabinet enclosure for any one type and size cooler as established in paragraph (b);

(2) On and after April 6, 1943, no self-contained drinking water coolers which do not conform to the type, sizes and capacities established by paragraph (b) hereof shall be produced or delivered by any producer or accepted by any person from such producer.

(3) The foregoing subparagraphs (1) and (2) shall not prohibit:

(i) The delivery by a producer of such self-contained drinking water coolers (and the acceptance thereof) as were in his stock in finished form on July 3, 1942, or the assembly and delivery of such coolers solely from parts which had on said date been cast, fabricated, formed, or processed in such manner that their manufacture or assembly in conformity with this schedule would be impractical; or the delivery of any parts, so fabricated on said date, by any producer to any other producer.

(ii) The production, delivery, and acceptance of self-contained drinking water coolers, for use aboard ship, delivered within 90 days after April 6, 1943, to or for the account of, and for direct use by, the United States Army or Navy, the Maritime Commission, or the War Shipping Administration, to the extent that applicable specifications of any such organization require construction, design, or materials not in accordance with the provisions of this schedule.

(iii) The delivery by a producer (and the acceptance thereof) of such self-contained drinking water coolers, designated as Type B, Type C, or Type D, described in paragraph (b) (1) of this Schedule I as it read prior to April 6, 1943, as were in his stock in finished form on such date, or the assembly and delivery of such coolers solely from parts which had on said date been cast, fabricated, formed, or processed in such manner that their manufacture or assembly in conformity with this schedule would be impractical (or the acceptance of such coolers from such a producer).

(d) Effective date. This amendment shall become and be effective on and after April 6, 1943.

Issued this 27th day of March 1943.

PART 1071—INDUSTRIAL AND COMMERCIAL REFRIGERATION AND AIR CONDITIONING MACHINERY AND EQUIPMENT

[Schedule II to Limitation Order L-126 as Amended March 27, 1943]

REQUIRED SPECIFICATIONS FOR REFRIGERATION CONDENSING UNITS

Section 1071.4 Schedule II to Limitation Order L-126 is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 1071.4 Schedule II to Limitation Order L-126—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this schedule:

(1) "Producer" means any person who produces, manufactures, processes, fabricates or assembles refrigeration condensing units.

(2) "Refrigeration condensing unit" means a specific refrigerating machine combination, of the open type intended for remote installation, usually consisting of a compressor, receiver, base, and the usually furnished accessories, with or without motor, and with or without condenser. As used in this schedule, the term refrigeration condensing unit refers only to such units which are to be used in a "system" as defined in paragraph (a) (1) of Limitation Order No. L-126.

(3) "Open type" refrigeration condensing unit means that type of unit in which the motive power and compressor are interconnected in such a way that a refrigerant shaft seal is necessary.

(4) "Model" means a specific combination of the following items in a refrigeration condensing unit:

(i) Base.
(ii) Valves.
(iii) Condenser.
(iv) Number of cylinders.
(v) Bore and stroke.
(vi) Motor (H. P. rating).

Any change in the size or capacity of any one of the above items constitutes a change in model, except that conversion of a water cooled to an evaporatively cooled condensing unit does not constitute such a change in model.

(5) "Compressor body" means that part of a compressor which consists of a specific combination of bore, stroke, valve, and cylinder.

(6) "Duplex condensing unit" means any refrigeration condensing unit consisting of two or more compressors which are powered by one or more motors mounted on a common base, and which discharge into a common condenser.

(7) "Lend-lease country" means the government of any foreign country receiving aid pursuant to the Act of March 11, 1941, entitled "An Act to Promote the Defense of the United States" (Lend-Lease Act).

(8) "Sealed type" refrigeration condensing unit means that type of unit in which the motive power and compressor are located within the same enclosure in such a way that a refrigerant shaft seal is not necessary.

(b) Required specifications. Pursuant to Limitation Order L-126, the following required specifications are hereby established for refrigeration condensing units:

(1) No producer shall:

(i) Manufacture any refrigeration condensing units in sizes below $\frac{1}{6}$ h.p.

(ii) Manufacture any refrigeration condensing units up to and including 2 h.p., except in air-cooled condensing models. Provided, however, That water cooled condensing units below 3 h.p. may be produced for:

(a) Installations in which the condensing unit must operate in an ambient temperature of 110° F. or higher;

(b) Installations in which the condensing unit must operate within a substantially air-tight room or enclosure, such as a photographic or X-ray developing room;

(c) Installations in which the condensing unit is designed to operate at a refrigerant suction temperature below minus 40° F. and the unit is used as a part of a system for a low temperature test cabinet.

(iii) Manufacture any refrigeration condensing units above 2 h. p., except in water cooled and evaporatively cooled models. Provided, That a 3 h. p. air-cooled unit for (prefabricated sectional) walk-in refrigerators for direct use by the Army of the United States may be produced.

(iv) Manufacture any duplex condensing units up to and including 20 h. p., except for multi-stage applications;

(v) Manufacture or assemble more types of basic compressor bodies than a number equal to one-half, or less, the total number of types (by horse power rating) of refrigeration condensing units being produced by him (excluding units completed under paragraph (c) (1) (ii)), except that a person producing only one type may continue to produce one basic compressor body.

(vi) Manufacture more than one refrigeration condensing unit model or more than one sealed type of refrigeration condensing unit in any given horse power rating for the suction temperature brackets of 5° F., 20° F., and 40° F., respectively, and for each of the following refrigerant classifications:

Ammonia
Carbon dioxide
Freon, methyl chloride, sulphur dioxide:

Except that, where the refrigeration condensing unit is to be operated at suction temperatures below minus 10° F., the use of motors of larger horse power rating shall not be deemed a change in model.

(vii) Deliver any refrigeration condensing unit, or the belt-driven type, unless it includes a motor pulley and belt drive at the time of shipment.

(viii) Manufacture any refrigeration condensing unit in a h. p. rating not produced by him before May 1, 1942, nor manufacture any unit which is designed to use a refrigerant not used by him prior to May 1, 1942; or

(ix) Use any metals in the construction of the base of any refrigeration condensing unit, as herein described, or of any other types of condensing unit of either the open type or sealed type and whether intended for remote installation or not, employing a motor of 2 horse power and below, or a motor of above 20 horse power except that ferrous metals may be used for necessary bolts, washers, nuts, straps, sole plates, pipe sleeves, and adjustable motor rails: Provided, That the restrictions in this subdivision (ix) shall not apply to any such condensing units, of any types, for use in aircraft by the Army or Navy of the United States or for use aboard ship or at advanced bases by the Army or Navy of the United States, the Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration.

(x) Use any metals in the construction of the fan shroud of any air-cooled refrigeration condensing unit employing a motor of 2 horse power and below except that ferrous metals may be used for necessary bolts, washers, nuts and straps: Provided, That the restrictions in this subdivision (x) shall not apply to any such condensing units for use aboard ship.

(xi) Manufacture or assemble more types of basic compressor bodies, for other than the open type intended for remote installations, than permitted under paragraph (b) (1) (v) of this schedule.

(xii) Use any copper or copper base alloy pipe or tubing for interconnecting refrigerant lines larger than $\frac{3}{4}$" size (O. D.), except for use aboard ship and at advanced bases, by the Army or Navy of the United States, the Maritime Commission or the War Shipping Administration.

(c) Applicability of order. (1) The required specifications established by paragraph (b) hereof shall apply to all refrigeration condensing units: Provided, however, That the foregoing shall not prohibit:

(i) The production, fabrication, delivery, acceptance, or installation of refrigeration condensing units, the plans of which have already been drawn and accepted by or for the account of the Army or Navy of the United States, the Maritime Commission, the War Shipping Administration, or Lend-Lease countries, and

(ii) The delivery by a producer of any refrigeration condensing units (or the acceptance thereof) which were in his stock in finished form on July 3, 1942, or which had on said date been cast, machined, or otherwise processed in such manner that their manufacture in conformance with this schedule would be impractical.

(d) Effective date. This amendment shall become and be effective on and after April 6, 1943.

Issued this 27th day of March 1943.

PART 1071—INDUSTRIAL AND COMMERCIAL REFRIGERATION AND AIR CONDITIONING MACHINERY AND EQUIPMENT

[Schedule III to Limitation Order L-126, as Amended March 27, 1943]

REQUIRED SPECIFICATIONS FOR COIL OR TUBE ASSEMBLIES FOR REFRIGERATION CONDENSERS OR COOLERS

Section 1071.5 Schedule III to Limitation Order L-126 is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 1071.5 Schedule III to Limitation Order L-126—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of the schedule:

(1) "Producer" means any person who produces, manufactures, processes, fabricates or assembles any coil or tube assemblies for refrigeration condensers or coolers.

(2) A "coil or tube assembly for condensers" means an assembly used in a refrigerating or air conditioning "system" as defined in paragraph (a) (1) of Limitation Order No. L-126 consisting of any arrangement of pipes, tubing, pressure vessels, or plates by means of which heat is removed from the vaporized refrigerant.

(3) A "coil or tube assembly for coolers" means an assembly used in a refrigerating or air conditioning "system" as defined in paragraph (a) (1) of Limitation Order No. L-126 consisting of any arrangement of pipes, tubing, pressure vessels, or plates by means of which heat is absorbed by either a volatile refrigerant or a non-volatile medium such as water.

(4) "Protective coating" means a surface coating applied to any or all parts of a "coil or tube assembly for condensers or coolers" for the purpose of retarding or preventing corrosion.

(5) "Integral fin tubing" means finned tubing, the fins and tubes of which are formed from the same piece of metal by extrusion or by any machine operation.

(6) "Metallic fin bond" means a tie between tubing and fins obtained through the use of a metallic base substance usually applied with heat. The fin surface of integral fin tubing shall be considered as having a metallic fin bond.

(7) "Mechanical fin bond" means a tie obtained between tubing and fins by physical contact and without the use of a metallic base substance.

(8) "Fin height" means the distance from the outside of a pipe or tube to the nearest outside edge of the fin.

(9) "Return bend" means a semi-circular section of tubing or pipe used to join parallel runs of tubing or pipe.

(10) "Lend-lease country" means the government of any foreign country receiving aid pursuant to the Act of March 11, 1941, entitled "An Act to Promote the Defense of the United States" (Lend-Lease Act).

(b) Required specifications. Pursuant to Limitation Order No. L-126, the following required specifications are hereby established for coil or tube assemblies for condensers or coolers:

(1) In the manufacture of any coil or tube assembly for condensers or of any coil or tube assembly for coolers, no producer shall, except for use aboard ship,

(i) Use any non-ferrous metals, except for soldering or brazing materials for protective coatings, or for any coil or tube assembly for water cooled condensers as defined in paragraph (b) (3) of this schedule.

(ii) Use any seamless steel tubing, except

(a) To form integral fin tubing, or

(b) That which has been made into return bends but only if the radius thereof is less than $1\frac{1}{2}$ times the outside diameter of such tubing and the straight extensions thereof are not longer than

2 times the outside diameter of such tubing; or

(iii) Use any steel tubing (other than integral fin tubing) of wall thickness greater than the following:

	Wall thickness maximum inch
(a) Up to & including $\frac{3}{8}$''	0 028
(b) Over $\frac{3}{8}$'' up to & including $\frac{1}{2}$''	.035
(c) Over $\frac{1}{2}$'' up to & including $\frac{3}{4}$''	.049
(d) Over $\frac{3}{4}$'' up to & including 1''	.065
(e) Over 1'' up to & including $1\frac{1}{4}$''	.083
(f) Over $1\frac{1}{4}$'' up to & including 2''	.095
(g) Over 2'' up to & including $2\frac{1}{2}$''	.120

Provided, That where external refrigerant working pressures exceed 400 lbs. per sq. in. gauge, a producer may use a wall thickness in excess of the foregoing but not to exceed the thickness being used by him on September 2, 1942.

(2) In the manufacture of any coil or tube assembly for air-cooled condensers no producer shall

(i) Except for use aboard ship, use finned tubing (other than integral fin tubing) having an average fin thickness to the nearest U. S. standard gauge in excess of 4% of the fin height, or a maximum of 0.023'', whichever is smaller;

(ii) Except for use aboard ship, use a metallic protective coating (other than paint) where a mechanical fin bond is employed;

(iii) Use a protective coating containing more than 7% tin where a metallic fin bond is employed;

(3) In the manufacture of any coil or tube assembly for water-cooled condensers, no producer shall, except for use aboard ship

(i) Use more than 7 lbs. of non-ferrous metals per condensing unit nominal horse power for all self-contained refrigeration condensing units: Provided however, That where, for the purpose of simplification, one condenser is designed to be used with either of two or more self-contained condensing units, not more than 9.0 lbs. of non-ferrous metals per condensing unit nominal horse power of the smaller unit may be used.

(ii) Use more non-ferrous metals per ton of refrigeration, for other than self-contained condensing unit condenser assemblies, than the following:

7 lbs. per ton of refrigeration for systems having saturated refrigerant vapor suction temperatures above 30° F.

8 lbs. per ton of refrigeration for systems having saturated refrigerant vapor suction temperatures from 0° to 30° F., inclusive.

9 lbs. per ton of refrigeration for systems having saturated refrigerant vapor suction temperatures below 0° F.

"Ton of refrigeration", as here used, means the removal of heat, at the low side, at the rate of 12,000 B. T. U. per hour; total tons to be based on the design operating load of the low side connected to the condensing unit or units with which the condenser is used.

(4) In the manufacture of any coil or tube assembly for evaporatively cooled condensers, no producer shall:

(i) Use finned tubing (other than integral fin tubing) having an average fin thickness to the nearest U. S. standard gauge in excess of 4% of the fin height, or a maximum of 0.023'', whichever is smaller; or

(ii) Use a combination protective coating and metallic fin bond containing more than 7% tin.

(5) In the manufacture of any cooler coil or tube assembly for air-cooling, no producer shall:

(i) Use a metallic protective coating containing more than 7% tin, except that when the coil is used in food storage and the air passing over the coil is in direct contact with the food a hot-dipped galvanized coating or a coating containing not more than 35% tin may be used, and except also that for use aboard ship in connection with food storage the use of protective metallic coatings is not restricted by this paragraph; or

(ii) Use finned tubing (other than integral fin tubing) having an average fin thickness to the nearest U. S. standard gauge in excess of 4% of the fin height, or a maximum of 0.023'', whichever is smaller.

(c) Applicability of order. (1) The required specifications established by paragraph (b) (1) to (5) inclusive, shall not prohibit:

(i) The production, fabrication, delivery, acceptance, or installation of coil or tube assemblies, the plans of which had on September 2, 1942, been drawn and accepted by or for the account of the Army or Navy of the United States, the Maritime Commission, the War Shipping Administration, or Lend-Lease countries, or

(ii) The use (in the production or fabrication of, or the delivery, acceptance, or installation of coil or tube assemblies for condensers or coolers) of any of the following materials in a producer's possession or control or in transit to a producer on September 2, 1942:

(a) Steel tubing.

(b) Coil or tube assemblies which on said date were in finished form or the parts for which had on said date been cast, machined or otherwise processed in such manner that the manufacture of such assemblies in conformance with this Schedule III would be impractical.

(d) Effective date. This amendment shall become and be effective on and after April 6, 1943.

Issued this 27th day of March 1943.

PART 1071—INDUSTRIAL AND COMMERCIAL REFRIGERATION AND AIR CONDITIONING MACHINERY AND EQUIPMENT

[Schedule IV to Limitation Order L-126]

REQUIRED SPECIFICATIONS FOR REFRIGERATION VALVES, FITTINGS, ACCESSORIES, AND OTHER PARTS

§ 1071.6 Schedule IV to Limitation Order L-126—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this schedule:

(1) "Producer" means any person who produces, manufactures, processes, fabricates or assembles valves, fittings, accessories or parts to be used in a refrigerating or air conditioning "system", as defined in paragraph (a) (1) of Limitation Order No. L-126.

(2) "Valve" means any valve to be used in a refrigerating or air conditioning "system."

(3) "Fitting" means any fitting to be used in a refrigerating or air conditioning "system" excluding wrought copper solder type fittings and pipe fittings other than hexagonal pipe bushings and hexagonal pipe plugs.

(4) "Accessory" means any accessory, assembly or part to be used in a refrigerating or air conditioning "system."

(5) "Part" means any part designed for use in any refrigerating or air conditioning "system", if fabricated in whole or in part from corrosion-resistant or heat-resistant alloy iron or alloy steel, containing 4 per cent or more by weight of chromium.

(b) Required specifications. Pursuant to Limitation Order No. L-126 the following required specifications are hereby established for valves, fittings, accessories, and parts:

(1) In the production of valves, no producer shall use non-ferrous metals, except for:

(i) Valves of the types and in the sizes named and described in List A issued with this schedule, and

(ii) Valve seats, gaskets, bonnets, discs, disc screws, and plating of valve stems, for use in valves of the types and in the sizes named and described on List B issued with this schedule.

(2) In the production of fittings, no producer shall use any non-ferrous metals except for fittings of the types and in the sizes named and described on List C issued with this schedule.

(3) In the production of accessories, no producer shall use any non-ferrous metals for any accessories of the types named on List D issued with this schedule, except for bulbs, bellows, screens, gaskets, small moving parts and capillary tubing less than $\frac{1}{4}$'' (O. D.).

(4) In the production of liquid indicators, manifold tubes or bars, strainers, dehydrators, and filters, designed for use in any system, no producer shall use any ferrous or non-ferrous metal except for such items of the types and in the sizes named and described on List E issued with this schedule.

(5) In the production of parts, no producer shall use any corrosion-resistant or heat-resistant alloy iron or alloy steel, containing 4 per cent or more by weight of chromium, except for the following:

(i) Diaphragm, needle, seat, and push pins of refrigeration expansion valves, and

(ii) Small moving, contact, or orifice parts where corrosion or erosion make it impossible to use parts made from other materials, including such parts in diaphragm relief valves, suction pressure regulators, solenoid valves, cartridge relief valves, and float regulator valves, and then only to the extent necessary.

(6) In the production of the items named and described in the following numbered sections of the lists issued with this schedule, no producer shall produce a greater number of types, sizes, forms, or designs than are designated in such sections: List A, Sections 6 and 13; List B, Section 3; List E, Section 3.

(c) Applicability of this schedule. (1) The required specifications established by subparagraphs (1) to (5) inclusive, of paragraph (b) shall not apply to, or prohibit the production, fabrication, delivery, acceptance or installation of:

(i) Valves, fittings, and accessories which are not named on said Lists A, B, C, D, or E or not included in the sizes listed on said lists, if for use aboard ship or at advanced bases by the Army or Navy of the United States, the Maritime Commission, or the War Shipping Administration.

(ii) Valves, fittings, and accessories for delivery to or for the account of, and for direct use by, the Army, Navy, Maritime Commission, or War Shipping Administration, delivered within 90 days after April 6, 1943, to the extent that any applicable specifications of any such organization require construction, design or materials not in accordance with the provisions of this schedule.

(iii) Valves, fittings, and accessories not in conformity with paragraph (b) of this schedule, from parts which were in process of fabrication or in the form of forgings on April 6, 1943, during a period of 60 days only following said date.

(iv) Compressor valves and angle valves in sizes and types not on List A or List B, to be used for repair and maintenance only, using either ferrous or non-ferrous metals.

(d) Effective date. This schedule shall become and be effective on and after April 6, 1943

Issued this 27th day of March 1943.

PART 1071—INDUSTRIAL AND COMMERCIAL REFRIGERATION AND AIR CONDITIONING MACHINERY AND EQUIPMENT

[Schedule V to Limitation Order L-126]

REQUIRED SPECIFICATIONS FOR COMMERCIAL REACH-IN AND WALK-IN (PRE-FABRICATED SECTIONAL) REFRIGERATORS

§ 1071.7 Schedule V to Limitation Order L-126—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this schedule:

(1) "Producer" means any person who produces, manufactures, processes, fabricates or assembles commercial reach-in or walk-in (pre-fabricated sectional) refrigerators.

(2) "Commercial reach-in refrigerator" means an insulated enclosure designed for non-mechanical (iced) refrigeration or mechanical refrigeration and furnished with or without low (pressure) side or high (pressure) side, having one or more service doors, and of such dimensions that the products to be refrigerated are within convenient reach of a person outside of the enclosure. This term does not include:

(i) A domestic mechanical refrigerator as defined in paragraph (a) (4) hereof, or

(ii) A domestic ice refrigerator as defined in paragraph (a) (5) hereof, or

(iii) Enclosures that contain facilities for the primary purpose of displaying the products refrigerated, or

(iv) Enclosures designed for the storage of frozen food or the quick freezing of food.

(3) "Commercial walk-in refrigerator" means a pre-fabricated or sectional insulated enclosure, designed for non-mechanical (iced) refrigeration or mechanical refrigeration and furnished with or without low (pressure) side or high (pressure) side, having one or more entrance doors and of such dimensions that the products to be refrigerated, or the major portion thereof, are not within convenient reach of a person outside of the enclosure. The term does not include enclosures designed for the storage of frozen food or the quick freezing of food.

(4) "Domestic mechanical refrigerator" means any refrigerator for household use which operated either by compression or absorption and which has a net capacity of 16 cubic feet or less (National Electric Manufacturing Association rating) but does not include any low temperature mechanical refrigerator designed for the storage of frozen food or the quick freezing of food where the low temperature compartment customarily operates at a temperature of not higher than 15 degrees above zero Fahrenheit and contains 75% or more of the total refrigerating space in the refrigerator.

(5) "Domestic ice refrigerator" means any non-mechanical ice chest or ice box for home use.

(b) Required specifications. Pursuant to Limitation Order L-126, the following required specifications are hereby established for commercial reach-in and walk-in refrigerators:

(1) No producer shall:

(i) Manufacturer any commercial reach-in refrigerators except in the following sizes:

Approximate inside volume cu. ft.	Shelf area sq. ft.	Outside dimensions: Width	Depth	Height	No. of service doors
20	30	56"	28"	80"	2
45	60	69"	39"	80"	4
85	100	115"	31"	80"	8

Provided, That a variance of 1/4" from the width, depth, and height, and a corresponding variance in the inside volume, shall be permissible, and the condensing units used in each of said sizes shall be contained within such refrigerators ("self-contained").

(ii) Manufacture any commercial walk-in refrigerators except in the following sizes:

Size (outside)	Number of service doors	Number of walk-in or entrance doors
6' x 6' x 7'6" high	2	1
6' x 8' x 7'6" high	3	1
8' x 8' x 7'6" high	None	1
8' x 10' x 7'6" high	None	1
8' x 12' x 7'6" high	None	2
8' x 14' x 7'6" high	None	2
8' x 16' x 7'6" high	None	3
8' x 18' x 7'6" high	None	3

(iii) Use any non-ferrous metals in the manufacture of commercial reach-in and walk-in refrigerators except for the following, when used, (and when not prohibited by the terms of any other order or any other schedule issued pursuant to Limitation Order L-126):

(a) High (pressure) side or condensing unit,
(b) Refrigerant connections between high (pressure) side and low (pressure) side,
(c) Electric current carrying apparatus,
(d) Controls and valves, or
(e) Galvanized coating on ice bunker, (in non-mechanical types).

(iv) Use any ferrous metals in the manufacture of commercial reach-in and walk-in refrigerators except for the following, when used, (and when not prohibited by the terms of any other order or any other schedule issued pursuant to Limitation Order L-126):

(a) High (pressure) side or condensing unit.
(b) Low (pressure) side or evaporator,
(c) Bolts, nuts, washers, nails, screws, door hinges, door fasteners, and meat hooks,
(d) Drains and drip pans,
(e) Thresholds,
(f) Ice bunkers, (in non-mechanical types),
(g) Floors clad with metal not heavier than 22 gauge, or
(h) Wire mesh for rodent proofing.

(c) Applicability of order. (1) The required specifications established by paragraph (b) (1) shall not prohibit:

(i) The production, delivery, and acceptance of commercial reach-in refrigerators, which are not in conformity with paragraph (b) of this schedule for use aboard ship by the United States Army or Navy, the Maritime Commission, or the War Shipping Administration, or

(ii) The production, delivery and acceptance of commercial walk-in refrigerators, which are not in conformity with paragraph (b) of this schedule for use aboard ship or at advanced bases by the Army or Navy of the United States, the Maritime Commission or the War Shipping Administration.

(iii) The production, delivery, and acceptance of commercial reach-in and walk-in refrigerators delivered within 90 days, after April 6, 1943, to or for the account of, and for direct use of the United States Army or Navy, the Maritime Commission or the War Shipping Administration to the extent that applicable specifications of any such organization require construction, design or materials not in accordance with the provisions of this schedule, or

(iv) The delivery and acceptance of commercial reach-in and walk-in refrigerators which were in a producer's stock in finished form on April 6, 1943.

(v) The production, delivery, and acceptance of commercial reach-in and walk-in refrigerators produced from fabricated parts which were in a producer's stock on April 6, 1943.

(d) Effective date. This schedule shall become and be effective on and after April 6, 1943.

Issued this 27th day of March 1943.

PART 1071—INDUSTRIAL AND COMMERCIAL REFRIGERATION AND AIR CONDITIONING MACHINERY AND EQUIPMENT

[Schedule VI to Limitation Order L-126]

REQUIRED SPECIFICATIONS FOR REFRIGERANT AND SERVICE CONNECTIONS

§ 1071.8 Schedule VI to Limitation Order L-126—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this schedule:

(1) "Refrigerant connections" means any pipe or tubing joining an evaporator, compressor, condenser, or receiver in the same refrigeration or air conditioning system. As used in this schedule, the term "refrigerant connection" refers only to such connections to be used in a "system" as defined in paragraph (a) (1) of Limitation Order No. L-126.

(2) "Service connection" means any pipe or tubing joining any part of a refrigeration or air conditioning system to a water or drain outlet. As used in this schedule, the term "service connection" refers only to such connections to be used in connection with a "system" as defined in paragraph (a) (1) of Limitation Order No. L-126.

(3) "Self-contained" means any refrigeration or air conditioning system where the high (pressure) side and low (pressure) side are contained within the same enclosure in such a manner that the complete system can be removed from the premises without disconnecting any refrigerant containing part.

(b) Required specifications. Pursuant to Limitation Order L-126, the following required specifications are hereby established for refrigerant and service connections:

(1) No person shall use copper or copper base alloy pipe or tubing for:

(i) Any refrigerant connection, except that such pipe or tubing not larger than 3/4" size (O.D.) may be used, in a "self-contained" system, or as permitted in subparagraph (b) (1) (xii) of Schedule II to Limitation Order L-126, or where such refrigerant connection does not exceed fifteen (15) feet in length; or

(ii) Any service connections.

(c) Applicability of order. (1) The required specifications established by paragraph (b) (1) of this schedule shall apply to all refrigerant and service connections: Provided, however, That the foregoing shall not prohibit:

(i) The use of copper or copper base alloy pipe or tubing for refrigerant or service connections on refrigeration or air conditioning systems to be used aboard ship or at advanced bases by the Army or Navy of the United States, the Maritime Commission, or the War Shipping Administration; or

(ii) The use of copper or copper base alloy pipe or tubing for refrigerant or service connections on refrigeration or air conditioning systems, the plans of which had on April 6, 1943, been drawn and accepted by or for the account of the Army or Navy of the United States, the Maritime Commission, or the War Shipping Administration, to the extent that such plans require construction, design or materials not in accordance with the provisions of this schedule.

(d) Effective date. This schedule shall become and be effective on and after April 6, 1943.

Issued this 27th day of March 1943.

PART 1074—VITAMIN A

[Limitation Order L-40, as Amended March 27, 1943]

Whereas national defense requirements for vitamin A have created a shortage thereof for defense, for private account and for export, and it is necessary in the public interest and to promote the defense of the United States, to conserve the supply and direct the distribution thereof; and

Whereas reduction in the quantities of vitamin A consumed in the manufacture of multivitamin preparations for human consumption and in the manufacture of poultry, cattle, fur-bearing or other animal feed in the manner and to the extent hereinafter provided, can be effected without impairing the effectiveness of such preparations or feeds. Now, therefore, it is hereby ordered, That:

§ 1074.1 General Limitation Order L-40—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Vitamin A" shall include vitamin A and its "pro-vitamins" such as carotenes and cryptoxanthin derived from plant, animal, fish or marine animal sources.

(2) "Fish liver oils" shall mean oils containing vitamin A derived, extracted, or processed from livers of the cod, shark, halibut, or other fish.

(3) "Feed" shall mean natural or artificial feedstuffs or rations or other substances intended for poultry, cattle, fur-bearing or other animals, as a complete ration, or as a component of, or in reinforcement of, other diets.

(b) General restrictions. (1) Except as provided in paragraph (b) (2) of this order, no person shall, on or after April 10, 1942, manufacture any preparation represented to contain more than 5,000 U. S. P. XI units of vitamin A in the largest daily dosage recommended by the manufacturer or seller for adult use.

(2) The restrictions of paragraph (b) (1) of this order shall not apply to the manufacture of preparations represented to contain 25,000 or more U. S. P. XI units of vitamin A in the smallest daily dosage recommended by the manufacturer or seller for adult use; and the restrictions of paragraph (b) (1) of this order shall not apply to the manufacture of preparations recognized in the U. S. P. or N. F.

(3) Except as provided in paragraph (b) (4) of this order, no person shall manufacture or prepare feeds, which, in the form recommended by the manufacturer or seller to be consumed, contain more than 2,000 U. S. P. XI units of vitamin A supplied by fish liver oils or other fish oils per pound of total ration; except that for all turkey feeds and poultry breeding feeds the limitation shall be 3,000 U. S. P. XI units of vitamin A supplied by fish liver oils or other fish oils per pound of total ration; Provided, however, That for the purpose of manufacture or preparation in the period March 27, 1943 to May 15, 1943, inclusive, the limit for feeds in such recommended form shall be 2500 U. S. P. XI units and, for turkey feeds and poultry breeding feeds, shall be 3500 U. S. P. XI units.

(4) The restrictions of paragraph (b) (3) of this order shall not apply to stocks of fish liver oils or other fish oils, which, on February 10, 1942, were in the hands of, or in transit to, or blended and held in stock for the account of, persons who have purchased such oil for use by them as one of the ingredients of their manufactured feeds; nor shall the restrictions of paragraph (b) (3) of this order apply to any person who mixes or prepares feeds which are consumed by his own poultry or animals.

(c) Applicability of General Preference Order M-71, as amended. All sales, purchases, and deliveries of fish liver oils and other fish oils shall continue to be subject to the provisions and restrictions of General Preference Order M-71, as amended from time to time.

(d) Applicability of priorities regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the priorities regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(e) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(f) Appeals. Any person affected by this order who considers that compliance therewith would work an exceptional and unreasonable hardship upon him, or that it would result in a serious problem of unemployment in his community, or that compliance with this order would disrupt or impair a program of conversion from non-defense to defense work, may appeal to the War Production Board by letter or telegram setting forth the pertinent facts and the reasons why he considers he is entitled to relief. The War Production Board may thereupon take such action as it deems appropriate.

(g) Communications to War Production Board. All communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to War Production Board, Health Supplies Division, Washington, D. C.

Issued this 27th day of March 1943.

PART 1075—CONSTRUCTION

[Order P-55-b, Serial No. —]

Name of Owner: _____
Address: _____

§ 1075.10 Preference Rating Order P-55-b; authorization of housing construction. Construction of the housing project hereinafter described, is hereby authorized under Conservation Order L-41, subject to the following conditions and directions:

(a) This authorization is issued in lieu of Preference Rating Order P-55. Any reference in any order of the War Production Board to said Preference Rating Order P-55 shall constitute a reference to this authorization.

(b) Definitions. (1) "Owner" means the specific person to whom this order is addressed above.

(2) "Builder" means the owner and any building contractor or subcontractor with whom the owner has placed a contract pursuant to which such contractor or subcontractor has agreed to furnish critical material.

(3) "Accommodations" means either family dwelling units or rooming accommodations.

(4) "Housing project" means the housing project described in the builder's application, comprising a maximum of _____ family dwelling units and _____ rooming accommodations.

(5) "Critical material" means any material or product included in the War Housing Critical List, and only such material or products. Copies of this list may be obtained from any field office of the War Production Board.

(6) "Application" means the owner's application on Form PD-105 with material list Form PD-105A, Serial No._____, dated _____.

(c) Restrictions on use of materials. The builder shall not order or accept delivery of any critical material to be incorporated into the housing project or incorporate any critical material into the housing project other than that specifically set forth and approved in the application, and then only in accordance with the terms of the allotment on Form CMP-H-1.

(d) Liability of owner. The owner and any other person who now holds or hereafter acquires any beneficial interest in the housing project or any part thereof, is hereby ordered to comply with all the representations, certifications and promises made by said owner in the application, except where and to the extent such other person is relieved of such responsibility by regulation of the National Housing Agency.

(e) Applicability of War Production Board Regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to the provisions of all regulations of the War Production Board.

(f) This order shall take effect on the issuance of an authorized construction schedule with allotments or preference rating, if any, pursuant to application Forms CMP-H-1, but shall be effective for only those accommodations which are so authorized by said construction schedule within _____ days from the date this order is countersigned. This order shall be ineffective for any accommodations not authorized within the above period on Forms CMP-H-1 or for any accommodations so authorized but in excess of the maximum number specified in paragraph (b) (4) above.

Issued this 27th day of March 1943.

PART 3000—PETROLEUM SULFONATES

[General Preference Order M-188 as Amended March 27, 1943]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of petroleum sulfonates for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3000.1 General Preference Order M-188—(a) Definitions. (1) "Petroleum sulfonates" means the original or neutralized product of the reaction between intermediate petroleum fractions and oleum or sulfuric acid, known to the trade variously as mahogany soap, mahogany sulfonate, sodium sulfonate, soap base, oil or water soluble sulfonates and their metallic salts whether in crude or refined form.

(2) "Producer" means any person who produces or refines petroleum sulfonates, and includes any person who has petroleum sulfonates produced for him pursuant to toll agreement.

(3) "Distributor" means any purchaser of petroleum sulfonates from any person for purpose of resale as petroleum sulfonates.

(b) Restrictions on deliveries and use. (1) Subject to paragraph (c) hereof, no producer or distributor shall deliver use or refine petroleum sulfonates, and no person shall accept delivery of petroleum sulfonates from a producer or distributor, except as specifically authorized or directed by the War Production Board.

(2) Authorizations or directions with respect to deliveries to be made or accepted in each month, beginning with December, 1942, will so far as practicable be issued by the War Production Board prior to the commencement of such month, but the War Production Board may at any time (including the period prior to December 1, 1942), at its discretion and notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (c) hereof, issue directions with respect to deliveries to be made or accepted or with respect to the use or uses which may or may not be made of material to be delivered or then on hand.

(3) Each person specifically authorized to accept delivery of petroleum sulfonates shall use such material for the purpose authorized, and only for such purpose, except as otherwise specifically directed.

(4) Producers who prepare oil bases and other products from petroleum sulfonates, shall be considered users and must receive authorization for such use.

(c) Small order exemption. No specific authorization shall be required for:

(1) Acceptance of delivery by any person in any one calendar month of 50 pounds or less of petroleum sulfonates in the aggregate; provided that such person has not been specifically authorized to accept delivery of any quantity of such material during such month;

(2) The delivery by any producer or distributor to any person who shall certify to him in writing that he is entitled pursuant to paragraph (c) hereof to accept delivery;

(3) The use or refining by any producer in any calendar month of 50 pounds or less of petroleum sulfonates in the aggregate.

(d) Applications and reports. (1) Each person seeking authorization to accept delivery of petroleum sulfonates during any calendar month, beginning with December 1942 (except as provided in paragraph (c) hereof), whether for his own consumption or resale, shall file application therefor on or before the 15th day of the month preceding the month for which authorization for delivery is requested. Applications by producers for authorization to use or refine shall be filed in the same manner. Where delivery, use or refining is to be in November 1942, such application shall be made as many days as possible in advance of the requested delivery, use or refining. In any case, such application shall be made on Form PD-600, in the manner prescribed therein, subject to the following instructions for the purpose of this order:

(i) Copies of Form PD-600 may be obtained at local field offices of the War Production Board.

(ii) Five copies shall be prepared, of which one shall be forwarded to supplier and three forwarded to the War Production Board, Chemicals Division, Washington, D. C., Ref: M-188. A producer applying for authorization to refine petroleum sulfonates shall file a separate set of Form PD-600 covering such application.

(iii) In the heading, under name of chemical, specify petroleum sulfonates; under WPB Order No., specify M-188; under unit of measure, specify pounds (dry soap basis); under name of your company, specify name and mailing address; and specify the month and year for which authorization for acceptance of delivery is sought.

(iv) In columns 1, 11 and 19, specify sulfonate ingredient and percentage thereof.

(v) In columns 3, 20 and 22, specify your primary product in terms of the following:

Cutting oil base.
Lubricant additive.
Wetting agent.
Resale (as petroleum sulfonates).
Petroleum emulsion breaker.
Rust preventative.
Fat splitting.
Refining.
Others (specify).

Where the application is made by a producer for leave to refine, insert in columns 3, 20 and 22 the refined product in terms of dry soap base sulfonate.

(vi) In column 4, specify ultimate use of product (for example, if the "primary product" called for in columns 3, 20 and 22, is "lubricant additive," the "ultimate use of product" might be "lubricant for marine diesel engines"), and also specify in each case whether your customer is Army, Navy, other government agency, Lend-Lease, or commercial customer.

(vii) Remarks in column 10 may, if necessary, be extended on the reverse side of the sheet. Include in remarks quantity of petroleum sulfonates used in manufacture for preparation of primary products in corresponding period of year 1941. If requirements have increased appreciably, state reasons.

(2) Each producer or distributor seeking authorization to make delivery of petroleum sulfonates during any calendar month beginning with December, 1942, shall file application on or before the 20th day of the month preceding the month for which authorization is requested. Where authorization is sought for November delivery, application shall be filed as many days as possible in advance of the proposed delivery. Such application shall be made on Form PD-601, in the manner prescribed therein, subject to the following special instructions:

(i) Copies of Form PD-601 may be obtained at local field offices of the War Production Board.

(ii) Prepare four copies and forward three to the War Production Board, Chemicals Division, Washington, D. C., Ref.: M-188, retaining the fourth copy for your files.

(iii) Producers or distributors who have filed application on Form PD-600, specifying themselves as their suppliers, shall list their own names as customers on Form PD-601, and shall list their requests for allocation in the manner prescribed for other customers.

(iv) In the heading, under name of chemical, specify petroleum sulfonates; under WPB Order No., specify M-188; under name of company, state your name and mailing address; under unit of measure, specify pounds (dry soap basis); and state the month and year during which deliveries covered by the application are to be made.

(v) In columns 3 and 8, specify sulfonate ingredient and percentage thereof.

(vi) Column 5 may, at your discretion, be left blank.

(vii) Names of customers to whom small order deliveries are to be made during the next month pursuant to paragraph (c) of this order need not be given, but insert in column 1 "Total small order deliveries (estimated)" and in column 4, the estimated quantity.

(viii) If it is necessary to use more than one sheet to list customers, number each sheet in order and show grand totals for all sheets on the last sheet, which is the only one that need be certified.

(3) On or before November 30, 1942, each person who as of November 1, 1942, owned 500 pounds or more of petroleum sulfonates shall report the amount of each grade of petroleum sulfonates owned on such date by letter addressed to the War Production Board, Chemicals Division, Washington, D. C., Ref: M–188.

(4) The War Production Board may require each person affected by this order to file such other reports as may be prescribed, and may issue other and further directions to any such person with respect to preparing and filing Forms PD–600 and PD–601.

(e) Notification of customers. Each supplier shall notify his regular customers, as soon as possible, of the requirements of this order, but failure to receive such notice shall not excuse any person from complying with the terms hereof.

(f) Miscellaneous provisions—(1) Applicability of priorities regulations. This order and all transactions affected hereby are subject to all applicable provisions of War Production Board priorities regulations, as amended from time to time.

(2) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(3) Communications to War Production Board. All reports required to be filed hereunder, and all communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Chemicals Division, Washington, D. C. Ref: M–188.

(g) Administration of Order. The Petroleum Administrator for War or the Deputy Petroleum Administrator for War may take any action with respect to this Order, or with respect to any person affected by this Order, which may be taken by the War Production Board.

Issued this 27th day of March 1943.

PART 3024—MEN'S WORK CLOTHING

[Limitation Order L–181 as Amended March 27, 1943]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of men's work clothing for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3024.1 General Limitation Order L–181—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this order:

(1) "Men's work clothing" means any of the following garments, customarily graded as men's:

Waistband overalls or dungarees.
Bib overalls.
Overall jumpers or coats.
One-piece work suits.
Work pants.
Work shirts, (whether separate or in ensembles, but excluding uniform shirts).

(2) "Put into process" means the first cutting operation of material in the manufacture of any men's work clothing.

(3) Pro rata widths—where a certain width material is specified—narrower or wider width material shall be figured in pro rata yardages allowed or restricted.

(4) Measurements set forth refer to finished measurements after all manufacturing operations have been completed and the garment is ready for shipment.

(5) Yards specified "to the dozen" shall mean the average yardage, over any 90 day period after August 15, 1942, consumed in the cutting of each type of garment.

(6) Yards specified "to the dozen" may be exceeded proportionately in the manufacture of sizes larger than specified herein to meet the needs of oversize persons.

(7) All terms used in this order shall have their usual and customary trade meanings unless stated otherwise.

(b) General exceptions. The prohibitions and restrictions of this order shall not apply to:

(1) Sales and deliveries by, to or for the account of the ultimate consumers by any person who does not put cloth into process for the manufacture of work clothing.

(2) Men's work clothing put into process or manufactured prior to August 15, 1942.

(3) Drills, twills, or jeans used for pocketing or waistbanding in the inventory of the manufacturer on August 15, 1942.

(4) Men's work clothing to fill purchase orders placed by or for the account of the Army or Navy of the United States, the United States Maritime Commission, the War Shipping Administration, the Panama Canal, the Coast and Geodetic Survey, the Coast Guard, the Selective Service System, the Civil Aeronautics Administration, the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, the Office of Scientific Research and Development and the Defense Supplies Corporation.

(5) Men's work clothing made and sold to conform with state, county or municipal safety laws, codes or regulations: Provided, That such laws, codes or regulations were in existence on August 15, 1942, and specifically required the use of work clothing not made in conformity with the provisions of this order.

(6) Garments manufactured in the home except when made for sale or for a contractor or jobber or other person who sells such garments.

(c) General curtailments. No person shall, after August 15, 1942, put into process, or cause to be put into process by others for his account, any material for the manufacture of, and no person shall, after the said date, sell or deliver any men's work clothing, the material for which was put into process after August 15, 1942, with:

(1) False or more than double stitching:

(2) Pockets or waistbands made from drills, twills or jeans heavier than 39 inch 4.00 yard, except irregulars, seconds or cuts under 40 yards in length and except as provided in paragraph (b) (3).

(3) Pockets of more than single thickness.

(d) Additional curtailments. No person shall after August 8, 1942, put into process, or cause to be put into process by others for his account, any material for the manufacture of, and no person shall sell or deliver any of the following men's work clothing, the cloth for which was put into process after August 15, 1942.

(1) Waistband overalls or dungarees with:

(i) More than two front or swing pockets, two hip pockets, one rule pocket and one watch pocket.

(ii) Suspender buttons or with more than four fly buttons and one button or snap fastener on waistband.

(iii) Back buckle or strap.

(iv) More than nine bartacks or rivets exclusive of those needed on belt loops.

(v) Sizes other than 26 to 50 waist and 27 to 36 inseam.

(vi) More than 33½ yards or less than 31 yards to the dozen of 28/29 inch material: Provided, however, That for the sole purpose of allowing such garments when made for miners (and each miner's garment shall be designated as such by label or other marking thereon) to include not more than two front leg patch reinforcements, one double seat and one additional leg pocket, the yardage per dozen for such garments shall be not more than 45 yards or less than 37 yards to the dozen of 28/29 inch material, the extra yardage to be used, however, only for such purpose.

(2) Bib overalls with:

(i) More than one large or two small bib pockets, two front swing or patch pockets, two hip patch pockets, one rule pocket and one hammer loop.

(ii) More than one button on each side opening, two bib suspender buttons, one button or one snap fastener on bib, two buttons on fly through size 38 or three buttons on fly on size 40 and up.

(iii) More than fifteen bartacks.

(iv) Sizes other than 26 to 50 waist and 27 to 36 inseam;

(v) More than an average of 46 yards or less than 39 yards to the dozen of 28/29 inch material for both the bib overall and the overall jacket.

Provided, however, For the sole purpose of allowing:

(a) Bib overalls for carpenters to include not more than two double knee or leg patch reinforcements, two side leg pockets, an apron with necessary divisions, one hand axe loop, the yardage per dozen for such garments shall be not more than 66½ yards or less than 60½ yards to the dozen of 28/29 inch material, and such garments may have 15 additional bartacks.

(b) Bib overalls for painters or paperhangers to include one brush loop and one leg pocket, the yardage per dozen for such garments shall be not more than 47½ yards or less than 41½ yards to the dozen of 28/29 inch material.

(c) Bib overalls for steel workers to include not more than two knee patch reinforcements, two leg pockets, one additional hammer loop, the yardage per dozen for such garments shall be not more than 57 yards or less than 51 yards to the dozen of 28/29 inch material, and such garments may have six additional bartacks.

Each such garment shall be designated as such by label or other marking thereon and the additional yardages shall only be used for the respective purposes specified above.

(3) Overall jumpers or coats with:

(i) More than two patch pockets.

(ii) More than four buttons on front and one button on each cuff.

(iii) Sizes other than 34 to 50.

(iv) Blanket-lining heavier than 16 ounce, 54 to 56 inch width, of cotton or of cotton and reused wool.

(4) One-piece work suits with:

(i) More than two front swing or patch pockets, two breast pockets, two-patch or swing hip pockets, one rule pocket and one hammer loop.

(ii) More than four front buttons, one breast pocket button, three fly buttons and one button on each cuff.

(iii) More than 17 bartacks, exclusive of those needed on belt loops.

(iv) Sizes other than 34 to 50.

(v) More than 72 yards or less than 66 yards to the dozen of 28/29 inch material.

(5) Work pants with:

(i) More than two front swing pockets, two hip patch or swing pockets and one watch pocket.

(ii) Tunnel loops.

(iii) Suspender buttons on sizes other than 38 and up.

(iv) More than 11 bartacks exclusive of those needed on belt loops.

(v) Side buckle and straps.

(vi) Self belt or extension waistband.

(vii) Pleats.

(viii) More than five fly buttons, including waistband, on sizes through 38 and more than six fly buttons, including waistband, on sizes 40 and up, and with more than one hip pocket button.

(ix) Cuffs where 30 inch 2.50 gray width and weight basis material and heavier is used.

(x) More than 1½ inch hem.

(xi) More than 1½ inch cuff on material lighter than 30 inch 2.50 gray width and weight basis.

(xii) Sizes other than 26 to 50 waist and 27 to 36 inseam.

(xiii) (a) More than 27½ yards or less than 24½ yards to the dozen of 36 inch material weighing less than 8 ounces per yard of 36 inch width material, or (b) More than 28 yards or less than 25 yards to the dozen of any heavier material.

(6) Work shirts with:

(i) Other than one or two plain patch pockets but only button through or open.

(ii) More than single thickness lining in collar.

(iii) More than six buttons on front, one button each cuff and one button on each pocket.

(iv) Lined cuffs.

(v) More than four bartacks.

(vi) Eyelets or vents.

(vii) Reinforced elbow, shoulder, back or front.

(viii) Other than one or two cardboards and paper wrapping.

(ix) Less than one-half dozen packing.

(x) Sizes other than 13 to 19 or sizes small, medium and large.

(xi) More than 29½ yards or less than 26 yards to the dozen of 36-inch material on long sleeve models, or more than 24 yards or less than 23 yards to the dozen of 36-inch material on half-sleeve models. On regular or mill finish material or on 36-inch 2.85 material and heavier a total of a half yard to the dozen additional yardage may be used.

(e) Certification. No person, who has before August 8, 1942, or shall after August 8, 1942, put into process or cause to be put into process by others for his account any men's work clothing, shall after August 8, 1942, sell such work clothing without furnishing to his purchaser (when other than an ultimate consumer) a certification, signed by an individual duly authorized to sign for such person, in substantially the following form:

The undersigned hereby certifies to his purchaser and the War Production Board that the men's work clothing covered by his invoice No. ---------- dated ---------- (or the annexed invoice) has been manufactured or sold in accordance with the curtailment and or exceptions of General Limitation Order L–181.

(f) Appeals. Any person affected by this order who considers that compliance therewith would work an exceptional and unreasonable hardship upon him, or that it would result in a degree of unemployment which would be unreasonably disproportionate compared with the amount of men's work clothing conserved, or that compliance with this order would disrupt or impair a program of conversion from nondefense to defense work, may appeal to the War Production Board. Reference L–181, setting forth the pertinent facts and the reason he considers he is entitled to relief. The War Production Board may thereupon take such action as it deems appropriate.

(g) Records and inspections. (1) Each person affected by the order shall keep and preserve for a period of not less than two years accurate and complete records of his applicable inventories, certifications, production, sales and transactions. (2) All records required to be kept by the order shall, upon request, be submitted to audit and inspection by duly authorized representatives of the War Production Board.

(h) Reports and communications. (1) Each person affected by the order shall execute and file with the War Production Board such reports and questionnaires as may be requested by the Board from time to time. (2) All reports required hereunder, and all communications concerning the order, shall be addressed to: War Production Board, Textile, Clothing and Leather Division, Washington, D. C., Reference: L–181.

(i) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

Issued this 27th day of March 1943.

PART 3130—MINERAL OIL POLYMERS

[General Preference Order M–258 as Amended March 27, 1943]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of mineral oil polymers for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3130.1 General Preference Order

§ 3130.1 General Preference Order M-258—(a) Definitions. (1) "Mineral oil polymers" means the resinous product produced by the polymerization of mixtures of unsaturated hydrocarbons (either the solid resin or solvent extended product) and does not include polystyrene, polyisobutylene, polyethylene, butadiene, or the copolymers of such materials.

(2) "Producer" means any person who produces or refines mineral oil polymers, and includes any person who has mineral oil polymers produced for him pursuant to toll agreement.

(3) "Distributor" means any purchaser of mineral oil polymers from any person for purpose of resale as mineral oil polymers.

(b) Restrictions on deliveries and use. (1) Subject to paragraph (c) hereof, no producer or distributor shall deliver or use mineral oil polymers, and no person shall accept delivery of mineral oil polymers from a producer or distributor, except as specifically authorized or directed by the War Production Board.

(2) Authorizations or directions with respect to deliveries to be made or accepted in each month, beginning with December, 1942, will so far as practicable be issued by the War Production Board prior to the commencement of such month, but the War Production Board may at any time (including the period prior to December 1, 1942), at its discretion and notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (c) hereof, issue directions with respect to deliveries to be made or accepted, or with respect to the use or uses which may or may not be made of material to be delivered or then on hand.

(3) Each person specifically authorized to accept delivery of mineral oil polymers shall use such material for the purpose authorized, and only for such purpose, except as otherwise specifically directed.

(4) Producers who prepare oil products from mineral oil polymers shall be considered users and must receive authorization for such use.

(c) Small order exemption. No specific authorization shall be required for:

(1) Acceptance of delivery by any person in any one calendar month of 50 pounds or less of mineral oil polymers in the aggregate; provided that such person has not been specifically authorized to accept delivery of any quantity of such material during such month;

(2) The delivery by any producer or distributor to any person who shall certify to him in writing that he is entitled pursuant to paragraph (c) hereof to accept delivery;

(3) The use by any producer in any calendar month of 50 pounds or less of mineral oil polymers in the aggregate.

(d) Applications and reports. (1) Each person seeking authorization to accept delivery of mineral oil polymers during any calendar month, beginning with December, 1942 (except as provided in paragraph (c) hereof), whether for his own consumption or resale, shall file application therefor on or before the 15th day of the month preceding the month for which authorization for delivery is requested. Applications by producers for authorization to use shall be filed in the same manner. Where delivery or use is to be in November, 1942, such application shall be filed as many days as possible in advance of the intended acceptance of delivery or use. In any case, such application shall be made on Form PD-600, in the manner prescribed therein, subject to the following special instructions:

(i) Copies of Form PD-600 may be obtained at local field offices of the War Production Board.

(ii) Five copies shall be prepared, of which one shall be forwarded to supplier, three forwarded to the War Production Board, Chemicals Division, Washington, D. C., Ref: M-258, and the fifth retained for your files.

(iii) In the heading, under name of chemical, specify mineral oil polymers; under WPB Order No., specify M-258; under unit of measure, specify pounds; under name of your company, specify name and mailing address; and specify the month and year for which authorization for acceptance of delivery is sought.

(iv) In Columns 1, 11 and 19, specify iodine number and percentage of solids.

(v) In Columns 3, 20 and 22, specify your primary product in terms of the following:

Core oil
Insulation material
Plastic base
Floor covering
Fibre board impregnant
Protective coatings (specify)
Resale (as mineral oil polymers)
Others (specify)

(vi) In Column 4, specify ultimate use of product (for example, if the "primary product" called for by Columns 3, 20 and 22 is "core oil", the "ultimate use of product" might be "aircraft engine cylinders"), and also specify in each case whether your customer is Army, Navy, other government agency, Lend-Lease, or commercial customer.

(vii) Remarks in Column 10 may, if necessary, be extended on the reverse side of the sheet. Include in remarks quantity of mineral oil polymers used in manufacture for preparation of primary products in corresponding period of year 1941. If requirements have increased appreciably, state reasons.

(2) Each producer or distributor seeking authorization to make delivery of mineral oil polymers during any calendar month beginning with December, 1942, shall file application on or before the 20th day of the month preceding the month for which authorization is requested. Such application shall be made on Form PD-601, in the manner prescribed therein, subject to the following special instructions:

(i) Copies of Form PD-601 may be obtained at local field offices of the War Production Board.

(ii) Prepare four copies and forward three to the War Production Board, Chemicals Division, Washington, D. C., Ref: M-258, retaining the fourth copy for your files.

(iii) Producers or distributors who have filed application on Form PD-600, specifying themselves as their suppliers, shall list their own names as customers on Form PD-601, and shall list their requests for allocation in the manner prescribed for other customers.

(iv) In the heading, under name of chemical, specify mineral oil polymers; under WPB Order No., specify M-258; under name of company, state your name and mailing address; under unit of measure, specify pounds; and state the month and year during which deliveries covered by the application are to be made.

(v) In Columns 3 and 8, specify iodine number and percentage of solids.

(vi) Column 5 may, at your discretion, be left blank.

(vii) Names of customers to whom small order deliveries are to be made during the next month pursuant to paragraph (c) of this order need not be given, but insert in Column 1 "Total small order deliveries (estimated)" and in Column 4, the estimated quantity.

(viii) If it is necessary to use more than one sheet to list customers, number each sheet in order and show grand totals for all sheets on the last sheet, which is the only one that need be certified.

(3) On or before November 30, 1942, each person who as of November 1, 1942 owned 500 pounds or more of mineral oil polymers shall report the amount of each grade of mineral oil polymers owned on such date by letter addressed to the War Production Board, Chemicals Division, Washington, D. C., Ref: M-258.

(4) The War Production Board may require each person affected by this order to file such other reports as may be prescribed, and may issue other and further directions to any such person with respect to preparing and filing Forms PD-600 and PD-601.

(e) Notification of customers. Each supplier shall notify his regular customers, as soon as possible, of the requirements of this order, but failure to receive such notice shall not excuse any person from complying with the terms hereof.

(f) Miscellaneous provisions—(1) Applicability of priorities regulations. This order and all transactions affected hereby are subject to all applicable provisions of War Production Board priorities regulations, as amended from time to time.

(2) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(3) Communications to War Production Board. All reports required to be filed hereunder, and all communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Chemicals Branch, Washington, D. C. Ref: M-258.

(g) Administration of order. The Petroleum Administrator for War or the Deputy Petroleum Administrator for War may take any action with respect to this Order, or with respect to any person affected by this Order, which may be taken by the War Production Board.

Issued this 27th day of March 1943.

PART 962—IRON AND STEEL

[General Preference Order M-21-b-1]

GENERAL STEEL WAREHOUSES AND DEALERS

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of steel for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 962.10 General Preference Order M-21-b-1—(a) Purpose and scope. This order tells how, under the Controlled Materials Plan, a distributor obtains deliveries of general steel products from producers and from other persons for stock or for delivery direct to a distributor's customers. The method by which a distributor obtains deliveries of merchant trade products is set forth in General Preference Order M-21-b-2. Deliveries of steel from stock by distributors to persons not purchasing for resale are governed by CMP Regulation No. 4. Deliveries by distributors to other distributors are governed by this order and not by CMP Regulation No. 4.

(b) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Steel" means carbon steel, alloy steel, and wrought iron, in each case only in the forms and shapes indicated in the CMP Materials List.

(2) "Alloy steel" means any steel containing any one or more of the following elements in the following amounts:

Manganese, maximum of range in excess of 1.65%.
Silicon, maximum of range in excess of 0.60%.
Copper, maximum of range in excess of 0.60%.
Aluminum, chromium, cobalt, molybdenum, nickel, titanium, tungsten, vanadium, zirconium, or any other alloying element in any amount specified or known to have been added to obtain a desired alloying effect.

(3) "Carbon steel" means any steel (including wrought iron) other than alloy steel.

(4) "General steel product" means any of the steel products listed in Schedule A hereto.

(5) "Product group" means any of the 16 numbered groups of general steel products listed in Schedule A hereto.

(6) "Type" means (i) carbon steel, or (ii) stainless steel, or (iii) other alloy steel.

(7) "Base tonnage" of a warehouse for any product group and type means the tonnage of such product group and type delivered by such warehouse from stock during the first calendar quarter of 1941, or as specifically otherwise established by the War Production Board.

(8) "Distributor" means any person (including a warehouse, jobber, dealer or retailer) who is engaged in the business of receiving steel for sale or resale and who does not process the material so sold otherwise than by performing such operations as cutting to length, shearing to size, torch cutting or burning to shape, sorting and grading, or pipe threading; but a person who, in connection with any sale, forms bends, punches or performs any fabricating operation designed to prepare steel for final use or assembly shall not be deemed a distributor with respect to such sale.

(9) "Warehouse" means a distributor who receives physical delivery of general steel products from a producer for sale or resale in the form received, and who was engaged in the business of distributing steel from stock on August 9, 1941. The term does not include any structural shape, bar, or sheet fabricator unless his sales from stock during 1940 of general steel products in the form received represented at least 25 percent of the total tonnage of general steel products received by him in that year. If a warehouse maintains a stock at more than one location, each location shall be deemed a separate warehouse.

(10) "Dealer" means a distributor (other than a warehouse) who receives physical delivery of general steel products from persons other than producers for sale or resale in the form received, and who was engaged in the business of distributing steel from stock on August 9, 1941. The term does not include any distributor who is primarily a scrap dealer. For the purposes of this definition a distributor shall be considered primarily a scrap dealer if the tonnage of all scrap purchased for stock by him in 1940 equalled or exceeded the tonnage of steel purchased for stock by him in that year.

(11) "Delivery" includes deliveries received on consignment.

(c) Restrictions on placing orders with producers for shipment to warehouse stock—(1) Product groups and types to be ordered. No warehouse shall order or accept delivery to warehouse stock of general steel products in any product group and type except those which have been certified to such warehouse on form PD-83-b by the War Production Board. A producer shall not deliver general steel products to any warehouse stock unless such warehouse shall first have filed with such producer a copy of its PD-83-b certificate, or in any product group and type except those certified on such certificate.

(2) Quantity restrictions on prime quality material. No warehouse which, during 1940, purchased more than 25 percent of its tonnage of any product group in a grade now invoiced as less than prime quality may order for delivery to warehouse stock during any calendar quarter, prime quality steel products

Provided, however, That the total tonnage of any type of general steel prodery to warehouse stock during any calendar quarter, prime quality steel products (requiring scheduled rollings) of the same product group from all producers in an amount greater than one-fourth of the total tonnage of such prime quality material purchased from all producers during 1940.

(3) Quantity restriction on product groups. No warehouse shall order steel from producers in any one product group for delivery to warehouse stock in any calendar quarter in excess of 150 percent of its base tonnage for such product group.

(4) Quantity restrictions on types, interim period. No warehouse shall place orders with producers for delivery to warehouse stock in the second quarter of 1943 (as to carbon general steel products) or in the period April 1–July 31, 1943 (as to stainless or other alloy general steel products) which shall aggregate, for any type of steel, more than the quantity authorized for such warehouse in CMPL–85. Orders outstanding on March 31, 1943, in excess of this quantity which call for delivery within such periods shall be suspended immediately.

(5) Stock replacement after interim period. Every order for delivery of carbon general steel products from a producer to a warehouse stock after June 30, 1943, or of stainless or other alloy general steel products after July 31, 1943, shall be supported by form CMP–11 duly filled out and signed by the purchasing warehouse. For the purposes of CMP–11, tonnage previously delivered from stock in one or more product groups representing the same type of steel (carbon, stainless, or other alloy) may be accumulated to support an order for any one or more product groups of the same type. During April, 1943, each warehouse may place orders with producers for delivery to stock after June 30, 1943, accompanied by form CMP–11 and in accordance with the terms of this paragraph (c) (5), amounting, for any type of steel, to one-third of its total deliveries of such type from stock during the first quarter of 1943. Thereafter, a purchase order shall be placed only to replace general steel products delivered from warehouse stock at any time during the previous 90 days on authorized controlled material orders duly confirmed in accordance with CMP Regulation No. 4, or on other orders as permitted by paragraph (d) of that regulation. In addition, a warehouse may order and report on form CMP–11 an amount to cover scrap loss not to exceed the following percentage of the tonnage reported on such form:

Product group:	Prime Quality	Second Quality
3. Plates (universal and sheared)—including skelp	8%	10%
11 Sheets and strip, hot rolled	3%	10%
12 Sheets and strip, cold reduced	3%	10%
All other general steel products	3%	8%

Provided, however, That the total tonnage of any type of general steel products ordered on this basis in any calendar quarter shall not exceed actual scrap sales of such type during the previous calendar quarter as reported on form PD–83. Orders requiring scheduled rollings shall specify delivery, in the case of carbon steel not earlier than the month 90 days following the date of order entry, and in the case of stainless or other alloy steel, not earlier than the month 105 days following the date of order entry. Orders not requiring scheduled rollings (such as rejects, wasters, waste wasters) may specify delivery at any time.

(6) Status of warehouse orders. Each order placed by a warehouse with a producer for delivery to warehouse stock pursuant to paragraph (c) (5) and supported by form CMP–11 shall be deemed an authorized controlled material order.

(d) Warehouse purchases from idle or excess inventories. A warehouse may order for delivery to its stock, without limitation as to quantity, from idle or excess inventories pursuant to Priorities Regulation No. 13 general steel products in any product group and type which has been certified to such warehouse on Form PD–83–b. Each purchase order for such material shall be endorsed in substantially the following form, and when so endorsed shall be deemed to be an authorized controlled material order:

The undersigned certifies to the seller and to the War Production Board that this order is placed pursuant to paragraph (d) of Order M–21–b–1, and is an authorized controlled material order.

Name of warehouse	By—Authorized official
Address	Date

(e) Warehouse purchases for direct shipment to customer. A warehouse receiving an authorized controlled material order from a customer and wishing to arrange for shipment direct to such customer by the producer or other supplier shall specify delivery to a point other than the warehouse, and shall copy on its own purchase order the endorsement made to it by its customer (including the customer's name) in accordance with CMP Regulation No. 1 or other applicable regulation or order. A purchase order specifying direct shipment and so endorsed shall be deemed an authorized controlled material order.

(f) Earmarked warehouse stocks. To the extent agreed upon by the Steel Division and any claimant agency, an earmarked stock of general steel products may be established in any warehouse. Deliveries to such stock and withdrawals therefrom shall be made only in accordance with the specific directions which shall be issued at the time such stock is established.

(g) Purchases by dealers. Purchase orders for general steel products may be placed by a dealer with persons other than producers to replace in the dealer's stock steel of the same type delivered by him during the 90 days preceding the placing of such purchase order, provided the steel to be replaced (if delivered prior to April 1, 1943) was delivered pursuant to Supplementary Order M–21–b, or (if delivered on or after April 1, 1943) was delivered pursuant to CMP Regulation No. 4. No delivery can be used more than once to support such a replacement order. Each such replacement order must carry an endorsement in substantially the following form:

The undersigned hereby certifies to the seller and to the War Production Board that the material covered by this order is to replace in stock general steel products of the same type and weight delivered by the undersigned within the 90 days preceding the date of this order and in accordance with CMP Regulation No. 4 (or Supplementary Order M–21–b). This constitutes an authorized controlled material order.

Name of dealer	By—Authorized official
Address	Date

Any order so endorsed shall be deemed an authorized controlled material order.

(h) Reports. Each warehouse shall file with the Bureau of the Census, Washington, D. C., on or before the 15th day of each month a report in duplicate on Form PD–83 Revised, or on such other form as may be prescribed. A warehouse having a total base tonnage of all general steel products amounting to 150 tons or less shall file such report only on or before the fifteenth day of April, July, October, and January, for the preceding calendar quarter.

(i) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by letter referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds for the appeal. In emergency cases, appeal may be made by telegraph.

(j) Communications to War Production Board. All appeals or other communications concerning this order shall be addressed to Warehouse Branch, Steel Division, War Production Board, Washington, D. C., Reference M–21–b–1.

(k) Violations. Any warehouse, dealer, or other person who willfully violates any provision of this order or who, in connection with this order, willfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(l) Effective date. This order shall be effective April 1, 1943.

Issued this 29th day of March 1943.

PART 993—DOMESTIC ICE REFRIGERATORS

[Supplementary Limitation Order L–7–c, as Amended March 29, 1943]

Section 993.4 (Supplementary Limitation Order L–7–c) is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 993.4 Supplementary Limitation Order L–7–c—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this order:

(1) "Domestic ice refrigerator" means any non-mechanical ice chest or ice box designed for home use.

(2) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, governmental corporation or agency or any organized group of persons, whether incorporated or not.

(3) "Iron and steel content" means the aggregate weight of iron and carbon steel contained in a finished domestic ice refrigerator, including but not limited to, latches, hinges, screws, nails, rivets, bolts, sheet steel, binder strips, drain tubes, drip pans and shelving.

(4) "Net ice capacity" means the maximum amount of standard scored ice which the ice chamber of a domestic ice refrigerator will hold.

(b) General restrictions. (1) No person shall produce any domestic ice refrigerator:

(i) Containing any rubber (crude, synthetic or reclaimed) or any metal other than iron and carbon steel (except metal used in galvanizing, plating, soldering, or coating steel);

(ii) Having a net ice capacity of other than 50 or 75 pounds, except that it may vary ten percent from either of these amounts; or

(iii) Having an iron and steel content of more than 6 pounds.

(2) (i) No person shall produce any domestic ice refrigerator except in accordance with a production quota assigned to him in a schedule issued by the War Production Board pursuant to this order. Such production quotas shall be assigned for periods of time to be specified in the schedule, and shall expire on the last day of the period for which they are assigned. Any person desiring to obtain a production quota shall file with the War Production Board at least 30 days before the expiration date of the schedule in effect at that time a written application to be assigned a production quota for such period as the War Production Board shall specify.

(ii) Such application should contain a statement as to the amount of iron and steel and other critical materials to be contained in each domestic ice refrigerator the applicant proposes to produce during such period. Whenever production quotas are assigned by the War Production Board, he will take into consideration the amount of iron and steel and other critical materials to be used by each applicant, the performance of the domestic ice refrigerators which each applicant proposes to produce as established by tests of the National Bureau of Standards or otherwise, and also the labor and transportation situation in the area where the plant of each applicant is located and such other factors as the War Production Board shall deem appropriate.

(iii) In addition to the number of domestic ice refrigerators which specified persons may produce in accordance with an applicable schedule, each person named in such a schedule may produce during the period the schedule remains in effect an additional number of domestic ice refrigerators pursuant to orders bearing preference ratings of AA–5 or higher, provided that such domestic ice refrigerators are delivered prior to the expiration date of such schedule.

(c) Applicability of other orders. In so far as any other order heretofore or hereafter issued by the War Production Board limits the use of any material in the production of domestic ice refrigerators to a greater extent than the restrictions imposed by this order, the restrictions of such other order shall govern unless otherwise specified therein.

(d) Applicability of regulations. This order (and any schedules issued pursuant thereto) and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(e) Avoidance of excessive inventories. No person authorized to produce domestic ice refrigerators shall accumulate for use in the production of such domestic ice refrigerators inventories of raw materials, semi-processed materials or finished parts in quantities in excess of the minimum amount necessary to maintain production at the rates permitted by this order and any schedules issued pursuant thereto.

(f) Records. All persons affected by this order or any schedule issued pursuant thereto, shall keep and preserve for not less than two years accurate and complete records concerning inventories, production and sales.

(g) Audit and inspection. All records required to be kept by this order shall, upon request, be submitted to audit and inspection by duly authorized representatives of the War Production Board.

(h) Reports. Each person who produces any domestic ice refrigerators shall file with the War Production Board, not later than 10 days after the end of each calendar month in which he produced any domestic ice refrigerator, a report on Form PD–655, showing all domestic ice refrigerators which he produced during such month. Each person, before he offers for sale any new model of domestic ice refrigerator, shall file with the War Production Board a report on Form PD–531, setting forth a bill of material for such model. Each person affected by this order, or any schedule issued pursuant thereto, shall file such other reports and answers to questionnaires as the War Production Board shall from time to time require.

(i) Violations. Any person who willfully violates any provision of this order, or of any schedule issued pursuant thereto, or who, in connection with this order, or any such schedule, willfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of or from processing or using material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(j) Appeal. Any appeal from the provisions of this order, or of any schedule issued pursuant thereto, should be made on Form PD–500, filed with the Consumers Durable Goods Division, War Production Board, Washington, D. C.

(k) Communications. All reports required to be filed hereunder, and all communications concerning this order, or any schedule issued pursuant thereto, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to the War Production Board, Consumers Durable Goods Division, Washington, D. C., Ref.: L–7–c.

Issued this 29th day of March 1943.

PART 3127—NEW STEEL SHIPPING DRUMS

[General Preference Order M-255 as Amended March 29, 1943]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of new steel shipping drums for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3127.1 General Preference Order M-255—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Drum" means any single walled, cylindrical or bilged container with a capacity of 110 gallons or less (including but not limited to buckets, kits and pails) constructed wholly of steel. The term shall not be deemed to refer to cans or high or low pressure gas steel cylinders, or to any container not susceptible of commercial use in the transportation and storage of commodities.

(2) "New drum" means any drum which has never been partially or wholly filled with any product or commodity for storage or shipping purposes in the course of business.

(3) "Manufacturer" means any person engaged in the business of producing drums and/or any metal part thereof (other than flanges, plugs or cap seals) for sale to others or for his own use in packing products of any kind.

(b) Restrictions on deliveries and receipts. (1) On and after the 16th day of November, 1942, no manufacturer shall sell or deliver any new drum or any metal part thereof (other than flanges, plugs or cap seals) except pursuant to purchase order accompanied by the authorization of the War Production Board provided for in paragraph (c) below.

(2) On and after the 16th day of November, 1942, no person shall receive or accept delivery of any new drum or any metal part thereof (other than flanges, plugs or cap seals) if he knows or has reason to believe that the delivery of such drum is prohibited by the terms of subparagraph (1) of this paragraph (b).

(3) On and after the 16th day of November 1942, no manufacturer shall use any new drum or any metal part thereof (other than flanges, plugs or cap seals), the manufacture of which was completed after the 16th day of November, 1942, except as specifically authorized by the War Production Board upon application pursuant to paragraph (c) hereof.

(c) Procedure for obtaining authorization of the War Production Board. (1) The authorization of the War Production Board for the sale, delivery, receipt, acceptance of delivery or use of new drums or parts thereof, required by the provisions of paragraph (b) of this order, may be applied for by the purchaser or the user.

(2) Except as otherwise permitted by subparagraph (4) of this paragraph (c), such application shall be made on Form PD-835, in the manner described therein, and supplying all data called for therein.

(3) Except as otherwise permitted in accordance with subparagraph (4) of this paragraph (c), the authorization of the War Production Board for the sale, delivery, receipt, acceptance of delivery or use of new drums or parts thereof shall be accomplished by returning to the applicant an approved copy of Form PD-835.

(4) The War Production Board may:

(i) In any particular case, require data in addition to that called for by Form PD-835 in considering applications for authorization to sell, deliver, receive or use new drums or parts thereof;

(ii) Waive the receipt of any information called for by the said Form PD-835 in considering such applications;

(iii) In cases of urgency, accept telegraphic application for authorization to sell, deliver, purchase, receive or use new drums or parts thereof, and grant such authorization by telegram.

(d) Miscellaneous provisions—(1) Records. All persons affected by this order shall keep and preserve for not less than two years after November 2, 1942, accurate and complete records concerning inventories, production and sales.

(2) Audit and inspection. All records required to be kept by this order shall, upon request, be submitted to audit and inspection by duly authorized representative of the War Production Board.

(3) Reports. Each manufacturer and each purchaser of new drums shall file such reports as the War Production Board may prescribe for the purpose of the effective administration of the order.

(4) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime and, upon conviction, may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(5) Communications. All reports required to be filed hereunder and all communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Containers Division, Washington, D. C. Ref: M-255.

Chapter XI—Office of Price Administration

PART 1315—RUBBER AND PRODUCTS AND MATERIALS OF WHICH RUBBER IS A COMPONENT

[RO 1A,[1] Amendment 19]

TIRES, TUBES, RECAPPING AND CAMELBACK

A rationale for this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

1. Section 1315.513 is added to read as follows:

(a) Who may obtain an allotment of rear-wheel tractor-type tires and tubes. Any dealer or any person who intends in good faith to become a dealer may obtain an allotment of rear-wheel tractor-type tires and rear-wheel tractor tubes.

(b) Amount of allotment of rear-wheel tractor-type tires and tubes. The maximum allotment for an establishment shall be six rear-wheel tractor-type tires and six rear-wheel tractor tubes. In determining the amount that may be granted to an applicant, the amount of unmounted rear-wheel tractor-type tires and rear-wheel tractor tubes held at the establishment must be deducted from the maximum allotment, and certificates may be issued for no more than the difference. Only one allotment for each establishment may be granted.

The State Director or District Manager may refuse to authorize the allotment if granting it will defeat or impair the effectiveness or policy of this Ratio Order No. 1A.

2. Section 1315.602 (i) is added to read as follows:

(i) Allotment of rear-wheel tractor tires and tubes. Application for an allotment of rear-wheel tractor-tires and tubes shall be filed on OPA Form No. R-60 with the State Director or District Manager for the area in which the establishment is located.

3. Section 1315.607 (b) (2) is amended to read as follows:

(2) For allotment of tires and tubes. OPA Form No. R-2 (Revised) authorizing an applicant to acquire an allotment of Grade I, Grade II or Grade III tires, passenger tubes or rear-wheel tractor-type tires or tubes.

4. Section 1315.611 (c) (2) is added to read as follows:

(2) Any dealer may, in exchange for a certificate for a truck tube, transfer to the holder thereof a passenger tube.

5. The table set forth in § 1315.804 (c) (3) is amended to read as follows:

If Part B calls for—	Dealer or manufacturer may replenish with—
Any size Grade I tire.	Any size Grade I, II, or III tire.
Any size Grade II tire.	Any size Grade II or III tire.
Any size Grade III tire.	Any size Grade III tire.
Any size Grade I or II tire only.	Any size Grade I or II tire.
Any size truck-type tire.	Any size truck, tractor, implement-type or Grade III tire.
Any size tractor-type tire.	Any size tractor, implement-type or Grade III tire.
Any size implement-type tire.	Any size tractor, implement-type or Grade III tire.
Any size passenger tube	Any size passenger tube.
Any size truck tube.	Any size truck or passenger tube.

This amendment shall become effective April 15, 1943.

HUNT MANUFACTURING COMPANY

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith, It is ordered:

§ 1499.1822 Adjustment of maximum prices for sales of coal tar disinfectant by Hunt Manufacturing Company. (a) On and after March 27, 1943, the Hunt Manufacturing Company, Cleveland, Ohio, may sell and deliver to Sears, Roebuck & Co. and to Montgomery Ward Co., its coal tar disinfectant, coefficient 3, (described and referred to more fully in its petition filed with the Office of Price Administration, bearing Docket No. GF3-3156) at a maximum price of $6.62 per dozen gallons.

(b) The maximum price set forth in the preceding paragraph shall be subject to terms by the seller, with respect to transportation charges and discounts, which are no less favorable to the purchaser than those in effect during March 1942.

(c) The Hunt Manufacturing Company shall supply to Sears, Roebuck & Co. and to Montgomery Ward Co., at or before the time of the first sale after the effective date of this order, the following written notice:

The Office of Price Administration has permitted us to raise our maximum price for sales to you of our coal tar disinfectant coefficient 3, to $6.62 per dozen gallons. This increase represents only that part of our increases which we were unable to absorb, and it was granted with the understanding that retail prices would not be raised. The Office of Price Administration has not permitted you or any other seller to raise maximum prices for sales of this product.

(d) All prayers of the petition not granted herein are denied.

(e) This Order No. 222 may be revoked or amended by the Price Administrator at any time.

PART 1499—COMMODITIES AND SERVICES

[Order 349 Under § 1499.3 (b) of GMPR]

APPALACHIAN MILLS COMPANY

Appalachian Mills Company, of Knoxville, Tennessee, made application for an authorization to determine the maximum price which it may charge for men's and women's "T" shirt-short combination garments. Due consideration has been given the application and it appears that this garment cannot be priced by the seller under § 1499.2 of the General Maximum Price Regulation. For the reasons set forth in the opinion supporting this order, which has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register, and under the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and in accordance with Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1 and § 1499.3 (b) of the General Maximum Price Regulation, issued by the Office of Price Administration, It is hereby ordered:

§ 1499.1785 Approval of maximum prices for men's and women's "T" shirt-short combination garments manufactured by Appalachian Mills Company for H. M. McDonald, Chicago, Illinois. (a) On and after March 27, 1943, Appalachian Mills Company, Knoxville, Tennessee, may sell, deliver and offer for sale to H. M. McDonald, Chicago, Illinois, the following described commodities at the prices set forth below:

(1) A maximum price of $7.00 per dozen for Style No. 1000 men's "T" shirt-short combination made of carded cotton yarn, with double fabric front and neck finish, double fabric sleeve and leg finish, set-in gusset in leg, with buttons no smaller than 18 line and no more than 3 inches apart, and with a finished weight of four pounds per dozen.

(2) A maximum price of $6.75 per dozen for Style No. 2000 women's "T" shirt-short combination made of carded cotton yarn, with double fabric front and neck finish, double fabric sleeve and leg finish, set-in gusset in leg, with buttons no smaller than 18 line and no more than 3 inches apart, and with a finished weight of three and three-fourths pounds per dozen.

(b) On and after March 27, 1943, the maximum price at which H. M. McDonald, Chicago, Illinois, may sell, deliver and offer for sale at wholesale the commodity described in subparagraph (1) of paragraph (a) above, shall be $7.80 per dozen.

(b) On and after March 27, 1943, the maximum price at which H. M. McDonald, Chicago, Illinois, may sell, deliver and offer for sale at wholesale the commodity described in subparagraph (2) of paragraph (a) above, shall be $7.50 per dozen.

(d) On or before July 1, 1943, Appalachian Mills Company shall file with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., in duplicate a complete and detailed analysis of the applicant's operations and cost expenses in the manufacture of men's and women's "T" shirt-short combination garments, which shall state:

(1) Direct labor cost.
(2) Direct material cost.
(3) Indirect labor.
(4) Overhead.
(5) Administrative expenses.
(6) Selling expenses.
(7) Number of units manufactured.
(8) Number of units sold and the price received therefor.

(9) An explanation in detail of the method of computing direct material cost, direct labor cost, indirect labor cost, and method of allocating overhead, administrative expenses and selling expenses.

(10) Balance sheets and profit and loss statements for year of 1942, and for the first 3 months of 1943.

(e) On or before July 1, 1943, H. M. McDonald, Chicago, Illinois, shall file with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., in duplicate, a complete and detailed analysis of his operations and expenses in the distribution of men's and women's "T" shirt-short combination garments, including facts showing services rendered, classes of purchasers and volume of sales to each class, number of salesmen employed, expenses of doing business, assumption of credit risks, if any, manner of billing customers, and manner of shipment from manufacturer to purchaser.

(f) The maximum prices set forth in paragraphs (a), (b) and (c) shall be subject to adjustment at any time by the Office of Price Administration.

(g) This Order No. 349 may be revoked or amended by the Price Administrator at any time.

(h) This Order No. 349 (§ 1499.1785) shall become effective March 27, 1943.

(Pub. Laws 421 and 729, 77th Cong.; E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871)

PART 1315—RUBBER AND PRODUCTS AND MATERIALS OF WHICH RUBBER IS A COMPONENT

[MPR 300,[1] Amendment 4]

MAXIMUM MANUFACTURERS' PRICES FOR RUBBER DRUG SUNDRIES

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Maximum Price Regulation 300 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 1315.1755 is amended to read as follows:

Section 1315.1755 Maximum prices—Specific authorization. The maximum manufacturers' price for any rubber drug sundry, other than victory line, which it is either impossible or impracticable to price under § 1315.1753 or § 1315.1754, shall be a price, in line with the level of prices established by this regulation, determined by the seller after specific authorization from the Office of Price Administration. A seller who seeks an authorization to determine a maximum price under the provisions of this section shall file with the Office of Price Administration in Washington, D. C., an application setting forth:

(a) A description in detail of the rubber drug sundry for which a maximum price is sought (including the manufacturing process); (b) a statement of the facts which make it impossible or impracticable for him to use the methods for determining a maximum price set forth in §§ 1315.1753 and 1315.1754; (c) his proposed pricing method; and (d) a statement of the reasons why he believes that the use of this method will result in prices which are in line with the level of prices established by this regulation. Such authorization will be in writing and will prescribe a method of determining the maximum price for some or all of the rubber drug sundries, other than victory line, manufactured by the applicant which it is impossible or impracticable to price under either § 1315.1753 or § 1315.1754.

This section is applicable to all manufacturers of rubber drug sundries, except distributors of rubber drug sundries.

2. Section 1315.1764 (b) (1) is amended by amending the first sentence thereof to read as follows:

Before or at the time of the first delivery of any rubber drug sundry, other than victory line, to a wholesaler, other than a dental, surgical or hospital supply house, after January 31, 1943, the manufacturer shall notify the wholesaler of the maximum wholesale price of that article.

3. Section 1315.1764 (b) (2) is amended by adding a new sentence to the text to read as follows:

The notification required by this subparagraph shall also be given to dental, surgical and hospital supply houses for those types of rubber drug sundries, other than victory line, that are customarily sold at retail.

This amendment shall become effective March 26, 1943.

(Pub. Laws 421 and 729, 77th Cong.; E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871)

Issued this 26th day of March 1943.

PART 1315—RUBBER AND PRODUCTS AND MATERIALS OF WHICH RUBBER IS A COMPONENT

[MPR 301,[1] Amendment 4]

RETAIL AND WHOLESALE PRICES FOR RUBBER DRUG SUNDRIES

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Maximum Price Regulation No. 301 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 1315.1776 (b) is amended to read as follows:

(b) To what types of sellers this regulation applies. This regulation applies to all sellers who sell at retail or at wholesale; except that it shall not apply until June 1, 1943, to sales by dental, surgical or hospital supply houses of rubber drug sundries, other than victory line, to physicians, dentists, morticians, veterinarians, laboratories, hospitals, industrial or commercial users, the United States, any other government or any of its political subdivisions, any religious, educational or charitable institution, any institution for the sick, deaf, blind, disabled, aged or insane, or any school, library or to any agency of any of the foregoing.

2. Section 1315.1779 (c) is amended to read as follows:

(c) Sales of baby feeding nipples. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this section (§ 1315.1779), the maximum price for sales at retail of baby feeding nipples shall be determined in accordance with the applicable provisions of paragraphs (a), (b), or (c) of this section (§ 1315.1779), but in no case shall the price for baby feeding nipples, other than specially constructed baby feeding nipples exceed three for $0.25 or $0.10 each whenever the purchaser requests less than three. As used in this paragraph (c) the term "specially constructed baby feeding nipples" includes the following types: breast, semi-breast, valve, screw-on and cleft palate.

This amendment shall become effective March 26, 1943.

(Pub. Laws 421 and 729, 7th Cong.; E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871)

PART 1407—RATIONING OF FOOD AND FOOD PRODUCTS

[RO 12,[1] Amendment 25]

COFFEE RATIONING REGULATIONS

A rationale accompanying this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Ration Order No. 12 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 1407.1041 (a) is amended to read as follows:

(a) Any person, otherwise eligible to acquire green coffee, may acquire green coffee at any time and irrespective of his allowable inventory, subject, however, to the provisions of this section. If green coffee is acquired by any person whose green coffee operating inventory exceeds 50 per cent of his allowable inventory, such person, if he does not make an immediate sale of the amount of coffee so acquired, shall, within 24 hours after acquiring such green coffee, offer that amount for sale, through established coffee dealers and brokers, in conformity with Ration Order No. 12. If green coffee is acquired by any person, whose green coffee operating inventory is 50 per cent or less of his allowable inventory, in an amount which, together with the coffee in his existing inventory, exceeds his allowable inventory, such person, if he does not make an immediate sale of coffee in the amount of such excess, shall offer that amount for sale in the manner above provided: Provided, however, That a person whose green coffee operating inventory amounts to 50 per cent or less of his allowable inventory may acquire one carload of green coffee, and need not offer any coffee for sale pursuant to this paragraph if the amount of green coffee contained in such carload exceeds 50 per cent of his allowable inventory. If, prior to the acceptance of an offer for sale made pursuant to this paragraph the green coffee operating inventory or existing inventory of the person making the offer is reduced so that he would be entitled to acquire green coffee without offering coffee for sale, he may withdraw from the amount of coffee offered for sale pursuant to this section an amount of coffee equivalent to the amount he would be entitled to acquire without offering to sell any pursuant to this section.

2. Section 1407.1041 is amended by adding a new paragraph (c) to read as follows:

(c) Green coffee operating inventory, as used in this section, shall include all green coffee in the inventory of a roaster which is (1) in roasting plants; (2) in warehouses for his account; (3) at final destination of the coffee, as shown by bills of lading or shipping instructions or other orders of the roaster; (4) at any place within the continental United States if the roaster has not given shipping instructions within 24 hours after acceptance of tender of title or after the coffee is available for delivery to him; or (5) at any place, if, at the roaster's direction there is a delay either in shipment or by rerouting. (A person's green coffee operating inventory is a part of his existing inventory.)

This amendment shall become effective March 26, 1943.

[MPR 30,[1] Amendment 1]

WASTEPAPER

A statement of considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Footnotes 23 and 24 of § 1347.14 (a) are amended to read as follows:

[23] "Mixed books" consist of books or magazines, including outthrow not in excess of 40 per cent of the total weight of the packing. Packings which contain in excess of 40 per cent outthrow must not be sold at a price in excess of the maximum price of "No. 1 mixed paper". Packings of this grade which are sold for use in the manufacture of paperboard, regardless of outthrow percentage must not be sold at a price in excess of the maximum price of "No. 1 mixed paper". Optional method of packing—securely tied bundles or bags

[24] "No. 1 heavy books and magazines" consist of used and overissue books and magazines, stitchless stock, quire waste, and similar printed matter. The stock shall be free from heavily inked, deeply colored, gilt, aluminum, varnished, lithographed, rotogravure printed, and cover papers. This grade shall not contain more than 2% outthrow. Deliveries which fail to meet the requirement as to outthrow must be rejected or paid for only after adjustment to eliminate any payment for the excessive outthrow. Optional method of packing—securely tied bundles or, in the case of flat stock, on skids.

This amendment shall become effective April 2, 1943.

PART 1351—FOOD AND FOOD PRODUCTS

[MPR 280,[1] Amendment 17]

CHEESE

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Section 1351.807a is amended to read as follows:

§ 1351.807a Special provision for foreign-type cheese. Sellers of cheese, except the following:

Processed cheese of all kinds.
Cheddar cheese covered by Maximum Price Regulation No. 289.[2]
Aged cheddar cheese covered by Maximum Price Regulation No. 280.
Colby cheese.
Washed curd cheese.
Monterey or jack cheese.
All other cheeses of cheddar class having a moisture content of 40% or more.
Cottage cheese.
Creamed cottage cheese.
Neufchatel cheese.
Other soft varieties of cheese (generally known as farm cheese, baker's cheese, pot cheese, and smearcase cheese).
All cheese of less than 20% butterfat content in the water free substance.

may add 3¢ per pound to the maximum prices provided in § 1351.803 hereof: Provided, That this 3¢ increase shall not be applied to those stocks of cheeses which were in the seller's possession prior to February 10, 1943. However, a cheese factory may apply this increase to cheeses which it has manufactured and delivers on or after February 10, 1943, regardless of whether such cheeses were manufactured before or after that date.

"Colby cheese" and "washed curd cheese" means colby cheese and washed curd cheese as defined in the "Standards of Identity for Cheddar Cheese, Cheese, Washed Curd Cheese, Colby Cheese" promulgated by the Food and Drug Administration and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER of January 9, 1941, page 195.

"Cottage cheese", "creamed cottage cheese" and "neufchatel cheese" means cottage cheese, creamed cottage cheese and neufchatel cheese as defined in the "Definitions and Standards of Identity for Creamed Cheese, Neufchatel Cheese, Cottage Cheese and Creamed Cottage Cheese" promulgated by the Food and Drug Administration, and published in the Federal Register of December 23, 1942, pages 10758 and 10759.

This amendment shall become effective April 2, 1943.

PART 1351—FOOD AND FOOD PRODUCTS

[MPR 319,[1] Amendment 3]

CERTAIN BAKERY PRODUCTS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Maximum Price Regulation 319 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 1351.1907 is amended to read as follows:

§ 1351.1907 Producer's wrappers must show maximum price for sales to ultimate consumers. Wherever a producer sells a commodity listed in Appendix A hereof in a wrapper or other packaging materials after having calculated or reported his maximum price thereon, and where said commodity is intended to be sold by retailers, he shall print on the face of said wrapper or packaging material the maximum price of the retailer for sales to ultimate consumers calculated in accordance with § 1351.1904, inserting it in the following statement: "Ceiling price ---------" or where he sells said commodity directly to the ultimate consumer, he shall insert in said statement his maximum price for sales to ultimate consumers calculated in accordance with § 1351.1903: Provided, That where the producer has on hand a supply of wrappers or other packaging materials procured at any time prior to the effective date of this amendment and which bears, with or without description, a price of the commodity not exceeding either of said maximum prices for sales to ultimate consumers as herein specified, he may exhaust his present supply before procuring wrappers or other packaging materials bearing the precise statement above specified.

2. Section 1351.1912 is amended to read as follows:

§ 1351.1912 Prohibitions against dealing in the commodities covered by this regulation above maximum prices determined hereunder. Sixty days after the effective date of this regulation, regardless of any contract or other obligation, no producer, wholesaler, route seller or retailer shall, in the course of trade or business, sell, deliver, or offer to sell any commodity listed in Appendix A of this regulation unless he has calculated and reported his maximum prices thereon as provided in this regulation, nor shall any person in the course of trade or business sell, deliver, offer, buy or receive, or agree, solicit or attempt to do any of the foregoing at any time at a price higher than maximum prices permitted by this regulation.

3. The reference to § 1351. at the end of paragraph (a) of § 1351.1903 is corrected to read § 1351.1902.

This amendment shall become effective April 2, 1943.

PART 1375—EXPORT PRICES

[Rev. Max. Export Price Reg., Amendment 5]

STEEL EXPORT PRICES

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this regulation is issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Sections 1375.6, 1375.7, 1375.8, 1375.9, 1375.10, 1375.11 and 1375.12 are redesignated §§ 1375.7, 1375.8, 1375.9, 1375.10, 1375.11, 1375.12 and 1375.13, respectively. New § 1375.6 is added to read as follows:

§ 1375.6 Steel export prices. (a) In the case of an exporter who is a producer of iron and steel products as defined in Revised Price Schedule No. 6 (Iron and Steel Products), the maximum export price of such a product sold under a contract of sale entered into on or after April 2, 1943, shall be either:

(1) The aggregate of:

(i) The domestic or export base price of the product at the governing or emergency basing point, plus applicable domestic and export extras, as provided in Revised Price Schedule No. 6, and plus inland transportation charges (at export rates where applicable) from such governing or emergency basing point (whichever is applicable) to the port of exit: Provided, however, That if an emergency basing point is used the transportation charges shall in no case exceed the actual transportation charges from the producing mill to the port of exit; and

(ii) Expenses incident to exportation and incurred or to be incurred by the exporter such as demurrage, storage, transfer to the export carrier, ocean or other export freight, marine and war risk insurance, and consular fees; or

(2) The aggregate of:

(i) The export base price of the product quoted by the United States Steel Export Company, f. a. s. the port of exit on April 16, 1941, plus applicable export extras, as provided in Revised Price Schedule No. 6 (see its Appendix D for such export base prices for principal ports); and

(ii) Expenses incident to exportation and incurred or to be incurred by the exporter for demurrage, storage, and transfer to the export carrier, in excess of the amounts of such charges which were normally included in the price under § 1375.6 (a) (2) (i) above; and

(iii) Other expenses incident to exportation and incurred or to be incurred by the exporter such as ocean freight, marine and war risk insurance, and consular fees; or

(3) Where a product has no basing point base price, the maximum price established by § 1375.6 (a) (2) above, or the aggregate of:

(i) The export price, including applicable extras, which was or would have been charged for the product by the producer on April 16, 1941, plus inland transportation charges (at export rates where applicable) from the producing mill to the port of exit (except that portion of those charges which was or would have been included in such price); and

(ii) Expenses incident to exportation and incurred or to be incurred by the exporter in excess of the amounts, if any, of such expenses which were normally included in the price under § 1375.6 (a) (3) (i) above.

Provided, That on a sale to a procurement agency buying for the account of the Office of Lend-Lease Administration, the maximum price shall be the maximum domestic price established by Revised Price Schedule No. 6, except that (1) where there are no published or filed domestic extras, export extras shall apply; (2) inland transportation charges shall be computed at export rates where applicable, otherwise at domestic rates; and (3) where there is no established domestic ceiling price for the product, the maximum price shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of § 1375.6 (a) (2) or § 1375.6 (a) (3) above.

(b) In the case of an exporter who is not a producer but a seller of iron and steel products as defined in Revised Price Schedule No. 49, the maximum export price of such a product sold under a contract of sale entered into on or after April 2, 1943, shall be either:

(1) Where the exporter has put the product being exported through "the operations commonly known as the warehousing of iron or steel products" as defined in § 1306.157 (s) of Revised Price Schedule No. 49, the aggregate of:

(i) The maximum price, including applicable extras as provided in Revised Price Schedule No. 49 which would be applicable to a sale of the product by the exporter to a domestic purchaser within the exporter's city or free delivery area (which price shall include delivery f. o. b. inland carrier within such city or free delivery area or, if shipment is to be made by boat from port located within such city or free delivery area, shall include delivery f. a. s. vessel);

(ii) Expenses incident to exportation and incurred or to be incurred by the exporter, such as inland transportation charges (at export rates where applicable), demurrage, storage, transfer to the export carrier, ocean or other export freight, marine and war risk insurance, and consular fees; or

(2) Where the exporter has not put the product being exported through "the operations commonly known as the warehousing of iron or steel products" as defined in § 1306.157 (s) of Revised Price Schedule No. 49, the aggregate of:

(i) The maximum price, including applicable extras, which would be applicable to a current sale of the product to the exporter by the supplier thereof; and

(ii) An amount not in excess of 12½ per cent of such maximum price (but which need not be less than $20) when the total price of the order to the exporter computed at such maximum price does not exceed $1,000, or 10 per cent (but not less than $125) when such total price is over $1,000 but does not exceed $4,000, or 8 per cent (but not less than $400) when such total price is over $4,000 but does not exceed $10,000, or 6 per cent (but not less than $800) when such total price is over $10,000; and

(iii) An additional amount calculated as a percentage of the maximum price under § 1375.6 (b) (2) (i) above as follows: if the terms of payment call for letter of credit payable against ocean documents, 1½ per cent; or, if the terms call for draft payable abroad and no letter of credit is involved, 2 per cent if such draft is payable at sight plus an additional ½ of 1 per cent for each 30 days from sight at which such draft is payable; or, if the sale is made on open account, 2 per cent if the terms stated are cash on receipt of invoice, plus an additional ½ of 1 per cent for each 30 days of credit extension stipulated on the invoice, but in no event more than a total of 3½ per cent; and

(iv) Expenses incident to exportation and incurred or to be incurred by the exporter, such as inland transportation charges (at export rates where applicable), demurrage, storage, transfer to the export carrier, ocean or other export freight, marine and war risk insurance, and consular fees.

(c) Where shipment has actually been made to the intended point of exportation and war exigencies require the use of another point of exportation, the maximum export prices shall be those established under §§ 1375.6 (a) and 1375.6 (b) above, except that such maximum prices may include the additional amount actually incurred by the exporter to effect delivery at the point of exportation finally used.

(d) The maximum export prices established by §§ 1375.6 (a) and 1375.6 (b) above shall include and shall not be increased by reason of interest or financing charges connected with the transaction or by reason of any fees or commissions, including commissions paid to intermediaries, whether domestic or foreign.

§ 1375.12 Effective date of amendments. * * *

(e) Amendment No. 5 (§ 1375.6) shall become effective April 2, 1943.

(Pub. Laws 421 and 729, 77th Cong.; E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871)

PART 1394—RATIONING OF FUEL AND FUEL PRODUCTS

[RO 11,[1] Amendment 54]

FUEL OIL RATIONING REGULATIONS

A rationale for this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Ration Order No. 11 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 1394.5461 is added to read as follows:

§ 1394.5461 Fuel oil ration record cards. Upon request of any registered primary supplier applying for a ration, the board may issue to him a fuel oil ration record card, Form OPA R-1131, instead of coupons, or part of the ration on such card and part in coupons. If the ration is issued for heat, or heat and hot water, the period of validity of the fuel oil ration record card shall be limited to any thermal period specified in § 1394.5266 (c) for the thermal zone in which the equipment for which the ration is required, is located. The fuel oil ration record card shall be prepared in duplicate by the board. The duplicate shall be retained for the files of the board.

2. Section 1394.5603 (a) is amended by substituting a comma for the colon after the phrase "§ 1394.5653" and inserting after such comma the phrase "or shown on a fuel oil ration record card:".

3. The headnote to § 1394.5723 is amended to read as follows:

4 Section 1394.5723 (e) is added to read as follows:

(e) A primary supplier to whom a fuel oil ration record card has been issued, pursuant to § 1394.5461, may during the period of validity of the card, obtain from the issuing board an exchange certificate, or certificates, or coupons, not exceeding in gallonage value the balance, at that time, of the amount of fuel oil which may be transferred to or consumed by him, as shown on the duplicate of the card kept in the files of the board. If the fuel oil ration record card was issued for heat, or heat and hot water, and coupon sheets are requested, the board shall issue Class 1 or Class 2 coupon sheets containing coupons valid only in the thermal period for which the ration was issued. No fuel oil ration record card may be used as an evidence for purposes of replenishment.

This amendment shall become effective April 2, 1943.

has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Ration Order No. 11 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 1394.5461 is added to read as follows:

§ 1394.5461 Fuel oil ration record cards. Upon request of any registered primary supplier applying for a ration, the board may issue to him a fuel oil ration record card, Form OPA R-1131, instead of coupons, or part of the ration on such card and part in coupons. If the ration is issued for heat, or heat and hot water, the period of validity of the fuel oil ration record card shall be limited to any thermal period specified in § 1394.5266 (c) for the thermal zone in which the equipment for which the ration is required, is located. The fuel oil ration record card shall be prepared in duplicate by the board. The duplicate shall be retained for the files of the board.

2. Section 1394.5603 (a) is amended by substituting a comma for the colon after the phrase "§ 1394.5653" and inserting after such comma the phrase "or shown on a fuel oil ration record card:".

3. The headnote to § 1394.5723 is amended to read as follows:

4 Section 1394.5723 (e) is added to read as follows:

(e) A primary supplier to whom a fuel oil ration record card has been issued, pursuant to § 1394.5461, may during the period of validity of the card, obtain from the issuing board an exchange certificate, or certificates, or coupons, not exceeding in gallonage value the balance, at that time, of the amount of fuel oil which may be transferred to or consumed by him, as shown on the duplicate of the card kept in the files of the board. If the fuel oil ration record card was issued for heat, or heat and hot water, and coupon sheets are requested, the board shall issue Class 1 or Class 2 coupon sheets containing coupons valid only in the thermal period for which the ration was issued. No fuel oil ration record card may be used as an evidence for purposes of replenishment.

This amendment shall become effective April 2, 1943.

PART 1499—COMMODITIES AND SERVICES

[SR 14[1] to GMPR,[2] Amendment 144]

PURPOSE OF NEW METHOD OF PRICING

A statement of the considerations of Amendment 144 to Supplementary Regulation No. 14 has been issued and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Supplementary Regulation 14 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 1499.73 (a) (7) is amended by deleting the word "food" wherever it appears.

2. Section 1499.73 (a) (7) (i) is amended to read as follows:

(i) Explanation. The purpose of the new method of pricing provided by this subparagraph (7) is to permit the packer who is now packing certain commodities in containers of new types and sizes (that is, types and sizes which he did not deliver or offer for delivery during March 1942) to establish maximum prices for those items. The method permits him to account for differences in container costs, and for differences in transportation costs caused by the difference in containers, without permitting him to increase the price per unit of the commodity packed in the new container. The new method, however, applies only where a previous maximum price of the commodity has been set for a container size not more than 50% larger or smaller than the new size, and only in cases where both containers are of the nonreturnable, single-use type. Packers must refigure every maximum price set under the General Maximum Price Regulation for a commodity packed in a new container type or size to which the rules of this subparagraph (7) are applicable. However, packers who before January 25, 1943, had figured the maximum price for a commodity under §§ 1499.2 (b) or 1499.3 (b) of the General Maximum Price Regulation, or under the rules formerly provided in this subparagraph, may, if they wish keep that price or instead figure a new maximum price using the new pricing method where it is applicable. The new pricing method applies to the following commodities:

(a) Food commodities, excepting coffee and coffee compounds (see subparagraph (53)), dog and cat foods (see subparagraph (62)).

(b) Granite grit.

3. Section 1499.73 (a) (7) (vi) is hereby revoked.

This amendment shall be effective April 2, 1943

PART 1499—COMMODITIES AND SERVICES

[MPR 188,[1] Amendment 9]

MANUFACTURERS' MAXIMUM PRICES FOR SPECIFIED BUILDING MATERIALS AND CONSUMERS' GOODS OTHER THAN APPAREL

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Section 1499.161 is amended and a new § 1499.167 is added, both as set forth below:

§ 1499.161 Applications for adjustment and petitions for amendment—(a) Applications for adjustment. The Office of Price Administration, or any duly authorized officer thereof, may by order adjust any maximum price established under this Maximum Price Regulation No. 188 in the following cases:

(1) In the case of a manufacturer who shows:

(i) That such maximum price causes him substantial hardship and is abnormally low in relation to the maximum prices established for competitive sellers of the same or similar commodities; and

(ii) That establishing for him a maximum price bearing a normal relation to the maximum prices established for competitive sellers of the same or similar commodities will not cause or threaten to cause an increase in the level of retail prices.

Applications for adjustment under this paragraph (1) shall be filed in accordance with Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1.[3] No application for adjustment filed after November 15, 1942, will be granted under this paragrapl. (1).

(2) In the case of any manufacturer, when it appears with respect to an article set forth in Appendix B (§ 1499.167) of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 188:

(i) That there exists or threatens to exist in a particular locality a shortage in the supply of a commodity which aids directly in the war program or is essential to a standard of living consistent with the prosecution of the war; and

(ii) That such local shortage will be substantially reduced or eliminated by adjusting the maximum prices of such manufacturer and of like manufacturers for such commodity; and

(iii) That such adjustment will not create or tend to create a shortage, or need for increase in price, in another locality, and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

Each regional administrator is authorized to make adjustments or act upon applications for adjustment under this paragraph (2).

(3) In the case of any manufacturer who shows:

(i) That he is the sole manufacturer of an essential commodity such as one, the production and sale of which is affirmatively permitted by regulations or orders issued by the War Production Board.

(ii) That the maximum prices established by this regulation do not permit the recovery of total costs; and

(iii) That the operations of the company are currently being conducted at a loss.

Adjustment in price may be made to an extent sufficient to enable the manufacturer to recover total costs on the article, together with a profit. In a proper case, the manufacturer may charge a price equal to the price requested in the application, provided that he has received a letter from the Office of Price Administration stating that his is a proper case. Such price shall be tentative and refunds shall be made to each purchaser in the event that the application is denied in whole or in part. Applications for adjustment under this paragraph shall be filed in accordance with Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1.

(b) Petitions for amendment. Any person seeking an amendment of any provision of this Maximum Price Regulation No 188 may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1.

§ 1499.167. Appendix B. The maximum prices for articles set forth below may be adjusted in accordance with provisions of § 1499.161 (a) (2) of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 188.

NOTE: The articles listed below are not intended to include (a) any commodity subject to a specific maximum price regulation or price schedule in effect on August 1, 1942, or issued any time thereafter, or (b) any commodity exempted from the General Maximum Price Regulation by any supplementary regulation thereto, in effect on August 1, 1942, or issued any time thereafter. Since the designations of some articles are broad enough in certain instances to suggest that articles are included which are intended to be excluded, other regulations which might be applicable to the article or type of article have been indicated. Manufacturers selling articles listed below should, before seeking an adjustment of their maximum prices in accordance with this regulation, determine whether specific price regulations or regulations supplementary to the General Maximum Price Regulation have been issued subsequent to the date of this regulation with respect to the articles so listed.

Concrete products:
- Building blocks and bricks
- Tile and tiling
- Sewer and culvert pipe
- Drain tile
- Posts, piles, and cribbing
- Septic tanks
- Grave vaults and liners
- Laundry trays

Structural clay products:
- Common brick
- Sand lime brick
- Hollow tile, unglazed

Clay drain tile
Sand and gravel
Slag
Cinders
Crushed stone:
- Construction
- Metallurgical
- Chemical

Ready-mixed concrete.
Rough stone:
- Rubble
- Riprap
- Field stone

Dimension stone:
- Limestone
- Granite
- Marble
- Sandstone
- Basalt and related rocks

This amendment shall become effective April 2, 1943.

PART 1305—ADMINISTRATION

[General Ration Order 5,[1] Amendment 8]

FOOD RATIONING FOR INSTITUTIONAL USERS

A rationale for this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

General Ration Order No. 5 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 3.6 is added to read as follows:

SEC. 3.6 Opening inventory of foods covered by Ration Order No. 16. (a) As part of his application for his first allotment of "foods covered by Ration Order No. 16", an institutional user must report in pounds his inventory of each class of those foods at the close of business on March 28, 1943 in accordance with the rules stated in paragraphs (a) to (e) of section 3.2 with respect to processed foods. However, for the purpose of this section, all references to Ration Order No. 13 shall be read as Ration Order No. 16.

(b) The point value of an institutional user's inventory of food covered by Ration Order No. 16 at the close of business on March 28, 1943 is to be computed in the following way:

(1) The amount in pounds in each of the following classes is determined:

(i) Meat (except poultry but including canned fish)

(ii) Rationed cheeses

(iii) Butter (as defined in Ration Order No. 16)

(iv) Margarine (as defined in Ration Order No. 16)

(v) Shortening (as defined in Ration Order No. 16)

(vi) Cooking or salad oils (as defined in Ration Order 16)

(2) The amount in pounds in each of the above classes are added together;

(3) The resulting sum is multiplied by a factor fixed for that purpose by the Office of Price Administration (in a supplement to this order). The result is treated as the point value of his inventory.

2. Section 4.2 (b) is amended by inserting the words "or foods covered by Ration Order No. 16" immediately following the phrase "processed foods" wherever it appears in this paragraph.

3. Section 5.2 (a) is amended by inserting the following sentence between the second and third sentences:

• • • However, in the case of foods covered by Ration Order No. 16, the first allotment period is from March 29, 1943 to April 30, 1943. • • •

4. Section 5.3 (b) is amended by adding the following parenthetical sentence between the first and second sentences:

• • • (However, an institutional user who has registered under this order may apply for an allotment of foods covered by Ration Order No. 16 for the first allotment period by making a written request therefor to the Board at any time between March 29, 1943 and April 7, 1943.) • • •

5. Section 6.2 (a) is amended as follows:

The words "each rationed food" are deleted and "sugar, coffee and processed foods" are added in place thereof; and

The words "and of foods covered by Ration Order No. 16 for the second allotment period" are added between the word "periods" and the word "is".

6. Section 6.2 (b) is added to read as follows:

(b) The allotment of foods covered by Ration Order No. 16 for the first allotment period is computed in the following way:

(1) The number of persons served during December 1942 is multiplied by the "allowance per person" fixed for those foods by the Office of Price Administration as set forth in a supplement to this Order.

(2) The result is multiplied by one and one-tenth (1.1) (since the allotment is for one and one-tenth months);

(3) The figure obtained is the allotment.

7. Section 7.1 (a) (1) is amended by adding the following parenthetical sentence before the semicolon at the end thereof; • • •

*Copies may be obtained from the Office of Price Administration.

[1] 8 F.R. 2195, 2348, 2598, 2666, 2667, 3178, 3216, 3255, 3616.

(For the purpose of determining the base, all cheeses except cottage, pot and bakers', shall be included in foods covered by Ration Order No. 16.)

8. Section 7.1 (d) is amended as follows:

The words "and foods covered by Ration Order No. 16" are inserted immediately following the phrase "processed foods" wherever it appears in this paragraph; and

The phrase "sections 3.2 (f) and 3.6 (b)" is inserted in lieu of the phrase "section 3.2 (f)".

9. Section 7.2 (a) is amended by adding the following sentence at the end thereof:

* * * However, his allotment of foods covered by Ration Order No. 16 for the first allotment period, for his establishments in Group III is one and one-tenth (1.1) times his base for those foods.

10. Section 9.3 (a) is amended by inserting the words "or foods covered by Ration Order No. 16" immediately following the phrase "processed foods" wherever it appears in this paragraph.

11. Section 9.4 is added to read as follows:

SEC. 9.4 Emergency certificates for foods covered by Ration Order No. 16. (a) A Group II or III institutional user who has registered under this order and who needs foods covered by Ration Order No. 16 before his application for an allotment of those foods can be passed upon, may apply, in any convenient manner, for an emergency certificate for those foods. Only one application may be made under this section.

(b) The Board may issue a certificate in an amount computed in the following way:

(1) The number of persons served in December 1942 shall be multiplied by 0.93;

(2) The result shall be divided by 2;

(3) The quotient is the maximum amount (in points) of the certificate which may be issued.

(c) The amount of the emergency certificate issued shall be added to the opening inventory of the applicant and the sum shall be considered his opening inventory for the purposes of sections 9.1 and 9.2. The certificate shall not be considered to increase his allotment.

12. Section 11.2 (a) is amended as follows:

The words "of coffee, sugar or processed foods" are added between the phrase "a supplemental allotment" and the phrase "for the first"; and

The phrase "or for a supplemental allotment of foods covered by Ration Order No. 16 for the second allotment period" is added between the phrase "second allotment period", and the phrase "the Board".

13. Section 11.2 (b) is redesignated section 11.2 (c) and a new section 11.2 (b) is added to read as follows:

(b) In the case of application by a Group II user for a supplemental allotment of foods covered by Ration Order No. 16 for the first allotment period, the Board shall grant the supplemental allotment only if it finds that the number of persons he will serve during that allotment period will be more than twenty (20) percent larger than one and one-tenth (1.1) times the number he served during December 1942. The supplemental allotment is computed as follows:

(1) The number of persons he served during December 1942 is multiplied by one and one-tenth (1.1);

(2) The resulting figure is subtracted from the total number he will serve during the current period;

(3) The difference is multiplied by the allowance per person for those foods;

(4) The result is the supplemental allotment to be granted.

14. Section 11.3 (a) is amended as follows:

The words "of coffee, sugar or processed foods" are added between the phrase "a supplemental allotment" and the phrase "for the first"; and

The phrase "or of foods covered by Ration Order No. 16 for the second allotment period," is added between the phrase "second allotment period" and the phrase "the Board".

15. Paragraphs (c) and (d) are added to section 11.3, to read as follows:

(c) If a Group III user applies for a supplemental allotment of foods covered by Ration Order No. 16 for the first allotment period, the Board shall grant the supplemental allotment only if it finds that both:

(1) The number of persons he will serve during that allotment period will be more than twenty (20) percent larger than one and one-tenth (1.1) times the number he served during December 1942; and

(2) His dollar revenue during that allotment period will be more than twenty (20) percent larger than one and one-tenth (1.1) times his dollar revenue during December 1942.

(d) His supplemental allotment of foods covered by Ration Order No. 16 is to be computed in the following way:

(1) The amount of the estimated increase in the number of persons he will serve is divided by one and one-tenth (1.1) times the number he served during December 1942;

(2) The amount of the estimated increase in his dollar revenue is divided by one and one-tenth (1.1) times his dollar revenue for December 1942;

(3) The smaller of the two figures obtained in (1) and (2) above is multiplied by his allotment of those foods for the first allotment period;

(4) The result is the supplemental allotment to be granted.

16. Section 16.2 (a) is amended by adding the following sentence after the parenthetical sentence:

Only one ration bank account may be opened for the foods covered by Ration Order No. 16.

17. Section 17.1 (d) is amended as follows:

The word "blue" is inserted between the word "valid" and the word "stamps"; and

The phrase "and fourteen points (as nearly as possible) of currently valid red stamps" is inserted between the word "stamps" and the phrase "for each week".

18. Section 22.1 is amended as follows:

In the definition of "certificate", the phrase "Ration Orders No. 12, 13 or 16" is inserted in lieu of the phrase "Ration Orders No. 12 or 13."; and

In the definition of "rationed food", the phrase "foods covered by Ration Order No. 16" is inserted between the word "coffee" and the phrase "or processed foods."; and

The following definition is added: "Foods covered by Ration Order No. 16." means "meat", "canned fish", "rationed cheeses" and "rationed fats or oils". These terms have the meaning given them in Ration Order No. 16.

19. Sections 23.1 (c) and 25.1 (b) are amended by substituting the words "processed foods and foods covered by Ration Order No. 16" for the words "processed foods", wherever those words appear in those sections.

This amendment shall become effective 12:01 a. m. on March 29, 1943 except that section 9.4 shall become effective March 27, 1943.

NOTE: The reporting provisions of this amendment have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

PART 1499—COMMODITIES AND SERVICES

[MPR 165 as Amended,[1] Supp. Service Reg. 13]

LAUNDRIES IN THE BUFFALO AREA

Maximum Price Regulation No. 165 as Amended [1] — Services — Supplementary Service Regulation No. 13.

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this Supplementary Service Regulation No. 13 has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.* For the reasons set forth in that statement and under the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 as amended, and Executive Order No. 9250, Supplementary Service Regulation No. 13 is hereby issued.

§ 1499.663 Laundries in the Buffalo Area—(a) Dollars-and-cents maximum prices established for services sold by laundries located in the Buffalo area. (1) The maximum prices established by Maximum Price Regulation No. 165 as amended—services—for family laundry services are modified as hereinafter provided in Appendix A. The maximum prices for family laundry services when sold by laundries located in the Buffalo Area shall be the prices set forth in Appendix A.

The maximum price of a family service which offers more elements of laundry service than a service listed in Appendix A, but does not meet the specifications of the next higher-priced service listed therein, shall be the maximum price of the lower-priced listed service.

Laundries in this area shall continue to accept in their bundle services wearing apparel and flatwork those articles which have customarily been accepted as such, but may charge for all others at list price. In finished and list price services, starch must be supplied where necessary for proper finishing of wearing apparel (including shirts) unless the customer requests no starch. Handkerchiefs are to be treated and priced as set forth in Appendix A.

(2) Definitions: As used in this Supplementary Service Regulation—the term:

"Buffalo area" means Erie County, the towns of Wheatfield and Pendleton in Niagara County, the towns of Alabama, Pembroke, Darien, Alexander, Batavia, and Oakfield in Genesee County, and the City of Batavia in Genesee County, all in the State of New York.

"Laundry" means a power laundry, hand laundry, laundry agent, or any other establishment located in the Buffalo area, offering laundry services for sale.

"Family laundry services" means all laundry services except linen, diaper, and garment supply services; and except laundry services offered on a commercial or institutional basis.

(3) Posting requirements. Within thirty days after the issuance of this Supplementary Service Regulation, every laundry located in the Buffalo area which offers family laundry services for sale shall post in its own establishment, in a place and manner so that it is plainly visible to the purchasing public, a placard or card containing the maximum prices for the family laundry services set forth in Appendix A and for any other family laundry service which it sells, and a description of each service. On this card the description of each service listed in Appendix A and its price shall be exactly as set forth therein. This card shall also state the amount of the laundry's discount to cash-and-carry customers and that this discount is not less than that established for the laundry by Maximum Price Regulation No. 165 as amended. Also, within thirty days after the issuance of this supplementary service regulation, each laundry shall furnish to each customer a statement containing the same material as the placard or card such laundry is required to post. Thereafter, new customers shall be furnished a similar statement.

(4) Other laundry services. The maximum prices for services other than family laundry services shall be governed by Maximum Price Regulation No. 165 as amended, or other applicable regulation.

(5) Prohibition against indirect price increases. A laundry may not refuse to supply any low-priced laundry service which it supplied in March 1942, if it supplies or offers to supply any higher priced service which includes the same or substantially the same processes (with or without additional processes) as the low-priced service; except that a laundry may substitute for any service supplied in March 1942, the service listed in Appendix A which most closely resembles it in specifications.

(6) Less than maximum prices. Lower prices for each of the family laundry services listed in Appendix A may be charged, offered, demanded, or paid.

(7) Appendix A: Maximum prices for family laundry services.

ment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Maximum Price Regulation No. 120 is amended in the following respects:

1. In the table appearing in § 1340.224 (b) (1), in the column headed "Subdistrict No. 1", the following mine index numbers are deleted: 22, 44, 45, 56.

2. Section 1340.224 (b) (1) (i) is shifted so as to appear after the table which it now precedes.

3. Section 1340.224 (b) (1) (ii) is added to read as follows:

(ii) Special price instruction for Mine Index Nos. 22, 44, 45, 56, 1306—(a) Maximum prices in cents per net ton for shipment to all destinations for all uses and by all methods of transportation, except as otherwise specifically provided in this appendix.

4. Section 1340.224 (b) (2) is amended by deleting the phrase "from Sub-District No. 2" in the headnote, and inserting such phrase in the subsequent sentence after the phrase "truck or wagon"; and by adding § 1340.224 (b) (2) (i) to read as follows:

(i) Special price instruction for Mine Index Nos. 22, 44, 45, 56, 1306—(a) Maximum prices in cents per net ton per shipment by truck or wagon to all destinations for all uses for mines with Index Nos. 22, 44, 45, 56, and 1306. The maximum prices for shipment by truck or wagon shall be the applicable effective minimum prices as of October 1, 1942, plus a sum not exceeding 90 cents per net ton.

5. Section 1340.224 (b) (3) (i) (d) is added to read as follows:

(d) Maximum prices in cents per net ton for railroad fuel for mines with Index Nos. 22, 44, 45, 56, 1306. Maximum prices for Railroad Fuel shall be the applicable effective minimum prices as of October 1, 1942, plus a sum not exceeding 65 cents per net ton: Provided, however, That when Railroad Fuel is sold to the St. Louis-San Francisco Railway for consignment west of the Mississippi River, the maximum price is $3.15 per net ton.

6. Section 1340.224 (b) (4) (i) is added to read as follows:

(i) Special price instructions for Mine Index Nos. 22, 44, 45, 56, 1306—(a) Maximum prices in cents per net ton for blacksmithing coal for mines with Index Nos. 22, 44, 45, 56, 1306. The maximum prices for Blacksmithing Coal shall not exceed $5.40 per net ton.

This Amendment shall be effective as of March 27, 1943.

Chapter XIII—Petroleum Administrator for War

PART 1535—PETROLEUM PROCESSING AND REFINING

[PAO 10]

The fulfillment of the requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage of fatty oils needed for the production of petroleum lubricating greases which can be remedied in part by the substitution of fatty acids for fatty oils in the manufacture of certain lubricating greases; and the following order is deemed necessary in the public interest, to promote the national defense, and to provide adequate supplies of lubricating greases for military and other essential purposes:

§ 1535.1 Petroleum Administrative Order No. 10—(a) Definitions. (1) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, governmental corporation or agency, or any organized group of persons, whether incorporated or not.

(2) "Petroleum" means petroleum, petroleum products, and associated hydrocarbons, including but not limited to natural gas, except that natural gas which has entered into gas transmission lines from field gathering lines shall not be so included.

(3) "Fatty oils" means all fats and oils (regardless of acid content) of animal or vegetable origin, except essential oils, from which no glycerine has been recovered.

(4) "Fatty acids" means all acids obtained by the hydrolysis or saponification of fatty oils or of waxes of animal or vegetable origin.

(5) "Manufacturer" means any person who processes, reprocesses or in any manner alters (including compounding and blending) petroleum or petroleum products and who produced not less than 500 short tons of lubricating greases during the year beginning July 1, 1941 and ending June 30, 1942, or who produced 125 short tons of lubricating greases in any calendar quarter-year thereafter.

(6) "Lubricating greases" means all lubricants manufactured from petroleum or petroleum products and a soap, organic salt or ester of any fatty oil or fatty acid. This term shall not be construed to mean any compounded mineral oil which includes, among others, marine oils and soluble and non-soluble cutting oils and compounds.

(7) "Exempt greases" means those lubricating greases having a soap base of which base not less than one-half is a sodium soap or a barium soap or a lithium soap.

(b) Limitation on use of fatty oils. Beginning with the calendar quarter-year from April to June, inclusive, 1943 and subject to the exemptions in paragraph (c) of this section, no manufacturer shall produce lubricating greases not subject to the provisions of said paragraph (c) which in the aggregate in any calendar quarter-year consume fatty oils in excess of 50% by weight of the total amount of fatty oils and fatty acids used in such manufacture in such calendar quarter-year.

(c) Exemptions. The provisions of paragraph (b) of this section shall not apply to the manufacture of exempt greases or to the manufacture of those amounts of other lubricating greases which are purchased by the United States Army, Navy or Office of Lend-Lease Administration or which are exported outside the territory comprising the continental United States, Canada and Alaska.

(d) Reports. On the 15th day of the month immediately following the end of each calendar quarter-year, each manufacturer shall file a report for such calendar quarter-year, in the form attached hereto as Exhibit A,[1] with the Director of Refining, Petroleum Administration for War, Interio. Building, Washington, D. C. The first such report shall be for the calendar quarter-year April to June, inclusive, 1943 and shall be due on July 15, 1943 and further reports shall be due thereafter as prescribed in this paragraph (d). No manufacturer shall sell or otherwise dispose of any lubricating grease reported as "Produced for Army, Navy or Lend-Lease" or as "Produced for export" except such as are actually purchased by the United States Army, Navy or Office of Lend-Lease Administration or are actually exported outside the territory comprising the continental United States, Canada and Alaska, respectively.

(e) Appeals. Any person affected by this order who considers that compliance therewith would work an exceptional and unreasonable hardship upon him may file an appeal setting forth the pertinent facts and reasons why he considers himself entitled to relief. All appeals shall be filed in quadruplicate and shall be addressed to the Director of Refining, Petroleum Administration for War, Interior Building, Washington, D. C., Ref: PAO 10.

(f) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, by any act or omission, falsifies records kept or information furnished in connection with this order is guilty of a crime and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment.

Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order may be prohibited from delivering or receiving any material under priority control, or such other action may be taken as is deemed appropriate.

(g) Effective date. This order shall take effect on April 1, 1943.

(h) Revocation of Recommendation No. 58. Recommendation No. 58, §§ 1504.91 to 1504.96, inclusive, of this chapter, 7 F.R. 10082, is hereby revoked, effective as of the effective date of this order, except with respect to the first report required by § 1504.94 of said Recommendation No. 58 to be filed on or before April 15, 1943, which said report shall be filed with the Director of Refining, Petroleum Administration for War, Interior Building, Washington, D. C.

TITLE 33—NAVIGATION AND NAVIGABLE WATERS

Chapter II—Corps of Engineers, War Department

PART 204—DANGER ZONE REGULATIONS

BOMBING AND GUNNERY RANGE AT HARLINGEN, TEXAS

The regulations to govern the use and navigation of waters of the Gulf of Mexico and Laguna Madre along Padre Island comprising an aerial gunnery and bombing range of the Advanced Flying School at Harlingen, Texas, are hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 204.93a Waters of Gulf of Mexico along Padre Island and Brazos Island, Texas, including a portion of Laguna Madre; Bombing and gunnery range, Advanced Flying School, Harlingen, Texas—(a) The danger zone. (1) The gunnery and bombing range hereinafter referred to as the "restricted area" includes the waters of the Gulf of Mexico adjacent to Padre Island south of latitude 26° 45' N., to Brazos Santiago; including all the waters of Laguna Madre between latitude 26° 45' N. and 26° 06' N. and is described below. (See U.S.C. & G.S. Charts Nos. 1287 and 1288.) All azimuths are referred to a true meridian.

An area in the Gulf of Mexico and including an area in Laguna Madre beginning at a point on the west shore of Laguna Madre in latitude 26° 45' N., thence 90° to a point in latitude 26° 45' N., longitude 97° 14' 12" W., thence 161° to a point in latitude 26° 26' N., longitude 97° 08' W., thence 168° to a point in latitude 26° 05' N., longitude 97° 03' W., thence 270° to a point in latitude 26° 05' N., longitude 97° 06' 30" W., thence 355° to a point in latitude 26° 06' 30" N., longitude 97° 06' 40" W., thence 270° to a point on the west shore of Laguna Madre. Thence northerly along the west shore line of Laguna Madre to latitude 26° 45'.

(2) The Air Corps will broadcast over the radio any information concerning the cessation of firing. This information will be given to the Coast Guard Station at Port Isabel, Texas.

(3) On days when firing is to be held in the restricted area large red flags will be displayed at the Port Isabel Life Boat Station on Padre Island.

(b) The regulations. (1) All boats departing from Port Isabel shall check out through the Coast Guard Station so the airplane pilots can be informed to watch for such boats.

(2) On days when firing is scheduled and flag is being displayed as prescribed in paragraph (a) (3) above, no person, boat, vessel or craft shall enter or remain in any portion of restricted area except as provided in paragraph (b) (3): Provided, however, That the Commanding General, Gulf Coast Air Corps Training Center, or the Commanding Officer, Advanced Flying School, Harlingen, Texas, may designate from time to time, by suitable notice, through the United States Coast Guard or others concerned, certain times within which the public, including food fishermen may enter the restricted area on days when no firing is scheduled.

(3) These regulations shall not deny traverse of portions of the danger zone by regular cargo carrying vessels proceeding on established steamer lanes, nor by naval units (both surface and air) engaged in anti-submarine operations, nor shall they deny passage of vessels at all times within one mile of the shore in the area. In the case of the presence of any such vessel in the danger area, the officer in charge of gunnery operations shall cause the cessation or postponement of fire until the vessel has cleared the part of the area. The vessel shall proceed on its normal course and not delay its progress.

(4) No markings of the area are proposed and all aircraft and watercraft shall be presumed to know their whereabouts by distances and directions from landmarks or other topographical features along the shore.

(5) These regulations shall be enforced by the Commanding Officer, Harlingen Army Gunnery School, Harlingen, Texas, and such agencies as he may designate.

(Proclamation No. 2557, May 20, 1942) [Regs. March 17, 1943 (CE 800.2121 (Gulf of Mexico) SPEON)]

TITLE 34—NAVY

Chapter I—Department of the Navy

PART 1—GENERAL REGULATIONS AFFECTING THE PUBLIC

RECIPROCAL VISITS TO COMMERCIAL PLANTS BY NATIONALS OF U. S. AND CANADA

§ 1.128 Reciprocal visits to commercial plants by nationals of the United States and Canada. (a) The Joint War Production Committee of Canada and the United States has recommended to the President of the United States and to the Prime Minister of Canada a policy for the facilitation of war production of the two countries. The aforesaid policy included the following statments:

(1) That administration barriers and other regulations or restrictions of any character which prohibit, prevent, delay, or otherwise impede the free flow of necessary munitions and war supplies between the two countries should be suspended or otherwise eliminated for the duration of the war;

(2) That the two Governments should take all measures necessary for the fullest implementation of the foregoing principles.

(b) The President of the United States has approved the above-mentioned policy and has requested that affected departments and agencies of the Government of the United States abide by the letter and spirit of such policy so far as lies within their power.

(c) The prevailing restrictions upon visits of Canadian nationals to domestic commercial plants are considered to be burdensome and to constitute an impediment to the progress of the joint war production of the Governments of the United States and Canada. Imperative inspections, technical discussions, exchange of ideas and manufacturing processes, etc., must not be encumbered by delay, formalities, and the inconvenience which foreign nationality necessarily evokes.

(d) Accordingly, effective March 1, 1943, and for the duration of the war, Canadian nationals will be considered as and accorded the same privileges as citizens of the United States with respect to the matter of visits to commercial manufacturing plants, or government owned privately operated plants, engaged upon naval work or equipment. For the purposes herein provided, Canadian nationals are intended to mean Canadian citizens or British subjects permanently residing in Canada, who are representatives of Canadian manufacturing plants or who represent agencies controlled by the Canadian Government.

(e) Article 128, U. S. Navy Regulations, is hereby modified, to be effective upon the date previously mentioned and for the duration of the war, to the extent that applications for visits of such Canadian nationals need not be submitted to, nor authority required from, the Navy Department. Such visits shall, on and after the date specified, be administered within the jurisdiction of the Naval Inspection Service. Upon being assured that the visits are for a purpose essential to maximum production or to the prosecution of the war, and upon presentation of proper identification, i. e., passport, employee's identification card, or other satisfactory evidence, Naval Inspectors may exercise the same latitude of discretion in the matter of visits by Canadian nationals as they now apply to visits of citizens of the United States. In acknowledgment of the primary responsibility of contractors for the security of naval production within their plants, the decision of whether or not such a visit will be permitted shall continue to be subject to the determination of the respective contractor. Except in cases of emergency, where time does not allow for correspondence, applications for visits by Canadian nationals should be directed to the company whose plant is to be visited within a reasonable time in advance of the proposed visit.

(f) The policy announced in paragraphs (a) and (b) is founded upon an agreement of mutual cooperation for a common purpose. The benefits to be derived therefrom are intended to be bilateral and reciprocal. To insure these advantages in converse the Canadian Government, contemporaneously, is adopting a policy, comparable to that herein established, for the administration of visits of United States citizens to Canadian plants.

JAMES V. FORRESTAL,
Acting Secretary of the Navy.

6.24 Grazing.
6.25 Special regulations.

AUTHORITY: §§ 6.1 to 6.25, inclusive, issued under sec. 3, 39 Stat. 535, sec. 209, 48 Stat. 195, 200, 206, sec. 6, 49 Stat. 115, 118, E.O. 7496, Nov. 14, 1936; 16 U.S.C. 3, 40 U.S.C. 409, 1 F.R. 1946.

§ 6.1 Definitions. As used in this part, unless otherwise indicated:

(a) The term "Secretary" means the Secretary of the Interior or his duly authorized representative.

(b) The term "Director" means the Director of the National Park Service.

(c) The term "manager" means the person in charge of a recreational demonstration area.

(d) The term "area" means a recreational demonstration area.

(e) The term "vehicle" means every device in, upon, or by which any person or property is or may be transported or drawn upon a roadway.

§ 6.2 Preservation of public property and natural features. (a) The destruction, injury, defacement, removal, or disturbance in any way of any public building, sign, equipment, marker, or other structure, or of any tree, flower, vegetation, rock, mineral formation, or of any ruins or relic, or of any other public property of any kind, is prohibited.

(b) Collections for scientific or educational purposes are permitted only in accordance with written permits first had and obtained from the manager.

§ 6.3 Camping. (a) No camping is permitted outside the specially designated camp sites except by special permit from the manager.

(b) Campers shall occupy the sites designated by the manager.

(c) No camp shall be placed within 25 feet of any main road or well-defined water course.

(d) The manager may establish limitations on the time allowed for camping in any public camping area, and upon the posting of such limitation no person, party, or organization shall be permitted to camp longer than the period prescribed for the particular area during any calendar year.

(e) Campers shall keep their campgrounds clean. Combustible rubbish shall be burned on camp fires, and all other garbage and refuse of all kinds shall be placed in receptacles provided for the purpose. At new or unfrequented camps garbage shall be burned or buried.

(f) Only in areas designated by the manager may campers use any dead or fallen timber for fuel or other purposes.

(g) The installation of permanent camping facilities by visitors, or the digging or leveling of the ground in any campsite without the manager's permission, is prohibited. Camps must be completely razed and the sites cleaned before the departure of campers.

(h) Campers shall not leave their camps unattended for more than 48 hours without permission of the manager obtained in advance. Camping equipment left unattended for 48 hours or more is subject to removal by order of the manager, the expense of such removal to be paid by the person or persons leaving such equipment.

(i) No camp may be established in an area and used as a base for hunting outside such area.

(j) The manager may establish hours during which quiet must be maintained at any camp, and prohibit the running of motors at or near a camp during such hours.

§ 6.4 Fishing. (a) Any person desiring to fish must first procure a sporting fishing license as required by the laws of the state in which the area is situated. All fishing must be done in conformity with the laws of the state regarding open seasons, size of fish, and the limit of catch, unless otherwise provided by special regulations.

(b) Fishing with nets, seines, traps, or by the use of drugs or explosives, or for merchandise or profit, or in any other way than with hook and line, the rod or line being held in the hand, is prohibited.

§ 6.5 Bathing. Bathing in any of the streams or lakes is permitted only at designated bathing places.

§ 6.6 Picnicking. Picnicking is permitted only in areas designated for such use.

§ 6.7 Protection of wildlife. (a) The areas are sanctuaries for wildlife of every sort, and all hunting, or the killing, wounding, frightening, disturbing, or capturing of any bird, animal or other wildlife, except when it is necessary to prevent them from destroying human lives or inflicting personal injury, or the destruction, removal, or disturbance of the nest or eggs of any bird, is prohibited unless first authorized by the Director.

(b) During the hunting season, arrangements must be made with the manager to identify and transport through the areas, when necessary, carcasses of birds or animals legally killed outside the areas. Failure to make such arrangements shall be deemed a violation of this section.

§ 6.8 Firearms, etc. (a) Firearms, explosives, airguns, traps, seines, and nets are prohibited within the areas except upon written permission of the manager. Visitors shall surrender all such objects in their possession to the manager, or obtain his written permission to carry them through the area sealed. Failure to obtain such written permission shall be deemed a violation of this regulation.

(b) The manager may, in his discretion, permit the carrying of firearms by employees under his administrative jurisdiction when such possession is deemed necessary in the performance of their official duties.

(c) Authorized law enforcement officers may carry unsealed firearms while engaged in the enforcement of federal or state laws and regulations, or when otherwise necessary in the performance of their duties.

(d) The members of the armed forces of the United States shall be permitted to carry unsealed firearms; and, in the discretion of the manager, members of the armed forces of the several states or friendly foreign nations may be permitted to carry unsealed firearms. The provisions of this paragraph shall be applicable only during time of war in which the United States is engaged.

§ 6.9 Fires. (a) Fires shall be lighted only in designated places. On public campgrounds only the regular fireplaces constructed for the convenience of visitors may be used.

(b) No lighted cigarette, cigar, pipe heal, match, or other burning material shall be thrown from any vehicle or saddle horse or dropped into any grass, leaves, twigs, tree mold, or other combustible or inflammable material.

(c) Fires shall be lighted only when necessary and, when no longer needed, shall be completely extinguished, and all embers and beds smothered with earth or water, so that there remains no possibility of reignition.

(d) Smoking or the building of fires may be prohibited or limited by the manager when, in his judgment, the hazard makes such action necessary.

(e) All persons making trips away from established camps are required to obtain written fire permits from the manager or his representative. When a written fire permit has been granted, such fires shall not be kindled near trees, dead wood, moss, dry leaves, forest mold, or other vegetable refuse, but in some open space on rocks or mineral soil. Should camp be made in a locality where no such open space exists, the dead wood, dry leaves, etc., shall be scraped away to the rock or mineral soil over an area considerably larger than that required for the fire.

(f) The use of fireworks or firecrackers is prohibited, except with the written permission of the manager.

§ 6.10 Restricted areas. Visitors shall not enter restricted areas posted as being closed to the public, except upon written permission from the manager.

§ 6.11 Sanitation. (a) Campers and others shall not wash clothing or cooking or eating utensils in, or otherwise pollute or contaminate the waters of the areas.

(b) The cleaning of fish or the washing of clothing or cooking or eating utensils at campground hydrants is prohibited.

(c) Garbage, papers, or refuse of any kind shall not be thrown or left on or along roads, in camping or picnicking areas, or on any other area lands.

(d) All comfort stations shall be used in a clean and sanitary manner.

(e) The draining or dumping of refuse from any trailer, except in places or receptacles provided for such purpose, is prohibited.

§ 6.12 Gambling. Gambling in any form, or the operation of gambling devices, whether for merchandise or otherwise, is prohibited.

§ 6.13 Disorderly conduct. Persons who render themselves obnoxious by disorderly conduct or bad behavior shall be subject to the penalty provided for violation of the regulations in this part, and in addition thereto, or in lieu thereof, may be summarily removed from the area by the manager.

§ 6.14 Radios. The use of radios in public camps, buildings, or in vehicles is prohibited when audible beyond the immediate vicinity of the radio set. Radios shall not be operated to the annoyance of other persons nor so as to disturb the quiet of camps or other public places.

§ 6.15 Motion or sound pictures. Before any motion or sound picture may be filmed, except by amateurs and bona fide news reel photographers, authority must first be obtained, in writing, from the manager, which authority will be granted in the discretion of the manager under special regulations prescribed by the Secretary.

§ 6.16 Abandonment of property. The abandonment of any personal property within an area is prohibited.

§ 6.17 Dogs and cats. (a) Dogs and cats are prohibited on the Government lands unless such animals are on leash, crated, or otherwise under physical restrictive control at all times: Provided, however, That the Director may designate areas to which dogs and cats shall not be admitted: Provided further, That in special cases, the Director may authorize the keeping of dogs and cats by residents in an area under such conditions as he may prescribe.

(b) Stray dogs or cats running at large in the areas may be killed by the manager to prevent molestation of the wildlife therein.

§ 6.18 Travel on roads and trails. (a) Persons traveling on the trails on saddle animals shall not make short cuts but must confine themselves to the established trails.

(b) The manager may establish the hours during which any of the Government roads shall be open to the public, and the direction of travel thereon. During any period of emergency the manager may prescribe such other conditions regarding travel as may, in his judgment, appear necessary. Information regarding such hours, direction, and conditions of travel may be obtained at the office of the manager.

(c) No vehicle shall be operated outside the roadways or designated parking areas.

(d) There shall not be operated or moved upon any Government road any vehicle of any kind the face of wheels or tracks of which are fitted with flanges, ribs, clamps, cleats, lugs, spikes, or any device which may tend to injure the roadway. This regulation applies to all rings or flanges upon guiding or steering wheels of any such vehicle, but it shall not be construed as preventing the use of ordinary detachable tire or skid chains.

(e) The use of the Government roads for trucking, when such trucking is in no way connected with the operation of the area, is prohibited.

§ 6.19 Vehicles; traffic. (a) The areas are open to vehicles operated for pleasure, but such vehicles may not be operated outside the roads, and may be parked only in designated areas.

(b) Vehicles shall enter or leave the areas only at designated entrances and exits, and between such hours as shall be determined by the manager and indicated by appropriate signs giving notice of such hours.

(c) Drivers of vehicles shall comply with the directions of all official traffic signs posted in the areas.

(d) Muffler cut-outs shall be kept closed at all times.

(e) The engine and power mechanism of every motor vehicle shall be so equipped and adjusted as to prevent the escape of excessive fumes or smoke.

(f) The excessive acceleration of the engine of a motor vehicle while such vehicle is not moving, or is approaching a stopping place, is prohibited.

(g) No person shall cause or permit a vehicle under his control to obstruct traffic by making right or left turns from the wrong traffic lane or by weaving in and out of traffic, or in any other manner.

(h) No person driving or operating a vehicle shall fail to give proper hand signals or confuse other drivers by false signals or unnecessary extension of the hand or arm outside the vehicle. The following signals shall be given by extending the hand and arm from the left side in the following manner:

(1) Left turn. Hand and arm extended horizontally.

(2) Right turn. Hand and arm extended upward.

(3) Stop or decrease speed. Hand and arm extended downward: Provided, however, That in lieu of such hand signals, signals may be given by a signal lamp or signal device which conveys an intelligible signal or warning to another driver approaching from the front or rear.

(i) No person who is under the influence of intoxicating liquor or narcotic drugs shall drive or operate a vehicle within an area.

§ 6.20 Limitations on speed. (a) Speed of vehicles is limited to 35 miles per hour, unless a lower limit is prescribed for a particular road or roads by special regulations. In every event, vehicles shall be driven or operated at an appropriate reduced speed when approaching and crossing an intersection, when approaching and going around a curve, when approaching a hill crest, when traveling upon a narrow and winding road, and when special hazards exist with respect to pedestrians or other traffic or by reason of weather or roadway conditions.

(b) The provisions of this section shall not apply to:

(1) Any vehicle driven or operated by or under the direction of the military or naval forces of the United States, or State military forces organised pursuant to section 61 of the National Defense Act, as amended:

(2) Any vehicle when driven or operated in an emergency for the protection or preservation of life, health, or for public safety: Provided, That this subparagraph shall not be so construed as to authorize any such vehicle to be driven or operated at a rate of speed in excess of that which is reasonable under conditions prevailing at such time.

§ 6.21 Advertisements. Private notices or advertisements shall not be posted, distributed, or displayed, excepting such as the manager may deem necessary for the convenience and guidance of the public.

§ 6.22 Private operations. (a) No person, firm, or corporation shall engage in or solicit any business in an area without permission in writing from the Director or his duly authorized representative.

(b) No person shall reside continuously within an area covered by these regulations except designated National Park Service employees, persons expressly authorized to do so by law, concessionaires and their employees for the purpose of fulfilling their contracts, and former resident owners of land acquired for the area who have heretofore been granted permission to reside thereon.

§ 6.23 Motorboats. The use of boats powered with either inboard or outboard motors is prohibited, except on the Lake of the Ozarks, unless such use is first approved by the Director.

§ 6.24 Grazing. The running at large, herding, or grazing of livestock of any kind on the Government lands, as well as the driving of livestock over the same, is prohibited except where authority therefor has first been granted by the Director.

§ 6.25 Special regulations. Special regulations necessary to cover local situations will be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER and may be seen at the headquarters of the areas in which they are operative.

Issued this 18th day of March 1943.

PART 204—EMERGENCY MATERNITY AND INFANT CARE SERVICES

ALLOTMENTS TO STATES FOR EMERGENCY MATERNITY AND INFANT CARE

The following regulations are herewith issued to govern allotments to States for emergency maternity and infant care from funds made available under First Deficiency Appropriation Act, 1943 (Public Law 11—78th Congress), approved March 18, 1943.

Sec.
204.1 Emergency maternity and infant care.
204.2 Purposes for which grants may be used.
204.3 Method of allotment.
204.4 State plans.
204.5 Estimates.
204.6 Certification for payment to States.
204.7 Expenditures.

AUTHORITY: §§ 204.1 to 204.7, inclusive, issued under Pub. Law 11, 78th Cong., approved March 18, 1943.

§ 204.1 Emergency maternity and infant care. The term "emergency" refers to the period of the present war and 6 months following its termination.

§ 204.2 Purposes for which grants may be used. The sums paid to the States for emergency maternity and infant care shall be used exclusively for medical, nursing, and hospital maternity and infant care for wives and infants of enlisted men in the Armed Forces of the United States of the fourth, fifth, sixth, or seventh grades, for whom similar care is not readily available from the medical or hospital facilities of the Army or Navy or from facilities provided by or through official State or local health agencies.

§ 204.3 Method of allotment. The Secretary of Labor shall allot to each State submitting a plan for emergency maternity and infant care approved by the Chief of the Children's Bureau a sum based upon the estimated number of applications for care during the period covered by the plan and the estimated cost of providing such care.

§ 204.4 State plans. A State plan for emergency maternity and infant care shall be considered as a supplement to such day the Chief of the Records Sec-

October 14, 1942, cancelling a special

Krause and Gebruder Brehmer, and each of shall be considered as a supplement to the State maternal and child-health plan for the fiscal year to which the plan relates. The plan shall be submitted for approval to the Chief of the Children's Bureau by the State health agency on official forms. The plan shall:

(a) Provide that the cost of administration in the State will be met from funds other than the sums allotted for emergency maternity and infant care;

(b) Meet the requirements of section 503 (a), subsections 2, 3, 4, and 6 of the Social Security Act, as amended;

(c) Provide that emergency maternity and infant care will be authorized under the plan as requested by or in behalf of any wife or infant of an enlisted man in the Armed Forces of the United States of the fourth, fifth, sixth, or seventh grades, irrespective of legal residence, when similar care is not readily available as specified in § 204.2 above.

§ 204.5 Estimates.—The State health agency shall submit to the Chief of the Children's Bureau a statement of estimated expenditures for emergency maternity and infant care activities during the period covered by the plan.

§ 204.6 Certification for payment to States. The Chief of the Children's Bureau shall certify funds for payment to a State from its allotment for emergency maternity and infant care services in accordance with its approved plan and estimate of expenditures.

§ 204.7 Expenditures. A State shall expend all funds paid to it by the Federal Government under the approved State plan for the purposes specified in the plan. State laws and regulations governing the custody and disbursement of State funds shall control the custody and disbursement of funds paid by the Federal Government to the State in accordance with its approved plan, subject to such amplification or modification as the Chief of the Children's Bureau may find to be necessary under Federal laws, regulations, orders and decisions.

Dated: March 26, 1943.

DISTRICT BOARD 8

NOTICE OF AND ORDER FOR HEARING AND ORDER DENYING TEMPORARY RELIEF

In the matter of the petition of District Board No. 8 for increases in the minimum prices heretofore established for the coals of certain mines in District No. 8.

A petition, pursuant to the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, having been duly filed with this Division by the above-named party;

It is ordered, That a hearing in the above-entitled matter under the applicable provisions of said Act and the rules of the Division be held on April 20, 1943, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at a hearing room of the Bituminous Coal Division, Washington, D. C. On such day the Chief of the Records Section will advise as to the room where such hearing will be held.

It is further ordered, That Charles O. Fowler, or any other officer or officers of the Division duly designated for that purpose, shall preside at such hearing in such matter. The officers so designated to preside at such hearing are hereby authorized to conduct said hearing, to administer oaths and affirmations, examine witnesses, take evidence, to continue said hearing from time to time, and to prepare and submit proposed findings of fact and conclusions and the recommendation of an appropriate order in the premises, and to perform all other duties in connection therewith authorized by law.

Notice of such hearing is hereby given to all parties herein and to persons or entities having an interest in this proceeding and eligible to become a party herein. Any person desiring to be admitted as a party to this proceeding may file a petition of intervention in accordance with the rules and regulations of the Bituminous Coal Division for proceedings instituted pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Act, setting forth the facts on the basis of which the relief in the original petition is supported or opposed or on the basis of which other relief is sought. Such petitions of intervention shall be filed with the Bituminous Coal Division on or before April 15, 1943.

All persons are hereby notified that the hearing in the above-entitled matter and any orders entered therein, may concern, in addition to the matters specifically alleged in the petition, other matters necessarily incidental and related thereto, which may be raised by amendment to the petition, petitions of intervention or otherwise, or which may be necessary corollaries to the relief, if any, granted on the basis of this petition.

The matter concerned herewith is in regard to the petition filed by District Board No. 8 requesting increases in the minimum prices heretofore established for the coals of certain mines located in Anderson, Morgan, and Scott Counties, Tennessee, and in Knox County, Kentucky, in District No. 8, for shipment by truck and rail.

It is further ordered, That the request for temporary relief contained in said original petition be, and the same hereby is, denied without prejudice to the renewal of such request for temporary relief, upon further showing or upon the basis of the record to be made at the hearing to be held herein.

Dated: March 26, 1943.

[Vesting Order 767]

KARL KRAUSE U. S. CORPORATION

Under the authority of the Trading with the Enemy Act, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9095, as amended, and pursuant to law, the undersigned, after investigation:

1. Finding that the following named persons whose last known addresses are indicated opposite their respective names are nationals of a designated enemy country (Germany):

Names:	Last known address
Heinrich Blagosch	Leipzig, Germany.
Curt Blagosch	Leipzig, Germany.
Karl Blagosch	Leipzig, Germany.
Paul W. Suess	Plauen, Germany.
Karl Krause	Leipzig, Germany.
Gebruder Brehmer	Leipzig, Germany.

2. Finding that 400 shares of $100 par value common capital stock of Karl Krause U. S. Corporation, a New York corporation, New York, New York, are registered in the names of and owned by the following persons in the following respective amounts:

Names:	Number of shares
Heinrich Blagosch	116
Curt Blagosch	117
Karl Blagosch	117
Paul W. Suess	50
Total	400

3. Finding that said corporation is a business enterprise within the United States and that said 400 shares of stock constitute a substantial part (namely, 80%) of all outstanding capital stock of said business enterprise and are evidence of control thereof;

4. Determining, therefore, that said business enterprise is controlled by the persons referred to in subparagraph 2 hereof and is a national of a designated enemy country (Germany);

5. Finding that the property described as follows:

All right, title, interest and claim of any name or nature whatsoever of said Karl Krause and Gebruder Brehmer, and each of them, in and to all obligations, contingent or otherwise and whether or not matured, owing to them or either of them, by said Karl Krause U. S. Corporation, including but not limited to all security rights in and to any and all collateral for any or all of such obligations and the right to sue for and collect such obligations.

represents interests in the aforesaid business enterprise held by nationals of an enemy country, and also is property within the United States owned or controlled by nationals of a designated enemy country (Germany);

6. Determining that to the extent that such nationals are persons not within a designated enemy country, the national interest of the United States requires that such persons be treated as nationals of the aforesaid designated enemy country (Germany);

7. Having made all determinations and taken all action, after appropriate consultation and certification, required by said Executive Order or Act or otherwise; and

8. Deeming it necessary in the national interest;

hereby (i) vests in the Alien Property Custodian the shares of stock described in subparagraph 2 hereof and the property described in subparagraph 5 hereof, to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States, and (ii) undertakes the direction, management, supervision and control of such business enterprise to the extent deemed necessary or advisable from time to time by the undersigned.

Such property, and any or all of the proceeds thereof, shall be held in an appropriate special account or accounts, pending further determination of the Alien Property Custodian. This shall not be deemed to limit the powers of the Alien Property Custodian to return such property or the proceeds thereof or to indicate that compensation will not be paid in lieu thereof, or to vary the extent of such direction, management, supervision or control or to terminate the same, if and when it should be determined that any of such action should be taken.

Any person, except a national of a designated enemy country, asserting any claim arising as a result of this order may file with the Alien Property Custodian a notice of his claim, together with a request for a hearing thereon, on Form APC-1, within one year from the date hereof, or within such further time as may be allowed by the Alien Property Custodian. Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to constitute an admission of the existence, validity or right to allowance of any such claim.

The terms "national", "designated enemy country" and "business enterprise within the United States" as used herein shall have the meanings prescribed in section 10 of said Executive Order.

Executed at Washington, D. C. on January 25, 1943.

GERMAN-OWNED MOTION PICTURE FILMS IN THE UNITED STATES

Under the authority of the Trading with the Enemy Act, as amended and Executive Order No. 9095, as amended, and pursuant to law, the undersigned, after investigation:

1. Finding that each of the individuals whose names and last known addresses are set forth in Exhibit A attached hereto and by reference made a part hereof, is a resident of, and that each of the companies referred to in such Exhibit is organized under the laws of, Germany and that therefore each of such individuals and companies is a national of a designated enemy country (Germany);

2. Finding that the German Government and the persons listed in said Exhibit A, jointly or severally own or control the property hereinafter described in subparagraph 3;

3. Finding that the property described as follows:

All motion picture films in the United States owned and controlled by the German Government and or the individuals and companies and each of them whose names and last known addresses are listed in said Exhibit A, is property within the United States owned or controlled by a designated enemy country (Germany) and or nationals thereof;

4. Determining that to the extent that the aforesaid nationals are persons not within a designated enemy country, the national interest of the United States requires that such persons be treated as nationals of the aforesaid designated enemy country (Germany);

5. Having made all determinations and taken all action, after appropriate consultation and certification, required by said Executive Order or Act or otherwise; and hereby vests in the Alien Property Custodian the property hereinbefore described in subparagraph 3, to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States.

6. Deeming it necessary in the national interest;

Such property, and any or all of the proceeds thereof, shall be held in an appropriate special account or accounts, pending further determination of the Alien Property Custodian. This shall not be deemed to limit the powers of the Alien Property Custodian to return such property or the proceeds thereof, or to indicate that compensation will not be paid in lieu thereof, if and when it should be determined that such return should be made or such compensation should be paid.

Any person, except a national of a designated enemy country, asserting any claim arising as a result of this order may file with the Alien Property Custodian a notice of his claim, together with a request for a hearing thereon, on Form APC–1, within one year from the date hereof, or within such further time as may be allowed by the Alien Property Custodian. Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to constitute an admission of the existence, validity or right to allowance of any such claim.

The terms "national" and "designated enemy country" as used herein shall have the meanings prescribed in section 10 of said Executive Order.

Executed at Washington, D. C., on February 22, 1943.

[Vesting Order 1087]

ESTATE OF FREDERICK LUNABERG

In re: Estate of Frederick, a.k.a. Fred, Lunaberg, deceased; File D–28–1869; E. T. sec. 1691.

Under the authority of the Trading with the Enemy Act, as amended, and Executive Order 9095, as amended, and pursuant to law, the Alien Property Custodian after investigation,

Finding that—

(1) The property and interests hereinafter described are property which is in the process of administration by (Mrs.) Eliza Cowell, Executrix of the estate of Frederick, a.k.a. Fred, Lunaberg, deceased, acting under the judicial supervision of the Probate Court of the County of Los Angeles, California (Case No. 114 930);

(2) Such property and interests are payable or deliverable to, or claimed by, nationals of a designated enemy country, Germany, namely,

Nationals:	Last known address
Wilhelmina Helms, a.k.a. Mena Helms	Germany.
Caroline S. E. Koch, a.k.a. Lena Koch	Germany.
Wilhelm Luess	Germany.
Paul Luess	Germany.
Martha Luess	Germany.
Frieda Schneekluth	Germany.
Louise D. E. A. Timm	Germany.
Ernst F. M. L. Timm	Germany.
Personal representative of John Luess, deceased.	Germany.

And determining that—

(3) If such nationals are persons not within a designated enemy country, the national interest of the United States requires that such persons be treated as nationals of a designated enemy country, Germany; and

Having made all determinations and taken all action, after appropriate consultation and certification, required by said Executive Order or Act or otherwise, and deeming it necessary in the national interest,

Now, therefore, the Alien Property Custodian hereby vests the following property and interests:

All right, title, interest, and claim of any kind or character whatsoever of Wilhelmina Helms, a.k.a. Mena Helms, Caroline S. E. Koch, a.k.a. Lena Koch, Wilhelm Luess, Paul Luess, Martha Luess, Frieda Schneekluth, Louise D. E. A. Timm, Ernst F. M. L. Timm, and the personal representative of John Luess, deceased, and each of them, in and to the Estate of Frederick, a.k.a. Fred, Lunaberg, deceased, to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States.

Such property and interests and any or all of the proceeds thereof shall be held in a special account pending further determination of the Alien Property

Custodian. This shall not be deemed to limit the powers of the Alien Property Custodian to return such property and interests or proceeds thereof, or to indicate that compensation will not be paid in lieu thereof, if and when it should be determined that such return should be made or such compensation should be paid.

Any person, except a national of a designated enemy country, asserting any claim arising as a result of this order may file with the Alien Property Custodian a notice of his claim, together with a request for a hearing thereon, on Form APC–1, within one year from the date hereof, or within such further time as may be allowed by the Alien Property Custodian.

The terms "national" and "designated enemy country" as used herein shall have the meanings prescribed in section 10 of said Executive Order.

Dated: March 22, 1943.

ESTATE OF ANNA S. ANDRAE

In re: Estate of Anna S. Andrae, deceased; File D–28–1770; E.T. sec. 952.

Under the authority of the Trading with the Enemy Act, as amended, and Executive Order 9095, as amended, and pursuant to law, the Alien Property Custodian, after investigation,

Finding that—

(1) The property and interests hereinafter described are property which is in the process of administration by Henry P. Andrae, Executor, acting under the judicial supervision of the County Court in and for the County of Milwaukee, State of Wisconsin; and

(2) Such property and interests are payable or deliverable to, or claimed by nationals of a designated enemy country, Germany, namely,

Nationals:	Last known address
Magdalena Hostombe	Aschaffenburg, Germany.
Maria Hartmann	Aschaffenburg, Germany.
Babette Scheller	Aschaffenburg, Germany.
Frieda Schmidt	Bavaria, Germany.

And determining that—

(3) If such nationals are persons not within a designated enemy country, the national interest of the United States requires that such persons be treated as nationals of a designated enemy country, Germany; and

Having made all determinations and taken all action, after appropriate consultation and certification required by said Executive Order or Act or otherwise, and deeming it necessary in the national interest,

Now, therefore, the Alien Property Custodian hereby vests the following property and interests:

All right, title, interest, and claim of any kind or character whatsoever of Magdalena Hostombe, Maria Hartmann, Babette Scheller and Frieda Schmidt, and each of them, in and to the estate of Anna S. Andrae, deceased, to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States.

Such property and interests and any or all of the proceeds thereof shall be held in a special account pending further determination of the Alien Property Custodian. This shall not be deemed to limit the powers of the Alien Property Custodian to return such property and interests or the proceeds thereof, or to indicate that compensation will not be paid in lieu thereof, if and when it should be determined that such return should be made or such compensation should be paid.

Any person, except a national of a designated enemy country, asserting any claim arising as a result of this order may file with the Alien Property Custodian a notice of his claim, together with a request for a hearing thereon, on Form APC–1, within one year from the date hereof, or within such further time as may be allowed by the Alien Property Custodian.

The terms "national" and "designated enemy country" as used herein shall have the meanings prescribed in section 10 of said Executive Order.

TRUST UNDER WILL OF BRINTON COXE

In re: Trust under the Will of Brinton Coxe, deceased; file D–6–152; E. T. sec. 2668.

Under the authority of the Trading with the Enemy Act, as amended, and Executive Order 9095, as amended, and pursuant to law, the Alien Property Custodian after investigation,

Finding that—

(1) The property and interests hereinafter described are property which is in the process of administration by Fidelity-Philadelphia Trust Company, Trustee, acting under the judicial supervision of the Orphans' Court, in and for Philadelphia County, Pennsylvania;

(2) Such property and interests are payable or deliverable to, or claimed by, nationals of a designated enemy country (Vienna), Germany, namely,

Nationals:	Last known address
Emerich (Imre) Teuber	(Vienna) Germany.
Emerika Teuber	(Vienna) Germany.
Oskar Teuber	(Vienna) Germany.

And determining that—

(3) If such nationals are persons not within a designated enemy country, the national interest of the United States requires that such persons be treated as nationals of a designated enemy country (Vienna), Germany; and

Having made all determinations and taken all action, after appropriate consultation and certification, required by said Executive Order or Act or otherwise, and deeming it necessary in the national interest,

Now, therefore, the Alien Property Custodian hereby vests the following property and interests:

All right, title, interest, and claim of any kind or character whatsoever of Emerich (Imre) Teuber, Emerika Teuber and Oskar Teuber and each of them in and to the trust estate created under the Will of Brinton Coxe, deceased, to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States.

Such property and interests and any or all of the proceeds thereof shall be held in a special account pending further determination of the Alien Property Custodian. This shall not be deemed to limit the powers of the Alien Property Custodian to return such property and interests or the proceeds thereof, or to indicate that compensation will not be paid in lieu thereof, if and when it should be determined that such return should be made or such compensation should be paid.

Any person, except a national of a designated enemy country, asserting any claim arising as a result of this order may file with the Alien Property Custodian a notice of his claim, together with a request for a hearing thereon, on Form APC–1, within one year from the date hereof, or within such further time as may be allowed by the Alien Property Custodian.

The terms "national" and "designated enemy country" as used herein shall have the meanings prescribed in section 10 of said Executive Order.

Dated: March 23, 1943.

(2) Such property and interests are payable or deliverable to, or claimed by a national of a designated enemy country, Germany, namely,

National:	Last known address
John Ahelmer---	Wurttenburg, Germany.

And determining that—

(3) If such national is a person not within a designated enemy country, the national interest of the United States requires that such person be treated as a national of a designated enemy country, Germany, and

Having made all determinations and taken all action, after appropriate consultation and certification required by said Executive Order or Act or otherwise, and deeming it necessary in the national interest,

Now, therefore, the Alien Property Custodian hereby vests the following property and interests:

All right, title, interest, and claim of any kind or character whatsoever of John Ahelmer in and to the estate of Lena Oswald, deceased, to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States.

Such property and interests and any or all of the proceeds thereof shall be held in a special account pending further determination of the Alien Property Custodian. This shall not be deemed to limit the powers of the Alien Property Custodian to return such property and interests or the proceeds thereof, or to indicate that compensation will not be paid in lieu thereof, if and when it should be determined that such return should be made or such compensation should be paid.

Any person, except a national of a designated enemy country, asserting any claim arising as a result of this order may file with the Alien Property Custodian a notice of his claim, together with a request for a hearing thereon, on Form APC–1, within one year from the date hereof, or within such further time as may be allowed by the Alien Property Custodian.

The terms "national" and "designated enemy country" as used herein shall have the meanings prescribed in section 10 of said Executive Order.

[Order 7 Under RPS 84]

RCA MANUFACTURING COMPANY, INC.

APPROVAL OF MAXIMUM PRICES

Order No. 7 under Revised Price Schedule No. 84—Radio Receiver and Phonograph Parts.

Approval of maximum prices for sales by RCA Manufacturing Company, Inc. of sub-standard radio receiving tubes.

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register and pursuant to the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9250, It is ordered:

(a) This Order No. 7 sets maximum prices for sales of sub-standard radio receiving tubes manufactured by RCA Manufacturing Company, Inc., Camden, New Jersey.

(1) For sales by the manufacturer to distributors, the manufacturer shall allow a 15% discount on his October 1, 1941 selling price of the standard tubes.

(2) For sales by a distributor to a dealer, the distributor shall allow a 15% discount on his October, 1941 price to dealers of the standard tubes.

(3) For sales at retail, the dealer shall allow a 15% discount on the October, 1941 retail price of the standard tubes.

(b) The manufacturer must plainly mark each sub-standard tube sold, in any convenient form, so that the radio receiving tube may readily be identified as a sub-standard one.

(c) To every sub-standard radio receiving tube to be shipped to a purchaser for resale, the manufacturer shall attach a notice reading as follows:

The enclosed tube is not of standard RCA quality but is believed to be satisfactory for the use intended. It has been released by us in the interest of conserving critical materials and making the best possible use of every operable tube.

Since it is of sub-standard quality, it has been sold by us at a price that is reduced to reflect the average lowering of quality. Should you find it unsatisfactory for your use within 30 days from the date of shipment, it may be returned for replacement in kind or for full credit. If retained for more than 30 days, our usual adjustment policy will apply.

(d) To every sub-standard radio receiving tube shipped to a purchaser for resale, the manufacturer shall attach a tag or label which plainly states the retail ceiling price.

(e) The manufacturer shall notify every person who buys from it of the maximum prices set by this Order No. 7 for resales by the purchaser. This notice shall be given at or prior to the first invoice to each purchaser and may be given in any convenient form.

(f) This Order No. 7 may be revoked or amended by the Price Administrator at any time.

This order shall become effective the 27th day of March 1943.

Issued this 26th day of March 1943.

NEWARK PACKING CO., INC.

AUTHORIZATION OF MAXIMUM PRICES

Maximum prices authorized under § 1351.2006 (e) of Maximum Price Regulation No. 335, Order No. 1.

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith: It is ordered:

(a) On and after March 29, 1943, the maximum price for sales of any brand, variety, container type and size of peanut butter or salted peanuts by Newark Packing Co., Inc., 217 Astor Street, Newark, New Jersey, shall be the highest price charged by it for that same item to a purchaser of the same class during the period December 19, 1942, to December 23, 1942, inclusive.

"Highest price charged" means the highest price which Newark Packing Co., Inc., charged for the item in any delivery made by it during the period from December 19, 1942, to December 23, 1942, inclusive to a purchaser of the same class. If the seller made no such delivery, "highest price charged" means its highest offering price for delivery of the item during that period to a purchaser of the same class.

(b) Newark Packing Co., Inc., shall within 10 days from the effective date of this order file a statement with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., setting forth the dollars and cents maximum price of each item, the maximum price of which is authorized by paragraph (a).

(c) This Order No. 1 may be revoked or amended by the Price Administrator at any time.

This order shall become effective as of March 29, 1943.

REDFIELD PROCTOR, ET AL.

ORDER DISMISSING PROCEEDINGS

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its offices in the City of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on the 25th day of March 1943.

In the matter of Redfield Proctor, C. Brooks Stevens and Henry G. Wells, as trustees under a trust agreement dated January 31, 1939.

Redfield Proctor, C. Brooks Stevens and Henry G. Wells, as trustees under a trust agreement dated January 31, 1939, a registered holding company, having on February 2, 1939 filed an application pursuant to section 11 (e) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 with respect to the sale or other disposition of the securities constituting the trust estate held by them under an agreement of trust dated January 31, 1939 between said trustees, International Paper and Power Company and International Paper Company, said securities consisting of all of the outstanding class B and common stock of International Hydro-Electric System, a registered holding company, and all of the outstanding capital stock of Olcott Falls Company; and Joseph B. Ely having replaced Redfield Proctor as a trustee under said agreement of trust; and

The Commission having on January 17, 1941, ordered said trustees to surrender the class B and common stock of Internal Hydro-Electric System to International Hydro-Electric System for a nominal consideration for the purpose of cancelation (8 SEC 485) and said class B and common stock having been surrendered for cancelation on June 16, 1941; and

The Commission having on October 31, 1942 approved the application of said Trustees for the sale of all the utility assets of Olcott Falls Company (Holding Company Act Release No. 3881); and

The Commission having on November 25, 1942 permitted said Trustees to withdraw their registration as a holding company pursuant to section 5 (d) of said Act (Holding Company Act Release No. 3934); and

It appearing to the Commission that the issues raised in said application pursuant to section 11 (e) of the Act are no longer in controversy and have become moot:

It is ordered, That the application of said trustees pursuant to section 11 (e) of the Act, bearing File No. 54-11, be and hereby is dismissed.

By the Commission.

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on the 26th day of March, A. D. 1943.

The Commission having heretofore, on August 23, 1941, entered its order pursuant to section 11 (b) (2) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, directing the dissolution of National Power & Light Company, a registered holding company; and

National Power & Light Company, as a step in compliance with said order of dissolution, having filed an application pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 regarding the sale by it to Equitable Securities Corporation of all of the securities of West Tennessee Gas Company, consisting of a 6% note dated November 25, 1935, due on or before November 25, 1940, in the principal amount of $585,000, and 100,000 shares of no par capital stock with a stated value of $175,000, for a consideration amounting to $712,500 in cash plus interest on said amount at the rate of 3% per annum from June 30, 1942 to the date of consummation of said sale; and

A public hearing having been held on said application after appropriate notice, and the Commission having examined the record and made and filed its findings and opinion herein; and

The Commission having found that the proposed transaction is a step in compliance with said order of the Commission dated August 23, 1941, directing the dissolution of National Power & Light Company, and is not in contravention of the provisions of the Act, or any rules or regulations promulgated thereunder; and

National Power & Light Company having requested that the order of the Commission herein conform with the requirements of section 1808 of the Internal Revenue Code as amended by section 506 (c) and (h) of the Revenue Act of 1942 and contain the findings therein specified;

It is ordered, That subject to the terms and conditions prescribed in Rule U-24 promulgated under said Act, said application of National Power & Light Company be, and the same hereby is granted.

It is further ordered, That the sale and transfer by National Power & Light Company to Equitable Securities Corporation of the 6% note dated November 25, 1935, due on or before November 25, 1940, in the principal amount of $585,000 of West Tennessee Gas Company and the 100,000 shares of no par capital stock of said company are necessary and appropriate to effectuate the provisions of section 11 (b) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935.

Samuel Okin, a common stockholder of Electric Bond and Share Company, having been granted the privilege of limited participation herein, and having requested the Commission to review certain rulings of the trial examiner, and to reconvene the hearings herein and for other relief, all as more fully set forth in the Commission's findings and opinion this day issued; and the Commission having therein found that no prejudice resulted to the said Samuel Okin as a result of said rulings and that no useful purpose would be served by reconvening the hearings herein;

It is ordered, That the rulings of the trial examiner herein be, and the same hereby are, affirmed, and that the motion to reconvene hearings herein be denied.

By the Commission.

PEOPLES LIGHT AND POWER CO., ET AL.

NOTICE OF FILING AND ORDER FOR HEARING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pa., on the 27th day of March 1943.

In the matter of Peoples Light and Power Company, and Subsidiary Companies, applicants, File No. 54-67; Peoples Light and Power Company, California Public Service Company, Texas Public Service Company, Texas Public Service Farm Company, West Coast Power Company, Western States Utilities Company, respondents, File No. 59-64.

The Commission having, by order dated March 9, 1943, instituted proceedings under sections 11 (b) (1) and 11

(b) (2) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 involving Peoples Light and Power Company ("Peoples"), a registered holding company, and its subsidiaries (File No. 59–64); and the said proceedings having been consolidated for the purpose of hearing with an application filed by Peoples with respect to a plan of reorganization under section 11 (e) of the Act (File No. 54–67); and the said consolidated hearing having been adjourned to April 20, 1943; and

Peoples and Texas Public Service Company ("Texas"), one of its subsidiaries, having on March 25, 1943 filed an amendment to the plan of reorganization, the transactions proposed by said amendment being summarized as follows:

Texas proposes to sell its water and irrigation businesses in Jefferson, Hardin and Liberty Counties, Texas, to the Lower Neches Valley Authority for a consideration of approximately $2,055,000 in cash. Texas contemplates the application of the said proceeds to (1) the purchase of the properties and/or capital stocks of one or more gas public-utility operating companies doing business in the State of Texas and/or (2) the retirement of outstanding First Mortgage Series A 5% Bonds of Texas due January 1, 1961.

Peoples and Texas having requested that the Commission make a preliminary determination of the retainability of said businesses under section 11 (b) (1) and that an order be entered on or before April 5, 1943 specifying such action (including the divestment of such assets) as may be required in the light of such determination and that such order conform with the requirements of sections 371 (b) and 371 (f) of the Internal Revenue Code; and

It appearing to the Commission that it is appropriate in the public interest and the interest of investors and consumers that a hearing be held with respect to such matter;

It is ordered, That a hearing on such matter under the applicable provisions of said Act and the rules of the Commission thereunder be held on April 3, 1943, at 11 a. m., e. w. t., at the offices of the Securities and Exchange Commission, 18th and Locust Streets, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. On such date the hearing room clerk in room 318 will advise as to the room in which such hearing will be held.

It is further ordered, That William W. Swift, or any other officer or officers of the Commission designated by it for that purpose, shall preside at the hearings in such matter. The officer so designated to preside at such hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of said Act and to a trial examiner under the Commission's rules of practice.

It is further ordered, That any other person desiring to be heard in connection with these proceedings or proposing to intervene herein shall file with the Secretary of the Commission, on or before April 2, 1943, his request or application therefor as provided by Rule XVII of the rules of practice of the Commission.

It is further ordered, That, without limiting the scope of the issues, particular attention will be directed at such hearing to the following matters;

1. Whether the said water and irrigation businesses of Texas are reasonably incidental, or economically necessary or appropriate to the operations of the single integrated system and such additional systems to which the holding company system of Peoples should be limited under section 11 (b) (1) of said Act, and whether the Commission should order the divestment of said businesses under said section 11 (b) (1).

2. Whether the divestment of said businesses is necessary or appropriate to the integration or simplification of Peoples' holding company system, and is necessary or appropriate to effectuate the provisions of section 11 (b) of said Act.

By the Commission.

PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY OF NEW HAMPSHIRE ET AL.

SUPPLEMENTAL ORDER PERMITTING SALE OF BONDS

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its offices in the City of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on the 27th day of March 1943.

In the matter of Public Service Company of New Hampshire, The Twin State Gas and Electric Company, New England Public Service Company, File No. 70–654.

The Commission having heretofore on March 19, 1943 issued its interim order herein granting, for the purpose of submitting bonds to competitive bidding, the application of Public Service Company of New Hampshire pursuant to section 6 (b) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 for exemption from the provisions of 6 (a) of said Act of the issue and sale by said Public Service Company of New Hampshire of $20,500,000 aggregate principal amount of its First Mortgage Bonds, Series A, 3¼%, maturing January 1, 1973, subject to certain terms, conditions and reservations of jurisdiction in said order contained; and

Said application having provided that said Public Service Company of New Hampshire proposed to invite proposals for competitive bidding with respect to said bonds as provided in Rule U-50 of the general rules and regulations under the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935; and the Commission having reserved jurisdiction to impose such further terms and conditions as might be appropriate after the results of competitive bidding had been reported pursuant to Rule U-50 (c); and

Public Service Company of New Hampshire having filed an amendment to its application herein, which amendment specifies that said applicant has accepted the proposal of Halsey Stuart & Company, Inc., as representative and on behalf of an underwriting group to purchase said First Mortgage Bonds, Series A, 3¼%, maturing January 1, 1973, at a price of 107.1579 plus accrued interest, said bonds to be offered initially to the public by said underwriters at 108 plus accrued interest; and

The Commission having examined said amendment and having examined the record and finding no basis for imposing further terms and conditions to the issue and sale of such bonds;

It is ordered, That jurisdiction heretofore reserved with respect to the imposition of further terms and conditions after the results of competitive bidding have been reported, be and the same hereby is released, and that said application be and the same hereby is granted for the purpose of permitting the sale of said bonds as aforesaid, subject, however, to the terms and conditions contained in the Commission's order of March 19, 1943.

MAINE AND NEW BRUNSWICK ELECTRICAL POWER COMPANY, LIMITED, AND MAINE PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY

ORDER GRANTING APPLICATIONS AND PERMITTING DECLARATIONS TO BECOME EFFECTIVE

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on the 27th day of March, A. D. 1943.

Maine Public Service Company, a registered holding company and a subsidiary of Consolidated Electric and Gas Company, and its subsidiary company, Maine and New Brunswick Electrical Power Company, Limited, a utility company operating in the Province of New Brunswick, Canada, having filed applications and declarations with amendments thereto, pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, particularly sections 6, 7, 9, 10, and 12 thereof, and Rules U-42, U-43, and U-44, promulgated thereunder, regarding the reduction in the interest rate from 6 per centum to 3 per centum upon all the notes of Maine and New Brunswick Electrical Power Company, Limited, outstanding in the aggregate principal amount of $440,000, which notes are owned and pledged by Maine Public Service Company under an indenture securing its First Mortgage and Collateral Trust Bonds, and regarding the substitution by Maine Public Service Company of such 3 per centum notes for the 6 per centum notes pledged under the aforesaid indenture; and

Said applications and declarations having been filed on February 12, 1943, and certain amendments having been filed thereto, the last of said amendments having been filed on March 18, 1943, and notice of said filing having been duly given in the form and manner prescribed by Rule U-23 promulgated pursuant to said Act and the Commission not having received a request for a hearing with respect to said applications and declarations within the period prescribed by said notice, or otherwise, and not having ordered a hearing thereon; and

The Commission finding that all applicable statutory requirements are met and deeming it appropriate in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers to grant said applications, as amended, and to permit said declarations, as amended, to become effective;

It is hereby ordered, Pursuant to Rule U-23 and the applicable provisions of said Act and subject to the terms and conditions prescribed in Rule U-24 that the aforesaid applications, as amended, be and hereby are granted forthwith and that the aforesaid declarations, as amended, be and are hereby permitted to become effective forthwith.

By the Commission, Commissioner Healy dissenting for the reasons set forth in his memorandum of April 1, 1940.

TITLE 16—COMMERCIAL PRACTICES

Chapter I—Federal Trade Commission

[Docket No. 4558]

PART 3—DIGEST OF CEASE AND DESIST ORDERS

NATIONAL ELECTRICAL MANUFACTURERS ASSN., ET AL.

In the matter of Electrical Alloy Section of National Electrical Manufacturers Association, et al.

§ 3.7 Aiding, assisting and abetting unfair or unlawful act or practice: § 3.27 (d) Combining or conspiring—To enhance, maintain or unify prices. In connection with offer, etc., in commerce, of unpatented electrical alloy resistance wire of any type or description, and on the part of respondent Electrical Alloy Section of National Electrical Manufacturers Association, and the five respondent corporations, together with their officers, etc., continuing, entering into, carrying out, cooperating, aiding or abetting in carrying out, any planned common course of action, agreement, understanding, or combination, express or implied, between and among any two or more of said respondents or between one or more of said respondents and any others not parties hereto, to (1) fix, establish, or maintain prices, terms, discounts, or conditions of sale for electrical alloy resistance wire, or adhere to or promise to adhere to the prices, terms, discounts, or conditions of sale so fixed; (2) exchange, distribute, or relay between and among themselves or between and among themselves and others competing with any of the respondent corporations either directly among respondent manufacturers and their competitors or indirectly through respondent Section or other common agency, information as to prices, terms, discounts, or conditions of sale of said electrical alloy resistance wire, for the purpose or with the effect of restraining competition in the offering for sale or sale of such wire; (3) fix, establish, or maintain uniform resistance standards or other uniform standards for use in connection with the manufacture of said electrical alloy resistance wire, for the purpose or with the effect of fixing or attempting to fix identical prices at which said electrical alloy resistance wire is sold or offered for sale by respondent corporations; and (4) submit uniform bids in connection with the sale or offering for sale of said electrical alloy resistance wire sold or offered for sale by respondent corporations; prohibited. (Sec. 5, 38 Stat. 719, as amended by sec. 3, 52 Stat. 112; 15 U.S.C., sec. 45b) [Cease and desist order, Electrical Alloy Section of National Electrical Manufacturers Association, et al., Docket 4558, March 16, 1943].

At a regular session of the Federal Trade Commission, held at its office in the City of Washington, D. C., on the 16th day of March, A. D. 1943.

In the matter of Electrical Alloy Section of National Electrical Manufacturers Association, an unincorporated trade association; George B. Cumming and William J. Donald, Executive Secretary and Managing Director, respectively, of Electrical Alloy Section of National Electrical Manufacturers Association; Alloy Metal Wire Company, Inc., a corporation; Hoskins Manufacturing Company, a corporation; Wilbur B. Driver Company, a corporation; C. O. Jelliff Manufacturing Corporation, a corporation; and Driver-Harris Company, a corporation.

This proceeding having been heard by the Federal Trade Commission upon the complaint of the Commission, the answers of the respondents, and a stipulation as to the facts entered into between the respondents herein and W. T. Kelley, Chief Counsel for the Commission, which provides, among other things, that the said Commission may proceed upon said statement of facts to make its report stating its findings as to the facts (including inferences which it may draw from said stipulated facts) and its conclusion based thereon and enter its order disposing of the proceeding without the presentation of argument or the filing of briefs, and which waives the filing of a report upon the evidence by the trial examiner; and the Commission having made its findings as to the facts and its conclusion that said respondents have violated the provisions of the Federal Trade Commission Act:

It is ordered, That respondent Electrical Alloy Section of National Electrical Manufacturers Association, an unincorporated trade association, and respondent corporations, Alloy Metal Wire Company, Inc., Hoskins Manufacturing Company, Wilbur B. Driver Company, C. O. Jelliff Manufacturing Corporation, and Driver-Harris Company, together with all of said respondents' officers, representatives, agents, and employees, directly or indirectly or through any corporate or other device, in connection with the offering for sale and distribution in commerce as "commerce" is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act, of unpatented electrical alloy resistance wire of any type or description, do forthwith cease and desist from continuing, entering into, carrying out, cooperating, aiding or abetting in carrying out, any planned common course of action, agreement, understanding, or combination, express or implied, between and among any two or more of said respondents or between one or more of said respondents and any others not parties hereto, to do or perform any of the following acts or practices.

1. Fixing, establishing, or maintaining prices, terms, discounts, or conditions of sale for electrical alloy resistance wire, or adhering to or promising to adhere to the prices, terms, discounts, or conditions of sale so fixed.

2. Exchanging, distributing, or relaying between and among themselves or between and among themselves and others competing with any of the respondent corporations either directly among respondent manufacturers and their competitors or indirectly through respondent Section or other common agency, information as to prices, terms, discounts, or conditions of sale of said electrical alloy resistance wire, for the purpose or with the effect of restraining competition in the offering for sale or sale of such wire.

3. Fixing, establishing, or maintaining uniform resistance standards or other uniform standards for use in connection with the manufacture of said electrical alloy resistance wire, for the purpose or with the effect of fixing or attempting to fix identical prices at which said electrical alloy resistance wire is sold or offered for sale by respondent corporations.

4. Submitting uniform bids in connection with the sale or offering for sale of said electrical alloy resistance wire sold or offered for sale by respondent corporations.

It is further ordered, That the case growing out of the complaint be, and the same hereby is, closed as to respondents William J. Donald, as managing director of the National Electrical Manufacturers Association, and George B. Cumming, as executive secretary of Electrical Alloy Section of National Electrical Manufacturers Association, but without prejudice to the right of the Commission, should future facts so warrant, to reopen the same and resume trial thereof in accordance with its regular procedure.

It is further ordered, That all and each of the respondents, except those against whom the complaint herein has been dismissed by this order, shall within sixty (60) days after service upon them of this order, file with the Commission a report in writing, setting forth in detail the manner and form in which they have complied with this order.

It is further ordered, That this order be served upon the respondent Electrical Alloy Section of National Electrical Manufacturers Association by service, in accordance with the rules of the Commission, upon William J. Donald, Managing Director of National Electrical Manufacturers Association, 155 East 44th Street, New York, New York.

By the Commission.

At a regular session of the Federal Trade Commission, held at its office in the City of Washington, D. C., on the 23rd day of March, A. D. 1943.

In the Matter of Eugene M. Woolard, an Individual Trading as Master Artists' Association, Inc., and Walter O. Wyatt, Walter E. Sneed, Bessie Swanson, L. E. Harrison, William Nadeau, E. R. Malone, G. D. Hill, Caesar Morales, Carl Rhine, D. Edwards, R. McIsaac, and Eva Metcalf, Individuals

This proceeding having been heard by the Federal Trade Commission upon the complaint of the Commission, the answer of the respondents, and a stipulation as to the facts entered into between the respondent Eugene M. Woolard, an individual trading as Master Artists' Association, Inc., and Richard P. Whiteley, Assistant Chief Counsel for the Commission, which provides, among other things, that without further evidence or other intervening procedure the Commission may issue and serve upon respondent Eugene M. Woolard findings as to the facts and conclusion based thereon, and an order disposing of the proceeding as to said respondent; and the Commission having made its findings as to the facts and conclusion that said respondent has violated the provisions of the Federal Trade Commission Act:

It is ordered, That respondent Eugene M. Woolard, individually and trading as Master Artists' Association, Inc., or trading under any other name, and his representatives, agents and employees, directly or through any corporate or other device, in connection with the offering for sale, sale and distribution in commerce, as "commerce" is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act, of photographic enlargements or any pictures made from a photographic base, and of frames therefor, do forthwith cease and desist from:

1. Using the terms "painting," "hand-painted," "oil painting" or "painted portrait," or any other term of similar import, to designate, describe or refer to respondent's products; or otherwise representing, directly or by implication, that respondent's products are paintings.

2. Representing that the prices at which respondent offers for sale or sells his products constitute a discount to the purchaser, or that such prices are special or reduced or introductory prices, when such prices are in fact the usual and customary prices at which respondent sells his products in the normal and usual course of business.

3. Representing as the customary or regular prices or values of respondent's products, prices and values which are in excess of the prices at which such products are regularly and customarily sold by respondent in the normal and usual course of business.

4. Using the term "Artists' Association," or any other term of similar import, to designate, describe or refer to respondent's business; or otherwise representing, directly or by implication, that respondent's business is conducted by an association of artists.

5. Representing, directly or by implication, that respondent owns, operates or controls an organization or establishment possessing the equipment and employing the personnel essential to the production of tinted or colored photographs or enlargements.

6. The use of the so-called "draw" or the use of so-called "lucky" certificates or coupons, or the use of any other device, plan or scheme whereby the representation is made, directly or by implication, that a prospective purchaser may obtain a picture or photograph free or for an amount less than that paid by purchasers generally.

7. Concealing from or failing to disclose to prospective purchasers that the finished picture or photograph, when delivered, will be so shaped and designed that it can only be fitted into a specially designed frame not ordinarily obtainable in photographic supply, furniture or other stores accessible to the consuming public.

It is further ordered, That respondent shall, within sixty (60) days after service upon him of this order, file with the Commission a report in writing, setting forth in detail the manner and form in which he has complied with this order.

It is further ordered, That this proceeding be, and it hereby is, closed as to respondents Walter O. Wyatt, Walter E. Sneed, Bessie Swanson, L. E. Harrison, William Nadeau, E. R. Malone, G. D. Hill, Caesar Morales, Carl Rhine, D. Edwards, R. McIsaac, and Eva Metcalf without prejudice to the right of the Commission, should the facts so warrant, to reopen the same and resume trial thereof in accordance with its regular procedure.

By the Commission.

(e) Refunds and credits.

(1) Section 322 (a) is amended to read as follows:

(a) Authorization.

(1) Overpayment. Where there has been an overpayment of any tax imposed by this chapter, the amount of such overpayment shall be credited against any income, war-profits, or excess-profits tax or installment thereof then due from the taxpayer, and any balance shall be refunded immediately to the taxpayer.

(2) Excessive withholding. Where the amount of the tax withheld at the source under Part II of Subchapter D exceeds the tax imposed by this chapter (after allowance of the credits provided by sections 31, 32, and 453), the amount of such excess shall be credited against any income tax or installment thereof then due from the taxpayer, and any balance thereof shall be refunded immediately to the taxpayer.

(2) Section 322 (c) is amended to read as follows:

(c) Presumption as to date of payment. For the purposes of this section, any tax actually withheld and collected at the source under Part II of Subchapter D shall, in respect of the recipient of the income, be deemed to have been paid by him on the fifteenth day of the third month following the close of his taxable year in which such tax was so withheld and collected; except that in the case of a nonresident alien individual, it shall be deemed to have been paid by him on the fifteenth day of the sixth month following the close of his taxable year.

(f) Tax withheld at source. For refund or credit in case of withholding agent, see sections 143 (f) and 466 (f).

* * * * *

(g) Effective date. The provisions of this section shall take effect on January 1, 1943, and shall be applicable to all wages (as defined in Part II of Subchapter D) paid on or after such date.

PAR. 8. There is inserted immediately after § 19.404-1 (added by Treasury Decision 5195, approved December 8, 1942) the following:

SEC. 172. TEMPORARY INCOME TAX ON INDIVIDUALS. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title I.)

(a) The Internal Revenue Code is amended by inserting at the end of Chapter I the following new subchapter:

SUBCHAPTER D—VICTORY TAX ON INDIVIDUALS

PART I—RATE AND COMPUTATION OF TAX

SEC. 450. IMPOSITION OF TAX.

There shall be levied, collected, and paid for each taxable year beginning after December 31, 1942, a victory tax of 5 per centum upon the victory tax net income of every individual (other than a nonresident alien subject to the tax imposed by section 211 (a)).

* * * * *

(g) Effective date. The provisions of this section shall take effect on January 1, 1943, and shall be applicable to all wages (as defined in Part II of Subchapter D) paid on or after such date.

§ 19.450-1 Victory tax on individuals. For taxable years beginning after December 31, 1942, and before the day following the date of cessation of hostilities in the present war (determined as provided in section 475 (b)) there is imposed, in addition to the normal tax and the surtax, upon every individual (other than a nonresident alien whose tax liability is determined under section 211 (a)) a victory tax at the rate of 5 percent (subject to the limitations provided in section 456) upon the amount of the taxpayer's victory tax net income. As to what constitutes victory tax net income, see § 19.451-1.

SEC. 172. TEMPORARY INCOME TAX ON INDIVIDUALS. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title I.)

(a) The Internal Revenue Code is amended by inserting at the end of Chapter 1 the following new subchapter:

* * * * *

SEC. 451. VICTORY TAX NET INCOME.

(a) Definition. The term "victory tax net income" in the case of any taxable year means (except as provided in subsection (c)) the gross income for such year (not including gain from the sale or exchange of capital assets as defined in section 117, or interest allowed as a credit against net income under section 25 (a) (1) and (2), or amounts received as compensation for injury or sickness which are included in gross income by reason of the exception contained in section 22 (b) (5)) minus the sum of the following deductions:

(1) Expenses. The expenses allowable as a deduction by section 23 (a) (1) and (2).

(2) Interest. Interest allowable as a deduction by section 23 (b), if the indebtedness in respect of which such interest is allowed was incurred in carrying on any trade or business, or was incurred for the production or collection of income, or for the management, conservation, or maintenance of property held for the production of income.

(3) Taxes. Amounts allowable as a deduction by section 23 (c), to the extent such amounts are paid or incurred in connection with the carrying on of a trade or business, or in connection with property used in the trade or business, or in connection with property held for the production of income.

(4) Losses. Losses (other than losses from the sale or exchange of capital assets) allowable as a deduction under section 23 (e) (1), subject to the limitation provided in section 23 (h).

(5) Bad debts. The amount allowable by section 23 (k) (1).

(6) Depreciation. The amount allowable by section 23 (l).

(7) Depletion. The amount allowable by section 23 (m) and (n).

(8) Pension trusts. The amount allowable by section 23 (p).

(9) Net operating loss. The net operating loss deduction allowable by section 23 (s).

(10) Amortization. The amount allowable by section 23 (t).

(11) Alimony. The amount allowable by section 23 (u).

(12) Special deduction. The amount allowable by section 120.

(13) Estates and trusts. In the case of an estate or trust, the amount allowable by subsection (a) of section 162 in addition to the amounts allowable by subsections (b) and (c) of such section.

(b) Items not deductible. The deductions allowable by subsection (a) shall be subject to the limitations contained in section 24 and Supplement J and, in the case of nonresident aliens subject to the victory tax, shall be subject to the limitations contained in Supplement H.

(c) Supplement T taxpayer. If for any taxable year a taxpayer makes his return and pays his tax under Supplement T, the term "victory tax net income" means the gross income for such year.

(d) Basis for determining loss. The basis for determining the amount of deduction for losses sustained, to be allowed under paragraph (4) of subsection (a), and for bad debts, to be allowed under paragraph (5) of subsection (a), shall be the adjusted basis provided in section 113 (b) for determining the loss from the sale or other disposition of property.

(e) Rule applicable to participants in a common trust fund. In the case of a participant in a common trust fund, he shall in respect of the common trust fund income include in computing his victory tax net income, whether or not distributed and whether or not distributable, only his proportionate share of the ordinary net income or the ordinary net loss of the common trust fund, computed as provided in section 169 (d).

(f) Rule applicable to partners. In the case of an individual carrying on business in partnership, he shall in respect of the partnership income include in computing his victory tax net income, whether or not distribution is made to him, only his distributive share of the ordinary net income or the ordinary net loss of the partnership, computed as provided in section 183 (b).

* * * * *

(g) Effective date. The provisions of this section shall take effect on January 1, 1943, and shall be applicable to all wages (as defined in Part II of subchapter D) paid on or after such date.

§ 19.451-1 Gross income for victory tax purposes—(a) Citizens or residents of the United States. For the purposes of the determination of victory tax net income, there are excluded from gross income: (1) gain from the sale or exchange of capital assets as defined in section 117; (2) interest upon obligations of the United States and obligations of corporations organized under Act of Congress which are instrumentalities of the United States, if such interest is allowable as a credit against net income under the provisions of section 25 (a) (1) and (2); and (3) amounts received as compensation for injury or sickness which are included in gross income by reason of the exception contained in section 22 (b) (5). As to what constitutes interest allowable as a credit against net income, see § 19.22 (b) (4)-4.

A participant in a common trust fund shall, in respect of his share of the income of the common trust fund, include in gross income for the purpose of the determination of his victory tax net income only his proportionate share of the ordinary net income or the ordinary net loss of the common trust fund computed as provided in section 169 (d). As to computation of net income of participants in a common trust fund, see § 19.169-2.

A member of a partnership shall, in respect of his share of the income of the partnership, include in gross income for the purpose of the determination of his victory tax net income, only his distributive share (whether distributed or not) of the ordinary net income or the ordinary net loss of the partnership, computed as provided in section 183 (b). As to computation of partnership income, see § 19.183–1.

(b) Nonresident alien subject to victory tax. Nonresident aliens falling into the following classes are subject to the victory tax: (1) Such aliens (other than residents of Canada) not engaged in trade or business within the United States but deriving during the taxable year more than $15,400 gross amount of dividends, interest, and other fixed or determinable annual or periodical income from sources within the United States; and (2) such aliens who at any time during the taxable year are engaged in trade or business within the United States. Nonresident aliens not engaged in trade or business within the United States and deriving during the taxable year not in excess of $15,400 gross amount of dividends, interest, and other fixed or determinable annual or periodical income from sources within the United States, and such nonresident aliens who are residents of Canada (regardless of the amount of their fixed or determinable annual or periodical income from sources within the United States), are not subject to the victory tax. In the case of a nonresident alien subject to the victory tax, the gross income adjusted as indicated in section 451 (a) means only gross income from sources within the United States. As to what constitutes gross income from sources within the United States in such cases, see sections 110 and 212 (a), and §§ 19.212–1, 19.212–2, and 19.211–7.

(c) United States citizens entitled to benefits of section 251. In the case of United States citizens entitled to the benefits of section 251, gross income for the purposes of the victory tax means only gross income from sources within the United States plus all amounts received by such citizens within the United States whether derived from sources within or without the United States, the sum of such amounts being reduced by the items, if any, excluded from gross income under paragraph (a) of this section. See § 19.251–1.

§ 19.451–2 Victory tax net income—(a) Citizen or resident of the United States. The term "victory tax net income" in the case of a citizen or resident of the United States means gross income, adjusted as described in paragraph (a) of this section, less the deductions provided in the case of individuals under section 23 relating to deductions from gross income, subject, however, to the qualifications, limitations, and exceptions with respect to such deductions provided in section 451. The deductions, therefore, from gross income (as defined in paragraph (a) of § 19.451–1) allowable for the purposes of the determination of victory tax net income are those set forth in section 23 and the regulations thereunder, subject, however, to the following qualifications, limitations and exceptions:

(1) Interest. The deduction generally allowable for interest under the provisions of section 23 (b) is allowable for the purposes of the victory tax if, and only if, the indebtedness with respect to which such interest is allowed was incurred:

(i) In carrying on any trade or business; or

(ii) For the production or collection of income; or

(iii) For the management, conservation, or maintenance of property held for the production of income.

Hence, for example, interest upon indebtedness representing a mortgage upon the home of the taxpayer is not deductible for the purposes of the victory tax. Interest upon indebtedness incurred incident to the acquisition of property held for investment, even though it actually produces no income during the taxable year, is nevertheless deductible. For the treatment of interest as a deduction from gross income generally, see section 23 (b) and regulations thereunder.

(2) Taxes. The deduction generally allowable for taxes paid or incurred under the provisions of section 23 (c) is allowable for the purposes of the victory tax if, and only if, paid or incurred:

(i) In connection with the carrying on of a trade or business;

(ii) In connection with property used in the trade or business; or

(iii) In connection with property held for the production of income.

Hence, for example, taxes paid by the taxpayer with respect to ownership of his home are not deductible for this purpose. Likewise, automobile license fees are not deductible for victory tax purposes except in the case of automobiles used in connection with the carrying on of a trade or business. Taxes are not deductible which are paid or incurred by reason of ownership of property held by the taxpayer primarily as a sport, hobby, or recreation. The deduction for retail sales taxes provided in section 23 (c) (3) is not applicable for victory tax purposes. Income, war profits or excess profits taxes paid to a foreign country or to a possession of the United States are not deductible if the taxpayer chooses to take to any extent for such taxable year the benefits of section 131 relating to the credit for foreign taxes even though no credit is allowed for such taxes against the victory tax. Such taxes are deductible for victory tax purposes only when deducted for income tax purposes under the provisions of section 23 (c) and then only if they qualify under the limitations prescribed in this paragraph. See section 23 (c) (1) (C) and § 19.23 (c) (1). For the treatment of taxes as a deduction from gross income generally, see section 23 (c) and regulations thereunder.

(3) Losses. Only losses allowable as a deduction under section 23 (e) (1) because incurred in trade or business are deductible. Wagering losses so incurred are allowable only to the extent of gains from such transactions. Losses from the sale or exchange of capital assets including losses from worthless securities governed by section 23 (k) (2), even though sustained in trade or business, are not deductible. The basis for determining the amount of allowable losses sustained for the purposes of the victory tax is the adjusted basis for determining the loss from the sale or other disposition of the property. For treatment of such losses generally, see sections 23 (e) (1), 23 (j), 113 (b) and regulations thereunder.

(4) Bad debts. Only bad debts deductible under section 23 (k) (1) are allowable for victory tax purposes. Nonbusiness bad debts as defined in section 23 (k) (4) are not deductible nor is any deduction permitted on account of a worthless debt evidenced by a security as defined in section 23 (k) (3) and allowable for income tax purposes to the extent permitted by section 23 (k) (2). For treatment of bad debts generally, see section 23 (k) and regulations thereunder.

(5) Contributions. The deduction for charitable and other contributions allowed generally under the provisions of section 23 (o) is not allowable for the determination of the victory tax net income except, however, that in the case of any individual who qualifies under the provisions of section 120, the deduction for contributions is allowable under section 23 (c) without regard to the percentage limitation contained therein. See § 19.120–1. In the case of estates or trusts, however, the deductions provided in section 162 (a) with respect to contributions as well as those in section 162 (b) and (c) with respect to distributions by the estate or trust are allowable. See section 162 and § 19.162–1.

(6) Specific unallowable items. The following items allowable generally as deductions from gross income for the purpose of normal tax and surtax are not allowable for the purposes of determining victory tax net income:

(i) The deduction for amortization of bond premium provided in section 125;

(ii) The deductions allowed estates, etc. on account of decedent's deductions provided in section 23 (w);

(iii) The deduction for medical, dental, etc. expenses provided in section 23 (x);

(iv) The deduction for certain amounts paid to cooperative apartment corporations provided in section 23 (z).

(7) Items not deductible generally. In addition to the deductions generally allowable under chapter 1 but disallowed for the purposes of the determination of the victory tax net income as set forth in subparagraphs (1) to (6), both inclusive there are also disallowed for the purposes of the determination of the victory tax net income those additional items disallowed generally under the provisions of section 24. See §§ 19.24–1 to 19.24–7 both inclusive.

(b) Nonresident aliens. In addition to the qualifications, limitations, and exceptions contained in paragraphs (1) to (7), both inclusive, of paragraph (a) of this section, the general rules with respect to deductions for the purposes of the normal tax and the surtax in the case of nonresident aliens are likewise applicable to such aliens for the purposes of the victory tax. Such deductions are allowable only if and to the extent that they are connected with income from sources within the United States. See section 213 and § 19.213–1.

(c) United States citizen entitled to benefits of section 251. In addition to the qualifications, limitations, and exceptions contained in subparagraphs (1) to (7), both inclusive, of paragraph (a) of this section, the general rules with respect to deductions for the purposes of the normal tax and the surtax in the case of a citizen of the United States entitled to the benefits of section 251 are also likewise applicable in the case of such citizens for the purposes of the victory tax. Such deductions are allowable only if and to the extent they are connected with income from sources within the United States. See section 251 (e) (1) and § 19.251–5.

(d) Supplement T taxpayer. If for any taxable year an individual citizen or resident of the United States makes his return and pays his tax under Supplement T, relating to individuals with gross income from certain sources of $3,000 or less, then the victory tax net income means gross income for such year and the provisions of section 451 and of this section relating to deductions from gross income have no application to such case.

SEC. 172. TEMPORARY INCOME TAX ON INDIVIDUALS. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title I.)

(a) The Internal Revenue Code is amended by inserting at the end of Chapter 1 the following new subchapter:

* * * * * *

SEC. 452. SPECIFIC EXEMPTION.

In the case of every individual there shall be allowed as a credit against the victory tax net income a specific exemption of $624. In the case of a husband and wife filing a joint return under section 51 (b), if the victory tax net income of one spouse is less than $624, the aggregate specific exemption of both spouses shall be limited to $624 plus the victory tax net income of such spouse.

* * * * * *

(g) Effective date. The provisions of this section shall take effect on January 1, 1943, and shall be applicable to all wages (as defined in Part II of Subchapter D) paid on or after such date.

§ 19.452–1 Specific exemption. For the purposes of computing the victory tax, there is allowed against the victory tax net income but one credit, namely, a specific exemption of $624. The credits, therefore, provided in section 25 with respect to normal tax or surtax, or both, have no application for the purposes of the victory tax. Except as otherwise provided in the case of a husband and wife making a joint return, the full exemption of $624 is allowable to each taxpayer regardless of dependents or the personal status of the taxpayer. In the case of a return for a fractional part of a year, as, for instance, the return for a decedent, the $624 exemption is not required to be prorated but is allowable in full. In the case of husband and wife making separate returns for the taxable year, each is entitled to a specific exemption of $624. In the case of husband and wife making a joint return for the taxable year, if the victory tax net income of one spouse is less than $624, the aggregate specific exemption of both spouses amounts to $624 plus the victory tax net income of such spouse. Thus, if A and his wife, B, make a joint return for the year 1943 and B has victory tax net income of $300, the total specific exemption for both spouses in such case is $924. In any such case in which a specific exemption of more than $624 is claimed, the facts with respect to the victory tax net income of the respective spouses shall be set forth in an appropriate schedule attached to the return. The principles applicable for the determination of net income of the respective spouses for normal tax and surtax purposes are likewise applicable with respect to what constitutes victory tax net income of the respective spouses, subject, however, to the qualifications, limitations, and exceptions provided in section 451. See section 22 and regulations thereunder.

SEC. 172. TEMPORARY INCOME TAX ON INDIVIDUALS. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title I.)

(a) The Internal Revenue Code is amended by inserting at the end of Chapter 1 the following new subchapter:

* * * * * *

SEC. 453. CREDIT AGAINST VICTORY TAX.

(a) Allowance of credit. There shall be allowed as a credit against the victory tax for each taxable year:

(1) The amount paid by the taxpayer during the taxable year as premiums on life insurance, in force on September 1, 1942, upon his own life, or upon the life of his spouse, or upon the life of any dependent of the taxpayer specified in section 25 (b) (2) (A); and the amount paid during the taxable year as premiums on life insurance which is a renewal or conversion of such life insurance in force on September 1, 1942, to the extent that such premiums do not exceed the premiums payable on such life insurance in force on September 1, 1942.

(2) The amount by which the smallest amount of indebtedness of the taxpayer outstanding at any time during the period beginning September 1, 1942, and ending with the close of the preceding taxable year, exceeds the amount of indebtedness of the taxpayer outstanding at the close of the taxable year.

(3) The amount by which the amount of obligations of the United States owned by the taxpayer on the last day of the taxable year exceeds the greater of (A) the amount of such obligations owned by the taxpayer on December 31, 1942, or (B) the highest amount of such obligations owned by the taxpayer on the last day of any preceding taxable year ending after December 31, 1942. As used in this paragraph (i) the term "owned by the taxpayer" shall include the amount of the obligations owned solely by the taxpayer and one-half of the amount of the obligations owned jointly by the taxpayer with one other person, but shall not include such obligations acquired by the taxpayer by gift, or inheritance, or otherwise than by purchase (ii) the term "obligations of the United States" means such obligations of the United States as the Secretary may by regulations prescribe, and as are purchased in such manner and under such terms and conditions as he may specify; and (iii) the term "amount of obligations of the United States" means the amount paid for such obligations.

(b) Limitation on credit. The amount of such credit for the taxable year shall not exceed the amount of the post war credit or refund allowed by section 454 for such taxable year.

* * * * * *

(g) Effective date. The provisions of this section shall take effect on January 1, 1943, and shall be applicable to all wages (as defined in Part II of Subchapter D) paid on or after such date.

§ 19.453–1 Credit against victory tax—(a) General. Section 453 permits a taxpayer subject to the victory tax to apply as a credit against such tax for each taxable year all or a portion of the following items (but in an amount not in excess in any event of the post war credit or refund allowed by section 454 for such taxable year):

(1) Premiums paid by the taxpayer on life insurance;

(2) Reduction in indebtedness of the taxpayer;

(3) Increase in taxpayer's holdings of certain United States obligations.

The credit provided in section 453 does not reduce the amount of the victory tax to be withheld at the source as provided in section 466. Such credit is applied against the amount of the victory tax as shown by the taxpayer's victory tax return. The taxpayer is not required to avail himself of such credit. In such event he will be entitled to the post war credit or refund with respect to such taxable year provided in section 454.

(b) Special items of the credit—(1) Premiums paid by taxpayer on life insurance. In order to secure credit for life insurance premiums paid by the taxpayer during the taxable year, there must be in force on September 1, 1942 life insurance upon the taxpayer's own life or upon the life of his spouse or upon the life of any dependent of the taxpayer as specified in section 25 (b) (2). The amount of the post war credit or refund which may be applied as a credit against the victory tax for the taxable year by reason of payment of insurance premiums is the amount paid by the taxpayer during the taxable year as premiums upon such life insurance. If any such life insurance so in force on September 1, 1942 is renewed or converted after such date, the credit includes premiums paid with respect to such renewed or converted life insurance but the credit therefor cannot exceed the amount of the annual premiums payable on such insurance in force on September 1, 1942. In computing the amount of the credit under section 453 (a) (1), no account is to be taken of any life insurance policy taken out after September 1, 1942 and not representing renewal or conversion of a life insurance policy in force on such date. In computing the amount of premiums paid by the taxapayer under section 453 (a) (1), there shall be deducted from the gross amount of premiums paid during the taxable year the amount of dividends received during such taxable year which represents return of premiums.

(2) Reduction in indebtedness of the taxpayer. The amount of the post-war credit or refund which may be applied as a credit against the victory tax for the taxable year by reason of reduction, if any, in the indebtedness of the taxpayer is the excess of the smallest amount of such indebtedness outstanding at any time during the period beginning with September 1, 1942 and ending with the close of the taxable year preceding the year for which the tax is being com-price and no credit shall be allowed to tax paid for each taxable year begining after and the number of his dependents during the year or years for which such victory spect to his dependents, for the purposes of the post war credit or refund, shall be

Example (1). A and B were married on August 10, 1943, each having the status of a puted over the amount of such indebtedness outstanding at the close of the taxable year. As used in section 453 (a) (2), the term "indebtedness" means all indebtedness for which the taxpayer is liable, whether secured or unsecured and whether or not evidenced by writing. It does not include a mere contingent or secondary liability. However, if and when a contingent liability for the payment of money becomes absolute, it is includible as indebtedness. The term includes indebtedness assumed by the taxpayer even though such indebtedness is evidenced, so far as the taxpayer is concerned, only by a contract with the person whose indebtedness has been assumed. An assumption of indebtedness includes, in addition to the customary forms of assumption, the acquisition of property subject to indebtedness. In order for any indebtedness to be included within the term, it must be bona fide.

The application of section 453 (a) (2) may be illustrated by the following example:

Example. A had outstanding as of September 1, 1942 a mortgage upon his home in the amount of $5,000 which had been reduced to $4,500 as of December 31, 1942 and to $4,250 on December 31, 1943. In such case the potential credit against the victory tax by reason of reduction of indebtedness is $4,500 minus $4,250, or $250, but such latter amount is subject to the limitation that it cannot in any event exceed the amount of post war credit or refund provided in section 454.

(3) Increase in holdings of United States obligations. The amount of the post war credit or refund available to the taxpayer as a credit against the victory tax for the taxable year by reason of increase in his holdings of United States obligations is measured by the excess of the amount of such obligations owned by the taxpayer as of the close of the last day of the taxable year over whichever of the following amounts is the greater: (i) the amount of such obligations owned by the taxpayer as at the close of the calendar year 1942 or (ii) the largest amount of such obligations owned by the taxpayer as at the close of the last day of any preceding taxable year ending after December 31, 1942.

As used in section 453 (a) (3), the term "owned by the taxpayer" includes only such obligations as have been acquired by the taxpayer by purchase and does not include obligations acquired by gift or inheritance. Obligations acquired by purchase include obligations acquired by the taxpayer under such circumstances that their acquisition results in the recognition of income to him. For purposes of the victory tax credit, if an obligation is registered in the names of two persons as co-owners, each shall, in the absence of evidence to the contrary, be presumed to be a purchaser and shall be entitled to the credit to the extent of one-half of the purchase price thereof. If, however, the entire purchase price is contributed by one co-owner, he may, if he so elects at the time of filing his first return under the victory tax subsequent to the purchase of the obligation, be considered to be the sole owner, in which case he shall be entitled to a credit to the full extent of the purchase price and no credit shall be allowed to the other co-owner. For the purposes of section 453 (a) (3), a United States Savings Bond registered, for example, in the name of A, payable on death to B, is not owned jointly but is owned solely by A. The term "obligations of the United States" for the purposes of the credit means only United States Savings Bonds, Series E, F and G which are purchased in such manner and under such terms and conditions as the Secretary may by regulations prescribe, subject, however, to the right of the Secretary by regulations at any time to restrict, amplify or extend the class or classes of United States obligations with respect to which the taxpayer may be entitled to a credit under the provisions of section 453 (a) (3) and the manner, terms and conditions under which obligations may be purchased. See Treasury Department Circular No. 704 approved December 29, 1942. The date as of which the bond is issued (month and year, as entered on the face panel, but not in the dating stamp of the issuing agent), shall be held to be the date of acquisition. The term "amount of obligations" as used in section 453 (a) (3) means the amount paid for the obligations and not the par value thereof and does not include the interest, if any, accrued thereon.

The application of section 453 (a) (3) may be illustrated by the following example:

Example. A and his wife B file a joint return for the calendar year 1943. On December 31, 1942, A owned a United States Savings Bond, Series E, of a par value of $500 for which he and his wife had previously paid the amount of $375, the bond being registered in the name of A or his wife B. During 1943 A and B purchased additional bonds of a par value of $200 of the same series of United States Savings Bonds for which they paid $150, such bonds being registered in the same manner as the bond previously purchased. They also acquired by inheritance a similar bond in the denomination of $1,000. The three bonds were held as of the close of the calendar year 1943. Since the $1,000 bond had been acquired by inheritance, such obligation has no effect upon the credit against the victory tax.

Since A and B file a joint return, they are entitled to a credit under section 453 (a) (3) of $150, the difference between $525 (the amount owned at the end of 1943) and $375 (the amount owned as of December 31, 1942), subject to the limitation that such credit cannot in any event exceed the amount of the post war credit or refund allowed by section 454. If A and B file separate returns, each would be entitled to a credit of $75, subject to the limitations prescribed under section 454.

For the application as a credit against the victory tax (adjusted for the credit allowed by section 453) of the tax withheld at the source under section 466, see § 19.466–5.

SEC. 172. TEMPORARY INCOME TAX ON INDIVIDUALS. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title I.)

(a) The Internal Revenue Code is amended by inserting at the end of Chapter 1 the following new subchapter:

* * * * *

SEC. 454 POST WAR CREDIT OR REFUND OF VICTORY TAX.

(a) Allowance of credit. As soon as practicable after date of cessation of hostilities in the present war (as defined in section 475 (b)), the following amount of the victory tax paid for each taxable year begining after December 31, 1942, shall be credited against any income tax or installment thereof then due from the taxpayer, and any balance shall be refunded immediately to the taxpayer:

(1) In the case of a single person or a married person not living with husband or wife, 25 per centum of the victory tax or $500, whichever is the lesser.

(2) In the case of the head of a family, 40 per centum of the victory tax or $1,000 whichever is the lesser. In the case of a married person living with husband or wife where separate returns are filed by each spouse, 40 per centum of the victory tax or $500, whichever is the lesser. In the case of a married person living with husband or wife where a separate return is filed by one spouse and no return is filed by the other spouse, or in the case of a husband and wife filing a joint return under section 51 (b), only one such credit shall be allowed and such credit shall not exceed 40 per centum of the victory tax or $1,000, whichever is the lesser.

(3) For each dependent specified in section 25 (b), excluding as a dependent, in the case of a head of a family, one who would be excluded under section 25 (b) (2) (B), 2 per centum of the victory tax or $100, whichever is the lesser.

(b) Change of status. If for any taxable year the status of the taxpayer (other than a taxpayer who makes his return and pays his tax under Supplement T) with respect to his marital relationship or with respect to his dependents, changed during the taxable year, the amount of the credit or refund provided by this section for such taxable year shall be apportioned, under rules and regulations prescribed by the Commissioner with the approval of the Secretary, in accordance with the number of months before and after such change. For the purpose of such apportionment a fractional part of a month shall be disregarded unless it amounts to more than half a month in which case it shall be considered as a month.

(c) Status of Supplement T taxpayer. If for any taxable year a taxpayer makes his return and pays his tax under Supplement T, for the purpose of the credit or refund provided by this section, his status for such year with respect to his marital relationship or with respect to his dependents shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of section 401.

(d) Period of limitation. No post war credit or refund of any part of the victory tax provided in this section shall be allowed or made after 7 years from the date of cessation of hostilities in the present war, unless claim for credit or refund is filed before the expiration of such date. No interest shall be allowed on such credits or refunds.

(e) Limitation of credit. The post war credit or refund allowed by this section shall be reduced by the amount of any credit allowed under section 453.

* * * * *

(g) Effective date. The provisions of this section shall take effect on January 1, 1943, and shall be applicable to all wages (as defined in Part II of Subchapter D) paid on or after such date.

§ 19.454–1 Post war credit or refund—(a) General. Section 454 provides that, as soon as practicable after the cessation of hostilities in the present war (as defined in section 475 (b)), there shall be credited or refunded to the taxpayer certain designated amounts representing portions of the victory tax paid for taxable years beginning after December 31, 1942 but not in excess of certain percentages of the amount of the victory tax, such percentages being conditioned upon the marital status of the taxpayer and the number of his dependents during the year or years for which such victory tax was imposed. Such post war credit or refund applies even though there has been no previous allowance for any taxable year of the annual victory tax credit provided under section 453. However, the amount of the post war credit or refund is reduced by the aggregate amount of the annual victory tax credit previously allowed. See section 454 (e). Such post war credit or refund, to the extent it is not reduced by the amount of the annual credit previously claimed and allowed, shall be credited after the cessation of hostilities in the present war against any income tax or installment thereof then due from the taxpayer and any balance shall be refunded immediately to the taxpayer. See section 454 (d) and § 19.454–3.

(b) Limitations on amount of post war credit or refund. The post war credit or refund provided in section 454 is subject to the following limitations:

(1) Single person or married person not living with husband or wife. 25 percent of the amount of the victory tax, or $500, whichever is the lesser.

(2) Married person living with husband or wife where separate returns are filed by each spouse. 40 percent of the victory tax, or $500, whichever is the lesser.

(3) Head of a family. 40 percent of the victory tax, or $1,000, whichever is the lesser.

(4) Married person living with husband or wife where separate return is filed by one spouse and no return is filed by the other spouse. 40 percent of the amount of the victory tax, or $1,000, whichever is the lesser.

(5) Married person living with husband or wife where joint return is filed. 40 percent of the amount of the victory tax, or $1,000, whichever is the lesser.

If the taxpayer has one or more dependents for whom a credit would be allowable under section 25 (b) (2), the limitations prescribed in subparagraphs (1) to (5), inclusive, shall, for each such dependent, be increased by the addition of 2 percent to the percentage limitation and $100 to the dollar limitation. For example, in the circumstances described in subparagraph (1) if a taxpayer has one dependent, the limitations prescribed would be increased to 27 percent of the victory tax, or $600, whichever is the lesser. In the circumstances described in subparagraph (3) if the taxpayer has three dependents, but the credit for one of such dependents is disallowed by reason of the provisions of section 25 (b) (2) (B), the percentage limitations would be increased by 2 percent for each of two dependents and the dollar limitation by $100 for each of two dependents. Consequently, the limitation on the credit for victory tax purposes would be 44 percent of the victory tax, or $1,200, whichever is the lesser.

As to what constitutes dependency under section 25, see § 19.25–6.

In the application of the provisions of section 454, if a taxpayer files his return for any taxable year under Supplement T, his status for such taxable year as to his marital relationship and with respect to his dependents, for the purposes of the post war credit or refund, shall be determined in accordance with the special rules prescribed in section 401. See §§ 19.401–1 and 19.454–2.

The computation of the post war credit or refund and the operation of the limitations with respect thereto may be illustrated by the following example:

Example: Joint return. A and B, husband and wife, file joint return for 1943 and have victory tax net income (after specific exemption) of $60,000. There are two dependents.

Computation:
Victory tax on $60,000 at 5%-------	$3,000
Post war refund:
44% of victory tax---------	$1,320
or
$1,000 plus $200----------	1,200
whichever is the lesser----------	1,200

Separate Returns

A has victory tax net income (after specific exemption) of $40,000 and B has victory tax net income (after specific exemption) of $20,000

Computation: A
Victory tax on $40,000 at 5%------	$2,000
Limitation:
44% of victory tax---------	$880
or
$500 plus $200----------	700
whichever is the lesser----------	700
Computation: B
Victory tax on $20,000 at 5%-------	$1,000
Limitation:
40% of victory tax----------	$400
or $500----------	500
whichever is the lesser---------	$400

Recapitulation

Credit or refund of A----------	$700
Credit or refund of B----------	400
Total credit or refund----------	1,100

In the application of section 454 (a) to a nonresident alien subject to the victory tax, the provisions of section 214, relating to exemption and credits in the case of such taxpayer, shall be applicable and hence the additional credit for dependents provided in section 454 (a) (3) is allowed only if such taxpayer is a resident of a contiguous country.

§ 19.454–2 Post war credit or refund where status changes during the taxable year—(a) General. If the status of the taxpayer (other than a taxpayer who makes his return and pays his tax under Supplement T) with respect to his marital relationship or with respect to his dependents changes during the taxable year, the amount of the post war credit or refund under section 454 and § 19.454–1 shall be apportioned according to the number of months during which the taxpayer occupied each status. For the purposes of the apportionment, a fractional part of a month shall be disregarded unless it amounts to more than one-half of a month in which case it shall be considered as a month. In general, the post war credit or refund in the case of any taxpayer whose status as set forth above changed during the taxable year will be the sum of the amounts apportioned to the respective periods during which each status was occupied. These principles may be illustrated by the following examples:

Example (1). A and B were married on August 10, 1943, each having the status of a single person prior to such date. They have no dependents. They had a combined victory tax net income (before the specific exemption) of $25,248. The victory tax net income of each is in excess of $624. They file a joint return for 1943. The post war credit or refund in such case is computed as follows:

Victory tax for 1943 on basis of joint return 5% of $24,000 ($25,248 minus $1,248)----------	$1,200
Post war credit or refund:
Seven Months January to July, Inclusive
A Limitation on post war credit or refund 7/12 x (25% of $600 or 7/12 of $500
Post war credit or refund equals----	87 50
(The figure of $87.50 applies since it is less than 7/12 of $500)
B Limitation on post war credit or refund 7/12 x (25% of $600) or 7/12 of $500
Post war credit or refund equals----	$87.50
(The figure of $87.50 applies since it is less than 7/12 of $500)
Five Months August to December, Inclusive
Limitation on post war credit or refund 5/12 x (40% of $1,200) or 5/12 of $1,000
Post war credit or refund----------	200.00
(The figure of $200 applies since it is less than 5/12 of $1,000)
Recapitulation—Post War Credit or Refund
Apportioned to A----------	87.50
Apportioned to B----------	87.50
Apportioned to A and B jointly----	200.00
Total for A and B----------	375.00

Example (2). A, a widower having two dependent children under 18 years of age, married B on July 1, 1943. They filed a joint return for the calendar year 1943 showing victory tax net income of $61,248 (before the application of the specific exemption) and a victory tax of $3,000. The victory tax net income of each exceeded the specific exemption of $624. The post war credit or refund in such case is computed as follows:

First Half of Year
A Limitation on post war credit or refund 1/2 x (42% of $1,500) or 1/2 of $1,100
Post war credit or refund------	$315.00
(This figure applies since it is less than 1/2 of $50)
B Limitation on post war credit or refund (44% of $3,000) or 1/2 of $500
Post war credit or refund-------	187.50
(This figure applies since it is less than 1/2 of $500)
Second Half of Year
Limitation on post war credit or refund 1/2 of (44% of $3,000) or 1/2 of $1,200
Post war credit or refund------	600.00
(This figure applies since it is less than 1/2 of (44% of $3,000))
Recapitulation—Post War Credit or Refund
Apportioned to A----------	315.00
Apportioned to B----------	187.50
Apportioned to A and B jointly--	600.00
Total----------	1,102.50

(b) Status of Supplement T taxpayer. In the case of a taxpayer making his return and paying his tax under Supplement T, relating to the optional tax on

SEC. 455. RETURNS.

(a) Individual returns. Every individual spouse has more than $624 gross income shall not exceed the excess of 90 per centum of the net income of the taxpayer for the employee for his employer, including the cash value of all remuneration paid in any which a particular payment of wages is ment T, relating to the optional tax on individuals with gross income from certain sources of $3,000 or less, the status of such taxpayer shall be determined by the application of the following rules:

(1) His status both with respect to marital relationship and with respect to dependents is to be determined as of July 1 of each taxable year.

(2) If such taxpayer is not the head of a family and is not living with husband or wife or is unmarried as of July 1 of the taxable year, he shall be treated as a single person, even though in fact he may become the head of a family or be married during the taxable year subsequent to July 1.

If, for example, A and his wife, B, are not living together on July 1, 1943 and for the calender year 1943 they elect to pay the tax under Supplement T, they are considered as single persons for income and victory tax purposes and hence each must file a separate return. In such case, the limitation on the post war credit or refund is determined under section 454 (a) (1) and shall in each case be 25 percent of the victory tax or $500, whichever is the lesser. However, in the case of a husband and wife living together on July 1, 1943, they may elect to file either joint or separate returns under Supplement T. If they elect to file separate returns, the limitation provided in section 454 (a) (2) applicable generally in the case of husband and wife filing separate returns is here likewise applicable and hence the post war credit or refund (without regard to dependents) cannot, in the case of each spouse, exceed 40 percent of the victory tax or $500, whichever is the lesser. If such husband and wife elect to file a joint return, the limitation on the post war credit or refund provided in section 454 (a) (2) applicable generally in respect of husband and wife filing a joint return is here applicable and such credit (without regard to dependents) cannot exceed 40 percent of the victory tax or $1,000, whichever is the lesser.

Payments made by the husband to the wife of an amount which is includible in her gross income by reason of section 22 (k) and section 171 shall not be considered as payment by the husband for the support of any dependent.

§ 19.454-3 Period of limitation for making of post war credit or refund. The post war credit or refund provided in section 454, to the extent such credit or refund is not applied under section 453 as a credit against the victory tax, cannot be made after seven years from the date of cessation of hostilities in the present war (as that term is defined in section 475 (b)) unless claim for credit or refund thereof is filed with the collector of internal revenue before the expiration of such seven-year period. No interest is allowable upon such credits or refunds of the victory tax. For the manner of filing claims for refund or credit generally, see § 19.322-3.

SEC. 172. TEMPORARY INCOME TAX ON INDIVIDUALS. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title I.)

(a) The Internal Revenue Code is amended by inserting at the end of Chapter 1 the following new subchapter:

* * * * *

SEC. 455. RETURNS.

(a) Individual returns. Every individual having a gross income in excess of $624 for the taxable year, shall make, under regulations prescribed by the Commissioner with the approval of the Secretary, a return, which shall contain or be verified by a written declaration that it is made under the penalties of perjury, stating specifically the items of his gross income and the deductions and credits allowed under this subchapter.

(b) Fiduciary returns. Every fiduciary (except a receiver appointed by authority of law in possession of part only of the property of an individual) shall make, under regulations prescribed by the Commissioner with the approval of the Secretary, a return under oath, for any individual, estate, or trust for which he acts, if the gross income of such individual, estate, or trust is in excess of $624 for the taxable year, stating specifically the items of gross income and the deductions and credits allowed under this subchapter. The provisions of section 142 (b) shall be applicable with respect to any return required to be made under this subsection.

* * * * *

(g) Effective date. The provisions of this section shall take effect on January 1, 1943, and shall be applicable to all wages (as defined in Part II of Subchapter D) paid on or after such date.

§ 19.455-1 Returns—(a) Individuals. For taxable years beginning after December 31, 1942, there shall be made a victory tax return by each citizen of the United States whether residing within or without the United States, by every individual residing within the United States though not a citizen thereof, by every nonresident alien individual (other than a nonresident alien individual subject to the tax imposed by section 211 (a)), whether or not such citizen or resident or nonresident alien individual is the head of a family or has dependents, if such citizen, resident or alien has a gross income (computed without regard to the exclusion from gross income provided in section 451 (a)) for the taxable year in excess of $624. In the case of nonresident alien individuals, such gross income means only gross income from sources within the United States.

If a return is required for normal tax and surtax purposes or, in the alternative, for the purposes of the Supplement T tax, the return for victory tax purposes shall be made a part of such return. If, under the limitations contained in section 51 (a), the gross income of the taxpayer is insufficient to require a return for normal tax and surtax purposes, a return for victory tax purposes shall, nevertheless, be made in any case in which the gross income for the taxable year exceeds $624. If, for example, A has gross income for the taxable year of $850 and his wife, B, has gross income for the taxable year of $150, no return is required for normal tax and surtax purposes. However, since the gross income of A exceeds $624, a return is required for victory tax purposes. In such case A may file a separate return or A and his wife, B, may under the provisions of section 51 (b) elect to make a joint return. See § 19.51-1 (c). In the case of a married person living with husband or wife if each spouse has more than $624 gross income for the taxable year, each must make a return unless they elect to make a joint return. If one such spouse has more than $624 gross income for the taxable year and the other spouse has less than $624 gross income for the taxable year, the spouse having more than $624 gross income may file a separate return or the spouses may elect to make a joint return for the taxable year.

In the case of a husband and wife living tobether, the election to make a joint return authorized under the provisions of section 51 (b) must be exercised with respect to the tax imposed under chapter 1 considered as a whole and not with respect to the several parts of such tax considered separately. Hence, a husband and wife living together may not elect to make separate returns for the purpose of the tax imposed by sections 11 and 12 or Supplement T and a joint return for the purpose of the victory tax. Likewise, such husband and wife may not elect to make separate returns for the purpose of the victory tax and joint returns for the purpose of the other parts of the tax imposed by chapter 1.

The status of a taxpayer making his return and paying his tax under Supplement T is determined under the provisions of section 401. Under those provisions a married person not the head of a family and not living with husband or wife on July 1 of the taxable year is treated as a single person. Hence, if married persons not living together on July 1 of the taxable year elect to pay the tax under Supplement T, each spouse is required to make a separate return. If such husband and wife are married and living together on July 1 of the taxable year, they may make either joint or separate returns under Supplement T. As to the making of returns generally, see section 51 and § 19.51-1. As to exclusions from gross income and the deductions therefrom for the purposes of the victory tax, see section 451 and § 19.451-1. As to credits against the victory tax, see section 453 and § 19.453-1.

(b) Fiduciary. For taxable years beginning after December 31, 1942, every fiduciary and at least one of two or more joint fiduciaries must make a return for the purposes of the victory tax for any individual, estate, or trust for which he acts if the gross income (computed without regard to the exclusions from gross income provided in section 451 (a)) of such individual, estate, or trust is in excess of $624 for the taxable year. The return for victory tax purposes shall be made a part of the return of the estate or trust for normal tax and surtax purposes, if such return is required. The provisions of section 142 (a) and 142 (b) as well as section 455 (b) are applicable with respect to the return required for victory tax purposes. For form to be used in making the return under section 142 and section 455 (b), see § 19.142-1.

SEC. 172. TEMPORARY INCOME TAX ON INDIVIDUALS. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title I.)

(a) The Internal Revenue Code is amended by inserting at the end of Chapter 1 the following new subchapter:

* * * * *

SEC. 456. LIMITATION ON TAX.

The tax imposed by section 450 (victory tax), computed without regard to the credits provided in sections 453, 454, and 466 (e), shall not exceed the excess of 90 per centum of the net income of the taxpayer for the taxable year over the tax imposed by sections 11 (normal tax) and 12 (surtax), computed without regard to the credits provided in sections 31, 32, and 466 (e).

* * * * *

(g) Effective date. The provisions of this section shall take effect on January 1, 1943, and shall be applicable to all wages (as defined in Part II of Subchapter D) paid on or after such date.

§ 19.456-1 Limitation on the amount of the victory tax. The amount of the victory tax, computed before the application thereto of any credit for the post war credit or refund or for the portion of the victory tax withheld at the source, cannot exceed an amount representing the excess of 90 percent of the taxpayer's net income for the taxable year over the sum of the normal tax and the surtax imposed for such taxable years by sections 11 and 12, respectively, computed before the application against such normal tax and surtax of (a) the credit for foreign income tax, (b) the credit for tax withheld at the source under section 143, and (c) the credit for victory tax withheld at the source under section 466. The application of this limitation may be illustrated by the following example:

Example. A, a married person having no dependents, has, for the calendar year 1943, a gross income of $2,000,000 and deductions (not allowable in computing victory tax net income) for interest, taxes, and contributions amounting to $200,000. His earned net income is $20,000. His wife had no gross income. His normal tax and surtax liability is computed as follows:

Gross income	$2,000,000
Less: Deductions	200,000
Net income	1,800,000
Less: Personal exemption	1,200
Surtax net income	1,798,800
Less: Earned income credit (maximum)	1,400
Normal tax net income	1,797,400
Normal tax at 6% on $1,797,400	107,844
Surtax on $1,798,800	1,450,156
Total normal tax and surtax	1,558,000

The normal tax and surtax equal 86.56 percent of the net income. The 5 percent victory tax, if computed without any limitation on such tax, will amount to $99,968.80. Thus, the total normal tax, surtax, and victory tax would amount to $1,657,968.80 which would equal 92.11 percent of the net income. Therefore, the limitation will apply and the victory tax will be reduced to $62,000, making a total tax of $1,620,000, or 90 percent of the net income.

SEC. 172. TEMPORARY INCOME TAX ON INDIVIDUALS. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title I.)

(a) The Internal Revenue Code is amended by inserting at the end of Chapter 1 the following new subchapter:

* * * * *

PAR. II—Collection of Tax at Source on Wages.

SEC. 465. DEFINITIONS.

As used in this part—

(a) Pay-roll period. The term "pay-roll period" means a period for which a payment of wages is ordinarily made to the employee by his employer.

(b) Wages. The term "wages" means all remuneration (other than fees paid to a public official) for services performed by an employee for his employer, including the cash value of all remuneration paid in any medium other than cash; except that such term shall not include remuneration paid (1) for services performed as a member of the military or naval forces of the United States, other than pensions and retired pay, (2) for agricultural labor (as defined in section 1426 (h)), (3) for domestic service in a private home, local college club, or local chapter of a college fraternity or sorority, (4) for casual labor not in the course of the employer's trade or business, (5) for services as an employee of a nonresident alien individual, foreign partnership, or foreign corporation, if such individual, partnership, or corporation is not engaged in trade or business in the United States, (6) for services as an employee of a foreign government or any wholly owned instrumentality thereof, or (7) for services performed as an employee while outside the United States (as defined in section 3797 (a) (9)), unless the major part of the services performed during the calendar year by such employee for his employer are performed within the United States.

(c) Withholding agent. The term "withholding agent" means any person required to withhold, collect, and pay the tax under section 466.

(d) Employee. The term "employee" includes an officer, employee, or elected official of the United States, a State, Territory, or any political subdivision thereof, or the District of Columbia, or any agency or instrumentality of any one or more of the foregoing. The term "employee" also includes an officer of a corporation.

(e) Employer. The term "employer" includes any person for whom an individual performs any service, of whatever nature, as the employee of such person.

* * * * *

(g) Effective date. The provisions of this section shall take effect on January 1, 1943, and shall be applicable to all wages (as defined in Part II of Subchapter D) paid on or after such date.

§ 19.465-0 Introductory. Part II of Subchapter D of Chapter 1 provides for collection of tax at the source on wages. The regulations prescribed thereunder (§§ 19.465-0 to 19.476-1 inclusive) relate to the operation and effect of the provisions dealing with collection at the source and have no application in the determination of questions relating to the incidence or computation of the victory tax imposed under Part I of such Subchapter D. Hence, the fact that income of certain specified classes of individuals or income derived from certain specified sources is excluded from the definition of wages as used in Part II is not determinative of the question whether or not such income is subject to the victory tax. As to persons subject to the victory tax and the computation of victory tax net income, see §§ 19.451-1 and 19.451-2.

§ 19.465-1 Pay-roll period. The term "pay-roll period" means the period for which a payment of wages is ordinarily made to an employee by his employer. If the periods for which payments of wages are made to an employee by his employer are of uniform duration, each such period constitutes a pay-roll period. If, however, the periods occasionally vary in duration, the pay-roll period is the period for which a payment of wages is ordinarily made to the employee by his employer, even though that period does not coincide with the actual period for which a particular payment of wages is made. For example, if an employer ordinarily pays a particular employee for each calendar week at the end of the week, but the employee receives a payment in the middle of the week for the portion of the week already elapsed and receives the remainder at the end of the week, the pay-roll period is still the calendar week; or if, instead, that employee is sent on a trip by his employer and receives at the end of the week a single wage payment for three weeks' services, the pay-roll period is still the calendar week.

§ 19.465-2 Wages—(a) In general. The term "wages" means all remunerations for services performed by an employee for his employer unless specifically excepted under section 465 (b) or section 466 (g). (See §§ 19.465-3 and 19.466-6.)

The name by which the remuneration for services is designated is immaterial. Thus, salaries, fees, bonuses, commissions on sales or on insurance premiums, pensions and retired pay are wages within the meaning of the statute if paid as compensation for services performed by the employee for his employer.

The basis upon which the remuneration is paid is immaterial in determining whether the remuneration constitutes wages. Thus it may be paid on the basis of piece work, or a percentage of profits; and may be paid hourly, daily, weekly, monthly, or annually.

The medium in which the remuneration is paid is also immaterial. It may be paid in cash or in something other than cash, as, for example, stocks, bonds, or other forms of property. Remuneration paid in items other than cash shall be computed on the basis of the fair market value of such items at the time of payment.

Ordinarily, facilities or privileges (such as entertainment, medical services, or so-called "courtesy" discounts on purchases), furnished or offered by an employer to his employees generally, are not considered as remuneration for services if such facilities or privileges are of relatively small value and are offered or furnished by the employer merely as a means of promoting the health, good will, contentment or efficiency of his employees.

Tips or gratuities paid directly to an employee by a customer of an employer, and not accounted for by the employee to the employer, are not subject to withholding.

Remuneration for services, unless such remuneration is specifically excepted by the statute, constitutes wages even though at the time paid the relationship of employer and employee no longer exists between the person in whose employ the services were performed and the individual who performed them.

Example. A is employed by B during the month of January 1943 and is entitled to receive remuneration of $100 for the services performed for B, the employer, during the month. A leaves the employ of B at the close of business on January 31, 1943. On February 15, 1943 (when A is no longer an employee of B), B pays A a remuneration of $100 which was earned for the services performed in January. The $100 is wages within the meaning of the statute.

(b) Pensions and retired pay. Pensions and retired pay are wages within the meaning of the statute. However, amounts receivable by an employee upon retirement which are taxed as annuities under the provisions of section 22 (b) (2) and distributions under an employees' trust taxable, because of the provisions of section 165 (b), as gain from the sale or exchange of a capital asset do not constitute wages subject to withholding. So-called pensions awarded by one to whom no services have been rendered are mere gifts or gratuities and do not constitute wages.

(c) Traveling and other expenses. Amounts paid or reimbursements made to employees specifically for traveling or other expenses incurred in the business of the employer are not subject to withholding.

(d) Vacation allowances. Amounts of so-called "vacation allowances" paid to an employee constitute wages. Thus, the salary of an employee on vacation, paid notwithstanding his absence from work, constitutes wages.

(e) Dismissal payments. Any payments made by an employer to an employee on account of dismissal, that is, involuntary separation from the service of the employer, constitute wages regardless of whether the employer is legally bound by contract, statute, or otherwise, to make such payments.

(f) Deductions by employer from wages of employee. The amount of any tax which is required by law to be deducted by the employer from the wages of an employee is considered to be a part of the employee's wages and is deemed to be paid to the employee as wages at the time the deduction is made. Other amounts deducted from the wages of an employee by an employer also constitute wages paid to the employee at the time of the deduction. It is immaterial that the Internal Revenue Code, or any Act of Congress, or the law of any State, requires or permits such deductions and the payment of the amounts thereof to the United States, a State, a Territory, or the District of Columbia, or any political subdivision of any one or more of the foregoing.

(g) Payment by an employer of employee's tax, or employee's contributions under a State law. The term "wages" includes the amount of any payment made by an employer on behalf of an employee (without deduction from the remuneration of, or other reimbursements from, the employee) of any payment required from an employee under a State unemployment compensation law, or of any tax imposed upon the employee by any taxing authority, including the taxes imposed by sections 1400 and 1500.

§ 19.465–3 Exclusions from wages.—(a) Fees paid to a public official. Authorized fees paid to public officials, such as notaries public, clerks of courts, sheriffs, etc., for services rendered in the performance of their official duties are excepted from the definition of the term "wages" and hence are not subject to withholding. However, salaries paid such officials by the Government, or government agency or instrumentality are subject to withholding.

(b) Compensation of military and naval forces. Remuneration paid for services performed as a member of the military or naval forces of the United States is excepted from the definition of the term "wages". For the purpose of the exception, the military and naval forces of the United States include (but are not necessarily limited to) the Army, the Navy, the Marine Corps, the Coast Guard, the Army Nurse Corps, female, the Navy Nurse Corps, female, the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps, the Women's Reserve Branch of the Naval Reserve (the "WAVES"), the Women's Reserve Branch of the Coast Guard Reserve (the "SPARS"), and the Marine Corps Women's Reserve.

(c) Remuneration paid for agricultural labor—(1) In general. The term "wages" does not include remuneration for services which constitute agricultural labor as defined in section 1426 (h). The term "agricultural labor" as so defined includes services of a character described in subparagraphs (2), (3), (4) and (5) of this subsection.

In general, however, the term "agricultural labor" does not include services performed in connection with forestry, lumbering, or landscaping.

(2) Services described in section 1426 (h) (1). Remuneration paid for services performed on a farm by an employee of any person in connection with any of the following activities is excepted as remuneration for agricultural labor:

(i) The cultivation of the soil;

(ii) The raising, shearing, feeding, caring for, training, or management of livestock, bees, poultry, fur-bearing animals, or wildlife; or

(iii) The raising or harvesting of any other agricultural or horticultural commodity.

The term "farm" as used in this and succeeding paragraphs of this section includes stock, dairy, poultry, fruit, fur-bearing animal, and truck farms, plantations, ranches, nurseries, ranges, orchards, and such greenhouses and other similar structures as are used primarily for the raising of agricultural or horticultural commodities. Greenhouses and other similar structures used primarily for other purposes (for example, display, storage, and fabrication of wreaths, corsages, and bouquets), do not constitute "farms".

(3) Services described in section 1426 (h) (2). The remuneration paid for the following services performed by an employee in the employ of the owner or tenant or other operator of one or more farms is excepted as remuneration for agricultural labor, provided the major part of such services is performed on a farm:

(i) Services performed in connection with the operation, management, conservation, improvement, or maintenance of any of such farms or its tools or equipment; or

(ii) Services performed in salvaging timber, or clearing land of brush and other debris, left by a hurricane.

The services described in (i) above may include, for example, services performed by carpenters, painters, mechanics, farm supervisors, irrigation engineers, bookkeepers, and other skilled or semi-skilled workers, which contribute in any way to the conduct of the farm or farms, as such, operated by the person employing them, as distinguished from any other enterprise in which such person may be engaged.

Since the services described in this paragraph must be performed in the employ of the owner or tenant or other operator of the farm, the exception does not extend to remuneration paid for services performed by employees of a commercial painting concern, for example, which contracts with a farmer to renovate his farm properties.

(4) Services described in section 1426 (h) (3). Remuneration paid for services performed by an employee in the employ of any person in connection with any of the following operations is excepted as remuneration for agricultural labor without regard to the place where such services are performed:

(i) The ginning of cotton;

(ii) The hatching of poultry;

(iii) The raising or harvesting of mushrooms;

(iv) The operation or maintenance of ditches, canals, reservoirs, or waterways used exclusively for supplying or storing water for farming purposes;

(v) The production or harvesting of maple sap or the processing of maple sap into maple sirup or maple sugar (but not the subsequent blending or other processing of such sirup or sugar with other products); or

(vi) The production or harvesting of crude gum (oleoresin) from a living tree or the processing of such crude gum into gum spirits of turpentine and gum rosin, provided such processing is carried on by the original producer of such crude gum.

(5) Services described in section 1426 (h) (4). (i) Remuneration paid for services performed by an employee in the employ of a farmer or a farmers' cooperative organization or group in the handling, planting, drying, packing, packaging, processing, freezing, grading, storing, or delivering to storage or to market or to a carrier for transportation to market, of any agricultural or horticultural commodity, other than fruits and vegetables (see subdivision (ii) below), produced by such farmer or farmer-members of such organization or group of farmers is excepted, provided such services are performed as an incident to ordinary farming operations.

Generally services are performed "as an incident to ordinary farming operations" within the meaning of this paragraph if they are services of the character ordinarily performed by the employees of a farmer or of a farmers' cooperative organization or group as a prerequisite to the marketing, in its unmanufactured state, of any agricultural or horticultural commodity produced by such farmer or by the members of such farmers' organization or group. Services performed by employees of such farmer or farmers' organization or group in the handling, planting, drying, packing, packaging, processing, freezing, grading, storing, or delivering to storage or to market or to a carrier for transportation to market, of commodities produced by persons other than such farmer or members of such farmers' organization or group are not performed "as an incident to ordinary farming operations."

(ii) Remuneration paid for services performed by an employee in the employ of any person in the handling, planting, drying, packing, packaging, processing, freezing, grading, storing, or delivering to storage or to market or to a carrier for transportation to market, of fruits and vegetables, whether or not of a perishable nature, is excepted as remuneration for agricultural labor, provided such services are performed as an incident to the preparation of such fruits and vegetables for market. For example, if services in the sorting, grading, or storing of fruits, or in the cleaning of beans, are performed as an incident to their preparation for market, remuneration paid for such services may be excepted whether the services are performed in the employ of a farmer, a farmers' cooperative, or a commercial handler of such commodities.

(iii) The services described in subdivisions (i) and (ii), above, do not include services performed in connection with commercial canning or commercial freezing, or in connection with any commodity after its delivery to a terminal market for distribution for consumption. Moreover, since the services described in such subdivisions must be rendered in the actual handling, planting, drying, packing, packaging, processing, freezing, grading, storing, or delivering to storage or to market or to a carrier for transportation to market, of the commodity, such services do not, for example, include services performed as stenographers, bookkeepers, clerks, and other office employees, even though such services may be in connection with such activities. However, to the extent that the services of such individuals are performed in the employ of the owner or tenant or other operator of a farm and are rendered in major part on a farm, they may be within the provisions of subparagraph (3) of this section.

(d) Remuneration paid for domestic service. Remuneration paid for services of a household nature performed by an employee in or about the private home of the person by whom he is employed, or performed in or about the club rooms or house of a local college club or local chapter of a college fraternity or sorority by which he is employed, is excepted from the term "wages".

A private home is the fixed place of abode of an individual or family.

A local college club or local chapter of a college fraternity or sorority does not include an alumni club or chapter.

If the home is utilized primarily for the purpose of supplying board or lodging to the public as a business enterprise, it ceases to be a private home and the remuneration paid for services performed therein is not excepted. Likewise, if the club rooms or house of a local college club or local chapter of a college fraternity or sorority is used primarily for such purpose, the remuneration paid for services performed therein is not within the exception.

In general, services of a household nature in or about a private home include services rendered by cooks, maids, butlers, valets, laundresses, furnacemen, gardeners, footmen, grooms, and chauffeurs of automobiles for family use. In general, services of a household nature in or about the club rooms or house of a local college club or local chapter of a college fraternity or sorority include services rendered by cooks, maids, butlers, laundresses, furnacemen, waiters, and housemothers.

The remuneration paid for the services above enumerated is not within the exception if performed in or about rooming or lodging houses, boarding houses, clubs (except local college clubs), hotels, hospitals, eleemosynary institutions, or commercial offices or establishments.

Remuneration paid for services performed as a private secretary, even though performed in the employer's home, is not within the exception.

(e) Remuneration for casual labor not in the course of employer's trade or business. The term "casual labor" includes labor which is occasional, incidental, or irregular.

The expression "not in the course of the employer's trade or business" includes labor that does not promote or advance the trade or business of the employer.

Thus remuneration paid for labor which is occasional, incidental, or irregular, and does not promote or advance the employer's trade or business is excepted.

Example. A's business is that of operating a sawmill. He employs B, a carpenter, at an hourly wage to repair his home. B works irregularly and spends the greater part of two days in completing the work. Since B's labor is casual and is not in the course of A's trade or business, the remuneration paid for such services is excepted.

The remuneration paid for casual labor, that is, labor which is occasional, incidental, or irregular, but which is in the course of the employer's trade or business, does not come within the above exception.

Example (1). C's business is that of operating a sawmill. He employs D for two hours, at an hourly wage, to remove sawdust from his mill. D's labor is casual since it is occasional, incidental, or irregular, but it is in the course of C's trade or business and the remuneration paid for such labor is not excepted.

Example (2). E is engaged in the business of operating a department store. He employs additional clerks for short periods. While the services of the clerks may be casual, they are in the course of the employer's trade or business and, therefore, the remuneration paid for such services is not excepted.

Remuneration paid for casual labor performed for a corporation does not come within this exception.

(f) Compensation paid by nonresident alien individual, foreign partnership, or foreign corporation. Remuneration paid for services performed as an employee of a nonresident alien individual, foreign partnership, or foreign corporation, if such individual, partnership, or corporation is not engaged in trade or business in the United States, is excepted. The exception has no application if the employer paying such remuneration is engaged in trade or business in the United States. Whether or not a nonresident alien individual, foreign partnership, or foreign corporation is engaged in trade or business within the United States depends upon the particular facts of each case and will be determined in accordance with the rules applicable under sections 211, 219 and 23[1] for income tax purposes generally.

For purposes of this exception, the citizenship or residence of the employee or the place where the services are performed is immaterial.

(g) Compensation paid by foreign government or wholly-owned instrumentality thereof. Remuneration paid for services performed as an employee of a foreign government or wholly-owned instrumentality thereof is excepted. The exception includes not only remuneration paid for services performed by ambassadors, ministers, and other diplomatic officers and employees but also remuneration paid for services performed as a consular or other officer or employee of a foreign government, or as diplomatic representative of such a government.

The citizenship or residence of the employee and the place where the services are performed are immaterial for purposes of the exception.

(h) Remuneration for services performed outside the United States. The remuneration paid by an employer for services performed outside the United States does not constitute wages and hence is not subject to withholding unless the major part of the services performed by the employee for such employer during the calendar year is performed within the United States. The term "United States" includes the several States, the Territories of Alaska and Hawaii, and the District of Columbia.

The exception relates only to the remuneration paid for the services performed outside the United States regardless of whether the major part of the services performed for such employer during the calendar year is performed within or without the United States. Thus, if an employee performs services outside the United States for more than six months of the calendar year, the remuneration paid for such services does not constitute wages and hence is not subject to withholding, but the remuneration paid for services performed within the United States for such employer during the remainder of the calendar year constitutes wages and is subject to withholding.

If, however, an employee is absent from the United States on business of his employer for less than six months of the calendar year and performs services for such employer within the United States during the remainder of the calendar year, the entire amount of the remuneration paid for services performed during the calendar year constitutes wages and is subject to withholding.

However, it is recognized that in the case of an employee performing, outside

Withholding

§ 19.466–1 Requirement of withhold-

the United States, services of indefinite duration, it may be impossible for the employer to determine whether the major portion of the employee's services during the calendar year will be performed within the United States or outside the United States. In such case it may be presumed that such performance will continue throughout the calendar year and the liability of the employer to withhold tax on the compensation paid for such services performed outside the United States will be determined in the light of such presumption. Thus, if an employee undertakes for his employer the performance of services abroad of indefinite duration, or for a term extending beyond the end of the calendar year, and such employee has not already, within the calendar year, performed services within the United States for a length of time which would constitute, in any circumstances, the major part of the year's services for such employer, no tax is required to be withheld on the compensation paid for services performed by such employee outside the United States.

Example (1). A has been regularly employed by B, and is sent abroad under such conditions that it is not possible to know when he will return: (a) If A goes abroad on January 1, no tax is required to be withheld on compensation paid to A for services performed abroad, but on the compensation paid for services performed after his return to the United States tax should be withheld; (b) If A goes abroad on June 29, the same rules are applicable. No tax is required to be withheld on the compensation for services performed abroad but on compensation for services performed after his return to the United States tax should be withheld; (c) If A goes abroad on August 1, tax should be withheld on the compensation paid A for all services performed during the calendar year since under no circumstances could the major part of the services performed during such year be performed outside the United States.

Example (2). A begins his employment with B on July 1, and on September 1 is sent abroad under the circumstances described in Example (1). No tax is required to be withheld on the compensation paid A for the services performed abroad.

Example (3). A begins his employment with B on July 1, and on November 1 is sent abroad under the circumstances described in Example (1). Tax is required to be withheld on the compensation paid A for the services performed abroad, as well as on compensation paid for services performed within the United States, for the reasons set forth in Example (1) (c).

The presumption that employees performing services of indefinite duration outside the United States will continue to perform such services throughout the calendar year does not apply in the case of employees sent abroad during the year on business missions of limited duration when there is reasonable expectation that the employee can and will return at such time that the major portion of his services for the employer for that calendar year will be performed within the United States.

§ 19.465–4 Withholding agent. Any person required to withhold, collect, and pay the tax imposed by section 466 is a withholding agent. Under section 467 (a), the tax required to be withheld shall be collected by the person having control of the payment of wages. In the case of private employers, the employer is the withholding agent. In situations where neither the wage payment nor the funds from which payment is made is subject to the control of the employer, the person having such control is the withholding agent. For example, where wages such as pensions or retired pay are paid through the medium of a trust over which the employer has no control, the trustee is the withholding agent. With respect to public employees, the withholding agent is by presumption the head officer of particular offices approving and scheduling pay-rolls for payment, or, where some other form of administrative procedure for the payment of wages is in effect, the officer exercising control through such procedure.

§ 19.465–5 Employee. The term "employee" includes every individual performing services if the relationship between him and the person for whom he performs such services is the legal relationship of employer and employee. The term specifically includes officers and employees, whether elected or appointed, of the United States, a State, Territory, or any political subdivision thereof, or the District of Columbia, or any agency or instrumentality of any one or more of the foregoing.

Generally the relationship of employer and employee exists when the person for whom services are performed has the right to control and direct the individual who performs the services, not only as to the result to be accomplished by the work but also as to the details and means by which that result is accomplished. That is, an employee is subject to the will and control of the employer not only as to what shall be done but how it shall be done. In this connection, it is not necessary that the employer actually direct or control the manner in which the services are performed; it is sufficient if he has the right to do so. The right to discharge is also an important factor indicating that the person possessing that right is an employer. Other factors characteristic of an employer, but not necessarily present in every case, are the furnishing of tools and the furnishing of a place to work, to the individual who performs the services. In general, if an individual is subject to the control or direction of another merely as to the result to be accomplished by the work and not as to the means and methods for accomplishing the result, he is an independent contractor. An individual performing services as an independent contractor is not as to such services an employee.

Generally, physicians, lawyers, dentists, veterinarians, contractors, subcontractors, public stenographers, auctioneers, and others who follow an independent trade, business, or profession, in which they offer their services to the public, are independent contractors and not employees.

Whether the relationship of employer and employee exists will in doubtful cases be determined upon an examination of the particular facts of each case.

If the relationship of employer and employee exists, the designation or description of the relationship by the parties as anything other than that of employer and employee is immaterial. Thus, if such relationship exists, it is of no consequence that the employee is designated as a partner, coadventurer, agent, or independent contractor.

The measurement, method, or designation of compensation is also immaterial, if the relationship of employer and employee in fact exists.

No distinction is made between classes or grades of employees. Thus, superintendents, managers, and other superior employees are employees. An officer of a corporation is an employee of the corporation but a director as such is not. A director may be an employee of the corporation, however, if he performs services for the corporation other than those required by attendance at and participation in meetings of the board of directors.

Although an individual may be an employee under the statute, his services may be of such a nature, or performed under such circumstances, that the remuneration paid for such services does not constitute wages within the meaning of section 465 (b). (See § 19.465–3)

§ 19.465–6. Employer. The term "employer" includes any person for whom an individual performs any service, of whatever nature, as the employee of such person. An employer may be an individual, a corporation, a partnership, a trust, an estate, a joint-stock company, an association, or a syndicate, group, pool, joint venture, or other unincorporated organization, group, or entity. A trust or estate, rather than the fiduciary acting for or on behalf of the trust or estate, is generally the employer.

The term "employer" embraces not only individuals and organizations engaged in trade or business, but organizations exempt from income tax, such as religious and charitable organizations, educational institutions, clubs, social organizations and societies, as well as the governments of the United States, the States, Territories, and the District of Columbia, including their agencies, instrumentalities and political subdivisions.

Although a person may be an employer under the statute, services performed in his employ may be of such a nature, or performed under such circumstances, that the remuneration paid for such services does not constitute wages within the meaning of section 465 (b). (See § 19.465–3)

SEC. 172 TEMPORARY INCOME TAX ON INDIVIDUALS. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title I)

(a) The Internal Revenue Code is amended by inserting at the end of Chapter 1 the following new subchapter:

* * * * *

SEC. 466. TAX COLLECTED AT SOURCE.

(a) Requirement of withholding. There shall be withheld, collected, and paid upon all wages of every person, to the extent that such wages are includible in gross income, a tax equal to 5 per centum of the excess of each payment of such wages over the withholding deduction allowable under this part. This subsection and subsection (d) shall not be applicable in any case provided for in section 143, except in the case of wages paid to residents of a contiguous country who enter and leave the United States at frequent intervals.

(b) Withholding deduction. (1) In computing the tax required to be withheld under subsection (a), there shall be allowed as a deduction against the wages paid for each pay-roll period an amount determined in accordance with the following schedule:

	Withholding deduction
Weekly	$12
Biweekly	24
Semimonthly	26
Monthly	52
Quarterly	156
Semiannually	312
Annually	624

(2) If a pay-roll period in respect of any wages is less than one week, the excess of the aggregate of the wages paid during each calendar week over the deduction allowed by this subsection for a weekly pay-roll period shall be used in computing the tax required to be withheld.

(3) If a pay-roll period in respect of any wages, or any other period with respect to which wages are paid, is not otherwise specifically provided for in this subsection, the deduction allowable against each payment of such wages shall be the deduction allowable in the case of an annual pay-roll period divided by 365 and multiplied by the number of days in such period, including Sundays and holidays.

(4) In any case in which wages are paid by an employer without regard to any pay-roll period or other period, the deduction allowable against each payment of such wages shall be the deduction allowable in the case of an annual pay-roll period divided by 365 and multiplied by the number of days (including Sundays and holidays) which have elapsed since the date of the last payment of such wages by such employer during the calendar year, or the date of commencement of employment with such employer during such year, or January 1 of such year, whichever is the later.

(5) The deduction allowable under this subsection in respect of any individual for any calendar year shall not exceed the total deduction which would have been allowable under paragraph (1) if the only pay-roll period of such individual had been an annual pay-roll period.

(c) Wage bracket withholding. (1) At the election of the employer, if his pay-roll period with respect to an employee is weekly, biweekly, semimonthly, or monthly, there shall be withheld, collected, and paid upon the wages of such employee a tax determined in accordance with the following tables, which shall be in lieu of the tax required to be withheld under subsection (a):

(d) Tax paid by recipient. If any tax required under this part to be withheld and collected is paid by the recipient of the income, it shall not be re-collected from the withholding agent; but such payment shall in no case relieve the withholding agent from liability for interest or additions to the tax otherwise applicable in respect of the tax imposed by this chapter.

(e) Credit for tax withheld at source. The tax withheld and collected under this part shall not be allowed as a deduction either to the withholding agent or to the recipient of the income in computing net income; but the amount of the tax so withheld and collected shall be allowed as a credit against the tax imposed by this chapter upon the recipient of the income. Such credit shall be allowed first against the victory tax imposed by sections 450 (adjusted for the credit allowed by section 453) and the excess of such credit, if any, over the victory tax, so adjusted, shall be allowed against the tax imposed by sections 11 and 12 or section 400, as the case may be.

(f) Refunds. Where there has been an overpayment of tax under this part, any refund or credit made under the provisions of section 322 shall be made to the recipient of the income; but, in any case in which such tax was not so withheld by the withholding agent, such refund or credit shall be made to the withholding agent.

(g) Included and excluded wages. If the remuneration paid by an employer to an employee for services performed during one-half or more of any pay-roll period constitutes wages, all the remuneration paid by such employer to such employee for such period shall be deemed to be wages; but if the remuneration paid by an employer to an employee for services performed during more than one-half of any such pay-roll period does not constitute wages, then none of the remuneration paid by such employer to such employee for such period shall be deemed to be wages.

* * * * *

(g) Effective date. The provisions of this section shall take effect on January 1, 1943, and shall be applicable to all wages (as defined in Part II of Subchapter D) paid on or after such date.

§ 19.466–1 Requirement of withholding—(a) In general. Subject to certain prescribed conditions, section 466 provides, at the election of the employer, alternative methods for computing the tax with respect to wages includible in gross income: (1) A tax equal to 5 percent of the excess of each payment of such wages over the withholding deduction (hereinafter referred to as withholding exemption) allowable under paragraph (b), or subparagraph (2) a tax determined in accordance with the tables provided in paragraph (c). (See § 19.466 (c)). The tax is applicable to all wages actually or constructively paid on or after January 1, 1943 regardless of the period for which paid or the method of accounting followed by the employee in computing his income for tax purposes, and is collected by deducting the amount thereof from such wages as and when so paid.

Example (1). Employer X has a semimonthly pay-roll period ending on the 10th and 25th days of the month. The wages earned during such periods are customarily paid on the 15th and 30th days of the month, respectively. The wages earned during the semimonthly period ending on January 10, 1943 and paid on January 15, 1943 are subject to withholding when paid.

Example (2). Employer Y has a weekly pay-roll period based on the calendar week and the wages earned during each calendar week are customarily paid on Wednesday of the succeeding week. The wages earned during the week ending January 2, 1943 and paid on Wednesday, January 6, 1943, are subject to withholding when paid.

Wages are constructively paid within the meaning of this section when they are credited to the account of or set apart for an employee so that they may be drawn upon by him at any time although not then actually reduced to possession. To constitute payment in such a case, the wages must be credited or set apart to the employee without any substantial limitation or restriction as to the time or manner of payment or condition upon which payment is to be made, and must be made available to him so that they may be drawn upon at any time, and their payment brought within his control and disposition.

(b) Wages includible in gross income. Under the provisions of section 466, wages are subject to withholding only if and to the extent includible in gross income. The term "includible in gross income" as it relates to wages from which the tax is required to be deducted and withheld refers only to the taxability of the income. Thus, if an item of wages constitutes gross income under the provisions of section 22, it is includible in gross income within the meaning of this section and is subject to withholding. The fact that such wages may be includible in gross income for a taxable year other than that in which paid is immaterial. For instance, in the case of a taxpayer on the accrual basis, wages actually or constructively paid in 1944 but includible in the recipient's gross income for 1943 are subject to withholding in 1944. Likewise, the fact that wages may be includible in the gross income of a taxpayer other than the wage earner is immaterial. For instance, a part of the wages earned by a taxpayer domiciled in a community property

State may be includible for tax purposes in the gross income of his spouse. Nevertheless, the entire amount paid to the wage earner should be taken into account porary or extra employees, if wages are paid at intervals of less than one week, the withholding exemption with respect to wages paid during any calendar week at a specified rate plus additional wages in the form of bonuses or commissions, the aggregate of the wages paid for each such period shall be considered as a amount of the tax to be withheld in the case of any one or more of his employees provided only that such employees are paid on a weekly, biweekly, semimonthly, or monthly basis. For example, an em-regular pay-roll period. For example, an employee is paid a weekly salary of $65 plus a bonus determined at the end of each three-month period. For a particular three-month period, the employee entire amount of the wages from which the tax is withheld shall be included in gross income in the return required to be made by the recipient of the income without deductions for such tax. The State may be includible for tax purposes in the gross income of his spouse. Nevertheless, the entire amount paid to the wage earner should be taken into account in computing the amount of the tax to be withheld at source.

(c) Nonresident aliens. Nonresident aliens individuals are not subject to withholding under the victory tax provisions, except that such nonresident aliens who are residents of Canada or Mexico and who enter and leave the United States at frequent intervals are subject to the victory tax withholding provisions upon wages paid for services performed within the United States.

§ 19.466–2 Withholding exemption—(a) In general. In computing the amount of the tax to be withheld from wage payments, a withholding exemption is allowable against the wages paid by each employer for each pay-roll period based upon an annual exemption of $624 prorated in accordance with the length of the particular pay-roll period. Under the schedule provided in section 466 (b) (1), the amount of the exemption is as follows:

Pay-roll period:	Withholding exemption
Weekly	$12.00
Biweekly	24.00
Semimonthly	26.00
Monthly	52.00
Quarterly	156.00
Semiannually	312.00
Annually	624.00

The amount of the exemption in respect of the wages paid a particular employee is determined by reference to such employee's pay-roll period and without regard to the time the employee is actually engaged in the performance of services during such period.

Example (1). Employer X has a semimonthly pay-roll period. An employee whose wages are determined on an hourly rate basis works 20 hours and earns $24 during the pay-roll period. The amount of the withholding exemption allowable in respect of such wages is $26.

Example (2). Employer Y has a weekly pay-roll period. An employee paid at the rate of $10 per day worked two days and resigned. The amount of the withholding exemption allowable in respect of the wages paid such employee for the weekly period is $12.00.

(b) Pay-roll period less than one week. If the pay-roll period is less than one week, as in the case where employees are paid daily, the amount of tax withheld will be based upon the excess of the aggregate of the wages paid during the period of a calendar week over the exemption which would be allowed for a weekly pay-roll period. For instance, if an employee is paid daily at the rate of $5 per day, no tax shall be withheld with respect to the wages paid for the first two days of employment in the week. The wages paid for the third day will be subject to withholding on $3, the excess of the total wages for three days ($15) over the weekly exemption ($12). Subsequent wage payments during the same calendar week would be subject to withholding at the rate of 5 percent on the entire amount of each payment. During the following and subsequent weeks, the same procedure would apply. In the case of temporary or extra employees, if wages are paid at intervals of less than one week, the withholding exemption with respect to wages paid during any calendar week may be computed in accordance with the provisions of this subsection. As used herein, the term "calendar week" means a period of seven consecutive days beginning with Sunday and ending with Saturday.

(c) Other pay-roll periods. If the pay-roll period is greater than one week, and is a period not covered by the schedule set forth in section 466 (b), or if wages are paid for a period of more than one week which does not constitute a pay-roll period, the withholding exemption allowable with respect to each such payment of wages is determined by dividing the annual withholding exemption of $624 by 365 ($1.71) and multiplying by the number of days in the period, including Sundays and holidays. Thus, the withholding exemption allowable for a pay-roll period of 10 days is $17.10.

(d) Wages paid without regard to any period. In the case of wages paid without regard to any particular period, as, for instance, commissions paid to a salesman upon completion of a sale, the withholding exemption is measured by the number of days elapsed since the date of the last payment of wages to such employee by such employer during the calendar year, or the date on which employment with such employer began during the calendar year, or January 1 of such calendar year, whichever is the later.

Example. On April 1, 1943, A, an individual, was employed by the X Real Estate Company to sell real estate on a commission basis, commissions to be paid only upon consummation of sales. On May 20, 1943, A received a commission of $300. Again on June 15, 1943, A received a commission of $400. The amount of the withholding exemption allowable in respect of the commission paid on May 20 is ($1.71 x 50) $85.50; and the withholding exemption allowable with respect to the commission paid on June 15 is ($1.71 x 26) $44.46.

(e) Maximum withholding exemption. Under section 466 (b) (5) the total withholding exemption allowable to any individual with respect to wages received from any one employer during a calendar year shall not exceed the amount which would have been allowable if such individual had an annual pay-roll period. Thus, the maximum amount of the exemption allowable with respect to wages paid to an employee by any one employer during a calendar year is $624.

If the amount of the exemption allowable with respect to wages paid for any period of one week or more exceeds the amount of wages paid with respect to such period, the unused portion of the exemption allowable with respect to such period may not be carried over to a subsequent period. Thus, if an employee's wages for a semimonthly pay-roll period are less than $26, the difference between such wages and the $26 exemption allowable with respect to such pay-roll period may not be carried forward to the subsequent pay-roll period.

(f) Bonuses and commissions. If an employee's remuneration for each pay-roll period consists of wages computed at a specified rate plus additional wages in the form of bonuses or commissions, the aggregate of the wages paid for each such period shall be considered as a single wage payment and only one withholding exemption shall be allowed with respect to such wages.

Example (1). A is employed as a salesman at a monthly salary of $100 plus commissions on sales made during the month. A withholding exemption of $52 is allowable against the aggregate wages, consisting of salary and commissions, considered as a single wage payment.

Example (2). B is employed as a mechanic at a specified rate per hour plus a bonus on production in excess of a fixed standard. Under the employer's pay-roll practice, wages are paid weekly and each wage payment consists of the wages for the current week computed at the regular rate plus the production bonuses earned during the preceding week. A withholding exemption of $12 is allowable against each such wage payment.

If an employee's compensation consists of wages paid with respect to a particular pay-roll period and in addition thereto bonuses or commissions paid with respect to a different period or without regard to any particular period, the amount of the withholding exemption allowable with respect to such wage payments shall, at the option of the employer, be determined in accordance with either of the following methods:

(1) The amount of the withholding exemption allowable with respect to the regular wage payment and the amount allowable with respect to the bonuses or commissions may be determined independently under the rules applicable to each. Thus, if a person receives a weekly salary for a 26-week period and at the end of such period receives a bonus paid with respect to the 6-month period, a withholding exemption of $12 is allowable in respect of each weekly wage payment, or an aggregate of $312 for the 26-week period, and a withholding exemption of $312 is allowable with respect to the bonus paid for the 6-month period. Since the aggregate of the withholding exemptions allowable with respect to the weekly wage and the bonus equals the maximum allowance of $624 for the calendar year in the case of such individual, no withholding exemption is allowable with respect to any further wages paid to such employee by the same employer during the calendar year; or

(2) The withholding exemption may be determined as if the aggregate of the additional wages and the regular wages constituted a single wage payment for the regular pay-roll period. For example, an employee is paid a monthly salary of $50 plus a bonus and commissions determined at the end of each 3-month period. The bonus and commission for a particular 3-month period amount to $375 which together with his regular monthly salary of $50 make a total of $425. The amount of the withholding exemption allowable with respect to the aggregate wages of $425 is $52.

§ 19.466–3 Wage bracket withholding. The use of the tables provided in section 466 (c) is optional with the employer. An employer may elect to use the wage bracket tables for determining the amount of the tax to be withheld in the case of any one or more of his employees provided only that such employees are paid on a weekly, biweekly, semimonthly, or monthly basis. For example, an employer may elect to use the optional method in case of one group of employees on a particular pay roll and at the same time may use the exact 5 percent method provided in section 466 (a) in the case of another group of employees on a different pay roll.

In order to determine the amount of the tax to be withheld with respect to any wage payment, the employer merely refers to the table applicable to the particular pay-roll period. For example, an employee's earnings for a weekly pay-roll period, it will be found that the $35 to the table applicable to a weekly pay-roll period, it will be found that the $35 wage payment falls within the wage bracket from $32 to $36 and the amount of the tax to be withheld shown opposite such bracket is $1.10.

If an employer elects in the case of any employee to determine the tax under the wage bracket tables and such employee is paid in addition to his regular wages extra compensation in the form of bonuses, commissions, etc., no withholding exemption under section 466 (b) is allowable for the purpose of computing the amount of the tax to be withheld upon such additional compensation. In any such case, the amount of the tax to be withheld shall be determined in accordance with the following rules:

(a) If the employee's compensation for each pay-roll period consists of the regular wages plus such additional wages, the aggregate of the wages paid for each pay-roll period shall be considered as a single wage payment for the purpose of determining the appropriate wage bracket and the amount of the tax to be withheld under the table. For example, a salesman employed at a monthly salary of $100 plus commissions on sales made during each month received for a particular month, in addition to his regular salary, commissions amounting to $160. By reference to the table applicable to a monthly pay-roll period, it will be found that the $260 wage payment falls within the wage bracket from $240 to $280 and the amount of the tax to be withheld shown opposite such bracket is $10.40.

(b) If the employee's compensation consists of wages paid with respect to a particular pay-roll period and additional wages in the form of bonuses, commissions, etc., paid with respect to a different period or without regard to any particular period, the amount of the tax to be withheld may, at the option of the employer, be determined by either of the following methods: (1) The amount of the tax to be withheld on the regular wages shall be determined under the appropriate wage table, and the amount of the tax to be withheld on the additional wages shall be 5 percent of each such wage payment, or (2) the aggregate of the additional wages and the regular wages shall be considered as a single wage payment and the amount of the tax to be withheld shall be determined under the table applicable to the regular pay-roll period. For example, an employee is paid a weekly salary of $65 plus a bonus determined at the end of each three-month period. For a particular three-month period, the employee is paid a bonus of $115. Under the method provided in (1), the amount of the tax to be withheld on the weekly wages as shown on the table provided for a weekly pay-roll period is $2.60, and the amount of the tax to be withheld on the bonus is 5 percent of $115, or $5.75. Under the method provided in (2), the amount of the tax to be withheld on the aggregate wage payment of $180 under the table applicable to a weekly pay-roll period is $8.10.

If, in the case of an employee, the wage bracket tables for determining the amount of the tax to be withheld are used for only a portion of the calendar year, and the exact 5 percent method is used for the balance of the calendar year, the maximum withholding exemption allowable with respect to the wages paid by such employer to such employee during the portion of the calendar year following such change shall not exceed an amount equal to the product of the withholding exemption applicable with respect to such employee's pay-roll period times the number of such periods in the remaining portion of the calendar year.

Example. In the case of certain employees having a weekly pay-roll period ending on Thursday of each week, an employer used the wage bracket tables for determining the tax to be withheld during the first quarter of the calendar year 1943. For the pay-roll period ending on Thursday, April 1, 1943, and for subsequent pay-roll periods during the calendar year 1943, the employer used the exact 5 percent method for computing the amount of the tax to be withheld. The maximum amount of the withholding exemption allowable with respect to the wages paid each employee during the balance of the calendar year is $12 (the withholding exemption applicable to a weekly pay-roll period) multiplied by 40 (the number of weekly pay-roll periods remaining in the calendar year), or $480.

§ 19.466–4 Tax paid by recipient. Section 466 (d) provides that if the tax required to be withheld, collected and paid by the withhouding agent is paid by the recipient of the income, it shall not be re-collected from the withholding agent. Such payment does not, however, operate to relieve the withholding agent from liability for interest or additions to the tax imposed for failure to withhold, collect and pay the tax within the time prescribed by law or regulations made in pursuance of law. Interest and additions to the tax shall be computed from the date prescribed in section 468 for the making of the return and payment of the tax by the withholding agent to the date of payment of the tax by the recipient of the income. In general, for interest and additions to tax for failure to make return or pay the tax within the time prescribed by law, see sections 291 to 299, inclusive. For minimum addition to tax for failure to make return within the time prescribed by law, see section 470 (c).

§ 19.466–5 Return of income and credit for tax withheld at source. The entire amount of the wages from which the tax is withheld shall be included in gross income in the return required to be made by the recipient of the income without deductions for such tax. The tax withheld at source, however, is allowable as a credit against the victory tax imposed upon the recipient of the income and any excess thereof over the amount of the victory tax is allowable as a credit against the tax imposed by sections 11 and 12 or the tax imposed by section 400, as the case may be. Any excess of the tax withheld at source over the aggregate of the tax imposed by chapter 1 shall be refunded to the recipient of the income. If the tax has actually been withheld and collected at the source, refund shall be made to the recipient of the income even though such tax has not been paid over to the Government by the withholding agent. See section 322. For the purpose of the credit, the recipient of the income is the person subject to the tax imposed under chapter 1 upon the wages from which the tax was withheld. For instance, if a husband and wife domiciled in a community property State make separate returns, each reporting for income tax purposes one-half of the wages received by the husband, each spouse is entitled to one-half of the credit allowable for the tax withheld at source with respect to such wages.

Example. A and B are married and living together and have two dependent children throughout the calendar year 1943. Their joint return for 1943 discloses normal tax of $1,075.02, surtax of $6,605.33, and victory tax (before allowance of the credit provided in section 453) of $993.80. A credit under the provisions of section 453 is claimed on account of premiums paid in the amount of $628 on life insurance in force on September 1, 1942 and the purchase of War Bonds during the calendar year 1943 at a cost of $1,200. The victory tax withheld at the source from the wages of A amounts to $968.80. The tax liability of A and B for the calendar year 1943 is shown as follows:

Victory tax (gross)	$993.80
Credit claimed under section 453 (not to exceed post war credit):
1. Premiums paid on life insurance	628.00
2. Purchase of War Bonds	1,200.00
Total	1,828.00
Post war credit: 44% of $993.80, or $1,200, whichever is the lesser	437.27
Credit allowable under section 453	437.27
Victory tax (net)	556.53
Less: Credit for tax withheld at source	968.80
Excess credit (allowable against other income tax	412.27
Income tax:
Normal tax	1,075.02
Surtax	6,605.33
Total	7,680.35
Less: Balance of credit for tax withheld at source	412.27
Income tax payable	7,268.08

§ 19.466–6 Included and excluded wages. If a portion of the remuneration paid by an employer to his employee for is no period which constitutes a pay-roll provisions of law, including statutes of agent with respect to an undercollection

each of the quarters ending March 31,

final return a statement, in duplicate, paid by an employer to his employee for services performed during a pay-roll period constitutes wages, and the remainder does not constitute wages, all the remuneration paid the employee for services performed during such period shall for purposes of withholding be treated alike, that is, either all included as wages or all excluded. The time during which the employee performs services, the remuneration for which under section 465 (b) constitutes wages, and the time during which he performs services, the remuneration for which under such section does not constitute wages, determine whether all the remuneration for services performed during the pay-roll period shall be deemed to be included or excluded.

If one-half or more of the employee's time in the employ of a particular person in a pay-roll period is spent in performing services the remuneration for which constitutes wages, then all the wages paid the employee for services performed in that pay-roll period shall be deemed to be wages.

If less than one-half of the employee's time in the employ of a particular person in a pay-roll period is spent in performing services the remuneration for which constitutes wages, then none of the wages paid the employee for services performed in that pay-roll period shall be deemed to be wages.

Example (1). Employee A is employed by B who operates a farm and a store. The remuneration paid A for services on the farm is excepted as remuneration for agricultural labor, and the remuneration for services performed in the store constitutes wages. Employee A is paid on a monthly basis. During a particular month, A works 120 hours on the farm and 80 hours in the store. None of the remuneration paid A for services performed during the month is deemed to be wages, since the remuneration paid for less than one-half of the services performed during the month constitutes wages.

During another month A works 75 hours on the farm and 120 hours in the store. All of the remuneration paid A for services performed during the month is deemed to be wages since the remuneration paid for one-half or more of the services performed during the month constitutes wages.

Example (2). Employee C is employed as a maid by D, a physician, whose home and office are located in the same building. The remuneration paid C for services in the home is excepted as remuneration for domestic service, and the remuneration paid for her services in the office constitutes wages. C is paid on a weekly basis. During a particular week C works 20 hours in the home and 20 hours in the office. All of the remuneration paid C for services performed during that week is deemed to be wages, since the remuneration paid for one-half or more of the services performed during the week constitutes wages.

During another week C works 22 hours in the home and 15 hours in the office. None of the remuneration paid C for services performed during that week is deemed to be wages, since the remuneration paid for less than one-half of the services performed during the week constitutes wages.

The rules set forth in this section do not apply with respect to any remuneration paid for services performed by an employee for his employer if the periods for which remuneration is paid by the employer vary to the extent that there is no period which constitutes a pay-roll period within the meaning of section 465 (a). In such a case withholding is required with respect to that portion of such remuneration which constitutes wages.

SEC. 172. TEMPORARY INCOME TAX ON INDIVIDUALS. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title I.)

(a) The Internal Revenue Code is amended by inserting at the end of Chapter 1 the following new subchapter:

* * * * *

SEC. 467. WITHHOLDING AGENT.

(a) Collection of tax. The tax required to be withheld by section 466 shall be collected by the person having control of the payment of such wages by deducting such amount from such wages as and when paid. As used in this subsection, the term "person" includes officers and employees of the United States, or of a State, Territory, or any political subdivision thereof, or of the District of Columbia, or any agency or instrumentality of any one or more of the foregoing.

(b) Indemnification of withholding agent. Every person required to withhold and collect any tax under this part shall be liable for the payment of such tax, and shall not be liable to any person for the amount of any such payment

(c) Adjustments. If more or less than the correct amount of tax is withheld or paid for any quarter in any calendar year, proper adjustments, with respect both to the tax withheld or the tax paid, may be made in any subsequent quarter of such calendar year, without interest, in such manner and at such times as may be prescribed by regulations made by the Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary.

* * * * *

(g) Effective date. The provisions of this section shall take effect on January 1, 1943, and shall be applicable to all wages (as defined in Part II of Subchapter D) paid on or after such date.

§ 19.467–1 Collection of and liability for tax. Under the provisions of section 467, the withholding agent is required to collect the tax by deducting the amount thereof from the employee's wages as and when paid, either actually or constructively. The withholding agent is required to collect the tax notwithstanding the wages are paid in something other than money (for example, wages paid in stock or bonds; see § 19.465–2) and to pay the tax to the collector in money. If wages are paid in property other than money, necessary arrangements should be made between the employer and employee to insure that the amount of the tax is available for payment to the collector.

Every person required to withhold and collect the tax under section 466 from the wages of an employee is liable for the payment of such tax whether or not it is collected from the employee. If, for example, an employer deducts less than the correct amount of tax, or if he fails to deduct any part of the tax, he is nevertheless liable for the correct amount of the tax. See, however, section 466 (d) relieving the withholding agent from liability for the tax if such tax has been paid by the recipient of the income. The amount of any tax withheld and collected by a withholding agent is a special fund in trust for the United States. [§ 3661]

Except as otherwise expressly indicated or manifestly inconsistent therewith, all provisions of law, including statutes of limitations, applicable with respect to the assessment and collection and refund or credit of the taxes imposed by chapter 1 are applicable to the tax required to be collected at the source.

The withholding agent is relieved of liability to any other person for the amount of any tax withheld and paid to the collector pursuant to the provisions of section 466.

§ 19.467–2 Quarterly adjustments—(a) In general. If, for any quarter of the calendar year, more or less than the correct amount of the tax is withheld, or more or less than the correct amount of the tax is paid to the collector, proper adjustment, without interest, may be made in any subsequent quarter of the same calendar year. No adjustment, however, under the provisions of this section shall be made in respect of any quarter after the mailing of a statutory notice of deficiency under the provisions of section 272, the making of a jeopardy assessment under the provisions of section 273, or the filing of a claim for refund under the provisions of section 322, in respect of such quarter. Every return on which an adjustment for a preceding quarter is reported must have securely attached as a part thereof a statement, in duplicate, explaining the adjustment, and designating the quarterly return period in which the error occurred. If an adjustment of an overcollection of tax which the withholding agent has repaid to an employee is reported on a return, such statement shall include the fact that such tax was repaid to the employee.

(b) Less than correct amount of tax withheld. If none, or less than the correct amount, of the tax is deducted from any wage payment and the error is ascertained prior to the making of the return on Form V–1 for the quarter in which such wages are paid, the withholding agent shall nevertheless report on such return and pay to the collector the correct amount of the tax required to be withheld. If the error is not ascertained until after the making of the return on Form V–1 for the quarter in which such wages are paid, the undercollection may be corrected by an adjustment on the return for any subsequent quarter of the same calendar year, subject, however, to the limitations noted in paragraph (a). The amount of any undercollection adjusted in accordance with this subsection shall be paid to the collector, without interest, at the time prescribed for payment of the tax for the quarter in which such adjustment is made. If an adjustment is made pursuant to this subsection but the amount thereof is not paid when due, interest thereafter accrues. (See section 294.)

If none, or less than the correct amount, of the tax is withheld from any wage payment, the withholding agent may correct the error by deducting the amount of the undercollection from remuneration of the employee, if any, under his control after he ascertains the error. Such deduction may be made even though the remuneration, for any reason, does not constitute wages. The obligation of an employee to the withholding agent with respect to an undercollection of tax from the employee's wages not subsequently corrected by a deduction made as prescribed herein is a matter for settlement between the employee and the withholding agent. In this connection, see section 466 (d) relieving the withholding agent from liability for collection of the tax if such tax has been paid by the employee or other recipient of the wages.

(c) More than correct amount of tax withheld. If, in any quarter, more than the correct amount of tax is deducted from any wage payment, the overcollection may be repaid to the employee in any quarter of the same calendar year. If the amount of the overcollection is repaid, the withholding agent shall obtain and keep as part of his records the written receipt of the employee showing the date and amount of the repayment.

If an overcollection in any quarter is repaid and receipted for by the employee prior to the time the return on Form V–1 for such quarter is filed with the collector, the amount of such overcollection shall not be included in the return for such quarter.

Subject to the limitations provided in paragraph (a), if an overcollection in any quarter is repaid and receipted for by the employee after the time the return on Form V–1 for such quarter is filed and the tax is paid to the collector, the overcollection may be corrected by an adjustment on the return for any subsequent quarter of the same calendar year.

Every overcollection not repaid and receipted for by the employee as provided in this paragraph must be reported and paid to the collector with the return on Form V–1 for the quarter in which the overcollection is made.

SEC. 172. TEMPORARY INCOME TAX ON INDIVIDUALS. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title I.)

(a) The Internal Revenue Code is amended by inserting at the end of Chapter 1 the following new subchapter:

* * * * *

SEC. 468. RETURN AND PAYMENT BY WITHHOLDING AGENT.

In lieu of the time prescribed in sections 53 and 56 for the return and payment of the tax imposed by this chapter, every person required to withhold and collect any tax under section 466 shall make a return and pay such tax on or before the last day of the month following the close of each quarter of each calendar year. Every such person shall include with the final return for the calendar year a duplicate copy of each receipt required to be furnished under section 469. Every such person shall also keep such records and render under oath such statements with respect to the tax so withheld and collected as may be required under regulations prescribed by the Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary.

* * * * *

(g) Effective date. The provisions of this section shall take effect on January 1, 1943, and shall be applicable to all wages (as defined in Part II of Subchapter D) paid on or after such date.

§ 19.468–1 Return and payment by withholding agent. Every person required to withhold and collect any tax under section 466 shall make a return and pay such tax on or before the last day of the month following the close of each of the quarters ending March 31, June 30, September 30, and December 31. Such return is to be made on Form V–1, Return of Victory Tax Withheld, and must be filed with the collector of internal revenue for the district in which is located the principal place of business or office of the employer, or if he has no principal place of business or office, then in the district in which is located his legal residence. There shall be included with the return filed for the fourth quarter of the calendar year, or with the employer's final return, if filed at an earlier date, a duplicate of each Statement of Victory Tax Withheld (Form V–2) (See § 19.469–1), together with Reconciliation of Quarterly Returns of Victory Tax Withheld with Statements of Victory Tax Withheld (Form V–3). In the case of a large number of duplicate statements (Form V–2), they may be forwarded to the collector in a separate package, properly identified by reference to the return (Form V–1). In such case Form V–3 should accompany the duplicate statements (Form V–2). Employers with numerous establishments or pay rolls should assemble the duplicate statements by establishment or by pay-roll.

Every person required to withhold, collect, and pay any tax under section 466 shall keep such records as will indicate the persons employed during the year, payments to whom are subject to withholding, the periods of employment, and the amounts and dates of payment to such persons. Such records shall be kept at all times available for inspection by internal-revenue officers, and shall be retained so long as the contents thereof may become material in the administration of any internal-revenue law.

The return must be signed and sworn to by the employer or other person required to withhold, collect, and pay the tax. The return may be sworn to before any person authorized by law to administer oaths for general purposes, or, without charge, before any collector of internal revenue, or deputy collector.

If the person required to withhold, collect, and pay the tax under section 466 is a corporation, the return shall be made in the name of the corporation and shall be sworn to by the officers designated in section 52.

With respect to any tax required to be withheld under section 466 by a fiduciary, the return shall be made in the name of the individual, estate, or trust for which such fiduciary acts, and shall be sworn to by such fiduciary. For returns made by one of two or more joint fiduciaries, see section 142 (b).

The last return on Form V–1 for any employer required to withhold, collect, and pay any tax under section 466 who ceased to pay wages shall be marked "Final return" by such employer. Such final return shall be filed with the collector on or before the thirtieth day after the date on which the final payment of wages is made for services performed for such employer, and shall plainly show the period covered and also the date of the last payment of wages. There shall be executed as part of each final return a statement, in duplicate, giving the address at which the records required by this section will be kept, the name of the person keeping such records and, if the business has been sold or otherwise transferred to another person, the name and address of such person and the date on which such sale or other transfer took effect. If no such sale or transfer occurred or the employer does not know the name of the person to whom the business was sold or transferred, that fact should be included in the statement. An employer who has only temporarily ceased to pay wages, including an employer engaged in seasonal activities, shall continue to file returns, but shall enter on the face of any return on which no tax is required to be reported a statement showing the date of the last payment of wages and the date when he expects to resume paying wages.

SEC. 172. TEMPORARY INCOME TAX ON INDIVIDUALS. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title I.)

(a) The Internal Revenue Code is amended by inserting at the end of Chapter 1 the following new subchapter:

* * * * *

SEC. 469. RECEIPTS.

(a) Wages. Every employer required to withhold and collect a tax in respect of the wages of an employee shall furnish to each such employee in respect of his employment during the calendar year, on or before January 31 of the succeeding year, or, if his employment is terminated before the close of such calendar year, on the day on which the last payment of wages is made, a written statement showing the period covered by the statement, the wages paid by the employer to such employee during such period, and the amount of the tax withheld and collected under this part in respect of such wages.

(b) Regulations. The statements required to be furnished by this section shall be in lieu of the return required to be furnished by the employer with respect to his employee under section 147 and shall be furnished at such other times, shall contain such other information, and shall be in such form as the Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, may by regulations prescribe.

(c) Extension of time. The Commissioner, under such regulations as he may prescribe with the approval of the Secretary, may grant to any employer a reasonable extension of time (not in excess of 30 days) with respect to the statements required to be furnished to employees on the day on which the last payment of wages is made.

* * * * *

(g) Effective date. The provisions of this section shall take effect on January 1, 1943, and shall be applicable to all wages (as defined in Part II of Subchapter D) paid on or after such date.

§ 19.469–1 Receipts for tax withheld at source on wages—(a) In general. Every employer or other person required to withhold and collect a tax under section 466 shall furnish to each employee in respect of his employment during the calendar year a written statement on Form V–2, showing the period covered, the wages paid to the employee during such period, and the amount of tax withheld. The Form V–2 shall show all remuneration actually or constructively paid to the employee during the calendar year whether or not constituting wages and whether or not tax has been withheld therefrom. Statements prepared in substantially like form and size, but in no case larger than 8 x 3½ inches, will be acceptable. This statement shall be furnished to the employee on or before January 31 of the succeeding calendar year, or, if his employment is terminated before the close of such calendar year, on the day on which the last payment of wages is made. Statements of Victory Tax Withheld (Form V–2) shall be prepared in duplicate, the original of which shall be furnished to the employee as prescribed. The duplicate statements shall be transmitted to the collector with Form V–1 for the fourth quarter of the calendar year and Form V–3.

For wages, salaries, or other remuneration paid in 1943 and subsequent years, the statement on Form V–2 shall take the place of Form 1099, Information Return.

(b) Extension of time in case of termination of employment. An extension of time, not exceeding thirty days, within which to furnish the statement required by section 469 (a) is granted any employer with respect to any employee whose employment is terminated during the calendar year. In the case of intermittent or interrupted employment where there is reasonable expectation on the part of both employer and employee of further employment, there is no requirement that a statement be immediately furnished the employee; but when such expectation ceases to exist, the statement must be furnished within thirty days from that time.

SEC. 172. TEMPORARY INCOME TAX ON INDIVIDUALS. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title I.)

(a) The Internal Revenue Code is amended by inserting at the end of Chapter 1 the following new subchapter:

* * * * *

SEC. 470. PENALTIES.

(a) Penalties for fraudulent receipt or failure to furnish receipt. In lieu of any other penalty provided by law (except the penalty provided by subsection (b) of this section), any person required under the provisions of section 469 to furnish a receipt in respect of tax withheld pursuant to this part who wilfully furnishes a false or fraudulent receipt, or who wilfully fails to furnish a receipt in the manner, at the time, and showing the information required under section 469, or regulations prescribed thereunder, shall for each such failure, upon conviction thereof, be fined not more than $1,000, or imprisoned for not more than one year, or both.

(b) Additional penalty. In addition to the penalty provided by subsection (a) of this section, any person required under the provisions of section 469 to furnish a receipt in respect of tax withheld pursuant to this part who wilfully furnishes a false or fraudulent receipt, or who wilfully fails to furnish a receipt in the manner, at the time, and showing the information required under section 469, or regulations prescribed thereunder, shall for each such failure be subject to a civil penalty of not more than $50.

(c) Failure of withholding agent to file return. In case of any failure to make and file return required by this part, within the time prescribed by law or prescribed by the Commissioner in pursuance of law, unless it is shown that such failure is due to reasonable cause and not due to wilful neglect, the addition to the tax provided for in section 291 shall not be less than $5.

* * * * *

(g) Effective date. The provisions of this section shall take effect on January 1, 1943, and shall be applicable to all wages (as defined in Part II of Subchapter D) paid on or after such date.

§ 19.470–1 Penalties—(a) Fraudulent receipt or failure to furnish receipt. Section 470 imposes criminal and civil penalties for the wilful failure to furnish a receipt in the manner, at the time, and showing the information required under section 469 or regulations prescribed thereunder or for wilfully furnishing a false or fraudulent receipt. The criminal penalty is a fine of not more than $1,000 or imprisonment for not more than one year, or both, and the civil penalty is a fine of not more than $50 for each such violation. Such penalties are in lieu of any other penalties provided by law respecting the failure to furnish a receipt or the furnishing of a false or fraudulent receipt.

(b) Addition to tax for failure to file return. In case of any failure to make and file a return required by section 468 within the time prescribed by law, unless failure to file the return within the prescribed time is shown to the satisfaction of the Commissioner to be due to reasonable cause and not to wilful neglect, the addition to the tax provided by section 291 shall not be less than $5. For interest and additions to tax for failure to make return or pay tax within the time prescribed by law, see generally sections 291 to 299, inclusive; for criminal penalties, see section 145 and § 19.145–1.

SEC. 172. TEMPORARY INCOME TAX ON INDIVIDUALS. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title I.)

(a) The Internal Revenue Code is amended by inserting at the end of Chapter 1 the following new subchapter:

* * * * *

Part III—Expiration Date and Definitions

SEC. 475. DEFINITIONS.

(a) Net income. When used in this title, where not otherwise distinctly expressed or manifestly incompatible with the intent thereof, the term "net income" shall be construed to mean "victory tax net income" for the purposes of this subchapter.

(b) Date of cessation of hostilities in the present war. As used in this subchapter, the term "date of cessation of hostilities in the present war" means the date on which hostilities in the present war between the United States and the governments of Germany, Japan, and Italy cease, as fixed by proclamation of the President or by concurrent resolution of the two Houses of Congress, whichever date is earlier, or in case the hostilities between the United States and such governments do not cease at the same time, such date as may be so fixed as an appropriate date for the purposes of this subchapter.

* * * * *

(g) Effective date. The provisions of this section shall take effect on January 1, 1943, and shall be applicable to all wages (as defined in Part II of Subchapter D) paid on or after such date.

§ 19.475–1 Definitions—(a) Net income as victory tax net income. The term "net income" as used throughout the Code, where not otherwise distinctly expressed or manifestly incompatible with the intent thereof, shall be construed to mean "victory tax net income" for the purposes of the victory tax.

(b) Date of cessation of hostilities in the present war. The term "date of cessation of hostilities in the present war" means the date on which hostilities in the present war between the United States and the governments of Germany, Japan, and Italy cease, as fixed by proclamation of the President or by concurrent resolution of both Houses of Congress, whichever date is earlier, or, in case the hostilities between the United States and such governments do not cease at the same time, such date as may be fixed by proclamation of the President or by concurrent resolution of both Houses of Congress as an appropriate date for the purposes of the victory tax.

PART 19—INCOME TAX UNDER THE INTERNAL REVENUE CODE

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

In order to conform Regulations 103 (Part 19, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, 1940 Supp.) to section 171 of the Revenue Act of 1942 (Public Law 753, 77th Congress), approved October 21, 1942, such regulations are amended as follows:

PARAGRAPH 1. There is inserted immediately preceding section 19.371–0 the following:

SEC. 171. AMENDMENTS TO SUPPLEMENT R. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title I.)

(a) Exchanges and sales of property. Section 371 (b) (relating to exchanges of property for property) is amended to read as follows:

(b) Exchanges and sales of property by corporations. No gain shall be recognized to a transferor corporation which is a registered holding company or an associate company of a registered holding company, if such corporation, in obedience to an order of the Securities and Exchange Commission transfers property in exchange for property, and such order recites that such exchange by the transferor corporation is necessary or appropriate to the integration or simplification of the holding company system of which the transferor corporation is a member. If any such property so received is nonexempt property, gain shall be recognized unless such nonexempt property or an amount equal to the fair market value of such property at the time of the transfer is, within 24 months of the transfer, under regulations prescribed by the Commissioner with the approval of the Secretary, and in accordance with an order of the Securities and Exchange Commission, expended for property other than nonexempt property or is invested as a contribution to the capital, or as paid-in surplus, of another corporation, and such order recites that such expenditure or investment by the transferor corporation is necessary or appropriate to the integration or simplification of the holding company system of which the transferor corporation is a member. If the fair market value of such nonexempt property at the time of the transfer exceeds the amount expended and the amount invested, as required in the second sentence of this paragraph, the gain, if any, to the extent of such excess, shall be recognized. Any gain, to the extent that it cannot be applied in reduction of basis under section 372 (a) (2) shall be recognized. For the purposes of this subsection, a distribution in cancellation or redemption (except a distribution having the effect of a dividend) of the whole or a part of the transferor's own stock (not acquired on the transfer) and a payment in complete or partial retirement or cancellation of securities representing indebtedness of the transferor or a complete or partial retirement or cancellation of such securities which is a part of the consideration for the transfer, shall be considered an expenditure for property other than nonexempt property, and if, on the transfer, a liability of the transferor is assumed, or property of the transferor is transferred subject to a liability, the amount of such liability shall be considered to be an expenditure by the transferor for property other than nonexempt property. This subsection shall not apply unless the transferor corporation consents, at such time and in such manner as the Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, may by regulations prescribe, to the regulations prescribed under section 372 (a) (2) in effect at the time of filing its return for the taxable year in which the transfer occurs.

(b) Amendment of section 371 (f). Section 371 (f) is amended to read as follows:

(f) Application of section. The provisions of this section shall not apply to an exchange, expenditure, investment, distribution, or sale unless (1) the order of the Securities and Exchange Commission in obedience to which such exchange, expenditure, investment, distribution, or sale was made recites that such exchange, expenditure, investment, distribution, or sale is necessary or appropriate to effectuate the provisions of section 11 (b) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, 49 Stat. 820 (U.S.C., title 15, sec. 79k (b)), (2) such order specifies and itemizes the stock and securities and other property which are ordered to be acquired, transferred, received, or sold upon such exchange, acquisition, expenditure, distribution, or sale, and, in the case of an investment, the investment to be made, and (3) such exchange, acquisition, expenditure, investment, distribution or sale was made in obedience to such order, and was completed within the time prescribed therefor.

* * * * *

(g) Technical amendment. Section 371 (f) is amended by striking out "or (b)".

* * * * *

SEC. 101. TAXABLE YEARS TO WHICH AMENDMENTS APPLICABLE. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title I.)

Except as otherwise expressly provided, the amendments made by this title shall be applicable only with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941.

PAR. 2. The last sentence of the second paragraph of § 19.371–1 is amended by striking therefrom "or (b)" and substituting therefor the following: "(or, for taxable years beginning prior to January 1, 1942, section 371 (b))".

PAR. 3. Section 19.371–3 is amended as follows:

(A) By inserting immediately after the heading the following subheading: "(a) Taxable years beginning before January 1, 1942."

(B) By striking the word "the" from the beginning of the first sentence and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "For taxable years beginning prior to January 1, 1942, the".

(C) By inserting at the end thereof the following new paragraph:

(b) Taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941—(1) Application of section 371 (b), as amended. Section 371 (b), as amended by section 171 of the Revenue Act of 1942:

(i) Is applicable only to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941;

(ii) Applies only to the transfers specified therein with respect to which section 371 (d) is inapplicable; and

(iii) Deals only with such transfers if gain is realized upon the sale or other disposition effected by such transfers. If loss is realized the subsection is inapplicable and the application of other provisions of the Code must be determined. (See section 371 (g).) If section 371 (b) is applicable, the provisions of section 112 (other than the provisions of paragraph 8 of subsection (b)) are inapplicable, and the conditions under, and the extent to which, the realized gain is not recognized are set forth in subparagraphs (2), (3), (4) and (5) below.

(2) Nonrecognition of gain; no nonexempt proceeds. No gain is recognized to a transferor corporation upon the sale or other disposition of property transferred by such transferor corporation in exchange solely for property other than nonexempt property, as defined in section 373 (e), as amended, but only if all of the following requirements are satisfied:

(i) The transferor corporation is, under the definition in section 373 (b), a registered holding company or an associate company of a registered holding company;

(ii) Such transfer is in obedience to an order of the Securities and Exchange Commission (as defined in section 373 (a), as amended) and such order satisfies the requirements of section 371 (f), as amended;

(iii) The transferor corporation has filed the required consent to the regulations under section 372 (a) (2) (see subparagraph (6) of this paragraph); and

(iv) The entire amount of the gain, as determined under section 111, can be applied in reduction of basis under section 372 (a) (2).

(3) Nonrecognition of gain; nonexempt proceeds. If the transaction would be within the provisions of subparagraph (2) above, if it were not for the fact that the property received in exchange consists in whole or in part of nonexempt property (as defined in section 373 (e), as amended), then no gain is recognized if such nonexempt property, or an amount equal to the fair market value of such nonexempt property at the time of the transfer:

(i) Is expended within the required 24-month period for property other than nonexempt property; or

(ii) Is invested within the required 24-month period as a contribution to the capital, or as paid-in surplus, of another corporation;

but only if the expenditure or investment is made:

(iii) In accordance with an order of the Securities and Exchange Commission (as defined in section 373 (a), as amended) which satisfies the requirements of section 371 (f), as amended, and which recites that such expenditure or investment by the transferor corporation is necessary or appropriate to the integration or simplification of the holding company system of which the transferor corporation is a member; and

(iv) The required consent, waiver, and bond have been executed and filed. See subparagraphs (6) and (7) of this paragraph.

The following, for the purposes of this subparagraph and subparagraph (4) are treated as expenditures for property other than nonexempt property:

(a) A distribution in cancellation or redemption (except a distribution having the effect of a dividend) of the whole or a part of the transferor's own stock (not acquired on the transfer);

(b) A payment in complete or partial retirement or cancellation of securities representing indebtedness of the transferor or a complete or partial retirement or cancellation of such securities which is a part of the consideration for the transfer; and

(c) If, on the transfer, a liability of the transferor is assumed, or property of the transferor is transferred subject to a liability, the amount of such liability.

(4) Recognition of gain in part; insufficient expenditure or investment in case of nonexempt proceeds. If the transaction would be within the provisions of subparagraph (3), above, if it were not for the fact that the amount expended or invested is less than the fair market value of the nonexempt property received in exchange, then the gain, if any, is recognized, but in an amount not in excess of the amount by which the fair market value of such nonexempt property at the time of the transfer exceeds the amount so expended and invested.

(5) Recognition of gain in part; inability to reduce basis. If the transaction would be within the provisions of subparagraph (2) or (3) if it were not for the fact that an amount of gain cannot be applied in reduction of basis under section 372 (a) (2), then the gain, if any, is recognized, but in an amount not in excess of the amount which cannot be so applied in reduction of basis. If the transaction would be within the provisions of subparagraph (4) if it were not for the fact that an amount of gain cannot be applied in reduction of basis under section 372 (a) (2), then the gain, if any, is recognized but in an amount not in excess of the aggregate of:

(i) The amount of gain which would be recognized under subparagraph (4) if there were no inability to reduce basis under section 372 (a) (2); and

(ii) The amount of gain which cannot be applied in reduction of basis under section 372 (a) (2).

(6) Consent to regulations under section 372 (a) (2). To be entitled to the benefits of the provisions of section 371 (b), as amended, a corporation must file with its return for the taxable year in which the transfer occurred a consent to have the basis of its property adjusted under section 372 (a) (2) (see § 19.372–2), in accordance with the provisions of the regulations in effect at the time of filing of the return for the taxable year in which the transfer occurs. Such consent shall be made in duplicate on Form 982A in accordance with these regulations and the instructions on the form or issued therewith.

(7) Requirements with respect to expenditure or investment. If the full amount of the expenditure or investment required for the application of subparagraph (3) of this paragraph has not been made by the close of the taxable year in which such transfer occurred, the taxpayer shall file with the return for such year an application for the benefit of the 24-month period for expenditure and investment, reciting the nature and time of the proposed expenditure or investment. When requested by the Commissioner, the taxpayer shall execute and file (at such time and in such form) such waiver of the statute of limitations with respect to the assessment of deficiencies (for the taxable year of the transfer and for all succeeding taxable years in any of which falls any part of the period beginning with the date of the transfer and ending 24 months thereafter) as the Commissioner may specify, and such bond with such surety as the Commissioner may require in an amount not in excess of double the estimated maximum income and excess profits taxes which would be payable if the corporation does not make the required expenditure or investment within the required 24-month period.

PAR. 4. Section 19.371–7 is amended by striking from the first sentence thereof the following: "or (b) property of a corporation which is a registered holding company or an associate company of a registered holding company is exchanged for other property as provided for in section 371 (b)," and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "or, for taxable years beginning prior to January 1, 1942, (b) property of a corporation which is a registered holding company or an associate company of a registered holding company is exchanged for other property as provided for in section 371 (b) prior to its amendment by the Revenue Act of 1942,"

PAR. 5. Section 19.371–8 is amended as follows:

(A) By inserting immediately after the heading the following subheading: "(a) Taxable years beginning before January 1, 1942."

(B) By changing the first sentence to read as follows:

(a) Taxable years beginning before January 1, 1942. For taxable years beginning prior to January 1, 1942, the term "order of the Securities and Exchange Commission" is defined in section 373 (a) prior to its amendment by the Revenue Act of 1942.

(C) By inserting at the end thereof the following new paragraph:

(b) Taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941. For the taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941, the term "order of the Securities and Exchange Commission" is defined in section 373 (a), as amended. In addition to the requirements specified in that definition, section 371 (f), as amended, provides that the provisions of section 371 shall not apply to an exchange, expenditure, investment, distribution, or sale unless each of the following requirements is met:

(1) The order of the Securities and Exchange Commission must recite that the exchange, expenditure, investment, distribution, or sale is necessary or appropriate to effectuate the provisions of section 11 (b) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935.

(2) The order shall specify and itemize the stocks and securities and other property (including money) which are ordered to be acquired, transferred, received, or sold upon such exchange, acquisition, expenditure, distribution, or sale, and, in the case of an investment, the investment to be made, so as clearly to identify such property.

(3) The exchange, acquisition, expenditure, investment, distribution, or sale shall be made in obedience to such order and shall be completed within the time prescribed in such order.

These requirements were not designed merely to simplify the administration of the provisions of section 371, and they are not to be considered as pertaining only to administrative matters. Each one of the three requirements is of the essence, and must be met if gain or loss is not to be recognized upon the transaction.

PAR. 6. There is inserted at the end of paragraph (b) of § 19.371–10 the following:

(d) In the case of any taxable year beginning after December 31, 1941, the term "exchange" shall, wherever occurring in this paragraph (other than this subparagraph) be read as "exchange, expenditure, or investment."

PAR. 7. There is inserted immediately preceding § 19.372–0 the following:

SEC. 171 AMENDMENTS TO SUPPLEMENT R. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title I.)

* * * * *

(c) Amendment of section 372 (a). Section 372 (a) is amended—

(1) by inserting after "(a) Exchanges Generally.—" the following: "(1) Exchanges subject to the provisions of section 371 (a).—;"

(2) by striking out "371 (a), (b), or (c)," and inserting in lieu thereof "371 (a) or (e)," and by striking out "371 (a) or (b)" and inserting in lieu thereof "371 (a)"; and

(3) by inserting at the end thereof the following:

(2) Exchanges subject to the provisions of section 371 (b). The gain not recognized upon a transfer by reason of section 371 (b) shall be applied to reduce the basis for determining gain or loss on sale or exchange of the following categories of property in the hands of the transferor immediately after the transfer, and property acquired within 24 months after such transfer by an expenditure or investment to which section 371 (b) relates on account of the acquisition of which gain is not recognized under such subsection, in the following order:

(1) Property of a character subject to the allowance for depreciation under section 23 (l);

(2) Property (not described in paragraph (1)) with respect to which a deduction for amortization is allowable under section 23 (t);

(3) Property with respect to which a deduction for depletion is allowable under section 23 (m) but not allowable under section 114 (b) (2), (3), or (4);

(4) Stock and securities of corporations not members of the system group of which the transferor is a member (other than stock or securities of a corporation of which the transferor is a subsidiary);

(5) Securities (other than stock) of corporations which are members of the system group of which the transferor is a member (other than securities of the transferor or of a corporation of which the transferor is a subsidiary);

(6) Stock of corporations which are members of the system group of which the transferor is a member (other than stock of the transferor or of a corporation of which the transferor is a subsidiary);

(7) All other remaining property of the transferor (other than stock or securities of the transferor or of a corporation of which the transferor is a subsidiary).

The manner and amount of the reduction to be applied to particular property within any of the categories described in paragraphs (1) to (7), inclusive, shall be determined under regulations prescribed by the Commissioner with the approval of the Secretary.

SEC. 101. TAXABLE YEARS TO WHICH AMENDMENTS APPLICABLE. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title I.)

Except as otherwise expressly provided, the amendments made by this title shall be applicable only with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941.

PAR. 8. Section 19.372–0 is amended as follows:

(A) By striking out the first sentence and substituting therefor the following:

Section 113 (a) (17) provides that if property is acquired in a taxable year beginning before January 1, 1942, in any manner described in section 372, prior to its amendment by the Revenue Act of 1942, the basis shall be that provided in such section, prior to its amendment by such Act, with respect to such property. If the property was acquired in a taxable year beginning after December 31, 1941, in any manner described in section 372 (other than paragraph (a) (2)) after its amendment by such Act, the basis shall be that prescribed in such section (after its amendment by such Act) with respect to such property.

(B) By inserting after "In general", in the third sentence, the following: "and except as provided in § 19.372–2".

PAR. 9. Section 19.372–1 is amended as follows:

(A) By changing its heading to read as follows: "Basis of property acquired upon exchanges under sections 371 (a), 371 (b) (prior to amendment by the Revenue Act of 1942), or 371 (e)."

(B) By inserting after "371 (b)" wherever the same appears, the following: "prior to its amendment by the Revenue Act of 1942 and in a taxable year beginning prior to January 1, 1942".

PAR. 10. Sections 19.372–2, 19.372–3 and 19.372–4 are each renumbered, respectively, 19.373–3, 19.372–4 and 19.372–5.

PAR. 11. There is inserted immediately after § 19.372–1 the following new section to read as follows:

§ 19.372–2 Reduction of basis of property by reason of gain not recognized under section 371 (b), as amended—(a) Introductory. In addition to the adjustments provided in section 113 (b), and the sections of these regulations relating thereto, which are required to be made with respect to the cost or other basis of property, a further adjustment shall be made in any case in which there shall have been a non-recognition of gain under section 371 (b), as amended, realized in a taxable year beginning after December 31, 1941. Such further adjustment shall be made with respect to the basis of the property in the hands of the transferor immediately after the transfer and of the property acquired within 24 months after such transfer by an expenditure or investment to which section 371 (b), as amended, relates, and on account of which expenditure or investment gain is not recognized. If the property is in the hands of the transferor immediately after the transfer the time of reduction is the day of the transfer; in all other cases the time of reduction is the date of acquisition. The effect of applying an amount in reduction of basis of property under such subsection is to reduce by such amount the basis for determining gain upon sale or other disposition, the basis for determining loss upon sale or other disposition, the basis for depreciation and for depletion, and any other amount which the Code prescribes shall be the same as any of such bases. For the purposes of the application of an amount in reduction of basis under such subsection, property is not considered as having a basis capable of reduction if:

(1) It is money, or

(2) If its adjusted basis for determining gain at the time the reduction is to be made is zero, or becomes zero at any time in the application of such subsection.

(b) General rule. Section 372 (a) (2) sets forth seven categories of property, the basis of which for determining gain or loss shall be reduced in the order stated.

The first category consists of all property of a character subject to the allowance for depreciation under section 23 (l) which is either in the hands of the transferor immediately after the transfer, or is acquired within 24 months after such transfer by an expenditure or investment resulting in the nonrecognition in whole or in part of gain, under subsection 371 (b). If any of the property in such category has a basis capable of reduction, the reduction must first be made before applying an amount in reduction of the basis of any property in the second or in a succeeding category, to each of which in turn a similar rule is applied.

In the application of the rule to each category, the amount of the gain not recognized shall be applied to reduce the cost or other basis of all the property in the category as follows: The cost or other basis (at the time immediately after the transfor or, if the property is not then held but is thereafter acquired, at the time of such acquisition) of each unit of property in the first category shall be decreased (but the amount of the decrease shall not be more than the amount of the adjusted basis at such time for determining gain, determined without regard to this section) in an amount equal to such proportion of the unrecognized gain as the adjusted basis (for determining gain, determined without regard to this section) at such time of each unit of property of the taxpayer in that category bears to the aggregate of the adjusted basis (for determining gain, computed without regard to this section) at such time of all the property of the taxpayer in that category. When such adjusted basis of the property in the first category has been thus reduced to zero, a similar rule shall be applied, with respect to the portion of such gain which is unabsorbed in such reduction of the basis of the property in such category, in reducing the basis of the property in the second category. A similar rule with respect to the remaining unabsorbed gain shall be applied in reducing the basis of the property in the next succeeding category.

(c) Special cases. With the consent of the Commissioner, the taxpayer may, however, have the basis of the various units of property within a particular category specified in subsection 372 (a) (2) adjusted in a manner different from the general rule set forth in paragraph (b) of this section. Variations from such general rule may, for example, involve adjusting the basis of only certain units of the taxpayer's property within a given category. A request for variations from the general rule should be filed by the taxpayer with its return for the taxable year in which the transfer of property has occurred.

Agreement between the taxpayer and the Commissioner as to any variations from such general rule shall be effective only if incorporated in a closing agreement entered into under the provisions of section 3760. If no such agreement is entered into by the taxpayer and the Commissioner, then the consent filed on Form 982A shall (except as provided in the next sentence) be deemed to be a consent to the application of such general rule, and such general rule shall apply in the determination of the basis of the taxpayer's property. If, however, the taxpayer specifically states on such form that it does not consent to the application of the general rule, then, in the absence of a closing agreement, the document filed shall not be deemed a consent within the meaning of the last sentence of subsection 371 (b).

PAR. 12. There is inserted immediately preceding § 19.373–1 the following:

SEC. 171. AMENDMENTS TO SUPPLEMENT R. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title I.)

* * * * *

(a) Amendment of section 373 (a). Section 373 (a) is amended to read as follows:

(a) The term "order of the Securities and Exchange Commission" means an order issued after May 28, 1938, by the Securities and Exchange Commission which requires, authorizes, permits, or approves transactions described in such order to effectuate the provisions of section 11 (b) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, 49 Stat. 820 (U.S.C., title 15, sec. 79k (b)), which has become or becomes final in accordance with law.

(c) Amendment of section 373 (e) (1). Section 373 (e) (1) is amended to read as follows:

(1) Any consideration in the form of evidences of indebtedness owed by the transferor or a cancellation or assumption of debts or other liabilities of the transferor (including a continuance of encumbrances subject to which the property was transferred);

(f) Amendment of section 373 (e) (4). Section 373 (e) (4) is amended to read as follows:

(4) Stock or securities which were acquired from a registered holding company or an associate company of a registered holding company which acquired such stock or securities after February 28, 1938, unless such or securities (other than obligations described as nonexempt property in paragraph (1), (2), or (3)) were acquired in obedience to an order of the Securities and Exchange Commission or were acquired with the authorization or approval of the Securities and Exchange Commission under any section of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, 49 Stat. 820 (U.S.C., title 15, sec. 79k (b));

SEC 101. TAXABLE YEARS TO WHICH AMENDMENTS APPLICABLE. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title I.)

Except as otherwise expressly provided, the amendments made by this title shall be applicable only with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941.

PAR. 13. Section 19.373–1 is amended as follows:

(A) By changing the parenthetical matter in the first sentence reading as follows: "(or must amend or supplement an order so issued and expressly state that it amends or supplements such an order)" to read as follows: "(or, in the case of an order issued during a taxable year beginning before January 1, 1942, must amend or supplement an order so issued and expressly state that it amends or supplements such an order)".

(B) By inserting in the second sentence in paragraph (a) after the words "order must" the following: "become or".

(C) By inserting in the first sentence of paragraph (e) immediately after the word "transferred" in the parenthetical clause the following: ", and for taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941, including the amount of any consideration in the form of evidences of indebtedness owed by the transferor".

(D) By changing subparagraph (4) of paragraph (e) to read as follows:

(4) For taxable years beginning before January 1, 1942, stock or securities which were acquired after February 28, 1938, unless such stock or securities were acquired in obedience to an order of the Securities and Exchange Commission (as defined in section 373 (a), prior to its amendment) and are not nonexempt property within the meaning of section 373 (e) (2) or (3). For taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941, stock or securities which were acquired from a registered holding company which acquired such stock or securities after February 28, 1938, or an associate company of a registered holding company which acquired such stock or securities after February 28, 1938 unless such stock or securities were acquired in obedience to an order of the Securities and Exchange Commission (as defined in section 373 (a), as amended) or were acquired with the authorization or approval of the Securities and Exchange Commission under any section of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, and are not nonexempt property within the meaning of section 373 (e) (1), (2), or (3).

PAR. 14. There is inserted immediately preceding § 19.113 (a) (18)–1 the following:

SEC. 171. AMENDMENTS TO SUPPLEMENT R. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title I.)

* * * * *

(h) Basis. Section 113 (a) (17) is amended to read as follows:

(17) Property acquired in connection with exchanges and distributions in obedience to certain orders of the Securities and Exchange Commission.—If the property was acquired in a taxable year beginning before January 1, 1942, in any manner described in section 372 prior to its amendment by the Revenue Act of 1942 the basis shall be that prescribed in such section (prior to its amendment by such Act) with respect to such property. If the property was acquired in a taxable year beginning after December 31, 1941, in any manner described in section 372 (other than subsection (a) (2)) after its amendment by such Act, the basis shall be that prescribed in such section (after its amendment by such Act) with respect to such property.

PART 19—INCOME TAX UNDER THE INTERNAL REVENUE CODE

TAXES AND OTHER CHARGES CHARGEABLE TO CAPITAL ACCOUNT

In order to conform Regulations 103 [Part 19, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, 1940 Sup.] to section 130 of the Revenue Act of 1942 (Public Law 753—77th Congress), approved October 21, 1942, such regulations are amended as follows:

PARAGRAPH 1. There is inserted immediately preceding § 19.24–1 the following:

SEC. 130. TAXES AND OTHER CHARGES CHARGEABLE TO CAPITAL ACCOUNT NOT DEDUCTIBLE BUT TREATED AS CAPITAL ITEMS. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title I.)

(a) Deductions not allowable. Section 24 (a) (relating to items not deductible) is amended by inserting at the end thereof the following new paragraph:

(7) Amounts paid or accrued for such taxes and carrying charges as, under regulations prescribed by the Commissioner with the approval of the Secretary, are chargeable to capital account with respect to property, if the taxpayer elects, in accordance with such regulations, to treat such taxes or charges as so chargeable.

* * * * *

SEC. 101. TAXABLE YEARS TO WHICH AMENDMENTS APPLICABLE. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title I.)

Except as otherwise expressly provided, the amendments made by this title shall be applicable only with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941.

PAR. 2. There is inserted immediately following § 19.24–4 the following new section:

§ 19.24–5 Taxes and carrying charges chargeable to capital account and treated as capital items—(a) General. Under the Code prior to its amendment by the Revenue Act of 1942, such items as social security taxes and interest on construction loans could not be capitalized for income tax purposes for the sole reason that they were expressly allowed as deductions. In accordance with section 24 (a) (7) as added by section 130 of that Act, such items may, under the provisions of these regulations, now be capitalized at the election of the taxpayer. Thus for taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941, taxes and carrying charges with respect to property, of the type described in this section, are chargeable to capital account at the election of the taxpayer notwithstanding that they are expressly deductible under section 23. No deduction is permitted for any items so treated.

(b) Taxes and carrying charges. The following items may upon the election of the taxpayer, in the manner provided in paragraph (c), be treated as chargeable to capital account (either as a component of original cost or other basis, for the purposes of section 113 (a), or as an adjustment to basis, for the purposes of section 113 (b) (1) (A)), notwithstanding that they are expressly deductible under section 23:

(1) In the case of unimproved and unproductive real property, annual taxes, interest on a mortgage, and other carrying charges;

(2) In the case of real property, whether improved or unimproved and whether productive or unproductive, expenditures (otherwise deductible) paid or incurred in the development thereof or in the construction of an improvement or additional improvement thereon, up to the time the development or construction work has been completed, such as interest on a loan made or continued to furnish funds for this purpose (but not including theoretical interest of a taxpayer using his own funds), taxes of the owner of the property measured by compensation paid to his employees and taxes of such owner imposed on the purchase of materials for such work or on the storage, use, or other consumption in the State of materials for such work which are purchased for storage, use, or other consumption in that State, and other necessary expenditures paid or incurred in connection therewith up to the time the development or construction work has been completed. The development or construction work with respect to which such items are incurred may relate to unimproved and unproductive real estate whether the construction work will make the property productive of taxable income (as in the case of a factory) or not (as in the case of a personal residence), or may relate to property already improved or productive (as in the case of a plant addition or improvement, such as the construction of another floor on a factory or the installation of insulation therein);

(3) In the case of personal property, taxes of an employer measured by compensation for services rendered in transporting machinery or other fixed assets to his plant or in installing them therein, interest on a loan to purchase such property or to pay for transporting or installing the same, and taxes of the owner thereof imposed on the purchase of such property or on the storage, use, or other consumption of such property in the State which is purchased for storage, use, or other consumption in that State, paid or incurred up to the date of installation or the date when such property is first put into use by the taxpayer, whichever date is later.

(4) Any other taxes and carrying charges with respect to property, otherwise deductible, which in the opinion of the Commissioner are, under sound accounting principles, chargeable to capital account.

If for any taxable year there are two or more items, such as social security taxes, use taxes, or any other type of items above described, relating to the same project to which the election is applicable, the taxpayer may elect to capitalize any one or more of such items even though he does not elect to capitalize the remaining items or to capitalize items of the same type relating to other projects. However, if several items of the same type are incurred with respect to a single project the election to capitalize must, if exercised, be exercised as to all of items of that type.

Once, however, such an election is made under subparagraph (2), (3), or (4) above, to capitalize a given charge incurred with respect to a particular project, charges of the same type incurred with respect to the particular project in subsequent years, whether they be social-security taxes, use taxes, sales taxes, or any other item enumerated in any of these paragraphs, must also be capitalized for the entire period to which the election so to treat items of that type is applicable. The term "project" for this purpose in the case of items included in subparagraph (2) means the particular development or construction work with respect to which the charge as to which the election was exercised was incurred, and in the case of items included in subparagraph (3) this term means the act of transporting, installing, or putting into use of the machinery or other fixed assets. An election under subparagraph (1), however, may be exercised for a given year without regard to the manner in which the same type of item with respect to the same property was treated by the taxpayer for a prior year.

Example (1). A in 1942 and 1943 pays annual taxes and interest on a mortgage on a piece of vacant and unproductive property. Throughout 1943 he operates the property as a parking lot. A may capitalize the taxes and mortgage interest paid in 1942 but not the taxes and mortgage interest paid in 1943.

Example (2). X began in February, 1942 the erection of a building for himself. X in 1942 paid $6,000 social-security taxes in connection with the erection of the building, which in his 1942 return he elected to capitalize. X must continue to capitalize the social-security taxes paid in connection with the erection of this building until its completion in 1944.

Example (3). Assume the facts in example (2) except that in November 1942 X also begins to build a hotel which will be completed in 1945. In 1942 X pays $3,000 social-security taxes in connection with the erection of the hotel. X is not bound by the election to capitalize exercised in connection with the social-security taxes paid in erecting the building started in February 1942 but may deduct the $3,000 social-security taxes.

Example (4). X in 1942 began the erection of a building for himself, which would take three years to complete. X in 1942 paid $4,000 social-security taxes and $8,000 interest on a building loan in connection with this building. X may elect to capitalize the social-security taxes although he deducts the interest charges.

Example (5). A purchase machinery in 1943 for use in his factory. He pays social-security taxes on the labor for transportation and installation, as well as interest on a loan to obtain funds to pay for the machinery and for installation costs. A may capitalize the social-security taxes and the interest up to the date of installation or until the machinery is first put into use by him, whichever is later.

The sole effect of section 24 (a) (7) is to permit such items to be properly charged to capital account notwithstanding that a deduction is expressly provided therefor in section 23. Any item not charged to capital account which is otherwise deductible under section 23 is still deductible. An item may not be charged to capital account under this section where such treatment would be disallowed whether or not a deduction were expressly provided therefor in section 23 (such, for example, as maintenance expenses and the cost of repairs and upkeep of a personal residence). This section does not have the effect of disallowing an item to be treated as a capital item which would otherwise be allowed to be so treated nor does it have the effect of making deductible an item which is not so under section 23 (such, for example, as salaries or other compensation paid or incurred for services rendered in the construction of property).

In the absence of provision in this section for treating a given item as a capital item, this section has no effect on the treatment otherwise accorded such item. Thus, items which are otherwise deductible are deductible notwithstanding the provisions of this section, and items which are otherwise treated as capital items are to be so treated. Nor is the absence of a provision in this section to be construed as withdrawing or modifying the right now given to the taxpayer under some other provision of chapter 1 of the Code or of the regulations promulgated thereunder to elect to capitalize or to deduct a given item. (See § 19.23 (m)–16, making intangible drilling and development costs chargeable to capital or to expenses at the taxpayer's option and § 19.23 (c)–2, making certain Federal duties and excise taxes deductible unless the taxpayer has added them to the expenses of the business or the cost of the articles of merchandise.)

(c) Manner of exercising collection. If the taxpayer elects to capitalize an item or items under this section, such election shall be exercised by filing with the original return a statement for that year indicating the item or items (whether with respect to the same project or to different projects) which the taxpayer elects to treat as chargeable to capital account (either as a component of original cost or other basis, for the purposes of section 113 (a), or as an adjustment to basis, for the purposes of section 113 (b) (1) (A)).

(d) Allocation. If any tax or carrying charge with respect to property is in part a type of item described in (b) and in part a type of item or items with respect to which no option to treat as a capital item or as an allowable deduction is given, a reasonable proportion of such tax or carrying charge, determined in the light of all the facts and circumstances in each case, shall be allocated to each item. Apportionment must in all cases be reasonable.

Example. A, the owner of a factory on which a new addition is under construction, in 1942 pays its general manager, B, a salary of $4,000 and social-security taxes of $90 measured thereby. B spends nine-tenths of his time in the general business of the firm and the remaining tenth in supervising the construction work. A treats as expenses $3,600 of B's salary and charges the remaining $400 to capital account. A may also capitalize $9 of the $90 social-security taxes.

PAR. 3. The numbers of §§ 19.24–5, 19.24–6, 19.24–7, and 19.24–8 are changed to 19.24–6, 19.24–7, 19.24–8, and 19.24–9, respectively.

PAR. 4. There is inserted immediately preceding § 19.113 (b) (1)–1 the following:

SEC. 130. TAXES AND OTHER CHARGES CHARGEABLE TO CAPITAL ACCOUNT NOT DEDUCTIBLE BUT TREATED AS CAPITAL ITEMS. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title I.)

* * * * *

(b) Technical amendment. Section 113 (b) (1) (A) (relating to adjustment of basis) is amended by striking out", including taxes and other carrying charges on unimproved and unproductive real property".

SEC. 101. TAXABLE YEARS TO WHICH AMENDMENTS APPLICABLE. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title I.)

Except as otherwise expressly provided, the amendments made by this title shall be applicable only with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941.

PAR. 5. Section 19.113 (b) (1)–1 is amended as follows:

(A) By striking out the word "In" at the beginning of the last sentence in the second paragraph and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "For taxable years beginning before January 1, 1942, in".

(B) By inserting after the third paragraph (Example) the following paragraph:

For taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941, capital expenditures and carrying charges with respect to property, whether real or personal, improved or unimproved and whether productive or unproductive, such as taxes and interest, which under these regulations there is an election to treat either as chargeable to capital account or as an allowable deduction in the manner provided in § 19.24–5 (c) but which have not been taken as deductions by the taxpayer in determining net income for the taxable year, or a prior taxable year, are properly chargeable to capital account. (See § 19.24–5.) The term "taxes" for this purpose includes duties and excise taxes (see § 19.23 (c)–2), but does not include income taxes.

PART 21—DECLARED VALUE EXCESS-PROFITS TAX

DECLARED VALUE EXCESS-PROFITS TAX

Amendments of Treasury Decision 5091. In order to conform Treasury Decision 5091, approved October 17, 1941 [Part 21, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, 1941 Sup.], establishing regulations relating to the declared value excess-profits tax imposed by Subchapter B of Chapter 2 of the Internal Revenue Code for income-tax taxable years ending after June 30, 1941, to sections 303 and 304 of the Revenue Act of 1942 (Public Law 753, 77th Congress), approved October 21, 1942, and to limit the application of the said regulations to years ended prior to July 1, 1942, such Treasury decision is hereby amended as follows:

PARAGRAPH 1. The heading of the Treasury decision is amended by changing the period at the end thereof to a comma and adding thereto the following: "and prior to July 1, 1942."

PAR. 2. Immediately following the quotation of section 601 there is inserted following:

SEC. 303. DECLARED VALUE EXCESS-PROFITS TAX FOR TAXABLE YEARS OF LESS THAN TWELVE MONTHS. (Revenue Act of 1942)

(a) Section 601 (relating to the adjusted declared value) is amended by striking out the last sentence thereof.

* * * * *

(c) Taxable years to which amendments applicable. The amendments made by this section shall be applicable to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1939.

PAR. 3. Immediately following the quotation of section 602 there is inserted the following:

SEC. 304. TECHNICAL AMENDMENTS MADE NECESSARY BY CHANGE IN BASE FOR CORPORATION TAX. (Revenue Act of 1942)

Section 602 (relating to net income for purposes of the declared value excess-profits tax) is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 602. NET INCOME.

For the purposes of this subchapter the net income shall be the same as the net income for income tax purposes for the year in respect of which the tax under section 600 is imposed, computed without the deduction of the tax imposed by section 600, but with a credit against net income equal to the credit for dividends received provided in section 26 (b) of Chapter 1.

SEC. 303. DECLARED VALUE EXCESS-PROFITS TAX FOR TAXABLE YEARS OF LESS THAN TWELVE MONTHS. (Revenue Act of 1942)

* * * * *

(b) Subchapter B of Chapter 2 is amended by inserting after section 604 the following new section:

SEC. 605. INCOME-TAX TAXABLE YEAR OF LESS THAN TWELVE MONTHS

(a) General rule. If the income-tax taxable year is a period of less than twelve months on account of a change in the accounting period of the taxpayer, the net income determined under section 602 for such income-tax taxable year (referred to in this section as the "short taxable year") shall be placed on an annual basis by multiplying the amount thereof by the number of days in the twelve months ending with the close of the short taxable year and dividing by the number of days in the short taxable year. The tax shall be such part of the tax computed on such annual basis as the number of days in the short taxable year is of the number of days in the twelve months ending with the close of the short taxable year.

(b) Exception. If the taxpayer establishes the amount of the tax under section 600 for the period of twelve months beginning with the first day of the short taxable year, computed as if such twelve-month period were an income-tax taxable year, under the law applicable to the short taxable year, and using the adjusted declared value applicable in determining the tax for such short taxable year, then the tax determined under subsection (a) for the short taxable year shall be reduced to an amount which is such part of the tax computed for the twelve-month period as the net income for the short taxable year is of the net income established for such twelve-month period. The taxpayer (other than a taxpayer to which the next sentence applies) shall compute the tax and file its return without the application of this subsection. If, prior to one year from the date of the beginning of the short taxable year, the taxpayer has disposed of substantially all its assets, in lieu of the twelve-month period provided in the preceding provision of this subsection, the twelve-month period ending with the close of the short taxable year shall be used. For the purposes of this subsection, the net income for the short taxable year shall not be placed on an annual basis under the provisions of subsection (a), and the net income for the twelve-month period used shall in no case be considered less than the net income for the short taxable year. The benefits of this subsection shall not be allowed unless the taxpayer, at such time as regulations prescribed hereunder require, makes application therefor in accordance with such regulations, and such application, in the case of a taxpayer required to file return without regard to this subsection, shall be considered a claim for credit or refund. The Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, shall prescribe such regulations as he may deem necessary for the application of this subsection.

(c) Taxable years to which amendments applicable. The amendments made by this section shall be applicable to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1939.

PAR. 4. Section 21.0 (f) is amended by inserting immediately following "June 30, 1941," first occurring therein the following: ", and prior to July 1, 1942".

PAR. 5. Section 21.1 (c) is amended to read as follows:

(c) (1) "Income-tax taxable year" means the calendar year, a fiscal year ending during such calendar year, or the fractional part of a year, for which the corporation's net income is computed and for which its income tax returns are made for Federal income tax purposes.

(2) "Short taxable year" means such fractional part of a year.

PAR. 6. Section 21.1 (d) is amended as follows:

(A) By changing the first sentence to read as follows:

(1) "Net income," in the case of a year beginning prior to January 1, 1942, means "net income" within the contemplation of section 21 of the Internal Revenue Code.

(B) By adding at the end of the section the following:

(2) "Net income," in the case of a year beginning after December 31, 1941, means "net income" within the contemplation of section 21 of the Internal Revenue Code, with the following exceptions:

(i) Interest on obligations of the United States or instrumentalities thereof which is exempt by statute from excess-profits tax is not included in gross income and no deduction for amortization of premium on such obligations is allowable.

(ii) None of the credits allowed corporations against net income for income tax purposes is applicable in respect of the declared value excess-profits tax except the credit against net income for dividends received provided in section 26 (b) of the Internal Revenue Code. This credit is limited to 85 per centum of the dividends received from a domestic corporation subject to income taxation, and may not exceed 85 per centum of the taxpayer's adjusted net income reduced by the credit under section 26 (e) for income subject to the excess profits tax imposed by Subchapter E of Chapter 2.

(iii) The declared value excess-profits tax may not be deducted from net income in computing the declared value excess-profits tax.

PAR. 7. Section 21.3 is amended to read as follows:

§ 21.3 Measure and rate of tax—(a) Domestic and foreign corporations. With respect to income-tax taxable years ending after June 30, 1941, the declared value excess profits tax is imposed in an amount equal to the sum of (1) $6^{6}/_{10}$ percent of such portion of the corporation's net income for the income-tax taxable year as is in excess of 10 percent and not in excess of 15 percent of the adjusted declared value plus (2) $13^{2}/_{10}$ percent of such portion of its net income for the income-tax taxable year as is in excess of 15 percent of the adjusted declared value, as of the close of the last preceding income-tax taxable year (or as of the date of organization if the corporation had no preceding income-tax taxable year). (See example 1, § 21.4.) No variation is permitted between the adjusted declared value set forth in the corporation's capital stock tax return and the adjusted declared value set forth in its declared value excess-profits tax return.

(b) Short taxable years—(1) General—(i) Old adjustment method superseded. Prior to its retroactive amendment by section 303 (a) of the Revenue Act of 1942, Code section 601 provided that if the income-tax taxable year in respect of which the declared value excess-profits tax was imposed was a period of less than twelve months the adjusted declared value should be reduced to an amount which bore the same ratio thereto as the number of months in the period bore to twelve months. By the amendment this provision for adjustment of the declared value is made inapplicable to short taxable years beginning after December 31, 1939. It remains applicable to short taxable years beginning prior to January 1, 1940. As to the method of adjustment pursuant to Code section 605 added by section 303 (b) of the Revenue Act of 1942, see succeeding paragraphs.

(ii) Several taxable years ending in one twelve-month period. The declared value excess-profits tax for any short income-tax taxable year is governed by the adjusted declared value for the immediately preceding capital stock tax taxable year, even though a full income-tax taxable year is covered by the same declaration. The declared value excess-profits tax for any income-tax taxable years ending during the twelve-month period ended June 30, 1942, is governed by the adjusted declared value for the capital stock tax taxable year ended June 30, 1941, regardless of the number of such income-tax taxable years ending within such twelve-month period. (See example 2, § 21.4.)

(2) Change of accounting period—(i) Regular method of computation. If, due to a change of accounting period an income-tax taxable year is a period of less than twelve months, the net income is to be placed on an annual basis for declared value excess-profits tax purposes. Under the general rule established, by Code section 605 (a) added by section 303 (b) of the Revenue Act of 1942, for declared value excess-profits tax purposes when a short taxable year is due to a change of accounting period, the net income for the short taxable year is put on an annual basis by multiplying the amount thereof by the number of days in the twelve months ending with the close of the short taxable year, and dividing by the number of days in the short taxable year. The tax for the short taxable year is that part of the tax on the net income computed on such annual basis as the number of days in the short taxable year is of the number of days in the twelve-month period. (See example 3, § 21.4.) Claim for refund or credit of any amount paid in excess of the amount due in accordance with the method provided by section 605 (a) may be made within the time allowed by the applicable statute of limitations.

(ii) Special method of computation. Section 605 (b) provides a special method of computing the declared value excess-profits tax liability in cases where the short taxable year is due to a change of accounting period. Under this method the tax for the short taxable year is determined by computing a tax on the basis of the net income for the twelve months beginning with the first day of the short taxable year, or (if prior to one year from the date of the beginning of the short taxable year, the taxpayer disposes of substantially all its assets) on the basis of the net income for the twelve-month period ending with the close of the short taxable year. In any case the net income for the twelve-month period shall be deemed to be at least as much as the net income of the short taxable year. The tax for the short taxable year shall be an amount which is the same percentage of the tax computed on the basis of the net income of the twelve-month period as the net income of the short taxable year is of the net income of the twelve-month period. (See example 4, § 21.4.)

(iii) Application for use of special method. A taxpayer desiring the benefit of paragraph (b) of section 605 must file with the Commissioner an application therefor, in the form of a claim for credit or refund, not later than the expiration of the time prescribed for the filing of a claim for credit or refund, or December 31, 1943, whichever is the earlier. If there is attached to the application a statement demonstrating that substantially all the assets of the taxpayer were disposed of prior to one year from the date of the beginning of the short taxable year, there may also be included a computation of tax liability in accordance with section 605 (b). (See subdivision (ii).) Substantially all the assets of a corporation are regarded as disposed of if it has ceased business and distributed so much of the assets used in its business that it cannot resume its customary operations with the remaining assets. If disposition of substantially all the assets did not occur within the year from the date of the beginning of the short taxable year there shall be attached to the application a computation of tax liability in accordance with section 605 (a) (see subdivision (i)), and a statement showing the income of the twelve-month period beginning with the first day of the short taxable year. Any statement or computation thus required shall be made on or in accordance with the income tax form prescribed for the short taxable year, as far as practicable. If the Commissioner determines that the taxpayer has established the amount of the net income for the applicable twelve-month period, any excess of the tax paid for the short taxable year over the tax computed under section 605 (b) (see subdivision (i)) will be credited or refunded to the taxpayer in the same manner as in the case of an overpayment. For the purpose of determining liability under section 605 (b) the net income of the twelve-month period used shall in no case be considered to be less than the net income of the short taxable year.

The net income for the twelve-month period is computed under the same provisions of law as are applicable to the short period, as if the twelve-month period were an actual accounting period of the taxpayer. All items which fall in such twelve-month period must be included even if they are extraordinary in amount or of an unusual nature. If any other item partially applicable to such twelve-month period can be determined only at the end of a taxable year which includes only part of the twelve-month period, the taxpayer, subject to review by the Commissioner, shall apportion such item to the twelve-month period in such manner as will most clearly reflect the income for the twelve-month period.

PAR. 8. Section 21.4 is amended as follows:

(A) The word "example" in the heading and immediately preceding the first colon, is changed to "examples".

(B) After the word "Example" immediately preceding the statement of the example, there is inserted "(1)".

(C) At the end of the section there is inserted the following:

Example (2). The corporation indicated in example (1) properly files a return for the short taxable year beginning January 1, 1942, and ending April 30, 1942, for reasons other than a change in accounting period. The taxable net income for that period is $5,000. No declared value excess-profits tax is due since this amount of income would not be in excess of 10 percent of the value, $100,000, declared on the capital stock tax return for the year ended June 30, 1941.

Example (3). The circumstances are the same as in example (2) except that the short taxable year is due to change of accounting period. The present method of computation under section 605 (a) would be as follows:

Number of days in 12 months ending April 30, 1942	365
Number of days in short taxable year	120
$5,000 × 365/120	$15,208.33
Less: 10 percent of declared value ($100,000)	10,000.00
	5,208.33
Amount taxable at 6⁶/₁₀ percent	5,000.00
Amount taxable at 13²/₁₀ percent	208.33
Declared value excess-profits tax at 6⁶/₁₀ percent (6⁶/₁₀ percent of $5,000)	330.00
Declared value excess-profits tax at 13²/₁₀ percent (13²/₁₀ percent of $208.33)	27.50
Total declared value excess-profits tax for the twelve-month period	357.50
120/365 of $357.50 = $117.53 declared value excess-profits tax due for short taxable year

Example (4). The same corporation as in example (2) desires its declared value excess-profits tax computed in accordance with section 605 (b) on the basis of a twelve-month period including the short taxable year. The assets having been distributed in August, 1942, which was prior to one year from the date of the beginning of the short taxable year, computation must be on the basis of the twelve months ending with the close of such short taxable year. The income of such twelve-month period is $11,000. The computation is as follows:

Income for the short taxable year	$5,000
Income for the twelve-month period	11,000
10 percent of declared value ($100,000)	10,000
Difference	1,000
Declared value excess-profits tax (6⁶/₁₀ percent of $1,000)	66
5,000/11,000 of $66 = $30

This amount is less than that computed in accordance with section 605 (a) (see example (3)) and it may, if there has been compliance with the required procedure (see § 21.3 (b) (2) (iii)), be taken as the amount of the tax.

Amendments of Treasury Decision 4927

In order to conform Treasury Decision 4927, approved August 23, 1939, regulations relating to the excess-profits tax for years ended prior to July 1, 1941, imposed by Subchapter B of Chapter 2 of the Internal Revenue Code, to section 303 of the Revenue Act of 1942, such Treasury decision, as amended by Treasury Decision 4999, approved August 1, 1940, is hereby further amended as follows:

PARAGRAPH 1. The heading of the Treasury decision is amended by changing the period at the end thereof to a comma, and adding thereafter the following: "for years ending prior to July 1, 1941."

PAR. 2. Immediately following the quotation of section 601 there is inserted the following:

SEC. 303. DECLARED VALUE EXCESS-PROFITS TAX FOR TAXABLE YEARS OF LESS THAN TWELVE MONTHS. (Revenue Act of 1942)

(a) Section 601 (relating to the adjusted declared value) is amended by striking out the last sentence thereof.

* * * * * *

(c) Taxable years to which amendment applicable. The amendments made by this section shall be applicable to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1939.

PAR. 3. Immediately following the quotation of section 602 there is inserted the following:

SEC. 303. DECLARED VALUE EXCESS-PROFITS TAX FOR TAXABLE YEARS OF LESS THAN TWELVE MONTHS. (Revenue Act of 1942.)

* * * * * *

(b) Subchapter B of Chapter 2 is amended by inserting after section 604 the following new section:

SEC. 605. INCOME-TAX TAXABLE YEAR OF LESS THAN TWELVE MONTHS.

(a) General rule. If the income-tax taxable year is a period of less than twelve months on account of a change in the accounting period of the taxpayer, the net income determined under section 602 for such income-tax taxable year (referred to in this section as the "short taxable year") shall be placed on an annual basis by multiplying the amount thereof by the number of days in the twelve months ending with the close of the short taxable year and dividing by the number of days in the short taxable year. The tax shall be such part of the tax computed on such annual basis as the number of days in the short taxable year is of the number of days in the twelve months ending with the close of the short taxable year.

(b) Exception. If the taxpayer establishes the amount of the tax under section 600 for the period of twelve months beginning with the first day of the short taxable year, computed as if such twelve-month period were an income-tax taxable year, under the law applicable to the short taxable year and using the adjusted declared value applicable in determining the tax for such short taxable year, then the tax determined under subsection (a) for the short taxable year shall be reduced to an amount which is such part of the tax computed for the twelve-month period as the net income for the short taxable year is of the net income established for such twelve-month period. The taxpayer (other than a taxpayer to which the next sentence applies) shall compute the tax and file its return without the application of this subsection. If, prior to one year from the date of the beginning of the short taxable year, the taxpayer has disposed of substantially all its assets, in lieu of the twelve-month period provided in the preceding provision of this subsection, the twelve-month period ending with the close of the short taxable year shall be used. For the purposes of this subsection, the net income for the short taxable year shall not be placed on an annual basis under the provisions of subsection (a), and the net income for the twelve-month period used shall in no case be considered less than the net income for the short taxable year. The benefits of this subsection shall not be allowed unless the taxpayer, at such time as regulations prescribed hereunder require, makes application therefor in accordance with such regulations, and such application, in the case of a taxpayer required to file return without regard to this subsection, shall be considered a claim for credit or refund. The Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, shall prescribe such regulations as he may deem necessary for the application of this subsection.

(c) Taxable years to which amendment applicable. The amendments made by this section shall be applicable to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1939.

PAR. 4. Section 21.0 (f) is amended by inserting immediately after the words "Internal Revenue Code" the second time occurring, the following: "for income-tax taxable years ending prior to July 1, 1941."

PAR. 5. Section 21.3 amended by Treasury Decision 4999, is further amended as follows:

(A) By adding at the end of paragraph (b) a new sentence reading as follows:

In view of the retroactive amendment by section 303 (a) of the Revenue Act of 1942 (see paragraph (c)) whereby the second sentence of Code section 601 was eliminated, this paragraph is inapplicable to returns for years beginning after December 31, 1939, except insofar as it declares that no variation is permitted between the adjusted declared value set forth in the corporation's capital stock tax return and the adjusted declared value set forth in its declared value excess-profits tax return.

(B) By adding at the end of the section the following:

(c) Short taxable years—(1) General—(i) Retroactive amendment by the Revenue Act of 1942. Section 303 of the Revenue Act of 1942 made amendments retroactively applicable to the declared value excess-profits tax for income-tax taxable years beginning after December 31, 1939. Section 303 (a) eliminated the second sentence of Code section 601 providing for reduction of the adjusted declared value of the capital stock in case of a declared value excess-profits tax return for a period of less than twelve months. (See last sentence of paragraph (b).) Section 303 (b) added a new Code section 605 making provision, retroactively applicable to returns for years beginning after December 31, 1939, for placing the income on an annual basis when, on account of change in the accounting period the income-tax taxable year is a period of less than twelve months. By section 605 (b) a special method of dealing with such situation is provided. The application of the amendments to short taxable years beginning after December 31, 1939, is shown by paragraph (2) (i), (ii), and (iii).

(ii) Several taxable years ending in one twelve-month period. The declared value excess-profits tax for any short income-tax taxable year is governed by the adjusted declared value for the immediately preceding capital stock tax taxable year, even though a full-income-tax taxable year is covered by the same adjusted declared value. The declared value excess-profits tax for any income-tax taxable year is governed by the adjusted declared value for the capital stock tax year ending June 30 next preceding the close of the income-tax taxable year, regardless of the number of such income-tax taxable years ending within the period after such June 30 and prior to July 1 the following.

(2) Change of accounting period—(i) Regular method of computation. If, due to a change of accounting period an income-tax taxable year beginning after December 31, 1939, is a period of less than twelve months, the net income is to be placed on an annual basis for declared value excess-profits tax purposes. Under the general rule established, by Code section 605 (a) added by section 303 (b) of the Revenue Act of 1942, for declared value excess-profits tax purposes when the short taxable year is due to a change of accounting period, the net income for the short taxable year is put on an annual basis by multiplying the amount thereof by the number of days in the twelve months ending with the close of the short taxable year, and dividing by the number of days in the short taxable year. The tax for the short taxable year is that part of the tax on the net income computed on such annual basis as the number of days in the short taxable year is of the number of days in the twelve-month period. (See example (3), § 21.4.) Claim for refund or credit of any amount paid in excess of the amount due in accordance with the method provided by section 605 (a) may be made within the time allowed by the applicable statute of limitations.

(ii) Special method of computation. Section 605 (b) provides a special method of computing the declared value excess-profits tax liability in cases where the short taxable year is due to a change of accounting period. Under this method the tax for the short taxable year is determined by computing a tax on the basis of the net income for the twelve months beginning with the first day of the short taxable year or (if prior to one year from the date of the beginning of the short taxable year, the taxpayer disposes of substantially all its assets) on the basis of the net income for the twelve-month period ending with the close of the short taxable year. In any case the net income for the twelve-month period shall be deemed to be at least as much as the net income of the short taxable year. The tax for the short taxable year shall be an amount which is the same percentage of the tax computed on the basis of the net income of the twelve-month period as the net income of the short taxable year is of the net income of the twelve-month period. (See example (4), § 21.4.)

(iii) Application for use of special method. A taxpayer desiring the benefit of subsection (b) of section 605 must file with the Commissioner an application therefor, in the form of a claim for credit or refund, not later than the expiration of the time prescribed for the filing of a claim for credit or refund, or December 31, 1943, whichever is the earlier. If there is attached to the application a statement demonstrating that substantially all the assets of the taxpayer were disposed of prior to one year from the date of the beginning of the short taxable year, there may also be included a computation of tax liability in accordance with section 605 (b). (See subdivision (ii).) Substantially all the assets of a corporation are regarded as disposed of if it has ceased business and distributed so much of the assets used in its business that it cannot resume its customary operations with the remaining assets. If disposition of substantially all the assets did not occur within the year from the date of the beginning of the short taxable year there shall be attached to the application a computation of tax liability in accordance with section 605 (a) (see subdivision (i)), and a statement showing the income of the twelve-month period beginning with the first day of the short taxable year. Any statement or computation thus required shall be made on or in accordance with the income tax form prescribed for the short taxable year, as far as practicable. If the Commissioner determines that the taxpayer has established the amount of the net income for the applicable twelve-month period, any excess of the tax paid for the short taxable year over the tax computed under section 605 (b) (see subdivision (ii)) will be credited or refunded to the taxpayer in the same manner as in the case of an overpayment. For the purpose of determining liability under section 605 (b) the net income of the twelve-month period used shall in no case be considered to be less than the net income of the short taxable year.

The net income for the twelve-month period is computed under the same provisions of law as are applicable to the short period, as if the twelve-month period were an actual accounting period of the taxpayer. All items which fall in such twelve-month period must be included even if they are extraordinary in amount or of an unusual nature. If any other item partially applicable to such twelve-month period can be determined only at the end of a taxable year which includes only part of the twelve-month period, the taxpayer, subject to review by the Commissioner, shall apportion such item to the twelve-month period in such manner as will most clearly reflect the income for the twelve-month period.

PAR. 6. Section 21.4 is amended as follows:

(A) The word "example" in the heading and immediately preceding the first semicolon is changed to "examples".

(B) After the word "Example" immediately preceding the statement of the example there is inserted "(1)".

(C) At the end of the section there is inserted the following:

Example (2). The corporation indicated in example (1) properly files a return for the short taxable year beginning January 1, 1940, and ending April 30, 1940, for reasons other than a change in accounting period. The taxable net income for that period is $5,000. No declared value excess-profits tax is due since this amount of income would not be in excess of 10 percent of the value, $100,000, declared on the capital stock tax return for the year ended June 30, 1939.

Example (3). The circumstances are the same as in example (2) except that the short taxable year is due to change of accounting period. The present method of computation under section 605 (a) would be as follows:

Number of days in 12 months ending April 30, 1940	366
Number of days in short taxable year	121
$15,000 × 366/121	$15,123.97
Less: 10 percent of declared value ($100,000)	10,000.00
	5,123.97
Amount taxable at 6 percent	5,000.00
Amount taxable at 12 percent	123.97

Declared value excess-profits tax at 6 percent (6 percent of $5,000)	$300.00
Declared value excess-profits tax at 12 percent (12 percent of $123.97)	14.88
Total declared excess-profits tax for the twelve-month period	$314.88
121/366 of $314.88	$104.10 declared value excess-profits tax due for short taxable year. (Since the short taxable year ended prior to July 1, 1940, the 10 percent increase imposed with respect to taxable years ended after June 30, 1940, is inapplicable.)

Example (4). The same corporation as in example (2) desires its declared value excess-profits tax computed in accordance with section 605 (b) on the basis of a twelve-month period including the short taxable year. The assets having been distributed in August, 1940, which was prior to one year from the date of the beginning of the short taxable year, computation must be on the basis of the twelve months ending with the close of such short taxable year. The income of such twelve-month period is $11,000. The computation is as follows:

Income for the short taxable year	$5,000
Income for the twelve-month period	11,000
10 percent of declared value ($100,000)	10,000
Difference	1,000
Declared value excess-profits tax (6 percent of $1,000)	60
5,000/11,000 of $60 (no 10 percent increase)	$27.27

This amount is less than that computed in accordance with section 605 (a) (see example (3)) and it may, if there has been compliance with the required procedure (see § 21.3 (c) (2) (iii)), be taken as the amount of the tax.

PART 30—REGULATIONS UNDER THE EXCESS-PROFITS TAX ACT OF 1940

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

In order to conform Regulations 109 [Part 30, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, 1941 Sup.] to sections[1] 201, 205 (b) and (c), 206, 207, 208, 209 (a), (b), and (d), 210, 211, 213, and 220 of the Revenue Act of 1942 (Public Law 753, 77th Congress), approved October 21, 1942, such regulations are amended as follows:

PARAGRAPH 1. There is inserted immediately preceding section 30.711 (a)-1 the following:

SEC. 205. COMPUTATION OF EXCESS PROFITS AND INVESTED CAPITAL OF INSURANCE COMPANIES. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title II.)

* * * * * *

(b) Section 711 (a) (1) (relating to excess profits credit computed under income credit) is amended by inserting at the end thereof the following new paragraph:

(H) Life insurance companies. In the case of a life insurance company, there shall be deducted from the normal tax net income, the excess of (i) the product of (I) the figure determined and proclaimed under section 202 (b) and (II) the excess profits net income computed without regard to this subparagraph, over (2) the adjustment for certain reserves provided in section 202 (c).

(c) Section 711 (a) (2) (relating to the excess profits credit computed under invested capital credit) is amended by inserting at the end thereof the following new subparagraph:

(J) In the case of a life insurance company, there shall be deducted from the normal tax net income, 50 per centum of the excess of (1) the product of (i) the figure determined and proclaimed under section 202 (b) and (ii) the excess profits net income computed without regard to this subparagraph, over (2) the adjustment for certain reserves provided in section 202 (c).

* * * * * *

SEC. 206. TECHNICAL AMENDMENTS MADE NECESSARY BY CHANGE IN BASE FOR CORPORATION TAX. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title II.)

(a) Disallowance of credit in computing excess-profits net income.

(1) Section 711 (a) (1) (A) (relating to adjustment for taxes in computing excess profits net income under the income credit) is amended to read as follows:

(A) Income subject to excess profits tax. In computing such normal-tax net income the credit provided in section 26 (e) (relating to income subject to the tax imposed by this subchapter) shall not be allowed;

(2) Section 711 (a) (2) (C) (relating to adjustment for taxes in computing excess-profits net income under the invested capital credit) is amended to read as follows:

(C) Income subject to excess profits tax. In computing such normal-tax net income the credit provided in section 26 (e) (relating to income subject to the tax imposed by this subchapter) shall not be allowed;

(b) Rules for computation of charitable, etc., deductions in computing excess profits net income repealed.

(1) Section 711 (a) (1) (G) (relating to the deduction for charitable contributions, etc., in computing excess profits net income under the income credit) is repealed.

(2) Section 711 (a) (2) (I) (relating to the deduction for charitable contributions, etc., in computing excess profits net income under the invested capital method) is repealed.

(d) Retirement of long-term bonds. Section 711 (a) (2) (E) is amended by striking out "eighteen months" and inserting in lieu thereof "6 months".

SEC. 201. TAXABLE YEARS TO WHICH AMENDMENTS APPLICABLE. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title II.)

Except as otherwise expressly provided, the amendments made by this title shall be applicable only with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941.

SEC. 208. RETROACTIVE TREATMENT OF INVOLUNTARY CONVERSIONS AS CAPITAL TRANSACTIONS. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title II.)

Effective with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1939, but not beginning after December 31, 1941, the second sentence of section 711 (a) (1) (B), section 711 (a) (2) (D), and section 711 (b) (1) (B) is amended to read as follows: "There shall be excluded the excess of the recognized gains from the sale, exchange, or involuntary conversion (as a result of destruction in whole or in part, theft or seizure, or an exercise of the power of requisition or condemnation or the threat or imminence thereof) of property held for more than eighteen months which is of a character which is subject to the allowance for depreciation provided in section 23 (l) over the recognized losses from the sale, exchange, or involuntary conversion of such property. For the purposes of this subparagraph, section 117 (h) (1) and (2) shall apply in determining the period for which the taxpayer has held property which is of a character which is subject to the allowance for depreciation provided in section 23 (l)."

SEC. 209. NONTAXABLE INCOME FROM EXEMPT EXCESS OUTPUT OF MINING AND TIMBER OPERATIONS AND FROM BONUS INCOME OF MINES, ETC. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title II.)

(a) Income credit. Section 711 (a) (1) (relating to excess profits credit computed under income credit) is amended by inserting at the end thereof the following new subparagraph:

(I) Nontaxable income of certain industries with depletable resources. In the case of a producer of minerals, or a producer of logs or lumber from a timber block, as defined in section 735, there shall be excluded nontaxable income from exempt excess output of mines and timber blocks and nontaxable bonus income provided in section 735.

(b) Invested capital credit. Section 711 (a) (2) (relating to excess profits credit computed under invested capital credit) is amended by inserting at the end thereof the following new subparagraph:

(K) Nontaxable income of certain industries with depletable resources. In the case of a producer of minerals, or a producer of logs or lumber from a timber block, as defined in section 735, there shall be excluded nontaxable income from exempt excess output of mines and timber blocks and nontaxable bonus income provided in section 735.

* * * * *

(d) Retroactive exclusion of nontaxable bonus income. The amendments made by this section inserting section 711 (a) (1) (I), section 711 (a) (2) (K), and section 735 (c), to the extent that they relate to nontaxable bonus income, shall be applicable to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1940.

SEC. 210. NET OPERATING LOSS DEDUCTION ADJUSTMENT. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title II.)

(a) Section 711 (a) (1) (relating to the excess profits credit computed under income credit) is amended by adding at the end thereof the following new subparagraph:

(J) Net operating loss deduction adjustment. The net operating loss deduction shall be adjusted as follows:

(i) In computing the net operating loss for any taxable year under section 122 (a), and the net income for any taxable year under section 122 (b), no deduction shall be allowed for any excess profits tax imposed by this subchapter, and, if the excess profits credit for such taxable year was computed under section 714, the deduction for interest shall be reduced by the amount of any reduction under paragraph (2) (B) for such taxable year; and

(ii) In lieu of the reduction provided in section 122 (c), such reduction shall be in the amount by which the excess profits net income computed with the exceptions and limitations specified in section 122 (d) (1), (2), (3), and (4) and computed without regard to subparagraph (B), without regard to any credit for dividends received, and without regard to any credit for interest received provided in section 26 (a) exceeds the excess profits net income (computed without the net operating lees deduction).

(b) Section 711 (a) (2) (relating to the excess profits credit computed under invested capital credit) is amended by adding at the end thereof the following new subparagraph:

(L) Net operating loss deduction adjustment. The net operating loss deduction shall be adjusted as follows:

(i) In computing the net operating loss for any taxable year under section 122 (a), and for such taxable year was computed under section 122 (b), no deduction shall be allowed for any excess profits tax imposed by this subchapter, and, if the excess profits credit for such taxable year, was computed under section 714, the deduction for interest shall be reduced by the amount of any reduction under subparagraph (B) of this paragraph for such taxable year; and

(ii) In lieu of the reduction provided in section 122 (c), such reduction shall be in the amount by which the excess profits net income computed with the exceptions and limitations provided in section 122 (d) (1), (2), (3), and (4) and computed without regard to subparagraph (D), without regard to any credit for dividends received, and without regard to any credit for interest received provided in section 26 (a) exceeds the excess profits net income (computed without the net operating loss deduction).

(c) The amendments made by this section shall be effective as of the date of enactment of the Excess Profits Tax Act of 1940.

SEC. 211. CREDIT FOR DIVIDENDS RECEIVED IN COMPUTATION O EXCESS PROFITS NET INCOME IN CONNECTION WITH INVESTED CAPITAL CREDIT. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title II.)

(a) Section 711 (a) (2) (A) is amended to read as follows:

(A) Dividends received. The credit for dividends received shall apply, without limitation, to all dividends on stock of all corporations, except that no credit for dividends received shall be allowed with respect to dividends (actual or constructive) on stock of foreign personal holding companies or dividends on stock which is not a capital asset.

(b) The amendment made by subsection (a) shall be effective as of the date of enactment of the Excess Profits Tax Act of 1940.

SEC. 213. EXCESS PROFITS NET INCOME PLACED ON ANNUAL BASIS. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title II.)

(a) General rule. Section 711 (a) (3) (relating to taxable years of less than twelve months) is amended to read as follows:

(3) Taxable year less than twelve months. (A) General rule. If the taxable year is a period of less than twelve months the excess profits net income for such taxable year (referred to in this paragraph as the "short taxable year") shall be placed on an annual basis by multiplying the amount thereof by the number of days in the twelve months ending with the close of the short taxable year and dividing by the number of days in the short taxable year. The tax shall be such part of the tax computed on such annual basis as the number of days in the short taxable year is of the number of days in the twelve months ending with the close of the short taxable year.

(B) Exception. If the taxpayer establishes its adjusted excess profits net income for the period of twelve months beginning with the first day of the short taxable year, computed as if such twelve-month period were a taxable year, under the law applicable to the short taxable year, and using the credits applicable in determining the adjusted excess profits net income for such short taxable year, then the tax for the short taxable year shall be reduced to an amount which is such part of the tax computed on such adjusted excess profits net income so established as the excess profits net income for the short taxable year is of the excess profits net income for such twelve-month period. The taxpayer (other than a taxpayer to which the next sentence applies) shall compute the tax and file its return without the application of this subparagraph. If, prior to one year from the date of the beginning of the short taxable year, the taxpayer has disposed of substantially all its assets, in lieu of the twelve-month period provided in the preceding provisions of this subparagraph, the twelve-month period ending with the close of the short taxable year shall be used. For the purposes of this subparagraph, the excess profits net income for the short taxable year shall not be placed on an annual basis as provided in subparagraph (A), and the excess profits net income for the twelve-month period used shall in no case be considered less than the excess profits net income for the short taxable year. The benefits of this subparagraph shall not be allowed unless the taxpayer, at such time as regulations prescribed hereunder require, makes application therefor in accordance with such regulations, and such application, in case the return was filed without regard to this subparagraph, shall be considered a claim for credit or refund. The Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, shall prescribe such regulations as he may deem necessary for the application of this subparagraph.

(b) Taxable years to which amendment applicable. The amendment made by this section shall be applicable to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1939.

PAR. 2. Section 30.711 (a)–1, as amended by Treasury Decision 5045, approved May 3, 1941, is further amended by striking out the sixth sentence thereof.

PAR. 3. Section 30.711 (a) 2, as amended by Treasury Decision 5092, approved October 21, 1941, is further amended as follows:

(A) By striking out the first two paragraphs and by inserting in lieu thereof the following paragraphs:

If the excess profits credit for the taxable year is computed under section 713, the excess profits net income for such year is the normal tax net income as recomputed with the adjustments provided in section 711 (a) (1).

For taxable years beginning before January 1, 1941, section 711 (a) (1) (A), as originally enacted, provides that the deduction for taxes is to be increased in an amount equal to the tax for the taxable year under chapter 1 (not including the tax imposed under section 102). The amount of such adjustment is the amount of such tax after the allowance of the credit for foreign taxes as provided by sections 31 and 131. For taxable years beginning after December 31, 1940, no adjustment is to be made on account of the tax under chapter 1. Furthermore, although the excess profits tax is allowed as a deduction in computing normal-tax net income under chapter 1 for taxable years beginning in 1941, and the credit provided in section 26 (e) for income subject to the excess profits tax is allowed as a credit in computing normal-tax net income for taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941 (and for the purpose of computing the tentative tax under section 108 (a) (1) (B) for fiscal years beginning in 1941 and ending after June 30, 1942), neither such deduction nor such credit is allowed under section 711 (a) (1) (A), as amended, in computing excess profits net income for taxable years beginning after December 31, 1940.

The nature of the adjustment to be made under section 711 (a) (1) (B) with respect to long-term capital gains and losses (as defined under chapter 1) is the same for all excess profits tax taxable years. The amendment made by section 207 (a) of the Revenue Act of 1942 conforms the language of section 711 (a) (1) (B) to the terms used in the definition of capital gains and losses under chapter 1 for taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941. In recomputing normal-tax net income for the purpose of determining the excess profits net income for the taxable year, both for excess profits tax taxable years beginning before January 1, 1942, and those beginning after December 31, 1941, there shall be excluded long-term capital gains and losses and the excess of short-term capital losses over short-term capital gains. For example, a corporation has $4,000 long-term capital gains, $3,000 short-term capital gains, and $6,000 short-term capital losses. The $4,000 long-term capital gains are to be excluded for excess profits tax purposes. Accordingly, the deduction for short-term capital losses for excess profits tax purposes is limited to $3,000, the amount of the short-term capital gains, as expressly provided under section 117 (d) prior to its amendment, and as resulting under section 117 (d), as amended, by reason of the exclusion of long-term capital gains. That is, for taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941, capital losses are allowed as a deduction only to the extent of capital gains, and since both long-term gains and losses are excluded for excess profits tax purposes, short-term losses are allowed only to the extent of the remaining short-term gains.

For taxable years beginning after December 31, 1939, and before January 1, 1942, there is to be excluded under section 711 (a) (1) (B), as amended by section 208 of the Revenue Act of 1942, the excess of the recognized gains from the sale, exchange, or involuntary conversion (as a result of destruction in whole or in part, theft or seizure, or an exercise of the power of requisition or condemnation or the threat or imminence thereof) of property held for more than 18 months which is of a character which is subject to the allowance for depreciation in section 23 (l) over the recognized losses from the sale, exchange, or involuntary conversion of such property. For this purpose, section 117 (h) (1) and (2) shall apply in determining the period for which the taxpayer has held property which is of a character which is subject to the allowance for depreciation provided in section 23 (l). For treatment of the gains and losses referred to in the first sentence of this paragraph (in case the property was held for more than 6 months), and of the gains and losses from the involuntary conversion of certain other property, as long-term capital gains and losses for taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941, see section 117 (j). Any such gains and losses treated as long-term capital gains and losses are excluded in computing excess profits net income under the provisions of section 711 (a) (1) (B), as amended by section 207 (a) of the Revenue Act of 1942.

(B) By changing the original third paragraph thereof as follows:

(a) By inserting immediately preceding the first sentence the following new sentence:

For the purpose of the adjustment under section 711 (a) (1) (C), the applicable number of months beyond which the obligation of the taxpayer must have been outstanding is 18 months for taxable years beginning before January 1, 1942, and 6 months for taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941.

(b) By striking out "18 months" wherever it appears and by inserting in lieu thereof "the applicable number of months".

(C) By inserting immediately after the original fifth paragraph thereof the following paragraphs:

Under the law applicable to taxable years beginning in 1941, in determining any deduction the amount of which is limited to a percentage of the taxpayer's net income (for example, corporate charitable contributions under section 23 (q)) or the amount of which is limited to a percentage of the taxpayer's net income from the property (for example, discovery or percentage depletion under section 114 (b) (2), (3) and (4)), such net income, or net income from the property, as the case may be, shall be computed without regard to the deduction for excess profits tax allowed in computing normal-tax net income for such years. For taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941, the deduction for excess profits tax is not allowed in computing net income under chapter 1, and, therefore, such deductions, which are limited to net income, or to net income from the property, for such taxable years, will be the same for excess profits net income as for normal-tax net income if there are no other adjustments affecting net income or, net income from the property to be made under section 711 (a) (1) in recomputing normal-tax net income. For excess profits tax taxable years, whether beginning before or after December 31, 1941, deductions which are limited by other items of income or deductions, or by the net income or the net income from property are to be computed upon the basis of such items or such net income or net income from property as adjusted under section 711 (a) (1) in recomputing normal-tax net income for the purpose of determining the amount of excess profits net income.

Section 711 (a) (1) (J) provides for recomputation of the net operating loss deduction in computing excess profits net income under the income credit for the purpose of the tax for taxable years beginning after December 31, 1939. The various steps in computing the deduction are to be taken in the same manner and for the same years as are provided in section 122 and in the regulations thereunder, except as prescribed in the rules set forth in section 711 (a) (1) (J). The exceptions prescribed by section 711 (a) (1) (J) require that in the computation of the net operating loss for any taxable year under section 122 (a) and in the computation of the net income for any taxable year under section 122 (b) no deduction shall be allowed for any excess profits tax and, if the excess profits credit was computed under the invested capital method for the taxable year in which the loss was sustained or the net income arose, the deduction for interest for such taxable year shall be reduced by the amount of any reduction for such taxable year prescribed under section 711 (a) (2) (B). Furthermore, in lieu of the reduction prescribed in section 122 (c) for converting the net operating loss carry-over for a taxable year beginning before January 1, 1941, or the aggregate of the net operating loss carry-overs and carry-backs to a taxable year beginning after December 31, 1940, into the net operating loss deduction, the reduction for such purpose shall be the amount by which the excess profits net income for the taxable year in which the deduction is allowable, computed with the exceptions and limitations specified in section 122 (d) (1), (2), (3), and (4) and computed without regard to section 711 (a) (1) (B) (excluding long-term capital gains and losses), without regard to any credit for dividends received, and without regard to any credit for interest received provided in section 26 (a) exceeds the excess profits net income for such taxable year (computed without any net operating loss deduction). The net operating loss deduction so computed with the adjustments prescribed by section 711 (a) (1) (J) is deducted in computing normal-tax net income to determine excess profits net income, in lieu of the net operating loss deduction otherwise prescribed in sections 23 (s) and 122.

The computation of net operating loss, net operating loss carry-back and carry-over, and the net operating loss deduction for purposes of excess profits net income is illustrated by the following example:

Example. The X Corporation makes its income tax returns on a calendar year basis and under the accrual method of accounting. Its only net operating loss for the years 1939–1946, inclusive, occurs in 1944. Under section 122 (b), the net operating loss for 1944 first is to be carried back to 1942 and the balance of such carry-back, if any, computed as provided in sections 122 (b) and 711 (a) (1) (J) (i) is to be carried back to 1943. For 1942, 1943, and 1944, the facts with respect to the X Corporation are as follows:

	1942	1943	1944
(a) Tax exempt interest from State bonds	$1,000	$1,000	$1,000
(b) Dividends received	10,000	10,000	10,000
(c) Long-term capital gain	2,500	3,000	-------
(d) Interest from United States obligations	2,000	2,000	2,000
(e) Other items of gross income	200,000	300,000	20,000
(f) Total taxable gross income (sum of items (b), (c), (d), and (e))	214,500	315,000	32,000
(g) Deductions (other than net operating loss deduction; no capital losses)	154,500	177,000	115,000
(h) Net income or (loss)	60,000	138,000	($83,000)
(i) Credit for interest from United States obligations	2,000	2,000	2,000
(j) Adjusted net income	58,000	136,000	($85,000)
(k) Credit for dividends received (85 percent of amount in item (b) but not more than 85 percent of adjusted net income)	8,500	8,500	-------
(l) Normal tax net income (computed without net operating loss deduction and without credit for income subject to excess profits tax)	49,500	127,500	($85,000)

In order to determine the net operating loss for 1944 there must be added to the total gross taxable income of $32,000, the $1,000 of tax exempt interest, as provided in section 122 (d) (2). Accordingly, the net operating loss for 1944 is $82,000, the excess of $115,000 (item (g)) over $33,000 (the sum of item (f), $32,000, and item (a), $1,000). The net operating loss deduction for 1942 is the amount of this carry-back reduced as provided in section 711 (a) (1) (J) (ii). This reduction is the excess of the amount of excess profits net income for 1942 with certain adjustments provided in section 711 (a) (1) (J) (ii) over the amount of excess profits net income for 1942 (computed without the net operating loss deduction). The amount of excess profits net income for 1942 computed without the net operating loss deduction is $45,500, computed as follows:

Normal tax net income for 1942, as previously determined		$49,500
Less:
Long-term capital gain	$2,500
Credit for balance of dividends received	1,500	4,000
Excess profits net income (computed without net operating loss deduction)		45,500

The amount of excess profits net income computed with the adjustment provided in section 711 (a) (1) (J) (ii) from which the $45,500 is to be deducted is $61,000, computed as follows:

Excess profits net income (computed without net operating loss deduction in accordance with section 122 (d) (3))		$45,500
Plus:
Tax exempt interest		1,000
Long-term capital gain		2,500
Amount of credit for dividends received		10,000
Amount of credit for interest received		2,000
Total		61,000

Since $61,000 exceeds $45,500 by $15,500, the net operating loss carry-back of $82,000 to 1942 is to be reduced by $15,500, leaving a net operating loss deduction of $66,500 for the purpose of determining excess profits net income for 1942.

In this example, the net operating loss carry-back from 1944 to 1943 is the excess of the carry-back, $82,000, over the net income for 1942 computed under sections 122 (b) (1) and 711 (a) (1) (J) (i) as follows:

Net income for 1942, as previously determined	$60,000
Plus:
Tax exempt interest	1,000
Total	61,000

It will be noted that the excess profits tax for 1942 is not allowed under section 711 (a) (1) (J) (i) as a deduction in computing the above amount ($61,000) although it is allowed for income tax purposes as a deduction in computing net operating loss, as provided in section 122 (d) (6). The net operating loss carry-back to 1943 for purposes of excess profits tax therefore is $21,000 (the excess of $82,000 over $61,000). The net operating loss deduction for 1943 for purposes of excess profits net income for 1943 is the amount of $21,000 reduced as provided in section 711 (a) (1) (J) (ii). The amount of this reduction is computed in the same manner as the corresponding reduction was previously computed for 1942. That is, the excess profits net income for 1943, computed without net operating loss deduction, is $123,000, computed as follows:

Normal-tax net income, as previously determined		$127,500
Less:
Long-term capital gain	$3,000
Credit for balance of dividends received	1,500	4,500
Excess profits net income (computed without net operating loss deduction)		123,000

The amount which is in excess of this amount of $123,000 is $142,000, computed with the adjustments provided in section 711 (a) (1) (J) (ii) as follows:

Excess profits net income (computed without net operating loss deduction in accordance with section 122 (d) (3))	$123,000
Plus:
Tax exempt interest	1,000
Long-term capital gain	3,000
Amount of credit for dividends received	10,000
Amount of credit for interest received	2,000
Total	139,000

The excess of $139,000 over $123,000 is $16,000. Since the net operating loss carry-back to 1943 ($21,000) must be reduced by this amount ($16,000) in determining the deduction for 1943, the net operating loss deduction allowable for the purpose of determining excess profits net income for 1943 is $5,000.

In this example, no net operating loss carry-over from 1944 is allowable to 1945 or 1946. The net operating loss for 1944, $82,000, does not exceed the sum of the net income for 1942 and 1943 when the net income for 1942 and 1943 is computed under section 122 (b) (2) and section 711 (a) (1) (J) (ii). The net income for 1942 as previously determined under such sections is $61,000. The net income for 1943 computed under such sections is $139,000 computed as follows:

Net income for 1943 as previously determined	$138,000
Plus: Tax exempt interest	1,000
Total	139,000

For a deduction from normal-tax net income in the case of life insurance companies for the purpose of excess profits net income for taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941, see section 711 (a) (1) (H), as added by section 205 (b) of the Revenue Act of 1942. For exclusion of nontaxable income from exempt excess output of mines and timber blocks and nontaxable bonus income provided in section 735 in the case of a producer of minerals, or a producer of logs or lumber from a timber block, as defined in section 735, for taxable years beginning after December 31, 1940, see section 711 (a) (1) (I), as added by section 209 (a) of the Revenue Act of 1942.

(D) By inserting at the end thereof the following paragraph:

The above example is applicable equally to 1942 and subsequent years assuming the same facts are present, and assuming that the corporation did not comply with the provisions of section 22 (b) (9) for excluding income from the retirement of its bonds and that the $400,000 of normal-tax net income is computed without the credit provided in section 26 (e) for income subject to the excess profits tax. The example also would be applicable for 1942 and subsequent years if the holding period of the property described in item (2) was less than 18 months, so long as the period was more than 6 months.

PAR. 4. Section 30.711 (a)–3, as amended by Treasury Decision 5092, is further amended as follows:

(A) By changing the first two sentences thereof to read as follows:

If the excess profits credit for the taxable year is computed under section 714, then the excess profits net income for such year is the normal-tax net income recomputed with the adjustments provided in section 711 (a) (2). Under section 711 (a) (2) (A), there must be eliminated in computing normal-tax net income the credit allowed under chapter 1 for dividends received on stock which is not a capital asset as defined in section 117, such as stock held primarily for sale to customers by a dealer in securities.

(B) By changing (a) (2) by adding at the end thereof the following new sentence:

If a taxpayer in its return for a taxable year beginning after December 31, 1941, has made the election under section 720 (d), the amount of interest on obligations held during the taxable year which are described in section 22 (b) (4) shall be reduced by the amount, if any, of the amortizable bond premium under section 125 attributable to such obligations, and only the amount of interest so reduced shall be added to normal-tax net income.

(C) By inserting at the end thereof the following paragraph:

The above example is applicable equally to 1942 and subsequent years under the same assumptions of fact as were made with respect to the example in § 30.711 (a)–2 and with the additional assumption that neither the Treasury bonds nor the State bonds were purchased at a premium.

PAR. 5. Section 30.711 (a)–4 is amended to read as follows:

§ 30.711 (a)–4 Tax for period of less than 12 months—(a) Methods of computing tax for short taxable year; allowance. Section 711 (a) (3), as amended by the Revenue Act of 1942, provides rules, under a general rule and under an exception to such rule, which are applicable to all short excess profits tax taxable years beginning after December 31, 1939 for the purpose of determining 12 months' experience and computing the tax for such years. A short taxable year is any taxable period of less than 12 months. If the period from the date of incorporation of a corporation to the end of its first accounting period, or the period from the beginning of its last accounting period to the date it ceases operations and is dissolved, retaining no assets, is a period of less than 12 months, such period is a short taxable year. In every case of a short taxable year, whether of a type resulting from a change of accounting period or of a type described in the preceding sentence, the excess profits net income for a period of 12 months used for the purpose of computing the tax under this section shall be used for all other purposes under this subchapter (except as otherwise expressly provided) as the excess profits net income of the taxpayer for the short taxable year. The tax imposed by section 710 for the short taxable year shall be computed under paragraph (b) of this section, except as otherwise provided in paragraph (c) of this section.

(b) General rule. Section 711 (a) (3) (A) provides that the excess profits net income for a short taxable year shall be placed on an annual basis by multiplying the amount thereof by the number of days in the twelve months ending with the close of the short taxable year and dividing by the number of days in the short taxable year. A tentative tax shall then be computed as though the excess profits net income were the amount so ascertained under the preceding sentence. The actual tax for the short taxable year shall be an amount which bears the same ratio to such tentative tax as the number of days in the short taxable year bears to the total number of days in the 12 months ending with the close of the taxable year.

(c) Exception; tax for short period determined by actual 12-month adjusted excess profits net income. If the taxpayer applies to the Commissioner in the manner provided in paragraph (d) of this section to have its tax computed under the provisions of section 711 (a) (3) (B), and if the taxpayer establishes the amount of its adjusted excess profits net income, computed for the 12-month period hereinafter described and under the rules hereinafter prescribed, then section 711 (a) (3) (B) provides that the tax for the short taxable year shall be reduced to an amount which is such part of the tax computed on the basis of the adjusted excess profits net income which the taxpayer has established for such 12-month period as the excess profits net income for the short taxable year is of the excess profits net income for such 12-month period. If such amount, however, is greater than the tax computed under paragraph (b) of this section, the tax for the short taxable year is the tax computed under paragraph (b). The 12-month period referred to above is the 12-month period beginning with the first day of the short taxable year, except that if the taxpayer has disposed of substantially all its assets prior to the end of such 12-month period, then it is the 12-month period ending with the last day of the short taxable year. If a corporation ceases business and distributes so much of the assets used in its business that it cannot resume its customary operations with the remaining assets, it has disposed of substantially all of its assets.

In computing the tax under section 711 (a) (3) (B), the excess profits net income for the short taxable year is not placed on an annual basis as provided in section 711 (a) (3) (A). The adjusted excess profits net income for the 12-month period is computed under the same provisions of law as are applicable to the short taxable year, with the use of the credits applicable in determining the adjusted excess profits net income for such short taxable year (as if this section were not applicable), and is computed as if the 12-month period were an actual accounting period of the taxpayer. All items which fall in such 12-month period must be included even if they are extraordinary in amount or an unusual nature. The adjustments provided in section 711 (a) (1) and (2) under the law applicable to such short taxable year shall be made upon the basis of the normal-tax net income for such 12-month period. The apportionment of items to such 12-month period shall be made in accordance with the method and principles applicable under § 19.47–2 (b) of Regulations 103. The excess profits net income for the 12-month period used shall in no case be considered less than the actual excess profits net income for the short taxable year.

(d) Application to compute tax under section 711 (a) (3) (B). A taxpayer desiring the benefit of section 711 (a) (3) (B) must file an application therefor. If at the time the return for the short taxable year is filed the taxpayer is able to determine that the 12-month period ending with the close of the short taxable year will be used in the computations under section 711 (a) (3) (B), then the tax on the return for the short taxable year may be determined under the provisions of section 711 (a) (3) (B). In such a case, an excess profits tax return form covering the 12-month period shall be attached to the return as a part thereof, and the return will then be considered the application for the benefits of section 711 (a) (3) (B) required by that section. In all other cases, the taxpayer shall file its return and compute its tax as provided in paragraph (b), and the application for the benefits of section 711 (a) (3) (B) shall be made in the form of a claim for credit or refund. The claim shall set forth the computation of the adjusted excess profits net income and the tax thereon for the 12-month period, and must be filed not later than June 15, 1943, or the time prescribed for filing the return for the first taxable year ending with or after the twelfth month after the beginning of the short taxable year, whichever date is later. For example, the taxpayer changes its accounting period from the calendar year basis to the fiscal year basis ending September 30, and files a return for the period from January 1, 1942, to September 30, 1942. Its application for the benefits of section 711 (a) (3) (B) must be filed not later than the time prescribed for filing its return for the first taxable year which ends on or after the last day of December, 1942, the 12th month after the beginning of the short taxable year. In this case, the taxpayer must file its application not later than December 15, 1943, the time prescribed for filing the return for its fiscal year ending September 30, 1943. However, if it obtains an extension of time for filing the return for such fiscal year, it may file its application during the period of such extension. If the Commissioner determines that the taxpayer has established the amount of the adjusted excess profits net income for the 12-month period, any excess of the tax paid for the short taxable year over the tax computed under section 711 (a) (3) (B) will be credited or refunded to the taxpayer in the same manner as in the case of an overpayment.

PAR. 6. There is inserted immediately preceding section 30.711 (b)–1 the following:

SEC. 207. CAPITAL GAINS AND LOSSES IN THE COMPUTATION OF EXCESS PROFITS NET INCOME. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title II)

* * * * * * *

(e) Taxable years in base period. Section 711 (b) (1) (B) is amended to read as follows:

(B) Gains and losses from sales or exchanges of capital assets. There shall be excluded gains and losses from sales or exchanges of capital assets held for more than 6 months.

(f) Retirement of long-term bonds. Section 711 (b) (1) (C) is amended by striking out "eighteen months" and inserting in lieu thereof "6 months".

(g) Capital gains and losses. Section 711 (b) (2) is amended to read as follows:

(2) Capital gains and losses. For the purposes of this subsection the normal-tax net income and the special-class net income referred to in paragraph (1) shall be computed as if section 23 (g) (2), section 23 (k) (2), and section 117 were part of the revenue law applicable to the taxable year the excess profits net income of which is being computed, with the exception that the capital loss carry-over provided in subsection (e) (1) of section 117 shall be applicable to net capital losses for taxable years beginning after December 31, 1934. Such exception shall not apply for the purposes of computing the tax under this subchapter for any taxable year beginning before January 1, 1943.

SEC. 208. Retroactive

SEC. 208. RETROACTIVE TREATMENT OF INVOLUNTARY CONVERSIONS AS CAPITAL TRANSACTIONS. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title II.)

Effective with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1939, but not beginning after December 31, 1941, the second sentence of setcion 711 (a) (1) (B), section 711 (a) (2) (D), and section 711 (b) (1) (B) is amended to read as follows: "There shall be excluded the excess of the recognized gains from the sale, exchange, or involuntary conversion (as a result of destruction in whole or in part, theft or seizure, or an exercise of the power of requisition or condemnation or the threat or imminence thereof) of property held for more than eighteen months which is of a character which is subject to the allowance for depreciation provided in section 23 (1) over the recognized losses from the sale, exchange, or involuntary conversion of such property. For the purposes of this subparagraph, section 117 (h) (1) and (2) shall apply in determining the period for which the taxpayer has held property which is of a character which is subject to the allowance for depreciation provided in section 23 (1).

SEC. 201. TAXABLE YEARS TO WHICH AMENDMENTS APPLICABLE. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title II.)

Except as otherwise expressly provided, the amendments made by this title shall be applicable only with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941.

PAR. 7. Section 30.711 (b)-1, as amended by Treasury Decision 5092, is further amended as follows:

(A) By striking out the matter in the example in the third paragraph reading "The adjustments required in computing the excess profits net income of the corporation for 1936 and 1939 are as follows:" and by inserting in lieu thereof the following: "For the purpose of computing the income credit applicable to an excess profits tax taxable year beginning before January 1, 1942, the adjustments required in computing the excess profits net income of the corporation for 1936 and 1939 are as follows:"

(B) By inserting immediately preceding the fourth paragraph the following sentences and paragraph:

For the purpose of computing the income credit applicable to an excess profits tax taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 1942, the results will be the same as those shown above although the form of the adjustments is somewhat different by reason of a change in terminology under the amendments made by the Revenue Act of 1942. The normal-tax net income for 1936 as adjusted under section 711 (b) (2), as amended, will be $72,000. The additions to normal-tax net income of $27,000 as made above, will stand (although the loss on the worthless stock and bonds will be added back because, under the amendments made by the Revenue Act of 1942, such loss will be considered a long-term capital loss; i. e., loss from sale or exchange of capital assets held for more than 6 months). Under section 117 (d) (1), as amended, losses from sales or exchanges of capital assets are allowed only to the extent of gains from such sales or exchanges. It is assumed that under section 117 (j), as amended, the net loss of $5,000 from the sales of property (held for more than 6 months) of the character subject to the allowance for depreciation under section 23 (1) is an ordinary loss. Accordingly, under section 711 (b) (2), as amended, there is no deduction of net capital losses and only the $5,000 ordinary loss is to be subtracted from the $77,000 previously determined. No adjustment is required under section 711 (b) (1) (B), as amended, for 1936. For 1939, no adjustment is necessary under section 711 (b) (2), as amended. It is assumed that under section 117 (j), as amended, the $3,000 net gain from sales of property (held for more than 6 months) of the character subject to the allowance for depreciation provided in section 23 (1) is considered long-term capital gain. The adjustment for 1939 under section 711 (b) (1) (B), as amended, is the same as that shown above.

The following rules apply to the use of capital loss carry-overs to base period years when computing the income credit applicable to the excess profits tax taxable years indicated below:

(1) If the excess profits tax taxable year begins after December 31, 1940, and before January 1, 1942, the net short-term capital loss carry-over provided in section 117 (e), prior to its amendment by the Revenue Act of 1942, shall be applicable to net short-term capital losses for taxable years beginning after December 31, 1934, and for the purpose of determining such carry-over capital gains and losses shall be determined as if the provisions of section 23 (g) (2) and (k) (2) and section 117 of the Code, prior to amendment by the Revenue Act of 1942, were applicable to all of such years.

(2) If the excess profits tax taxable year begins in 1942, the net short-term capital loss carry-over provided in section 117 (e), prior to its amendment by the Revenue Act of 1942, shall be applicable to net short-term capital losses for taxable years beginning after December 31, 1934, and for the purpose of determining such carry-over capital gains and losses shall be determined as if the provisions of section 23 (g) (2) and (k) (2) and section 117 of the Code (other than section 117 (e)), as amended by the Revenue Act of 1942 were applicable to all of such years.

(3) If the excess profits tax taxable year begins on or after January 1, 1943, the capital loss carry-over provided in section 117 (e) (1), as amended by the Revenue Act of 1942, shall be applicable to net capital losses for taxable years beginning after December 31, 1934, and for the purpose of determining such carry-over capital gains and losses shall be determined as if the provisions of section 23 (g) (2) and (k) (2) and section 117 of the Code, as amended by the Revenue Act of 1942, were applicable to all of such years.

No capital loss carry-over is allowed to the base period years if the income credit is being computed for an excess profits tax taxable year beginning in 1940. Section 117 (e) (2), as added by the Revenue Act of 1942, has no application for the purposes of computing capital loss carry-overs to base period years.

(C) By inserting immediately after the original fourth paragraph the following new paragraph:

For the purpose of the adjustment under section 711 (b) (1) (C), the applicable number of months beyond which the obligation of the taxpayer must have been outstanding is 18 months if the adjustment is being made for the purpose of the income credit applicable to a taxable year beginning before January 1, 1942, but it is only 6 months if the adjustment is being made for the purpose of the income credit applicable to a taxable year beginning after December 31, 1941. The applicable number of months beyond which the obligation of the taxpayer must have been outstanding for the purpose of the adjustment under section 711 (b) (1) (D) is 18 months in every case.

PAR. 9. Section 30.711 (b)-2, as added by Treasury Decision 5045, is amended by inserting at the end of the fourth paragraph the following sentences:

If the excess profits tax taxable year is a taxable year of less than 12 months and the taxpayer places its excess profits net income on an annual basis as provided in section 711 (a) (3) (A) or establishes an adjusted excess profits net income for a 12-month period, which is used to compute the tax under section 711 (a) (3) (B), the deductions of the class as determined upon such annual basis or under such adjusted excess profits net income for such 12-month period used shall be considered as deductions of the class for the excess profits tax taxable year. Thus, the corporation in the example just given may have changed its accounting period in 1943 from a calendar year to a fiscal year ending September 30. If, in such case, the corporation had $125,000 of deductions of the class for the short taxable year January 1, 1943, through September 30, 1943, but, computed its tax under section 711 (a) (3) (B) and established an adjusted excess profits net income for the 12-month period January 1, 1943 through December 31, 1943, with $175,000 of deductions of the class, only $25,000 will be disallowed for the taxable year 1938 in determining the excess profits credit based on income for use against the excess profits net income for 1943.

PAR. 10. There is inserted immediately preceding section 30.720-1 the following:

SEC. 207. CAPITAL GAINS AND LOSSES IN THE COMPUTATION OF EXCESS PROFITS NET INCOME. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title II.)

* * * * *

(h) Inadmissible asset ratio.—Section 720 (c) is amended by striking out "short-term capital gain" and inserting in lieu thereof "gain from the sale or exchange of a capital asset held for not more than 6 months".

SEC. 220. AMORTIZABLE BOND PREMIUM ON CERTAIN GOVERNMENT OBLIGATIONS. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title II.)

The first sentence of section 720 (d) (relating to increase in excess profits net income where Government obligations treated as admissible assets) is amended to read as follows: "If the excess profits credit for any taxable year is computed under section 714, the taxpayer may in its return for such year elect to increase its normal-tax net income for such taxable year by an amount equal to the amount of the interest on, reduced by the amount of the amortizable bond premium under section 125 attributable to, all obligations held during the taxable year which are described in section 22 (b) (4) any part of the interest from which is excludible from gross income or allowable as a credit against net income."

SEC. 201. TAXABLE YEARS TO WHICH AMENDMENTS APPLICABLE. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title II.)

Except as otherwise expressly provided, the amendments made by this title shall be applicable only with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941.

PAR. 11. Section 30.720-1, as amended by Treasury Decision 5045, is further amended as follows:

(A) By inserting in the fifth sentence, immediately after "taxable year" the first time it appears in such sentence, the following: "beginning before January 1, 1942".

(B) By inserting immediately after the fifth sentence thereof the following new sentence:

If a taxpayer in its return for a taxable year beginning after December 31, 1941 elects to increase its normal-tax net income for that year for the purpose of the excess profits tax by including all the interest derived from obligations described in section 22 (b) (4), reduced by the amount, if any, of the amortizable bond premium under section 125 attributable to such obligations (see section 19.125-1 of Regulations 103), all such obligations shall be considered admissible assets for such taxable year.

(C) By changing that part of the original sixth sentence thereof which reads "For the purpose of the preceding sentence," to read "For the purpose of the two preceding sentences,".

(D) By inserting in the first sentence of the second paragraph (not counting the divisions designated (a), (b), and (c) as paragraphs), immediately after "taxable year", the following: "(or, during a taxable year beginning after December 31, 1941, gain from sale or exchange of a capital asset held for not more than 6 months)".

(Sec. 62 of the Internal Revenue Code able year", the following: "(or, during a applicable by sec. 729 (a) of the Internal Revenue Code (54 Stat. 989; 26 U.S.C. 729 (a)), and secs. 201, 205 (b) and (c), 206, 207, 208, 209 (a), (b), and (d), 210, 211, 213, and 220 of the Revenue Act of 1942 (Public Law 753, 77th Congress))

GUY T. HELVERING,
Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

TITLE 30—MINERAL RESOURCES

Chapter III—Bituminous Coal Division

[Docket No. A-1888]

PART 321—MINIMUM PRICE SCHEDULE, DISTRICT NO. 1

ORDER GRANTING RELIEF

Order granting temporary relief and conditionally providing for final relief in the matter of the petition of District Board No. 1 for the establishment of price classifications and minimum prices for rail and truck shipments and changes in the freight origin group numbers and shipping points for the coals of certain mines.

An original petition, pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, having been duly filed with this Division by the above-named party, requesting the establishment, both temporary and permanent, of price classifications and minimum prices and changes in the Freight Origin Group Numbers and the shipping points for the coals of certain mines in District No. 1; and

It appearing that a reasonable showing of necessity has been made for the granting of temporary relief in the manner hereinafter set forth; and

No petitions of intervention having been filed with the Division in the above-entitled matter; and

The following action being deemed necessary in order to effectuate the purposes of the Act;

It is ordered, That, pending final disposition of the above-entitled matter, temporary relief is granted as follows: Commencing forthwith, § 321.7 (Alphabetical list of code members) is amended by adding thereto Supplement R, and § 321.24 (General prices) is amended by adding thereto Supplement T, which supplements are hereinafter set forth and hereby made a part hereof; and commencing forthwith, the Freight Origin Group Numbers and shipping points appearing in the aforesaid Supplement R for the mines mentioned therein are effective in place of the Freight Origin Group Numbers and shipping points heretofore established for these mines.

No relief is granted herein for the coals of the Hillside Coal Co. Mine, Mine Index No. 3912, of A. G. Sewiskey (Hillside Coal Co.) in Size Group 3, as requested, for the reason that minimum prices were established for the Size Group 3 coals of this mine as Mine Index No. 3478 for truck shipment in Docket No. A-1440 and, therefore, Mine Index No. 3912 is deleted.

It is further ordered, That pleadings in opposition to the original petition in the above-entitled matter and applications to stay, terminate or modify the temporary relief herein granted may be filed with the Division within forty-five (45) days from the date of this order, pursuant to the rules and regulations governing practice and procedure before the Bituminous Coal Division in proceedings instituted pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937.

It is further ordered, That the relief in 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal herein granted shall become final sixty (60) days from the date of this order, unless it shall otherwise be ordered.

Dated: March 18, 1943.

PART 323—MINIMUM PRICE SCHEDULE, DISTRICT NO. 3

ORDER GRANTING RELIEF

Order granting temporary relief and conditionally providing for final relief in the matter of the petition of District Board No. 3 for the establishment of price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of certain mines and for a change in shipping point for the coals of the Christopher No. 6 Mine of Christopher Mining Company.

An original petition, pursuant to sec- Act of 1937, having been duly filed with this Division by the above-named party, requesting the establishment, both temporary and permanent, of price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of certain mines in District No. 3, and a change in the shipping point for the coals of the Christopher No. 6 Mine of Christopher Mining Company, also in District No. 3; and

It appearing that a reasonable showing of necessity has been made for the granting of temporary relief in the manner hereinafter set forth; and

No petitions of intervention having been filed with the Division in the above-entitled matter; and

The following action being deemed necessary in order to effectuate the purposes of the Act;

It is ordered, That, pending final disposition of the above-entitled matter, temporary relief is granted as follows: Commencing forthwith, § 323.6 (Alphabetical list of code members) is amended by adding thereto Supplement R, and § 323.23 (General prices) is amended by adding thereto Supplement T, which supplements are hereinafter set forth and hereby made a part hereof; and, commencing forthwith, the shipping point appearing in the aforesaid Supplement R for the coals produced at the Christopher No. 6 Mine, Mine Index No. 4, shall be effective in lieu of the shipping point hitherto established for the coals produced at this mine.

It is further ordered, That pleadings in opposition to the original petition in the above-entitled matter and applications to stay, terminate or modify the temporary relief herein granted may be filed with the Division within forty-five (45) days from the date of this order, pursuant to the rules and regulations governing practice and procedure before the Bituminous Coal Division in proceedings instituted pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937.

It is further ordered, That the relief herein granted shall become final sixty (60) days from the date of this order, unless it shall otherwise be ordered.

PART 333—MINIMUM PRICE SCHEDULE, DISTRICT NO. 13

ORDER GRANTING RELIEF

Order granting temporary relief and conditionally providing for final relief in the matter of the petition of District Board No. 13 for the establishment of price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of certain mines in District No. 13.

An original petition, pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, having been duly filed with this Division by the above-named party, requesting the establishment, both temporary and permanent, of price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of certain mines in District No. 13, including the coals produced in Size Group 10 for rail shipment at the New River Mine (Mine Index No. 21) of Brookside-Pratt Mining Company; and

It appearing that a reasonable showing of necessity has been made for the granting of temporary relief in the manner hereinafter set forth; and

No petitions of intervention having been filed with the Division in the above-entitled matter; and

The following action being deemed necessary in order to effectuate the purposes of the Act;

It is ordered, That, pending final disposition of the above-entitled matter, temporary relief is granted as follows:

Commencing forthwith, § 333.6 (General prices) is amended by adding thereto Supplement R–I, § 333.7 (Special prices—(a) Prices for shipment to all railroads and for exclusive use of railroads) is amended by adding thereto Supplement R–II, § 333.7 (Special prices—(c) Prices for shipment by railroad, applicable to all coal sold for steamship vessel fuel) is amended by adding thereto Supplement R–III, § 333.24 (General prices) is amended by adding thereto Supplement R–IV, § 333.25 (Special prices—(b) Prices for shipment to all railroads for locomotive fuel, station heating, power plants and other uses) is amended by adding thereto Supplement R–V, § 333.27 (Prices for shipment by river (free alongside) for all uses (except for railway locomotive fuel) for delivery via the Tennessee River to f. a. s. consumers in the States of Tennessee and Alabama) is amended by adding thereto Supplement R–VI, § 333.34 (General prices in cents per net ton for shipment into all market areas) is amended by adding thereto Supplement T–I and § 333.43 (General prices in cents per net ton for shipment into all market areas) is amended by adding thereto Supplement T–II, which supplements are hereinafter set forth and hereby made a part hereof.

It is further ordered, That pleadings in opposition to the original petition in the above-entitled matter and applications to stay, terminate or modify the temporary relief herein granted may be filed with the Division within forty-five (45) days from the date of this order, pursuant to the rules and regulations governing practice and procedure before the Bituminous Coal Division in proceedings instituted pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937.

It is further ordered, That the relief herein granted shall become final sixty (60) days from the date of this order, unless it shall otherwise be ordered.

No relief is granted for the coals produced in Size Group 10 for rail shipment at the New River Mine (Mine Index No. 21) of Brookside-Pratt Mining Company, as requested by petitioner for the reasons set forth in an order issued this day severing that portion of Docket No. A–1827, which relates to such coals and designating such portion as Docket No. A–1827 Part II.

Dated: March 11, 1943.

PART 1128—CLOSURES FOR GLASS CONTAINERS

[Conservation Order M-104,[1] as Amended March 15, 1943]

§ 1128.1 Conservation Order M–104—(a) Definitions. (1) "Closure" means any sealing or covering device affixed or to be affixed to a glass container for the purpose of retaining the contents within the container.

(2) "Glass container" means any bottle, jar, or tumbler which is made of glass and which is suitable for packing any product.

(3) "Tinplate" means sheet steel coated with tin, and includes "primes," "seconds," "waste-waste," and all other forms of tinplate except waste.

(4) "Terneplate" means sheet steel coated with a lead-tin alloy, and includes "primes," "seconds," "waste-waste," and all other forms of terneplate except waste.

(5) "Blackplate" means any sheet steel, other than tinplate or terneplate, suitable for manufacture into closures, and includes "rejects," "electrolytic waste-waste," and all other forms of blackplate except waste.

(6) "Waste" means used closures and used cans, made of tinplate, terneplate, or blackplate; and scrap tinplate, terneplate, and blackplate produced in the ordinary course of manufacturing closures.

(7) "Rubber," whether a separate sealing ring or incorporated into a closure, means any polyvinyl acetate, or any crude rubber, latex, scrap rubber, reclaimed rubber, or synthetic rubber, as defined by Supplementary Order M–15–b, as amended from time to time.

(8) "Pack," unless particularly specified, means the number of closures used for packing a product during the base period specified.

(b) Restrictions upon manufacture, sale, and delivery of closures. (1) No person shall sell or deliver any closure made in whole or in part of tinplate, terneplate, blackplate, wire, rubber, or waste, except under a purchase order or contract validated by delivery to such person of a purchaser's certificate, manually signed by the purchaser or an authorized official of the purchaser, in substantially the form attached hereto as Exhibit A. No person shall manufacture, sell, or deliver any such closure which he knows or has reason to believe will be used in violation of any provision of this order.

(2) No person shall use any tinplate, terneplate, blackplate, waste or rubber for the manufacture of the following types of closures:

(i) Cover caps which serve as a protective or decorative closure in addition to any original sealing medium such as another closure or paraffin.

(ii) Double shell or semi-double shell caps.

(iii) Two-piece closures when both pieces are made of metal, except as permitted in paragraph (b) (3).

(3) No person shall use any tinplate, terneplate, blackplate, wire, or rubber for the manufacture of any closure of the home canning type, except as, and to the extent permitted in Schedule V attached to this order. No closure manufactured pursuant to Schedule V shall knowingly be sold to any person for packing any product for sale.

(4) No person shall use any tinplate, terneplate, or blackplate, except "rejects" or "electrolytic waste-waste," heavier than 90 pounds per base box, for the manufacture of crown caps.

(5) No person shall use for the manufacture of closures any tinplate with a tin coating in excess of 1.25 pounds per base box.

(c) Restrictions upon purchase, acceptance of delivery, and use of closures. No person shall, during any calendar year (or seasonal year or other period, when specified) purchase, accept delivery of, or use for packing a product, any closure made in whole or in part of tin-

The effect of this amendment is to amend certain items in Schedules I and V.

plate, terneplate, blackplate, or rubber, except as, and to the extent permitted in Schedules I, II, III, and IV, attached to this order: Provided, however, That a jobber or retailer may obtain and sell closures in conformity with the provisions of this order. Blackplate may be used wherever tinplate or terneplate is specified. Closures made of waste shall not be used for packing any product for which closures made of tinplate, terneplate, and blackplate are totally prohibited.

(d) Exceptions. (1) Nothing in this order shall prohibit any person who used less than 5,000 closures during the calendar year 1942 from purchasing, accepting delivery of, or using without restriction, an aggregate of 5,000 closures during any subsequent calendar year.

(2) The restrictions imposed by this order shall not apply to the purchase, acceptance of delivery, or use of closures for packing any product not listed in the schedules attached to this order, when such closures, on or before December 23, 1942, were completely manufactured or were in the form of tinplate, terneplate, or blackplate fully lithographed with a person's private design cut into strips.

(3) No certificate shall be required for the sale or delivery of closures to:

(i) Retailers;

(ii) Persons purchasing closures from retailers.

(4) Nothing in this order shall prohibit the purchase, acceptance of delivery, or use (such use to be in addition to any quota specified in the schedules attached to this order) of closures by any of the following persons or by any person for packing any product to be delivered to or for the account of any of the following persons:

(i) Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Maritime Commission, or War Shipping Administration of the United States (including persons operating vessels for such Administration or Commission for use thereon).

(ii) Any person for packing products for retail sale or distribution through post-exchanges, sales commissaries, officers' messes, servicemen's clubs, ship service stores, or outlets; provided same are located at Army or Navy camps, are not operated for private profit and are established primarily for the use of Army or Navy enlisted personnel within Army or Navy establishments or on Army or Navy vessels.

(iii) American Red Cross or United Service Organizations.

(iv) Any agency of the United States purchasing for a foreign country pursuant to the Act of March 11, 1941, entitled "An Act to Promote the Defense of the United States" (Lend-Lease Act).

(v) Any person in the Territory of Hawaii: provided that the exception provided by this paragraph (d) (4) (v) shall be limited to closures used in connection with the packing of products to be consumed in the said Territory.

(e) Miscellaneous provisions—(1) Applicability of priorities regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the priorities regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(2) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(3) Communications. All reports required to be filed hereunder and all communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: Containers Division, War Production Board, Washington, D. C. Ref: M-104.

(4) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

Issued this 15th day of March 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

SCHEDULE I—FOOD CLOSURES

[NOTE: Item 5 under "Milk and Dairy Products" was amended March 15, 1943.]

A. Any person who used closures from January 1, 1942 to December 31, 1942, for packing a food product not listed in this Schedule I, may use an equal number of closures during the year 1943 for packing the products listed in this schedule, in addition to the quotas respectively specified.

B. Wherever the asterisk appears the packing quota relates to the number of closures and cans used for packing the applicable product.

C. Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (d) (4) of this order, the respective quotas specified for items 3 and 6 under Fruits and item 6 under Milk and Dairy Products shall include pack required to be set aside by any order of the Director General for Operations for purchase by government agencies.

D. No product packed in a can shall be repacked for sale in a glass container, by the same or a different person, in the same or a different form, except to the extent specifically permitted in this schedule.

E. Split year items such as "1941 2" appearing in the column "1943 Packing Quota" refer to specified seasonal year base periods to be used in computing permitted packs for subsequent seasonal years.

On and after January 1, 1943, no person shall use closures for such purpose except in accordance with this schedule.

Product—Bottling quota	Closure material
Product: Malt beverages, including only beer, ale, porter near-beer, and mixtures thereof Quota: Any person who produced in 1941 less than 65,000 barrels may use in any calendar month, commencing with December 1, 1942, 100 percent, and any person who produced in 1941 over 65,000 barrels may use in any calendar month, commencing with December 1, 1942, 70 percent of the number of closures affixed by him to glass containers during the corresponding month of 1941. In the case of a person who packed all or part of his 1941 production in cans, each such can may be counted as a closure affixed to a glass container. In the case of a person who did not produce any malt beverages in 1941, such beverages bottled by him, shall be considered as having been produced by him, and his authorized usage of closures shall be calculated accordingly	Tinplate and blackplate allocated for purposes of crown manufacture, only, and in inventory of crown manufacturer or bottler on or before December 11, 1942. Also rejects and electrolytic waste-waste.
Product: Non-alcoholic beverages, including only carbonated soft drinks; non-carbonated soft drinks, unflavored carbonated waters; unflavored naturally carbonated and still waters, drinks consisting of fruit juices, vegetable juices, and combinations thereof, where less than 85 percent by weight of such drinks is pure fruit juice, vegetable juice, or a mixture thereof; and sterilized milk drinks made with powdered milk. Quota: Any person who used in 1941 less than 5,000 gross of closures, may use during any calendar quarter, commencing with October 1, 1942, 100 percent of the number of closures affixed by him to glass containers during the corresponding quarter of 1941. Any person who used in 1941 more than 5,000 and less than 7,000 gross of closures, may use not to exceed 5,000 gross of closures in any twelve-month period, commencing with October 1, 1942, the number used during any calendar quarter to be at the same proportionate rate he affixed closures to glass containers during the corresponding quarter of 1941. Any person who used in 1941 more than 7,000 gross of closures, may use during any calendar quarter, commencing with October 1, 1942, 70 percent of the number of closures affixed by him to glass containers during the corresponding quarter of 1941.	Tinplate and blackplate allocated for purposes of crown manufacture only, and in inventory of crown manufacturer or bottler on or before December 11, 1942. Also rejects and electrolytic waste-waste.

(1) No person, other than a jobber purchasing for resale, shall accept delivery of malt beverage or non-alcoholic beverage closures which would increase his inventory beyond 20 percent of the number of such closures and caps which he used in 1941 for packing malt beverages and non-alcoholic beverages.

(2) Closures for waters. Except with regard to items listed in schedule II, no closures made of tinplate, terneplate, or blackplate shall be affixed to glass containers smaller than 12 fluid ounces, for packing unflavored carbonated, natural or mineral waters, unless such glass containers were manufactured on or before June 1, 1942.

(3) All persons who bottle malt beverages or non-alcoholic beverages, shall report upon Form PD-519 to the Containers Division, War Production Board, Washington D. C.

PART 3208—CRITICAL COMMON COMPONENTS

[General Scheduling Order M-293, Amendment 1]

Section 3208.1 General Scheduling Order M-293 (8 F.R. 2472, 2756) is hereby amended in the following respects:

1. Subparagraph (2) of paragraph (c) is amended by deleting the term "April 1, 1943" in the first sentence and substituting in lieu thereof "May 1, 1943" so that the subparagraph shall read as follows:

(2) On and after May 1, 1943 (or such later date as may be specified in the applicable form), notwithstanding any preference rating which other orders may bear or any directive, rule or regulation of the War Production Board, each manufacturer shall deliver Class X critical common components only in accordance with the schedule filed pursuant to paragraph (c) (1), as the same may be changed by the War Production Board.

2. Subparagraph (1) of paragraph (d) is amended by deleting the term "April 1, 1943" in the first sentence and substituting in lieu thereof "May 1, 1943" so that the subparagraph shall read as follows:

(d) Placing and acceptance of orders for Class Y critical common components. (1) Except as otherwise provided in the annexed schedule, on and after May 1, 1943 no person shall place an order with a manufacturer, and no manufacturer shall accept an order, for any Class Y critical common component unless accompanied by a specific authorization of the War Production Board. Such authorization may specify the manufacturer with whom the order may be placed. Applications for such authorization may be made to the War Production Board by the person seeking to place an order on the applicable form designated in Column 3 of the annexed schedule.

Issued this 29th day of March 1943.

PART 1049—INCANDESCENT, FLUORESCENT AND OTHER ELECTRIC DISCHARGE LAMPS

[General Limitation Order L-28, as Amended March 30, 1943]

Whereas the demands of national defense have created a shortage of nickel, brass, copper and other materials used in the manufacture of incandescent lamps; action has already been taken to conserve the supply and direct the distribution of such materials to insure deliveries for defense and essential civilian requirements; and the present supply of these materials will be insufficient for defense and essential civilian requirements unless their use in the manufacture of incandescent lamps is curtailed;

§ 1049.1 General Limitation Order L-28—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Incandescent lamp" means any hermetically-sealed lamp or bulb, designed primarily to produce light, which makes use of a metal or carbon filament or metal wire strip, foil, or compound as the source of light.

(2) "Fluorescent lamp" means any hermetically-sealed electric discharge lamp or tube (other than a cold-cathode tube) in which the radiant energy from the electric discharge is converted by suitable phosphor coatings into visible wave lengths.

(3) "Glow discharge lamp" means any hermetically-sealed electric discharge lamp or tube (other than a fluorescent lamp) containing gases or vapors and designed to operate at impressed voltages of less than one thousand volts to produce visible light.

(4) "Blackout lamp" means any incandescent lamp having a lumen output of less than 1 lumen per watt, with an opaque coating on more than 50% of the external or internal glass surface.

(5) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, governmental corporation or agency, or any organized group of persons whether incorporated or not.

(6) "Manufacturer" means any person who produces or assembles any incandescent, fluorescent or glow discharge lamp or part therefor, or who coats, etches or otherwise marks any such lamps for use by any other person.

(7) "Wholesaler" means any person (other than a manufacturer) engaged in the business of selling incandescent, fluorescent or glow discharge lamps to dealers for resale, whether or not he also sells such lamps to the public.

(8) "Dealer" means any person (other than a manufacturer or wholesaler) engaged in the business of selling incandescent, fluorescent or glow discharge lamps to the public.

(9) "Military exemption order" means a purchase order, contract or subcontract for incandescent, fluorescent or glow discharge lamps, or parts for such lamps, to be purchased (or physically incorporated into lamps to be purchased) by or for the account of the Army or Navy of the United States, the United States Maritime Commission, the War Shipping Administration, or the Panama Canal, or the armed forces of any country eligible for Lend-Lease assistance pursuant to the Act of March 11, 1941, entitled "An Act to Promote the Defense of the United States" (Lend-Lease Act), when accompanied by a certification in the following form, signed by the appropriate procuring officer or the person placing such order:

This is to certify that all lamps (or lamp parts) specified in this order are to be used by the United States Army (or Navy, Maritime Commission, War Shipping Administration or Panama Canal, or armed services of a Lend-Lease country) on ships, aircraft, vehicles or weapons, or outside the continental limits of the United States.

Any provision of this order which expressly permits the fulfillment of a military exemption order shall be deemed to permit a manufacturer to produce lamps or lamp parts to replace in his inventory lamps or lamp parts which, though not produced pursuant to military exemption orders, have been delivered by him pursuant to military exemption orders.

(b) General restrictions. (1) During the period of three months beginning October 1, 1942, and during each succeeding period of three months until otherwise ordered by the War Production Board, no manufacturer shall produce bases for incandescent, fluorescent and glow discharge lamps having a total weight greater than 31¼% of the total weight of such bases produced by him during 1940, except that any such manufacturer may, in addition to the foregoing quota, produce additional bases:

(i) Having a total weight equal to any part of his quota for the next succeeding period of three months: Provided, That he reduces his quota for such succeeding period of three months by an equivalent amount; and

(ii) Having a total weight equal to any unused part of his quota for the preceding period of three months.

(2) No manufacturer shall produce any incandescent lamps designed primarily for use on Christmas trees, or for advertising, decorative or display purposes.

(3) (i) Commencing April 1, 1943, no manufacturer shall produce or deliver any incandescent, fluorescent or glow discharge lamps except in accordance with the schedules approved or prescribed by the War Production Board as hereinafter provided; and no manufacturer shall alter such approved or prescribed production or delivery schedules unless authorized or directed to do so by the War Production Board.

(ii) On or before April 15, 1943, each manufacturer shall file with the War Production Board a statement in writing which shall include such manufacturer's proposed production schedules and his proposed delivery schedules for incandescent, fluorescent and glow discharge lamps respectively, so far as then planned, but in any event for not less than the three calendar months following March 31, 1943. This reporting requirement has been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(iii) The War Production Board will notify manufacturers of its approval or disapproval of the production and delivery schedules for the calendar quarter, or longer period, covered in such schedules. The War Production Board may at any time, change any schedules; direct the cancellation of any order shown on any schedule; prescribe any other schedule for production or deliveries for any period, regardless of whether a schedule for such period, or any part thereof, has been reported by the manufacturer or theretofore approved by the War Production Board; allocate any order listed on the report to any other manufacturer; or direct the delivery of any incandescent lamps so listed to any other person, at the established price and terms.

(iv) If any schedule for production or deliveries approved under the provisions of this order does not correspond to the authorized production schedule approved for the same quarter under the Controlled Materials Plan (on Form CMP–4B, or any other designated form), then the schedule approved under this order shall constitute the authorized production schedule of that manufacturer.

(4) No wholesaler or dealer shall sell, lease, trade, lend, deliver, ship or transfer any photoflash or photoflood incandescent lamps, except:

(i) To a manufacturer, wholesaler or dealer;

(ii) In fulfillment of purchase orders or contracts bearing preference ratings of AA–5 or higher.

(5) No manufacturer or reclaimer of bases for incandescent, fluorescent or glow discharge lamps shall sell, transfer or deliver any bases for such lamps, except with the specific authorization of the War Production Board. On or before the 20th day of each calendar month, each manufacturer or reclaimer of bases for incandescent, fluorescent or glow discharge lamps shall file with the War Production Board a statement on Form PD–532 of the total metal weight of bases for incandescent and glow discharge lamps and the total number of bases for fluorescent lamps which he expects to be able to transfer or deliver during the next succeeding calendar month. The War Production Board shall thereupon authorize on Form PD–532 each manufacturer or reclaimer of bases for incandescent, fluorescent or glow discharge lamps to deliver a maximum metal weight of bases for incandescent and glow discharge lamps and a maximum number of bases for fluorescent lamps during the succeeding calendar month to such manufacturers and other persons as said War Production Board may deem appropriate.

(6) No manufacturer shall produce any blackout lamp or convert any incandescent lamp into a blackout lamp by etching, painting or otherwise coating it, except:

(i) In fulfillment of a specific order, contract or subcontract for blackout lamps produced according to specifications approved by the Army or Navy of the United States for delivery of such lamps to or for the account of the Army or Navy of the United States, the United States Maritime Commission, the War Shipping Administration, or the Panama Canal, or

(ii) Pursuant to specific authorization granted by the War Production Board.

(7) No manufacturer shall produce or accept delivery of any lamp leads, filament supports, terminals or lamp bases containing nickel, copper, brass or chromium, except:

(i) In electroplated coatings (except that no nickel may be used for plating lamp bases);

(ii) In alloys of controlled thermal expansion properties, provided that such alloys may be used only for sealing in glass in the minimum size and length required for such practical sealing;

(iii) Copper or nickel in sheathing on ferrous wire or strip, commonly called "copperweld" or "nickel-clad" or "copper-clad";

(iv) Brass in base eyelets, or pins;

(v) Brass bases for incandescent or glow discharge lamps in fulfillment of military exemption orders; or

(vi) Pursuant to specific authorization of the War Production Board granted on Form PD–556 pursuant to an application filed on Form PD–556.

(8) No manufacturer shall produce any incandescent, flourescent or glow discharge lamps containing brass bases, except:

(i) Incandescent or glow discharge lamps in fulfillment of military exemption orders; or

(ii) Pursuant to specific authorization of the War Production Board.

(9) Notwithstanding the provisions of Priorities Regulation No. 1, Priorities Regulation No. 3, and any other War Production Board orders or regulations, no person shall apply or extend a rating of less than AA–5 to any order for incandescent, fluorescent or glow discharge lamps, and no rating less than AA–5 shall have any force or effect with respect to the acceptance and filling of any order for incandescent, fluorescent or glow discharge lamps.

(c) Intra-company deliveries. The restrictions of this order with respect to deliveries prohibit or restrict deliveries not only to other persons, including affiliates or subsidiaries, but also from one branch, division or section of a single enterprise to another branch, division, or section of the same or any other enterprise under common ownership or control.

(d) Avoidance of excessive inventories. Manufacturers shall not accumulate for use in the manufacture of incandescent, fluorescent or glow discharge lamps, or parts therefor, inventories of raw materials, semi-processed materials, or finished parts in quantities in excess of the minimum amounts necessary to maintain production of such lamps or parts as permitted by this order.

(e) Records. All persons affected by this order shall keep and preserve, for not less than two years, accurate and complete records concerning inventories, production and sales.

(f) Audit and inspection. All records required to be kept by this order shall, upon request, be submitted to audit and inspection by duly authorized representatives of the War Production Board.

(g) Reports. Each person to whom this order applies shall file with the War Production Board such reports and questionnaires as said Board shall from time to time prescribe.

(h) Violations. Any person who willfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, willfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of or from processing or using material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(i) Appeal. Any person affected by this order who considers that compliance therewith would work an exceptional and unreasonable hardship upon him, or that it would result in a serious problem of unemployment in the community, or that compliance with this order would disrupt or impair a program of conversion from non-defense to defense work, may apply for relief by forwarding a letter addressed to the War Production Board, Consumers' Durable Goods Division, Washington, D. C., Ref.: L–28, setting forth the pertinent facts and the reasons why such person considers that he is entitled to relief. The War Production Board may thereupon take such action as it deems appropriate.

(j) Applicability of other orders. In so far as any other order heretofore or hereafter issued by the War Production Board, limits the use of any material in the production of incandescent, fluorescent or glow discharge lamps, or parts therefor, to a greater extent than the limits imposed by this order, the restrictions in such other order shall govern unless otherwise specified therein.

(k) Applicability of regulations. Except as provided in subparagraph (b) (9), this order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(l) Routing of Correspondence. All reports to be filed and other communications concerning this order should be addressed to the War Production Board, Consumers' Durable Goods Division, Washington, D. C., Ref.: L–28.

PART 3067—TEXTILE BAGS AND PAPER SHIPPING SACKS

[Conservation Order M–221, as Amended March 30, 1943]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created shortages in the supplies of textile and paper bags for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

NOTE: Preamble amended March 30, 1943

§ 3067.1 Conservation Order M–221.—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Textile bag" means any shipping container made of cotton fabric, burlap, or other fabric, excepting bale covers and textile wrappings.

(2) "Paper shipping sack" means any single-wall, duplex, or multi-wall paper sack designed for packaging a particular commodity for storage or for shipment, exclusive of container shipping sacks (sacks used for combining a number of packages into a single shipping unit), overslip shipping sacks (sacks used as containers for single packages), combination textile-paper bags (bags made of laminated textile and paper), grocers and variety bags (as defined in Order L–261), and bags made wholly from special protective papers (such as cellophane, glassine, parchment, or waxed paper).

(3) [Revoked March 30, 1943]

(4) "New textile bag" means any textile bag when neither the fabric or the bag has been previously used.

(5) "Used textile bag" means any textile bag when the bag or the fabric previously has been used one or more times.

(6) [Revoked March 30, 1943]

(7) "Dealer" means any person whose principal business is that of buying, selling or reconditioning empty textile bags.

NOTE: Paragraph (7) amended March 30, 1943

(8) "User" means any person who acquires textile or paper bags for use in his business.

(9) A person shall be deemed a "commercial emptier" at such times when in any of the three immediately preceding calendar months he acquired in his business and emptied 400 filled textile bags.

(10) "Wool bag" means any new or used textile bag, made of burlap, between 5½ and 7½ feet in length, ordinarily used to package wool: Provided, That such bag shall not be considered a wool bag when no longer capable of carrying any of the following: grease wools, scoured wools, noils, wool wastes or mohair.

(11) A "heavy ≠1 wool bag" means a wool bag, either new or used, made of 12 ounce or heavier burlap and capable of being packed or repacked to its intended capacity with any of the following: grease wools, Territory, California or Texas wools or mohair.

(12) A "light ≠1 wool bag" means any new wool bag made of less than 12 ounce burlap.

(13) A "≠2 wool bag" means any used wool bag other than a heavy ≠1 wool bag.

(b) General restrictions.—(1) Restrictions on textile bags and paper shipping sacks. (i) No person shall manufacture, sell, offer for sale, deliver, rent, supply, distribute, purchase, accept delivery or acquire textile bags or paper shipping sacks which he has reason to believe will be used for any purpose prohibited by this order.

(ii) On and after May 1, 1943, no person shall commercially manufacture any textile bag or paper shipping sack designed for packaging any commodity listed in Schedule I of this order, except in the sizes specified for that commodity in Schedule I.

(iii) The restriction of subparagraph (b) (1) (ii) shall not apply to bags or sacks ordered by a user for packaging any listed commodity to be exported by him, provided he supplies the bag manufacturer with a written certification in substantially the following form, signed manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation No. 7:

The bags and sacks ordered herewith are for packaging commodities for export by the undersigned and therefore need not correspond with the sizes specified in Order M–221 for the commodities concerned.

Company---
By--- Title---
Date---

Any such certification shall constitute a representation to the War Production Board and to the bag manufacturer. The bag manufacturer shall be entitled to rely thereon unless he has reason to believe it is not true.

(2) Restrictions on textile bags. (i) No person shall sample the contents of any new or used textile bag except by opening the closure or by inserting a probe or trier without damage to the fabric and no commercial emptier shall remove the contents of any textile bag except by opening the closure, unless the contents have become so caked or solidified that salvage of the bag is not practicable.

(ii) No person shall use any new or used textile bag for packing mohair unless the word "Mohair" appears in legible type on both sides of the bag.

(iii) No person shall purchase or accept delivery of any new or used textile bag to be used for protection against air raids or other war hazards.

(iv) No user or commercial emptier shall accept delivery of any full or empty new or used textile bags at a time when, or when by virtue of the delivery, the user's or commercial emptier's inventory of new or used empty textile bags is or will be in excess of a practical minimum working inventory and in no event in excess of the aggregate number of new or used empty textile bags which will be required to carry on his business during the next sixty days.

(v) No person shall use any new textile bags made of burlap for packing any material, other than mohair; wool; and wool products; agricultural products except flour, refined sugar, salt, tankage, or fertilizer: Provided, That this restriction shall not apply to any bags manufactured or in process of manufacture prior to January 13, 1943.

(vi) No manufacturer of or dealer in textile bags made of burlap, during any calendar year, shall sell or deliver to any user, nor shall any user accept delivery of more than 50 percent of the number of new textile bags made of burlap delivered to the user during the calendar year 1941, except that this restriction shall not apply to bags for packing mohair, wool or wool products, or to bags made of burlap of weights less than 7 ounces per 40 inch width per yard.

(vii) No dealer, user or commercial emptier shall change the size of any textile bag made of burlap while it has a commercial use as a bag with or without mending.

(viii) No user shall pack any products other than the following: agricultural products (including but not limited to beans, coffee, cotton, feed, flour, fruits, grain, meal, nuts, potatoes, poultry grits, rice, salt, seeds, starch, sugar, tobacco or vegetables) cement, chemicals, core sand, currency, coin, or securities, fertilizer, glues, gypsum, malt, meats, metal abrasives, metal parts, pastes, plaster, sand, shell-fish, tire chains or such other products as may be authorized by the War Production Board, pursuant to application on Form PD–556, in new textile bags made of cotton: Provided, That this restriction shall not apply to any bags manufactured or in process of manufacture prior to January 13, 1943.

(ix) No manufacturer of new textile bags shall overstitch the raw edge or selvage edge of a bag.

(x) No manufacturer of new textile bags shall incorporate therein any metal eyelets or grommets.

(xi) No dealer or commercial emptier shall sell or deliver any used textile bag to any user unless such bag shall have been processed and repaired and all holes, including trier or probe holes, properly mended or patched: Provided, That nothing in this paragraph (b) (2) (xi) shall prevent the delivery of any bag for the purpose of repair, or delivery to the owner. For the purposes of this provision, "process" means to clean a used textile bag by washing, brushing, vacuuming or any other method sufficient to prepare the bag for further reuse.

(xii) No dealer in textile bags or commercial emptier shall sell or deliver any textile bag which has been used for packing raw sugar, and which is capable of carrying raw sugar, to any user except for packing raw sugar.

(xiii) Unless specifically authorized by the War Production Board no person shall export any empty or filled new or used textile bag made from burlap. The requirement for such authorization is in addition to, and not in place of, any applicable export licensing requirements of the Board of Economic Warfare. For the purposes of this restriction, "export" means any shipment from the continental United States (the 48 States and the District of Columbia). Application for authorization for such export shall be made by letter or telegram to the War Production Board stating the pertinent facts, including (a) the destination of the bags or packed material, (b) the source from which the bags have been or are to be acquired, and, if the bags are to be used as export containers, (c) the products to be packed in them, and (d) whether, so far as the exporter knows, any other type of container would be satisfactory for the purpose. Such applications concerning exports which also require licensing by the Board of Economic Warfare shall be submitted through that agency to the War Production Board. The restriction of this subdivision shall not apply to:

(I) The export of empty used sugar bags to a sugar producer or sugar processor located outside the continental United States, unless the exporter of such bags has reason to believe that the bags will not be used for packing sugar (raw or refined);

(II) Completing the transshipment of textile bags which are in transit from a point outside the continental United States to another such point and which have been landed in the continental United States (in a free zone or free port or in bond) pending such transshipment.

(c) Restrictions on wool bags. (1) No user shall use a heavy #1 wool bag except for grading wools or for packing grease wools or mohair, known to the trade as Territory, California or Texas wools or mohair.

(2) No user shall use a light #1 wool bag except for packing Territory, California, Texas, grease or scoured wools, or mohair, carbonized wool, carbonized noils, carbonized card waste, fine white garnetts, fine white laps, cut wool tops, broken wool tops, or wool backings.

(3) No user shall use a #2 wool bag except for packing grease wools, fleece wools, pulled wools, scoured wools or noils, or wool wastes, whether or not carbonized.

(4) No user shall use any wool bag for any purpose other than for packing or wrapping wool or wool products.

(5) No user shall use any top cover bags made from burlap for any purpose other than for packing top wool.

(d) Miscellaneous provisions.—(1) General exceptions. The restrictions imposed by this order shall not apply to:

(i) Any textile bags or paper shipping sacks manufactured to meet the packaging specifications of and delivered to, or for the account of, the Army, Navy, Maritime Commission, United States Post Office, Federal Reserve System, United States Treasury Department, War Shipping Administration, or any agency procuring for delivery pursuant to the Act of Congress of March 11, 1941, entitled, "An Act to Promote the Defense of the United States" (Lend-Lease Act).

(ii) The sale, delivery, or use of any textile bag made of burlap, when such bag is manufactured from burlap set aside pursuant to any provision for Stockpiling of Imports, in Conservation Order M–47, as amended from time to time.

(2) Applicability of priorities regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the priorities regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(3) Reports. On the fifteenth day of each month, every dealer, user or commercial emptier of new or used textile bags, who has (or had) in his possession at any time during the year 1942 more than 15,000 empty textile bags, exclusive of new textile bags made of cotton, shall report upon Form PD–645 to the Containers Division, War Production Board, Washington, D. C. the information required by said form.

(4) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of appeal: Provided, That appeals from the restrictions of paragraph (b) (2) (vi) shall be by application in triplicate on Form PD–188–c.

(5) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction, may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

Issued this 30th day of March 1943.

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD,
By J. JOSEPH WHELAN,
Recording Secretary.

SCHEDULE I—BAG AND SACK SIZES FOR SPECIFIED COMMODITIES

Textile bags and paper shipping sacks designed for any commodity listed in Column (1) below may be manufactured only in the sizes specified for that commodity in Column (2) below. The symbol "S" in Column (2) represents the following group of sizes: 2, 5, 10, 25, 50, 100 lbs. or more.

Commodity (1)	Bag sizes (net weight capacity unless otherwise indicated) (2)
Beans	S
Cement (Portland)	94 lbs.
Feed (livestock, poultry)	S
Flour (milled wheat)	S
Meal	S
Plaster (gypsum)	S—gross weight
Potatoes	S, 15 lbs.
Rice	S, 3 lbs.
Salt	2, 4, 10, 25, 50, 100 lbs. or more
Seeds	S, 1, 2 bus.
Starch (corn)	S
Sugar (refined cane, beet)	S, 3 lbs.

"Flour (milled wheat)" means any product resulting from the milling of wheat flour, including blends of wheat flours and bleached, bromated, enriched phosphated, and self-rising flours, but excluding durum wheat products (semolina), farina, pancake flour, cake flour and cereals.

PART 3168—FANS AND BLOWERS

[General Limitation Order L–280 as Amended March 30, 1943]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of certain critical materials and facilities used in the manufacture of fans and blowers for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense.

§ 3168.1 General Limitation Order L–280—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, governmental corporation or agency, or any organized group of persons, whether incorporated or not.

(2) "Fan or blower" means any new device or machine which moves, compresses or exhausts air or other gases by centrifugal, rotary or axial means; except (i) wall type propeller fans having a blade diameter of less than 17 inches; (ii) ceiling, air circulator, desk, wall bracket, and portable window fans, and pedestal type fans of a portable nature; (iii) fans and blowers manufactured by a person solely for incorporation into other machinery or devices (including pulverizers, stokers, and boilers) also manufactured by him; (iv) propeller type fans for use as a part of internal combustion engines; and (v) critical turbo-blowers as defined by Limitation Order L–163, as amended.

(3) "Manufacturer" means any person who engages in the fabrication or assembly of fans or blowers, and includes sales and distribution outlets controlled by any such person.

(4) "Dealer" means any person who purchases fans or blowers for resale; except sales and distribution outlets controlled by a manufacturer, and except persons who purchase fans or blowers solely for resale as a component part of a boiler, pulverizer or stoker.

(5) "Delivery" includes delivery of a fan or blower from one affiliate to another or from one branch, division or section of a single enterprise to another branch, division or section of the same enterprise, where the recipient affiliate, branch, division or section will use the fan or blower.

(6) "New" as applied to a fan or blower means any fan or blower which has not been delivered to a purchaser for use.

(7) "Approved order" means:

(i) Any order for a fan or blower bearing a preference rating of AA–5 or higher; or

(ii) Any order for a fan or blower which the War Production Board approves pursuant to subparagraph (b) (3) hereof.

(b) Restrictions on acceptance of orders for, and delivery of fans and blowers. (1) After February 28, 1943, no manufacturer or dealer shall accept any order for a fan or blower unless the order is an approved order; and after March 31, 1943, no manufacturer shall deliver any fan or blower in fulfillment of any order unless the order is an approved order.

(2) The limitations and restrictions of paragraph (b) (1) above shall not apply to any order for repair parts (i) in an amount not exceeding $500 for any single fan or blower, or 50% of the original sales price of the fan or blower to be repaired, whichever is less in any particular case; or (ii) in any amount, for the repair of a fan or blower when there has been an actual breakdown or suspension of operations thereof because of damage, wear and tear, destruction or failure of parts or the like, and the essential repair and maintenance parts are not otherwise available.

(3) Any manufacturer or dealer may apply for authorization to deliver orders on his books which are not approved orders by filing a report thereof in duplicate on Form PD–795, together with a statement of the percentage of completion of each such order. The War Production Board may thereupon approve any such orders regardless of the rating thereof, or may rerate any such orders in order to constitute them approved orders.

(4) No manufacturer shall accept any order for a fan or blower if he knows or has reasonable cause to believe that he will be unable to make delivery on or before the delivery date specified in the order. Any order received by a manufacturer, specifying a delivery date which the manufacturer knows or has reasonable cause to believe he will be unable to meet, shall be returned by the manufacturer to the proposed purchaser within twenty days after the receipt thereof.

(5) The limitations and restrictions of this paragraph (b) shall not apply to the acceptance by a dealer of any order for centrifugal type air booster, furnace fan, or underfire coal burning fans having a capacity of 2500 CFM and less, with motors of ¼ HP and less, to be delivered for use on or in connection with a furnace.

(c) Delivery schedules. (1) After February 28, 1943, no manufacturer shall deliver any fan or blower unless the same has been included in a delivery schedule thertofore approved by the War Production Board in accordance with the provisions of subparagraph (2) below.

(2) On or before the 24th day of February 1943, and on or before the 18th day of each succeeding calendar month, every manufacturer of fans and blowers shall file a report on Forms PD–795 and 796, giving such information as shall be required thereby, including his delivery schedule for fans and blowers for the two calendar months immediately following. The delivery of all fans and blowers shown on such schedule as proposed to be made in such two calendar months shall be deemed to be approved by the War Production Board upon the receipt of such Forms PD–795 and 796 by the War Production Board, unless the War Production Board shall otherwise direct. The War Production Board may at any time revoke such approval as to any or all fans or blowers so listed for delivery, change the schedule of deliveries or prescribe a new schedule, allocate any order held by any manufacturer to any other manufacturer, or direct the delivery of any fan or blower, in production or completed, to any other person at the established price and terms. No manufacturer shall change the schedule of deliveries as so approved, changed or prescribed by the War Production Board, without specific authorization of the War Production Board.

(d) Schedules of specifications. The War Production Board may at any time, and from time to time, issue schedules (by amendments to this order) establishing required specifications for fans or blowers. Upon and after the date of issuance of any such schedule of specifications, or such other date as shall be prescribed therein, no person shall accept any order for, fabricate, assemble, sell, deliver, accept delivery of or use any fans or blowers or parts therefor except in accordance with the terms of such schedule. As used in this paragraph the term "required specifications" shall mean specifications fixed for the fabrication, assembly, production, con-

(1) Copies of Form PD–601 may be obtained at local field offices of the War Production Board. Applications for authorization to deliver orders on his books which are not approved orders shall be filed hereunder, and all communications

(iii) The coal tar oil, if processed for struction or other manufacture of fans or blowers and designed to eliminate, reduce, or conserve the use of critical materials in fans or blowers or parts, by simplifying or standardizing the fans or blowers; specifying the operating conditions under which they may be used; restricting the numbers of sizes, types, models, or kinds produced or the kinds or quantities of materials used by a manufacturer; or requiring substitution of less critical materials for more critical materials; or by establishing other requirements for the manufacture, sale, delivery or use of such fans or blowers.

(e) Miscellaneous provisions — (1) Appeals. An appeal may be taken either by a manufacturer or by his proposed purchaser from any provision of this order or from any action taken hereunder by the War Production Board. Any such appeal shall be made by filing a letter, in triplicate, referring to the particular provision or action appealed from, and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(2) Records and reports. All persons affected by this order shall keep and preserve for not less than two years accurate and complete records concerning inventories, production and sales. All such persons shall execute and file with the War Production Board, such reports and questionnaires as the War Production Board shall request from time to time.

(3) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(4) Communications. All reports required to be filed hereunder, and all communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to War Production Board, General Industrial Equipment Division, Washington, D. C., Ref.: L-280.

Issued this 30th day of March 1943.

PART 3211—BISMUTH CHEMICALS

[General Preference Order M-295 as Amended March 30, 1943]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of bismuth chemicals for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3211.1 General Preference Order M-295—(a) Definitions. (1) "Bismuth chemicals" means any chemical compound of bismuth, in crude or refined form, including, but not limited to, bismuth subcarbonate bismuth subnitrate, bismuth subsalicylate, bismuth nitrate, bismuth hydrate, sodium bismuthate, etc. The term does not include standard dosage forms (tablets, capsules, ampoules, liquid preparations, etc.).

(2) "Producer" means any person engaged in the production of bismuth chemicals, and includes any person who imports bismuth chemicals or has bismuth chemicals produced for him pursuant to toll agreement.

(3) "Distributor" means any person who purchases bismuth chemicals solely for the purpose of resale without further processing and without changing the form thereof.

(b) Restrictions on deliveries and use (1) On and after April 1, 1943, no person shall deliver, accept delivery of, or use bismuth chemicals, except as specifically authorized or directed by the War Production Board.

(2) Authorizations or directions with respect to deliveries or use in each calendar month will so far as practicable be issued by the War Production Board prior to the commencement of such month but the War Production Board may at any time at its discretion and notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (c) hereof, issue directions with respect to, deliveries to be made or accepted, or with respect to use or uses which may or may not be made of bismuth chemicals to be delivered or then on hand. Such authorizations or directions may be made by the War Production Board without regard to preference ratings applicable to particular orders.

(3) Each person specifically authorized to use or accept delivery of bismuth chemicals shall use such material for the purpose authorized, and only for such purpose, except as otherwise specifically directed by the War Production Board.

(4) Bismuth chemicals allocated for inventory shall not be used except as specifically directed by the War Production Board. Bismuth chemicals allocated to fill a specified order or class of orders shall, where and to the extent that such order or class of orders is not for any reason filled, revert to inventory as though allocated therefor.

(c) Exceptions to requirement for authorization. Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (b) (1), specific authorization of the War Production Board shall not be required for:

(1) Delivery by any producer or distributor to any person in any calendar month, and acceptance of delivery by any person from any producer or distributor in any calendar month, of not more than 25 lbs. of any bismuth chemical;

(2) Use by any person in any calendar month of not more than 25 lbs. of any bismuth chemical;

(3) Delivery to, or acceptance of delivery by, any person of bismuth chemicals packaged in containers of one pound or less, for resale to retail druggists, and delivery to, or acceptance of delivery by retail druggists of bismuth chemicals so packaged;

(4) Delivery of bismuth chemicals by, or use of bismuth chemicals by, the United States Army or Navy, the Coast Guard, the United States Maritime Commission and War Shipping Administration;

(5) Delivery of bismuth chemicals by any person to another person for compounding into standard dosage forms pursuant to toll agreement, where the person making delivery has received specific authority to compound such bismuth chemicals and retains title to such bismuth chemicals and to the product made therefrom; also the acceptance of delivery of bismuth chemicals by such other person for such purpose and under such terms, and the use by such other person in compounding bismuth chemicals into standard dosage forms.

(d) Applications and reports. (1) Each person seeking authorization to accept delivery of, or to use bismuth chemicals during any calendar month beginning with April, 1943, whether for his own consumption or resale, shall file application therefor on or before the 15th of the preceding month on Form PD-600, in the manner prescribed therein, subject to the following special instructions:

(i) Copies of Form PD-600 may be obtained at local field offices of the War Production Board.

(ii) Five copies shall be prepared, of which three shall be forwarded to War Production Board, Chemicals Division, Washington, D. C., Ref.: M 295, one forwarded to the producer or distributor with whom applicant's order is placed, and the fifth retained for applicant's file. At least one of the copies filed with War Production Board shall be signed by applicant by a duly authorized official. Where the application is solely for authorization to use, no copy will be sent to the producer or distributor.

(iii) In the heading, under "Name of chemical," specify "Bismuth chemicals" under "WPB Order No.", specify "M-295;" under "Indicate unit of measure," specify "pounds".

(iv) In heading at top of Table I, specify the month and year for which authorization for acceptance of delivery or use is sought.

(v) In Columns 1, 11 and 19, specify grade and quality; for example, subcarbonate, nitrate, sodium bismuthate, USP, etc.

(vi) In Column 3 (Primary Product), applicant will specify the exact name of the product or products in the manufacture or preparation of which he will use bismuth chemicals or in which he will incorporate bismuth chemicals. Distributors ordering bismuth chemicals for resale, will specify "Resale". If purchase is for inventory, specify "Inventory"

(vii) In Column 4, applicant will specify in each case (including case where his purchase is for "resale") ultimate use to be made of product (as, for example, "medicinal"), and will also specify in each case whether his customer is Army, Navy, other government agency, Lend-Lease, or commercial customer. If application is for bismuth chemicals for inventory, leave Column 4 blank.

(2) Each producer or distributor seeking authorization to make delivery of bismuth chemicals during any month, beginning with April, 1943, shall file application therefor on or before the 20th day of the preceding month. Such application shall be made on Form PD-601 in the manner prescribed therein, subject to the following special instructions:

(i) Copies of Form PD-601 may be obtained at local field offices of the War Production Board

(ii) Four copies shall be prepared, of which three shall be forwarded to War Production Board, Chemicals Division, Washington, D. C., Ref: M-295, the fourth to be retained by the producer or distributor.

(iii) Each producer who has filed application on Form PD-600 specifying himself as his supplier, shall list his own name as customer on Form PD-601 and shall list his request for allocation in the manner prescribed for other customers.

(iv) In the heading under "Name of chemical", specify "Bismuth chemicals"; under "WPB Order No.", specify "M-295"; under "This schedule is for deliveries to be made during month of ----------", specify month and year during which deliveries covered by application are to be made; under "Indicate unit of measure", specify "pounds".

(v) In Column 1, list customers and if it is necessary to use more than one sheet, number each sheet in order and show grand totals for all sheets on the last sheet, which is the only one that need be certified. It is not necessary, however, to list names of customers to whom deliveries are to be made during the next month pursuant to paragraphs (c) (1) and (c) (3) of this order, but insert in Column 1 "Total small order and small package deliveries (estimated)", and in Column 4, state the estimated quantity. Although under paragraph (c) (4), deliveries by the government agencies there listed need not be authorized, proposed deliveries to such agencies should be listed separately in Column 1, and the quantity to be delivered specified in Column 5.

[NOTE: The last sentence of paragraph (v) was amended March 30, 1943]

(vi) In Columns 3 and 8, the producer or distributor will specify grades and quality, as indicated in the Forms PD-600 filed with him by his customers.

(vii) The producer or distributor may, if he wishes, leave Column 5 blank.

(3) The War Production Board may require each person affected by this order to file such other reports as may be prescribed, and may issue special directions to any such person with respect to preparing and filing Forms PD-600 and PD-601.

(e) Notification of customers. Each supplier shall notify his regular customers as soon as possible of the requirements of this order, but failure to receive such notice shall not excuse any person from complying with the terms hereof.

(f) Miscellaneous provisions—(1) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(2) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(3) Communications to War Production Board. All reports required to be filed hereunder, and all communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to War Production Board, Chemicals Division, Washington, D. C., Ref.: M-295.

Issued this 30th day of March 1943.

PART 3219—COAL TAR

[Conservation Order M-297]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of coal tar acids for defense, for private account, and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3219.1 Conservation Order No. M-297—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this order:

(1) "Coal tar" means tar produced by the destructive distillation of bituminous coal or lignite, and includes crude coal tar and refined coal tar.

(2) "Refined coal tar" means coal tar freed from water by evaporation or by distillation which is continued until the residue is of any desired consistency.

(3) "Coal tar oil" means any distillate of coal tar.

(4) "Tar acids" means phenol, cresols and xylenols, and any homologues thereof which are constituents of coal tar.

(5) "Producer" means any person who produces or imports coal tar, including any person who has coal tar produced for him pursuant to toll agreement.

(6) "Distiller" means any person who distills coal tar or who extracts tar acids from coal tar oil, including any person who has coal tar or coal tar oil so processed for him pursuant to toll agreement.

(b) Restrictions on delivery and use. (1) On and after May 1, 1943, no producer or distiller shall burn as fuel or otherwise use coal tar, except for purposes of distillation, and no producer or distiller shall deliver coal tar to a person other than a distiller, unless:

(i) The coal tar shall have a low-boiling tar acid content of less than ½ of 1%, determined in accordance with paragraph (c) (1); or

(ii) Specifically authorized by the War Production Board upon application pursuant to paragraph (d).

(2) On and after May 1, 1943, no distiller shall use coal tar oil, except for the extraction of tar acids, and no distiller shall deliver coal tar oil to any person other than a distiller, unless:

(i) The coal tar oil shall have been produced or received by such distiller prior to May 1, 1943; or

(ii) The coal tar oil, without processing for the extraction of tar acids, shall have a low-boiling tar acid content of less than 1½% as determined in accordance with paragraph (c) (2); or

(iii) The coal tar oil, if processed for the extraction of tar acids, shall have a low-boiling tar acid content of less than 1% as determined in accordance with paragraph (c) (2); or

(iv) Specifically authorized by the War Production Board upon application: (a) Pursuant to paragraph (d) hereof if the total tar acid content of the coal tar oil equals less than 5% of such oil, or (b) Pursuant to General Preference Order M-27, as now or hereafter amended, if the total tar acid content of the coal tar oil equals 5% or more of such oil.

(3) The War Production Board, at its discretion, may from time to time issue special directions to any producer or distiller with respect to distillation, processing, use or delivery of coal tar or coal tar oil by such producer or distiller.

(c) Methods of test. For the purpose of this order:

(1) The low-boiling tar acid content of any coal tar shall be determined from a representative sample of such tar by the following procedure: The sample of the coal tar shall be distilled by Method A. S. T. M. D 20-30 to an indicated temperature of 270 degrees Centigrade. The total quantity of tar acids contained in the total distillate to 270 degrees Centigrade shall be determined by Method A. S. T. M. D 453-41 (omitting distillation required by paragraph 3 (a) thereof) and shall be stated as a percentage by volume of the original sample of coal tar on a water-free basis. Such percentage shall be considered the low-boiling tar acid content of the coal tar of which the sample was representative.

(2) The low-boiling tar acid content of any coal tar oil shall be determined from a representative sample of such oil by the following procedure: The sample of the coal tar oil shall be distilled by Method A. S. T. M. D 246-42 to an indicated temperature of 270 degrees Centigrade. The total quantity of tar acids contained in the total distillate to 270 degrees Centigrade shall be determined by Method A. S. T. M. D 453-41 and shall be stated as a percentage by volume of the original sample of coal tar oil on a water-free basis. Such percentage shall be considered the low-boiling tar acid content of the coal tar oil of which the sample was representative.

(d) Applications and reports. (1) Each producer or distiller seeking authorization to use or deliver coal tar pursuant to paragraph (b) (1) (ii), and each distiller seeking authorization to use or deliver coal tar oil pursuant to paragraph (b) (2) (iv) when such coal tar oil has a total tar acid content of less than 5%, shall file application on Form PD-602 in the manner prescribed therein, subject to the following instructions for the purpose of this order:

(i) Form PD-602. Copies of Form PD-602 may be obtained at local field offices of the War Production Board.

(ii) Time. Application on Form PD-602 shall be filed on or before the 20th day of the month preceding the month for which authorization to use or make delivery is requested.

(iii) Number of copies. Four copies of each application shall be prepared, of which one shall be retained by the applicant and three certified copies shall be forwarded to the War Production Board, Chemicals Division, Washington, D. C., Ref: M–297

(iv) Heading. Under name of chemical, specify coal tar or coal tar oil, as the case may be; leave blank the space for grade; specify order number M–297; specify the month during which the coal tar or coal tar oil is to be used or delivered; under unit of measure, specify gallons; and otherwise fill in as indicated.

(v) Column 1. List alphabetically names of proposed deliveries. At the end of this list the applicant shall indicate his request for authorization for his own use by inserting words, "own use" in this column and b; filling in the other columns as in the case of any other customer.

(vi) Column 1a. Specify the purpose for which the coal tar or the coal tar oil will be used, either by the proposed deliveree or by the applicant. For example, specify open hearth fuel, creosote solutions, saturating roofing felt, or road paving.

(vii) Columns 4, 5, 5a, and 6. Fill in as indicated, leaving Column 6 blank.

(viii) Column 7. If application is for coal tar, state in this column whether tar wanted is crude or refined, and state the low-boiling tar acid content of such tar as determined pursuant to paragraph (c) (1). If application is for coal tar oil, state in this column the low-boiling tar acid content of such oil as determined pursuant to paragraph (c) (2).

(ix) Rolling stock requirements. Leave the columns blank at the end of Table 1 relating to number of covered hopper cars and number of tank cars required.

(x) Table II. Leave blank.

(2) Each producer or distiller who does not know the purpose for which the coal tar or coal tar oil to be delivered by him pursuant to application under paragraph (d) (1) will be used, may request such information from the prospective deliveree and such prospective deliveree shall furnish such information upon such request.

(3) Receipt by a producer or distiller of Form PD–602 signed by the War Production Board shall constitute authorization to such producer or distiller to use for the purposes specified, or to deliver, the quantities of coal tar or coal tar oil indicated in Column 6.

(4) The War Production Board may require each person affected by this order to file such other reports as may be prescribed, and may issue special directions to any producer or distiller with respect to preparing and filing Form PD–602.

(e) Notification of customers. Each producer and distiller shall, as soon as practicable, notify each of his regular customers of the requirements of this order and all amendments hereto, and shall, upon receipt of authorization on Form PD–602, notify each customer listed therein of the quantity of coal tar or coal tar oil authorized for delivery to him.

(f) Miscellaneous provisions—(1) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected hereby are subject to all applicable War Production Board regulations as amended from time to time.

(2) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact, or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(3) Communications to the War Production Board. All reports required to be filed hereunder and all communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Chemicals Division, Washington, D. C. Ref: M–297.

Issued this 30th day of March 1943.

PART 3221—RIBOFLAVIN

[General Preference Order M 299]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of riboflavin for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3221.1 General Preference Order No. M–299—(a) Definitions. (1) "Riboflavin" means riboflavin (lactoflavin, vitamin G, vitamin B_2) in crude or refined form. The term does not include standard dosage forms (tablets, capsules, ampoules, solutions, etc.), combinations in feeds, foods or beverages, nor riboflavin concentrates of natural origin.

(2) "Producer" means any person engaged in the production or processing of riboflavin, and includes any person who imports riboflavin or has riboflavin produced for him pursuant to toll agreement.

(3) "Distributor" means any person who purchases riboflavin solely for the purpose of resale without further processing and without changing the form thereof.

(b) Restrictions on deliveries and use. (1) On and after April 1, 1943, no person shall deliver, accept delivery of, or use riboflavin except as specifically authorized or directed by the War Production Board.

(2) Authorizations or directions with respect to deliveries or use in each calendar month will so far as practicable be issued by the War Production Board prior to the commencement of such month, but the War Production Board may at any time at its discretion and notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (c) hereof, issue directions with respect to deliveries to be made or accepted, or with respect to the use or uses which may or may not be made of riboflavin to be delivered or then on hand. Such authorizations or directions may be made by the War Production Board without regard to preference ratings applicable to particular orders.

(3) Each person specifically authorized to use or accept delivery of riboflavin shall use such material for the purpose authorized and only for such purpose, except as otherwise specifically directed by the War Production Board. Riboflavin allocated for inventory shall not be used except as specifically directed by the War Production Board.

(4) Riboflavin allocated to fill a specified order or class of orders shall, where and to the extent that such order or class of orders is not for any reason filled, revert to inventory as though originally allocated therefor.

(c) Exceptions to requirement for authorization. Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (b) (1), specific authorization of the War Production Board shall not be required for:

(1) Delivery by any producer or distributor to any person in any calendar month, or acceptance of delivery by any person from any producer or distributor in any calendar month, of not more than five grams of riboflavin.

(2) Use by any person in any calendar month of not more than five grams of riboflavin.

(3) Delivery of riboflavin by any person to another person for compounding into standard dosage forms pursuant to toll agreement, where the person making delivery has previously received specific authorization from the War Production Board to compound such riboflavin and retains title to such riboflavin and to the product made therefrom; also the acceptance of delivery by such other person for such purpose and under such terms, and the use by such other person in compounding riboflavin into standard dosage forms.

(d) Applications and reports. (1) Each person requiring authorization to accept delivery of riboflavin during any calendar month beginning with May, 1943 whether for his own consumption or for resale (or to use riboflavin in any such calendar month), shall file application therefor on or before the 15th day of the preceding month. Applications for acceptance of delivery or use in April, 1943, shall be filed as many days as possible in advance of the intended date of acceptance or use. In any case, applications shall be made on Form PD–600 in the manner prescribed therein, subject to the following special instructions:

(i) Copies of Form PD–600 may be obtained at local field offices of the War Production Board.

(ii) Five copies shall be prepared, of which three shall be forwarded to War Production Board, Chemicals Division, Washington, D. C., Ref: M–299, one forwarded to the producer or distributor with whom applicant's order is placed, and the fifth retained for applicant's file. At least one of the copies filed with the War Production Board must be signed by applicant by a duly authorized official. Where the application is solely for authorization to use, no copy need be sent the producer or distributor.

(iii) In the heading, under "Name of chemical", specify "Riboflavin"; under "WPB Order No.", specify "M–299"; under "Indicate unit of measure", specify "Grams".

(iv) In heading at top of Table I, specify month and year for which authorization for acceptance of delivery or use is sought.

(v) In Columns 1, 11 and 19, specify quality; for example, USP, crude.

(vi) In Column 3 (Primary Product) applicant will specify the exact name of the product or products in the manufacture or preparation of which he will use riboflavin or in which he will incorporate riboflavin. Distributors ordering riboflavin for resale (as riboflavin) will specify "Resale". If purchase is for inventory, state "Inventory".

(vii) In Column 4 (Product End Use), applicant will specify in each case, including case where his purchase is for "resale", ultimate use to be made of product (as, for example, "medicinal"). He will also specify in each case whether his customer is Army, Navy, other government agency, Lend-Lease, or commercial customer, and in Column 10 will state contract numbers of Army, Navy or other government contracts. If application is for riboflavin for inventory leave Column 4 blank.

(2) Each producer or distributor seeking authorization to make delivery of riboflavin during any calendar month, beginning with May, 1943, shall file application therefor on or before the 20th day of the preceding month. Application for delivery in April, 1943, will be filed as many days as possible in advance of the proposed date of delivery. In any case, the application shall be made on Form PD–601 in the manner prescribed therein, subject to the following special instructions:

(i) Copies of Form PD–601 may be obtained at local field offices of the War Production Board.

(ii) Prepare four copies and forward three to the War Production Board, Chemicals Division, Washington, D. C., Ref.: M–299, the fourth to be retained by the producer or distributor. At least one of the copies filed with the War Production Board must be signed by applicant by a duly authorized official.

(iii) Each producer who has filed application on Form PD–600 specifying himself as supplier, shall list his own name as customer on Form PD–601 and shall list his request for allocation in the manner prescribed for other customers.

(iv) In the heading under "name of chemical", specify "Riboflavin"; under "WPB Order No.", specify "M–299"; under "This schedule is for deliveries to be made during the month of ——"; specify month and year during which deliveries covered by application are to be made; under "Indicate unit of measure", specify "grams".

(v) In Column 1, list customers and if it is necessary to use more than one sheet, number each sheet in order and show grand totals for all sheets on the last sheet, which is the only one that need be certified. It is not necessary, however, to list names of customers to whom small order deliveries are to be made during the next month pursuant to paragraph (c) (1) of this order, but insert in Column 1 "Total small order deliveries (estimated)", and in Column 4, state the estimated quantity. Where customer is Army, Navy, or other government agency, applicant will specify in Column 7 the applicable contract numbers.

(vi) In Columns 3 and 8, the producer or distributor will specify quality; for example, USP, crude.

(vii) The producer or distributor may, if he wishes, leave Column 5 blank.

(3) The War Production Board may require each person affected by this order to file such other reports as may be prescribed, and may issue special directions to any such person with respect to preparing and filing Forms PD–600 and PD–601.

(e) Miscellaneous provisions—(1) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected hereby are subject to all applicable provisions of War Production Board regulations, as amended from time to time.

(2) Notification of customers. Each supplier shall notify his regular customers as soon as possible of the requirements of this order, but failure to receive such notice shall not excuse any person from complying with the terms hereof.

(3) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provisions of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(4) Communications to War Production Board. All reports required to be filed hereunder, and all communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Chemicals Division, Washington, D. C. Ref: M–299.

Issued this 30th day of March 1943.

Subchapter C—Director, Office of War Utilities

PART 4500—ELECTRIC, GAS, WATER, AND STEAM UTILITIES: MATERIALS

[Supplementary Utilities Order U–1–d as Amended March 29, 1943]

§ 4500.5 Supplementary Utilities Order U–1–d. Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (h) of Utilities Order U–1, electric, gas, and water facilities may be built by producers to serve premises, the construction or remodeling of which is authorized under paragraph (b) (4) of Limitation Order L–41 by the issuance of a specific direction, order, certificate, or other authorization for construction: Provided, That the following conditions are satisfied:

(a) Industrial or commercial consumers. (1) The cost of material for such utility facilities is less than $1,500 in the case of underground construction, or $500 in the case of other construction;

(2) Facilities can be built with an expenditure (including service drop or service pipe and any portion built by or for the consumer) of not more than 60 pounds of copper in conductor for electric service, 250 pounds of iron or steel pipe for gas service (or the equivalent length of lead or lead alloy pipe or tubing) or 250 pounds of iron or steel pipe for water service, and the producer has so certified in a letter addressed to the War Production Board and attached to the builder's application for L–41 approval. Each producer must preserve on its own books a record of each work order, job, or project initiated under this paragraph.

(b) Domestic consumers. (1) The cost of material for such utility facilities is less than $1,500 in the case of underground construction, or $500 in the case of other construction;

(2) The electric, gas, or water facilities (including service drop or service pipe and any portion built by or for the consumer) can be built within the limits established by the Housing Utilities Standards, issued by the War Production Board, and the producer has so certified in a letter attached to the builder's application for L–41 approval. Each producer must preserve on its own books a record of each work order, job, or project initiated under this paragraph.

Issued this 29th day of March 1943.

Chapter XI—Office of Price Administration

PART 1315—RUBBER AND PRODUCTS AND MATERIALS OF WHICH RUBBER IS A COMPONENT

[MPR 119,[1] Amendment 2]

ORIGINAL EQUIPMENT TIRES AND TUBES

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Maximum Price Regulation 119 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 1315.1451 (g) is added to read as follows:

(g) On any passenger-car original equipment tires or tubes on which a Defense Supplies Corporation pool charge

*Copies may be obtained from the Office of Price Administration.

[1] 7 F.R. 3509, 8936, 8948.

has been paid, the seller may add the amount of such charge to the prices established by paragraphs (b) to (f), inclusive.

2. Section 1315.1451 (h) is added to read as follows:

(h) Notwithstanding any other provisions of this regulation, this regulation shall not apply between April 1, 1943, and June 1, 1943, to original equipment tires and tubes made in whole or in part of Buna S synthetic rubber which are sold for the equipment of vehicles which the War Department, Navy Department, Marine Corps, Coast Guard or Maritime Commission has contracted to purchase.

3. Section 1315.1454 is amended to read as follows:

§ 1315.1454 Adjustable pricing. No person subject to this regulation shall enter into any agreement permitting the adjustment of the prices of original equipment tires and tubes to prices which may be higher than the maximum prices provided by §§ 1315.1451 and 1315.1452, except in the following cases: Any person may offer or agree to adjust or fix prices to or at prices not in excess of the maximum prices in effect at the time of delivery. Any person may offer or agree to sell or buy original equipment tires and tubes at prices in excess of the maximum prices in effect at the time the offer is made, in order to reflect the increase in the price of crude rubber occurring after March 31, 1943: Provided, That no person shall pay or receive prices for original equipment tires and tubes which are in excess of the maximum prices in effect at the time of delivery. In an appropriate situation, where a petition for amendment requires extended consideration, the Price Administrator may, upon application, grant permission to agree to adjust prices upon deliveries made during the pendency of the petition in accordance with the disposition of the petition.

This amendment shall become effective April 1, 1943.

PART 1335—CHEMICALS

[MPR 354]

COPPER SULPHATE

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this regulation has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Therefore, under the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9250, and in accordance with Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1[1] issued by the Office of Price Administration, Maximum Price Regulation No. 354 is hereby issued.

Sec.

1335.1001 Applicability of this regulation.
1335.1002 Relation to the General Maximum Price Regulation.
1335.1003 Records and reports.
1335.1004 Prohibited practices.
1335.1005 Methods of preventing or penalizing sales at higher than maximum prices.
1335.1006 Petitions for amendment.
1335.1007 Definitions.
1335.1008 Federal and state taxes.
1335.1009 Notification of changes in maximum prices.
1335.1010 Effective dates.
1335.1011 Appendix A: Maximum prices.

AUTHORITY: §§ 1335.1001 to 1335.1011, inclusive, issued under Pub. Laws 421 and 729, 77th Cong.; E.O. No. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871.

§ 1335.1001 Applicability of this regulation—(a) Commodities covered by this regulation. This regulation applies to the grades of copper sulphate (including monohydrated copper sulphate) set forth in Appendix A (§ 1335.1011 (a) (1) (i) and (ii)). Such grades of copper sulphate are referred to as "copper sulphate" in this regulation.

(b) Prohibition of sales at higher than maximum prices. On and after the effective date of this regulation regardless of any contract or other obligation:

(1) No person shall sell or deliver any copper sulphate at higher prices than the maximum prices established by this regulation.

(2) No person shall buy or receive any copper sulphate in the course of trade or business at higher prices than the maximum prices established by this regulation. No agricultural consumer shall be considered a buyer in the course of trade or business.

(3) No person shall agree, offer, solicit, or attempt to do any of the foregoing.

(4) Lower prices than the maximum prices established by this regulation may be charged, demanded, offered, or paid.

(c) Transactions excluded from this regulation and covered by other regulations—(1) Sales at retail for use as an agricultural insecticide or fungicide. This regulation establishes maximum prices for sales at retail of copper sulphate for use as an agricultural insecticide or fungicide only if such sales are made in quantities of 100 pounds or more by a manufacturer or distributor of copper sulphate. Maximum prices for all other sales at retail of copper sulphate for use as an agricultural insecticide or fungicide are established by Maximum Price Regulation No. 144[2]—Retail Prices of Agricultural Insecticides and Fungicides.

(2) Sales in the territories and possessions. This regulation applies only to the forty-eight states of the United States and the District of Columbia and does not apply to the territories and possessions of the United States.

(3) Exports. This regulation does not apply to exports except as it establishes domestic maximum prices which are used as base prices for the determination of export prices. The maximum prices at which any person may export copper sulphate are established by the Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation.[3]

§ 1335.1002 Relation to the General Maximum Price Regulation.[4] The General Maximum Price Regulation shall not apply to sales or deliveries covered by this regulation except as specified below:

(a) The following sections of the General Maximum Price Regulation apply to all sales and deliveries covered by this regulation.

(1) Section 1499.14 (Sales slips and receipts.)

(2) Section 1499.29 (a) (5) (6) (7) of Supplementary Regulation No. 14 (Exclusion of certain sales to United States agencies).

(3) Section 1499.29 (b) of Supplementary Regulation No. 14 (War contracts with United States and other governments).

(b) The following sections of the General Maximum Price Regulation shall be applicable to sellers for whom maximum prices are established by § 1335.1011 (b).

(1) Section 1499.5 (Transfers of business or stock in trade).

(2) Section 1499.11 (Base period records).

(3) Section 1499.15 (Registration)—insofar as applicable to persons other than manufacturers selling at retail.

(4) Section 1499.16 (Licensing)—insofar as applicable to persons other than manufacturers selling at retail.

§ 1335.1003 Records and reports. (a) Every person making sales of copper sulphate for which maximum prices are established by § 1335.1011 (b) of this regulation shall keep for inspection by the Office of Price Administration for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect, records showing as precisely as possible the basis upon which he determined maximum prices for such copper sulphate. Such records shall include in the case of sales for which maximum prices are established by § 1335.101C (b) (2) the seller's existing records relating to the cost of the copper sulphate delivered to him during the month in which he determined a maximum price for such copper sulphate under the General Maximum Price Regulation or, if he received no deliveries during that month, the last month prior thereto in which he received deliveries.

(b) All sellers and all buyers in the course of trade or business of copper sulphate for which maximum prices are established by this regulation must keep records which will show a complete description of the product sold or purchased, the amount sold or purchased, the name and address of the buyer or seller, the date of the sale and the price. Such records must be kept for inspection by the Office of Price Administration for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, is in effect. No agricultural consumer shall be considered a buyer in the course of trade or business. Customary records, such as invoices, showing the above information will constitute compliance with this paragraph (b).

(c) Such person shall keep such other records and submit such other reports in addition to or in place of the records required by paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section as the Office of Price Administration may from time to time require.

§ 1335.1004 Prohibited practices—(a) General. Any practice which is a device to secure the effect of a higher-than-ceiling price without actually raising the dollars and cents price is as much a violation of this regulation as an outright over-ceiling price. This applies to devices making use of commissions, services, transportation arrangements, premiums, special privileges, tying agreements, trade understandings, transactions with or through the agency of subsidiaries or affiliates, or the like.

(b) Specific prohibited practices. The following are among the specific practices prohibited:

(1) Securing the effect of a higher price by changing credit terms, or cash or other discounts or allowances, or practices relating to the payment of freight charges or other transportation cost from what they were during the three-month period ending March 31, 1942. This includes reducing the cash discount period, decreasing credit periods, making greater charges for the extension of credit, or requiring purchasers to pay part or all of the transportation charges where no such requirement was made during such three-month period.

(2) Breaking up an order which would normally be a single order into a series of smaller orders in order to evade the maximum price limitations set forth in this regulation.

(c) Adjustable pricing. A price may not be made adjustable to a maximum price which will be in effect at some time after delivery of copper sulphate subject to this regulation has been completed. But the price may be made adjustable to the maximum price in effect at the time of delivery. In appropriate situations where a petition for amendment requires extended consideration, the Price Administrator may, upon application, grant permission to agree to adjust prices upon deliveries made during the pendency of the petition in accordance with the disposition of the petition.

§ 1335.1005 Methods of preventing or penalizing sales at higher than maximum prices—(a) Enforcement. Persons violating any provision of this regulation are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, suits for treble damages and proceedings for suspension of licenses provided by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

(b) Licensing. Supplementary Order No. 11 (§ 1305.15) licenses all sellers under this regulation who are distributors as the term "distributor" is defined in the order. This order, in brief, provides that a license is necessary for resellers other than resellers at retail to make sales under this regulation. A license is automatically granted to these sellers. It is not necessary to apply specially for the license, but a registration may later be required. The Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Supplementary Order No. 11 describe the circumstances under which licenses may be suspended.

§ 1335.1006 Petitions for amendment. Any person seeking an amendment of any provision of this regulation may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1.

§ 1335.1007 Definitions. (a) When used in this regulation the term:

(1) "Person" includes an individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons or legal successor or representative of any of the foregoing, and includes the United States or any agency thereof, or any other government, or any of its political subdivisions, or any agency of any of the foregoing.

(2) "Purchaser of the same class" and "class of purchasers" refer to the practice adopted by the seller in setting different prices for commodities for sales to different purchasers or kinds of purchasers (for example, manufacturer, wholesaler, jobber, retailer, government agency, public institution, individual consumer) or for purchasers located in different areas or for different quantities or grades or under different conditions of sale.

(3) "Most closely competitive seller of the same class". Seller of the same class means a seller (i) performing the same function (for example, manufacturing, distributing, retailing), (ii) of similar type (for example, department store, mail order house, chain store, general store, cooperative, farm commissary, cut-rate store), (iii) dealing in the same type of commodities, and (iv) selling to the same class of purchaser. A seller's most closely competitive seller of the same class shall be a seller of the same class who (a) is selling the same or similar commodity and (b) is closely competitive in the sale of such commodities and (c) is located nearest to the seller.

(4) "Copper sulphate" means the grades of copper sulphate (including monohydrated copper sulphate) set forth in Appendix A (§ 1335.1011 (a) (1) (i) and (ii)). Except for the monohydrated grade, the other grades listed refer to the grades of the compound $CuSO_4.5\ H_2O$.

(5) "Seller's cost of acquisition per unit of the copper sulphate for which he determined a maximum price under the General Maximum Price Regulation" means the delivered price at his place of business paid by him per unit after all allowances, discounts, or other price differentials on the largest delivery of such copper sulphate to him during that month in which he determined his maximum prices for such copper sulphate under the General Maximum Price Regulation, or if he received no deliveries during that month, during the last month prior thereto in which he received deliveries.

(6) "Seller's present replacement cost per unit for copper sulphate" means the maximum prices per unit established under this regulation for such copper sulphate delivered at his place of business in the quantities normally purchased by him.

(7) "Distributor" means a reseller of copper sulphate who, during the three-month period ending March 31, 1942, sold more than fifty per cent of the copper sulphate sold by him during that period at or below the manufacturer's list prices.

(8) "Manufacturer's list prices" means the quoted or published prices of a manufacturer for sales to resellers other than distributors, or for sales to industrial consumers other than agricultural consumers.

(9) "Sale" at retail" means a sale or selling to an ultimate consumer, including an agricultural consumer, but not including other industrial or commercial consumers.

(10) "Manufacturer" means a person who produces copper sulphate.

(11) "Transportation costs" or "freight charges"shall be deemed to include the tax imposed by section 620 of the Revenue Act of 1942 (Pub. Law 753, 77th Cong.; approved October 21, 1942), as if it were a like increase in the rate or the amount charged by the carrier for the transportation in question.

(12) "Eastern territory" means the District of Columbia and all the states of the United States except California, Oregon, Washington, Utah, and Idaho.

(13) "Western territory" means the states of California, Oregon, Washington, Utah, and Idaho.

(b) Unless the context otherwise requires, the definitions set forth in section 302 of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, shall apply to other terms used in this regulation.

§ 1335.1008 Federal and state taxes. Any tax upon, or incident to, the sale or delivery of copper sulphate for which maximum prices are established by this regulation imposed by any statute of the United States or statute or ordinance of any state or subdivision thereof, or any increase in such tax shall be treated as follows in determining the seller's maximum price for such commodity and in preparing the records of such seller with respect thereto:

If the statute or ordinance imposing such tax or increase does not prohibit the seller from stating and collecting the tax or increase separately from the purchase price, and the seller does separately state it, the seller may collect, in addition to the maximum price, the amount of the tax or increase actually paid by him or an amount equal to the amount of tax paid by any prior vendor and separately stated and collected from the seller by the vendor from whom he purchased: Provided, That in those cases where the maximum price was determined under § 1335.1011 (b), such amount may only be collected if at the time a maximum price under the General Maximum Price Regulation was determined by the seller or by his most closely competitive seller of the same class, as the case may be, such amount was not included in the maximum price so determined.

§ 1335.1009 Notification of changes in maximum prices. Any manufacturer making sales to any seller at retail (other than a distributor) of copper sulphate for use as an agricultural insecticide or fungicide shall attach the following notification to the invoices sent such seller covering deliveries of copper sulphate during the period between April 3, 1943 and July 3, 1943. Any person other than a manufacturer making sales of copper sulphate to such a seller at retail shall attach the following notification to the invoices sent to such seller covering deliveries of copper sulphate during the period between May 3, 1943 and August 3, 1943.

Under an OPA maximum price regulation our ceiling price for sales of copper sulphate (specify grade and container) to you has been reduced by $$$_____. Under the provisions of Maximum Price Regulation No. 144—Retail Prices of Agricultural Insecticides and Fungicides, you are required to reduce your ceiling prices on copper sulphate we shipped to you after (manufacturer insert April 3, 1943) (other sellers insert May 3, 1943) and which you sell at retail for use as an agricultural insecticide or fungicide by the same amount as our ceiling prices for sales to you have been reduced.

§ 1335.1010 Effective dates. This regulation (§§ 1335.1001 to 1335.1011, inclusive) shall become effective as to sales or deliveries by manufacturers, on April 3, 1943, and as to sales or deliveries by other persons, on May 3, 1943.

100 lb. drums	$9.20	$9.70
200 lb. drums	8.95	9.45
400 lb. drums	8.70	9.20

(e) Application of quantity differentials. If quantities of 30,000 pounds or more consisting of more than one grade or type of package of copper sulphate are sold, the maximum price applicable to each grade or type of package of copper sulphate shall be the price for quantities of 30,000 pounds or more.

(iii) Other containers. For sales in containers other than those for which base prices are specifically established in subdivision (i) or (ii) of this subparagraph (1), the base price per 100 pounds shall be the base price per 100 pounds established in whichever one of such subdivisions is applicable for the same grade and quantity of copper sulphate in the most nearly similar type of container of the next larger size or, if there is no next larger size, of the largest size.

(2) Maximum prices. On a sale to any purchaser the seller shall apply to the applicable base price established in subparagraphs (1), (2), or (3) the same cash or other discounts or allowances, credit terms, and practices relating to the payment of freight charges and other transportation costs as were applied during the three-month period ending March 31, 1942, to the manufacturer's list prices on deliveries by the seller to that purchaser, or in case no deliveries were made to that purchaser during said three-month period as were applied on deliveries to a purchaser of the same class.

(b) Sales other than those for which maximum prices are established in paragraph (a). Maximum prices for sales of copper sulphate other than sales for which maximum prices are established in paragraph (a) or sales at retail for use as an agricultural insecticide or fungicide are established as set forth below:

(1) Copper sulphate produced in Eastern territory—(i) Where seller determined maximum prices for such sales under the General Maximum Price Regulation prior to April 3, 1943. The maximum price for sales to any class of purchasers shall be the seller's maximum price for sales to a purchaser of the same class as determined under the General Maximum Price Regulation prior to April 3, 1943, less twenty-five cents per 100 pounds for the monohydrated grade or fifteen cents per 100 pounds for other grades.

(ii) Where seller did not determine maximum prices for such sales under the General Maximum Price Regulation prior to April 3, 1943. The maximum price for sales to any class of purchasers shall be the maximum price established under this regulation for sales to a purchaser of the same class by the seller's most closely competitive seller of the same class.

(2) Copper sulphate produced in Western territory—(i) Where seller determined maximum prices for such sales under the General Maximum Price Regulation prior to April 3, 1943. The maximum price per unit for sales to any class of purchasers shall be the seller's maximum price per unit for sales to a purchaser of the same class as determined under the General Maximum Price Regulation prior to April 3, 1943, less the amount computed in subdivision (a) below.

(a) From the seller's cost of acquisition per unit for the copper sulphate for which he determined a maximum price under the General Maximum Price Regulation he shall subtract his present replacement cost per unit for such copper sulphate.

(ii) Where the seller did not determine maximum prices for such sales under the General Maximum Price Regulation prior to April 3, 1943. The maximum price to any class of purchasers shall be the maximum price established under this regulation for sales to a purchaser of the same class by the seller's most closely competitive seller of the same class.

(c) Containers. No charges may be made for containers except as specified in paragraph (a). The seller may, however, require the buyer to return containers, and if he does so, he may charge a reasonable deposit for the return of such containers. Such deposit must be repaid to the buyer upon the return of the container in good condition, reasonable wear and tear excepted, within a reasonable time. Transportation costs with respect to the return of empty containers to the seller shall, in all cases, be borne by the seller. Where the seller requires the return of a container, the maximum prices for the copper sulphate contained therein as established in paragraphs (a) and (b) shall be reduced by the reasonable value of the container.

Where the return of containers is required, the amount deducted for the reasonable value of the container from the maximum prices established by paragraphs (a) or (b) shall be separately stated on the invoice.

The reasonable value of the container shall be considered to be:

(1) The specific dollar-and-cents maximum price, if any, established by any applicable regulation of the Office of Price Administration for an emptied container of the same kind which has not been reconditioned for reuse, f. o. b. buyer's plant or,

(2) If no such specific dollar-and-cents maximum price has been established, the difference between the replacement cost to the seller who packaged the copper sulphate in the container of the same kind of new container, delivered at his plant, and the sum of the average cost to him of reconditioning the used container for reuse and the average cost to him of transporting such used container to his plant. Until the end of the first full calendar month following April 3, 1943, the average cost of transportation and of reconditioning may be estimated if no actual costs are available for the preceding month. For every calendar month thereafter the average cost of transportation and of reconditioning shall be computed as equal to the actual average cost of these items during the calendar month immediately preceding.

Issued this 29th day of March 1943.

6. Section 1351.1319 (b) (5) is added to read as follows:

(5) The maximum price for "bulk honey" when sold by the producer at retail shall be 15¢ per pound, f. o. b. shipping point.

7. Section 1351.1319 (e) is amended to read as follows:

(e) Maximum prices for bulk honey which is resold—(1) Resales by persons other than importers. A seller, other than an importer, shall determine his maximum price f. o. b. shipping point, for bulk honey which he resells in the same manner as that provided for the seller of "Packaged honey": Provided, (i) That he must employ his "base period" price and not 102% thereof, and (ii) that in computing his "base price" he shall base his computations only upon resales of "bulk honey" made during the base period to the particular "class of purchaser" for which he is determining his maximum price. The term "class of purchaser" refers to the practice prevailing during the base period of offering classes or groups of purchasers different prices on the same honey items.

(2) Resales by importers. Importers who resell "bulk honey" shall determine their maximum price f. o. b. their shipping point for such resales by applying the applicable "markup" to the CIF port of entry price, duty included, which they paid for the "bulk honey". The importer's "markup" for carload sales shall be 10% and for less than carload sales 15%.

(3) Inability to compute price under this paragraph. Resellers of "bulk honey" who are unable to compute their maximum price under this paragraph (e) shall adopt as their own maximum prices the maximum prices established by their most closely competitive sellers of the same class who sell to the same class of purchasers.

8. Section 1351.1319 (h) is added to read as follows:

(h) A seller may take as his maximum price for any item of "packaged honey" either the prices established pursuant to paragraph (e) of § 1351.1319 or the prices set forth in the following table. Persons who price their items in accordance with

1. In § 1351.203 (b), subparagraphs (22) and (27) are hereby revoked.

This amendment shall become effective April 3, 1943.

EXTRACTED HONEY

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Maximum Price Regulation No. 275 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 1351.1302 is amended to read as follows:

§ 1351.1302 Exempt sales. The provisions of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 275 shall not be applicable to sales at wholesale and sales at retail, except (a) that resales of "bulk honey" shall be covered by this regulation; and (b) all sales of "packaged honey" by the packager thereof shall be covered by this regulation; and (c) sales at retail of "bulk honey" by the producer shall be governed by § 1351.1319 (b) (5) of this regulation.

2. Section 1351.1314 is hereby revoked.

3. Section 1351.1319 (a) (2) is amended to read as follows:

(2) "Bulk honey" means honey in container of more than 15 pounds capacity.

4. Section 1351.1319 (a) (3) is amended to read as follows:

(3) "Packaged honey" means honey in a container of 15 pounds capacity or less.

5. Section 1351.1319 (b) (3) is amended by inserting after the phrase "CIF Port of Entry", the phrase "Duty included".

*Copies may be obtained from the Office of Price Administration.

PART 1407—RATIONING OF FOOD AND FOOD PRODUCTS

[RO 16,[1] Amendment 2]

MEAT, FATS, FISH AND CHEESES

A rationale accompanying this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Ration Order 16 is amended in the following respects:

1. In the Preamble under the undesignated head note How Retailers and Wholesalers Operate, the word "his" between the word "sell" and the word "points" is deleted and the word "with" is inserted in its place.

2. Section 2.3 (f) is added to read as follows:

(f) Consumers may give up points before delivery of butter or rationed cheeses. A consumer may also acquire "butter" or "rationed cheeses" from a mobile conveyance operated on a regular delivery route by giving up stamps before he acquires the foods. If the seller or transferor cannot fill all or any part of the order, he will return a ration check for the difference. The consumer must exchange that check, at any board, for a certificate which he can then use to get foods covered by this order.

3. Section 2.5 (b) is amended by deleting the comma after the word "above" and inserting a parenthesis in its place.

4. Section 3.1 (a) is amended by deleting the words "wholly from foods not covered by this order, (whether or not they are later processed)."

5. Section 3.1 (b) is amended by deleting the first sentence and inserting in its place the following sentence: Any person may lend any foods he produces, primarily for consumption in his own household, wholly from foods not covered by this order (whether or not they are later processed) to any consumer, without the surrender of points.

6. Section 3.1 (b) is amended by inserting a comma between the word "produced" and the word "in".

7. Section 4.3 (a) (1) (i) is amended by deleting the word "thereby" and inserting the words "there by" in its place.

8. Section 4.4 (b) is amended by deleting the word "both" and inserting the word "all" in its place.

9. Section 4.6 (a) is amended by deleting the word "price" and inserting the word "place" in its place.

10. Section 6.8 (d) is amended by inserting between the word "his" and the word "transfers" the word "other".

11. Section 6.9 (a) is amended by deleting the word "customers" and inserting the word "consumers".

12. Section 6.10 (a) is amended by deleting the word "condition" and inserting the word "conditions" in its place.

13. Section 6.10 (c) (2) is amended by deleting the word "is".

14. Section 7.4 (b) is amended by inserting the following sentence between the sentence ending with the word "establishments" and the sentence beginning with the word "If"; If he has any such foods at, or in transit to, any place which is not his industrial user establishment, for industrial use at that establishment, he must include them in the inventory of that establishment.

15. The text of section 7.5 (d) is redesignated as section 7.5 (e).

16. Section 9.2 (h) is added to read as follows:

(h) Certain primary distributors and retailers. Any primary distributor or retailer who receives stamps or certificates from consumers before the time when "butter" or "rationed cheeses" are transferred from his mobile conveyance operated on a regular delivery route, must open a ration bank account.

[1] 8 F.R. 1840, 2288, 2677, 2681, 2684, 2943, 3179.

[2] Filed with the Division of the Federal Register as part of the original document.

[3] 8 F.R. 3595.

17. Section 9.3 (a) is amended by deleting the last sentence, which is within parentheses, and inserting in its place the following sentence: However, any person who sells or transfers foods covered by this order to consumers may retain and need not deposit in his ration bank account enough loose one-point stamps for use in returning excess points to consumers pursuant to section 2.3 (c). (Section 3.2 (a) states another exception to this paragraph.)

18. Section 10.2 (b) is amended by deleting the number "10" and inserting the number "11".

19. Section 10.4 (c) (1) is amended by inserting the following sentence between the sentence ending with the word "consumers" and the sentence beginning with the word "If": If he sells from a truck or other mobile conveyance, the tables must be posted in it.

20. Section 10.4 (j) is added to read as follows:

(j) Transfers of butter and rationed cheeses from mobile conveyances. (1) "Butter" or "rationed cheeses" may also be transferred to consumers from mobile conveyances operated on a regular delivery route if a certificate or stamps are received before the time the foods are transferred.

(2) If the transferor fails to deliver foods equal in point value to the points received, he shall issue and return to the consumer a ration check for the balance.

(3) No primary distributor or retailer may receive stamps or certificates from and make transfers to consumers under this paragraph unless he has a ration bank account.

21. Section 10.7 (b) is amended by inserting between the word "registered" and the word "separately" the words ", or are to be registered,".

22. Section 10.9 (a) is amended by adding to and at the end of the last sentence the following words: "and transfers of 'butter' and 'rationed cheeses' from mobile conveyances."

23. Section 10.10 (b) is amended to read as follows:

(b) The Collector of Customs shall turn over, each month, to the District Office for the area in which the point of entry is located, all points received by him in this way during the preceding month.

24. Section 11.10 (a) (2) is amended to read as follows:

(2) A person engaged principally and primarily in the business of adjusting losses or of reconditioning or selling damaged articles.

25. Section 12.3 (a) is amended by deleting the words "will be" between the word "establishment" and the word "located" and inserting the word "is" in their place.

26. Section 17.6 is added to read as follows:

SEC. 17.6 Office of Price Administration may require applicants to give information. (a) The Washington office, a "board", or a district manager, State director or regional administrator may require any person who files an application or an appeal under this order to appear in person, to bring witnesses and to supply any information needed for passing on his case.

27. Section 22.1 (a) is amended by inserting between the word "the" and the word "War" the words "Maritime Commission,".

28. The head-notes of section 22.5 and section 22.5 (a) are amended to read as follows:

SEC. 22.5 Veterans' Administration may apply for certificates under General Ration Order 5. (a) The Veterans' Administration may obtain foods covered by this order for institutional use and may use such foods in accordance with the provisions of General Ration Order 5.

29. Section 22.7 (b) is amended by deleting the word "Cutsoms" and inserting the word "Customs" in its place.

30. Section 24.1 (a) is amended by deleting from the definition of "butter" the quotation mark before the word "edible" and inserting a quotation mark between that word and the word "fat"; by inserting in that definition between the words "defined by" and the word "section" the words "chapter 840,"; and by inserting therein between the words "amended by" and the word "section" the words "chapter 784,".

31. Section 24.1 (a) is amended by inserting in the definition of "margarine" between the words "defined in" and the word "section" the words "chapter 840,"; by deleting from that definition the number "210" and inserting the number "209" in its place; and by inserting therein between the words "amended by" and the word "section", the words "chapter 882,".

32. Section 24.1 (a) is amended by deleting the definition of the word "refine" and inserting in its place the following definition: "Refine" means to treat with caustic soda, soda ash, or otherwise reduce the free fatty acid content.

This amendment shall become effective March 29, 1943.

(Pub. Law 671, 76th Cong., as amended by Pub. Laws 89, 421, 507 and 729, 77th Cong.; E.O. 9125, 7 F.R. 2719; E.O. 9280, 7 F.R. 10179; W.P.B. Therefore, under the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9250, Maximum Price Regulation No. 353 is hereby issued.

Sec.
1396.51 Applicability of this regulation.
1396.52 Trade practices and terms relating to maximum prices.
1396.53 Records and reports.
1396.54 Prohibited practices.
1396.55 Methods of preventing or penalizing sales at higher than maximum prices.
1396.56 Petitions for amendment.
1396.57 Definitions.
1396.58 Effective dates.
1396.59 Appendix A: Maximum prices.

AUTHORITY: §§ 1396.51 to 1396.59, inclusive, issued under Pub. Laws 421 and 729, 77th Cong., E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871.

§ 1396.51 Applicability of this regulation—(a) Commodities covered by this regulation. This regulation applies only to the fine chemicals listed below:

Saccharin.
Caffeine.
Anhydrous caffeine.
Theobromine.
Citrated caffeine.
Vanillin.
Ethyl vanillin.
Coumarin.
Salicylic acid.
Acetylsalicylic acid.
Citric acid.
Ascorbic acid.

These fine chemicals are referred to in this section as the "fine chemicals listed above."

A definition of each of these chemicals as used in this regulation is given in § 1396.57 Definitions.

(b) Prohibition of sales at higher than maximum prices. On and after April 3, 1943, regardless of any contract or other obligation, no person shall sell or deliver and no person shall buy or receive in the course of trade or business any of the fine chemicals listed above at higher prices than the maximum prices established by this regulation; no person shall agree, offer, solicit, or attempt to do any of the foregoing.

Lower prices than the maximum prices established by this regulation may be charged, demanded, offered, or paid.

(c) Transactions excluded from this regulation and covered by other regulations. The maximum prices established by this regulation shall apply to all sales and deliveries of the fine chemicals listed above except as provided in the following six subparagraphs:

(1) Sales at retail. This regulation does not apply to sales at retail. The maximum prices for sales at retail of the fine chemicals listed above are the maximum prices established by the General Maximum Price Regulation.

(2) Sales of reagent grades. This regulation does not apply to sales of reagent grades

(i) To a person for use in medicinal or chemical preparations where such reagent grades have been customarily used, or

(ii) To a person who purchases for resale to a person mentioned in subdivision (i).

The maximum prices for sales of reagent grades of the fine chemicals listed above to the purchasers mentioned in subdivisions (i) and (ii) are the maximum prices established by the General Maximum Price Regulation.

(3) Sales in tablet or capsule form. This regulation does not apply to sales in tablet or capsule form. The maximum prices for sales of the fine chemicals listed above in tablet or capsule form are the maximum prices established by the General Maximum Price Regulation.

(4) Sales in the territories and possessions. This regulation applies only to the forty-eight states of the United States and the District of Columbia and does not apply to the territories and possessions of the United States.

(5) Exports. This regulation does not apply to exports except as it establishes domestic maximum prices which are used as base prices for the determination of export prices. The maximum prices at which any person may export the fine chemicals listed above are established by Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation.[6]

(6) Imports. This regulation does not apply to imports. The maximum prices which an importer may charge for the fine chemicals listed above which have been imported are established by Revised Supplementary Regulation No. 12[7] to the General Maximum Price Regulation.

§ 1396.52 Trade practices and terms relating to maximum prices—(a) Containers. The maximum prices established by this regulation shall not be increased by any charges for containers. Sellers may, however, require the return of containers of 25 pound size or larger. When sales are made in containers which are to be returned, the seller may require a reasonable deposit for the return of such containers, but the deposit must be refunded to the buyer upon return of the containers in good condition within a reasonable time. Transportation costs with respect to the return of empty containers to the seller for which a deposit has been charged shall in all cases be borne by the seller. If the seller permits the buyer to furnish his own containers, the transportation costs with respect to sending the empty containers to the seller shall in all cases be borne by the seller.

(b) Discounts, credit terms, and transportation charges. Each seller shall apply to the maximum prices established by this regulation for each fine chemical the same discounts, credit terms, and practices relating to the payment of freight charges and other transportation costs which were in effect on October 15, 1941, on sales by the seller of the particular fine chemical.

(c) Broker's commissions. If the buyer purchases through a broker or other agent acting for the buyer, the sum of the price paid by the buyer to the seller plus the commission, fee, or other charge paid by the buyer to his broker or other agent may not exceed the maximum prices established by this regulation.

(d) Federal and state sales taxes. There may be added to the maximum prices established by this regulation the amount of any tax upon the sale or delivery of a fine chemical imposed by a statute of the United States or statute or ordinance of a state or subdivision thereof, if but only if,

(1) The statute or ordinance requires or permits the seller to state the tax separately from the purchase price, and

(2) The tax is separately stated and collected by the seller.

(e) Adjustable pricing. A seller and a buyer may agree to adjust a purchase price to a price not in excess of the maximum price in effect at the time of delivery. But a price may not be made adjustable to a maximum price which will be in effect at some time after the delivery. For example, if a contract is made for the sale of a fine chemical to be delivered six months later, the contract may provide that the purchase price will be adjusted upward to the new maximum price if prior to the time of delivery a higher maximum price has been established for the fine chemical. But the parties may not agree to adjust the purchase price of a fine chemical to be delivered one month later to the maximum price in effect six months later.

In an appropriate situation where a petition for amendment requires extended consideration, the Price Administrator may, upon application, grant permission to agree to adjust prices upon deliveries made during the pendency of the petition in accordance with the disposition of the petition.

§ 1396.53 Records and reports. (a) Every seller making a sale of one pound or more of any of the fine chemicals for which maximum prices are established by this regulation after April 2, 1943, shall keep, for inspection by the Office of Price Administration for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect, complete and accurate records of each sale of one pound or more showing:

(1) The date,
(2) The name and address of the seller and of the buyer,
(3) The name of the fine chemical and the kind and grade,
(4) The quantity,
(5) The size of the container,
(6) The price charged or received,
(7) The cash discount or credit terms, and
(8) The transportation provisions.

If a seller retains an invoice or a duplicate copy of an invoice containing this information in his files for the specified period, he will have complied with the record requirements of this section.

(b) A primary distributor of one or more of the fine chemicals for which maximum prices are established by this regulation shall submit to the Office of Price Administration in Washington, D. C. before May 1, 1943, a list of these fine chemicals of which he is a primary distributor.

(c) Persons affected by this regulation shall submit such reports to the Office of Price Administration as may from time to time be required.

§ 1396.54 Prohibited practices—(a) General. Any practice which is a device to evade the price limitations set forth in this regulation, whether by direct or indirect methods, or by the use of commissions, service charges, transportation charges, premiums, combination sales, tying-agreements, and the like, in connection with the sale of a fine chemical alone or together with any other commodity, is prohibited by this regulation.

(b) Specific prohibited practices. The following are among the specific practices prohibited:

(1) Securing the effect of a higher price by changing credit practices or cash discounts or practices relating to the payment of transportation charges from those in effect on October 15, 1941. This includes reducing the cash discount period, decreasing credit periods, making greater charges for extension of credit or requiring purchasers to pay part or all of the transportation charges where no such requirement was made on October 15, 1941.

(2) Selling the fine chemical in tablet or capsule form or diluted or in solution in order to evade the maximum prices established by this regulation

(3) Breaking up a sale which would normally be a single sale into a series of smaller sales in order to evade the price limitations set forth in this regulation.

(4) Charging a purchasing commission based on the quantity or value of the fine chemical purchased, if the commission plus the purchase price is higher than the maximum price permitted by this regulation.

§ 1396.55 Methods of preventing or penalizing sales at higher than maximum prices—(a) Enforcement. Persons violating any provision of this regulation are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, suits for treble damages and proceedings for suspension of licenses provided by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

(b) Licensing. Supplementary Order No. 11[8] licenses all sellers under this regulation who are distributors as the term "distributor" is defined in the order. This order, in brief, provides that a license is necessary for primary distributors and resellers to make sales under this regulation. A license is automatically granted to these sellers. It is not necessary to apply specially for the license, but a registration may later be required. The Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Supplementary Order No. 11 describe the circumstances under which licenses may be suspended.

§ 1396.56 Petitions for amendment. Any person seeking an amendment of any provision of this regulation may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1.[9]

§ 1396.57 Definitions. (a) When used in this regulation the term:

(1) "Person" includes an individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons or legal successor or representative of any of the foregoing, and includes the United States or any agency thereof, or any other government, or any of its political subdivisions, or any agency of any of the foregoing.

(2) "Fine chemicals" means the following chemicals:

Saccharin.
Caffeine.
Anhydrous caffeine.
Theobromine.
Citrated caffeine.
Vanillin.
Ethyl vanillin.
Coumarin.
Salicylic acid.
Acetylsalicylic acid.
Citric acid.
Ascorbic acid.

Each of these chemicals is defined as it is used in this regulation in the subparagraphs which immediately follow.

(3) "Saccharin" includes saccharin U. S. P. and soluble saccharin U. S. P. and all other grades and kinds of saccharin.

(4) "Caffeine" includes caffeine U. S. P. and all other grades and kinds of caffeine except anhydrous caffeine.

(5) "Anhydrous caffeine" means caffeine with a water content not in excess of one percent by weight.

(6) "Theobromine" includes all grades and kinds of theobromine.

(7) "Citrated caffeine" includes citrated caffeine U. S. P. and all other grades and kinds of citrated caffeine.

(8) "Vanillin" includes vanillin U. S. P. and all other grades and kinds of vanillin.

(9) "Eugenol-vanillin" means vanillin produced by the eugenol process.

(10) "Lignin-vanillin" means vanillin produced by the lignin process.

(11) "Guaiacol-vanillin" means vanillin produced by the guaiacol process.

(12) "Ethyl vanillin" includes all grades and kinds of ethyl vanillin, a compound which is sometimes also referred to as bourbonal, ethylprotal, ethovan, vanillal, vanirome, or vanillodine.

(13) "Coumarin" includes coumarin N. F. and all other grades and kinds of coumarin.

(14) "Salicylic acid" includes salicylic acid U. S. P. and all other grades and kinds of salicylic acid.

(15) "Acetylsalicylic acid" includes acetylsalicylic acid U. S. P. and all other grades and kinds of acetylsalicylic acid.

(16) "Citric acid" include citric acid U. S. P. and all other grades and kinds of citric acid.

(17) "Ascorbic acid" includes ascorbic acid U. S. P. and all other grades and kinds of ascorbic acid, a compound which is sometimes also referred to as Vitamin C.

(18) "Producer" means a person who sells or deliver the particular fine chemical which he has synthesized, extracted, processed or otherwise made or manufactured, or which he has had some other person synthesize, extract, process or otherwise make or manufacture for him from materials supplied in whole or in part by him.

(19) "Primary distributor" means a person who purchases a particular fine chemical for resale and who, during the period from October 1, 1941, to March 31, 1942, made more than half of his purchases of that particular fine chemical during that period from producers at a discount of 5 percent or more from the producer's list prices. As used in this definition, "producer's list prices" means the quoted or published prices of a producer for sales to resellers or industrial consumers.

The determination of whether a person is a primary distributor or a reseller of a fine chemical must be made for each of the fine chemicals and a person may be a primary distributor of one fine chemical and a reseller of another.

(20) "Reseller" means any person selling a fine chemical of which he is neither the producer nor a primary distributor. A person may be a reseller of one fine chemical and a producer or a primary distributor of another. For example, a wholesale druggist will usually be a reseller.

(21) "Sale at retail" means a sale or delivery of a fine chemical to an ultimate consumer other than an industrial or commercial user.

(22) "Commercial or industrial user" means a person who purchases a fine chemical for use as a raw material in his production of a finished or semi-finished product.

(23) "Reagent grade" means a grade which is purer than the U. S. P. or N. F. grade and which was marketed and recognized as such prior to October 1, 1941.

(24) "Importer" means any person who purchases or receives a fine chemical, whenever the purchase or receipt involves the transportation of the fine chemical to the forty-eight states of the United States or District of Columbia from any place outside this area.

(b) Unless the context otherwise requires, the definitions set forth in section 203 of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, shall apply to other terms used in this regulation.

§ 1396.58 Effective dates. This regulation shall become effective April 3, 1943, Provided, That Revised Price Schedules Nos. 99, 101 as amended, 103, and 104 shall remain in effect until this Maximum Price Regulation No. 353 shall become effective April 3, 1943.

§ 1396.59 Appendix A: Maximum prices. The maximum prices for sales in container sizes for which no maximum prices are listed in each of the tables below shall be the maximum prices applicable to the next larger container size.

(a) Saccharin—(1) Sales by producers and primary distributors. The maximum prices for sales of saccharin by producers and primary distributors are established as follows:

SACCHARIN—PRODUCERS AND PRIMARY DISTRIBUTORS

[Maximum price per pound]

Container size	Sold in quantities of—
	1,000 lbs. and over	100 up to 1,000 lbs.	Less than 100 lbs.
100 lbs. or more	$1.30	$1.40
25 lbs.	1.33	1.45	$1.60
5 lbs.	1.35	1.50	1.65
1 lb.	1.50	1.65	1.80
¼ lb.	1.65	1.80	1.95
1 oz.	2.05	2.20	2.35

(2) Sales by resellers. The maximum prices for sales of saccharin by resellers are established as follows:

SACCHARIN—RESELLERS

[Maximum price per pound]

Container size	Sold in quantities of—
	1,000 lbs. and over	100 up to 1,000 lbs.	10 up to 100 lbs.	Less than 10 lbs.
100 lbs. or more	$1.50	$1.61
25 lbs.	1.53	1.67	$1.84

1 lb.	3.39	4.14	4.75
¼ lb.	3.51	4.52	5.16
1 oz.	3.74	5.65	6.40

(c) Anhydrous caffeine—(1) Sales by producers and primary distributors. The maximum prices for sales of anhydrous caffeine by producers and primary distributors, except as provided in subparagraph (2), are established as follows:

ANHYDROUS CAFFEINE—PRODUCERS AND PRIMARY DISTRIBUTORS

[Maximum price per pound]

Container size	Sold in quantities of—
	100 lbs. and over	25 up to 100 lbs.	Less than 25 lbs.
100 lbs. or more	$3.00
25 lbs.	3.03	$3.15
10 lbs.	3.05	3.20	$3.35
5 lbs.	3.08	3.30	3.45
1 lb.	3.15	3.80	3.95
¼ lb.	3.25	4.13	4.28
1 oz.	3.45	4.90	4.90

(2) Exception for sales by certain producers. Each of the producers enumerated below may sell anhydrous caffeine of which he is the producer to industrial or commercial consumers at prices no higher than $9.00 per pound:

Casco Chemical Works, New York, New York.
Fallek Products, New York, New York.
Verona Chemical Company, Newark, New Jersey
Robert & Company, New York, New York
S. B. Penick & Company, New York, New York.
American Chlorophyll, Inc., Alexandria, Virginia.

(3) Sales by resellers. The maximum prices for sales of anhydrous caffeine by resellers are established as follows:

ANHYDROUS CAFFEINE—RESELLERS

[Maximum price per pound]

Container size	Sold in quantities of—
	100 lbs. and over	25 up to 100 lbs.	Less than 25 lbs.
100 lbs. or more	$3.45
25 lbs.	3.48	$3.62
10 lbs.	3.51	3.68	$4.00

Chapter XIII—Petroleum Administration for War

PART 1515—PETROLEUM PRODUCTION OPERATIONS

[Petroleum Administrative Order 11]

The fulfillment of the requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage of materials necessary for the production of petroleum for defense, for private account, and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary in the public interest to promote the national defense, and to provide adequate supplies of petroleum for military and other essential purposes.

Pursuant to Conservation Order M-68 as amended January 4, 1943, (§ 1047.1), § 1047.1 (Conservation Order M-68) is renumbered § 1515.6 of this chapter and amended to read as follows:

§ 1515.6 Petroleum Administrative Order No. 11—(a) Scope of this order. Except as otherwise modified by the provisions of any order issued as a supplement to this order, the provisions of this order shall be applicable to petroleum production operations in the United States, its territories or possessions, but not elsewhere, and to the delivery, acquisition, or use of material for such operations.

(b) Definitions. (1) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, governmental corporation or agency, or any organized group of persons, whether incorporated or not.

(2) "Material" means any commodity, equipment, accessory, part, assembly, or product of any kind.

(3) "Petroleum" means petroleum, petroleum products, and associated hydrocarbons, including but not limited to natural gas, except that natural gas which has entered into gas transmission lines from field gathering lines shall not be so included.

(4) "Production" means any operation directly incident to:

(i) The discovery, development, or depletion of petroleum pools; or

(ii) The extraction or recovery of natural gasoline and associated hydrocarbons.

(5) "Production operation" means any use of material for construction, expansion, improvement, reconstruction, remodeling, alteration, maintenance, repair, or replacement incident to production.

(6) "Maintenance or repair" means (without regard to accounting practice) any use of material in production consisting of any of the following:

(i) The upkeep of material or equipment in a sound working condition; or

(ii) The restoration of material or equipment which has been rendered unsafe or unfit for service by wear and tear, damage, destruction, failure of parts or similar causes; or

(iii) A capital addition (excluding the installation or replacement of pumping or other artificial lifting equipment and the deepening or plugging back of any well) not exceeding in material cost $500 for any one complete operation which has not been subdivided for the purpose of coming within this definition.

Provided, That upkeep or restoration shall not include any use of material for the improvement of material or equipment by the replacement of material which is still serviceable in the existing material or equipment.

(7) "Exploratory well" means any well located at least two miles from every drilling or producible well: Provided, That exploratory well shall not include any well located in any field or area which at the time of the drilling of such well has been "proven" to be productive only of gas or condensate, or both, by the drilling of wells other than such well.

(8) "Pool" means any underground accumulation of crude petroleum or associated hydrocarbon substances, including but not limited to natural gas, constituting a single and separate reservoir or source of supply within a field, area or horizon, whether or not presently discovered or developed.

(9) "Lease equipment" means fixed or stationary equipment or material for direct or indirect use in production installed on any property located within the productive boundaries of any field including but not limited to oil treating equipment, salt water disposal or injection equipment, fresh water wells and the equipment therefor, or production office or camp facilities located adjacent to any field: Provided, That lease equipment shall not include: an oil, gas, or condensate well; well equipment, pumping or artificial lifting facilities, or flow, lead, and gathering lines for such well; cycling plants; pressure maintenance plants; secondary recovery plants; or plants for the extraction or recovery of natural gasoline and associated hydrocarbons or for other treatment or processing of gas.

(10) "Property interest" means any interest of an oil or gas lessee: Provided, That where no oil or gas lease exists on any parcel of land, the property interest in such land shall be deemed to be the aggregate of the interests in such land covering the right to drill for and produce petroleum.

(11) "Condensate field" means any field or pool designated as such by Exhibit A of this order, as amended from time to time.

(c) Restrictions on acquisition and use of material. Subject to the provisions of paragraph (f) of this order, no person shall accept delivery of, acquire, or use material for a production operation except where:

(1) Such material is to be used for maintenance or repair.

(2) Such material is to be used exclusively for operations directly involved in the search for and discovery of a previously unknown pool by means of geological, geophysical, or geochemical prospecting, or the drilling or completion of any exploratory well.

(3) Such material is to be used to complete any well actually being drilled on March 31, 1943, in conformity with any previously issued Conservation Order M-68 (§ 1047.1), or supplementary order thereto.

(4) Such material is to be used to construct, install, or extend a crude oil gathering line from the first valve on the discharge side of the lease or field shipping tank or battery where petroleum is first gauged to any transportation facility or such material is to be used to construct, install, or extend a field gathering line for the transmission of gas from the well-head connection to the point at which such gas leaves the gathering line: Provided, That material shall not be used to construct, install, or extend any such gathering line,

(i) Which duplicates in whole or in part the transportation functions of any existing gathering line or gathering lines; or

(ii) Which has a material cost when completed of more than $2,500.

(5) Such material is to be used for pumping or other artificial lifting equipment to be installed on a well located on any lease or tract on which the number of wells to which pumping or other artificial lifting equipment is attached does not at any time exceed an average of one well to every ten surface acres of the part or parts of such lease or tract which are contained within the productive limits of the field; or such material is to be used for pumping or other artificial lifting equipment to be installed on a well located on any lease or tract of ten acres or less on which no other well is located to which pumping or other artificial lifting equipment is attached and which lease or tract has not been subdivided or rearranged for the purpose of making the provisions hereof available.

(6) Such material is to be used to drill, complete, equip, connect, or provide additions to any oil well in any discovered oil field (other than a condensate field) in which the surface is divided into quarter-quarter sections (north, south, east or west quarter-quarters), on a quarter-quarter section of at least 35 surface acres in conformity with a uniform well-spacing pattern, as defined by paragraph (d) (1) of this order, of not more than one single drilling or producible well to each such quarter-quarter section.

(7) Such material is to be used to drill, complete, equip, connect, or provide additions to any oil well in any discovered oil field (other than a condensate field) in which the surface is not divided into quarter-quarter sections, in conformity with a uniform well-spacing pattern as defined by paragraph (d) (2) of this order, of not more than one single drilling or producible well to each 40 surface acres.

(8) Such material is to be used for lease equipment.

(9) Such material is to be used to plug-back and recomplete any oil well which conforms to all of the provisions of paragraph (c) (6) or (c) (7), whichever is applicable, except the provisions requiring that such well be the only well located upon the drilling unit and that such well be located at least 990 feet from every other drilling or producible well: Provided, That such well is not recompleted as a gas or condensate well.

(10) Such material is to be used in conformity with an exception issued under Conservation Order M-68 in response to an application in accordance with any OPC Form PD-214, an order issued as a supplement to this order, or an authorization of the Petroleum Administration for War issued in response to an application filed in accordance with paragraph (g) of this order.

(d) Determination of uniform well-spacing pattern—(1) Quarter - quarter section drill units. Each oil well located on a drilling unit consisting of a quarter-quarter section of at least 35 surface acres, pursuant to paragraph (c) (6) of this order, shall be drilled in accordance with a uniform well-spacing pattern, only where:

(i) Such well bears the same geographical relationship to the quarter-quarter section on which it is drilled as the first well spudded in the same field subsequent to December 23, 1941, on an approximately square drilling unit (consisting of at least 40 surface acres or a quarter-quarter section of at least 35 surface acres), bears to the drilling unit upon which it is located: Provided, That any well located within 100 feet of the point at which an identical geographical relationship would be attained or within 150 feet of the center of a quarter-quarter section shall, subject to paragraphs (d) (1) (iii) to (d) (1) (vii), inclusive, be deemed to conform to a uniform well-spacing pattern; or

(ii) Such well conforms only to paragraphs (d) (1) (iii) to (d) (1) (vii), inclusive, if it is the first well spudded in the field subsequent to December 23, 1941, on an approximately square drilling unit (consisting of at least 40 surface acres or a quarter-quarter section of at least 35 surface acres); and

(iii) All separate property interests in the quarter-quarter section upon which such well is drilled are first consolidated with each other; and

(iv) Such well is the only drilling or producible well located on the quarter-quarter section; and

(v) Such well is drilled at least 990 feet from every other drilling or producible well; and

(vi) Such well is drilled at least 330 feet from every lease line, property line, or subdivision line which separates unconsolidated property interests and from every border of the quarter-quarter section upon which such well is located; and

(vii) Such well is drilled with due diligence to maintain a vertical well-bore.

(2) Drilling units other than quarter-quarter sections. Each oil well located on a drilling unit consisting of not less than 40 surface acres, pursuant to paragraph (c) (7) of this order, shall be drilled in accordance with a uniform well-spacing pattern, only where:

(i) The drilling unit upon which such well is drilled consists entirely of acreage which is not attributable to any other oil well located within the same lease or property; and

(ii) All separate property interests in the drilling unit upon which such well is drilled are first consolidated with each other; and

(iii) The direct linear distance between any two points which are farthest removed from each other on the drilling unit upon which such well is drilled does not exceed the length of the diagonal of a rectangle, the length of which is twice its width and which is equivalent in surface acreage to such drilling unit; and

(iv) No portion of the drilling unit attributed to such well falls within 330 feet of any other drilling or producible well located within the same lease or property; and

(v) Such well is drilled at least 990 feet from every other drilling or producible well; and

(vi) Such well is drilled at least 330 feet from every lease line, property line, or subdivision line which separates unconsolidated property interests; and

(vii) Such well is drilled with due diligence to maintain a vertical well-bore.

(e) Computation of attributable acreage. (1) The acreage attributable to any well spudded on or before December 23, 1941, shall be determined by assigning to such well an acreage equivalent to that in the existing well density or drilling pattern contiguous to such well.

(2) The acreage attributable to any well spudded subsequent to December 23, 1941, shall be the same as the drilling unit assigned to such well pursuant to Conservation Order M-68, any Supplementary M-68 order, any exception issued pursuant to a determination under Conservation Order M-68, or pursuant to this order, any order issued as a supplement to this order, or any authorization issued in response to an application filed in accordance with paragraph (g) of this order, whichever is applicable.

(f) Restrictions on installation of pumping or other artificial lifting equipment. Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraphs (c) (5), (c) (6), (c) (7), and (c) (9), no person shall install pumping or other artificial lifting equipment upon any well prior to the time at which such well ceases to flow naturally or upon any well which will not be produced immediately after the installation of such pumping or other artificial lifting equipment and continuously thereafter to the extent permitted by law: Provided, That the provisions of this paragraph shall not apply to the installation of pumping or other artificial lifting equipment upon any well which has ceased to flow naturally at a rate at least equal to its "allowable production."

(g) Application for exceptions pursuant to paragraph (c) (10). (1) Applications for exception (authorization to accept delivery of, acquire, or use material for a production operation which does not conform to the provisions of paragraphs (c) (1) to (c) (9), inclusive) shall be made under paragraph (c) (10) of this Order in quadruplicate by letter and shall contain:

(i) The information specified in PAW Form PD-1 for any operation directly incident to the discovery, development or depletion of petroleum pools.

(ii) The information specified in PAW Form PD-2 for any operation incident to the extraction or recovery of natural gasoline or associated hydrocarbons.

(2) Information required for an authorization to accept delivery of, acquire, or use material shall be addressed to:

(i) The Director of Production where a crude oil operation, including pressure maintenance, repressuring, and secondary recovery operations; or

(ii) The Director of Natural Gas and Natural Gasoline where a natural gas, natural gasoline, or condensate operation.

Such information shall, unless otherwise directed, be submitted to the Petroleum Administration for War, Interior Building, Washington, D. C., Ref: PAO 11.

(h) Revocation of Supplementary M-68 orders. Supplementary Order No. M-68-1 (§ 1047.6), Supplementary Order No. M-68-2 (§ 1047.7), Supplementary Order No. M-68-4 (§ 1047.9), Supplementary Order No. M-68-6 (§ 1047.11), Petroleum Administrative Order No. 2 (§ 1515.1), and Petroleum Administrative Order No. 6 (§ 1515.2), as such orders may have been amended from time to time are hereby revoked except with respect to wells the actual physical drilling of which was either commenced or concluded pursuant to any such order on or prior to March 31, 1943, or except with respect to natural gasoline extraction plants the construction, expansion, improvement, reconstruction, remodeling, or alteration of which was either commenced or concluded pursuant to any such order on or prior to March 31, 1943. This action shall not be construed to relieve any person of the necessity of complying with any such order as to any well purportedly spudded under such order on or prior to March 31, 1943, or to affect any liabilities or penalties incurred thereunder, or to affect the status of any administrative process, any prosecution or the application of any penalty in connection with any such liabilities.

(i) Directions. The Petroleum Administration for War may, from time to time, issue directions with respect to the delivery, acquisition, or use of material for production purposes.

(j) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, by any act or omission, falsifies records kept or information furnished in connection with this order is guilty of a crime and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment.

Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order may be prohibited from delivering or receiving any material under priority control, or such other action may be taken as is deemed appropriate.

(k) This order shall be effective on and after March 31, 1943.

(E.O. 9276, 7 F.R. 10091; E.O. 9125, 7 F.R. 2719; sec. 2 (a) Pub. Law 671, 76th Cong., as amended by Pub. Laws 89 and 507, 77th Cong.)

Issued this 30th day of March 1943.

R. K. DAVIES,
Deputy Petroleum Administrator for War.

PART 1515—PETROLEUM PRODUCTION OPERATIONS

[Supplementary Order 1 to Petroleum Administrative Order 11]

General exception pursuant to paragraph (c) (10) of Petroleum Administrative Order No. 11.

§ 1515.7 Supplementary Order No. 1 to Petroleum Administrative Order No. 11—(a) Scope of this order. Except as otherwise modified by the provisions of any other order issued as a supplement to Petroleum Administrative Order No. 11 or by the provisions of any authorization issued pursuant to paragraph (c) (10) of Petroleum Administrative Order No. 11, the provisions of this order shall, to the extent provided herein, be applicable to natural gas production operations in the Appalachian Region, southeastern Kansas, northeastern Oklahoma, and all of the State of Missouri, but not elsewhere.

(b) Definitions. The definitions of Petroleum Administrative Order No. 11 shall apply in this order. In addition:

(1) "Area One" means the area and formations specified in paragraph (a) of Exhibit A hereof.

(2) "Area Two" means the area and formations specified in paragraph (b) of Exhibit A hereof.

(c) Gas wells drilled in Area One. Pursuant to paragraph (c) (10) of Petroleum Administrative Order No. 11, any person may accept delivery of, acquire, or use material for a natural gas production operation in Area One: Provided, That:

(1) Such material is used to drill, complete, equip, connect, or provide additions to any gas well in any gas field in conformity with a uniform well-spacing pattern, as defined by paragraph (d) of this order, of not more than one single drilling or producible gas well to each 160 surface acres.

(2) Such material is used to plug-back, deepen, recondition, recomplete, rework, or treat a gas well only within that pool from which such well is producing or last produced, for the purpose of maintaining or increasing the productivity of such well.

(3) Such material is used to plug-back or deepen from one pool to another, recondition, rework, treat, equip, connect, or provide additions to any gas well spudded in Area One on or before December 23, 1941, where such well has attributed to it a drilling unit of at least 160 surface acres, no part of which is attributable to any other gas well.

(d) Determination of uniform well-spacing pattern in Area One. Each gas well located in Area One on a drilling unit consisting of not less than 160 surface acres shall be drilled pursuant to paragraph (c) (1) of this order in accordance with a uniform well-spacing pattern, only where:

(1) The drilling unit upon which such well is drilled consists entirely of acreage which is not attributable to any other gas well located on the same lease or property; and

(2) No other drilling or producible gas well is drilled or located on such drilling unit; and

(3) All separate property interests in the drilling unit upon which such well is drilled are first consolidated with each other; and

(4) No portion of the drilling unit attributed to such well falls within 660 feet of any other drilling or producible well located within the same lease or property; and

(5) Such well is drilled at least 1,930 feet from every other drilling or producible gas well spudded subsequent to December 23, 1941, at least 890 feet from every other drilling or producible gas well spudded on or before December 23, 1941, and at least 990 feet from every drilling or producible oil well; and

(6) Such well is drilled at least 660 feet from every lease line, property line, or subdivision line which separates any unconsolidated property interests; and

(7) Such well is drilled with due diligence to maintain a vertical well-bore.

(e) Gas well drilled in Area Two. Pursuant to paragraph (c) (10) of Petroleum Administrative Order No. 11 any person may accept delivery of, acquire, or use material for a natural gas production operation in Area Two: Provided, That:

(1) Such material is used to drill, complete, equip, connect, or provide additions to any gas well in any gas field in conformity with a uniform well-spacing pattern, as defined by paragraph (f) of this order, of not more than one single drilling or producible gas well to each 40 surface acres.

(2) Such material is used to plug-back, deepen, recondition, recomplete, rework, or treat a gas well only within that pool from which such well is producing or last produced, for the purpose of maintaining or increasing the productivity of such well.

(3) Such material is used to plug-back or deepen from one pool to another, recondition, recomplete, rework, treat, equip, connect, or provide additions to any gas well spudded in Area Two on or before December 23, 1941, where such well has attributed to it a drilling unit of at least 40 surface acres, no part of which is attributable to any other gas well.

(f) Determination of uniform well-spacing pattern in Area Two. Each gas well located in Area Two on a drilling unit consisting of not less than 40 surface acres shall be drilled pursuant to paragraph (c) (1) of this Order in accordance with a uniform well-spacing pattern, only where:

(1) The drilling unit upon which such well is drilled consists entirely of acreage which is not attributable to any other gas well located on the same lease or property; and

(2) No other drilling or producible gas well is drilled or located on such drilling unit; and

(3) All separate property interests in the drilling unit upon which such well is drilled are first consolidated with each other; and

(4) No portion of the drilling unit attributed to such well falls within 660 feet of any other drilling or producible well located within the same lease or property; and

(5) Such well is drilled at least 990 feet from every other drilling or producible gas well spudded subsequent to December 23, 1941, at least 990 feet from every other drilling or producible gas well spudded on or before December 23, 1941, and at least 990 feet from every drilling or producible oil well; and

(6) Such well is drilled at least 330 feet from every lease line, property line, or subdivision line which separates any unconsolidated property interests; and

(7) Such well is drilled with due diligence to maintain a vertical well-bore.

(g) Computation of attributable acreage. (1) The acreage attributable to any well spudded on or before December 23, 1941, shall be determined by assigning to such well an acreage equivalent to that in the existing well density or drilling pattern contiguous to such well.

(2) The acreage attributable to any well spudded subsequent to December 23, 1941, shall be the same as the drilling unit assigned to such well pursuant to Conservation Order M-68, any Supplementary M-68 Order, any exception issued pursuant to a determination under Conservation Order M-68, or pursuant to Petroleum Administrative Order No. 11, or any exception or supplementary order thereto.

(h) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, by any act or omission, falsifies records kept or information furnished in connection with this order is guilty of a crime and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment.

Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order may be prohibited from delivering or receiving any material under priority control, or such other action may be taken as is deemed appropriate.

(i) This order shall be effective on and after March 31, 1943.

(E.O. 9276, 7 F.R. 10091; E.O. 9125, 7 F.R. 2719; sec. 2 (a), Pub. Law 671, 76th Cong., as amended by Pub. Laws 89 and 507, 77th Cong.)

Issued this 30th day of March 1943.

PART 1515—PETROLEUM PRODUCTION OPERATIONS

[Supplementary Order 2 to Petroleum Administrative Order 11]

General exception pursuant to paragraph (c) (10) of Petroleum Administrative Order No. 11.

§ 1515.8 Supplementary Order No. 2 to Petroleum Administrative Order No. 11—(a) Scope of this order. Except as otherwise modified by the provisions of any other order issued as a supplement to Petroleum Administrative Order No. 11 or by the provisions of any authorization issued pursuant to paragraph (c) (10) of Petroleum Administrative Order No. 11, the provisions of this order shall, to the extent provided herein, be applicable to secondary recovery operations in the discovered oil fields of the States of New York and Pennsylvania and to the drilling, completing or providing of additions to oil wells in the discovered oil fields of the States of New York, Pennsylvania, and West Virginia, but not elsewhere.

(b) Definitions. The definitions of Petroleum Administrative Order No. 11 shall be applicable in this order.

(c) Secondary recovery operations in New York and Pennsylvania. Pursuant to paragraph (c) (10) of Petroleum Administrative Order No. 11, any person may accept delivery of, acquire, or use material for secondary recovery operations by means of artificial water drive, gas drive, or air drive, in the discovered oil fields of Allegany and Cattaraugus Counties, New York, and McKean, Warren, Crawford, Forest, and Venango Counties, Pennsylvania.

(d) Oil well drilling in New York, Pennsylvania, and West Virginia. Pursuant to paragraph (c) (10) of Petroleum Administrative Order No. 11, any person may accept delivery of, acquire or use material to drill, complete or provide additions to any oil well in any discovered oil field in the States of New York, Pennsylvania, and West Virginia: Provided, That:

(1) As to any such oil well which is drilled or completed at a depth of not more than 1,000 feet:

(i) The drilling unit upon which such well is drilled consists of at least 5 surface acres upon which no other drilling or producible well is located;

(ii) All separate property interests in the drilling unit upon which such well is drilled are first consolidated with each other;

(iii) Such well is drilled at least 400 feet from every other drilling or producible oil well;

(iv) Such well is drilled at least 200 feet from every lease line, property line or subdivision line which separates any unconsolidated property interest.

(2) As to any such oil well which is drilled or completed at a depth of more than 1,000 feet and not more than 2,500 feet:

(i) The drilling unit upon which such well is drilled consists of at least 10 surface acres upon which no other drilling or producible well is located;

(ii) All separate property interests in the drilling unit upon which such well is drilled are first consolidated with each other;

(iii) Such well is drilled at least 500 feet from every other drilling or producible oil well;

(iv) Such well is drilled at least 300 feet from every lease line, property line or subdivision line which separates any unconsolidated property interest.

(3) As to any such oil well which is drilled or completed at a depth of more than 2500 feet:

(i) The drilling unit upon which such well is drilled consists of at least 20 surface acres upon which no other drilling or producible well is located;

(ii) All separate property interests in the drilling unit upon which such well is drilled are first consolidated with each other;

(iii) Such well is drilled at least 660 feet from every other drilling or producible oil well;

(iv) Such well is drilled at least 330 feet from every lease line, property line or subdivision line which separates any unconsolidated property interest.

(e) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, by any act or omission, falsifies records kept or information furnished in connection with this order is guilty of a crime and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment.

Any person who willfully violates any provision of this order may be prohibited from delivering or receiving any material under priority control, or such other action may be taken as is deemed appropriate.

(f) This order shall be effective on and after March 31, 1943.

TITLE 49—TRANSPORTATION AND RAILROADS

Chapter I—Interstate Commerce Commission

Subchapter B—Carriers by Motor Vehicle

[Tariff Circular MF 2, Supplement 8]

PART 187—FREIGHT RATE TARIFFS, SCHEDULES AND CLASSIFICATIONS

ORDER MODIFYING CONTRACT CARRIER SCHEDULES

At a session of the Interstate Commerce Commission, Division 2, held at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 18th day of March, A. D. 1943.

In the matter of regulations governing the form, publication and inspection of schedules of contract carriers of property by motor vehicle.

The matter of regulations governing the form, publication and inspection of schedules of contract carriers of property by motor vehicle, filed pursuant to section 218 of the Interstate Commerce Act, being under consideration and good cause appearing therefor:

It is ordered, That schedules of contract carriers of property by motor vehicle, filed pursuant to section 218 of said act, shall be constructed, published, filed and kept open for public inspection in accordance with regulations heretofore adopted and promulgated in Tariff Circular MF No. 2, and Supplement No. 1 thereto (§§ 187.7 to 187.11, inclusive, of Title 49; Code of Federal Regulations), and as modified and supplemented by Supplement No. 3 to said Tariff Circular MF No. 2;

It is further ordered, That the said Supplement No. 3 to said Tariff Circular MF No. 2, be, and it is hereby approved and made effective May 1, 1943.

Sections 187.7 and 187.8 [section 2 of Tariff Circular MF No. 2] are amended as follows:

1. Cancel paragraph (a) of § 187.7 [Rule 7] and substitute:

§ 187.7 Publication, filing, and posting of schedules.—(a) Schedules must be filed by contract carriers. (1) Contract carriers shall file schedules which conform to these regulations unless otherwise authorized by the Commission.

(2) The Commission may, for reasons deemed sufficient, direct at any time the reissue of any schedule.

2. Cancel paragraph (d) of § 187.7 [Rule 7], and substitute:

(d) Number of copies filed; letters of transmittal. (1) Issuing carriers shall file with the Commission three copies of each schedule supplement to, or revised page of, a schedule.

(2) All copies, together with copies of actual contracts, proposed contracts, or amendments to contracts which it is necessary to file with a schedule, supplement, or revised page of a schedule to comply with § 187.8 (r) hereof, shall be included in one package accompanied by a letter of transmittal (in duplicate if a receipt is desired) listing the publications and copies of actual or proposed contracts or amendment to contracts enclosed therewith.

(3) Each transmittal letter must bear the signature of the person issuing the schedule, supplement or revised page; or it may bear the personal signature of the carrier's authorized representative: provided, That a properly attested authorization to submit publications for filing by such party accompanies the transmittal letter or has previously been submitted and is in effect. The Commission may decline to accept for filing any publication which is not accompanied by a transmittal letter properly signed.

(4) The package and letter of transmittal shall be addressed to the Interstate Commerce Commission, Bureau of Motor Carriers, Section of Traffic, Washington, D. C. All postage or other charges must be prepaid.

3. Cancel paragraph (p) of § 187.8 [Rule 8], and substitute:

§ 187.8 Form and contents of schedules. * * *

(p) Tables of minimum rates or charges. (1) The tables of minimum rates or charges shall be shown immediately following the rules, and shall state minimum rates or charges actually maintained and charged.

(2) The commodities on which the rates or charges apply shall be shown on the same page on which the rates or charges are published or there shall be shown on such pages a statement of the page or item containing a list of such commodities.

(3) Minimum rates or charges shall be published only on such commodities and from and to such points and for such services as are stated in actual contracts.

(4) Tables of minimum rates or charges shall be arranged alphabetically by points of origin and destination, except that, if it is desired to group points by states, they may be arranged in alphabetical order by states, the points in each state also being shown in alphabetical order.

(5) The minimum rates or charges shall be stated in cents, or dollars and cents per 100 pounds, per mile, per hour, per ton of 2,000 pounds, per ton of 2,240 pounds, per truckload (of stated amount), or other definable measure.

4. Add the following paragraph (r) to § 187.8 [Rule 8]:

(r) Schedules covering new services. (1) Each schedule or supplement to, or revised page of a schedule submitted for filing, which states minimum rates or charges for services not provided for in the carrier's effective schedule or schedules on file with the Commission, shall be accompanied by a true copy of the actual contract or proposed contract, or amendment to an existing contract between the carrier and the shipper for whom such services are to be performed.

(2) The actual or proposed contract or amendment to a contract, filed in accordance with the provisions of this paragraph, shall show the actual rates and charges for the services to be performed thereunder.

(3) The provisions of §§ 187.8 (p) and 187.8 (r) do not apply to the filing of contracts for the transportation of bullion, currency, jewels and other precious or very valuable articles. Copies of such contracts are not required to be filed with the Commission.

By the Commission, Division 2.

[Docket No. B-310]

SOUTHWESTERN ILLINOIS COAL CORPORATION

ORDER GRANTING APPLICATION FOR RESTORATION OF CODE MEMBERSHIP

A written complaint dated August 5, 1942, having been filed herein on August 7, 1942, by Bituminous Coal Producers Board for District No. 10, complainant, pursuant to section 4 II (j) and 5 (b) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937 (the "Act"), alleging wilful violations by Southwestern Illinois Coal Corporation, a corporation, 1317 Fletcher Trust Building, Indianapolis, Indiana, of the Act, the Bituminous Coal Code (the "Code") and rules and regulations promulgated thereunder; and

An order having been issued herein on February 27, 1943 revoking and cancelling the code membership of said Southwestern Illinois Coal Corporation in the Code and providing, pursuant to section 5 (c) of the Act, for the payment to the United States of a tax in the amount of $829.37 as a condition precedent to the restoration of Southwestern Illinois Coal Corporation to membership in the Code; and

Southwestern Illinois Coal Corporation having filed with the Bituminous Coal Division (the "Division") on March 19, 1943, its application for restoration to code membership; and

It appearing from said application and other information in the possession of the Division that said Southwestern Illinois Coal Corporation paid to the Deputy Collector of Internal Revenue at Indianapolis, Indiana, on March 14, 1943, the sum of $829.37 as required by the Order issued herein on February 27, 1943, as a condition precedent to the restoration of its code membership;

Now, therefore, it is ordered, That the said application filed with the Division on March 19, 1943, by Southwestern Illinois Coal Corporation for restoration of its code membership be, and the same hereby is, granted.

It is further ordered, That said restoration of the code membership of Southwestern Illinois Coal Corporation be, and the same hereby is, effective as of 12:01 a. m., on March 25, 1943.

Dated: March 29, 1943.

[Docket No. B-360]

PROVIDENCE COAL MINING COMPANY

NOTICE OF FILING OF APPLICATION, ETC.

Notice of filing of application as amended for disposition of compliance proceeding without formal hearing pursuant to § 301.132 of the rules of practice and procedure before the Bituminous Coal Division.

Notice is hereby given that an application dated February 18, 1943, for disposition of the above entitled matter without formal hearing was filed with the Bituminous Coal Division (the "Division") on February 22, 1943, pursuant to § 301.132 of the Rules of Practice and Procedure before the Bituminous Coal Division by Providence Coal Mining Company, the above named code member (the "code member") which application was denied by letter dated March 4, 1943. Pursuant to permission granted by the Division the code member on March 12, 1943, filed with the Division a supplemental application dated March 10, 1943, amending the aforesaid application.

The application as amended was filed with respect to a written complaint dated October 8, 1942, filed with the Division on October 12, 1942, pursuant to the provisions of section 4 II (j) and 5 (b) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937 (the "Act") by the Bituminous Coal Producers Board for District No. 9, complainant, alleging that the said code member had violated the Act, the Bituminous Coal Code (the "Code") and rules and regulations issued thereunder, as more fully described in said complaint.

In said application as amended, the code member:

1. Admits that it is a code member operating the Providence No. 3 Mine, Mine Index No. 65, located in Webster County, Kentucky in District No. 9.

2. Admits that it wilfully violated section 4 II (e) of the Act and Part II (e) of the Code by selling during the period October 22, 1940 to April 9, 1941, inclusive, through the Kirkpatrick Coal Company, a registered distributor, Memphis, Tennessee, agent of the Kentucky Coal Agency, Madisonville, Kentucky and subagent of the Code Member, for rail shipment to various purchasers a total of 143.27 tons of various sizes of coal produced by the Code Member at prices ranging from 5 cents to 15 cents per ton below the effective minimum prices established for said coal by the Division.

3. Admits that it wilfully violated section 4 II (e) of the Act and Part II (e) of the Code by selling during the period October 26, 1940 to April 2, 1941, inclusive, for rail shipment to various purchasers a total of 771.97 tons of various sizes of coal to various purchasers at prices ranging from 10 cents to 25 cents below the effective minimum prices established for said coal by the Division.

4. Consents to the issuance of an order directing it to cease and desist from further violations of the Act, the Code and regulations thereunder and to the entry of an order revoking and cancelling its code membership upon the basis of the foregoing admitted violations.

5. Agrees that it will pay a tax upon the basis of the foregoing admitted violations in the amount of $653.17 as a condition precedent to the restoration of its code membership.

6. Represents that, to the best of its knowledge and belief it has not committed any violations of the Act, the Code or rules and regulations thereunder other than the foregoing admitted violations and further represents that in the process of abandonment of the mine the coal referred to in paragraphs 1 and 2 hereof was coal obtained from pillars standing in the aforesaid mine for a period of years and that the said coal was of inferior quality and grade, and difficult to sell in the open market.

7. Agrees to execute any and all instruments necessary to dispose of this proceeding in the event that the application, as amended, is granted.

All interested parties may, if they desire to do so, file with the Division recommendations or requests for informal conferences with respect to said application as amended, within fifteen (15) days from the date of publication of this notice.

Dated: March 29, 1943.

Division of Public Contracts.

LUGGAGE, LEATHER GOODS, BELTS AND WOMEN'S HANDBAG INDUSTRY

DETERMINATION OF PREVAILING MINIMUM WAGE

This matter is before me pursuant to section 1 (b) of the Act of June 30, 1936 (49 Stat. 2036, 41 U.S.C. Supp. III, sec. 35), entitled "an Act to provide conditions for the purchase of supplies and the making of contracts by the United States, and for other purposes," otherwise known as the Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act.

On November 12, 1942, the Deputy Administrator of the Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions of the Department of Labor issued a Notice of Opportunity to Show Cause on or before December 3, 1942, why I should not make a determination that the prevailing minimum wage for persons employed in the Luggage, Leather Goods, Belts, and Women's Handbag Industry is not less than 40 cents an hour or $16 per week of 40 hours, provided that apprentices and learners may be employed in accordance with the applicable regulations under the Fair Labor Standards Act, and defining the Luggage, Leather Goods, Belts, and Women's Handbag Industry as follows:

(a) The manufacture from any material of luggage including, but not by way of limitation, trunks, suitcases, traveling bags, brief cases, sample cases; the manufacture of instrument cases covered with leather, imitation leather, or fabric including, but not by way of limitation, portable radio cases; the manufacture of small leather goods and like articles from any material except metal; the manufacture of women's, misses', and children's handbags, pocketbooks, purses, and mesh bags from any material except metal; but not the manufacture of bodies, panels, and frames from metal, wood, fiber, or paper board for any of the above articles.

(b) The manufacture from leather, imitation leather, or fabric of cut stock and parts for any of the articles covered in paragraph (a) of this section.

(c) The manufacture of men's, boys', women's, misses', and children's separate belts from leather, imitation leather, or other material or fabric.

The notice sets forth that: (1) The prevailing minimum wage determination for the Luggage and Saddlery Industries, issued by the Acting Secretary of Labor on July 12, 1938, as amended on September 26, 1939, provides that the prevailing minimum wage for the employees engaged in the performance of Government contracts, subject to the Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act, for the manufacture or supply of luggage, including mail satchels or pouches, and carrier's tie straps and leather pouches (consisting of a leather pouch or pocket of holster type with belt loop used for carrying pliers and knife), is 40 cents an hour for the States of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Maryland, Delaware, Washington, Oregon, California, Idaho, Nevada, Arizona, Montana, Wyoming, Utah, Colorado, and New Mexico, and 37½ cents for the other 26 States and the District of Columbia; (2) on July 1, 1942, the Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division issued, pursuant to the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, a wage order for the Luggage, Leather Goods and Women's Handbag Industry effective July 27, 1942, establishing a minimum wage of 40 cents an hour for that industry under the Fair Labor Standards Act; (3) the definition of the Luggage, Leather Goods, and Women's Handbag Industry, contained in the Wage Order of the Administrator, includes within its scope substantially all the products covered by my Luggage and Saddlery Prevailing Minimum Wage Determination, and it appears desirable, for the purpose of coordinating the administration of the Fair Labor Standards Act and the Public Contracts Act, to adopt the definition contained in the Luggage, Leather Goods, and Women's Handbag Industry Wage Order for the purposes of this wage determination; (4) it is desirable to extend the proposed wage determination to articles which are subject to the wage order of the Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division for the Belts Division of the Apparel Industry, effective July 15, 1940; (5) substantially all employees subject to the proposed wage determination for the Luggage, Leather Goods, Belts, and Women's Handbag Industry are engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce, as that term is defined in the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, and, consequently, the aforementioned wage orders of the Administrator have the effect of establishing not less than 40 cents an hour as the prevailing minimum wage in the Luggage, Leather Goods, Belts, and Women's Handbag Industry as defined in the proposed wage determination; (6) it appears desirable, for the purpose of coordinating the administration of the Fair Labor Standards Act and the Public Contracts Act, to provide that apprentices and learners may be employed under the proposed determination at subminimum wage rates in accordance with the present applicable regulations of the Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division.

This notice was sent to members of the industry, to trade unions, to trade associations, and publications, and was duly published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (7 F.R. 9440). No objections, protests, or any statements in opposition to the proposed amendments have been received.

On December 16, 1942, the Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division issued a notice denying the applications of the National Authority for the Ladies' Handbag Industry, and sundry other parties, to employ learners at subminimum wages in the Luggage, Leather Goods, and Women's Handbag Industry, and stating that there is no need at this time for the issuance of regulations providing for the employment of learners at subminimum wage rates in the Luggage, Leather Goods, and Women's Handbag Industry. This notice was predicated on a recommendation of the Presiding Officer, duly designated to conduct a hearing in that matter, that it is not necessary in order to prevent curtailment of opportunities for employment to provide for the employment of learners at subminimum wages in any occupation in any branch of the Luggage, Leather Goods, and Women's Handbag Industry. Consequently, it is no longer necessary that I provide that learners may be employed in accordance with the present applicable regulations issued by the Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division in the performance of Government contracts for the manufacture or supply of the articles covered in paragraphs (a) and (b) of the definition of the Luggage, Leather Goods, Belts, and Women's Handbag Industry.

Upon consideration of all the facts and circumstances, I hereby determine that:

(1) The Luggage, Leather Goods, Belts, and Women's Handbag Industry is defined for the purpose of this determination as follows:

(a) The manufacture from any material of luggage including, but not by way of limitation, trunks, suitcases, traveling bags, brief cases, sample cases; the manufacture of instrument cases covered with leather, imitation leather, or fabric including, but not by way of limitation, portable radio cases; the manufacture of small leather goods and like articles from any material except metal; the manufacture of women's, misses', and children's handbags, pocketbooks, purses, and mesh bags from any material except metal; but not the manufacture of bodies, panels, and frames from metal, wood, fiber, or paper board for any of the above articles.

(b) The manufacture from leather, imitation leather, or fabric of cut stock and parts for any of the articles covered in paragraph (a) of this section.

(c) The manufacture of men's, boys', women's, misses', and children's separate belts from leather, imitation leather, or other material or fabric.

(2) The prevailing minimum wage for persons employed in the performance of contracts with agencies of the United States Government subject to the provisions of the Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act (49 Stat. 2036, 41 U.S.C. Supp. III, sec. 35) for the manufacture or furnishing of the products of the Luggage, Leather Goods, Belts, and Women's Handbag Industry is not less than 40 cents an hour or $16 per week of 40 hours, arrived at either upon a time or piece work basis; provided that apprentices may be employed at subminimum rates in accordance with the present applicable regulations issued by the Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division under the Fair Labor Standards Act, which I hereby adopt for the purposes of this determination; and provided further that learners may be employed at subminimum rates in the performance of contracts for the manufacture or furnishing of articles covered by paragraph (c) of the definition of this industry in accordance with the present applicable regulations issued by the Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division under the Fair Labor Standards Act, which I hereby adopt for the purposes of this determination.

This determination shall be effective and the minimum wage hereby established shall apply to all contracts subject to the Public Contracts Acts, bids for which are solicited or negotiations otherwise commenced by the contracting agency on or after April 20, 1943.

Nothing in this determination shall affect such obligations for the payment of minimum wages as an employer may have under the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, or any wage order thereunder, or under any other law or agreement more favorable to employees than the requirements of this determination.

Dated: March 30, 1943.

KNITTING, KNITWEAR AND WOVEN UNDERWEAR INDUSTRY

DETERMINATION OF PREVAILING MINIMUM WAGE

This matter is before me pursuant to section 1(b) of the Act of June 30, 1936 (49 Stat. 2036, 41 U.S.C. Supp. III 35), entitled "An act to provide conditions for the purchase of supplies and the making of contracts by the United States, and for other purposes," otherwise known as the Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act.

On July 8, 1942, the Assistant Administrator of the Public Contracts Division of the Department of Labor issued Notice of Opportunity to Show Cause on or before July 29, 1942, why I should not make a determination that the prevailing minimum wage for persons employed in the Knitting, Knitwear, and Woven Underwear Industry is 40 cents an hour or $16 for a week of 40 hours, Provided, That learners and handicapped workers may be employed in accordance with the applicable regulations under the Fair Labor Standards Act, and defining the Knitting, Knitwear, and Woven Underwear Industry as follows:

(a) The manufacturing, dyeing, or other finishing of any knitted fabric made from any yarn or mixture of yarns, and the manufacturing of knitted towels and cloths;

(b) The knitting from yarn or manufacturing from purchased knitted fabric of all knitted garments, sections of garments, or garment accessories except gloves, mittens, hosiery, and men's and boys' suits, overcoats, topcoats, tailored uniforms and men's summer wash suits;

(c) The manufacturing of underwear from any woven fabric.

The notice sets forth that: (1) On February 3, 1942, I issued a determination that the prevailing minimum wage for employees engaged in the performance of Government contracts, subject to the Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act, in the Knitted and Men's Woven Underwear and Commercial Knitting Industry is 40 cents an hour or $16 for a week of 40 hours; (2) it appears desirable to extend the Knitted and Men's Woven Underwear and Commercial Knitting Industry determination to certain related products such as knitted outerwear, and to change the title of the determination to conform to the new definition; (3) substantially every article included in the Knitting, Knitwear, and Woven Underwear Industry, as defined for the purposes of the proposed wage determination, is covered by one of enumerated wage orders of the Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division under the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, established a minimum wage of 40 cents an hour; (4) substantially all employees subject to the proposed wage determination are engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce and consequently the aforementioned wage orders of the Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division have the effect of establishing a minimum wage of not less than 40 cents an hour in the Knitting, Knitwear, and Woven Underwear Industry as defined for the purposes of the proposed determination.

This notice was sent to members of the industry, trade unions, trade associations, and publications, and was duly published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (7 F.R. 5285). Statements in opposition to the proposed amendments have been received from four trade associations and one trade union. Statements have also been received in support of the proposed amendments.

The International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union objected to the proposed rate. Since the primary purpose of this proceeding is to coordinate the applicable minimum wages under the Fair Labor Standards Act and the Public Contracts Act and the evidence submitted seems only to support such action, I am unable to allow this objection.

The four trade associations objected solely to the proposed definition of the made from any yarn or mixture of yarns, and the manufacturing of knitted towels and cloths;

seems only to support such action, I am unable to allow this objection.

The four trade associations objected solely to the proposed definition of the industry upon the ground that there was a departure from traditional trade boundary lines. The proposed definition is designed primarily for the convenience of the purchasing officers of contracting agencies and in no way affects industry lines as drawn under the Fair Labor Standards Act or for any purpose other than the administration of the Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act. I find it advisable, however, to grant the request of the National Knitted Outerwear Association for modification of the proposed definition to include the manufacturing of bathing suits made of any woven fabric. These bathing suits are at present subject to the wage order of the Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division for the Knitted Outerwear Industry, establishing a 40-cent minimum wage, and, since it appears that substantially all employees engaged in their manufacture are engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce, I find that they are manufactured under the prevailing minimum wage of not less than 40 cents an hour. Also, since belts made from purchased knitted fabric are included in the Luggage, Leather Goods, Belts, and Women's Handbag Industry, for which a determination of a prevailing minimum wage of 40 cents an hour has been proposed by Notice of Opportunity to Show Cause dated November 12, 1942, such belts should be expressly excluded from the definition of the Knitting, Knitwear, and Woven Underwear Industry contained in this determination. The language of paragraph (b) of the definition has been modified to make clear that it covers the manufacture of knitted garments, garment sections, and garment accessories by concerns engaged in making knitted fabric from yarn as well as by concerns producing such articles from purchased knitted fabric. The exceptions contained in this paragraph of the definition have also been clarified in minor respects.

I find that the proposed definition, with these modifications, is well adapted to the purpose of efficient administration of the Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act.

On August 12, 1942, I issued regulations (ti. 41, c. 2, Code of Federal Regulations, § 201.1102), effective September 15, 1942, permitting the employment of handicapped workers at subminimum rates under the Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act in accordance with the regulations of the Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division under the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938. The issuance of these regulations makes it unnecessary to include in the proposed determination the provisions as to the employment of handicapped workers.

Upon consideration of all the facts and circumstances, I hereby determine that:

(1) The Knitting, Knitwear, and Woven Underwear Industry is defined for the purposes of this determination as follows:

(a) The manufacturing, dyeing, or other finishing of any knitted fabric made from any yarn or mixture of yarns, and the manufacturing of knitted towels and cloths;

(b) The knitting from yarn or manufacturing from knitted fabric of knitted garments, sections of garments, or garment accessories except gloves, mittens, hosiery, belts manufactured from purchased knitted fabric, and any product the manufacture of which is covered by the prevailing minimum wage determination of the Secretary for the Suit and Coat Branch of the Uniform and Clothing Industry;

(c) The manufacturing of underwear and bathing suits from any woven fabric.

(2) The prevailing minimum wage for persons employed in the performance of contracts with agencies of the United States Government subject to the provisions of the Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act (49 Stat. 2036, 41 U.S.C., Supp. III 35) for the manufacture or furnishing of the products of the Knitting, Knitwear, and Woven Underwear Industry is not less than 40 cents an hour or $16 for a week of 40 hours, arrived at either upon a time or piecework basis, provided that learners and apprentices may be employed at subminimum rates in accordance with the present applicable regulations issued by the Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division under the Fair Labor Standards Act, which I hereby adopt for the purposes of this determination.

This determination shall be effective and the minimum wage hereby established shall apply to all contracts subject to the Public Contracts Act, bids for which are solicited or negotiations otherwise commenced by the contracting agency on or before April 20, 1943, except that learners and apprentices may be employed at subminimum rates, in accordance with the present applicable regulations of the Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division, on or after April 20, 1943, in the performance of contracts, bids for which were solicited or negotiations otherwise commenced by the contracting agency prior to that date.

Nothing in this determination shall affect such obligations for the payment of minimum wages as the employer may have under any law or agreement more favorable to employees than the requirements of this determination.

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pa., on the 29th day of March, A. D. 1943.

In the matter of Theodore T. Golden, 730 Fifteenth Street NW., Washington, D. C.

Proceedings having been instituted pursuant to an order of the Commission to determine whether the registration of Theodore T. Golden as a broker-dealer should be revoked pursuant to section 15 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, hearings having been held after due notice, the Commission having considered the matter, being duly advised in the premises, having this day entered its findings and opinion herein to the effect that the said Theodore T. Golden has willfully violated certain provisions of the Securities Act of 1933 and the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, and certain Rules and Regulations of the Commission thereunder and that revocation of the said registration is in the public interest;

It is ordered, on the basis of said findings and opinion, That the registration of Theodore T. Golden as a broker-dealer be, and it hereby is, revoked; and

It is further ordered, That the request of the said Theodore T. Golden to withdraw said registration be, and it hereby is, denied.

By the Commission.

PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY OF INDIANA, INC.

NOTICE OF FILING AND ORDER FOR HEARING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pa., on the 29th day of March 1943.

Notice is hereby given that an application has been filed pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 by Public Service Company of Indiana, Inc., a subsidiary of Hugh M. Morris, Trustee of Midland United Company, a registered holding company;

All interested persons are referred to said application which is on file in the offices of the Commission for a statement of the transactions therein proposed which are summarized as follows:

Public Service Company of Indiana, Inc., proposes to issue and sell to the public $38,000,000 principal amount of its First Mortgage Bonds, Series E, 3¼%, due May 1, 1973. The proceeds to be derived from the sale of such securities are to be used for the purpose of retiring the $38,000,000 aggregate principal amount of First Mortgage Bonds, Series A, 4%, due September 1, 1969, of Public Service Company of Indiana, a predecessor constituent company of applicant, whose bonds have been heretofore assumed by applicant.

At the present time there is outstanding applicable to Public Service Company of Indiana, Inc., a condition imposed by this Commission concerning a debt retirement program (Holding Company Act Release No. 3520, May 9, 1942). In connection with the issuance of the new bonds the applicant proposes certain sinking fund requirements. The application indicates that the effect of such sinking fund provisions will result in debt retirement "in an amount substantially equal to the funded debt required to be retired during such period under the provisions of said condition of this Commission". The applicant expressly requests that the Commission remove this presently effective condition.

The application indicates that the company proposes to offer the bonds for competitive bidding pursuant to Rule U-50 promulgated under the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935.

It appearing to the Commission that it is appropriate in the public interest and the interest of investors and consumers that a hearing be held with respect to such matters and that the application shall not be granted except pursuant to further order of this Commission;

It is ordered, That a hearing on such matters under the applicable provisions of said Act and rules of the Commission thereunder be held on the 15th day of April, 1943, at 10 o'clock a. m., e. w. t., at the offices of the Securities and Exchange Commission, 18th and Locust Streets, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. On such day the hearing room clerk in room 318 will advise as to the room in which such hearing will be held. At such hearing cause shall be shown why such application should be granted. Any person desiring to be heard in connection with these proceedings or desiring to intervene herein shall file with the Secretary of the Commission on or before the 10th day of April, 1943, his request or application therefor as provided by Rule XVII of the Rules of Practice of the Commision.

It is further ordered, That Paul Littlefield or any other officer or officers of the Commission designated by it for that purpose shall preside at the hearings in such matter. The officer so designated to preside at such hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of said Act and to a trial examiner under the Commision's Rules of Practice.

It is further ordered, That, without limiting the scope of the issues presented by the application otherwise to be considered in these proceedings, particular attention will be directed at the hearing to the following matters and questions:

1. Whether it is in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers and in conformity with the applicable provisions of the Act to grant the application.

2. Whether it is appropriate in the public interest and for the protection of investors to abrogate the condition heretofore imposed on Public Service Company of Indiana, Inc., regarding a debt retirement program.

3. Specifically, whether the sinking fund provisions proposed in connection with the new Series E bonds of Public Service Company of Indiana, Inc., are sufficient to give adequate protection to investors, consumers and the public.

4. Whether, and to what extent, it is appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors and consumers to impose terms and conditions with respect to the proposed transactions.

5. Generally, whether the proposed transactions meet the requirements of the appropriate provisions of the Act and Rules and Regulations promulgated thereunder.

By the Commission.

[SEAL] ORVAL L. DUBOIS,
Secretary.

the quotas for these stations decreased during that period, the deliveries made by C. M. Clay's Sons to these stations increased from 28 percent to 169 percent in excess of the permitted quotas. Despite the fact that C. M. Clay's Sons was acquainted with the provisions contained in Limitation Order L–70, these over-deliveries were made by it in such reckless disregard of the order as to constitute wilful violation thereof.

These violations of Limitation Order L–70 have hampered and impeded the war effort of the United States by diverting scarce material to uses unauthorized by the War Production Board. In view of the foregoing facts, It is hereby ordered, That:

PART 1010—SUSPENSION ORDERS

[Suspension Order S–262]

CRYSTAL BOTTLING CO., INC.

The Crystal Bottling Company, Inc., Cleveland, Ohio, is a corporation engaged in the business of bottling nonalcoholic beverages. Associated with it in this business is the Crystal Distributing Company, Inc., Cleveland, Ohio, a corporation which has the same President and General Manager and substantially identical stock interests with the Crystal Bottling Company. During the months of June, July, August and September, 1942, the Crystal Bottling Company affixed 106,462 metal closures to glass containers for non-alcoholic beverages in excess of the quota established for that company under the provisions of Conservation Order M–104. The Crystal Bottling Company, Inc., made no effort to compute the quota established for it under the provisions of Conservation Order M–104, although it knew of the existence of Conservation Order M–104 and that such order limited the scope of the company's operations.

This wilful violation of Conservation Order M–104, as amended, has impeded and hampered the war effort of the United States.

In view of the foregoing facts, It is hereby ordered:

§ 1010.262 Suspension Order No. S–262. (a) During each of the months from April, 1943 to September, 1943, both inclusive, the quota established under the terms of Conservation Order M–104, as amended from time to time, for use or consumption by the Crystal Bottling Company, Inc. of metal closures made of tinplate, terneplate or blackplate, affixed to glass containers for non-alcoholic beverages, shall be reduced by 25 percent; and the Crystal Bottling Company, Inc. shall not use, consume, or affix, directly or indirectly, or through or by the Crystal Distributing Company, Inc. closures in excess of the above amount.

(b) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve the Crystal Bottling Company, Inc., its successors or assigns from any restriction, prohibition or provision of any order or regulation of the War Production Board, except in so far as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(c) This order shall take effect on April 1, 1943, and shall expire on September 30, 1943.

Issued this 30th day of March 1943.

PART 1010—SUSPENSION ORDERS

[Suspension Order S–264]

REFRIGERATION ENGINEERING CO.

F. H. Kaup conducts a business known as Refrigeration Engineering Company with an office at 211 Foshay Tower, Minneapolis, Minnesota. Between May 15, 1942 and October 13, 1942 he sold refrigerating equipment to persons other than producers, dealers, or other authorized channels of distribution, without preference ratings and on orders which were not "preferred orders." Such sales by the respondent were substantial in both quantity and in monetary value. These sales by the respondent were in violation of General Limitation Order L–38 and constituted wilful violations of the order. Such conduct on the part of F. H. Kaup has hampered and impeded the war effort of the United States. In view of the foregoing, It is hereby ordered, That:

§ 1010.264 Suspension Order No. S–264. (a) F. H. Kaup, doing business as Refrigeration Engineering Company, or under any other name, his successors and assigns, are hereby prohibited from selling, leasing, trading, lending, delivering, shipping or transferring any refrigerating or air conditioning equipment, and are also prohibited from purchasing, receiving or accepting delivery of, or having transferred to it in any manner, any refrigerating or air conditioning equipment as defined in General Limitation Order L–38 as amended, for the period during which this order is in effect, except as specifically authorized in writing by the Regional Compliance Chief of the Regional Office of the War Production Board in Chicago, Illinois.

(b) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve F. H. Kaup, doing business as Refrigeration Engineering Company, or under any other name, from any restriction, prohibition, or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the War Production Board, except in so far as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(c) This order shall take effect on April 1, 1943 and shall expire on July 1, 1943.

Issued this 30th day of March 1943.

PART 1010—SUSPENSION ORDERS

[Amendment 1 to Suspension Order S–231]

OAKLAWN, INC.

Oaklawn, Inc. of New Orleans, Louisiana, appealed from the provisions of Suspension Order S–231 issued by the Director General for Operations on February 3, 1943, and after a careful consideration of all the facts and circumstances, the appeal was denied. As a result of the appeal, however, the Chief Compliance Commissioner has recommended that the suspension order be amended in order to carry out the intent of the original order and to permit completion of 106 housing units instead of the 100 housing units specified in the order.

In view of the foregoing, Paragraphs (a) and (b) of §1010.231, Suspension Order S–231, issued February 3, 1943, are hereby amended to read as follows:

(a) Deliveries of material to Oaklawn, Inc., its successors and assigns, shall not be accorded priority over deliveries under any other contract or order, and no preference rating shall be assigned or applied to such deliveries to Oaklawn, Inc., its successors and assigns, by means of preference rating certificates, preference rating orders, general preference orders, or any other orders and regulations of the War Production Board, except as specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board: Provided, however, That the preference rating heretofore assigned to Oaklawn, Inc. by Preference Rating Order P–55 may be applied to deliveries of material required for the completion of 106 units of the project on which construction has begun, with the written approval of the Regional Compliance Chief, War Production Board, Dallas, Texas, but no preference rating shall be applied in connection with the construction of the four housing units which had not been begun on January 27, 1943.

(b) No allocation shall be made to Oaklawn, Inc., its successors or assigns, of any material, the supply or distribution of which is governed by any order of the War Production Board, except as specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board: Provided, however, That such allocations as may be necessary to enable Oaklawn, Inc. to complete 106 units of this housing project, may be made, with the written approval of the Regional Compliance Chief, War Production Board, Dallas, Texas, but no allocations to the respondent shall be made in connection with the four housing units on which construction had not been begun on January 27, 1943.

Issued this 30th day of March 1943.

Chapter XI—Office of Price Administration

PART 1360—MOTOR VEHICLES AND MOTOR VEHICLE EQUIPMENT

[Maximum Price Regulation 341]

USED COMMERCIAL MOTOR VEHICLES

In the judgment of the Price Administrator, prices of used commercial motor vehicles have risen to an extent and in a manner inconsistent with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended. The Price Administrator has ascertained and given due consideration to the prices of used commercial motor vehicles prevailing between October 1 and 15, 1941, and has made adjustments for such relevant factors as he has determined to be of general applicability. So far as practicable, the Price Administrator has advised and consulted with representative members of the industry which will be affected by this regulation.

In the judgment of the Price Administrator the maximum prices established by this regulation are and will be generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of the Act. A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this regulation has been issued simultaneously herewith, and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Therefore, under the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, Executive Order 9250, and in accordance with Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1 issued by the Office of Price Administration, Maximum Price Regulation No. 341 is hereby issued.

AUTHORITY: §§ 1360.501 and 1360.522, inclusive, issued under Pub. Laws 421, 729, 77th Cong.; E. O. 9250, 7 F. R. 7871.

§ 1360.501 Commodities and transactions covered by this regulation—(a) Transactions covered. This regulation establishes maximum prices for sales of used commercial motor vehicles, including sales of chassis or bodies separately. It covers sales by persons engaged in

*Copies may be obtained from the Office of Price Administration.

(1) Complete vehicles listed in Appendix A. The maximum price for a complete vehicle listed in Appendix A is the rail freight the business of selling such vehicles, that is dealers, and also sales by any other person. Dealers in used commercial motor vehicles and persons making frequent sales of such vehicles as an incident of their regular business are licensed by this regulation. Sales of used commercial motor vehicles pursuant to a "recapture clause" in a rental contract entered into prior to the effective date of this regulation (but not those pursuant to a rental contract entered into after such effective date) are exempt from this regulation and from the General Maximum Price Regulation.

(b) Commodities covered. When used in this regulation, the term "used commercial motor vehicle" means a self-propelled vehicle, or a vehicle drawn by it, which was designed for use on or off the highways for the transportation of property or of more than ten persons and which has been driven over 1,000 miles, and bodies of any such vehicles. It includes vehicles of the following types: complete trucks, truck tractors, full-trailers, semi-trailers, ambulances, hearses, omnibuses, carry-all suburbans, sedan deliveries, utility sedans, coupes fitted with pickup boxes, cab pickups, and chassis and bodies for all of the foregoing, but does not include passenger automobiles, taxicabs, station wagons, vehicles operated on rails, self-tracklaying vehicles nor farm and garden tractors designed and used for agricultural purposes. A vehicle which has been assembled by a manufacturer of trucks from components some of which are new and some of which are reconditioned shall not be deemed a used vehicle for the purposes of this regulation.

§ 1360.502 General outline of this regulation—(a) Maximum prices. The method of computing maximum prices for most sales is provided by §§ 1360.504 and 1360.505. Maximum prices which are higher than those established by §§ 1360.504 and 1360.505 are permitted in certain cases. Thus, § 1360.506 permits a higher price for a vehicle sold by a dealer which has been reconditioned by him and guaranteed in accordance with Appendix B; § 1360.507 in certain cases permits a higher price for the resale of such reconditioned and guaranteed vehicle by the purchaser thereof or by a person who has repossessed such a vehicle. A higher price is also permitted, by § 1360.507, on the sale of a vehicle within one year of its acquisition when new, if the price new included the 1 percent allowance for maintenance operations provided by Supplementary Regulation No. 14.[1]

(b) Invoices, guarantees and tags required. Every person selling a used commercial motor vehicle, whether or not he is a dealer, must give the purchaser a sales invoice containing the information prescribed in § 1360.512. In addition, a dealer selling a vehicle as "reconditioned and guaranteed" must furnish the purchaser with a signed guarantee in the form prescribed in Appendix B. A dealer, but not any other person, offering a vehicle for sale must also attach to such vehicle, in a conspicuous manner, a tag in the form prescribed in Appendix A.

§ 1360.503 Prohibition against sale at a price higher than the maximum price. (a) On and after April 26, 1943, regardless of any contract, lease, or other obligation:

(1) No person shall sell or deliver any used commercial motor vehicle at a price higher than the maximum price established by this regulation;

(2) No person in the course of trade or business shall buy or receive any used commercial motor vehicle at a price higher than such maximum price;

(3) No person shall agree, offer, solicit or attempt to do any of the acts prohibited in subparagraphs (1) and (2);

(4) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (2), if, upon the purchase of any used commercial motor vehicle, which is sold as a reconditioned and guaranteed vehicle, the purchaser shall receive from the seller false information as to the extent of extras, parts, materials and labor used in reconditioning, and if in such case the purchaser shall have no cause to doubt the accuracy of such information and as a result of this pays a price in excess of the maximum price, the purchaser shall not be deemed to have violated the prohibition contained in paragraph (2).

(b) The provisions of paragraph (a) (2) of this section shall not be applicable to any War Procurement agency, or any contracting officer thereof, and any such contracting officer or paying finance officer shall be relieved of any and every liability, civil or criminal, imposed by this regulation or by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

§ 1360.504 Maximum prices in general—(a) Method of computing maximum price. In determining the maximum price for any used commercial motor vehicle, the "base price" for such vehicle shall first be computed in accordance with § 1360.505. The allowable percentage factor, corresponding to the age of the vehicle, as defined in paragraph (b) of this section, shall then be ascertained from the table of percentages contained in paragraph (c) of this section. The maximum price shall be determined by multiplying such "base price" by such allowable percentage. However, when a vehicle is sold by a dealer on a reconditioned and guaranteed basis the maximum price may be increased as provided in § 1360.506 and in certain other cases the maximum price may be increased as provided in § 1360.507.

(b) Method of determining age of vehicle. For the purpose of this regulation, the term "age" means the following:

(1) For a complete used commercial motor vehicle or the chassis only of a used commercial motor vehicle. (i) The period measured from the month and year in which the chassis of the used commercial motor vehicle was delivered when new to a person who purchased it for use and not for purposes of resale, if such date of delivery can be supported by original bill of sale or original invoice or certified copies thereof, or

(ii) If such evidence is not available, the period measured from the first day of January of the year by which the model and year of manufacture of the chassis of the vehicle is designated by its manufacturer, or

(iii) If that information cannot be ascertained, a period of more than 72 months.

(2) For the body only of a used commercial motor vehicle, when sold separately from the chassis. (i) The period measured from the month and year in which the body was delivered when new to a person who purchased it for use and not for purposes of resale, if such date of delivery can be supported by original bill of sale or original invoice or certified copies thereof, or

(ii) If such evidence is not available, the period measured from the first day of January of the year in which the body was manufactured, if such year can be ascertained by the body number or other manufacturer's identification, or

(iii) If that information cannot be ascertained, a period of more than 72 months.

(c) Table of percentages corresponding to the age of the vehicle, by which the "base price" is to be multiplied.

§ 1360.505 Computation of the "base price". (a) The "base price" for any used commercial motor vehicle shall be the sum of

(1) The "value when new" of the vehicle, determined in accordance with paragraph (b) of this section;

(2) A transportation allowance, determined in accordance with paragraph (c) of this section; and

(3) The "value when new" of any extras, determined in accordance with paragraph (d) of this section.

(b) Method of determining "value when new". The "value when new" for the vehicle being priced shall be determined by the first of the following which is applicable:

(1) Complete vehicle listed in Appendix C. If the vehicle being priced is listed in Appendix C the "value when new" shall be the price there listed.

(2) Only chassis listed in Appendix C. If the chassis of the vehicle being priced is listed in Appendix C, and if the complete vehicle is not so listed, the "value when new" shall be the price listed in Appendix C for the chassis alone or the chassis with cab, whichever is appropriate, plus either one of the following:

(i) The original retail price new f. o. b. factory, for the body with which the vehicle being priced is now equipped, or

(ii) The retail price new, f. o. b. factory in effect on March 31, 1942 for the same or most comparable body.

(3) Neither complete vehicle nor chassis listed in Appendix C. If neither the complete vehicle nor the chassis being priced is listed in Appendix C the "value when new" shall be determined as follows:

(i) If the vehicle being priced was purchased new as a complete vehicle, the "value when new" shall be the original retail price new of the vehicle, f. o. b. factory, or

(ii) If the chassis and body were bought separately, the "value when new" of the vehicle shall be the sum of the price of the chassis or chassis with cab plus the price of the body, each determined by any one of the following methods:

(a) The chassis or the chassis with cab. The original retail price new, f. o. b. factory, or the retail price new, f. o. b. factory for the same or most comparable chassis of the same year of manufacture listed in Appendix C.

(b) The body. The original retail price new, f. o. b. factory, or the retail price new, f. o. b. factory in effect on March 31, 1942 for the same or most comparable body.

(c) Transportation allowance to be included in "base price". There may be included in the "base price" of a used commercial motor vehicle an allowance for transportation, determined in accordance with the following subparagraphs:

(1) Sales within the 48 United States and the District of Columbia. Upon any sale within the 48 United States and the District of Columbia, this allowance shall not exceed the actual rail freight at carload rates as of March 31, 1942, for a vehicle of the same wheel base, shipping weight (actual or as listed in Appendix C), and overall size as the vehicle being priced, shipped by the most direct route from the principal place of manufacture of the chassis to the freight station nearest the seller's place of business. The principal places of manufacture of the chassis are listed in Appendix C. If the transportation charge cannot be ascertained in accordance with the foregoing an allowance of $20 for transportation may be added to the "value when new".

(2) Sales within a territory or possession of the United States. Upon any sale occurring in any territory or possession of the United States, the transportation allowance shall be the rail freight, calculated in accordance with subparagraph (1), from the principal place of manufacture of the chassis, determined as provided in subparagraph (1), to Seattle, Washington, for the sales in the Territory of Alaska; to San Francisco, California, for sales in any other territory or possession in the Pacific Ocean; to New York, New York, for sales in any other territory or possession, plus the costs of shipment in each case from such port to the seller's place of business at the rates in effect on October 1, 1941.

(d) Allowance for extras to be included in "base price"—(1) When allowance may be included. An allowance for extras, in an amount of their "value when new" as determined pursuant to subparagraph (2), may be included in the "base price":

(i) Upon a sale by a person other than a dealer, only for those extras with which the vehicle is equipped at the time of sale,

(ii) Upon a sale by a dealer, only for those extras with which the vehicle was equipped when it was purchased by the dealer and with which it is still equipped at the time of sale. A dealer may make a charge for extras with which the vehicle was not equipped when it was purchased by such dealer only if such extras were added at the purchaser's request, and in that case, the additional charge shall be determined in accordance with paragraph (b) of § 1360.507.

(2) Method of determining amount of allowance; "value when new" of extras. The "value when new" of the extras shall be the sum of:

(i) For all items of extra equipment with which the vehicle was equipped when it was first purchased for use, the manufacturer's original retail list prices;

(ii) For all other extras, the original retail price new, or, if such original retail price new is not ascertainable, then the current retail prices new in the area in which the vehicle is being sold (not to exceed applicable maximum prices), for the same or most comparable extras.

(3) Definition of "extras". For the purposes of this paragraph (d), and of paragraph (b) of § 1360.507, the term "extras" means any accessory or special equipment not included in the price of the vehicle and/or body used to determine the "value when new" of the vehicle. The term includes such items as oversized or special axles, oversized tires, special springs, special transmissions, special brakes, optional wheel base or body frames, heaters, and radios, and also includes machines mounted on the vehicle so as to be an integral part thereof, such as power-operated cranes, winches, shovels, scoops, welding equipment, and concrete mixers.

§ 1360.506 Reconditioned and guaranteed used vehicles sold by dealers—(a) Maximum price. For any used commercial motor vehicle which has been reconditioned by a dealer and which has been guaranteed by such dealer in accordance with paragraph (c) of this section, the maximum price applicable to the sale of such vehicle by the dealer shall be the sum of subparagraphs (1), (2) and (3), except that in no event shall the maximum price for such reconditioned and guaranteed vehicle exceed the price determined by applying to the "base price", computed in accordance with § 1360.505, the applicable percentage set forth in paragraph (b) of this section. Furthermore, this special price is not available if the vehicle has been used or rented after completion of the reconditioning.

(1) The price determined by multiplying the "base price" computed in accordance with § 1360.505, by the appropriate percentage in the Table contained in paragraph (c) of § 1360.504;

(2) 5% of (1); and

(3) The prices of any parts, materials and services needed and supplied by the dealer in reconditioning the vehicle for the purpose of sale, including dismantling for purposes of inspection. These prices must not exceed applicable maximum prices for such parts, materials, and services, when supplied by the dealer in the course of a repair job for a regular customer.

(b) Absolute ceiling for reconditioned and guaranteed vehicles; table of percentages. The maximum price for a reconditioned and guaranteed used commercial motor vehicle shall in no event exceed the price determined by applying to the base price, computed in accordance with § 1360.505, the applicable percentage set forth below. In most cases, however, the maximum price determined in accordance with paragraph (a) of this section will be less than this absolute ceiling and will, accordingly, be the maximum price.

Age:	Percent
Six mos. or less	97
More than 6 mos. to 12 mos	91
More than 12 mos. to 18 mos	86
More than 18 mos. to 24 mos	82
More than 24 mos. to 30 mos	78
More than 30 mos. to 36 mos	75
More than 36 mos. to 42 mos	73
More than 42 mos. to 48 mos	71
More than 48 mos. to 54 mos	70
More than 54 mos. to 60 mos	69
More than 60 mos	68

(c) Guarantee to be furnished to purchaser. No vehicle shall be sold at a price determined in accordance with this section unless the dealer shall furnish the purchaser with a signed guarantee in the form set forth in § 1360.521, Appendix B. A dealer may grant an additional guarantee, but the maximum price shall not be increased thereby. A purchaser of such vehicle is advised to retain the guarantee furnished under this paragraph (c), as well as the sales invoice, for use in connection with a possible resale of such vehicle within one year of its purchase. (See § 1360.507 (a)).

(d) Effect of dealer's failure to perform obligations of guarantee. If any dealer shall fail to perform his obligations under the terms of the guarantee provided for in paragraph (c) of this section, he shall be deemed to have violated the provisions of this regulation to the extent that the price charged exceeded the price determined under § 1360.504.

§ 1360.507 Special cases—(a) Maximum price for resale of reconditioned and guaranteed vehicle within one year after purchase as such. (1) Where a used commercial motor vehicle has been sold by a dealer after April 25, 1943, as a reconditioned and guaranteed vehicle at a price determined under § 1360.506 which is higher than the maximum price determined under § 1360.504, the maximum price applicable to the resale of such vehicle by the purchaser thereof, within one year after his purchase, shall be determined as follows:

(i) Take the original purchase price paid, not exceeding the maximum price established by § 1360.506.

(ii) Compute the maximum price of such vehicle, at the time of purchase, under § 1360.504.

(iii) Deduct from item (i), one twelfth of the difference between item (i) and item (ii) for each month which has elapsed from the date of the original purchase to the date of resale.

Upon delivery of any such vehicle at such a price the seller shall give to the buyer, in addition to the sales invoice or receipt required by § 1360.512, the sales invoice or receipt and the guarantee furnished to the seller by the dealer from whom he purchased the reconditioned and guaranteed vehicle.

(2) Where a used commercial motor vehicle has been sold by a dealer after April 25, 1943, as a reconditioned and guaranteed vehicle at a price determined under § 1360.506 which is higher than the maximum price determined under § 1360.504, and where such vehicle shall have been repossessed upon default of the purchaser, the maximum price applicable to the resale of such vehicle by any person within one year of the original sale may be determined either:

(i) In accordance with § 1360.504, or

(ii) In accordance with subparagraph (1) of this paragraph (a),

but in the event that the maximum price is determined in accordance with method (ii) above, the maximum price may not exceed the amount of the unpaid portion of the loan, plus out-of-pocket expenses incurred in repossession or judicial proceedings. Any person electing to sell a vehicle at a price determined under method (ii) shall file with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., a copy of the sales invoice furnished the buyer, and the following information: a summary of the major terms of the loan which gave rise to the repossession, and the amount unpaid on such loan; and, if the vehicle is being sold by a dealer after repurchase from a finance company, the price paid to the finance company and a copy of the above report filed under this section by the finance company.

(b) Maximum price where alterations made or extras added by dealer at purchaser's request. Where a purchaser from a dealer requests that alterations, as distinct from reconditioning operations, be made in a used commercial motor vehicle, or that the vehicle be equipped with extras, the maximum price applicable to the sale of such vehicle by the dealer after the requested alterations have been made or the extras have been added shall be the sum of subparagraphs (1), (2) and (3). However, the prices for extras and for parts, materials and services supplied in making the alterations must be separately itemized on the sales invoice or receipt required by § 1360.512.

(1) The maximum price for the vehicle without alterations or such extras, determined in accordance with other provisions of this Regulation, and

(2) Prices for extras not to exceed applicable maximum prices. "Extras" are defined in paragraph (d) (3) of § 1360.505, and

(3) Prices for parts, materials, and services supplied in making the alterations, not to exceed applicable maximum prices for such parts, materials, and services when supplied by the dealer in the course of an alteration job to a regular customer of the same class of customers.

(c) Maximum price for the sale of a vehicle within one year of acquisition new at new price including maintenance allowance. Notwithstanding the provisions of § 1360.504, in the case of any used commercial motor vehicle which was purchased new at a price which included an adjustment for maintenance operations, in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (a) of Supplementary Regulation No. 14, such adjustment may be added to the "base price", upon the sale of such vehicle within one year of such purchase new.

(d) Rental contracts with "recapture clauses"—(1) Rental contracts entered into prior to effective date of this regulation. Neither this regulation nor the General Maximum Price Regulation shall apply to any sale of a used commercial motor vehicle pursuant to a rental contract entered into prior to April 26, 1943, which provided for the transfer of title to the commercial motor vehicle upon the payment in rentals, over and above a monthly carrying charge, of an amount equal to the valuation of the commercial motor vehicle, as agreed upon at the time the contract was entered into.

(2) Rental contracts entered into after effective date of this regulation. In any rental contract of the same type entered into after April 25, 1943, the agreed upon valuation shall not exceed the applicable maximum price for the new or used commercial motor vehicle, determined as of the date of delivery of the vehicle under the contract. If title to the vehicle is subsequently transferred to the lessee upon the payment, over and above the monthly carrying charge, of an amount equal to such agreed upon valuation, the maximum price shall remain unchanged notwithstanding the fact that the vehicle may by that time have fallen into a different age group.

§ 1360.508 Federal and state taxes. There may be added to the maximum price for any used commercial motor vehicle the amount of any federal tax and/or state or municipal tax upon, or incident to, the sale, delivery, processing or use of such vehicle. However, the amount of such tax must be stated separately upon the sales invoice or receipt required under § 1360.512.

§ 1360.509 Lower than maximum prices. Lower prices than those established by this regulation may be charged, demanded, paid or offered.

§ 1360.510 Evasion. (a) It shall be a violation of this regulation in effect to charge a price above the applicable maximum price in connection with any sale of a used commercial motor vehicle, either alone or in conjunction with any other consideration even though the price increase appears only indirectly. Specifically the seller is not permitted to require the purchaser, as a condition of the sale or transfer of the vehicle, to agree to make payment over a period of time; to require him to finance the purchase through any lending agency, to require him to purchase any equipment, accessories, repairs, parts, or services so as to increase the total compensation above the maximum price, to require him to purchase any other commodity or service, or to require him to make payment in whole or in part by exchanging or transferring or trading in any other vehicle or other product or commodity. Furthermore, the seller is prohibited from falsifying the value of the vehicles or products or commodities received in trade, increasing the "value when new" by attaching or exchanging bodies or extras, except as provided in paragraph (b) of § 1360.507; or from making any change in terms or conditions of sale, except in accordance with paragraph (b) of this section, or in any other manner.

(b) The Office of Price Administration may upon request grant written permission to any dealer subject to this regulation to change the credit terms or terms of guaranty previously extended, where such change appears necessary because of conditions caused by the war.

§ 1360.511 Label or tag to be attached by dealer to vehicle. Every dealer offering a used commercial motor vehicle for sale shall attach to it in a conspicuous place a label or tag not smaller than 4" x 8" in the form set forth in § 1360.520, Appendix A, on which shall be set forth legibly all of the information called for in Appendix A.

§ 1360.512 Sales invoices to be furnished to purchaser. Upon the sale of any used commercial motor vehicle the seller shall give to the purchaser a sales invoice or receipt showing:

(a) The name and address of the seller:

(b) The name and address of the purchaser;

(c) A description of the vehicle, specifying make, year, model, motor or serial number, wheel base, body or type, and extras, if any;

(d) The date of delivery to the purchaser;

(e) The sales price;

(f) The maximum price determined in accordance with this regulation, indicating the computation of the "base price" and the percentage factor used;

(g) The price for any extras added or alterations made at the purchaser's request, separately itemized as provided in § 1360.507 (b).

(h) The statement "guaranteed" or "not guaranteed" as the case may be;

(i) If a used vehicle is taken in trade, a description of such vehicle and a copy of the sales receipt received from the purchaser trading in such vehicle.

§ 1360.513 Records and reports. Every person who sells a used commercial motor vehicle shall, so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect, keep and make available for examination by the Office of Price Administration a copy of the sales invoice or receipt required in § 1360.512, together with a copy of the guaranty, if any, furnished in accordance with § 1360.506.

§ 1360.514 Enforcement. (a) Persons violating any provisions of this regulation are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, proceedings for suspension of licenses, and suits for treble damages provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

(b) Persons who have evidence of any violation of this regulation or any price schedule, regulation, or order issued by the Office of Price Administration or of any acts or practices which constitute such a violation are urged to communicate with the nearest state, district, or regional office of the Office of Price Administration or its principal office in Washington, D. C.

§ 1360.515 Licensing and registration—(a) License required. A license as a condition of selling is hereby required of every dealer now or hereafter selling any used commercial motor vehicle for which a maximum price is established by this regulation and of every person now or hereafter making frequent sales of such vehicles as an incident to his regular business. No person whose license is suspended shall sell any used commercial motor vehicle during the period of suspension

(b) License granted. Every person required to be licensed pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section is, by this section, granted a license as a condition of selling such used commercial motor vehicle. The provisions of this regulation and any amendments thereto, shall be deemed to be incorporated in the license hereby granted, and any violation of any provision so incorporated shall be a violation of said license. Such license shall be effective on April 26, 1943, the effective date of this regulation, or whenever any person becomes subject to the maximum price provisions of the regulation, and shall, unless suspended in accordance with the provisions of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, continue in force so long as, and to the extent that, this regulation or any amendment or supplement hereto remains in effect.

(c) Registration. Every person hereby licensed may be required to register with the Office of Price Administration at such time and in such manner as the Administrator hereafter by regulation may prescribe.

§ 1360.516 Definitions. (a) When used in this regulation, the term:

(1) "Person" includes an individual, corporation, partnership, association or any other organized group of persons, or legal successor or representative of any of the foregoing, and includes the United States or any agency thereof, or any other government, or any of its political subdivisions or any agency of any of the foregoing.

(2) "Dealer" means a person engaged, in whole or in part, in the business of buying, selling, repairing and reconditioning used commercial motor vehicles and who maintains a place of business for the display, sale, repairing, and reconditioning of such vehicles.

(3) "War procurement agency", includes the War Department, the Department of the Navy, the United States Maritime Commission, the Lend-Lease Section of the Procurement Division of the Treasury Department, and the following subsidiaries of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation; Rubber Reserve Corporation, Metals Reserve Corporation, Defense Plant Corporation and Defense Supplies Corporation, or any agency of any of the foregoing.

§ 1360.517 Petitions for amendment of general applicability. Any person seeking a modification of any provision of this Regulation may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1 issued by the Office of Price Administration.

§ 1360.518 Territorial applicability. The provisions of this regulation shall be applicable to the United States, its territories and possessions, and the District of Columbia.

§ 1360.519 Effective date. This regulation shall become effective April 26, 1943.

§ 1360.520 Appendix A: Form of tags to be attached by dealer when offering a used commercial motor vehicle for sale.[1]
